Moorish or closed For ever in a M tower, Foresters II i 656
Moors He calls us worse than Jews, M, Saracens. Queen Mary V i 150 the boy was taken prisoner by the M. Foresters I i 61
fell'st into the hands Of these same M „ II i 564
Mooted whene'er your royal rights Are m in our councils— Becket I iii 431
Moraine I have seen it like the snow on the m. The Falcon 506
Moral (adj.) Against the m excess No physical ache, Becket I i 381 Moral (s) Nature's m Against excess. „ I i 373
His swaddling-bands, the m's of the tribe, Prom. of May I 586
Morcar (Earl of Northumbria) M! Why creep'st thou like a timorous be st Harold I ii 211
M and Edwin have stirr'd up the Thanes „ II ii 288 have overthrown M and Edwin. „ III ii 132
Tostig's banishment, and choice of M, „ IV i 105
Again! M! Edwin! What do they mean? „ IV i 133
M, it is all but duty in her To hate me; „ IV i 153
M and Edwin, When will ye cease to plot „ IV i 160
M and Edwin, will ye, if I yield, „ IV i 175
M and Edwin, will ye upon oath, Help us „ IV i 179
We never—oh! good M, speak for us, „ IV i 216
M, collect thy men; Edwin, my friend— „ IV i 256
He held with M.— „ IV ii 44
And M holds with us. „ IV ii 46
Make not our M sullen: it is not wise. „ IV iii 103
Gurth, Leofwin, M, Edwin! „ IV iii 220
Nought of M then? „ V i 160
I married her for M—a sin against The truth of love. „ V i 169
More See Moor
More (Sir Thomas, Lord Chancellor) Did not M die, and Fisher? he must burn. Queen Mary IV i 52
Moreing thou and thy youngsters are always muching and m me. Foresters IV 296
Morn (See also Marriage-morn) Close to the grating on a winter m The Falcon 441
Morning (adj.) Brain-dizzied with a draught of m ale. Queen Mary II i 71
And make a m outcry in the yard; „ III v 158
But you, twin sister of the m star, The Cup I iii 45
Their shield-borne patriot of the m star „ II 122 thou that canst soar Beyond the m lark, The Falcon 11 Morning (s) (See also May-morning, Murnin') Good m, Noailles. Queen Mary I iii 159
Good m, my good Lord. Gardiner. That every m of your Majesty May be most good, „ I v 98 Good m, Sir de Noailles. Noailles. A happy m to your Majesty. Mary. And I should some time have a happy m; „ I v 242 take And wear it as memorial of a m „ I v 529
I am sure Her m wanted sunlight, Harold I ii 45 on that m when I came To plead to thee The Cup II 390 and I sneezed three times this m. The Falcon 169 in hope that the saints would send us this blessed m; „ 186 you look as beautiful this m as the very Madonna „ 198
Where have you lain in ambush all the m? Prom. of May I 545
Is the most beautiful m of this May. „ I 569 you make The May and m still more beautiful, „ I 573 seen us that wild m when we found Her bed unslept in, „ II 469 and I wish you and your ladyship's father a most exceeding good m. Foresters I i 309 Morning (s) (continued) Who breaks the stillness of the m thus? Foresters I iii 51 gave me this m on my setting forth. „ III 282
Only this m in his agony „ IV 453
Morrow Good m, my Lord Cardinal; Queen Mary IV i 42
Morsel (See also Mossel) Come, come, the m stuck— this Cardinal's fault— „ III iv 375
Not a m, not one m. I have broken My fast already. The Falcon 573
Mortal seeming not as brethren, But m foes! Queen Mary IV iii 186
Because I loved thee in my m day, Harold V i 240
Is it possible That m men should bear their earthly heats „ V i 283 how he fells The m copse of faces! „ V i 589 but the Chancellor's and the Archbishop's Together more than m man can bear. Becket I i 24
Who stands aghast at her eternal self And shakes at m kings— „ II ii 405
I ask no leave of king, or m man, „ V ii 458
Out, begone! Henceforth I am thy m enemy. The Cup I ii 330
And, lest we freeze in m apathy, „ I iii 130
O this m house, Which we are born into, Prom. of May II 273
'O man, forgive thy m foe, „ III 5
But to show thou art m. Marian. M enough, If love for thee be m. Foresters II i 612
Not m! after death, if after death— „ II i 619 would cower to any Of m build. „ II i 690
You seem, as it were, Immortal, and we m. „ IV 1060
Mortality As may be consonant with m. Queen Mary IV iii 419
Mortally I am m afear'd o' thee, thou big man, Foresters IV 316
Mortgage thou shouldst marry one who will pay the m. „ I i 280 Himself would pay this m to his brother, „ I ii 263
he would pay The m if she favour'd him. „ I iii 7 Sheriff Would pay this cursed m to his brother „ II i 144 rate the land fivefold The worth of the m, „ II i 151 and couldst never pay The m on thy land. „ II i 454
Mortgaged I am m as thyself. „ I ii 280
Mortice Hath no more m than a tower of cards; Queen Mary III i 442
Mortify Fast, scourge thyself, and m thy flesh, Becket I iii 539
Mortifying In scourgings, macerations, m's, Fasts, „ V i 41
Moslem like the M beauties waiting To clasp Prom. of May I 246
I that have turn'd their M crescent pale— Foresters IV 793
Heading the holy war against the M, „ IV 818
And cleft the M turban at my side. „ IV 1001
Mossel (morsel) avore a could taste a m, Queen Mary IV iii 517
Most I do my m and best. „ II ii 24
Mot blow upon it Three m's, this fashion—listen! Foresters IV 425 Moth Make it so hard to save a m from the fire? Becket I i 283 would not blur A m's wing by the touching; Prom. of May II 492 Mother My m said, Go up; and up I went. Queen Mary I iii 98 my good m came (God rest her soul) Of Spain, „ I v 11
Your royal m came of Spain, „ I v 16 m, you had time and cause enough To sicken „ I v 23 married The m of Elizabeth—a heretic „ I v 32
Here was a young m, Her face on flame, „ II ii 69 felt the faltering of his m's heart, „ II ii 82
I, that was never m, cannot tell How m's „ II ii 189 nay, his noble m's, Head fell— „ III iv 295
Before my father married my good m,— „ III v 246
Her foul divorce—my sainted m—No!— „ IV i 81
M of God, Thou knowest never woman meant so well, „ V ii 340 and in her agony The m came upon her— „ V iv 20 prattling to her m Of her betrothal „ V v 232 Malet, thy m was an Englishwoman; Harold II ii 264 for my m's sake I love your England, „ II ii 268 Speak for thy m's sake, and tell me true. Malet. Then for my m's sake, and England's sake „ II ii 271
And for our M England? „ II ii 425 for he Who vows a vow to strangle his own m „ III i 230
My m is a Dane, and I am English; „ IV i 54
Trampling thy m's bosom into blood? „ IV ii 26
A cleric lately poison'd his own m, Becket, Pro. 11
My m, ere she bore me, Dream'd that twelve stars „ I i 44
So did Matilda, the King's m. „ I iii 152 took back not only Stephen's gifts, But his own m's, „ I iii 155
Age, orphans, and babe-breasting m's— „ II i 73

Mother (continued) Babes, orphans, m's! is that royal, Sire? Becket II i 80 that the m Would make him play his kingship „ II ii 10 Father Philip that has confessed our m for twenty years, „ III i 112 asked our m if I could keep a quiet tongue i' my head, „ III i 118 our m 'ill sing me old songs by the hour, „ III i 184
she had 'em from her m, and her m from her m back „ III i 186
The crown! who? Margery. M. „ III i 200 but Salisbury was a calf cowed by M Church, „ III iii 96
I only love m. Eleanor. Ay; and who is thy m? „ IV i 9 a good fairy to thy m. Take me to her. „ IV i 26
But you don't look like a good fairy. M does. You are not pretty, like m. „ IV i 36 golden chain I will give thee if thou wilt lead me to thy m. Geoffrey. No—no gold. M says gold spoils all. „ IV i 41
I love thy m, my pretty boy. „ IV i 44
M, you told me a great fib: „ IV ii 370
I have overshot My duties to our Holy M Church, „ V i 38 a son stone-blind Sat by his m's hearth: „ V ii 106 and the poor m, Soon as she learnt I was a friend „ V ii 109 and our M Church for bride; „ V ii 221 this love, this m, runs thro' all The world „ V ii 241
To assail our Holy M lest she brood Too long „ V ii 251
Divide we from the m church of England, My Canterbury. „ V ii 360 Artemis, Artemis, hear us, O M, hear us, and bless us! The Cup II 1 new-made children Of our imperial m see the show. „ II 165 many-breasted m Artemis Emboss'd upon it. „ II 340
Good m, happy was the prodigal son, The Falcon 140 Holy m! To breakfast! „ 214 yet to speak white truth, my good old m, „ 504 easier for you to make Allowance for a m— „ 826
I was just out of school, I had no m— Prom. of May I 707 Wasn't dear m herself at least by one side a lady? „ III 300 she moänt coom here. What would her m saäy? „ III 459
My m used to say that such a one Was without rudder, „ III 533 for the sake of the great blessed M in heaven, and for the love of his own little m on earth, Foresters I i 97 come as freely as heaven's air and m's milk? „ I i 210 they were born and bred on it—it was their m— „ I i 333
This ring my m gave me: „ I ii 293
My m, For whose sake, and the blessed Queen „ II i 37
Quick, good m, quick! „ II i 193
That by the blessed M no man, „ III 239
Robin, the sweet light of a m's eye, „ IV 2
He was my father, m, both in one. „ IV 6

Mother-wit Put thou thyself and m-w together. Harold II i 17

Motion The Queen hath felt the m of her babe! Queen Mary III ii 213 great m of laughter among us, part real, part childlike, Becket III iii 154 Fell with her m as she rose, and she, The Falcon 536

Motive now the stronger m, Misnamed free-will— Prom. of May II 636
when The stronger m rules. „ II 671

Mou'd (mould) and the smell o' the m an' all. „ I 375
the smell o' the m 'ud ha' maäde ma live as long as Jerusalem. „ I 377

Mould (earth) (See also Mou'd) such fine m, that if you sow'd therein Queen Mary IV i 170

Mould (shape) I cannot help the m that I was cast in. The Cup I iii 25
Not yet, but here comes one of bigger m. Foresters IV 115

Mould (verb) I could m myself To bear your going better; Queen Mary III vi 234

Moulded bolts of thunder m in high heaven Harold II ii 32

Mouldwarp wild hawk passing overhead, The m underfoot. Foresters III 319

Mouldy old men must die, or the world would grow m, Becket, Pro. 409 nigh at the end of our last crust, and that m, „ III i 115

Moult bird that m's sings the same song again, „ I iii 447

Mound Our altar is a m of dead men's clay, Queen Mary V i 161 as she was helping to build the m against the city. Foresters II i 309 let me go to make the m: bury me in the m, „ II i 312

Mount No, no, his horse—he m's another— Harold V i 639 when the Gascon wine m's to my head, Becket, Pro. 113
m with your lordship's leave to her ladyship's castle, The Falcon 412

Mountain (adj.) You know the waterfall That in the summer keeps the m side, The Cup I i 108
This m shepherd never dream'd of Rome. „ I ii 17
With other beauties on a m meadow, The Falcon 351
The m flowers grew thickly round about. „ 355
'Dead m flowers, dead mountain-meadow flowers, „ 461
'O m flowers!' „ 474
Dead m flowers'—— „ 519

Mountain (s) Inverted Æsop—m out of mouse. Queen Mary II i 67 Chased deer-like up his m's, Harold I ii 148 who know His prowess in the m's of the West, „ IV i 165 crying To a m 'Stand aside and room for me!' „ IV iii 130 climb The m opposite and watch the chase. The Cup I i 117
Oh look,—yon grove upon the m, „ I ii 394
'Dead m.' Nay, for who could trace a hand The Falcon 437 Dearer than when you made your m gay, „ 463 snow yonder on the very tip-top o' the m. „ 502

Mountain-meadow (See also Meadow) 'Dead mountain flowers, dead m-m flowers, „ 461
You bloom again, dead m-m flowers.' „ 470

Mounted We m, and we dash'd into the heart of 'em. „ 629
I was no mad, that I m upon the parapet— Prom. of May III 372

Mounting and see it m to Heaven, my God bless you, Becket I iv 37

Mourn She, you m for, seem'd A miracle of gentleness— Prom. of May II 489

Mournful Sleep, m heart, and let the past be past! Foresters I iii 47

Mouse Inverted Æsop—mountain out of m. Queen Mary II i 68
She beautiful: sleek as a miller's m! The Falcon 165

Mouth (s) From thine own m I judge thee— Queen Mary I iii 54 four guns gaped at me, Black, silent m's: „ II iii 32 Makes me his m of holy greeting. „ III ii 80
But a weak m, an indeterminate—ha? Bonner. Well, a weak m, perchance. „ III iv 340 stop the heretic's m! Hale him away! „ IV iii 282 tongue on un cum a-lolluping out o' 'is m „ IV iii 519 both have life In the large m of England, Harold IV iii 74
The m is only Clifford, my dear father. Becket II i 220
Out of th m's of babes and sucklings, praise! „ II ii 278 for my verses if the Latin rhymes be rolled out from a full m? „ II ii 338 primm'd her m and put Her hands together— „ III i 75 cold corners of the King's m began to thaw, „ III iii 153 royal promise might have dropt into thy m „ III iii 276 Foam at the m because King Thomas, „ V i 203 he made a wry m at it, but he took it so kindly, The Falcon 191 and he never made a wry m at you, „ 194 wasn't my lady born with a golden spoon in her ladyship's m, „ 402 will you take the word out of your master's own m? „ 598 feller couldn't find a Mister in his m fur me, as farms five hoonderd haäcre. Prom. of May I 303
What makes thee so down in the m? Foresters I ii 42 though I be down in the m, I will swear „ I ii 44 may this m Never suck grape again, „ IV 393 those pale m's which we have fed will praise us— „ IV 1076

Mouth (verb) Who m and foam against the Prince of Spain. Queen Mary II ii 250

Mouthpiece Is he thy m, thine interpreter? Foresters I ii 212

Move (s) His Highness makes his m's across the Channel, Queen Mary I iii 134 so you well attend to the king's m's, „ I iii 152
I'd make a m myself to hinder that: „ III i 127
if I And others made that m I touch'd upon, „ III i 445
It is your m. Becket, Pro. 17

Move (verb) Why should he m against you? Queen Mary I v 282 and till then I should not m. „ II i 3
I must not m Until I hear from Carew and the Duke. „ II i 121
M, if you m, at once.' „ II i 141
if we m not now, yet it will be known „ II i 197
If we m not now, Spain m's, „ II i 201 about our legs till we cannot m at all; „ II i 204 dark dead blood that ever m's with mine „ III i 352
Who cannot m straight to his end— „ IV iii 394
Sir, I will m them in your cause again, „ V i 178 could not m from Dover to the Humber Harold II ii 536

Move (verb) (continued) ever-jarring Earldoms m To music and in order— Harold II ii 761
Did the chest m ? did it m ? „ II ii 799 twins that cannot M one without the other. „ III i 129
Our Saints have moved the Church that m's the world, „ V i 42
Call when the Norman m's— „ V i 230
The Norman m's ! „ V i 438 dead So piled about him he can hardly m. „ V i 658 pray God My Normans may but m as true with me „ V ii 184
My liege, I m my bishop. Becket, Pro. 28
Well—will you m ? „ Pro. 38
Check—you m so wildly. „ Pro. 40 and the walks Where I could m at pleasure, „ I i 266
I would m this wanton from his sight „ I ii 70 if he m at all, Heaven stay him, is fain to diagonalise. „ II ii 329 you still m against him, you may have no less than to die „ III iii 325
The crowd are scattering, let us m away ! „ III iii 357
I cannot think he m's against my son, „ V i 18
But Becket ever m's against a king. „ V i 25
Why do you m with such a stateliness ? „ V ii 622
Would I could m him, Provoke him any way ! The Cup I ii 136 love for my dying boy, M's me to ask it of you. The Falcon 788 Help me to m this bench for him into the sun. Prom. of May I 80
—the crowd would call it conscience—M's me— „ II 639
we must M in the line of least resistance „ II 670
The oppression of our people m's me so, Foresters III 109
M me no more ! I am sick and faint with pain ! „ IV 598
Robin, shall we not m ? „ IV 782 Moved it will be known that we have m ; Queen Mary II i 198 when the Duke of Norfolk m against us „ II iii 2
I never saw your Highness m till now. „ III vi 104
Where he shall rest at night, m to his death ; „ IV iii 580
Our Saints have m the Church that moves the world, Harold V i 41
Thomas, thou art m too much. Becket I i 172 state more cruelly trampled on Than had she never m. The Cup I ii 147
M in the iron grooves of Destiny ? Prom. of May II 267 sometimes been m to tears by a chapter of fine writing in a novel ; „ III 208 would she m beside me like my shadow ! Foresters II i 164 Movement The house is all in m. Hence, and see. Queen Mary III v 83
There is a m there, A blind one— Harold I i 354
There is a m yonder in the crowd— Becket II ii 36
if the followers Of him, who heads the m, Foresters II i 701
Moving m side by side Beneath one canopy, Queen Mary III i 95
A maiden slowly m on to music The Cup I i 9
Mow'd An' the midders all m, an' the sky sa blue— (repeat) Prom. of May II 176, 188, 200
Mowt (might) What we m saäy, and what we m do, Prom. of May II 191
Mr. (See also Master, Mister) I'm coming down, M Dobson. „ I 46
Wheer did they larn ye that ? Dora. In Cumberland, M Dobson. „ I 66
Getting better, M Dobson. „ I 69
The owd man be heighty to-daäy, beänt he ? Dora. Yes, M Dobson. „ I 78
Where do they blow, M Dobson ? „ I 87
And your eyes be as blue as—— Dora. What, M Dobson ? „ I 93
Very likely, M Dobson. She will break fence. „ I 193
What dost a knaw o' this M Hedgar as be a-lodgin' wi' ye ? „ I 199
Nor I either, M Dobson. „ I 236
But I have, M Dobson. „ I 257
You never find one for me, M Dobson. „ I 306
Hev' ony o' ye seen Eva ? Dobson. Noä, M Steer. „ I 314
Wheer be M Edgar ? about the premises ? „ I 432
Yeas, yeas ! Three cheers for M Steer ! „ I 456
But where is this M Edgar whom you praised so in your first letters ? „ I 776
Yes, M Dobson, I've been attending on his death-bed and his burial. „ II 3
Hesn't he left ye nowt ? Dora. No, M Dobson. „ II 8
I thought M Edgar the best of men, and he has proved himself the worst. „ II 85
Cannot you understand plain words, M Dobson ? „ II 113
Mr. (continued) Sally Allen, you worked for M Dobson, didn't you ? Prom. of May III 102
Him as did the mischief here, five year' sin'. Dora. M Edgar ? „ III 141
And this lover of yours—this M Harold—is a gentleman ? „ III 281
Pleäse, Miss, M Dobson telled me to saäy he's browt some of Miss Eva's roses „ III 345
Milly, my dear, how did you leave M Steer ? „ III 410
What is it ? Milly. M 'Arold, Miss. „ III 478
Much Madam, my master hears with m alarm, Queen Mary I v 250
He hath learnt to love our Tostig m of late. Harold I i 145
He hath as m of cat as tiger in him. „ I i 154
Too m ! What ! we must use our battle-axe to-day. „ V i 204
But wonder'd more at my m constancy To the monk-king, Becket IV ii 304
Madam, I am as m man as the King. „ IV ii 432
Thou as m man ! No more of that ; „ IV ii 451
Pray for me too : m need of prayer have I. „ V ii 195
This friar is of m boldness, noble captain. Foresters IV 234
M would have more,' says the proverb ; „ IV 308
Much (a companion of Robin Hood) Thou M, miller's son, hath not the Earl right ? „ I ii 46
M, the miller's son, I knew thy father ; He was a manly man, as thou art, M, And gray before his time as thou art, M. „ I iii 146
I can sing it. Robin. Not now, good M ! „ I iii 158
I Little John, he M the miller's son, and he Scarlet, „ III 54
he, young Scarlet, and he, old M, and all the rest of us. „ III 61
And I, old M, say as much, „ III 62
Friend Scarlet, art thou less a man than M ? „ III 66
Up, good M. Tuck. And show thyself more of a man than me. „ IV 284
Ay, for old M is every inch a man. „ IV 289 always so much more of a man than my youngsters old M. „ IV 299
Well, we M'es be old. „ IV 300
' Much would have more,' says the proverb ; but M hath had more „ IV 308
Give me thy hand, M ; I love thee. At him, Scarlet ! „ IV 310
You, good friar, You M, you Scarlet, you dear Little John, „ IV 1083
Muching thou and thy youngsters are always m and moreing me. „ IV 296 Mud (See also Squad) I'll have the scandal sounded to the m. Queen Mary I v 228 drop The m I carried, like yon brook, Becket II i 159
I am snow to m. „ IV ii 130
My curse on all This world of m, Prom. of May III 722
Mudded wolf M the brook and predetermined all. Harold V i 3
Muddled an' maäzed, an' maäted, an' m ma. Prom. of May II 729
Mule See Sumpter-mule
Mulieribus Ave Maria, gratia plena, Benedicta tu in m. Queen Mary III ii 2
Mumbling Catholic, M and mixing up in his scared prayers „ II ii 86 our good King Kneels m some old bone— Harold II ii 469 Mummy-saints over His gilded ark of m's, „ V i 304
Mun (must) There m be summat wrong theer, Wilson, fur I doänt understan' it. Prom. of May I 233
S'iver I m git along back to the farm, „ II 321
It m be him. Noä ! „ II 602
Naäy, but I m git out on 'is waäy now, „ II 609
Deäd ! It m be true, fur it wur i' print as black as owt. „ II 730
Then yon m be his brother, an' we'll leather 'im. „ III 150
If it be her ghoäst, we m abide it. „ III 460
Murder (s) (See also Self-murder) No—m fathers m : Queen Mary III i 335
This was against her conscience—would be m ! „ III i 419
' Thou shalt do no m,' „ III i 421
when m common As nature's death, Becket I iii 342
What doth hard m care For degradation ? „ I iii 393
I found a hundred ghastly m's done By men, „ I iii 407
Covetousness, Craft, Cowardice, M '— Prom. of May II 285 whenever a m is to be done again she yells out i' this way— Foresters II i 246
Ay, do you hear ? There may be m done. „ II i 340 Murder (verb) Men would m me, Queen Mary I v 155
some Papist ruffians hereabout Would m you. „ III v 175

Murder (verb) (continued) Robert of Jumiéges—well-nigh m him too ? Harold I i 57
The dead men made at thee to m thee, „ I ii 85
It is the flash that m's, the poor thunder „ I ii 231 but a voice Among you : m, martyr me if ye will— „ V i 78
They m all that follow. „ V i 610 for he would m his brother the State. Becket I iv 190 Lord hath set his mark upon him that no man should m him. „ I iv 193 the wolves of England Must m her one shepherd, „ III iii 344
They stood on Dover beach to m me, „ V ii 436
Win me you cannot, m me you may, Foresters IV 721
Murder'd see the holy father M before thy face ? Queen Mary I iii 65
You would not have him m as Becket was ? „ III i 334
And I the race of m Buckingham— „ III i 454
The little m princes, in a pale light, „ III v 147
Hast m thine own guest, the son of Orm, Harold IV ii 37
They have so maim'd and m all his face „ V ii 76
A cleric violated The daughter of his host, and m him. Becket I iii 383
Say that a cleric m an archbishop, „ I iii 399
Am I to be m to-night ? „ I iv 47
M by that adulteress Eleanor, „ IV ii 243
Dead ! you have m her, Found out her secret bower and m her. „ V i 173
What matters m here, or m there ? „ V ii 630
Our gallant citizens m all in vain, The Cup I ii 142
She was m here a hundred year ago, Foresters II i 245
Murderer Make not thy King a traitorous m. Becket I iii 500
The m's, hark ! Let us hide ! „ V iii 46
Murderess M ! Eleanor. My lord, we know you proud „ IV ii 259
Murderous Were such m liars In Wessex— Harold II i 94
The man that hath to foil a m aim May, „ II ii 417 braced and brazen'd up with Christmas wines For any m brawl. Becket V ii 425
O m mad-woman ! I pray you lift me And make me walk awhile. The Cup II 471 Murmur (s) there be m's, for thy brother breaks us Harold I i 108 merriest m's of their banquet clank The shackles „ II ii 408
Murmur (verb) these old oaks will m thee Marian along with Robin. Foresters IV 1094
Murnin' (morning) and he wur in a tew about it all the m ; Prom. of May I 19 they be two o' the purtiest gels ye can see of a summer m. „ I 31
Good m, neighbours, and the saäme to you, my men. „ I 317 sa ta'en up wi' leädin' the owd man about all the blessed m „ III 3 nine o'clock, upo' Tuesday m, „ III 136
He wur sa bellows'd out wi' the wind this m, „ III 432
Muse I will not m upon it. Queen Mary IV ii 230 tell the King that I will m upon it ; „ V iii 90 that made me m, Being bounden by my coronation oath Becket I iii 395
Music in m Peerless—her needle perfect, Queen Mary III i 359
Thou art my m ! Harold I ii 25
Harold Hear the king's m, all alone with him, „ I ii 194 ever-jarring Earldoms move To m and in order— „ II ii 762 hand of one To whom thy voice is all her m, Becket II i 177
A maiden slowly moving on to m The Cup I i 9
And m there to greet my lord the king. „ II 191
Repeat them to their m. Count. You can touch No chord in me that would not answer you In m. The Falcon 454
When the Church and the law have forgotten God's m, they shall dance to the m Foresters IV 555
Strike up our m, Little John. „ IV 559
Musical There goes a m score along with them, The Falcon 452
Musically That is m said. „ 458
Musing What are you m on, my Lord of Devon ? Queen Mary I iv 26
Well, I was m upon that ; „ I iv 40
For I was m on an ancient saw, Becket V ii 537
Musulman I had sooner have been born a M— „ II ii 145 and turn me M ! No God but one, „ II ii 224 Almost as many as your true M— „ IV ii 34
Must See Moänt, Mun

Muster and make M's in all the counties ; Queen Mary V ii 272
Mutable Woman is various and most m. „ III vi 135
Mute another, m as death, And white as her own milk ; „ II ii 78
And when my voice Is martyr'd m, and this man disappears, Becket III iii 350
Why art thou m ? Dost thou not honour woman ? Foresters III 67
Mutilated M, poor brute, my sumpter-mule, Becket V ii 440
Mutter What is that you m ? Queen Mary I v 203
Muttering And m to himself as heretofore. „ III i 16
My-lord Why do you so m-l me, Who am disgraced ? „ IV ii 176
Myriad sent his m's hither To seize upon the forts „ III i 463
Myrtle apricot, Vine, cypress, poplar, m, The Cup I i 3
Myrtle-blossom And kindle all our vales with m-b, „ II 267
Mysen (myself) I niver thowt o' m i' that waäy ; Prom. of May I 176 and, thaw I says it m, niver men 'ed a better master— „ I 327 fur I 'ednt naw time to maäke m a scholard while I wur maäkin' m a gentleman, „ I 333 now theer be noän o' my men, thinks I to m, „ I 410 fur I'd ha' done owt fur 'er m ; „ II 33
Fur boäth on 'em knawed as well as m „ II 314
'at I ha' nobbut larned m haäfe on it. „ III 4
But I'll git the book ageän, and larn m the rest, „ III 13
O law—yeäs, Sir ! I'll run fur 'im m. „ III 714 Mystery was the great m wrought ; Queen Mary IV iii 141 see Deeper into the mysteries of heaven Harold I i 200
The folds have fallen from the m, Becket IV ii 8
Mystic Clothed with the m silver of her moon. Foresters II i 608

N

Naäiled (nailed) I'll hev the winder n up, and put Towser under it. Prom. of May I 420
Naäme (name) noän o' the parishes goäs by that n 'ereabouts. „ I 268 then he called me a rude n, and I can't abide 'im. „ II 159
Fanny be the n i' the song, but I swopt it fur she. „ II 211
An' we weänt mention naw n's, „ III 130 says the master goäs cleän off his 'eäd when he 'eärs the n on 'im ; „ III 133
I warrants that ye goäs By haäfe a scoor o' n's— „ III 729
Naämed (named) Theer, Miss ! You ha' n 'im—not me. „ III 142
Naäy (nay) N, I knaws nowt o' what foälks says, „ I 26
N then. I meän'd they be as blue as violets. „ I 103
N, but I hev an owd woman as 'ud see to all that ; „ II 95
N, but I mun git out on 'is waäy now, „ II 609
Nail tigress had unsheath'd her n's at last, Queen Mary III i 3
But one that pares his n's ; to me ? „ III v 65
There you strike in the n. „ V ii 437
Nailed See Naäiled
Naked Make no allowance for the n truth. Queen Mary I v 329
And leave the people n to the crown, And the crown n to the people ; „ III i 119
And tropes are good to clothe a n truth, „ III iv 151
To ours in plea for Cranmer than to stand On n self-assertion. „ IV i 120 and then Cast on the dunghill n, „ IV iii 446
Thy n word thy bond ! confirm it now Harold II ii 693
I that so prized plain word and n truth Have sinn'd against it— „ III i 93
Is n truth actable in true life ? „ III i 109
I thought that n Truth would shame the Devil The Devil is so modest. „ III i 118
I left our England n to the South To meet thee in the North. „ V i 289
They are stripping the dead bodies n yonder, „ V ii 34 Life on the hand is n gipsy-stuff ; Becket II i 193 she sits n by a great heap of gold in the middle of the wood, „ III ii 21
And left all n, I were lost indeed. „ IV ii 9 but n Nature In all her loveliness. Prom. of May I 598 Flung by the golden mantle of the cloud, And sets, a n fire. Foresters II i 29

Nakedly That, were a man of state n true, Harold III i 113
Nakedness to spy my n In my poor North ! „ I i 352
Name (s) (See also Naäme) your n Stands first of those who sign'd Queen Mary I ii 16 your worship's n heard into Maidstone market, „ II i 62
The n's of Wyatt, Elizabeth, Courtenay, „ II ii 94
Elizabeth—Her n is much abused „ II ii 110
Speak ! in the n of God ! „ II ii 271
Thy n, thou knave ? Man. I am nobody, my Lord. „ III i 246
God's passion ! knave, thy n ? „ III i 249
Find out his n and bring it me. „ III i 253
What is thy n ? Man. Sanders. „ III i 312
In our own n and that of all the state, „ III iii 120
How many n's in the long sweep of time „ III v 39
But that Thy n by man be glorified, „ IV iii 153
Ay, but they use his n. „ V i 129 you will find written Two n's, Philip and Calais ; „ V v 155 miracles will in my n be wrought Hereafter.— Harold I i 183
Thou shalt be verily king—all but the n— „ II ii 633
Why cry thy people on thy sister's n ? „ IV i 21 in the n of the great God, so be it ! „ IV i 239 no !—not once—in God's n, no ! Becket, Pro. 126
It much imports me I should know her n. „ I i 193
May plaister his clean n with scurrilous rhymes ! „ I i 308
When Canterbury hardly bore a n. „ I iii 60
I'll have the paper back—blot out my n. „ I iii 287
Blessed is he that cometh in the n of the Lord ! „ I iii 758
Shame fall on those who give it a dog's n— „ II i 142 Son, I absolve thee in the n of God. „ II ii 443 found thy n a charm to get me Food, roof, and rest. „ V ii 96 in thy n I pass'd From house to house. „ V ii 102 if Rosamund is The world's rose, as her n imports „ V ii 263 in his n we charge you that ye keep This traitor „ V ii 509
Save him, his blood would darken Henry's n ; „ V iii 11
Your n ? Synorix. Strato, my n. Sinnatus. No Roman n ? Synorix. A Greek, my lord ; The Cup I i 198 n's of those who fought and fell are like „ I ii 164
For whether men malign thy n, or no, „ I iii 84 in your lordship's and her ladyship's n, The Falcon 415
mentioned her n too suddenly before my father. Prom. of May II 23
Her phantom call'd me by the n she loved. „ II 242
Taught her the learned n's, anatomized „ II 302 Might I ask your n ? Harold. Harold. „ II 393 five years' absence, and my change of n, „ II 616
My n is Harold ! Good day, Dobbins ! „ II 726
I spoke of your n's, Allen, „ III 35 your own n Of Harold sounds so English „ III 609
And what was Your n before ? „ III 618
O yes ! In the n of the Regent. Foresters I iii 55
Ay, ay, because I have a n for prowess. „ II i 560 in the n of all our woodmen, present her with „ III 57 a traitor coming In Richard's n— „ IV 781
Your n's will cling like ivy to the wood. „ IV 1085
Name (verb) N him ; the Holy Father will confirm him. Becket, Pro. 244
My fault to n him ! „ II i 175 when those, that n themselves Of the King's part, „ V ii 428 Named (See also Naämed) proud of my 'Monk-King,' Whoever n me ; „ II ii 102
Nameless Corpse-candles gliding over n graves— Harold III i 381
Namesake your Scottish n marrying The Dauphin, Queen Mary V i 134 which King Harold gave To his dead n, Harold IV iii 110
Nap his manners want the n And gloss of court ; Queen Mary III v 70
Napkin I will bind up his wounds with my n. Becket I iv 107 Naples the Netherlands, Sicily, N, Lombardy. Queen Mary II i 212
he is King, you know, the King of N. The father ceded N, that the son Being a King, „ III i 73
Granada, N, Sicily, and Milan,— „ V i 44
The Pope would cast the Spaniard out of N : „ V i 149
Napoleon make the soil For Cæsars, Cromwells, and N's Prom. of May III 593
Nard N, Cinnamon, amomum, benzoin. The Cup II 184 Narrow and the French fleet Rule in the n seas. Queen Mary V i 7 but at times They seem to me too n, Harold III ii 64
I send my voice across the n seas— „ V i 246
Narrow (continued) And in a n path. A plover flew before thee. Becket II i 53
But in this n breathing-time of life The Cup I i 29
I hate Traditions, ever since my n father, Prom. of May I 492
He met a stag there on so n a ledge— Foresters IV 531
Narrowing Gone n down and darkening to a close. Queen Mary IV iii 431 out of the eclipse N my golden hour ! Becket II i 203
Narrowness It is the heat and n of the cage Queen Mary III v 207
God's revenge upon this realm For n and coldness : Harold I i 174
Nation comes a deputation From our finikin fairy n. Foresters II ii 145
Native Feeling my n land beneath my foot, I said thereto : 'Ah, n land of mine, Queen Mary II ii 47
And wrought his worst against his n land, The Cup I ii 177
Natur (nature) N ! N ! Well, it be i' my n to knock Prom. of May I 287
Natur' (nature) It's humbling—it smells o' human n. Becket I iv 238
Natural the people Claim as their n leader— Queen Mary I iv 210
You cannot Learn a man's nature from his n foe. „ I v 340
Nay swears, it was no wicked wilfulness, Only a n chance. „ III v 73
By seeking justice at a stranger's hand Against my n subject. „ IV i 21
These are but n graces, my good Bishop, „ IV i 176
Hurt no man more Than you would harm your loving n brother „ IV iii 189
Gone beyond him and mine own n man (It was God's cause) ; „ V ii 102
A sane and n loathing for a soul Purer, Becket II i 171 all the foul fatalities That blast our n passions into pains ! Prom. of May III 724
Naturally N enough ; for I am closely related „ II 714
N again ; for as I used to transact all his business „ II 718 Nature (See also Natur) I am of sovereign n, that I know, Queen Mary I iv 258
You cannot Learn a man's n from his natural foe. „ I v 340
Nor shame to call it n. „ III v 77 craft that do divide The world of n ; „ III v 121
For the pure honour of our common n, „ IV iii 298
Why, n's licensed vagabond, the swallow, „ V i 20
Does he think Low stature is low n, „ V ii 434
Things that seem jerk'd out of the common rut Of N Harold I i 139
I loved according to the main purpose and intent of n. Becket, Pro. 502
And know the ways of N. „ I i 257
N's moral Against excess. „ I i 373 when murder common As n's death, „ I iii 344
I doubt not from your nobleness of n, The Falcon 804 my nobleness Of n, as you deign to call it, „ 811
It is N kills, And not for her sport either. Prom. of May I 272 —is not that the course of N too, „ I 279 this poor N ! Dobson. Natur ! Natur ! „ I 286 but naked N In all her loveliness. „ I 599 strain to make ourselves Better and higher than N, „ I 604 N a liar, making us feel guilty Of her own faults. „ II 269 equal for pure innocence of n, And loveliness of feature. „ II 372 Here crawling in this boundless N. „ III 637 worse off than any of you, for I be lean by n, Foresters I i 45 Till N, high and low, and great and small „ I ii 326 for, God help us, we lie by n. „ II i 238
Weak n's that impute Themselves to their unlikes, „ II i 690
Of a n Stronger, sadder than my own, „ II ii 188 yet in tune with N and the bees. „ IV 32 Natured See Hard-natured, Noblest-natured
Naught (See also Nought) and since the Sheriff left me n but an empty belly, Foresters II i 279
Nave n and aisles all empty as a fool's jest ! Queen Mary IV iii 286
Navy and might have sunk a n— Becket III iii 125
Naw (no) thaw I beänt n scholard, fur I 'ednt n time to maäke mysen a scholard Prom. of May I 332
He 'ant n pride in 'im, and we'll git 'im to speechify for us arter dinner. „ I 439 thou hesn't n business 'ere wi' my Dora, „ II 735
we worked n wuss upo' the cowd tea ; „ III 58
An' we weänt mention n naämes, „ III 130
Nawbody (nobody) why there wudn't be a dinner for n, „ I 149

Nawbody (nobody) (continued) When ye thowt there were n watchin' o' you, Prom. of May II 179
Nay See Naäy
Neap-tide the realm is poor, The exchequer at n-t: Queen Mary I v 121
Near They call me n, for I am close to thee And England— Harold III i 6
Stay !—too n is death. The Cup I iii 104
Nearer For I will come no n to your Grace; Queen Mary III v 200
No n to me ! back ! Foresters IV 692
Nearest (adj.) She had but follow'd the device of those Her n kin: Queen Mary III i 380
Nearest (s) Who stands the n to her. „ V ii 416
The Atheling is n to the throne. Harold II ii 569
Nearness Upon my greater n to the birthday Foresters II i 44 Necessity Statesmen that are wise Shape a n, Queen Mary III iii 33 bound To that n which binds us down; Harold V i 108 so we could not but laugh, as by a royal n— Becket III iii 159 Neck on his n a collar, Gold, thick with diamonds; Queen Mary III i 78 and weight of all the world From off his n to mine. „ III vi 214 rear and run And break both n and axle. Harold I i 374
See here this little key about my n ! „ III i 10 swear nay to that by this cross on thy n. Becket, Pro. 370
Has wheedled it off the King's n to her own. „ IV ii 201 not yield To lay your n beneath your citizen's heel. „ V i 31 upon a n Less lovely than her own, The Falcon 55
I wore the lady's chaplet round my n; „ 631
I lay them for the first time round your n. „ 908 Swear to me by that relic on thy n. Prince John. I swear then by this relic on my n— Foresters I ii 170 twist it round thy n and hang thee by it. „ IV 688 Neck-broken Huntsman, and hound, and deer were all n-b ! The Cup I ii 24
Necklace if we will buy diamond n's To please our lady, The Falcon 44
She should return thy n then. „ 70
Need (s) Ask me for this at thy most n, son Harold, At thy most n— Harold III i 14
No n ! no n ! . . . There is a bench. Becket II i 123
Good Prince, art thou in n of any gold ? Foresters I ii 162 Need (verb) I n thee not. Why dost thou follow me ? Harold II ii 231
Needed fly like bosom friends when n most. The Falcon 527
Needle —in music Peerless—her n perfect, Queen Mary III i 360 Negative (See also Positive-negative) Or answer'd them in smiling n's; „ IV iii 603 not a heart like a jewel in it—that's too n; The Falcon 92 Neighbour he was my n once in Kent. Queen Mary II iii 85 good n, There should be something fierier than fire „ V iv 25 my foundation For men who serve the n, Harold V i 98
Good murnin', n's, and the saäme to you, my men. Prom. of May I 317
Neighing N and roaring as they leapt to land— Harold IV iii 197
Neither No friendship sacred, values n man Nor woman save as tools— Foresters IV 713
Nene (river) Gone hawking on the N, Becket I iii 3
Nescience Back into n with as little pain Prom. of May II 341
Nest (s) (See also Home-nest) then would find Her n within the cloister, Harold IV i 234
A n in a bush. Becket. And where, my liege ? Becket, Pro. 155
And where is she ? There in her English n ? „ Pro. 178
I wrong the bird; she leaves only the n she built, „ I iv 46 came upon A wild-fowl sitting on her n, „ V ii 234 lark, that warblest high Above thy lowly n, Prom. of May III 200 all in all to one another from the time when we first peeped into the bird's n, „ III 274
When I and thou will rob the n of her. Foresters I ii 161
So that myself alone may rob the n. Prince John. Well, well then, thou shalt rob the n alone. „ I ii 166
Nest (verb) nor priestly king to cross Their billings ere they n. Harold III ii 95
Nested Knows where he n—ever comes again. Queen Mary V i 26
Net (s) We be fishermen; I came to see after my n's. Harold II i 27 thou hast them in thy n. Becket II ii 287
No rushing on the game—the n,—the n. The Cup I i 170
Net (verb) How dense a fold of danger n's him round, Harold II ii 17
Netherlands Heir of this England and the N ! Queen Mary I v 418 nearer home, the N, Sicily, Naples, Lombardy. „ II i 212
Netherlands (continued) Look to the N, wherein have been Queen Mary III iv 106
The voices of Franche-Comté, and the N, „ V i 46
Never See Niver
Never-dawning Shall mark out Vice from Virtue in the gulf Of n-d darkness ? Prom. of May I 542
New (adj.) out you flutter Thro' the n world, go zigzag, Queen Mary I iv 54
But hatch you some n treason in the woods. „ I v 465
None so n, Sir Thomas, and none so old, Sir Thomas. No n news that Philip comes to wed Mary, no old news that all men hate it. „ II i 14
Look at the N World—a paradise made hell; „ II i 207
The n Lords Are quieted with their sop of Abbey-lands, „ III i 140
The light of this n learning wanes and dies: „ III ii 172
Well, Madam, this n happiness of mine ? „ III ii 208
N learning as they call it; „ IV i 78 in the Testaments, Both Old and N. „ IV iii 234
But she's a heretic, and when I am gone, Brings the n learning back. „ V i 202
But this n Pope Caraffa, Paul the Fourth, „ V ii 32
A n Northumberland, another Wyatt ? „ V v 188
That palate is insane which cannot tell A good dish from a bad, n wine from old. Becket, Pro. 106
I care not for thy n archbishoprick. „ I i 217
Shall I forget my n archbishoprick And smite thee „ I i 220
It well befits thy n archbishoprick To take the vagabond woman „ I i 225
That Map, and these n railers at the Church „ I i 306
What, this ! and this !—what ! n and old together ! „ I iii 309
Die for a woman, what n faith is this ? The Cup I iii 67
One ghost of all the ghosts—as yet so n, „ II 142
We cannot flaunt it in n feathers now: The Falcon 42 and her affections Will flower toward the light in some n face. Prom. of May I 486 tide Of full democracy has overwhelm'd This Old World, from that flood will rise the N, „ I 595
When the great Democracy Makes a n world— „ I 672
Neither the old world, nor the n, nor father, „ I 674
Oh, last night, Tired, pacing my n lands at Littlechester, „ II 647 and I have lighted On a n pleasure. „ II 669 will give him, as they say, a n lease of life. „ III 424 but this n moon, I fear, Is darkness. Foresters I ii 85 whereon the throstle rock'd Sings a n song to the n year— „ I iii 28
We must fly from Robin Hood And this n queen of the wood. „ II ii 139
Shall drink the health of our n woodland Queen. „ III 314
Drink to the health of our n Queen o' the woods, „ III 368
We drink the health of thy n Queen o' the woods. „ III 372 so thou fight at quarterstaff for thy dinner with our Robin, that will give thee a n zest for it, „ IV 209 or shall I call it by that n term Brought from the sacred East, „ IV 704
New (adv.) Ay, that am I, n converted, but the old leaven sticks to my tongue yet. Queen Mary I iii 47
New-made n-m children Of our imperial mother see the show. The Cup II 164
And I could see that as the n-m couple Came from the Minster, Queen Mary III i 93
News N to me ! It then remains for your poor Gardiner, „ I v 219
N abroad, William ? „ II i 13
No new n that Philip comes to wed Mary, no old n that all men hate it. „ II i 16
There is n, there is n, „ II i 58
Good n have I to tell you, n to make „ III ii 186
N, mates ! a miracle, a miracle ! n ! „ III ii 209 whether this flash of n be false or true, „ III ii 234 whether it bring you bitter n or sweet, „ III v 201
(The n was sudden) I could mould myself „ III vi 234
Reginald Pole, what n hath plagued thy heart ? „ V ii 17
Madam, he may bring you n from Philip. „ V ii 229
I bring your Majesty such grievous n „ V ii 240

News (continued) there is a post from over seas With n for thee. Harold II ii 210
N from England ? „ II ii 287
Ill n for guests, ha, Malet ! „ II ii 302 Ill n hath come ! Our hapless brother, „ III ii 120 but worse n : this William sent to Rome, „ III ii 140 Goodly n ! Morcar. Doubt it not thou ! „ IV i 219
Harsh is the n ! hard is our honeymoon ! „ IV iii 229
And thou, my carrier-pigeon of black n, „ IV iii 233 disappear'd, They told me, from the farm—and darker n. Prom. of May II 408
No n of young Walter ? Foresters I i 72 but we have no n of Richard yet, „ I ii 94
I trust he brings us n of the King's coming. „ I iii 53
Give me some n of my sweet Marian. „ II i 481
Black n, black n from Nottingham ! „ III 446
we have certain n he died in prison. „ IV 778

Newspaäper (newspaper) —what's the n word, Wilson ? —celebrate— Prom. of May I 320

New-wakening all the leaf of this N-w year. The Falcon 340

New year Sings a new song to the n y— Foresters I iii 28

Next Who shall crown him ? Canterbury is dying. Becket. The n Canterbury. Becket, Pro. 241
And is the King's if too high a stile for your lordship to over-step and come at all things in the n field ? „ III iii 282 which he Gainsays by n sunrising— „ IV ii 278
A child's sand-castle on the beach For the n wave— The Cup I ii 255 the n time you waste them at a pothouse you get no more from me. Prom. of May III 99

Nicholas (Archbishop of York and Lord Chancellor) (See also Nicholas Heath) I wish you a good morning, good Sir N : Queen Mary V i 14
Sir N tells you true, „ V i 16
Sir N ! I am stunn'd—Nicholas Heath ? „ V ii 250
Spite of your melancholy Sir N, „ V ii 327

Nicholas Heath Sir N H, the Chancellor, Would see your Highness. „ V ii 225
Madam, your Chancellor Sir N H. Mary. Sir Nicholas ! I am stunn'd—N H ? „ V ii 249

Nicholas (Saint) By St. N I have a sudden passion Foresters I iii 121
By St. N They must have sprung like Ghosts „ IV 591

Niece Prince of fluff and feather come To woo you, n, Queen Mary I iv 164
Look to it, n, He hath no fence when Gardiner „ I iv 202 Ay, good n ! You should be plain and open with me, n. „ I iv 216 love that men should smile upon you, n. „ I iv 275
They will not, n. Mine is the fleet „ I iv 286

Night (See also Good-night, To-night) I see but the black n, and hear the wolf. „ I v 413
It breaks my heart to hear her moan at n „ I v 604
Last n I climb'd into the gate-house, Brett, „ II iii 14
Out of the dead, deep n of heathendom, „ III iii 173
Those damp, black, dead N's in the Tower ; „ III v 139 a fox may filch a hen by n, „ III v 157
Last n, I dream'd the faggots were alight, „ IV ii 1 happy haven Where he shall rest at n, „ IV iii 580 horses On all the road from Dover, day and n ; On all the road from Harwich, n and day ; „ V ii 578 Good n ! Go home. Besides, you curse so loud, „ V iv 61 there once more—this is the seventh n ! Harold I i 2 last n An evil dream that ever came and went— „ I ii 69 beast of prey Out of the bush by n ? „ I ii 214 passing by that hill three n's ago— „ III i 366 Walk'd at n on the misty heather ; N, as black as a raven's feather ; „ III ii 5 banner, Blaze like a n of fatal stars „ IV i 251
Last n King Edward came to me in dreams— (repeat) Harold IV i 259, 265
I have ridden n and day from Pevensey— „ IV iii 192
Last n I followed a woman in the city here. Becket, Pro. 468
Follow me this Rosamund day and n, „ Pro. 506
That rang Within my head last n, „ I i 71 flutter out at n ? „ I i 282
Good n ! good n ! „ I i 313
Both, good n ! „ I i 406

Night (continued) But the miller came home that n, Becket I iv 173
My friends, the Archbishop bids you good n. „ I iv 262 to bid you this n pray for him who hath fed „ I iv 266
Like sudden n in the main glare of day. „ II i 57
Who thief-like fled from his own church by n, „ II iii 157
Madam, not to-night—the n is falling. „ III i 52
she says she can make you sleep o' n's. „ IV ii 20 evil song far on into the n Thrills to the topmost tile— „ V ii 208
Save by that way which leads thro' n to light. „ V iii 88 close not yet the door upon a n That looks half day. The Cup I ii 388 crowd that hunted me Across the woods, last n. „ I iii 17 came back last n with her son to the castle. The Falcon 3
The n, As some cold-manner'd friend „ 641
The stock-dove coo'd at the fall of n, Prom. of May I 41 whose cheerless Houris after death Are N and Silence, „ I 251
I läame't my knee last n running arter a thief. „ I 387
Immanuel Goldsmiths was broke into o' Monday n, „ I 393
Who shrieks by day at what she does by n, „ I 533
Oh, Philip, Father heard you last n. „ I 557
I will fly to you thro' the n, the storm— „ I 702 last n Tired, pacing my new lands at Littlechester, „ II 646 that dreadful n ! that lonely walk to Littlechester, „ III 366
I cannot sleep o' n's by cause on 'em. Foresters II i 384
In the n, in the day, „ II ii 182 having lived For twenty days and n's in mail, „ IV 124
Or in the balmy breathings of the n, „ IV 1068

Nightingale not to hear the n's, But hatch you some new treason Queen Mary I v 464
The lark above, the n below, „ II i 52
Mad for thy mate, passionate n . . . Harold I ii 2
The n's in Haveringatte-Bower „ I ii 18
I dumb thee too, my wingless n ! „ I ii 24
Here to the n's. „ III ii 90 not in tune, a n out of season ; Becket, Pro. 350
I keep it to kill n's. John. N's ? Foresters II i 380
This is no bow to hit n's ; „ II i 391

Nightmare As tho' the n never left her bed. Queen Mary I v 605
Must be the n breaking on my peace Becket II i 36

Nihilist I that have been call'd a Socialist, A Communist, a N— Prom. of May III 585

Nimble The n, wild, red, wiry, savage king— Harold IV i 197

Nine The conduit painted—the n worthies—ay ! Queen Mary III i 258
And I ha' n darters i' the spital that be dead Becket I iv 249
And the other n ? Filippo. Sold ! The Falcon 411

Ninepin more of a man than to be bowled over like a n. Foresters IV 305

Nineteen After the n winters of King Stephen— Becket I iii 338

Ninetieth This is my n birthday. (repeat) Harold IV i 121, 127

Niobe How gracefully there she stands Weeping— the little N ! Prom. of May I 736

Nip N, n him for his fib. Foresters II ii 121
N him not, but let him snore. „ II ii 122

Nipper Count-crab will make his n's meet Harold II i 76

Nipt Her life was winter, for her spring was n : Queen Mary V v 270

Niver (never) Theer ye goäs ageän, Miss, n believing owt I says to ye— Prom. of May I 107
I n thowt o' mysen i' that waäy ; „ I 176 leästwaäys they n cooms 'ere but fur the trout „ I 212
N man 'ed better friends, and I will säay n master 'ed better men ; „ I 322 and, thaw I says it mysen, n men 'ed a better master— „ I 327
I n 'es sa much as one pin's prick of paäin ; „ I 359 fur I n touched a drop of owt till my oän wedding-daäy, „ I 361 thaw me and 'im we n 'grees about the tithe ; „ I 444 thaw he n mended that gap i' the glebe fence „ I 445
Blacksmith, thaw he n shoes a herse to my likings „ I 447
he tell'd me 'at sweet'arts n worked well togither ; „ II 156
Fur she'd n 'a been talkin' häafe an hour „ II 603
Fur she n knawed 'is faäce when 'e wur 'ere afoor ; „ II 606
I ha n been surprised but once i' my life, „ III 439

No See Naw, Noä

Noä (No) N, Joan. (repeat) Queen Mary IV iii 480, 483, 485
N, not a bit. Prom. of May I 34
N, Miss. I ha'n't seed 'er neither. „ I 48
N, Miss Dora ; as blue as— (repeat) „ I 95, 99
N, but I häates 'im. „ I 217

Noä (no) (continued) N, fur thou be nobbut schoolmaster; Prom. of May I 307
N, Mr. Steer. „ I 314
N; I lääme't my knee last night running arter a thief. „ I 386
N; I knaws a deäl better now. „ II 26
N, n! Keep 'em. „ II 44
N, not yet. „ II 132
Philip Hedgar o' Soomerset!—N—yeas— „ II 588
It mun be him. N! „ II 602 n—thaw they hanged ma at 'Size fur it. „ II 697
N, Miss; we worked naw wuss upo' the cowd tea; „ III 58
O lor, Miss! n, n, n! „ III 92

Noailles (French Ambassador) I am mighty popular with them, N. Queen Mary I iii 102
Good morning, N. „ I iii 159
King of France, N the Ambassador, „ I iv 110
Good morning, Sir de N. „ I v 242
A letter which the Count de N wrote „ V ii 496

Noän (none) but n o' the parishes goäs by that name 'ereabouts. Prom. of May I 268 now theer be n o' my men, thinks I to mysen, „ I 409
Miss Dora, that I ha' been n too sudden wi' you, „ II 60
Meä? why, it be the Lord's doin', n o' mine; „ III 49

Nobbut (only) (See also Nubbut) Noä, fur thou be n schoolmaster; „ I 307 fur I wur n a läabourer, „ I 329 if I could ha' gone on wi' the plowin' n the smell o' the mou'd „ I 376 and it seems to me n t'other day. „ II 6 and if ye would n hev me, „ II 73
'at I ha' n larned mysen haäfe on it. „ III 4

Noble (adj.) By God's light a n creature, right royal! Queen Mary I i 69 but to my mind the Lady Elizabeth is the more n and royal. „ I i 72
Well, that's a n horse of yours, my Lord. „ I iv 143
A king to be,—is he not n, girl? „ I v 4
No, by the holy Virgin, being n, „ I v 70
Swear with me, n fellow-citizens, all, „ II ii 296
And that this n realm thro' after years „ III iii 156 do triumph at this hour In the reborn salvation of a land So n. „ III iii 183
But this most n prince Plantagenet, Our good Queen's cousin—dallying over seas Even when his brother's, nay, his n mother's, Head fell— „ III iv 291
Out, girl, you wrong a n gentleman. „ III v 68
N as his young person and old shield. „ V ii 513
Doth he not look n? I had heard of him in battle over seas, „ V v 32
Courage, n Aldwyth! Let all thy people bless thee! Harold I ii 182
I found him all a n host should be. „ II ii 10
I can but love this n, honest Harold. „ II ii 94 whereby we came to know Thy valour and thy value, n earl. „ II ii 202
Thou must swear absolutely, n Earl. „ II ii 716
'If ye side with William Ye are not n.' „ II ii 789
O n Harold, I would thou couldst have sworn. „ III i 325
This is n! That sounds of Godwin. „ IV ii 57
N Gurth! Best son of Godwin! If I fall, I fall— „ V i 134 dashes it on Gurth, and Gurth, Our n Gurth, is down! „ V i 642 for were all, my lord, as n as yourself, who would look up to you? Becket III iii 306
O God, O n knights, O sacrilege! „ V iii 178
A n anger! but Antonius To-morrow will demand your tribute— The Cup I ii 95
A gallant boy, A n bird, each perfect of the breed. The Falcon 320
A n saying—and acted on would yield A nobler breed of men and women. „ 753
Nothing but my brave bird, my n falcon, „ 873
Why then the dying of my n bird Hath served me better than her living— „ 900
Ay, n Earl, and never part with it. Foresters I ii 303
Not till she clean forget thee, n Earl. „ I ii 306
Ay dear Robin! ah n captain, friend of the poor! „ II i 182
N Robin. „ III 185
I thank you, n sir, the very blossom Of bandits. „ III 246
I thank you, n sir, and will pray for you „ III 250

Noble (adj.) (continued) This friar is of much boldness, n captain. Robin. He hath got it from the bottle, n knight. Foresters IV 235
Damsel, is this the truth? Marian. Ay, n knight. „ IV 771

Noble (s) have marked the haughtiness of their n's; Queen Mary II i 169
Spain moves, bribes our n's with her gold, „ II i 202
Could Harry have foreseen that all our n's Would perish „ III i 117
We have given the church-lands back: The n's would not; „ V i 172 all the magistracy, all the n's, and all the wealthy; „ V iv 51
N's we dared not touch. „ V v 104
he speaks to a n as tho' he were a churl, and to a churl as if he were a n. Becket, Pro. 455

Nobleness I doubt not from your n of nature, The Falcon 803

Nobler Tell him the Saints are n than he dreams, Tell him that God is n than the Saints, Harold V i 55
What n? men must die. „ V i 270
Go therefore like a friend slighted by one That hath climb'd up to n company. Becket I i 351
A sane and natural loathing for a soul Purer, and truer and n than herself; „ II i 172 and acted on would yield A n breed of men and women. The Falcon 755 n The victim was, the more acceptable Might be the sacrifice. „ 879
if our true Robin Be not the n lion of the twain. Foresters IV 396

Nobler-looking Ay, but n-l. Queen Mary I v 322

Noblest I am the n blood in Europe, Madam, „ I iv 84
the n light That ever flash'd across my life, Foresters III 140

Noblest-natured scorns The n-n man alive, and I— The Falcon 259

Nobody (See also Nawbody) Thy name, thou knave? Man. I am n, my Lord. Queen Mary III i 247

Nod A life of n's and yawns. „ I iii 116
With Cain belike, in the land of N, Becket I iv 196

No-hows (unsatisfactorily) and so brought me n-h as I may say, „ III i 129

Noise make what n you will with your tongues, Queen Mary I i 6
What n was that? she told us of arm'd men Becket V ii 226

Nokes (a character in Queen Mary) Old N, can't it make thee a bastard? Queen Mary I i 28
No, old N. Old Nokes. It's Harry! „ I i 33

Nokes (a farm hand) Luscombe, N, Oldham, Skipworth! Prom. of May III 53

Nolo N episcopari. Henry. Ay, but N Archiepiscopari, Becket, Pro. 284

None See Noän

Nonsense That's all n, you know, such a baby as you are. Prom. of May I 784
I am glad my n has made you smile! „ III 314

Noon a bat flew out at him In the clear n, Foresters II ii 97 monies should be paid in to the Abbot of York, at the end of the month at n, and they are delivered here in the wild wood an hour after n. „ IV 508

Norfolk (Duke of) when the Duke of N moved against us Queen Mary II iii 2

Norman (adj.) (See also Demi-Norman) Did ye not cast with bestial violence Our holy N bishops down from all Their thrones Harold I i 50
I have a N fever on me, son, And cannot answer sanely . . . „ I i 87
Is not the N Count thy friend and mine? „ I i 247
And bolts of thunder moulded in high heaven To serve the N purpose, „ II ii 34
They have taken away the toy thou gavest me, The N knight. „ II ii 107
Well, thou shalt have another N knight! „ II ii 114
Stay—as yet Thou hast but seen how N hands can strike, But walk'd our N field, „ II ii 171
And we will fill thee full of N sun, „ II ii 180
And he our lazy-pious N King, „ II ii 444
Then our modest women—I know the N license—thine own Edith— „ II ii 477
if there sat within the N chair A ruler all for England— „ II ii 533
We could not move from Dover to the Humber Saving thro' N bishopricks— „ II ii 538
Ay, ay, but many among our N lords Hate thee for this, „ II ii 544 confirm it now Before our gather'd N baronage, „ II ii 695
I know your N cookery is so spiced, It masks all this. „ II ii 810

Norman (adj.) (continued) They have built their castles here;
Our priories are N; the N adder Hath bitten us; Harold III i 37
To save thee from the wrath of N Saints. Stigand.
N enough! „ III i 217
Not mean To make our England N. „ III i 250
Or N? Voices. No! „ IV i 64
Who shook the N scoundrels off the throne, „ IV i 81
Keep that for N William! „ IV iii 169
William the N, for the wind had changed— „ IV iii 181
His N Daniel! Mene, Mene, Tekel! „ V i 35
No N horse Can shatter England, standing shield by shield; „ V i 194
But by all Saints— Leofwin. Barring the N! „ V i 225
The N arrow! „ V i 483
All the N foot Are storming up the hill. „ V i 522
The N Count is down. „ V i 553
Truth! no; a lie; a trick, a N trick! „ V i 607
His oath was broken—O holy N Saints, „ V i 617 and see beyond Your N shrines, pardon it, pardon it, „ V i 620
I cannot love them, For they are N saints— „ V ii 9
Make them again one people—N, English; And English, N; „ V ii 188
There was a little fair-hair'd N maid Lived in my mother's house: Becket V ii 260 that he calls you oversea To answer for it in his N courts. „ V ii 355
I am none of your delicate N maidens who can only broider Foresters I i 212
This John—this N tyranny—the stream is bearing us all down, „ I i 238 our John By his N arrogance and dissoluteness, „ II i 85
Dear, in these days of N license, when Our English maidens are their prey, if ever A N damsel fell into our hands, „ III 178
Where lies that cask of wine whereof we plunder'd The N prelate? „ III 308
Earl, thou when we were hence Hast broken all our N forest laws, „ IV 886

Norman (s) rest of England bow'd theirs to the N, Queen Mary II i 160
Our friends, the N's, holp to shake his chair. I have a Norman fever on me, son, Harold I i 85 it threatens us no more Than French or N. „ I i 135 Because I love the N better—no, „ I i 171 my father drove the N's out Of England?— „ I i 252
N's up To fight for thee again! „ II ii 58
Count of the N's, thou hast ransom'd us, „ II ii 157
The N's love thee not, nor thou the N's, „ II ii 253
And he our lazy-pious Norman King, With all his N's round him once again, „ II ii 445
I have heard the N's Count upon this confusion— „ II ii 458
Descends the ruthless N— „ II ii 467 thou and he drove our good N's out From England, „ II ii 525 Saving thro' Norman bishopricks—I say Ye would applaud that N who should drive „ II ii 539 because we found him A N of the N's. „ II ii 582 Angle, Jute, Dane, Saxon, N, „ II ii 763 let earth rive, gulf in These cursed N's— „ II ii 783
If e'er the N grow too hard for thee, „ III i 12 wholesome use of these To chink against the N, „ III i 22
Not mean To make our England Norman. Edward.
There spake Godwin, Who hated all the N's; „ III i 252
Be kindly to the N's left among us, „ III i 303 will ye upon oath, Help us against the N? „ IV i 181
Holy Father Hath given this realm of England to the N. „ V i 14
The N, What is he doing? „ V i 217
Call when the N moves— „ V i 230
The Norseman's raid Hath holpt the N, „ V i 292 when I sware Falsely to him, the falser N, „ V i 303 The N moves! „ V i 438 and they fly—the N flies. „ V i 541
They fly once more, they fly, the N flies! „ V i 596
The N sends his arrows up to Heaven, „ V i 666
N, thou liest! liars all of you, „ V ii 104
My N's may but move as true with me „ V ii 184 like his kingly sires, The N's, striving still Becket IV ii 442 both fought against the tyranny of the kings, the N's. Foresters I i 230

Norman-blooded I say not this, as being Half N-b, Harold I i 169

Normandy if it pass, Go not to N—go not to N. Harold.
And wherefore not, my king, to N? „ I i 235
And why not me, my lord, to N? „ I i 246
I pray thee, do not go to N. „ I i 250
That he should harp this way on N? „ I i 271
'I pray you do not go to N.' „ II ii 218
But for my father I love N. „ II ii 270
Go not to N— (repeat) „ II ii 327
I am thy fastest friend in N. „ II ii 556
When he was here in N, He loved us and we him, „ II ii 579
Foremost in England and in N; „ II ii 631
For I shall most sojourn in N; „ II ii 634
And that the Holy Saints of N „ II ii 727
From all the holiest shrines in N! „ II ii 735
And Wulfnoth is alone in N. „ III i 81
Praying for N; „ V i 219
When I am out in N or Anjou. Becket, Pro. 144
Barons of England and of N, „ I iii 742
A hundred, too, from N and Anjou: „ II ii 173

Normanism He hath clean repented of his N. Harold III i 30

Normanize—Plays on the word,—and N's too! „ III i 388

Normanland in N God speaks thro' abler voices, „ I i 165 but those of N Are mightier than our own. „ III i 223

Norseland hugest wave from N ever yet Surged on us, „ IV iii 62
Have we not broken Wales and N? „ V i 395

Norseman Would ye be Norsemen? Voices. No! „ IV i 62
That these will follow thee against the Norsemen, „ IV i 158 will ye, if I yield, Follow against the N? „ IV i 177
Where lie the Norsemen? on the Derwent? „ IV i 253
Why didst thou let so many Norsemen hence? „ IV iii 33
The N's raid Hath holpt the Norman, „ V i 290

North Stays longer here on our poor n than you:— Queen Mary V i 24
Hath taken Scarboro' Castle, n of York; „ V i 287
Is the N quiet, Gamel? Harold I i 107 to spy my nakedness In my poor N! „ I i 353
For if the N take fire, I should be back; „ I ii 67 shake the N With earthquake and disruption— „ I ii 199
And all the N of Humber is one storm. „ II ii 291
Hast thou such trustless jailors in thy N? „ II ii 685
N and South Thunder together, „ III i 391 the truth Was lost in that fierce N, „ III ii 26
Are landed N of Humber, and in a field „ III ii 126
Well then, we will to the N. „ III ii 139
Should care to plot against him in the N. „ IV i 167
Conjured the mightier Harold from his N „ IV ii 69 send the shatter'd N again to sea, „ IV iii 140
Who made this Britain England, break the N: „ IV iii 155 in South and N at once I could not be. „ IV iii 218
To meet thee in the N. „ V i 290 —your n chills me. Becket, Pro. 330 thro' all the forest land N to the Tyne: Foresters II i 89
There was a man of ours Up in the n, „ IV 530

Northampton on a Tuesday did I fly Forth from N; Becket V ii 287

North-east the N-e took and turned him South-west, then the South-west turned him N-e, „ „ II ii 320

Northumberland (Northumbria) Thou art a great voice in N! Harold I i 114
I heard from thy N to-day. „ I i 350
Wash up that old crown of N. „ V i 167

Northumberland (Earl of) and death to N! Queen Mary I i 67
she spoke even of N pitifully, „ I i 93
I do believe he holp N „ I v 278 when you put N to death, „ I v 485 never whine Like that poor heart, N, „ II ii 333
Was not Lord Pembroke with N? „ II iv 8
His breaking with N broke N. „ II iv 13
False to N, is he false to me? „ II iv 39
Why, ev'n the haughty prince, N, „ III i 147
The stormy Wyatts and N's, „ III ii 168
A new N, another Wyatt? „ V v 188

Northumbria (ancient earldom) When didst thou hear from thy N? Harold I i 281
Leave me alone, brother, with my N: „ I i 286
I heard from my N yesterday. „ I i 331
How goes it then with thy N? „ I i 333

Northumbria (ancient earldom) (continued) fain had calcined all N To one black ash, Harold III i 56
I come for mine own Earldom, my N; „ IV ii 30
N threw thee off, she will not have thee, „ IV ii 33
Northumbrian (adj.) Among the good N folk, „ I ii 220
Our old N crown, And kings of our own choosing. „ IV i 31
Of the N helmet on the heath? „ V i 144
Northumbrian (s) if his N's rise And hurl him from them,— „ II ii 455
Thou didst arouse the fierce N's! „ V i 347
And that the false N held aloof, „ V ii 165
Norway (country) and the giant King of N, Harold Hardrada— „ III ii 122 as having been so bruised By Harold, king of N; „ IV i 10
Norway (King) He hath gone to kindle N against England, „ III i 79
Since Tostig came with N— „ IV i 173
I am foraging For N's army. „ IV ii 6
Free thee or slay thee, N will have war; No man would strike with Tostig, save for N. „ IV ii 18
Thou art nothing in thine England, save for N, „ IV ii 23
What for N then? He looks for land among us, „ IV ii 52 sequel had been other than his league With N, „ IV iii 89
Here by dead N without dream or dawn! „ IV iii 122
Nose cackling of bastardy under the Queen's own n? Queen Mary I i 59
Who rub their fawning n's in the dust, „ III iii 242
God hath blest or cursed me with a n— „ III v 179
God hath given your Grace a n, or not, „ III v 203 rose but pricks his n Against the thorn, Harold I i 422 when I was a-getting o' bluebells for your ladyship's n to smell on— Becket iii i 162 wait Till his n rises; he will be very king. „ V ii 184
Lady Marian holds her n when she steps across it. Foresters I i 84
Nosing See Carrion-nosing
Nostril puffed out such an incense of unctuosity into the n's of our Gods of Church and State, Becket III iii 116
Note He never yet could brook the n of scorn. „ V ii 299 play the n Whereat the dog shall howl Harold I ii 191
Nothing (See also Naught, Nought, Nowt, Something-nothing) N? Alice. Never, your Grace. Queen Mary I v 574
What such a one as Wyatt says is n: „ III i 139
And n of the titles to the crown; „ III i 383
he is free enough in talk, But tells me n. „ III ii 194
They know n; They burn for n. „ V ii 113 but say the world is n— „ V vii 368
N, Madam, Save that methought I gather'd „ V iii 101
N; but 'come, come, come,' and all awry, „ V v 15 quiet, ay, as yet—N as yet. Harold I i 111
Make not thou The n something. „ I i 363
On a sudden—at a something—for a n— „ I i 443 Anything or n? The Falcon 133 he would answer n, I could make n of him; Prom. of May III 496
N from you! (repeat) „ III 802, 809
we be beggars, we come to ask o' you. We ha' n. Second Beggar. Rags, n but our rags. Foresters III 190
Notice I have n from our partisans Within the city Queen Mary II iii 51
A n from the priest, Becket III iii 3
Flutter'd or flatter'd by your n of her, The Falcon 538
Nottingham Thou knowest that the Sheriff of N loves thee. Foresters I i 223
The Sheriff of N was there—not John. „ I i 252
Beware of John and the Sheriff of N. „ I i 255
What art thou, man? Sheriff of N? „ I ii 191 in N they say There bides a foul witch „ II i 202 if thou wilt show us the way back to N. „ II i 361 is it true?—That John last week return'd to N, „ III 147 Part shall go to the almshouses at N, „ III 206
That business which we have in N— „ III 230
And may your business thrive in N! „ III 245
I know them arrant knaves in N. „ III 302
Black news, black news from N! „ III 447
I go to N. Sheriff, thou wilt find me at N. „ IV 800
No, let him be. Sheriff of N, „ IV 815
Nought (nothing) There's n but the vire of God's hell Queen Mary IV iii 526
Novel sometimes been moved to tears by a chapter of fine writing in a n; Prom. of May III 209
Noviciate Breaking already from thy n Becket V ii 80
Small peace was mine in my n, „ V ii 87
Noway and I n doubt But that with God's grace, I can live so still. Queen Mary II ii 218
Nowt (nothing) I knaws n o' what foälks says, Prom. of May I 27
N—what could he saäy? „ I 152
But if that be n to she, then it be n to me. „ I 182
Hesn't he left ye n? Dora. No, Mr. Dobson. „ II 7
I were insured, Miss, an' I lost n by it. „ II 58
Out o' the chaumber! I'll mash tha into n. „ III 735
Nubbut (only) (See also Nobbut) Owd Steer gi'es n cowd tea to 'is men, and owd Dobson gi'es beer. „ II 224
Numb'd Has often n me into apathy Against the „ I 227
Number'd We dally with our lazy moments here, And hers are n. Queen Mary V iii 109
Nun Thou art my n, thy cloister in mine arms. Harold I ii 63 saw thy willy-nilly n Vying a tress „ V i 148
What shall it be? I'll go as a n. Becket. No. Rosamund. What, not good enough Even to play at n? Becket. Dan John with a n, That Map, Becket I i 301 thy solitude among thy n's, May that save thee! „ V ii 176
Nunnery Put her away into a n! „ Pro. 65
Come thou with me to Godstow n, „ IV ii 366
To put her into Godstow n. (repeat) Becket V i 208, 210
He bad me put her into a n— Becket V i 214
Get thee back to thy n with all haste; „ V ii 163
Nurse (s) The n's yawn'd, the cradle gaped, Queen Mary III vi 93
My n would tell me of a molehill Harold IV iii 128
My good old n, I had forgotten thou wast sitting there. The Falcon 34
You can take it, n! „ 490 my n has broken The thread of my dead flowers, „ 521
I thank you, my good n. „ 560
And thou too leave us, my dear n, alone. „ 701
Ay, the dear n will leave you alone; „ 702
I have anger'd your good n; „ 707
Our old n crying as if for her own child, Prom. of May II 479
Nursery (adj.) Then she got me a place as n governess, „ III 385
Nursery (s) That may seem strange beyond his n. Queen Mary II ii 396
Nursery-cocker'd The n-c child will jeer at aught „ II ii 394
Nursery-tale That n-t Still read, then? Prom. of May III 525
Nut woodland squirrel sees the n Behind the shell, Foresters II i 647
On n's and acorns, ha! Or the King's deer? „ IV 882

O

Oaf o's, ghosts o' the mist, wills-o'-the-wisp; Foresters II i 263
Oak (See also Shambles-oak) Pine, beech and plane, o, walnut, The Cup I i 1 whose storm-voice Unsockets the strong o, „ II 283
Such hearts of o as they be. Foresters II i 4
And these rough o's the palms of Paradise! „ II i 169
Here's a pot o' wild honey from an old o, „ II i 296 before the shadow of these dark o's „ II i 605 hundreds of huge o's, Gnarl'd— „ III 91
In that o, where twelve Can stand upright, „ III 309
Our feast is yonder, spread beneath an o, „ IV 190
Meanwhile, farewell Old friends, old patriarch o's. „ IV 1054 yet I think these o's at dawn and even, „ IV 1066 these old o's will murmur thee Marian along with Robin. „ IV 1093
Oaken present her with this o chaplet as Queen of the wood, „ III 59
Oak-tree Come from out That o-t! „ IV 998
Oän (own) and he calls out among our o men, 'The land belongs to the people!' Prom. of May I 140 fur I niver touched a drop of owt till my o wedding-daäy, „ I 362 then back ageän, a-follering my o shadder— „ I 371 an' them theer be soom of her o roses, „ II 38 the Lord bless 'er—'er o sen; „ II 40
I would taäke the owd blind man to my o fireside. „ II 74

Oän (own) (continued) and you should sit i' your o parlour quite like a laädy, ye should ! Prom. of May II 97
Fur she'd niver 'a been talkin' haäfe an hour wi' the divil 'at killed her o sister, „ II 604
'Oäpe (hope) They can't be many, my dear, but I 'o's they'll be 'appy. „ I 353
Oath To bind me first by o's I could not keep, Queen Mary I v 557 he freed himself By o and compurgation Harold II ii 520 he hath not bound me by an o—Is 'ay' an o ? is 'ay' strong as an o ? „ II ii 661 same sin to break my word As break mine o ? „ II ii 665 thou hast sworn an o Which, if not kept, „ II ii 738 —am grateful for thine honest o, „ II ii 756
Hast thou had absolution for thine o ? „ III i 212
O son, when thou didst tell me of thine o, „ III i 268 my son ! Are all o's to be broken then, „ III i 286 lost Somewhat of upright stature thro' mine o, „ III ii 57 will ye upon o, Help us against the Norman ? „ IV i 180 devil Hath haunted me—mine o—my wife— „ V i 318
My fatal o—the dead Saints—the dark dreams— „ V i 380
His o was broken—O holy Norman Saints, „ V i 616
He that was false in o to me, „ V ii 151
Being bounden by my coronation o To do men justice. Becket I iii 396 that merits death,—False o on holy cross— „ IV ii 209
Ob Wouldst thou call my Oberon O ? Foresters II ii 131
Never O before his face. „ II ii 133
Obedience promise full Allegiance and o to the death. Queen Mary II ii 169 in this unity and o Unto the holy see „ III iii 157
His tractate upon True O, „ IV i 92 serviceable In all o, as mine own hath been : Harold III i 292 by that canonical o Thou still hast owed Becket I iii 275
Fealty to the King, o to thyself ? „ I iii 587
Obedient —the world A most o beast and fool— Queen Mary IV iii 414
Oberon And capering hand in hand with O. Foresters II i 498 Wouldst thou call my O Ob ? „ II ii 131 for O fled away Twenty thousand leagues to-day. „ II ii 142 Obey Well, well, you must o ; Queen Mary I iv 253
I must o the Queen and Council, man. „ IV ii 164
O your King and Queen, and not for dread „ IV iii 177
Sire, I o you. Come quickly. „ V i 220
And yet I must o the Holy Father, „ V ii 38
O the Count's conditions, my good friend. Harold II ii 276
Seem to o them. „ II ii 280
O him, speak him fair, „ II ii 317
O my first and last commandment. Go ! „ V i 359
Didst thou not promise Henry to o These ancient laws Becket I iii 17
Sign and o ! „ I iii 132
Sign, and o the crown ! „ I iii 144
And swear to o the customs. „ I iii 270
I promised The King to o these customs, „ I iii 557
That thou o, not me, but God in me, „ I iii 721 since we likewise swore to o the customs, „ V i 54
No man to love me, honour me, o me ! „ V i 240
Still I must o them. Fare you well. The Cup I i 158
Up with you, all of you, out of it ! hear and o. Foresters II ii 185
You hear your Queen, o ! „ III 464 Obeyed who had but o her father ; Queen Mary I i 95 the child o her father. „ I v 494 crown Would cleave to me that but o the crown, Becket V i 50 Obligation With bitter o to the Count— Harold II ii 221 every bond and debt and o Incurr'd as Chancellor. Becket I iii 710 Obliged you worked well enough, and I am much o to all of you. Prom. of May III 62
Observance all manner of homages, and o's, and circumbendibuses. Foresters I i 103
Obtain by your intercession May from the Apostolic see o, Queen Mary III iii 147
Occasion on a great o sure to wake As great a wrath in Becket— Becket III i 87
They seek—you make—o for your death. „ V ii 558 two-legg'd dogs Among us who can smell a true o, The Cup I ii 113 but this day has brought A great o. The Falcon 489 Occupy that anyone Should seize our person, o our state, Queen Mary II ii 178 Ocean And roll the golden o's of our grain, The Cup II 269 or wreckt And dead beneath the midland o, Foresters II i 657 Odd (adj.) Make us despise it at o hours, my Lord. Queen Mary IV iii 386
I have to pray you, some o time, „ V i 258
But doth not the weight of the flesh at o times overbalance the weight of the church, ha friar ? Foresters I ii 61
Odd (s) They are all too much at o's to close at once Queen Mary I v 632
Gardiner knows, but the Council are all at o's, „ II i 139
But seeing valour is one against all o's, Foresters IV 318
Odo (Bishop of Bayeux) coming with his brother O The Bayeux bishop, Harold II ii 347 and O said, 'Thine is the right, „ II ii 356
Odour Let all the air reel into a mist of o, The Cup II 185
O'erleap after rain o's a jutting rock And shoots „ I i 110
Offal with o thrown Into the blind sea of forgetfulness. Queen Mary III iii 191 scum And o of the city would not change „ IV iii 77 men, the scum and o of the Church ; Becket I iii 408 Offence As persons undefiled with our o, Queen Mary III iii 144 and mighty slow To feel o's. Prom. of May III 630 Offend You o us ; you may leave us. Queen Mary I v 210
You o us. Gardiner. These princes are like children, „ I v 232
It is the crown O's him— The Cup II 530 Offended I have o against heaven and earth Queen Mary IV iii 124 since my hand o, having written Against my heart, „ IV iii 247
'This hath o—this unworthy hand !' „ IV iii 613
Offending You have an old trick of o us ; „ III iv 315
Offer a formal o of the hand Of Philip ? „ I v 349
The formal o of Prince Philip's hand. „ I v 588 Offer'd has o her his son Philip, the Pope and the Devil. „ I i 105 a hundred Gold pieces once were o by the Duke. The Falcon 324
Has he o you marriage, this gentleman ? Prom. of May III 289 Offering See Peace-offering
Office I have lost mine o, Queen Mary I v 236
Spain in all the great o's of state ; „ II i 178 no foreigner Hold o in the household, „ III iii 72 set up The Holy O here—garner the wheat, „ V v 113 tell the cooks to close The doors of all the o's below. „ V v 117
Love him ! why not ? thine is a loving o, Harold II ii 97 fill'd All o's, all bishopricks with English— „ II ii 535
I had been so true To Henry and mine o Becket I iii 693 both of us Too headlong for our o. „ II ii 290
Nor make me traitor to my holy o. „ V ii 149
You should attend the o, give them heart. „ V ii 598
He said, 'Attend the o.' Becket. Attend the o ? „ V ii 608 get you back ! go on with the o. „ V iii 33
Back, I say ! Go on with the o. „ V iii 39 Officer the Queen's O's Are here in force Queen Mary I ii 108 by the judgment of the o's of the said lord king, Foresters I iii 65
Ofs King Hath divers o and ons, o and belongings, Becket IV ii 32
Oftener But you were o there. I have none but you. „ III i 53
Oil I Scraped from your finger-points the holy o ; Queen Mary IV ii 133
Olaf (a Norwegian king) St. O, not while I am by ! Harold I i 395
Old (adj.) (See also Owd, Owld) O Nokes, can't it make thee a bastard ? Queen Mary I i 28
No, o Nokes. Old Nokes. It's Harry. „ I i 33 for thou was born i' the tail end of o Harry the Seventh. „ I i 42
I was born true man at five in the forenoon i' the tail of o Harry, „ I i 46 but I and my o woman 'ud burn upon it, „ I i 56
Ay, but he's too o. „ I i 121
O Bourne to the life ! „ I iii 30
Yon gray o Gospeller, sour as midwinter, Begin with him. „ I iii 40
By the mass, o friend, we'll have no pope here „ I iii 42
Ay, that am I, new converted, but the o leaven sticks to my tongue yet. „ I iii 48 but this fierce o Gardiner—his big baldness, „ I iv 263 or wave And wind at their o battle : he must have written. „ I v 357
Not yet ; but your o Traitors of the Tower— „ I v 483
Why comes that o fox-Fleming back again ? „ I v 581
None so new, Sir Thomas, and none so o, Sir Thomas. No new news that Philip comes to wed Mary, no o news that all men hate it. O Sir Thomas would have hated it. „ II i 15

Old (adj.) (continued) O Sir Thomas always granted the wine. Queen Mary II i 41
Ay—sonnets—a fine courtier of the o court, o Sir Thomas. „ II i 46
Wake, or the stout o island will become A rotten limb of Spain. „ II i 104 you that have kept your o customs upright, „ II i 158
I have been there with o Sir Thomas, and the beds I know. „ II i 184
Ay, gray o castle of Alington, green field Beside the brimming Medway, „ II i 243
They go like those o Pharisees in John Convicted by their conscience, „ II ii 8
And scared the gray o porter and his wife. „ II iii 16
I know not my letters ; the o priest taught me nothing. „ II iii 57
Far liefer had I in my country hall Been reading some o book, with mine o hound Couch'd at my hearth, and mine o flask of wine Beside me, „ III i 44
I am an o man wearied with my journey, Ev'n with my joy. „ III ii 127 and are well agreed That those o statutes touching Lollardism „ III iv 7
O Rome, that first made martyrs in the Church, „ III iv 126
You have an o trick of offending us ; „ III iv 315
Touch him upon his o heretical talk, „ III iv 352
Men now are bow'd and o, the doctors tell you, „ III iv 408
Our o friend Cranmer, Your more especial love, „ III iv 416 there's An o world English adage to the point. „ IV i 175
Cool as the light in o decaying wood ; „ IV ii 5
Monsters of mistradition, o enough To scare me into dreaming, „ IV ii 102
Good day, o friend ; what, you look somewhat worn ; „ IV ii 115 in the Testaments, Both O and New. „ IV iii 234
Crying, ' Forward ! '—set our o church rocking, „ IV iii 403
Hist ! there be two o gossips—gospellers, „ IV iii 460
And the gray dawn Of an o age that never will be mine „ V ii 234
Probing an o state-secret—how it chanced That this young Earl „ V ii 487
Noble as his young person and o shield. „ V ii 513
Ah, weak and meek o man, Seven-fold dishonour'd „ V v 132
O, miserable, diseased, „ V v 178
I am a harm to England. O uncanonical Stigand— Harold I i 81
Stand by him, mine o friend, „ I i 112
So says o Gurth, not I : yet hear ! thine earldom, Tostig, hath been a kingdom. Their o crown Is yet a force among them, „ I i 302 and I beat him. Even o Gurth would fight. I had much ado To hold mine own against o Gurth. O Gurth, „ I i 436
I dug mine into My o fast friend the shore, „ II i 7 Counts his o beads, and hath forgotten thee. „ II ii 447 our good King Kneels mumbling some o bone— „ II ii 469
I, o shrivell'd Stigand, I, Dry as an o wood-fungus on a dead tree, „ III i 7
I do believe My o crook'd spine would bud out two young wings „ III i 24
No, not strange This was o human laughter in o Rome „ III ii 163
Our o Northumbrian crown, And kings of our own choosing. „ IV i 31
Your o crown Were little help without our Saxon carles „ IV i 34
There is a pleasant fable in o books, „ IV i 56
This o Wulfnoth Would take me on his knees and tell me tales „ IV i 71
O man, Harold Hates nothing ; not his fault, „ IV i 128
So loud, that, by St. Dunstan, o St. Thor— „ IV iii 146 but our o Thor Heard his own thunder again, „ IV iii 149
O dog, Thou art drunk, o dog ! „ IV iii 163
Wash up that o crown of Northumberland. „ V i 167
And chanting that o song of Brunanburg Where England conquer'd. „ V i 215
And our o songs are prayers for England too ! „ V i 222 but I, o wretch, o Stigand, With hands too limp to brandish iron— „ V i 447

Old (adj.) (continued) He is chanting some o warsong. Harold V i 495 War-woodman of o Woden, how he fells The mortal copse of faces ! „ V i 588 and most amorous Of good o red sound liberal Gascon wine : Becket, Pro. 100 believe thee The veriest Galahad of o Arthur's hall. „ Pro. 129
Well, well, o men must die, or the world would grow mouldy, „ Pro. 408
The good o man would sometimes have his jest— „ I i 61
You will do much To rake out all o dying heats, „ II ii 114
I hate a split between o friendships as I hate the dirty gap „ II ii 380
And that o priest whom John of Salisbury trusted Hath sent another. „ III i 69 for to be sure it's no more than a week since our o Father Philip „ III i 110 tho' to be sure our mother 'ill sing me o songs „ III i 184 for the o King would act servitor and hand a dish to his son ; „ III iii 138 Mine o friend, Thomas, I would there were that perfect trust between us, „ III iii 262
You could not—o affection master'd you, „ V ii 143
I know not why You call these o things back again, „ V ii 270
The o King's present, carried off the casks, „ V ii 442
And lose his head as o St. Denis did. „ V ii 480
May they not say you dared not show yourself In your o place ? „ V ii 596
I am not mad, not sick, not o enough To doat on one alone. The Cup I iii 69
It is o, I know not How many hundred years. „ II 342
we would add Some golden fringe of gorgeousness beyond O use, „ II 439
Did not some o Greek Say death was the chief good ? „ II 513
This o thing here they are but blue beads—my Piero, The Falcon 47
Ay, my lady, but won't you speak with the o woman first, „ 182
And yet to speak white truth, my good o mother, „ 504
It's the o Scripture text, ' Let us eat and drink, for to-morrow we die.' Prom. of May I 258
' What are we,' says the blind o man in Lear ? „ I 263
I hate tears. Marriage is but an o tradition. „ I 491
That fine, fat, hook-nosed uncle of mine, o Harold, „ I 510 will each Bid their o bond farewell with smiles, not tears ; „ I 524 for when the tide Of full democracy has overwhelm'd This O world, „ I 594
Tut ! you talk O feudalism. „ I 670
Neither the o world, nor the new, nor father, „ I 674
And poor o father not die miserable. „ I 722
Our o nurse crying as if for her own child, „ II 479
I do not dare, like an o friend, to shake it. „ II 526
I have always told Father that the huge o ashtree there would cause an accident some day ; „ III 244 for, indeed, he tells me that he met you once in the o times, „ III 263 and when the children grew too o for me, „ III 387 your Father must be now in extreme o age. „ III 400
We Steers are of o blood, tho' we be fallen. „ III 604 and your own name Of Harold sounds so English and so o „ III 610
I be lanker than an o horse turned out to die on the common. Foresters I i 51 and your Ladyship hath sung the o proverb out of fashion. „ I i 164
And how often in o histories have the great men striven against the stream, „ I i 242
I am o and forget. Was Prince John there ? „ I i 250
o faces Press round us, and warm hands close with warm hands, „ I iii 18
Ay, ay, gown, coif, and petticoat, and the o woman's blessing with them to the last fringe. „ II i 195
Except this o hag have been bribed to lie. Robin. We o hags should be bribed to speak truth, „ II i 234
There is but one o woman in the hut. „ II i 241
There is yet another o woman. „ II i 244
O hag, how should thy one tooth drill thro' this ? „ II i 275

Old (adj.) (continued) There's for you, and there's for you—and the o woman's welcome. Foresters II i 290
The o wretch is mad, and her bread is beyond me: „ II i 291
Here's a pot o' wild honey from an o oak, „ II i 296
And, o hag tho' I be, I can spell the hand. „ II i 350
Why do you listen, man, to the o fool? „ II i 358
All the sweet saints bless your worship for your alms to the o woman! „ II i 364
How should this o lamester guide us! „ II i 369
Why, an o woman can shoot closer than you two. „ II i 400 and make thine o carcase a target for us three. „ II i 404
Did I not tell you an o woman could shoot better? „ II i 407
Thou art no o woman—thou art disguised—thou art one of the thieves. „ II i 410
O as I am, I will not brook to see Three upon two. „ II i 422
A brave o fellow but he angers me. „ II i 471
He is o and almost mad to keep the land. „ II i 528 thou wast by And never drewest sword to help the o man „ II i 541
The o man dotes. „ II ii 83
And I, o Much, say as much, for being every inch a man I honour every inch of a woman. „ III 62
When the flower was wither'd and o. „ IV 22 at last I crawl'd like a sick crab from my o shell, „ IV 126
Ay, for o Much is every inch a man. „ IV 289
Because thou art always so much more of a man than my youngsters o Much. Much. Well, we Muches be o. Robin. O as the hills. Much. O as the mill. „ IV 299
Where is this o Sir Richard of the Lea? „ IV 438 and thus This o Sir Richard might redeem his land. „ IV 487
By o St. Vitus Have you gone mad? „ IV 614
And this o crazeling in the litter there. „ IV 634
Child, thou shalt wed him, Or thine o father will go mad—he will, „ IV 645
Carry her off, and let the o man die. „ IV 677
Meanwhile, farewell O friends, o patriarch oaks. „ IV 1054
And surely these o oaks will murmur thee Marian along with Robin. „ IV 1093

Old (s) and watch The parch'd banks rolling incense, as of o, Queen Mary I v 92
Should not this day be held in after years More solemn than of o? „ III iii 91
This hard coarse man of o hath crouch'd to me „ IV ii 169 but I know it of o, he hates me too; „ V ii 60
Did not Heaven speak to men in dreams of o? Harold. Ay—well—of o. Harold I ii 95
What, this! and this!—what! new and o together! Becket I iii 310
We have had our leagues of o with Eastern kings. The Cup I ii 101
Perhaps I thought with those of o, The Falcon 878

Olden Is like a word that comes from o days, Queen Mary III v 34
Let these decide on what was customary In o days, Becket II ii 176

Older I am eleven years o than he is. Queen Mary I v 68
I am eleven years o than he, Poor boy! „ V v 46 oaks, Gnarl'd—o than the thrones of Europe— Foresters III 92

Oldest Becket, I am the o of the Templars; Becket I iii 247
I am the o of thy men, and thou and thy youngsters Foresters IV 294

Old-fashioned I have heard that 'your Lordship,' and 'your Ladyship,' and 'your Grace' are all growing o-f! Prom. of May III 318
But the love of sister for sister can never be o-f. „ III 320

Oldham Luscombe, Nokes, O, Skipworth! „ III 53

Old-world There was an o-w tomb beside my father's, Queen Mary V ii 393 these o-w servants Are all but flesh and blood The Falcon 707 full democracy has overwhelm'd This O w, Prom. of May I 594 learnt at last that all His o-w faith, „ II 332

Olive-branch more of o-b and amnesty For foes at home— Becket V ii 15

Ominous Not stagger'd by this o earth and heaven: Harold I i 207

Ommost (almost) Seeâms I o knaws the back on 'im— Prom. of May II 577

One There is but o thing against them. Queen Mary I i 100 and sever'd from the faith, will return into the o true fold, „ I iii 22 Calais! Our o point on the main, the gate of France! „ I v 125
Spain and we, O crown, might rule the world. „ I v 303
But Philip never writes me o poor word, „ I v 360

One (continued) For Philip comes, o hand in mine, and o Steadying the tremulous pillars of the Church— Queen Mary I v 515
They are all too much at odds to close at once In o full-throated No! „ I v 634 you stroke me on o cheek, Buffet the other. „ II i 117
So I say Your city is divided, and I fear O scruple, „ II ii 100
Am I Thomas White? O word before she comes. „ II ii 109
And arm and strike as with o hand, „ II ii 292 moving side by side Beneath o canopy, „ III i 97
They smile as if content with o another. „ III i 211
O crater opens when another shuts. „ III i 322 but I say There is no man—there was o woman with us— „ III i 337
Nay come with me—o moment! „ III ii 189
You were the o sole man in either house Who stood upright „ III iii 252
I say you were the o sole man who stood. „ III iii 263
I am the o sole man in either house, „ III iii 265
Well, you o man, because you stood upright, „ III iii 268
If any man in any way would be The o man, he shall be so to his cost. „ III iii 276 yet I found O day, a wholesome scripture, „ III iv 84 call they not The o true faith, a loathsome idol-worship? „ III iv 219 there comes a missive from the Queen It shall be all my study for o hour „ III v 184 with free wing The world were all o Araby. „ III v 210
o half Will flutter here, o there. „ III vi 196
Methinks that would you tarry o day more (The news was sudden) „ III vi 233
For o day more, so far as I can tell. „ III vi 246
Then o day more to please her Majesty. „ III vi 247
return'd To the o Catholic Universal Church, Repentant of his errors? „ IV iii 21
Pray with o breath, o heart, o soul for me. „ IV iii 104
What, not o day? „ V i 209 and it was thought we two Might make o flesh, „ V ii 137
No—we were not made O flesh in happiness, no happiness here; But now we are made o flesh in misery; „ V ii 150
And there is o Death stands behind the Groom, And there is o Death stands behind the Bride— „ V ii 165 and to send us again, according to His promise, the o King, the Christ, „ V iv 53
Ay, worse than that—not o hour true to me! „ V v 159
Why then the wrath of Heaven hath three tails, The devil only o. Harold I i 62
But heaven and earth are threads of the same loom, Play into o another, „ I i 211
It is but for o moon. „ I ii 30
And all the North of Humber is o storm. „ II ii 291
Harold, I am thy friend, o life with thee, „ II ii 649
Sir Count, He had but o foot, he must have hopt away, „ II ii 675 were or should be all O England, for this cow-herd, like my father, „ IV i 79
Ye heard o witness even now. „ IV i 170
I have not spoken to the king O word; and o I must. Farewell! „ V i 336
Whose life was all o battle, incarnate war, „ V i 397
Make thou o man as three to roll them down! „ V i 577
No, no—brave Gurth, o gash from brow to knee! „ V ii 70
But o woman! Look you, we never mean to part again. „ V ii 79
Death!—and enough of death for this o day, „ V ii 120
Of o self-stock at first, Make them again o people— „ V ii 186
True, o rose will outblossom the rest, o rose in a bower. Becket, Pro. 345 but I fear this o fancy hath taken root, „ Pro. 480
And goodly acres—we will make her whole; Not o rood lost. „ I i 165
So that you grant me o slight favour. „ I ii 58
And some are reeds, that o time sway to the current, „ I iii 593
Grant me o day To ponder these demands. „ I iii 668
she holds it in Free and perpetual alms, unsubject to O earthy sceptre. „ I iii 681

One (continued) Who stole the widow's o sitting hen o' Sunday, when she was at mass ? Becket I iv 121
And I ha' nine darters i' the spital that be dead ten times o'er i' o day wi' the putrid fever ; „ I iv 251
With Becket ! I have but o hour with thee— „ II i 24
Let there not be o frown in this o hour. „ II i 43
We have but o bond, her hate of Becket. „ II i 165
My o grain of good counsel which you will not swallow. „ II ii 378 leave Lateran and Vatican in o dust of gold— „ II ii 475
And o fair child to fondle ! „ III i 12
I but ask'd her O question, and she primm'd her mouth „ III i 74 and bad me whatever I saw not to speak o word, „ III i 133 and then not to speak o word, for that's the rule o' the garden, „ III i 137 tho' I shouldn't speak o word, I wish you joy o' the King's brother. „ III i 154
Yet o thing more. Thou hast broken thro' the pales Of privilege, „ III iii 192
I am bound For that o hour to stay with good King Louis, „ III iii 247
He said thy life Was not o hour's worth in England „ III iii 251
O word further. Doth not the fewness of anything make the fulness of it in estimation ? „ III iii 301 the wolves of England Must murder her o shepherd, „ III iii 344
Could you keep her Indungeon'd from o whisper of the wind, „ IV ii 146
Take thy o chance ; Catch at the last straw. „ IV ii 220
O downward plunge of his paw would rend away Eyesight „ IV ii 283
Rosamund hath not answer'd you o word ; Madam, I will not answer you o word. „ IV ii 362
She lives—but not for him ; o point is gain'd. „ IV ii 415
Your Grace will never have o quiet hour. „ V i 78
But o question—How fares thy pretty boy, the little Geoffrey ? „ V ii 165
And breathe o prayer for my liege-lord the King, „ V ii 191
O slow, fat, white, a burthen of the hearth ; „ V ii 211
I never spied in thee o gleam of grace. „ V ii 474
I pray you for o moment stay and speak. „ V ii 525 and throne O king above them all, The Cup I i 93
It is the o step in the dark beyond Our expectation, „ I i 212 put forth o paw, Slew four, and knew it not, „ I ii 126
There may be courtesans for aught I know Whose life is o dishonour. „ I ii 194
No, not o step with thee. „ I iii 96
Then with o quick short stab—eternal peace. „ I iii 124
Tell him there is o shadow among the shadows, O ghost of all the ghosts— „ II 139
The shout of Synorix and Camma sitting Upon o throne, „ II 148
They two should drink together from o cup, „ II 361 and o plate of dried prunes be all-but-nothing, The Falcon 135
Oh sweet saints ! o plate of prunes ! „ 215
His o companion here—nay, I have heard That, „ 225
It will be hard, I fear, To find o shock upon the field „ 301 we have but o piece of earthenware to serve the salad in to my lady, „ 481
My o thing left of value in the world ! „ 496
And o word more. Good ! let it be but o. „ 510
I cannot, Not a morsel, not o morsel. „ 573
I am sure that more than o brave fellow owed His death to the charm in it. „ 633
My last sight ere I swoon'd was o sweet face „ 647
My o child Florio lying still so sick, „ 678 who comes To rob you of your o delight on earth. „ 828 and 'er an' the owd man they fell a kissin' o' o another Prom. of May I 21
I seed that o cow o' thine i' the pinfold ageän as I wur a-coomin' 'ere. „ I 190
An' if tha can't keep thy o cow i' horder, „ I 197
I niver 'es sa much as o pin's prick of paäin ; „ I 359 but when thou be as owd as me thou'll put o word fur another as I does. „ I 381 but o time's vice may be The virtue of another ; „ I 534
I could put all that o' o side eäsy anew. „ II 111 when meä and my sweet'art was a workin' along o' o side wi' o another, „ II 152
One (continued) wasn't thou and me a-bussin' o' o another t'other side o' the haäycock, Prom. of May II 231
Left but o dreadful line to say, that we Should find her in the river ; „ II 411 will he ever be of o faith with his wife ? „ III 178 Wasn't dear mother herself at least by o side a lady ? „ III 301
Look up ! O word, or do but smile ! „ III 677 and to her you came Veiling o sin to act another. „ III 773
The shelter of your roof—not for o moment— „ III 800
Shall I keep o little rose for Little John ? No. Foresters I i 112
But if a man and a maid care for o another, „ I i 135
If thou draw o inch nearer, I will give thee a buffet on the face. „ I i 145
if a man and a maid love o another, may the maid give the first kiss ? „ I i 172
Cloud not thy birthday with o fear for me. „ I ii 126
We make but o hour's buzz, are only like The rainbow „ I ii 277
I have reign'd o year in the wild wood. „ II i 36 to carve O lone hour from it, „ II i 43
Tho' in o moment she should glance away, „ II i 161
There is but o old woman in the hut. „ II i 241
Old hag, how should thy o tooth drill thro' this ? „ II i 276
Speak but o word not only of forgiveness, „ II i 610
We never robb'd o friend of the true King. „ III 157
I have but o penny in pouch, „ III 193
I have o mark in gold which a pious son of the Church gave me „ III 280
Well, as he said, o mark in gold. Marian. And thou ? Friar. O mark in gold. „ III 284
O half of this shall go to those they have wrong'd, O half shall pass into our treasury. „ III 303
How much hast thou about thee ? King Richard. I had o mark. „ IV 165
What more ? o thousand marks, Or else the land. „ IV 473
Here be o thousand marks Out of our treasury to redeem the land. „ IV 492
Mine eye most true to o hair's-breadth of aim. „ IV 694
I never found o traitor in my band. „ IV 836
Past the bank Of foxglove, then to left by that o yew. „ IV 974
No—there's yet o other : I will not dine without him. „ IV 994
Here—give me o sharp pinch upon the cheek „ IV 1011
Only (See also Nobbut, Nubbut) I am the o rose of all the stock That never thorn'd him ; Harold I i 425 Mother says gold spoils all. Love is the o gold. Becket IV i 43
' Till death us part '—those are the o words, Prom. of May I 658
Ons King Hath divers ofs and o, ofs and belongings, Becket IV ii 32
Ony (any) or o waäy, I'd slaäve out my life fur 'er. Prom. of May I 177
Hev' o o' ye seen Eva ? „ I 313
afoor o o' ye wur burn— „ I 366 doänt ye hear of o ? „ I 390 an' o o' Steer's men, an' o o' my men „ II 34 an' she wur as sweet as o on 'em— „ II 39
And I would loove tha moor nor o gentleman 'ud loove tha. „ II 105
Onyhow (anyhow) I thank you fur that, Miss Dora, o. „ I 158
Onythink (anything) Why, Miss, I be afeard I shall set him a-sweäring like o. „ III 359
Oop (up) The beer's gotten o into my 'eäd. „ II 320 but I thinks he be wakkenin' o. „ III 413
Ooze All o's out ; yet him— Queen Mary I iv 205
Open (adj.) You should be plain and o with me, niece. „ I iv 217
In clear and o day were congruent With that vile Cranmer „ III iv 230
O rare, a whole long day of o field. Becket I i 296
I am o to him. „ V ii 68
No, look ! the door is o : let him be. „ V ii 316 and o arms To him who gave it ; The Cup I i 83
Smitten with fever in the o field, Prom. of May III 806
Open (verb) O the window, Knyvett : Queen Mary II i 154
One crater o's when another shuts. „ III i 322
O, Ye everlasting gates ! „ III ii 182
Women, when I am dead, O my heart, „ V v 153
o his,—So that he have one,— „ V v 155
At last a harbour o's ; but therein Sunk rocks— „ V v 213 this door O's upon the forest ! Out, begone ! The Cup I ii 329
O, o, or I will drive the door from the door-post. Foresters II i 219

Open'd this was o, and the dead were found Sitting, Queen Mary v ii 395 into thy mouth hadst thou but o it to thank him. Becket III iii 277 Knock, and it shall be o. „ v iii 64
o out The purple zone of hill and heaven; The Cup I ii 407
The blossom had o on every bough; Prom. of May I 42
Opening Beware of o out thy bosom to it, Becket III iii 30
That beam of dawn upon the o flower, Foresters IV 3
Opinion when men are tost On tides of strange o, Queen Mary III iv 119
True, I have held o's, hold some still, Prom. of May III 622
Opportunity our o When I and thou will rob the nest of her. Foresters I ii 160
Oppose I would set my men-at-arms to o thee, „ I i 323
Opposite we will climb The mountain o and watch the chase. The Cup I i 117
Oppress The walls o me, And yon huge keep Harold II ii 227
O help us from all that o us! The Cup II 6
Oppression The o of our people moves me so, Foresters III 109
Opulent See Over-opulent
Oracle this o of great Artemis Has no more power than other o's The Cup II 33
Oran (in Algeria) Tunis, and O, and the Philippines, Queen Mary V i 48
Orange (plant) You lived among your vines and o's, „ III iv 253
I that held the o blossom Dark as the yew? Prom. of May II 629
Orange (town) William of O, William the Silent. Queen Mary III i 197 Order (arrangement, etc.) Like loosely-scatter'd jewels, in fair o, „ II i 28 my cows in sweeter o Had I been such. „ III v 271 ever-jarring Earldoms move To music and in o— Harold II ii 762
She will break fence. I can't keep her in o. Prom. of May I 195
Order (command, etc.) (See also Horder) To take such o with all heretics Queen Mary I v 34
If this be not your Grace's o, „ II iv 64
Have I the o's of the Holy Father? Philip de Eleemosyna.
O's, my lord—why, no; for what am I? Becket I iii 232
I give you here an o To seize upon him. The Cup I i 164
Will you betray him by this o? „ I ii 245
Is this your brother's o? The Falcon 745 Order (rank, etc.) Saving the honour of my o—ay. Becket I iii 21
Saving thine o! „ I iii 26
Saving thine o, Thomas, Is black and white „ I iii 30
Ordered pity this poor world myself that it is no better o. „ Pro. 367
Ordinance Either in making laws and o's Queen Mary III iii 130
Of all such laws and o's made; „ III iii 142
Against the solemn o from Rome, Becket I iii 505
Ordinary She looks comelier than o to-day; Queen Mary I i 71
Ordnance there is o On the White Tower and on the Devil's Tower, „ II iii 43
Organ O and pipe, and dulcimer, chants and hymns Becket V ii 365
Original Cleaving to your o Adam-clay, Queen Mary IV iii 418
Orkney —Scotland, Ireland, Iceland, O, Harold III ii 125
Orm Gamel, son of O, What thinkest thou this means? (repeat) „ I i 20, 463
Hail, Gamel, son of O! „ I i 92 that was his guest, Gamel, the son of O: „ II ii 299 murder'd thine own guest, the son of O, Gamel, „ IV ii 38
Ornament The golden o's are stolen from her— Becket III iii 180
Orphan (adj.) a widow And o child, whom one of thy wild barons— „ Pro. 188
Orphan (s) Age, o's, and babe-breasting mothers— „ II i 72
Babes, o's, mothers! is that royal, Sire? „ II i 80
Orthodoxy He'll burn a diocese to prove his o. Queen Mary III iv 353
Other (See also T'other) counsel your withdrawing To Ashridge, or some o country house. „ I iv 226
As Thirlby says, are profitless to the burners, And help the o side. „ IV ii 220
O reasons There be for this man's ending, „ IV iii 53 Might it not be the o side rejoicing In his brave end? „ IV iii 356
o things As idle; a weak Wyatt! „ V i 291
Not thee, my son: some o messenger. Harold I i 244
And o bells on earth, which yet are heaven's; „ I ii 133
Like o lords amenable to law. Becket, Pro. 25
Than that of o paramours of thine? „ Pro. 71
True enough, my mind was set upon o matters. „ Pro. 318
Ay, my lord, and divers o earls and barons. „ I iv 59
Other (continued) look you, you shall have None o God but me— Becket II ii 229 then the South-west turned him North-west, and so of the o winds; „ II ii 323 Go, you shall tell me of her some o time. „ III i 191
he hath pass'd out again, And on the o side. „ III ii 13
Then speak; this is my o self, „ V ii 74
dungeon'd the o half In Pevensey Castle— „ V ii 444
At times this oracle of great Artemis Has no more power than o oracles The Cup II 34
With o beauties on a mountain meadow, The Falcon 351
And the o nine? Filippo. Sold! „ 411
No o heart Of such magnificence in courtesy Beats— „ 721
Is there no o way? Prom. of May I 691
If it had killed one of the Steers there the o day, „ III 250
there is no o man that shall give me away. Foresters I i 290
That o thousand—shall I ever pay it? „ II i 466
Other-world that sweet o-w smile, which will be reflected Becket, Pro. 396
Otter And I would swim the moat, like an o. Foresters I i 321
Oubliette but in our o's Thou shalt or rot or ransom. Harold II i 107
And deeper still the deep-down o, „ II ii 429 from my ghastly o I send my voice „ V i 245
Oublietted And o in the centre—No! Becket IV ii 150
Ought (See also Aught, Owt) I am dead as Death this day to o of earth's Harold V i 425
Ouphe o's, oafs, ghosts o' the mist, wills-o'-the-wisp; Foresters II i 263
Oust Stir up thy people: o him! Harold I i 482 would o me from his will, if I Made such a marriage. Prom. of May I 513
Ousted You have o the mock priest, Queen Mary I v 180
Ay, Lambeth has o Cranmer. „ III ii 132
Outblossom one rose will o the rest, one rose in a bower. Becket, Pro. 345
Out-Bonner Bonner cannot o-B his own self— Queen Mary III vi 27
Outcry And make a morning o in the yard; „ III v 158
Outdoor One of much o bluster. „ II ii 380
Outdraught Felt the remorseless o of the deep Harold II i 9
Outfield (outlying field) Hodge 'ud ha' been a-harrowin' o' white peasen i' the o Queen Mary IV iii 492
Out-Gardiners Gardiner o-G Gardiner in his heat, „ III vi 25
Outlander wrench this o's ransom out of him— Harold II i 58
Outlaw (s) Thou art an o, and couldst never pay Foresters II i 452
An o's bride may not be wife in law. „ II ii 90
The chief of these o's who break the law? „ IV 141 and then we were no longer o's. „ IV 147 Robin's an o, but he helps the poor. „ IV 358 my liege, these men are o's, thieves, „ IV 906
Outlaw (verb) Did ye not o your archbishop Robert, Harold I i 55
Outlaw'd he join'd with thee To drive me o. „ IV ii 14
I may be o, I have heard a rumour. Foresters I ii 91
Robin Hood Earl of Huntingdon is o and banished. „ I iii 68
I am o, and if caught, I die. „ I iii 163
Am I worse or better? I am o. „ II i 50 being o in a land Where law lies dead, „ II i 89
While Richard hath o himself, „ IV 360
Out-passion'd with our great Council against Tostig, O-p his! Harold III i 61
Outraged Wasted our diocese, o our tenants, Becket V ii 431
Out-towering help to build a throne O-t hers of France . . . Harold II ii 765 Outvalue As gold O's dross, light darkness, Becket I iii 715 wreath That once you wore o's twenty-fold The Falcon 759
O's all the jewels upon earth. „ 779
It should be love that thus o's all. „ 781
Outward To veil the fault of my most o foe— Queen Mary IV ii 106
Outwoman'd She could not be unmann'd—no, nor o— „ III i 370
Over See Ower
Overbalance weight of the flesh at odd times o the weight of the church, Foresters I ii 61
Overbold Thou art o. Robin. My king, „ IV 890
Over-breathed I am o-b, Friar, by my two bouts at quarterstaff. „ IV 265
Over-confident Brave—ay—too brave, too o-c, The Cup I ii 262
Overdid must we follow All that they o or underdid? Becket II ii 214
Overhead loud enough To fright the wild hawk passing o, Foresters III 318
Overleap There is a fence I cannot o, My father's will. „ III 9
Overlive O friends, I shall not o the day. Harold III i 232
Overlook would hardly care to o This same petition Queen Mary IV i 192

Over-measure By St. Edmund I o-m him. Harold IV iii 120
Overmuch Sir, this dead fruit was ripening o, Queen Mary III i 26
Then without tropes, my Lord, An o severeness, „ III iv 156
Over-opulent if you cared To fee an o-o superstition, Prom. of May I 693
Overscornful would deign to lend an ear Not o, Harold IV i 137
Oversea And o they say this state of yours Queen Mary III i 441
His kin, all his belongings, o's; Becket II i 71 calls you o To answer for it in his Norman courts. „ V ii 354 one that should be grateful to me o's, a Count in Brittany— Foresters I i 271
I must pass o's to one that I trust will help me. „ I ii 152
And I and he are passing o's: „ II i 627
Overshoot tho' you make your butt too big, you o it, Becket III iii 122
Overshot I have o My duties to our Holy Mother Church, „ V i 37
Overstep is the King's if too high a stile for your lordship to o „ III iii 281
Overtaken Love will fly the fallen leaf, and not be o; Queen Mary V ii 372
Over-taxing for thy brother breaks us With o-t— Harold I i 110 Overthrown Doubt not they will be speedily o. Queen Mary II ii 200 have o Morcar and Edwin. Harold III ii 131
The king is slain, the kingdom o! „ V ii 16
Overturn when they seek to o our rights, Becket V ii 456
Over-violence as one That mars a cause with o-v. „ IV ii 327 Overwhelm'd We shall be o. Seize him and carry him! „ V iii 141 full democracy has o This Old world, Prom. of May I 593
'Ow (how) and 'o should I see to laäme the laädy, „ III 95
'Owd (hold) they'll hev' a fine cider-crop to-year if the blossom 'o's. „ I 317
Owd (old) Why, o' coorse, fur it be the o man's birthdaäy. „ I 6
O Steer wur afeärd she wouldn't be back i' time to keep his birthdaäy, „ I 16 and 'er an' the o man they fell a-kissin' o' one another „ I 21
An' how did ye leäve the o uncle i' Coomberland? „ I 68
An' how d'ye find the o man 'ere? „ I 71
The o man be heighty to-daäy, beänt he? „ I 76
An' I haätes booöks an' all, fur they puts foälk off the o waäys. „ I 222
Then the o man i' Lear should be shaämed of hissen, „ I 266 but when thou be as o as me thou'll put one word fur another as I does. „ I 381
So the o uncle i' Coomberland be deäd, Miss Dora, beänt he? „ II 1
I seed how the o man wur vext. „ II 27
I would taäke the o blind man to my oän fireside. „ II 74
Naäy, but I hev an o woman as 'ud see to all that; „ II 95
Yeas, an' o Dobson should be glad on it. „ II 146
Why, coom then, o feller, I'll tell it to you; „ II 202
Ye shall sing that ageän to-night, fur o Dobson 'll gi'e us a bit o' supper. Sally. I weänt goä to o Dobson; „ II 216
O Steer's gotten all his grass down and wants a hand, and I'll goä to him. „ II 220
O Steer gi'es nubbut cowd tea to 'is men, and o Dobson gi'es beer. Sally. But I'd like o Steer's cowd tea better nor Dobson's beer. Good-bye. „ II 223 when o Dobson coom'd upo' us? „ II 232 but I wur so ta'en up wi' leädin' the o man about all the blessed murnin' „ III 2
The Steers was all gentlefoälks i' the o times, „ III 448
The land belonged to the Steers i' the o times, „ III 451
He be saäyin' a word to the o man, but he'll coom up if ye lets 'im. „ III 481
The o man's coom'd ageän to 'issen, an' wants To hev a word wi' ye „ III 702
Owe the duty which as Legate He o's himself, Queen Mary III iv 402
To whom he o's his loyalty after God, „ IV i 23 unto him you o That Mary hath acknowledged „ V iii 29 you That o to me your power over me— Becket II ii 152
I o you thanks for ever. The Cup I ii 249 love that children o to both I give To him alone. Foresters IV 7 Owed Thou still hast o thy father, Gilbert Foliot. Becket I iii 276 more than one brave fellow o His death The Falcon 634 Ower (over) I should saay 'twur o by now. Queen Mary IV iii 475 and o a hoonderd pounds worth o' rings stolen. Prom. of May I 393 Ower (over) (continued) Dan Smith's cart hes runned o a laädy i' the holler laäne, Prom. of May II 568 and my missus a-gittin' o 'er lyin'-in, „ III 74
Owl (See also Scritch-owl) The wood is full of echoes, o's, elfs, Foresters II i 263
Owld (old) it be a var waay vor my o legs up vro' Islip. Queen Mary IV iii 472
Eh, then ha' thy waay wi' me, Tib; ez thou hast wi' thy o man. „ IV iii 487
Ay, Joan, and my o man wur up and awaay betimes „ IV iii 488
I heerd summat as summun towld summun o' o Bishop Gardiner's end; „ IV iii 503 there wur an o lord a-cum to dine wi' un, and a wur so o a couldn't bide vor his dinner, „ IV iii 504 and the o lord fell to 's meat wi' a will, „ IV iii 514
the burnin' o' the o archbishop 'll burn the Pwoap out o' this 'ere land vor iver and iver. „ IV iii 535
Own (adj.) (See also Oän) What are you cackling of bastardy under the Queen's o nose? „ I i 59
I shall judge with my o eyes whether her Grace incline „ I i 134 Peace! hear him; let his o words damn the Papist. From thine o mouth I judge thee—tear him down! „ I iii 53 a King That with her o pawns plays against a Queen, „ I iii 162
But your o state is full of danger here. „ I iv 168
'Tis mine o wish fulfill'd before the word Was spoken, „ I iv 232
Tho' Queen, I am not Queen Of mine o heart, „ I v 523
he loved the more His o gray towers, „ II i 49
Well, for mine o work, „ II i 86
I have seen them in their o land; „ II i 167 mute as death, And white as her o milk; „ II ii 80 on you, In your o city, as her right, my Lord, For you are loyal. „ II ii 106
From your o royal lips, at once may know „ II ii 136
In mine o person am I come to you, „ II ii 142 seeks To bend the laws to his o will, „ II ii 184 that I should leave Some fruit of mine o body after me, „ II ii 223
Before our o High Court of Parliament, „ II ii 234
By his o rule, he hath been so bold to-day, „ II ii 347 his fault So thoroughly to believe in his o self. „ II ii 386
Yet thoroughly to believe in one's o self, So one's o self be thorough, „ II ii 388
Well, the tree in Virgil, sir, That bears not its o apples. „ III i 23
the Pope's Holiness By mine o self. „ III ii 112
Statesmen that are wise Shape a necessity, as a sculptor clay, To their o model. „ III iii 34
In our o name and that of all the state, „ III iii 120
As well for our o selves as all the realm, „ III iii 136
The Lord who hath redeem'd us With his o blood, „ III iii 203 and not sure Of their o selves, they are wroth with their o selves, „ III iv 120
Trembled for her o gods, for these were trembling— „ III iv 128
But the wench Hath her o troubles; she is weeping now; „ III v 262
Bonner cannot out-Bonner his o self— „ III vi 27
he hath pray'd me not to sully Mine o prerogative, „ IV i 18
Yet once he saved your Majesty's o life; Stood out against the King in your behalf, At his o peril. „ IV i 125
By mine o self—by mine o hand! „ IV ii 202
The parson from his o spire swung out dead, „ IV iii 375
I say they have drawn the fire On their o heads: „ IV iii 381
I could weep for them And her, and mine o self and all the world. „ V ii 12
Gone beyond him and mine o natural man (It was God's cause); „ V ii 102
That his o wife is no affair of his. „ V ii 561
Nay, but I speak from mine o self, not him; „ V iii 42
Seven-fold dishonour'd even in the sight Of thine o sectaries— „ V v 134
Ay, ever give yourselves your o good word. Harold I i 343
I swear it, By mine o eyes—and these two sapphires— „ I ii 110
Swear thou to-day, to-morrow is thine o. „ II ii 711
A cleric lately poison'd his o mother, Becket, Pro. 11 what shall I call it, affect her thine o self. „ Pro. 513

Own (adj.) (continued) Thou art wearied out With this day's work, get thee to thine o bed. Becket I i 8
And was thine o election so canonical, Good father ? „ I iii 120
But his o mother's, lest the crown should be Shorn of ancestral splendour. This did Henry. Shall I do less for mine o Canterbury ? „ I iii 155 Ringing their o death-knell thro' all the realm. „ I iii 172 when none could sit By his o hearth in peace; „ I iii 342
In mine o hall, and sucking thro' fools' ears The flatteries of corruption— „ I iii 360 sat in mine o courts Judging my judges, „ I iii 367
Look to it, your o selves ! „ I iii 398
Strong—not in mine o self, but Heaven ; „ I iii 536
And I, that knew mine o infirmity, „ I iii 696
I warrant you, or your o either. „ I iv 23 be we not in my lord's o refractory ? „ I iv 180
Yea, thou my golden dream of Love's o bower, „ II i 35
But, since we would be lord of our o manor, „ II ii 19 cherish'd him Who thief-like fled from his o church by night, „ II ii 156 which Hell's o beat So dwelt on that they rose and darken'd Heaven. „ II ii 204 Yea—on mine o self The King had had no power except for Rome. „ II ii 411 despite his kingly promise given To our o self of pardon, „ II ii 433 and to win my o bread, whereupon he asked our mother „ III i 117
And bound me by his love to secrecy Till his o time. „ III i 229 or rather pulled all the Church with the Holy Father astride of it down upon his o head. „ III iii 78 so that the smell of their o roast had not come across it— „ III iii 119
Your o child brought me hither ! „ IV ii 13
Child, I am mine o self Of and belonging to the King. „ IV ii 29
Have we not heard Raymond of Poitou, thine o uncle— nay, Geoffrey Plantagenet, thine o husband's father— „ IV ii 247 that The King himself, for love of his o sons, If hearing, „ IV ii 344
I'll swear to mine o self it was a feint. „ IV ii 401
In mine o cause I strove against him there, „ V i 14
And what would my o Aquitaine say to that ? „ V i 181 crying On Holy Church to thunder out her rights And thine o wrong so pitilessly ? „ V ii 33 Strikes truest ev'n for his o self. „ V ii 42 he had gone too far Into the King's o woods; „ V ii 108
His child and mine o soul, and so return. „ V ii 193
Shall I not smite him with his o cross-staff ? „ V ii 313
For which I would have laid mine o life down „ V ii 338
That their o King closed with me last July „ V ii 388
They slew my stags in mine o manor here, „ V ii 438
Not punish of your o authority ? „ V ii 450 and yet threaten your Archbishop In his o house. „ V ii 506
Take refuge in your o cathedral, Thomas. „ V ii 584
I say, take refuge in your o cathedral. „ V ii 590
And yet my dream foretold my martyrdom In mine o church. „ V ii 634
Why, these are our o monks who follow'd us ! „ V iii 58 Strike our Archbishop in his o cathedral ! „ V iii 180 else wherefore has my fate Brought me again to her o city ? The Cup I i 14
Is vengeance for its o sake worth the while, „ I i 30
That your o people cast you from their bounds, „ I i 137
Save for some slight report in her o Senate „ I ii 133
His o true people cast him from their doors Like a base coin. „ I ii 351
Bandy their o rude jests with them, „ I ii 360
Then for your o sake, Lady, I say it with all gentleness, „ I iii 98
Good ! mine o dagger driven by Synorix found All good „ II 85
I call on our o Goddess in our o Temple. „ II 314
It is the cup belonging our o Temple. „ II 345
That Synorix should drink from his o cup. „ II 353 poor worm, crawl down thine o black hole To the lowest Hell. „ II 495 Thou art one With thine o people, and though a Roman I Forgive thee, Camma. „ II 504 till he hasn't an eye left in his o tail to flourish among the peahens, The Falcon 102 you look as beautiful this morning as the very Madonna her o self— „ 199

Own (adj.) (continued) And this last costly gift to mine o self, and so descend again with some of her ladyship's o appurtenances ? The Falcon 228 his lordship's o foster-brother, would commend them to your ladyship's most peculiar appreciation. „ 417
Filippo ! will you take the word out of your master's o mouth ? „ 566
Ay, if you'd like to measure your o length upon the grass. „ 598
He, following his o instincts as his God, Prom. of May I 466
Nature a liar, making us feel guilty Of her o faults. „ I 588
And these take flesh again with our o flesh, „ II 270
I have found it once again In your o self. „ II 277
Our old nurse crying as if for her o child, „ II 377 so be more at peace With mine o self. „ II 479
For her o sake then, if not for mine—not now—But by-and-by. „ II 663 and your o name Of Harold sounds so English and so old „ III 683 till we be only bones our o selves. „ III 608 and for the love of his o little mother on earth, Foresters I i 26 my great great grandfather, my great grandfather, my grandfather, and my o father— „ I i 98 and whenever I set my o foot on it I say to it, „ I i 331
This ring my mother gave me : it was her o Betrothal ring. „ I i 335
You see, they are so fond o' their o voices „ I ii 294 and if thou miss I will fasten thee to thine o doorpost „ II i 383
What ! do I not know mine o ring ? „ II i 403 and their o want Of manhood to their leader ! „ II i 590
Is to mistrust your o love for your girl ! „ II i 693 all that live By their o hands, the labourer, the poor priest ; „ II ii 59 so His o true wife came with him, „ III 165 you that dishonour The daughters and the wives of your o faction— „ III 240
God help the mark—To his o unprincely ends. „ IV 699
I remain Mistress of mine o self and mine o soul. „ IV 716 hast thou no fetters For those of thine o band who would betray thee ? „ IV 729 if you hold us here Longer from our o venison. „ IV 832
Then by thine o account thou shouldst be mine. „ IV 942
Own (s) you scarce could meet his eye And hold your o ; Queen Mary IV 1038
But softly as a bridegroom to his o. Queen Mary IV i 105
When Henry came into his o again, Harold II ii 758
We fear that he may reave thee of thine o. Becket I iii 153
Now the King is home again, the King will have his o again, Home again, home again, and each will have his o again, „ I iii 612
Own (verb) You do not o The bodily presence in the Eucharist, Foresters I 1106
And you, that would not o the Real Presence, Queen Mary I ii 43
Whatever the Church o's—she holds it in Free and perpetual alms, „ IV ii 140 then each man That o's a wife or daughter, Becket I iii 679
Woe to that land shall o thee for her king ! Foresters III 460
Own'd —for I have not o My sister, and I will not,— „ IV 759
Owt (anything) (See also Aught, Ought) Theer ye goäs ageän, Miss, niver believing o I says to ye— Queen Mary V 284 or the parson, or the justice o' peace, or o. Prom. of May I 107 fur I niver touched a drop of o till my oän wedding-daäy, „ I 133
Eva can do o wi' 'im ; „ I 362 fur I'd ha' done o fur 'er mysen ; „ I 437 an' all the parish 'ud ha' done o fur 'er, „ II 33
Let 'im bust hissen, then, fur o I cares. „ II 36
Deäd ! Nt mun be true, fur it wur i' print as black as o. „ II 167
Ox A light among the oxen. „ II 731 Swine, sheep, o—here's a French supper. Harold IV i 87 his monies, his oxen, his dinners, himself. Becket I iv 112 or a stump-tailed o in May-time, Foresters I i 234 Oxford (adj.) Right as an O scholar, „ II i 435
Oxford (s) masses here be sung By every priest in O. „ I i 59
John of O, The President of this Council, Queen Mary IV iii 101
For John of O here to read to you. Becket I iii 74 Cursed be John of O, Roger of York, And Gilbert Foliot ! „ I iii 417 and I ha' seen the King once at O, „ II ii 265
„ III i 164

P

Paäin (pain) I niver 'es sa much as one pin's prick of p; Prom. of May I 360
Paäper (paper) then a-scrattin upon a bit o' p, then a-lookin' ageän; „ I 203 dosta knaw this p? Ye dropt it upo' the road. „ II 687
Pace (s) break your p's in, and make you tame; Queen Mary V iii 121
Pace (verb) king should p on purple to his bride, The Cup II 189
Pacify pray'd me to pray thee to p Thy King; Becket I iii 206
He told me thou shouldst p the King, „ I iii 224
Pacing p my new lands at Littlechester, Prom. of May II 647
But I am weary p thro' the wood. Foresters II i 129
Packt So p with carnage that the dykes and brooks Harold III ii 128
Padua (city of Venetia) And died in P. Queen Mary V ii 516
Pagan The p temple of a p Rome! Becket I iii 61
Page who call'd the mind Of children a blank p, Prom. of May II 282 Pageant second actor in this p That brings him in; Queen Mary III iii 14 and flowers In silken p's. „ III v 15
Paget (Lord) P is for him—for to wed with Spain „ I v 75
P is ours. Gardiner perchance is ours; „ I v 386
Lord P's 'Ay' is sure—who else? „ I v 630
Spite of Lord P and Lord William Howard, „ III i 324
Lord P Waits to present our Council to the Legate. „ III ii 97
If we could burn out heresy, my Lord P, „ III iv 54
P, you are all for this poor life of ours, „ III iv 59
Look to your Bible, P! we are fallen. „ III iv 80
P, You stand up here to fight for heresy, „ III iv 91 they are many, As my Lord P says. „ III iv 177 my Lord P and Lord William Howard, Crave, „ IV i 6
You are too politic for me, my Lord P. „ IV i 151
Ay, ay, P, They have brought it in large measure „ IV iii 362 yet, P, I do hold The Catholic, „ IV iii 381
O P, P! I have seen heretics of the poorer sort, „ IV iii 435
P, despite his fearful heresies, „ IV iii 633
Paid be p his ransom back. Harold II ii 50
I have once more p them all. Prom. of May III 158
if they be not p back at the end of the year, the land goes to the Abbot. Foresters I i 69 must be p in a year and a month, or I lose the land. „ I i 268
You shall wait for mine till Sir Richard has p the Abbot. „ I ii 232
I have p him half. That other thousand— „ II i 465 these monies should be p in to the Abbot at York, „ IV 507
The debt hath not been p. „ IV 612
Has it been p? Abbot. O yes. „ IV 616
Not p at York—the wood—prick me no more! „ IV 623
Sir Richard p his monies to the Abbot. „ IV 849
Pain (See also Paäin) Judgment, and p accruing thereupon; Queen Mary III iii 219
Or to be still in p with devils in hell; „ IV iii 222
he never uttered moan of p: „ IV iii 619
evilly used And put to p. Becket II ii 434
Geoffrey, the p thou hast put me to! „ IV ii 10
This p—what is it?—again? The Cup II 445
With cold, with p perhaps, poor prisoner! The Falcon 449
And if my pleasure breed another's p, Prom. of May I 278 with as little p As it is to fall asleep. „ II 341 to spare myself, And her too, p, p, p? „ III 720
That blast our natural passions into p's! „ III 725
Move me no more! I am sick and faint with p! Foresters IV 599
Painful perhaps The p circumstances which I heard— Prom. of May II 402
Paint Tell him to p it out, Queen Mary III i 267
The man shall p a pair of gloves. „ III i 274 honesty too, p her what way they will. Becket II i 101
Painted If you have falsely p your fine Prince; Queen Mary I v 598
The conduit p—the nine worthies—ay! „ III i 258
God's passion! do you know the knave that p it? „ III i 265
Pair But since the fondest p of doves will jar, Becket IV ii 40
You are an honest p. I will come to your wedding. Prom. of May III 114
Pair'd Ay, if Wisdom P not with Good. Harold V i 178
Palace (adj.) Hark, there is battle at the p gates, Queen Mary II iv 47
I found it fluttering at the p gates:— „ III ii 218
Palace (s) Hast thou let fall those papers in the p? „ I iii 2
And unto no dead world; but Lambeth p, „ III ii 154
There was a paper thrown into the p, „ III vi 139 which I found Strewn in your p. „ V ii 173
I left it privily At Florence, in her p. The Falcon 75
And welcome turns a cottage to a p. „ 273
Who never deign'd to shine into my p. „ 286
My p wanting you was but a cottage; My cottage, while you grace it, is a p. „ 287
In cottage or in p, being still Beyond your fortunes, „ 290
Palate That p is insane which cannot tell Becket, Pro. 104
Pale (adj.) The word has turn'd your Highness p; Queen Mary I v 471
How deathly p! a chair, your Highness. „ I v 636 a p horse for Death and Gardiner for the Devil. „ III i 234 Mary rubb'd out p— „ III i 423 fieriest partisans—are p Before my star! „ III ii 170
The little murder'd princes, in a p light, „ III v 147
Peters, how p you look! you bring the smoke „ IV iii 560
Brother! why so p? Harold I i 28
God redden your p blood! Becket I iv 35
I wonder if I look as p as she? The Cup II 322 more blessed were the rags Of some p beggar-woman The Falcon 852 and you look thin and p. Is it for his absence? Prom. of May I 782
You are p, my Dora! but the ruddiest cheek „ III 486
I that have turn'd their Moslem crescent p— Foresters IV 793
All those p mouths which we have fed will praise us— „ IV 1076
Pale (s) praised The convent and lone life—within the p— Harold I ii 48 loved within the p forbidden By Holy Church: „ III ii 22
Thou hast broken thro' the p's Of privilege, Becket III iii 193
Paleness a p, Like the wan twilight after sunset, „ I iii 325
Palisade The trenches dug, the p's uprear'd Harold V i 189 strengthen their p's! „ V i 481
They fall on those within the p! „ V i 668
Pall Lay thou thy hand upon this golden p! „ II ii 699
Foliot may claim the p For London too. Becket I iii 56
The P! I go to meet my King! „ V ii 619
Pallium Who had my p from an Antipope! Harold I i 32
Because I had my Canterbury p, „ III i 106
Palm and kindled with the p's of Christ! Queen Mary I v 93
P's, flowers, pomegranates, golden cherubim Harold III i 182
And these rough oaks the p's of Paradise! Foresters II i 169
Palmer he is a holy P, bounden by a vow not to show „ I ii 236
Palsied while thy hands Are p here, Harold II ii 455
Palsy In this low pulse and p of the state, Queen Mary II ii 103
Palter My friend, thou hast gone too far to p now. Harold II ii 707
Why do you p with the ceremony? The Cup II 419
Pan Swarm to thy voice like bees to the brass p. Foresters I iii 109
Pancratius (St. Pancras) jewel of St. P Woven into the gold. Harold II ii 700
Pander I am your subject, not your—— Henry. P. Becket, Pro. 147
Profligate p! Fitzurse. Do you hear that? „ V iii 160
Pandora-box this Hollow P-b, With all the pleasures flown, Prom. of May II 346
Pang in the front rank of the fight With scarce a p. The Cup I ii 155
Panoply Mail'd in the perfect p of faith, Becket V ii 494
Pant sure she hates thee, P's for thy blood. Harold I ii 39
Panting And p for my blood as I go by. Queen Mary V ii 219
Papacy We strove against the p from the first, „ III iii 225
God save the Crown! the P is no more. „ V v 286 inherited loathing of these black sheep of the P. Becket, Pro. 462 that would shake the P as it stands. „ I iii 213
Papal (See also Anti-papal) not to yield His Church of England to the P wolf And Mary; Queen Mary I ii 36
And be regather'd to the P fold? „ III ii 117 Wanting the P mitre. „ III iv 148 of her most Royal, Infallible, P Legate-cousin. „ III iv 433
That so the P bolt may pass by England, Becket, Pro. 226
Paper (See also Paäper) Hast thou let fall those p's in the palace? Queen Mary I iii 2
I've found this p; pray your worship read it; „ II iii 56
This p, Dickon. I found it fluttering at the palace gates:— „ III ii 217
There was a p thrown into the palace, „ III vi 139

Paper (continued) when you are gone, my liege,
Witness these p's, Queen Mary III vi 174
Pray you write out this p for me, Cranmer. „ IV ii 61 the p's by my hand Sign'd since my degradation— „ IV iii 243 might not after all those p's Of recantation yield again, who knows? Paget. P's of recantation!
Think you then That Cranmer read all p's that he sign'd? „ IV iii 314
But held from you all p's sent by Rome, „ V ii 45 these libellous p's which I found Strewn in your palace. „ V ii 171
Nay, Madam, there be loyal p's too, „ V ii 221
There! there! another p! Said you not „ V ii 329
I'll have the p back—blot out my name. Becket I iii 286 hath he sign'd? show me the p's! „ I iii 317
This p sign'd Antonius—will you take it, The Cup I ii 225
Yes; it was in the Somersetshire p's. Prom. of May III 149
Paphlagonia Have you alliances? Bithynia, Pontus, P? The Cup I ii 100
Papist (adj.) There haunt some P ruffians hereabout
Would murder you. Queen Mary III v 174
Papist (s) for we are many of us Catholics, but few P's, „ I i 115 Down with the P! „ I iii 33
let his own words damn the P. „ I iii 53 Parable That is the p of our blessed Lord. Becket I iv 74 why should not the p of our blessed Lord be acted again? „ I iv 77
Paradise Look at the New World—a p made hell; Queen Mary II i 208
Wore in mine eyes the green of P. „ III ii 18
And be with Christ the Lord in P. „ IV iii 88
Not to gain p; no, nor if the Pope, „ IV iii 557 and be driven out of her p. Becket, Pro. 533
Gave me the golden keys of P. „ I i 54
Will greet us as our babes in P. „ V ii 225
And pass at once perfect to P. „ V iii 14
As in the midmost heart of P. The Cup II 186
And these rough oaks the palms of P! Foresters II i 170
Paralysis My father stricken with his first p, Prom. of May II 481
He is stricken with a slight p. Foresters IV 456
Paramount I have it . . . My lord P, Our great High-priest, Becket IV ii 356
Paramour Well—some believed she was his p. Harold V ii 102
Bury him and his p together. „ V ii 150 more Than that of other p's of thine? Becket, Pro. 71 was Rosamund—his p—thy rival. „ Pro. 471 p—rival! King Louis had no p's, „ Pro. 473
I would she were but his p, for men tire of their fancies; „ Pro. 479
Belongings, p's, whom it pleases him To call his wives; „ IV ii 35
That I am his main p, his sultana. „ IV ii 39
I gave it you, and you your p; „ V i 169
Maid? Friar. P! Friar. Hell take her! Foresters III 402 clutch Our pretty Marian for his p, „ IV 767 Parapet I was so mad, that I mounted upon the p— Prom. of May III 372
Parch'd and watch The p banks rolling incense, as of old. Queen Mary I v 91
Parchment be not wroth at the dumb p. Foresters I i 342
Pardon (s) all one mind to supplicate The Legate here for p, Queen Mary III iii 107
A round fine likelier. Your p. „ III iii 280
So that you crave full p of the Legate. „ III iv 391
I attend the Queen To crave most humble p— „ III iv 432
Your p, then; It is the heat and narrowness „ III v 206
According to the canons p due To him that so repents, „ IV iii 33
so long continuing, Hath found his p; „ IV iii 50
Your p, Sweet cousin, and farewell! „ V ii 203 what sin Beyond all grace, all p? „ V ii 340
No p!—Why that was false: „ V v 135 hard is our honeymoon! Thy p. Harold IV iii 230 Leave me. No more—P on both sides—Go! „ V i 353
—I pray your p. Becket, Pro. 37
kingly promise given To our own self of p, „ II ii 433
A policy of wise p Wins here as well as there. „ V ii 23
I crave Thy p—I have still thy leave to speak. „ V ii 44
Your p. Salisbury. He said, 'Attend the office.' „ V ii 606 Thy p, Priestess! The Cup II 373 with your ladyship's p, and as your ladyship knows, The Falcon 565
Your p for a minute. She must be waked. Prom. of May III 657
I crave your worship's p. Foresters II i 243
Or lose all hope of p from us— „ IV 935

Pardon (verb) She said—pray p me, and pity her— Queen Mary I v 52 they mean to p me. „ IV ii 50
For if our Holy Queen not p him, „ IV iii 61
God p me! I have never yet found one. „ V ii 334
P us, thou! Our silence is our reverence Harold IV i 11 see beyond Your Norman shrines, p it, p it, „ V i 620
I pray God p mine infirmity. Becket II ii 353
God p thee and these, but God's full curse „ V iii 133
Pray, p me! The Falcon 395
I pray you p me again! „ 478
Will p me for asking what I ask. „ 805 you are young, and—p me—As lovely as your sister. Prom. of May II 507
And p me for saying it— „ III 552
P him, my lord: he is a holy Palmer, Foresters I ii 235
P him again, I pray you; „ I ii 246
Speak to me, Kate, and say you p me! „ II ii 53
And it was but a woman. P me. „ II ii 73
When Richard comes he is soft enough to p His brother; „ IV 747
Pardonablest lies that ever men have lied, Thine is the p. Harold III i 100
Pardon'd That must be p me; Queen Mary I v 311
Why surely ye are p, Foresters IV 947
Pare But one that p's his nails; to me? Queen Mary III v 65
Parish (adj.) every p tower Shall clang and clash alarum „ II i 228 Parish (s) and haäfe th' p 'll be theer, an' Miss Dora, an' Miss Eva, an' all! Prom. of May I 10 and you says it belongs to the p, and theer be a thousand i' the p, „ I 145 thaw 'e knaws I was hallus ageän heving school-master i' the p! „ I 187 noän o' the p'es goäs by that naäme 'ereabouts. „ I 268 an' all the p 'ud ha' done out fur 'er, „ II 36
if the fever spread, the p will have to thank you for it. „ III 47
Parish-parson When shall your p-p bawl our banns „ I 685
Park At the p gate he hovers with our guards. Queen Mary II iv 15
Parleying This comes of p with my Lord of Devon. „ I iv 251
Still P with Renard, all the day with Renard, „ III vi 116 Parliament (See also King-Parliament) didn't the P make her a bastard? „ I i 15 they be both bastards by Act of P and Council.
Citizen. Ay, the P can make every true-born man of us a bastard. „ I i 24
But if P can make the Queen a bastard, „ I i 48
Council, people, P against him; „ I v 78
But for our heretic P— „ I v 388
That, soon or late, your P is ours. „ I v 424 shall we have Spain on the throne and in the p; „ II i 176 Council, The P as well, are troubled waters; „ II ii 50
Corroborate by your acts of P: „ II ii 173
Before our own High Court of P, „ II ii 234
And others of our P, revived, „ III i 326
And Commons here in P assembled, „ III iii 114
A P of imitative apes! „ III iii 235
And these again upon her P— „ III vi 185
Tell my mind to the Council—to the P: „ V ii 289
Parlour and you should sit i' your oän p quite like a laädy, Prom. of May II 97
Parson (See also Parish-parson) Gardener, and huntsman, in the p's place, The p Queen Mary IV iii 373 he's no respect for the Queen, or the p, or the justice o' peace, or owt. Prom. of May I 133 and P mebbe, thaw he niver mended that gap „ I 445
Part (s) you are art and p with us In purging heresy, Queen Mary III iv 316
And for my p therein—Back to that juggler, Harold V i 53
I could but read a p to-day, because— Becket I iii 422 when those, that name themselves Of the King's p, „ V ii 429
The first p—made before you came among us— Foresters III 435
Part (verb) To p me from the woman that I loved! Harold V i 346
Look you, we never meant to p again. „ V ii 80
Must I hack her arms off? How shall I p them? „ V ii 148
'Till death us p'—those are the only words, Prom. of May I 658 they that love do not believe that death Will p them. „ I 664

Part (verb) (continued) Ay, noble Earl, and never p with it. Foresters I ii 304 precious ring I promised Never to p with— „ II i 662
Partaken had they remained true to me whose bread they have p. Becket I iv 150
Parted No, for we trust they p in the swine. Queen Mary III ii 142
Our Tostig p cursing me and England; Harold III i 76
We have p from our wife without reproach, „ V i 154
It seemed to me that we were p for ever. Prom. of May I 770
We p like the brook yonder about the alder island, „ I 772
Who p from thee even now? Foresters I i 181
How came we to be p from our men? „ II i 254
Parthian P shaft of a forlorn Cupid at the King's left breast, Becket, Pro. 339
To hide the scar left by thy P dart. „ Pro. 377 Partic'lar Yeäs, Miss; and he wants to speak to ye p. Prom. of May III 351 but he says he wants to tell ye summut very p. „ III 355 Parting (See also A-parting) p of a husband and a wife Is like the cleaving of a heart; Queen Mary III vi 194
if I knew you felt this p, Philip, As I do! „ III vi 251 Myself confused with p from the King. Becket III i 237 and no more p's for ever and for ever. Prom. of May III 197 Partisan I have notice from our p's Within the city Queen Mary II iii 51
And all her fieriest p's— „ III ii 170
Party I should be still A p in the state; „ I iv 24 a great p in the state Wills me to wed her. „ I iv 91 as great a p in the state Will you to wed me? „ I iv 95
My heart, my Lord, Is no great p in the state „ I iv 102
Is it England, or a p? Now, your answer. „ I v 142 and p thereunto, My Lord of Devon. „ II iv 100
Princess Cognisant thereof, and p thereunto. „ II iv 113
Stirr'd up a p there against your son— Becket V i 6
'I am sorry that we could not attend your Grace's p on the 10th!' Prom. of May III 313
Pass (s) All p'es block'd. Harold II ii 317
Along the glades and p'es of the wood Foresters III 457
Pass (verb) When will her Majesty p, sayst thou? Queen Mary I i 3
She cannot p her traitor council by, „ I ii 40 as we p, And pour along the land, „ II i 231
There yet is time, take boat and p to Windsor. Mary. I p to Windsor and I lose my crown. Gardiner. P, then, I pray your Highness, to the Tower. „ II iv 27 makes the waverer p Into more settled hatred „ III iv 158
if this p, We two shall have to teach him; „ III iv 421
And p'es thro' the peoples: „ III v 35 and p And leave me, Philip, „ III vi 227
Beauty p'es like a breath and love is lost in loathing: „ V ii 365
Well, when it p'es then. Edward. Ay if it p. Go not to Normandy— Harold I i 233
And let him p unscathed; he loves me, Harold! „ III i 301
And p her to her secret bower in England. Becket, Pro. 183
That so the Papal bolt may p by England, „ Pro. 226 when the King p'es, there may come a crash „ Pro. 484
P in with Herbert there. „ I i 184 let me p, my lord, for I must know. „ I i 206
To p thee to thy secret bower to-morrow. „ I i 249
He watch'd her p with John of Salisbury „ I ii 40
Come, you filthy knaves, let us p. 3rd Beggar. Nay, my lord, let us p. „ I iv 204
But it p'es away, „ III i 280
'P on,' he said, and in thy name I pass'd „ V ii 102
I will but p to vespers, And breathe one prayer „ V ii 190
That I should p the censures of the Church „ V ii 390
And p at once perfect to Paradise. „ V iii 14
Shall I too p to the choir, „ V iii 74
He will p to-morrow In the gray dawn The Cup I ii 294
Your arm—a moment—It will p. „ II 449
Bird-babble for my falcon! Let it p. The Falcon 39
If possible, here! to crop the flower and p. Prom. of May I 254
I am half afraid to p. „ II 328
Allow me, sir, to p you. „ II 355
I cannot p that way. „ III 733 on this cross I have sworn that till I myself p away, Foresters I i 290
I must p overseas to one that I trust will help me. „ I ii 152 to p it down A finger of that hand „ I ii 297
Did we not hear the two would p this way? „ II i 198
Pass (verb) (continued) Ghost! did one in white p? Foresters II i 228
Did two knights p? „ II i 230
Then let her p as an exception, Scarlet. „ III 71
And if a woman p— „ III 176
One half shall p into our treasury. „ III 305 and can make Five quarts p into a thimble. „ IV 283 Passage that's the winder at the end o' the p, that goäs by thy chaumber. Prom. of May I 397
Pass'd See Past
Passing (adj. and part.) (See also A-passing) she was p Some chapel down in Essex, Queen Mary I v 39
every tongue Alters it p, „ III v 36
Than any sea could make me p hence, „ III vi 87
And might assail you p through the street, „ IV ii 34
A p bell toll'd in a dying ear— „ V ii 41
Who p by that hill three nights ago— Harold III i 366
With a love P thy love for Griffyth! „ V i 357
And I and he are p overseas: Foresters II i 626
To fright the wild hawk p overhead, „ III 318 Passing (s) In p to the Castle even now. Becket I ii 13 should be stay'd From p onward. Foresters III 242 Passion (See also Self-passion) and in that p Gave me my Crown. Queen Mary I v 567
God's p! knave, thy name! „ III i 248
God's p! do you know the knave that painted it? „ III i 264
Nay, God's p, before me! speak! „ III iv 285 within the pale—Beyond the p. Harold I ii 49 thy patriot p Siding with our great Council „ III i 58
Our living p for a dead man's dream; „ III ii 60
Thou hast no p for the House of Godwin— „ IV ii 72 illogically, out of p, without art— Becket, Pro. 337 with such true p As at this loveless knife „ IV ii 190
I never felt such p for a woman. The Cup I i 34
So end all p's. Then what use in p's? „ I iii 126
The ghosts of the dead p's of dead men; Prom. of May II 275 may not be seized With some fierce p, „ II 336
That blast our natural p's into pains! „ III 724
I have a sudden p for the wild wood— Foresters I iii 122
The hunter's p flash'd into the man, „ IV 539
Passionate no p faith—But—if let be—balance and compromise; Queen Mary V v 221
He is p but honest. Harold I i 118
Mad for thy mate, p nightingale . . . I love thee for it— „ I ii 1
Passion'd See Out-passion'd
Passionless I would I were As holy and as p as he! „ III i 43
P? How he flamed When Tostig's anger'd earldom, „ III i 52
Passion-play Judas-lover of our p-p Hath track'd us hither. Becket IV ii 137
Passover Dash'd red with that unhallow'd p; „ I iii 348
Passport this pious cup Is p to their house, The Cup I i 83
Past (s) These are forgiven—matters of the p— Queen Mary III iii 190 Hangs all my p, and all my life to be, „ IV iii 219 see, see, I speak of him in the p. „ IV iii 422
The p is like a travell'd land now sunk The Cup II 230
In looking on a chill and changeless P? Prom. of May II 504 the P Remains the P. „ II 505 for the p Look'd thro' the present, „ II 640 or is it but the p That brightens in retiring? „ II 644
Sleep, mournful heart, and let the p be past! Foresters I iii 47
Past-Pass'd he's past your questioning. Queen Mary I i 39
The sentence having past upon them all, „ I v 487
How look'd the city When now you past it? „ II ii 58
As we past, Some hail'd, some hiss'd us. „ II ii 60
Before he go, that since these statutes past, „ III vi 24
He pass'd out smiling, and he walk'd upright; „ IV iii 302
You saw him how he past among the crowd; „ IV iii 574 —past—but whither? Paget. To purgatory, man, „ IV iii 625
And all his wars and wisdoms past away; „ V v 56
Then clasp the cross, and pass'd away in peace. „ V v 259 had past me by To hunt and hawk elsewhere, Harold II ii 27
Then a great Angel past along the highest „ III i 133 great Angel rose And past again along the highest „ III i 156 when I past by Waltham, my foundation For men „ V i 96 longed much to see your Grace and the Chancellor ere he past, Becket, Pro. 400
But the hour is past, and our brother, Master Cook, „ I iv 60

Past-Pass'd (continued) Past help! his paws are past help. Becket I iv 110 he hath pass'd out again, And on the other side. „ III ii 12 a man passed in there to-day: I holla'd to him, „ III ii 24 and in thy name I pass'd From house to house. „ V ii 103 on a Tuesday pass'd From England into bitter banishment; „ V ii 288
She past me here Three years ago when I was flying The Cup I i 4 in a city thro' which he past with the Roman army: „ I i 43 in some city where Antonius past. „ I ii 58 having pass'd unwounded from the field, The Falcon 608 but they, the shadows of ourselves, Have past for ever. Prom. of May I 272
You never told her, then, of what has past Between us. „ I 729
Sleep, mournful heart, and let the past be past! Foresters I iii 47
She and Sir Richard Have past away, „ II i 120
They must have past. Here is a woodman's hut. „ II i 199
You see he is past himself. What would you more? „ IV 471
Past the bank Of foxglove, then to left by that one yew. „ IV 973

Pastime While you can take your p in the woods. The Cup I i 190
Cannot he take his p like the flies? Prom. of May I 277
It is but p—nay, I will not harm thee. Foresters II i 554
Have our loud p's driven them all away? „ II ii 105

Pastor P fugatur Grex trucidatur— Harold V i 513

Pastoral The polish'd Damon of your p here, Prom. of May III 562

Pat gave me a great p o' the cheek for a pretty wench, Becket III i 125

Patch I must p up a peace— „ II ii 53

Patent your name Stands first of those who sign'd the Letters P Queen Mary I ii 18
State secrets should be p to the statesman Becket, Pro. 76

Pater Salva patriam Sancte P, Harold V i 467

Path in a narrow p. A plover flew before thee. Becket II i 53
I strike into my former p For England, „ II ii 455 stray'd From love's clear p into the common bush, „ III i 247 so many alleys, crossings, P's, avenues— „ IV ii 7
she turns down the p through our little vineyard, The Falcon 167

Pathway A hundred p's running everyway, Becket, Pro. 163 —would have made my p flowers, „ V ii 370

Patience age Of brief life, and brief purpose, and brief p, Queen Mary III iv 414
The p of St. Lawrence in the fire. „ IV iii 95

Patient with that sweet worn smile Among thy p wrinkles— „ V v 200 till now, by the p Saints, she's as crabb'd as ever. Harold II i 50

Patriam Salva p Sancte Pater, „ V i 466
Salva p, Sancta Mater. „ V i 470

Patriarchal And die upon the P throne Of all my predecessors? Becket V iii 75

Patrimony When I was ruler in the p, Queen Mary V ii 72
That be the p of the poor? Becket I iii 106

Patriot (adj.) but that thy p passion Siding with our great Council against Tostig, Harold III i 57

Patriot (s) Their shield-borne p of the morning star The Cup II 121

Patriotism you suspect This Sinnatus of playing p, „ I i 78

Pattern'd moonlight casements p on the wall, Queen Mary V v 9

Paul (Saint) (See also St. Paul) what saith P? 'I would they were cut off „ III iv 31

Paul the Fourth (Pope) But this new Pope Caraffa, P t F, „ V ii 32

Pauper a Sister of Mercy, come from the death-bed of a p, Prom. of May III 377

Pauper'd Why then, my lord, we are p out and out. The Falcon 268

Pauperes Sederunt principes, ederunt p. Becket I iv 132

Pauperis And one an uxor p Ibyci. „ V ii 216

Pauperism Sunk in the deepest pit of p, Prom. of May III 803

Pause (s) so in this p, before The mine be fired, Queen Mary II i 25

Pause (verb) Wherefore p you—what? „ V iii 39

Pavement To bathe this sacred p with my blood. Becket V iii 131

Paw King's verdurer caught him a-hunting in the forest, and cut off his p's. „ I iv 96
Past help! his p's are past help. „ I iv 111
One downward plunge of his p would rend away „ IV ii 283
if we kill a stag, our dogs have their p's cut off, Foresters IV 225

Pawn a King That with her own p's plays against a Queen, Queen Mary I iii 162

Pawn (continued) Courtenay seems Too princely for a p. Queen Mary I iii 167

Pay Your pious wish to p King Edward's debts, „ I v 111 but to p them full in kind, „ V iv 14
Pray'd me to p her debts, and keep the Faith; „ V v 257
What conditions? p him back His ransom? Harold II ii 213 Church should p her scutage like the lords. Becket I i 34 and he p's me regular every Saturday. Prom. of May I 311
Why should I p you your full wages? „ III 83 sits and eats his heart for want of money to p the Abbot. Foresters I i 5 thou shouldst marry one who will p the mortgage. „ I i 280
I would p My brother all his debt and save the land. „ I ii 217 Himself would p this mortgage to his brother, „ I ii 263
he would p The mortgage if she favour'd him. „ I iii 6
Sheriff Would p this cursed mortgage to his brother „ II i 144 and couldst never p The mortgage on my land. „ II i 453
That other thousand—shall I ever p it? „ II i 466 Take thou my bow and arrow and compel them to p toll. „ III 263
he that p's not for his dinner must fight for it. „ IV 199
Church and Law, halt and p toll! „ IV 430
Where he would p us down his thousand marks. „ IV 441
Give him another month, and he will p it. „ IV 444
Lest he should fail to p these thousand marks „ IV 454 he Would p us all the debt at once, „ IV 485

Payest Thou p easily, like a good fellow, „ IV 155

Paying but the schoolmaster looked to the p you Prom. of May III 22
Sheriff had taken all our goods for the King without p, Foresters II i 191 when the Sheriff took my little horse for the King without p for it— „ II i 302

Pea See Peasen

Peace be no p for Mary till Elizabeth lose her head.' Queen Mary I iii 4
P! hear him! let his own words damn the Papist. „ I iii 52
Ay, tho' you long for p; „ I v 258
Some settled ground for p to stand upon. „ I v 315
P, pretty maiden. I hear them stirring „ I v 627 plain life and letter'd p, „ II i 50
P. False to Northumberland, is he false to me? „ II iv 38
The second Prince of P— „ III ii 164
P—the Queen, Philip, and Pole. „ III iii 83
'I come not to bring p but a sword'? „ III iv 88
P, madman! Thou stirrest up a grief „ III iv 297
Will let you learn in p and privacy „ III iv 326
With us is p!' The last? It was a dream; „ III v 152
P among you, there! „ IV iii 199
When I should guide the Church in p at home, „ V ii 67
P, cousin, p! I am sad at heart myself. „ V ii 159
It gilds the greatest wronger of her p, „ V ii 415 sleeping after all she has done, in p and quietness, „ V iv 35
Then clasp't the cross, and pass'd away in p. „ V v 260
P is with the dead. „ V v 267
P with the dead, who never were at p! „ V v 273 left me time And p for prayer to gain Harold I i 220
Ay, ay and wise in p and great in war— „ I i 313
Thy fears infect me beyond reason. P! „ II ii 452
P be with him! „ IV iii 89 p with them Likewise, if they can be at p „ IV iii 98
A snatch of sleep were like the p of God. „ V i 180
Come yet once more, from where I am at p, „ V i 239
P! The king's last word—'the arrow!' „ V i 265
God of truth Fill all thine hours with p!— „ V i 316
P to his soul! Becket, Pro. 394
I left him with p on his face— „ Pro. 395
P, fools! Becket. P, friends! „ I ii 1
P, p, my lords! these customs are no longer „ I iii 68 none could sit By his own hearth in p; „ I iii 342
To our King's hands again, and be at p. „ I iii 582
I am confounded by thee. Go in p. De Broc. In p now—but after. Take that for earnest. „ I iii 731
Ay, go in p, caitiff, caitiff! „ I iii 735
P! Beggar. The black sheep baaed to the miller's ewe-lamb, „ I iv 161
P! Beggar. 'Ewe lamb, ewe lamb, „ I iv 170 the nightmare breaking on my p With 'Becket.' „ II i 37
I must patch up a p— „ II ii 53
So we make our p with him. „ II ii 63

Peace (continued) what it is you doubt? Behold your p at hand. Becket II ii 200 but this day he proffer'd p. „ II ii 240 Rest in our realm, and be at p with all. „ II ii 448 save King Henry gave thee first the kiss of p. „ III iii 254
I sware I would not give the kiss of p, „ III iii 259 happy home-return and the King's kiss of p in Kent. „ III iii 328 that the sheep May feed in p. „ III iii 346
I thought that I had made a p for thee. „ V ii 84
Small p was mine in my noviciate, „ V ii 86
brken Your bond of p, your treaty with the King— „ V ii 350
Then with one quick short stab—eternal p. The Cup I iii 125 and smile At bygone things till that eternal p. „ I iii 173
O hush! O p! This violence ill becomes „ II 214
No more feuds, but P, P and conciliation! The Falcon 910 he's no respect for the Queen, or the parson, or the justice o' p, or owt. Prom. of May I 133
—so be more at p With mine own self. „ II 662
P, let him be: it is the chamber of Death! „ III 740
P, my lord; the Earl and Sir Richard come this way. Foresters I ii 147 capering hand in hand with Oberon. Robin. P! „ II i 499 cuirass in this forest where I dream'd That all was p— „ IV 131
P, magpie! Give him the quarterstaff. „ IV 249
O p! Father, I cannot marry till Richard comes. „ IV 647
Peaceful and no more feuds Disturb our p vassalage to Rome. The Cup II 71
Peace-lover P-l is our Harold for the sake Harold I ii 197
Peace-offering a p-o, A scape-goat marriage— „ I ii 203
Peach a cheek like a p and a heart like the stone in it— The Falcon 93
Peacock Never p against rain Scream'd as you did Queen Mary III v 56
Peacocking See A-peacocking
Peahen eye left in his own tail to flourish among the p's, The Falcon 102
Peal some great doom when God's just hour P's— Queen Mary I iv 263
Pearl set it round with gold, with p, with diamond. „ I v 375
Some six or seven Bishops, diamonds, p's, „ III i 53
I see the flashing of the gates of p— Harold I i 186 prize The p of Beauty, even if I found it Prom. of May III 601 Peasen (peas) Hodge 'ud ha' been a-harrowin' o' white p i' the outfield— Queen Mary IV iii 492
Pebble God change the p which his kingly foot „ I v 368
Peck and why ye have so few grains to p at. Foresters I i 77
Peculiar would commend them to your ladyship's most p appreciation. The Falcon 568
Pedite Æques cum p Præpediatur! Harold V i 529
Peeped all in all to one another from the time when we first p into the bird's nest, Prom. of May III 274
Peer And is not York the p of Canterbury? Becket I iii 47
Peer'd How close the Sheriff p into thine eyes! Foresters I ii 253
Peerless in music P—her needle perfect, Queen Mary III i 360
Pell-mell Church in the p-m of Stephen's time Becket, Pro. 19
Pelt After him, boys! and p him from the city. Queen Mary I iii 85
Pembroke (Earl of) so my Lord of P in command Of all her force be safe; „ II ii 305
Gardiner, coming with the Queen, And meeting P, „ II ii 310
Lord P in command of all our force „ II iv 3
Was not Lord P with Northumberland? O madman, if this P should be false? „ II iv 7
The traitor! treason! P! „ II iv 36
Where is P? Courtenay. I left him somewhere in the thick of it. „ II iv 79
Pen Can't I speak like a lady; p a letter like a lady; Prom. of May III 302
Pencil with some sense of art, to live By brush and p. „ I 499
Pendent But tell us, is this p hell in heaven A harm to England? Harold I i 76 lied like a lad That dreads the p scourge, „ II ii 658
Penenden Heath ten thousand men on P H all calling after your worship, Queen Mary II i 61
They roar for you On P H, „ II i 106
some fifty That follow'd me from P H in hope To hear you speak. „ II i 151
Penitence declare our p and grief For our long schism „ III iii 128
And if your p be not mockery, „ III iii 179
Penitent So that we may, as children p, „ III iii 153
Thou shalt receive the p thief's award, „ IV iii 86
Would not—if p—have denied him her Forgiveness. Prom. of May II 496
Penn'd This was p, Madonna, Close to the grating The Falcon 440

Penny I will give thee a silver p if thou wilt show Foresters II i 360
I have but one p in pouch, „ III 193
He hath, as he said, but one p. „ III 209
Take his p and leave him his gold mark. „ III 217
People (s) (See also Fool-people) council and all her p wish her to marry. Queen Mary I i 113
And if her p, anger'd thereupon, „ I iii 90
The p there so worship me— „ I iv 120
the p Claim as their natural leader— „ I iv 209
The Council, p, Parliament against him; „ I v 78
Your p have begun to learn your worth. „ I v 109 remission Of half that subsidy levied on the p, „ I v 116
Your p, and I go with them so far, „ I v 188
And here at land among the p! „ I v 383
The hardest, cruellest p in the world, „ II i 100 the Queen, and the laws, and the p, his slaves. „ II i 175
A prince as naturally may love his p „ II ii 192
And leave the p naked to the crown, And the crown naked to the p; „ III i 119 and the p so unquiet— „ III i 453
His sword shall hew the heretic p's down! „ III ii 178
For as this p were the first of all „ III iii 171 bounden by his power and place to see His p be not poison'd. „ III iv 213
And passes thro' the p's: „ III v 35 seem this p Care more for our brief life „ III vi 61 read your recantation Before the p in St. Mary's Church. „ IV ii 29
You are to beg the p to pray for you; „ IV ii 76
Yea, for the p, lest the p die. „ IV iii 18
Good p, every man at time of death „ IV iii 156 your p will not crown me—Your p are as cheerless „ V i 81
The p's are unlike as their complexion; „ V i 89 and therefore God Is hard upon the p. „ V i 176
Ah, Madam, but your p are so cold; „ V ii 280
'Your p hate you as your husband hates you.' „ V ii 336
My p hate me and desire my death. „ V ii 345
No, not to her nor him; but to the p, „ V iii 33 love me, as I love The p! whom God aid! „ V iii 36
The p are as thick as bees below, Harold I i 31
Pray God the p choose thee for their king! „ I i 314
Stir up thy p: oust him! „ I i 482
Let all thy p bless thee! „ I ii 184 shown And redden'd with his p's blood „ I ii 243 voice of any p is the sword That guards them, „ II ii 134
The king, the lords, the p clear'd him of it. „ II ii 522 where Tostig lost The good hearts of his p. „ III ii 30
What! are thy p sullen from defeat? „ IV i 1
Why cry thy p on thy sister's name? „ IV i 20
She hath won upon our p thro' her beauty, „ IV i 23
For when your p banish'd Tostig hence, „ IV i 97
Who sow'd this fancy here among the p? Morcar. Who knows what sows itself among the p? „ IV i 148
the p stupid-sure Sleep like their swine . . . „ IV iii 215 Scatter thy p home, descend the hill, „ V i 10
How should the p fight When the king flies? „ V i 137 waste the fields Of England, his own p?— „ V i 142
First of a line that coming from the p, And chosen by the p— Harold. And fighting for And dying for the p— „ V i 386 chosen by his p And fighting for his p! „ V i 491 Make them again one p—Norman, English; „ V ii 188
—like a song of the p. Becket, Pro. 338
Was not the p's blessing as we past „ I i 12
The p know their Church a tower of strength, „ I i 15
They said—her Grace's p—thou wast found— „ I i 5 spied my p's ways; Yea, heard the churl against „ I iii 363 any harm done to the p if my jest be in defence of the Truth? Becket. Ay, if the jest be so done that the p Delight „ II ii 339
the p Believe the wood enchanted. „ III i 35 p do say that he is bad beyond all reckoning—and—— Rosamund. The p lie. „ III i 174 of the p there are many with me. „ III iii 292
The p love thee, father. „ V ii 120
What do these p fear? „ V iii 48 your own p cast you from their bounds, The Cup I i 137

People (s) (continued) Rome Made war upon the p's not the Gods. The Cup I ii 60
His own true p cast him from their doors „ I ii 351
Camma for my bride—The p love her— „ I iii 153 Hear thy p who praise thee! „ II 5 throned together in the sight Of all the p, „ II 68 teach this Rome—from knowledge of our p— „ II 97 all the fleeted wealth of kings And p's, hear. „ II 290
if my p must be thralls of Rome, „ II 500
Thou art one With thine own p, and though a Roman „ II 504
You know sick p, More specially sick children, The Falcon 816
'The land belongs to the p!' Prom. of May I i 141
So loved by all the village p here, „ III 755
Sir Richard and my Lady Marian fare wellnigh as sparely as their p. Foresters I i 31 so true a friend of the p as Lord Robin of Huntingdon. „ I i 188 fights not for himself but for the p of England. „ I i 237 to save his country, and the liberties of his p! „ I i 247
My p are all scattered I know not where. „ II i 176
The oppression of our p moves me so, „ III 109
Robin, the p's friend, the King o' the woods! „ III 347
These be the lies the p tell of us, „ III 392
People (verb) to p heaven in the great day When God makes up his jewels. Becket V vii 496
Perceive man p's that The lost gleam of an after-life Prom. of May I i 502
Perch his politic Holiness Hath all but climb'd the Roman p Becket II ii 46
Perch'd Him p up there? I wish some thunderbolt Queen Mary IV iii 9
Pereant P, p, Anglia precatur. Harold V i 533
Peregrine And hear my p and her bells in heaven; „ I ii 131
Perennial and his wealth A fountain of p alms— Queen Mary II ii 385 Perfect No! the disguise was p. Let's away. „ I iii 178 her needle p, and her learning Beyond the churchmen; „ III i 360 and is furthermore No p witness of a p faith In him who persecutes: „ III iv 117
Thou art manlike p. Becket II i 253
My friend of Canterbury and myself Are now once more in p amity. „ III iii 229
I would there were that p trust between us, „ III iii 264
That p trust may come again between us, „ III iii 351
Mail'd in the p panoply of faith, „ V ii 494
Honour to thee! thou art p in all honour! Harold II ii 691
But wherefore slur the p ceremony? The Cup II 431
A gallant boy, A noble bird, each p of the breed. The Falcon 320
And yet I had once a vision of a pure and p marriage, Prom. of May III 188
Shall I be known? is my disguise p? Sheriff. P— who should know you for Prince John, Foresters I ii 19
Perhaps See P'raps
Peril Looms the least chance of p to our realm. Queen Mary II ii 238 are you not in p here? Stafford. I think so. „ III i 34 in your behalf, At his own p. „ IV i 127 day of p that dawns darkly and drearily Becket I iv 145
At their p, at their p— „ III iii 313
Thou hast saved my head at the p of thine own. Foresters IV 796
Perilous Many points weather'd, many p ones, Queen Mary V v 212
A good entrenchment for a p hour! Harold III i 363 a p game For men to play with God. Becket II ii 70 all these walks are Robin Hood's And sometimes p. Foresters IV 121 Perish Would p on the civil slaughter-field, Queen Mary III i 118
May all invaders p like Hardrada! Harold IV iii 77
So p all the enemies of Harold! „ V i 504
So p all the enemies of England! „ V i 554
P she, I, all, before The Church should suffer wrong! Becket III iii 20
Perjured And thou art p, and thou wilt not seal. „ I iii 526
And that too, p prelate—and that, turncoat shaveling! „ I iii 736
Perjury-mongering the p-m Count Hath made too good an use Harold V i 310
Permission P of her Highness to retire To Ashridge, Queen Mary I iv 236
Permit P me to withdraw To Lambeth? „ III ii 129
P me, my good lord, to bear it for thee, Becket I iii 490 wilt thou p us—— Becket. To speak without stammering „ I iv 6
My lord, p us then to leave thy service. „ I iv 9
Perpendicular Your lordship affects the unwavering p; „ II ii 326
Perpetual Their wafer and p sacrifice: Queen Mary I ii 45
Perpetual (continued) she holds it in Free and p alms, Becket I iii 680 the voice Of the p brook, these golden slopes „ III i 46 doth not the living skin thicken against p whippings? „ III iii 316
Close to the grating on a winter morn In the p twilight of a prison, The Falcon 441 Persecute the worse is here To p, because to p Queen Mary III iv 115 of a perfect faith In him who p's: „ III iv 118 Person demanded Possession of her p and the Tower. „ II ii 41
In mine own p am I come to you, „ II ii 142
Seek to possess our p, hold our Tower, „ II ii 158 that anyone Should seize our p, occupy our state, „ II ii 178 yield Full scope to p's rascal and forlorn, „ II ii 185
As p's undefiled with our offence, „ III iii 144 first In Council, second p in the realm, „ IV iii 72
Three p's and one God, have mercy on me, „ IV iii 121
Noble as his young p and old shield. „ V ii 513
if our p be secured From traitor stabs— „ V v 280
Then fling mine own fair p in the gap A sacrifice Harold I ii 202
I cannot bear a hand upon my p, Becket V iii 20
I came In p to return them. The Falcon 727
Persuaded She would have p me to come back here, Prom. of May III 383
Pertest P of our flickering mob, Foresters II ii 130
Peru The voices of P and Mexico, Queen Mary V i 47
Peruse P it; is it not goodly, ay, and gentle? „ I v 195
wherefore dost thou so p it? Becket II i 186
Pesteringly Unalterably and p fond! Queen Mary V i 120
Pestilent Will no man free me from this p priest? Becket V i 262
Peter The Eternal P of the changeless chair, Queen Mary III iv 380
Peter (Peter Martyr) P, I'll swear for him He did believe „ I ii 76
Peter (Saint) (See also St. Peter) and I return As P, but to bless thee: „ III ii 56
How oft hath P knock'd at Mary's gate! „ III ii 63
The Church on P's rock? never! „ III iv 134
I have builded the great church of Holy P: Harold I i 180
'O blessed relics!' 'O Holy P!' „ I ii 171
loftiest minster ever built To Holy P „ III i 207 Like P's when he fell, and thou wilt have To wail for it like P. „ III i 283 and a blessed hair Of P, and all France, „ III ii 149 gonfanon of Holy P Floating above their helmets— „ V i 549
Holy Father strangled him with a hair Of P, „ V ii 47
And but that Holy P fought for us, „ V ii 164
The customs of the Church are P's rock. Becket I III 24
Which even P had not dared? „ II ii 395
And as for the flesh at table, a whole P's sheet, „ III iii 129
Peterboro' Leofric, and all the monks of P Harold V i 446
Peter Carew (See also Carew) Sir P C and Sir Thomas Wyatt, Queen Mary I iii 123
Duke of Suffolk and Sir P C, „ I iv 112
'Sir P C fled to France: „ II i 135
Is P C fled? Is the Duke taken? „ II i 142
Peters (Gentleman of Lord Howard) P, my gentleman, an honest Catholic, „ IV iii 553
P, how pale you look! you bring the smoke „ IV iii 560
P, you know me Catholic, but English. „ IV iii 566
Ay, Master P, tell us. „ IV iii 573
Petition long p from the foreign exiles To spare „ IV i 3
This same p of the foreign exiles For Cranmer's life. „ IV i 193
Petticoat Ay, ay, gown, coif, and p, Foresters II i 195
Petty To still the p treason therewithin, Queen Mary III i 13 the sea-creek—the p rill That falls into it— Becket II ii 293
Petulancy Thou goest beyond thyself in p! „ I iii 65
Pevensey dungeon'd the other half In P Castle— „ V ii 446
Landed at P—I am from P—Hath wasted all the land at P— Harold IV iii 188
I have ridden night and day from P— „ IV iii 192
Phantasy Nay, pure p, your Grace. Queen Mary I v 280
Not as from me, but as your p; „ V i 260
This coarseness is a want of p. „ V ii 438
I love the man but not his phantasies. Harold I i 279
Phantom (adj.) The p cry! You—did you hear a cry? Prom. of May III 651
And catch the winding of a p horn. Foresters IV 1091
Phantom (s) to victory—I hope so—Like p's of the Gods. The Cup II ii 170
Her p call'd me by the name she loved. Prom. of May II 242
That I may feel thou art no p— Foresters IV 1013

Pharisees They go like those old P in John Queen Mary II ii 8
Pheasant-flesh A doter on white p-f at feasts, Becket, Pro. 97
Philibert (Prince of Savoy) (See also Philibert of Savoy)
I think that I will play with P,— Queen Mary III v 242
I am not certain but that P Shall be the man; „ V i 264
Philibert of Savoy 'It is the King's wish, that you should wed Prince P o S. „ III v 222
Specially not this landless P O S; „ III v 240
She will not have Prince P o S, „ III vi 43
Elizabeth—To P o S, as you know, „ V i 247
She will not have Prince P o S. „ V i 254
Philip (Father) Father P that has confessed our mother for twenty years, Becket III i 111
Philip (King of Naples and Sicily, afterwards King of Spain) has offer'd her his son P, the Pope and the Devil. Queen Mary I i 106
A goodlier-looking fellow than this P. „ I iv 3 leagued together To bar me from my P. „ I iv 140
But if this P, the proud Catholic prince, „ I iv 280 would blow this P and all Your trouble „ I iv 290 grant me my prayer: Give me my P; „ I v 87
Would I marry Prince P, if all England hate him? „ I v 139
Stab me in fancy, hissing Spain and P; „ I v 151
Madam, take it bluntly; marry P, „ I v 205 prince is known in Spain, in Flanders, ha! For P— „ I v 209 sworn upon the body and blood of Christ I'll none but P. „ I v 216
That you may marry P, Prince of Spain— „ I v 251
if this P be the titular king Of England, „ I v 254 Have you seen P ever? Noailles. Only once. Mary. Is this like P? „ I v 319 a formal offer of the hand Of P? „ I v 350
P never writes me one poor word, „ I v 359
P shows Some of the bearing of your blue blood— „ I v 433
P Is the most princelike Prince beneath the sun. This is a daub to P. „ I v 444 burn the throne Where you should sit with P: „ I v 511
For P comes one hand in mine, „ I v 515
Farewell, and trust me, P is yours. „ I v 541 heard Slanders against Prince P in our Court? „ I v 570
The formal offer of Prince P's hand. „ I v 588
Ay! My P is all mine. „ I v 640
No new news that P comes to wed Mary, „ II i 16
This P and the black-faced swarms of Spain, „ II i 98
P shall not wed Mary; „ II i 164 to save her from herself and P— „ II i 190 and if P come to be King, O, my God! „ II i 199 smash all our bits o' things worse than P o' Spain. „ II iii 104
Don't ye now go to think we be for P o' Spain. „ II iii 106
Their cry is, P never shall be king. „ II iv 1
I live and die The true and faithful bride of P— „ II iv 43
P would not come Till Guildford Dudley „ II iv 135
My foes are at my feet, and P King. „ II iv 143
A diamond, And P's gift, as proof of P's love, „ III i 67
P with a glance of some distaste, „ III i 99
yet he fail'd, And strengthen'd P. „ III i 133 Gardiner buys them With P's gold. „ III i 145 eat fire and spit it out At P's beard: „ III i 158 some secret that may cost P his life. „ III i 202
P and Mary, P and Mary! Long live the King and Queen, P and Mary! „ III i 206
I thought this P had been one of those black devils of Spain, „ III i 214
There be both King and Queen, P and Mary. Shout! „ III i 297
The Queen comes first, Mary and P. Gardiner. Shout, then, Mary and P! Man. Mary and P! „ III i 299 shouted for thy pleasure, shout for mine! P and Mary! „ III i 306
P and Mary! Gardiner. I distrust thee. „ III i 309
P and the Pope Must have sign'd too. „ III i 429
But if this P, as he's like to do, „ III i 460
Oh, P, husband! now thy love to mine „ III ii 159
Oh, P, come with me; „ III ii 185
P's no sudden alien—the Queen's husband, „ III iii 42
'P!' says he. I had to cuff the rogue For infant treason. „ III iii 51
Philip (King of Naples and Sicily, afterwards King of Spain) (continued) P by these articles is bound From stirring hand Queen Mary III iii 59
P should not mix us any way With his French wars. „ III iii 78
Good sir, for this, if P—— Third Member. Peace —the Queen, P, and Pole. „ III iii 82
P would have it; and this Gardiner follows! „ III iii 233
For that is P's gold-dust, and adore „ III iii 243 but, if P menace me, I think that I will play „ III v 241 three days in tears For P's going— „ III vi 14
The Queen of P should be chaste. „ III vi 132
O P! Nay, must you go indeed? „ III vi 191 and pass And leave me, P, „ III vi 228
if I knew you felt this parting, P, As I do! „ III vi 251
And P's will, and mine, that he should burn. „ IV i 185
Her life, since P left her, and she lost „ IV iii 428
They hate me also for my love to you, My P; „ V i 96
P, can that be well? „ V i 143
P?— Pole. No, P is as warm in life As ever. „ V ii 23
He hates P; He is all Italian, „ V ii 54
He strikes thro' me at P and yourself. „ V ii 58 he may bring you news from P. „ V ii 229
P, We have made war upon the Holy Father „ V ii 306
You did but help King P's war with France, „ V ii 313
P gone! And Calais gone! Time that I were gone too! „ V ii 318
Too young! And never knew a P. „ V ii 361
And all along Of P. „ V ii 410
Ay, this P; I used to love the Queen with all my heart— „ V ii 417
And love to hear bad tales of P. „ V ii 429
Count de Feria, from his Majesty King P. Mary. P! quick! loop up my hair! „ V ii 533
Indian shawl That P brought me in our happy days!— „ V ii 540 no need For P so to shame himself again. „ V ii 587
As far as France, and into P's heart. „ V iii 19
You will be Queen, And, were I P— „ V iii 38
Your P hath gold hair and golden beard; „ V iii 56
But as to P and your Grace—consider,— „ V iii 64
Madam, if you marry P, „ V iii 118
God's death, forsooth—you do not know King P. „ V iii 124
'I am dying, P; come to me.' „ V v 3
Calais gone—Guisnes gone, too—and P gone! Lady Clarence. Dear Madam, P is but at the wars; „ V v 23
by God's grace, We'll follow P's leading, „ V v 112 Madam, who goes? King P? Mary. No, P comes and goes, but never goes. „ V v 149 you will find written Two names, P and Calais; „ V v 155
You will find P only, policy, policy,— „ V v 158
This P shall not Stare in upon me in my haggardness; „ V v 176
O God, I have kill'd my P! „ V v 181
Away from P. Back in her childhood— „ V v 230
Philip (Philip Edgar, afterwards Mr. Harold) (See also Edgar, Harold, Philip Edgar, Philip Harold, Philip Hedgar) Oh, P, Father heard you last night. Prom. of May I 556 will be placed Beneath the window, P. „ I 561
Dear P, all the world is beautiful „ I 576
P, P, if you do not marry me, „ I 680
Do not till I bid you. Eva. No, P, no. „ I 733 Did you speak, P? „ I 748
call for P when you will, And he returns. „ I 758
Eh lad, if it be thou, I'll P tha! „ II 590
Philip Edgar (afterwards Mr. Harold) Heaven hears you, P E! „ I 760
Not Harold! 'P E, P E!' „ II 240
P E of Toft Hall In Somerset. „ II 338
One P E of Toft Hall in Somerset Is lately dead. „ II 345
'I call you, P E, P E!' „ II 657
'P E, Esq.' Ay, you be a pretty squire. „ II 688
I have been telling her of the death of one P E of Toft Hall, Somerset. „ II 706
'O' the 17th, P E, o' Toft Hall, Soomerset.' „ II 711
you are the first I ever have loved truly. Eva. P E! „ III 650

Philip Harold (Philip Edgar) Nay—now—not one, for I am P H. Prom. of May II 451
Philip Hedgar (Edgar) P H o' Soomerset! (repeat) " II 586 Philippines Tunis, and Oran, and the P, Queen Mary V i 48
Philosopher A poor p who call'd the mind Prom. of May II 281
Phœbe P, that man from Synorix, who has been The Cup II 9 Phrase Do not scrimp your p, Queen Mary III iii 260 now I see That I was blind—suffer the p— Becket II ii 438
If the p 'Return' displease you, we will say— The Falcon 728
Phryne With P, Or Lais, or thy Rosamund, Becket, Pro. 55
Physic in a closed room, with light, fire, p, tendance; Queen Mary V iv 37
Physical Against the moral excess No p ache, Becket I i 382
Physician Nay, dearest Lady, see your good p. Queen Mary V v 59
Physick'd These princes are like children, must be p, " I v 234
Pianner (piano) plaäy the p, if ye liked, all daäy long, like a laädy, Prom. of May II 100
Pick What should I say, I cannot p my words— Queen Mary III vi 147 Picture we prize The statue or the p all the more Prom. of May I 738 poor Steer looks The very type of Age in a p, " III 514 More like the p Of Christian in my 'Pilgrim's Progress' " III 518
if you cram me crop-full I be little better than Famine in the p, Foresters I i 47
Piece Henry broke the carcase of your church To p's, Queen Mary I v 399
It lies there in six p's at your feet; " II i 87
Give me a p of paper! " II iii 66
A p in this long-tugged-at, threadbare-worn Quarrel Becket II ii 54
I dash myself to p's—I stay myself— " II ii 150
God's full curse Shatter you all to p's if ye harm " V iii 135
I tear it all to p's, never dream'd Of acting on it. The Cup I ii 247 a hundred Gold p's once were offer'd by the Duke. The Falcon 324 but one p of earthenware to serve the salad in to my lady, " 481 Towser'ill tear him all to p's. Prom. of May I 423 and there is a p of beef like a house-side, " I 793 break it all to p's, as you would break the poor, Foresters II i 285 Piecemeal And tear you p: so you have a guard. Queen Mary IV ii 36 a score of wolf-dogs are let loose that will tear thee p. Becket III ii 40
Pier Ran sunless down, and moan'd against the p's. Queen Mary II iii 27
Pierced Tho' we have p thro' all her practices; Harold V i 156
Piero they are but blue beads—my P, The Falcon 48
Pig (See also Hedge-pig) s'pose I kills my p, and gi'es it among 'em, why there wudn't be a dinner for nawbody, and I should ha' lost the p. Prom. of May I 147
Pigeon See Carrier-pigeon
Pike Hurls his soil'd life against the p's and dies. Queen Mary IV iii 311
Pilate The Lord be judged again by P? No! Becket I iii 97
Piled dead So p about him he can hardly move. Harold V i 658
'Pilgrim's Progress' More like the picture Of Christian in my 'P P' Prom. of May III 519
Pillage (s) The p of his vassals. Foresters III 107
Richard sacks and wastes a town With random p, " IV 378
Pillage (verb) they p Spain already. Queen Mary III i 158
Pillar Steadying the tremulous p's of the Church— " I v 517
Be limpets to this p, or we are torn " III i 184 stand behind the p here; " IV iii 462
But thou didst back thyself against a p, Harold I ii 88 Taken the rifted p's of the wood " I ii 100 lo! my two p's, Jachin and Boaz!— " III i 191
Pillaring P a leaf-sky on their monstrous boles, Foresters III 100
Pillow I never lay my head upon the p Queen Mary III v 131
A gnat that vext thy p! Harold I ii 71
Pilot Saints P and prosper all thy wandering out " I i 265
Pincer fiends that utter them Tongue-torn with p's, Queen Mary V ii 194
Pinch give me one sharp p upon the cheek Foresters IV 1011
Pine (tree) I have seen A p in Italy that cast its shadow Athwart a cataract; firm stood the p— Queen Mary III iv 136 the p was Rome. You see, my Lords, " III iv 142 wind of the dawn that I hear in the p overhead? Becket II i 2
P, beech and plane, oak, walnut, The Cup I i 1
Beneath the shadow of our p's and planes! " II 227
Pine (verb) poor Pole p's of it, As I do, to the death. Queen Mary V v 128
Pinfold I seed that one cow 'o thine i' the p ageän Prom. of May I 191
Pinned What's here? a scroll P to the wreath. The Falcon 425 Pious Your p wish to pay King Edward's debts, Queen Mary I v 111 it were a p work To string my father's sonnets, " II i 26
Here a p Catholic, Mumbling and mixing up in his scared prayers " II ii 84
See if our p—what shall I call him, John?— Becket II ii 38 now this p cup Is passport to their house, The Cup I i 81
I have one mark in gold which a p son of the Church gave me this morning Foresters III 281
Pipe Organ and p, and dulcimer, chants and hymns Becket V ii 365
Piped boy she held Mimick'd and p her Queen Mary II ii 74
Pipest thou, my bird, thou p Becket, Becket— Becket II i 32
Piping gaping bills in the home-nest P for bread— " II ii 301
Fluting, and p and luting 'Love, love, love'— Foresters III 33
Pirate Thy fierce forekings had clench'd their p hides To the bleak church doors, Harold IV iii 36
For tho' we touch'd at many p ports, Foresters IV 983
Pit plunge and fall Of heresy to the p: Queen Mary III iv 142
Sunk in the deepest p of pauperism, Prom. of May III 803 Pitchfork fur him as be handy wi' a book bean't but haäfe a hand at a p. " I 189 hunt him With p's off the farm, " II 427
Piteous perhaps the man himself, When hearing of that p death, " II 500
Pitiful Be somewhat p, after I have gone, Queen Mary IV ii 157
P to this p heresy? " IV ii 163
Pitiless And by the churchman's p doom of fire, " III iv 49 Pity (s) Hate not one who felt Some p for thy hater! Harold I ii 44
the Pope our master, Have p on him, Becket I iii 202
P, my lord, that you have quenched the warmth " II ii 310 said it was a p to blindfold such eyes as mine " III i 126 more the p then That thy true home— " IV ii 131
I have wasted p on her—not dead now— Prom. of May III 691
Have you no p? must you see the man? Foresters IV 457
Have you no p? " IV 519
What p have you for your game? " IV 521
P, p!—There was a man of ours Up in the north, " IV 528
I fear I had small p for that man.— " IV 547
But p for a father, it may be, " IV 659
Pity (verb) She said—pray pardon me, and p her— Queen Mary I v 53
I could p this poor world myself that it is no better ordered. Becket, Pro. 365 and I have none—to p thee. " IV ii 81
Plaäy (play) And p the pianner, if ye liked, all daäy long, like a laädy, Prom. of May II 100
Wi' the butterflies out, and the swallers at p, " II 199
Place (s) (See also Pleace, Tomb-place) Is bounden by his power and p to see Queen Mary III iv 212
No p for worse. " IV iii 80
Gardener, and huntsman, in the parson's p, " IV iii 374
Is this a p To wail in, Madam? " V i 212 battle-axe Was out of p; it should have been the bow.— Harold I ii 106 yea, and thou Chair'd in his p. " I ii 247
Then shalt thou step into my p and sign. Becket I iii 15
A fit p for the monies of the Church, " I iii 105
This is the likelier tale. We have hit the p. " II ii 43
And weeps herself into the p of power; " V ii 214
He knows the twists and turnings of the p. " V ii 577 not show yourself In your old p? " V ii 596
Thou shouldst have ta'en his p, and fought for him. Foresters II i 546
Place (verb) P and displace our councillors, Queen Mary II ii 160
We therefore p ourselves Under the shield Becket I iii 599 let me p this chair for your ladyship. The Falcon 178 Placed freed him from the Tower, p him at Court; Queen Mary I v 163
And softly p the chaplet on her head. The Falcon 362 will be p Beneath the window, Philip. Prom. of May I 560
Plagas Hostis per Angliae P bacchatur; Harold V i 511
Plague (s) so the p Of schism spreads; Queen Mary III iv 171
Harvestless autumns, horrible agues, p— " V i 99
War, waste, p, famine, all malignities. Harold I i 466 Saints to scatter sparks of p Thro' all your cities, " II ii 746 like Egypt's p, had fill'd All things with blood; Becket I iii 344
They are p's enough in-door. " II ii 91
The p's That smite the city spare the solitudes. " V ii 172
Whose arrow is the p—whose quick flash The Cup II 291
Push'd from all doors as if we bore the p, Prom. of May III 805

Plague (verb) And yet she p's me too—no fault in her— Becket, Pro. 59
Plagued what news hath p thy heart? Queen Mary v ii 18
Plain You should be p and open with me, niece. „ i iv 217
he loved the more His own gray towers, p life and letter'd peace. „ ii i 49
'tis not written Half p enough. Give me a piece of paper! „ ii iii 66 play the p Christian man. „ iv iii 267
I that so prized p word and naked truth Harold iii i 93
Thou wert p Thomas and not Canterbury, Becket i iii 578 had she but given P answer to p query? „ iv ii 386 Cannot you understand p words, Mr. Dobson? Prom. of May ii 112
Henceforth I am no more Than p man to p man.
Tuck. Well, then, p man, Foresters i iii 96
A fine, a fine! he hath called p Robin a lord. „ iii 215
I am the yeoman, p Robin Hood, „ iv 143
Fine him! fine him! he hath called p Robin an earl. „ iv 151
A fine! a fine! He hath called p Robin a king. „ iv 218
Plainer Be p, Master Cranmer. Queen Mary iv iii 235
Plainness I have been a man loved p all my life; I did dissemble, but the hour has come For utter truth and p; „ iv iii 270
Plaister May p his clean name with scurrilous rhymes! Becket i i 308
Plane Pine, beech and p, oak, walnut, The Cup i i 1
Beneath the shadow of our pines and p's! „ ii 228
Planed That all was p and bevell'd smooth again, Becket v i 138
Plantagenet (See also Geoffrey, Geoffrey Plantagenet) whether her Grace incline to this splendid scion of P. Queen Mary i i 135
The last White Rose, the last P „ i iv 207
But this most noble prince P, „ iii iv 291
Pole has the P face, „ iii iv 333
My son a Clifford and P. Becket iv ii 227
Pledge the P, Him that is gone. Foresters i ii 7
Planted tree that my lord himself p here in the blossom of his boyhood— The Falcon 563 because one of the Steers had p it there in former times. Prom. of May iii 247
Plaster'd caked and p with a hundred mires, Harold iv iii 177
Plate and one p of dried prunes be all-but-nothing, The Falcon 135
O sweet saints! one p of prunes! „ 216
Play (s) (See also Passion-play) Whose p is all to find herself a King. Queen Mary i iii 164
True king of vice—true p on words— Foresters ii i 83
Can have frolic and p. „ ii ii 183
but see fair p Betwixt them and Sir Richard— „ iv 98
Play (verb) (See also Plaäy) we p. Courtenay. At what? Noailles. The Game of Chess. Queen Mary i iii 125
I can p well, and I shall beat you there. Noailles.
Ay, but we p with Henry, King of France, „ i iii 129 with her own pawns p's against a Queen, „ i iii 162
You should not p upon me. „ i iv 219
Pope nor Spaniard here to p The tyrant, „ i v 190
Is this the face of one who p's the tyrant? „ i v 194
You p at hide and seek. „ i v 305
And he will p the Walworth to this Wat; „ ii ii 370
Should p the second actor in this pageant „ iii iii 13
Then must I p the vassal to this Pole. „ iii iii 111
I think that I will p with Philibert,— „ iii v 242 but they p with fire as children do, „ iii vi 28
She p the harlot! never. „ iii vi 136
Dissemble not; p the plain Christian man. „ iv iii 267
P into one another, and weave the web Harold i i 211 shall I p The craftier Tostig with him? „ i ii 164 this Gamel, whom I p upon, that he may p the note „ i ii 191
May, surely, p with words. „ ii ii 418
This lightning before death P's on the word,— „ iii i 388
Wilt thou p with the thunder? „ iii i 391
I have a mind to p The William with thine eyesight „ v i 26
Queen should p his kingship against thine! Becket, Pro. 236
I could so p about it with the rhyme— „ Pro. 381
What, not good enough Even to p at nun? „ i i 304
Church must p into the hands of kings; „ i ii 68
I p the fool again. „ i iii 750 to turn anyway and p with as thou wilt— „ ii i 245 Play (verb) (continued) Go try it, p. Becket ii i 246 mother Would make him p his kingship „ ii ii 11 a perilous game For men to p with God. „ ii ii 71
I hear Margery: I'll go p with her. „ iii i 274
Who made the second mitre p the first, And acted me? „ iii iii 212
—a troubadour You p with words. „ iv ii 182
P! . . . that bosom never Heaved under the King's hand „ iv ii 187
Lest thou shouldst p the wanton there again. „ v i 112
Live with these honest folk—And p the fool! Prom. of May i 745 talk a little French like a lady; p a little like a lady? „ iii 303
Is this a game for thee to p at? Away. Foresters ii i 426
P the air, Little John. „ iii 418 but thyself Shalt p a bout with me, „ iv 252
Then thou shalt p the game of buffets with us. „ iv 258
Play'd The colour freely p into her face, Queen Mary ii ii 321
I have p with this poor rose so long „ v ii 1
We have so the coward; „ v v 110
I have lost the boy who p at ball with me, Harold iv iii 22
With whom they p their game against the king! „ v ii 13
For I have always p into their hands, The Cup i iii 150
I have p the sudden fool. „ i iii 162 same head they would have p at ball with „ ii 127 marry fine gentlemen, and p at being fine ladies? Prom. of May iii 277
I have p at the foils too with Kate: Foresters i i 217
But shout and echo p into each other „ ii i 258
Player Upon the skill and swiftness of the p's. Queen Mary i iii 143
I'm the first of p's. I shall win. „ i iii 149 and a favourer Of p's, and a courtier, Becket i i 79 both of us are p's In such a comedy as our court „ v i 188
Playest Thou p in tune. Harold i i 384
Playing (See also A-plaäyin') such a game, sir, were whole years a p. Queen Mary i iii 140
Watch'd children p at their life to be, „ iii iv 63
I lost it, p with it when I was wild. Harold v ii 110
Did she not tell me I was p on her? Becket iv ii 399
What game, what juggle, what devilry are you p? „ v i 154 you suspect This Sinnatus of p patriotism, The Cup i i 78
No! acting, p on me, both of them. Prom. of May iii 693
P on me—not dead now—a swoon— „ iii 696
For p upside down with Holy Writ. Foresters iii 168
Thou art p with us. How should poor friars have money? „ iii 275
Plea To ours in p for Cranmer than to stand Queen Mary iv i 119
Pleace (place) wi' dree hard eggs for a good p at the burnin'; „ iv iii 490
Plead Holy Virgin, P with thy blessed Son; „ i v 85
But you were never raised to p for Frith, „ iv ii 210
Who knows but that thy lover May p so pitifully, Becket iv ii 217
P to him, I am sure you will prevail. The Cup i ii 300
Will he let you p for him To a Roman? „ i ii 305 came To p to thee for Sinnatus's life, „ ii 392 but all those that held with him, Except I p for them, Foresters iv 750 Pleaded Some have p for him, Becket i iii 590
Pleading Our Robin beaten, p for his life! Foresters ii i 674
Pleasant Had you a p voyage up the river? Queen Mary iii ii 5
Among the p fields of Holy Writ I might despair. „ iii v 80
Which was not p for you, Master Cranmer. „ iv ii 136
God made the fierce fire seem To those three children like a p dew. „ iv iii 91
Shall Alice sing you One of her p songs? „ v ii 355
There is a p fable in old books, Harold iv i 56
But my sister wrote that he was mighty p, Prom. of May i 117
What can a man, then, live for but sensations, P ones? men of old would undergo Unpleasant for the sake of p ones Hereafter, „ i 243 whose cheerless Houris after death Are Night and Silence, p ones— „ i 251 Pleasantness thro' her beauty, And p among them. Harold iv i 24
Pleasaunce A royal p for thee, in the wood, Becket ii i 128
Please (See also Pleäse) setting up a mass at Canterbury To p the Queen. Queen Mary i ii 89
Your Council is in Session, p your Majesty. „ i v 544 it might p God that I should leave Some fruit „ ii ii 221 porter, p your Grace, hath shut the gates „ ii iv 60

Please (continued) You are hard to p. Queen Mary III iv 154
Then one day more to p her Majesty. „ III vi 247
So p your Majesty, A long petition „ IV i 2 Might I not say—to p your wife, the Queen? „ V i 307 that it would p Him out of His infinite love „ V iv 46 to p our dying king, and those Who make Harold III i 328
Well, well, I swear, but not to p myself. Becket, Pro. 193
Doth it p you? Take it and wear it on that hard heart „ Pro. 372
To p the King? „ I i 31
Shall I fall off—to p the King once more? „ I i 110
Of this wild Rosamund to p the King, „ I i 392 whom it p's him To call his wives; „ IV ii 35
if we will buy diamond necklaces To p our lady, The Falcon 45
I am glad it p's you; Prom. of May II 543
Nay, an p your Elfin Grace, Foresters II ii 132
Pleäse P, Miss, Mr. Dobson telled me to saäy Prom. of May III 345 Pleased All p you so at first. Becket III i 50 and the master 'ud be straänge an' p if you'd step in fust, Prom. of May I 168 Pleasure Thou hast shouted for thy p, shout for mine! Queen Mary III i 304
They kill'd but for their p and the power „ III iv 74 you will find in it P as well as duty, „ III iv 430
For thine own p? Harold III i 327 not my purveyor Of p's, but to save a life— Becket, Pro. 150 and the walks Where I could move at p, „ I i 266
For the King's p rather than God's cause „ I iii 697 daily want supplied—The daily p to supply it. „ II ii 303 for I have p in the p of crowds, „ III iii 82
Here, Madam, at your p. Eleanor. My p is to have a man about me. „ IV ii 428
She would have robb'd me then of a great p. The Falcon 65
The p of his eyes—boast of his hand— „ 221
And if my p breed another's pain, Prom. of May I 278
Have I the p, friend, of knowing you? „ I 297
No p then taboo'd: for when the tide Of full democracy „ I 591 Hollow Pandora-box, With all the p's flown, „ II 347 and I have lighted On a new p. „ II 669 on all its idiot gleams Of p, „ III 723
Not p's, women's matters. Foresters I ii 176 Plebeian Pride of the p! Fitzurse. And this p like to be Archbishop! Becket, Pro. 457
Pledge (s) I be ready to täake the p. Prom. of May III 85
Pledge (verb) I p you, Strato. Synorix. And I you, my lord. The Cup I ii 49
I will p you. Wine! Filippo, wine! The Falcon 575
P the Plantagenet, Him that is gone. Foresters I ii 7
And they shall p thee, Marian, „ III 316
They p me, Robin? „ III 320
Pleiads To the P, uncle; they have lost a sister. Queen Mary I iv 293
Plenty will be p to sunder and unsister them again: „ I i 84 fill all hearts with fatness and the lust Of p— The Cup II 274 Plied Still p him with entreaty and reproach: Queen Mary IV iii 577 and still the friars P him, „ IV iii 601 Plot (s) Mix not yourself with any p I pray you; „ I iv 173 to discourage and lay lame The p's of France, „ V i 189 the p's against him Had madden'd tamer men. Harold IV i 110
P's and feuds! This is my ninetieth birthday. (repeat) „ IV i 120, 125
Who dares arraign us, king, of such a p? „ IV i 169
Hath Sinnatus never told you of this p? Camma. What p? The Cup I ii 251
I am sure I told him that his p was folly. „ I ii 283
Plot (verb) When will ye cease to p against my house? Harold IV i 161
Should care to p against him in the North. „ IV i 166
Plotted Wherewith they p in their treasonous malice, Queen Mary III iv 4 Plotting They have been p here! Harold IV i 40
If you had found him p against Rome, The Cup II 406
But had I found him p, I had counsell'd him „ II 412
Ploughman-Plowman These Kentish ploughmen cannot break the guards. Queen Mary II iv 17 burn a plowman, and now, as far as money goäs, Prom. of May I 330
That ever charm'd the plowman of your wolds „ III 488
Plover in a narrow path. A p flew before thee. Becket II i 54 Plow p Lay rusting in the furrow's yellow weeds, „ I iii 354 and I'd drive the p straäit as a line Prom. of May I 369 Plowed I ha' p the ten-aäcre—it be mine now— Prom. of May I 365
I mun ha' p it moor nor a hoonderd times; „ I 367
Plowest steer wherewith thou p thy field is cursed, Harold V i 71
Plowin' if I could ha' gone on wi' the p Prom. of May I 376
Pluck P the dead woman off the dead man, Malet! Harold V ii 144
King p's out their eyes Who anger him, Becket IV ii 405
He that can p the flower of maidenhood Foresters I ii 108
Pluck'd He all but p the bearer's eyes away. Becket I iii 11
Plumed My princess, of the cloud my p purveyor, The Falcon 7
Plump To p the leaner pouch of Italy. Queen Mary III iv 365
Plum-pudding and a p-p as big as the round haystack. Prom. of May I 794
Plunder they p—yea, ev'n bishops, Yea, even archbishops— Foresters IV 909 Plunder'd P the vessel full of Gascon wine, Becket V ii 441 cask of wine whereof we p The Norman prelate? Foresters III 307
Plundering a p o' Bishop Winchester's house; Queen Mary II iii 73 Plunge (s) Our short-lived sun, before his winter p, „ III iii 86 headlong p and fall Of heresy to the pit: „ III iv 140 last inhospitable p Our boat hath burst her ribs; Harold II i 2
One downward p of his paw would rend Becket IV ii 283
Plunge (verb) and p His foreign fist into our island Church Queen Mary III iv 363
Tear out his eyes, And p him into prison. Harold II ii 492
To p thee into life-long prison here:— „ II ii 550
To p into this bitter world again— Becket V ii 81
I might p And lose myself for ever. Prom. of May II 305
Plunged beast-body That God has p my soul in— Becket II i 150
Were p beneath the waters of the sea, Foresters IV 668
Pocket but he would p the purse. Becket II iii 371
Pœna Illorum sclera P sequatur! (repeat) Harold V i 518, 605
Poet you are as poor a p, Wyatt, As a good soldier. Queen Mary I i 113
There! my lord, you are a p, The Falcon 533
Poetical A shadow, a p fiction—did ye not call me king in your song? Foresters IV 219
Poinet (John, Bishop of Winchester) P, Barlow, Bale, Scory, Coverdale; Queen Mary I ii 5 Point (s) (See also Finger-point) Calais! Our one p on the main, „ I v 125 then to cede A p to her demand? „ III vi 170 there's An old world English adage to the p. „ IV i 175
Many p's weather'd, many perilous ones, „ V v 211
The p you aim'd at, and pray God she prove Becket II ii 77
She lives—but not for him; one p is gain'd. „ IV ii 415
Point (verb) Heretic and rebel P at me and make merry. Queen Mary V ii 318
Shouts something—he p's onward— Harold V i 558
Pointed With fingers p like so many daggers, Queen Mary I v 149
And p full at Southwark; „ II iii 46
How their p fingers Glared at me! Harold II ii 789 rose From the foul flood and p toward the farm, Prom. of May II 653
Pointing the Pope P at me with 'Pole, the heretic, Queen Mary V ii 175
Poison (s) practise on my life, By p, fire, shot, stab— „ I iv 285
Lest your whole body should madden with the p? „ III iv 208
Give me the p; set me free of him! Becket IV ii 164
I have heard these p's May be walk'd down. The Cup II 474
Poison (verb) filch the linen from the hawthorn, p the house-dog, Foresters III 199
Poison'd to see His people be not p. Queen Mary III iv 213 the Norman adder Hath bitten us; we are p: Harold III i 39
A cleric lately p his own mother, Becket, Pro. 10 we shall all be p. Let us go. „ I iv 244
I am p. She—close the Temple door. The Cup II 459
He had my fate for it, P. „ II 517
Poisoning So p the Church, so long continuing, Queen Mary IV iii 48
Poitevins I learn but now that those poor P Becket II ii 427
Poitou and all France, all Burgundy, P, all Christendom Harold III ii 150
Have we not heard Raymond of P, thine own uncle— Becket IV ii 247
Pole (Reginald, Cardinal and Papal Legate) (See also Reginald Pole) holy legate of the holy father the Pope, Cardinal P, Queen Mary I iii 28
(Nay, there is Cardinal P, too), „ I iv 208
So would your cousin, Cardinal P; „ I v 405
True, good cousin, P; And there were also those „ III ii 68
Peace—the Queen, Philip, and P. „ III iii 84
Then must I play the vassal to this P „ III iii 112

Pole (Reginald, Cardinal and Papal Legate) (continued)
Our supplication be exhibited To the Lord Cardinal P, Queen Mary III iii 124
Cousin P, You are fresh from brighter lands. „ III iv 321
P has the Plantagenet face, „ III iv 333
Doth P yield, sir, ha! „ III iv 394
I am sorry for it If P be like to turn. „ III iv 416
Write to him, then. Pole. I will. Mary. And sharply, P. „ IV i 39
P Will tell you that the devil helpt them thro' it. „ IV iii 351
Reginald P, what news hath plagued thy heart? „ V ii 17 the Pope Pointing at me with 'P, the heretic, „ V ii 175 for the death Of our accursed Queen and Cardinal P.' „ V ii 182 let my cousin P Seize him and burn him „ V ii 244
Saving my confessor and my cousin P. „ V ii 527
They say she's dying. First. So is Cardinal P. „ V iv 5
Holy Father Has ta'en the legateship from our cousin P—Was that well done? and poor P pines of it, As I do, to the death. „ V v 127
'twas I and Bonner did it, And P; „ V v 143
Polecat The deer, the highback'd p, the wild boar, Foresters I iii 119
Policy (See also Church-policy, State-policy) Your Grace's p hath a farther flight Queen Mary I v 312
Mismatch'd with her for p! „ III i 365
Were but a thankless p in the crown, „ III iv 51 might it not be p in some matter „ III vi 166
It was his father's p against France. „ V v 45
You will find Philip only, p, p,— „ V v 158
That was, my lord, a match of p. Harold IV i 199
A great and sound p that: I could embrace him for it: Becket, Pro. 451
A p of wise pardon Wins here as well as there. „ V ii 22 the dry light of Rome's straight-going p, The Cup I i 146
The One Who shifts his p suffers something, „ II 113
And apt at arms and shrewd in p. Foresters I ii 104
Polish'd But you, my Lord, a p gentleman, Queen Mary III iv 250
Politic You are too p for me, my Lord Paget. „ IV i 150
If this be p, And well for thee and England— Harold III ii 110 his p Holiness Hath all but climb'd the Roman perch again, Becket II ii 45 Too p for that. Imprison me? „ IV ii 397
Pomegranate Palms, flowers, p's, golden cherubim Harold III i 182
Pompey See Pumpy
Pond See Herring-pond, Herse-pond
Ponder Grant me one day To p these demands. Becket I iii 669
Ponthieu (adj.) drave and crack'd His boat on P beach; Harold II ii 36
Ponthieu (s) Guy, Count of P? „ II i 81 winds than that which crack'd Thy bark at P,— „ II ii 200
Pontigny He shelter'd in the Abbey of P. Becket II i 84
On a Tuesday at P came to me The ghostly warning „ V ii 290
Pontus Have you alliances? Bithynia, P, Paphlagonia? The Cup I ii 100
Pooh P, p, my Lord! poor garrulous country-wives. Queen Mary IV iii 546 Pool stormless shipwreck in the p's Of sullen slumber, Harold V i 296
I only wish This p were deep enough, Prom. of May II 304
Poor (adj.) and of the good Lady Jane as a p innocent child Queen Mary I i 94
So you would honour my p house to-night, „ I iii 118 the realm is p, The exchequer at neap-tide: „ I v 120 a hundred men-at-arms Guard my p dreams for England „ I v 154
It then remains for your p Gardiner, „ I v 220
But Philip never writes me one p word, „ I v 360 but, if I'm any judge, By God, you are as p a poet, Wyatt, As a good soldier. „ II i 113
You as p a critic As an honest friend: „ II i 115
No, p soul; no. „ II i 242
And four of her p Council too, my Lord, As hostages. „ II ii 42
he says he's a p gentleman. „ II iii 74
He's p enough, has drunk and gambled out All that he had, „ II iii 87
Take thy p gentleman! „ II iii 94
She, with her p blind hands feeling—'where is it? „ III i 407
Amplier than any field on our p earth Can render thanks „ III iii 197
Paget, you are all for this p life of ours, „ III iv 59
So they have sent p Courtenay over sea. „ III v 1 and my p chronicle Is but of glass. „ III v 46
Draw with your sails from our p land, „ III vi 226

Poor (adj.) (continued) To the p flock—to women and to children— Queen Mary IV ii 158 but my p voice Against them is a whisper to the roar Of a spring-tide. „ IV ii 185
'twas you That sign'd the burning of p Joan of Kent; „ IV ii 206
Pooh, pooh, my Lord! p garrulous country-wives. „ IV iii 546 Stays longer here in our p north than you:— „ V i 24 and you know The crown is p. „ V i 170
I have play'd with this p rose so long I have broken off the head. „ V ii 2
And the p son turn'd out into the street To sleep, „ V ii 125
I still will do mine utmost with the Pope. P cousin! „ V ii 132
I had forgotten How these p libels trouble you. „ V ii 202
P lads, they see not what the general sees, „ V ii 447 this p throat of mine, Barer than I should wish a man to see it,— „ V ii 460
I would she could have wedded that p youth, „ V ii 476
There—up and down, p lady, up and down. „ V v 6
I am eleven years older than he, P boy! „ V v 47
P enough in God's grace! „ V v 50 and p Pole pines of it, As I do, to the death. „ V v 128
Why would you vex yourself, P sister? „ V v 264 lighten'd for me The weight of this p crown, Harold I i 218
From spies of thine to spy my nakedness In my p North! „ I i 353 Spite of this grisly star ye three must gall P Tostig. „ I i 420
the p thunder Never harm'd head. „ I ii 231
How wan, p lad! how sick and sad for home! „ II ii 325
P brother! still a hostage! „ II ii 329
Far as he knew in this p world of ours— „ II ii 363
P Wulfnoth! do they not entreat thee well? „ II ii 403
Alas! p man, His promise brought it on me. „ III i 337 only grandson To Wulfnoth, a p cow-herd. „ IV i 70
For England, for thy p white dove, who flutters „ IV i 230 these p hands but sew, Spin, broider— „ IV iii 9 thy victories Over our own p Wales, „ IV iii 27
Tostig, p brother, Art thou so anger'd? „ V i 272
Praying perchance for this p soul of mine In cold, „ V i 323
I know Some three or four p priests a thousand times Becket, Pro. 291
I could pity this p world myself that it is no better ordered. „ Pro. 366
P bird of passage! so I was; but, father, „ I i 253
P soul! p soul! My friend, the King! . . . „ I i 334 p rogues (Heaven bless 'em) who never saw nor dreamed of such a banquet. „ I iv 82
My lord Archbishop, may I come in with my p friend, my dog? „ I iv 94
P beast! p beast! set him down. „ I iv 105
That my p heretic heart would excommunicate His excommunication, „ II i 283
P man, beside himself—not wise. „ II ii 235
I learn but now that those p Poitevins, „ II ii 427 his fond excess of wine Springs from the loneliness of my p bower, „ III i 40
I have lived, p bird, from cage to cage, „ III i 222
In our p west We cannot do it so well. „ IV ii 316 his p tonsure A crown of Empire. „ V i 194 p mother, Soon as she learnt I was a friend of thine, „ V ii 109
Mutilated, p brute, my sumpter-mule, „ V ii 440
And drown all p self-passion in the sense Of public good? The Cup II 101
Thy way? p worm, crawl down thine own black hole „ II 494
Welcome to this p cottage, my dear lady. The Falcon 270
I will, I will. P fellow! „ 281 you have said so much Of this p wreath that I was bold enough „ 427 very letters seem to shake With cold, with pain perhaps, p prisoner! „ 449
P Federigo degli Alberighi Takes nothing in return „ 715 that her flies Must massacre each other? this p Nature! Prom. of May I 285 you have robb'd p father Of ten good apples. „ I 615
And p old father not die miserable. „ I 722
Fonder of p Eva—like everybody else. „ II 11
Eva's sääke. Yeas. P gel, p gel! „ II 31
P sister, I had it five years ago. „ II 82

Poor (adj.) (continued) I have lost myself, and am lost for ever to you and my p father. Prom. of May II 85
P Eva! O my God, if man be only A willy-nilly current of sensations— „ II 261
He was only A p philosopher who call'd the mind „ II 281
This beggarly life, This p, flat, hedged-in field— „ II 344
How worn he looks, p man! who is it, I wonder. „ II 391
She has disappear'd, p darling, from the world— „ II 409
And my p father, utterly broken down By losing her— „ II 417 her p spaniel wailing for her, „ II 473
What was that? my p blind father— „ II 565
All depends on me—Father, this p girl, the farm, everything; „ III 211
P blind Father's little guide, Milly, „ III 231
That last was my Father's fault, p man. „ III 280
P Dora! „ III 286
after marriage this gentleman will not be shamed of his p farmer's daughter „ III 294 but indeed the state Of my p father puts me out of heart. „ III 504 and p Steer looks The very type of Age in a picture, „ III 512
What p earthworms are all and each of us, „ III 635
the p young heart Broken at last—all still— „ III 680
P fellows! Foresters I i 91
I'll cleave to you rich or p. „ I i 155
A price is set On this p head; „ II i 74
O my p father! „ II ii 8
all that live By their own hands, the labourer, the p priest; „ III 166
How should p friars have money? „ III 276
All those p serfs whom we have served will bless us, „ IV 1074

Poor (s) Ay, but to give the p. Queen Mary IV ii 43
To give the p—they give the p who die. „ IV ii 52 seeing now The p so many, and all food so dear. „ IV iii 209
Give to the p, Ye give to God. He is with us in the p. „ IV iii 213
Till all men have their Bible, rich and p. „ V v 249
That be the patrimony of the p? Becket I iii 106
Call in the p from the streets, and let them feast. „ I iv 72
Call in the p. The Church is ever at variance with the kings, and ever at one with the p. „ I iv 78 and there shall be no more p for ever. „ I iv 273 what we wring from them we give the p. Foresters II i 57
Ah dear Robin! ah noble captain, friend of the p! „ II i 183 what should you know o' the food o' the p? „ II i 283 break it all to pieces, as you break the p, „ II i 286
'Sell all thou hast and give it to the p;' „ III 170
Robin's an outlaw, but he helps the p. „ IV 359 and helps Nor rich, nor p. „ IV 362

Poorch (porch) kissin' o' one another like two sweet'arts i' the p Prom. of May I 22

Poorer I have seen heretics of the p sort, Queen Mary IV iii 436

Poor-hearted Methinks most men are but p-h, „ II ii 337

Pope (See also Antipope, Pwoap) has offer'd her son Philip, the P and the Devil. „ I i 106
O, the P could dispense with his Cardinalate, „ I i 126 our gracious Virgin Queen hath—— Crowd. No p! no p! Roger. —hath sent for the holy legate of the holy father the P, Cardinal Pole, „ I iii 25
we'll have no p here while the Lady Elizabeth lives. „ I iii 43
Will brook nor P nor Spaniard here to play „ I v 189
P would have you make them render these; „ I v 403
That knows the Queen, the Spaniard, and the P, „ II ii 414
And what a letter he wrote against the P! „ III i 174
If ever I cry out against the P „ III i 351
Philip and the P Must have sign'd too. I hear this Legate's coming To bring us absolution from the P. „ III i 429 commission from the P To absolve thee „ III ii 52
the P's Holiness By mine own self. „ III ii 110 and I am the Angel of the P. „ III ii 145
Is reconciled the word? the P again? „ III iii 3
So fierce against the Headship of the P, „ III iii 12
How should he bear the headship of the P? „ III iii 30 but the P—Can we not have the Catholic church „ III iii 96

Pope (continued) if we cannot, Why then the P. Queen Mary III iii 100 and acknowledge The primacy of the P? „ III iii 109 Legate From our most Holy Father Julius, P, „ III iii 126 obedience Unto the holy see and reigning P „ III iii 158 Given unto us, his Legate, by the P, „ III iii 211 who not Believes the P, „ III iii 238
Legate Is here as P and Master of the Church, „ III iv 347
And let the P trample our rights, „ III iv 362
So then you hold the P— Gardiner. I hold the P! What do I hold him? what do I hold the P? „ III iv 371
I am wholly for the P, Utterly and altogether for the P, „ III iv 378 this realm of England and the P Together, „ IV i 28
The P himself waver'd; „ IV i 85
You would not cap the P's commissioner— „ IV ii 123
Now you, that would not recognise the P, „ IV ii 139
And so you have recanted to the P. „ IV ii 145
You have been more fierce against the P than I; „ IV ii 149
As for the P I count him Antichrist, „ IV iii 277 no, nor if the P, Charged him to do it— „ IV iii 557 yet the P is now colleagued with France; „ V i 139
The P would cast the Spaniard out of Naples: „ V i 148
The P has pushed his horns beyond his mitre— „ V i 152
But this new P Caraffa, Paul the Fourth, „ V ii 32 till the P, To compass which I wrote myself „ V ii 48 thought I might be chosen P, But then withdrew it. „ V ii 83
I still will do mine utmost with the P. „ V ii 131
the P Pointing at me with 'Pole, the heretic, „ V ii 174
The P and that Archdeacon Hildebrand His master, Harold III ii 144 human laughter in old Rome Before a P was born, „ III ii 165
—the P Is man and comes as God.— „ III ii 173
The P hath cursed him, marry me or no! „ III ii 191
To leave the P dominion in the West. „ V i 23
My legacy of war against the P From child to child, from P to P, from age to age, „ V i 328
Or till the P be Christ's. „ V i 332
The P's Anathema—the Holy Rood That bow'd to me „ V i 382 shall cross the seas To set the P against me— Becket, Pro. 36
I have the ear of the P. As thou hast honour for the P our master, „ I iii 199 it is the P Will be to blame—not thou. „ I iii 221 Cannot the P absolve thee if thou sign? „ I iii 230
Take it not that way—balk not the P's will. „ I iii 243 till I hear from the P I will suspend myself „ I iii 300
Under the shield and safeguard of the P, And cite thee to appear before the P, „ I iii 601
Why thou, the King, the P, the Saints, the world, „ I iii 705 make my cry to the P, By whom I will be judged; „ I iii 724 to brave The P, King Louis, and this turbulent priest. „ II i 312 you have traffick'd Between the Emperor and the P, between The P „ II ii 68
I told the P what manner of man he was. „ II ii 253 for tho' you suspended yourself, the P let you down again; „ II ii 357 the P will not leave them in suspense, for the P himself is always in suspense, „ II ii 358
if you boxed the P's ears with a purse, you might stagger him, „ II ii 370
—flatter And fright the P— „ II ii 473
He hath the P's last letters, „ III iii 24 ere P or King Had come between us! „ III iii 267
I, that thro' the P divorced King Louis, „ IV ii 417
—kinglike Defied the P, and, like his kingly sires, „ IV ii 440
Not I, the P. Ask him for absolution. „ V ii 379
But you advised the P. „ V ii 380
The P, the King, will curse you— „ V iii 182

Poplar apricot, Vine, cypress, p, myrtle, The Cup I i 3

Populace p, With fingers pointed like so many daggers, Queen Mary I v 148

Popular I am mighty p with them, Noailles. „ I iii 101

Porcelain I made him p from the clay of the city— Becket I iii 438

Porch (See also Poorch) stand within the p, and Christ with me: Queen Mary I ii 51 dove, who flutters Between thee and the p, Harold IV i 232

Port For tho' we touch'd at many pirate p's, Foresters IV 983

Porter And scared the gray old p and his wife. Queen Mary II iii 16
The p, please your Grace, hath shut the gates „ II iv 60 Positive and the heart of a—that's too p! The Falcon 87 heart like the stone in it—that's p again— „ 94
Positive-negative not a heart for any of them—that's p-n: „ 89
Possess Seek to p our person, hold our Tower, Queen Mary II ii 158
Thou didst p thyself of Edward's ear Harold V i 345
Possession demanded P of her person and the Tower. Queen Mary II ii 41
Possible hedge-rose Of a soft winter, p, not probable, „ III vi 16
Is it p That mortal men should bear their earthly heats Harold V i 282
Post (messenger) there is a p from over seas With news for thee. Harold II ii 208
Post (position) I dare not leave my p. Queen Mary I ii 59
Post (post-haste) till his man cum in p vro' here, Queen Mary IV iii 511
Post See Door-post
Pot Here's a p o' wild honey from an old oak, Foresters II i 295
Potato See Taäter
Potent To join a voice, so p with her Highness, Queen Mary IV i 117
I do think the King Was p in the election, Becket I i 129
Pothouse next time you waste them at a p you get no more from me. Prom. of May III 99
Pouch To plump the leaner p of Italy. Queen Mary III iv 365
I have but one penny in p, Foresters III 194
Poultry making of your butter, and the managing of your p? Prom. of May II 94
Pounce p like a wild beast out of his cage Queen Mary I i 87
Pound shall have a hundred p's for reward.' „ II iii 61
Pour as we pass, And p along the land, „ II i 232
P not water In the full vessel running out at top Harold I i 376
Poured and when ye shall hear it is p out upon earth, Becket I iv 37
Pout Nay, p out, cousin. Queen Mary I iv 134
Poverty I But add my p to thine. The Falcon 143
P crept thro' the door. Foresters I i 157
Powder Until the p suddenly blew him dead. Queen Mary IV iii 340
Power and God grant me p to burn! „ I ii 99
Mine is the fleet and all the p at sea— „ I iv 287 may fence round his p with restriction, „ II i 172 Back'd by the p of France, and landing here, „ III i 447 and the p They felt in killing. „ III iv 75
Is bounden by his p and place to see „ III iv 212
What would'st thou do hadst thou his p, „ III iv 279
What p this cooler sun of England hath „ III iv 327
P hath been given you to try faith by fire— „ IV ii 153
May learn there is no p against the Lord. „ IV iii 66
I am but a woman, I have no p.— „ V v 131
ay, young lord, there the king's face is p. Harold I i 73
p's of the house of Godwin Are not enframed „ I i 316 Crush it at once With all the p I have!— „ I i 357 Wisdom when in p And wisest, should not frown as P, „ I i 364 the true must Shall make her strike as P: „ I i 369 Come hither, I have a p; „ III i 5 wood-fungus on a dead tree, I have a p! „ III i 9 when Tostig hath come back with p, „ IV i 118
No p mine To hold their force together . . . „ IV iii 212
Not know that he nor I had p to promise? „ V i 49 p to balk Thy puissance in this fight „ V i 117
I have a p—would Harold ask me for it—I have a p. „ V i 451
What p, holy father? Stigand. P now from Harold to command thee hence „ V i 454 she, whom the King loves indeed, is a p in the State. Becket, Pro. 483 you That owe to me your p over me— „ II ii 152
The King had had no p except for Rome. „ II ii 412 who am, or was, A sovereign p? „ IV ii 405
And weeps herself into the place of p; „ V ii 215 tho' it be their hour, the p of darkness, But my hour too, the p of light „ V iii 93
The p of life in death to make her free! „ V iii 100
At the right hand of P—P and great glory— „ V iii 193 have you p with Rome? use it for him! The Cup I ii 289
Alas! I have no such p with Rome. „ I ii 292 Has no more p than other oracles „ II 34 happiest, Lady, in my p To make you happy. „ II 240 and Napoleons To root their p in. Prom. of May III 594 Not her, the father's p upon her. Foresters I iii 9 break, Far as he might, the p of John— „ II i 696

Power (continued) In this dark wood when all was in our p Foresters III 183
Practice Tho' we have pierced thro' all her p's; Harold V i 156
Practise to p on my life, By poison, fire, shot, stab— Queen Mary I iv 284
I am tender enough. Why do you p on me? Synorix. Why should I p on you? The Cup I ii 238
Præcipitatur Equus cum equite P. Harold V i 599
Prædator Hostis in Angliam Ruit p, „ V i 507
Præpediatur Equus cum pedite P! „ V i 530
Praise (s) in grateful p of Him Who now recalls Queen Mary III iii 165
Out of the mouths of babes and sucklings, p! Becket II ii 279
All p to Heaven, and sweet St. Magdalen! „ III iii 234
Praise (verb) Make all tongues p and all hearts beat for you. Queen Mary I v 117
His friends would p him, I believed 'em, „ I v 623
P the Saints. It is over. No more blood! Harold V ii 194 gangrenes, and running sores, p ye the Lord, Becket I iv 256 Hear thy people who p thee! The Cup II 5 those pale mouths which we have fed will p us— Foresters IV 1077 Praised P, where you should have blamed him, Queen Mary I v 600 she so p The convent and lone life— Harold I ii 46 where is this Mr. Edgar whom you p so in your first letters? Prom. of May I 777
Prance If they p, Rein in, not lash them, Harold I i 371
P'raps (perhaps) And p ye hears 'at I soomtimes täakes a drop too much; Prom. of May II 107
Prate Come, sirs, we p; hence all— Queen Mary II ii 372
P not of bonds, for never, oh, never again Becket V ii 356 yet they p Of mine, my brawls, when those, „ V ii 426
Prated fat fool! He drawl'd and p so, Harold IV ii 41
Prating Why did you keep me p? Horses, there! Queen Mary V iii 113
Prattled and p to each other that we would marry fine gentlemen, Prom. of May III 276
Prattling p to her mother Of her betrothal Queen Mary V v 231
Save for the p of thy little ones. Harold II ii 122
Pray P—consider— Queen Mary I iv 141
Mix not yourself with any plot I p you; „ I iv 173
And so take heed I p you— „ I iv 273
P God he do not be the first to break them, „ I v 269
I p God No woman ever love you, „ I v 601 and we p That we, your true and loyal citizens, „ II ii 134
I've found this paper; p your worship read it; „ II iii 56
Sir Thomas, p you go away, „ II iii 99 we'll p for you all on our bended knees. „ II iii 109
we p you to kill the Queen further off, „ II iii 114
we'll p for you on our bended knees „ II iii 121
Pass then, I p your Highness, to the Tower. „ II iv 31
P you go on. (repeat) „ III i 374, 389
Whereon we humbly p your Majesties, „ III iii 143
And p Heaven That you may see according to our sight. „ III iv 329
P God, we 'scape the sunstroke. „ III v 279
P you write out this paper for me, Cranmer. „ IV ii 60
You are to beg the people to p for you; „ IV ii 76
So, so; this will I say—thus will I p. „ IV ii 114
P you, remembering how yourself have changed, „ IV ii 155
P for him. Cranmer. Ay, one and all, dear brothers, p for me; P with one breath, „ IV iii 101
Again, I p you all that, next to God, „ IV iii 175
I p you all to live together Like brethren; „ IV iii 181
Go in, I p you. „ V i 214
I have to p you, some odd time, „ V i 257
I p you be not so disconsolate; „ V ii 129
'We p continually for the death Of our accursed Queen „ V ii 180
she loved much: p God she be forgiven. „ V v 271
I p thee, let me hence and bring him home. Harold I i 241
I p thee, do not go to Normandy. „ I i 249
Son Harold, I will in and p for thee. „ I i 267
P God the people choose thee for their king! „ I i 314
p in thy behalf For happier homeward winds „ II ii 197
'I p you do not go to Normandy.' „ II ii 218 can but p For Harold—p, p, p— „ III ii 194 p God My Normans may but move as true with me „ V ii 183
—I p your pardon. Becket, Pro. 36
My liege, I p thee let me hence: „ Pro. 186
May we not p you, Madam, to spare us the hardness „ Pro. 385 pray'd me to p thee to pacify Thy King; „ I iii 206

Pray (continued) won't we p for your lordship! Becket I iv 141
I p God I haven't given thee my leprosy, " I iv 214 bid you this night p for him who hath fed " I iv 266 and p God she prove True wife to you. " II ii 77
I p you, Do not defend yourself. " II ii 111 we p you, draw yourself from under The wings of France. " II ii 247
I p you come and take it. " II ii 263
I p you then to take my sleeping-draught; " IV ii 69 but p you do not work upon me. " V i 81
I could not eat, sleep, p: " V ii 92
P for me too: much need of prayer have I. " V ii 195
P you, hide yourself. " V ii 257
I p you for one moment stay and speak. " V ii 525
he p's you to believe him. Camma. I p him to believe —that I believe him. The Cup II 55
Are you so sure? I p you wait and see. " II 106
P you, Go on with the marriage rites. " II 397
I p you lift me And make me walk awhile. " II 472
P thee make Thy slender meal out of those scraps The Falcon 144
Will he not p me to return his love— " 247
P, pardon me! " 395
I p you pardon me again! " 478
Nay, nay, I p you rise. " 921
I p you, look at Robin Earl of Huntingdon's men. Foresters I i 35
Spare me thy spare ribs, I p thee; " I i 54
I p Heaven we may not have to take to the rushes. " I i 89
I p you, my lady, if a man and a maid love one another, " I i 171 he p's your ladyship and your ladyship's father " I i 299
I p you, my lady, to stand between me " I i 303
My lord, myself and my good father p " I ii 127
Pardon him again, I p you; " I ii 246
I p thee go, go, for tho' thou wouldst bar " II i 354
O your honour, I p you too to give me an alms. " II i 389
I p thee give us guides To lead us " II i 632 and will p for you That you may thrive, " III 251 and I p you to come between us again, " III 412
I p you, my lady, come between me and my Kate " III 421
I p you, my liege, let me execute the vengeance of the Church upon them. " IV 915
I p thee, for the moment strike the bonds " IV 961
All widows we have holpen p for us, " IV 1078
Pray'd when the headsman p to be forgiven, Queen Mary III i 393 and p me to confess In Wyatt's business, " III v 166 p me not to sully Mine own prerogative, " IV i 16
P me to pay her debts, and keep the Faith; " V v 257
Edward's prayers Were deafen'd and he p them dumb, Harold I ii 22
He p me to pray thee to pacify Thy King; Becket I iii 206
She p me when I loved A maid with all my heart Foresters I ii 295
Prayer grant me my p: Give me my Philip; Queen Mary I v 86 is every morning's p Of your most loyal subject, " I v 103 Catholic, Mumbling and mixing up in his scared p's " II ii 87 leave me, Philip, with my p's for you. " III vi 228 doubtless I shall profit by your p's. " III vi 231
We make our humble p unto your Grace " IV i 43
Our p's are heard! " IV iii 254
A life of p and fasting well may see Harold I i 199 and left me time And peace for p " I i 220 the king is ever at his p's; " I i 411
Edward's p's Were deafen'd and he pray'd them dumb, " I ii 21
My p's go up as fast as my tears fall, " III i 166
A life of life-long p against the curse " III i 278 she hath begun Her life-long p for thee. " III i 324 more the love, the mightier is the p; " III i 347 pray, pray, pray—no help but p, " III ii 196 our old songs are p's for England too! " V i 222 let not my strong p Be weaken'd in thy sight, " V i 647
If fast and p, the lacerating scourge— Becket I iii 303 your p's will do more for me in the day " I iv 144 breathe one p for my liege-lord the King, " V ii 191 Pray for me too: much need of p have I. " V ii 196 never yet Flung back a woman's p. The Cup I ii 300
'He never yet flung back a woman's p.'— " I ii 456
Can I fancy him kneeling with me, and uttering the same p; Prom. of May III 181
Praying I cast me down prone, p; Harold V i 100
Praying (continued) P for Normandy; Harold V i 219
P perchance for this poor soul of mine " V i 323
Preach bad my chaplain, Castro, p Against these burnings. Queen Mary III vi 74
Friend, tho' so late, it is not safe to p. " V iv 42
Preach'd and her priests Have p, the fools, " III vi 99
By all the truths that ever priest hath p, Harold III i 98
Preaching That any man so writing, p so, Queen Mary IV iii 47
Preachment Gramercy for thy p! Foresters IV 398
Precatur Pereant, pereant, Anglia p. Harold V i 534
Precedent It is against all p to burn One who recants; Queen Mary IV ii 48
Precious the State to him but foils wherein To set that p jewel, Roger of York, Becket, Pro. 270
Would wrest from me the p ring I promised Never to part with— Foresters II i 660
Precipice break of p that runs Thro' all the wood, The Cup I ii 21
A p above, and one below— Foresters IV 533 Predecessor Of all his p's may have done Becket II ii 180 die upon the Patriarchal throne Of all my p's? " V iii 76
Predetermined wolf Mudded the brook and p all. Harold V i 3
Preface Be the rough p of some closer bond? Queen Mary I iv 48
Prefer He did p me to the chancellorship, Becket, Pro. 415
Preference That one, then, should be grateful for your p. Prom. of May II 556
Preferr'd but you still p Your learned leisure. Queen Mary III iv 257
Prejudice Which might impugn or p the same; " III iii 133
Prelacy and queenship, all priesthood and p; " V iv 49
Prelate p's kneel to you.— " I iv 82
Chief p of our Church, archbishop, " IV iii 70
For how should reverend p or throned prince " IV iii 542
P, The Saints are one, Harold III i 222
Nay, if I cannot break him as the p, Becket I iii 333
And that too, perjured p— " I iii 736 to excommunicate The p's whom he chose to crown his son; " V ii 399
To all the archbishops, bishops, p's, barons, " V ii 404 cask of wine whereof we plunder'd The Norman p? Foresters III 308
Prelude I kiss it as a p to that privilege Prom. of May II 528 Premises Wheer be Mr. Edgar? about the p? Dobson. Hallus about the p! " I 433 Prepare I ought to p you. You must not expect to find " III 418
Prepared (See also All-prepared) and the Lord hath p your table— Becket I iv 131
I am p to die. " V ii 562
Prerogative pray'd me not to sully Mine own p, Queen Mary IV i 18 Presence You do not own The bodily p in the Eucharist, " I ii 44
I scarce had left your Grace's p " I v 584 our lowliest thanks For your most princely p; " II ii 133
I sign it with my p, if I read it. " IV ii 73
And you, that would not own the Real P, Have found a real p in the stake, " IV ii 141
Has fled our p and our feeding-grounds. Becket II ii 22
Before these bandits brake into your p. " V ii 557 this world Is brighter for his absence as that other Is darker for his p. Prom. of May II 459
I cannot tell, tho' standing in her p. " II 558
Present (gift) means to make A farewell p to your Grace. Queen Mary I iv 245
The old King's p, carried off the casks, Becket V ii 442
My lord, I have a p to return you, The Falcon 711 Present (time) These let them keep at p; Queen Mary I v 407 at this p deem it not Expedient to be known. " IV iii 56 for the past Look'd thro' the p, Prom. of May II 641 Enough at any rate for the p. " III 19 to whom all things, up to this p, Foresters I i 209 Present (verb) Lord Paget Waits to p our Council to the Legate. Queen Mary III ii 98 p her with this oaken chaplet as Queen of the wood, Foresters III 58
Presentation 'All causes of advowsons and p's, Becket I iii 79
Presenting P the whole body of this realm Of England, Queen Mary III iii 116
President I, John of Oxford, The P of this Council, Becket I iii 76
Press pebble which his kingly foot First p'es Queen Mary I v 370
So p on him the duty which as Legate " III iv 401
Hate thee for this, and p upon me— Harold II ii 546
As years go on, he feels them p upon him, Prom. of May I 647 old faces P round us, and warm hands Foresters I iii 20

Pressing And all the foolish world is p thither. Foresters III 149 Pressure By too much p on it, I would fain, Harold II ii 165 almost think she half return'd the p Of mine. Prom. of May II 628
Prest p upon By the fierce Emperor and his Antipope. Becket I iii 202
Presume Wherefore dost thou p to bear thy cross, „ I iii 503
Why dost thou p, Arm'd with thy cross. „ I iii 507
Presumed So—so—I have p Beyond my strength. Foresters II i 456
Presumptive You, The heir p. Queen Mary I iv 33
Presumptuous a traitor so p As this same Wyatt, „ II ii 179
Pretext That was their p—so they spake at first— „ II ii 150
Prettier Dear Eva Was always thought the p. Prom. of May II 379
P than that same widow which you wot of. Foresters III 268
Prettiest (See also Purtiest) Thou art the p child I ever saw. Becket IV i 7
Prettily p you did it, And innocently. Queen Mary V ii 147
Pretty That's not a p question. „ I v 610
I mean, my p maiden, A p man for such a p maiden.
Alice. My Lord of Devon is a p man. I hate him. „ I v 612
Then, p maiden, you should know that whether „ I v 618
Peace, p maiden. I hear them stirring in the Council Chamber. „ I v 627
Pwoaps be p things, Joan, but they wunt set i' the Lord's cheer o' that daay. „ IV iii 469
A p lusty boy. Becket II i 247
The p gaping bills in the home-nest Piping for bread— „ II ii 300 and gave me a great pat o' the cheek for a p wench, „ III i 126
And mighty p legs too. „ IV i 6
P one, how camest thou? „ IV i 20
I am the fairy, p one, a good fairy to thy mother. „ IV i 25
You are not p, like mother. Eleanor. We can't all of us be as p as thou art—little bastard. „ IV i 37
I love thy mother, my p boy. „ IV i 45
Then is thy p boy a bastard? „ IV ii 112 over which If p Geoffrey do not break his own, „ IV ii 177
How fares thy p boy, the little Geoffrey? „ V ii 167
Blessings on your p voice, Miss Dora. Prom. of May I 63
Well, tho' I grudge the p jewel, that I Have worn, „ I 473
Ay, you be a p squire. „ II 689 and meä coomin' along p sharp an' all? „ III 97
P mistress! Foresters I ii 189
P mistress, will you dance? „ I ii 203
I have lodged my p Katekin in her bower. „ II i 417
Behold a p Dian of the wood, „ III 267
Here is one would clutch Our p Marian for his paramour, „ IV 767
Prevail Plead to him, I am sure you will p. The Cup I ii 302 Prey The p they are rending from her— Queen Mary V ii 268 leaves him A beast of p in the dark, Prom. of May I 505 when Our English maidens are their p, Foresters III 179
Price A p is set On this poor head; „ II i 72
Prick with right reason, flies that p the flesh. Queen Mary III iv 70 rose but p's his nose Against the thorn, Harold I i 422 spire of Holy Church may p the graves— Becket I iii 553
This wild one—nay, I shall not p myself—Is sweetest. „ II i 144 not thorn enough to p him for it, Ev'n with a word? „ III i 251 were I taken They would p out my sight. Foresters II i 72
P 'em in the calves with the arrow-points—p 'em in the calves. „ IV 560
P him in the calves! „ IV 567 and if thou p me there I shall die. Robin. P him where thou wilt, so that he dance. „ IV 569
Not paid at York—the wood—p me no more! „ IV 623
What p's thee save it be thy conscience, man? „ IV 625
Prick'd be those I fear who p the lion To make him spring, Harold IV iii 94
Prick'st There thou p me deep. „ II ii 423
Pride (s) P of the plebeian! Becket, Pro. 457
O bolster'd up with stubbornness and p, „ I iii 35 Smooth thou his p—thy signing is but form; „ I iii 218 ambition, p So bloat and redden his face— The Cup II 169
P of his heart—the solace of his hours— The Falcon 223 my sister wrote that he was mighty pleasant, and had no p in him. Prom. of May I 117
He 'ant naw p in 'im, and we'll git 'im „ I 439
Pride (verb) I p myself on being moderate. Queen Mary V iv 60
Priest (See also Hedge-priest, High-priest) Perinde ac cadaver—as the p says, „ I iv 180
And this bald p, and she that hates me, „ I iv 282 Priest (continued) You have ousted the mock p, Queen Mary I v 180 the cruelty of their p's. „ II i 169 every Spanish p will tell you that all „ III i 229
The bible is the p's. „ III i 286 no foreign prince or p Should fill my throne, „ III v 236 her p's Have preach'd, the fools, „ III vi 98 spare to take a heretic p's, Who saved it „ IV i 132 masses here be sung By every p in Oxford. „ IV iii 101 burnt The heretic p, workmen, and women and children. „ V v 106
I will see none except the p. Your arm. „ V v 196
Nor let P's talk, or dream of worlds to be, „ V v 217 your P's Gross, worldly, simoniacal, unlearn'd! Harold I i 161
By all the truths that ever p hath preach'd, „ III i 97 blow the trumpet, priest! „ III i 189
And on it falls the shadow of the p; „ III ii 70
Nor kingly p, nor priestly king to cross „ III ii 93 three or four poor p's a thousand times Becket, Pro. 291 fearful P Sits winking at the license of a king, „ I ii 65
For London had a temple and a p „ I iii 59 brave The Pope, King Louis, and this turbulent p. „ II i 313 Less clashing with their p's— „ II ii 147 old p whom John of Salisbury trusted Hath sent another. „ III i 69
A notice from the p, „ III iii 3
The p's of Baal tread her underfoot— „ III iii 179 madden Against his p beyond all hellebore. „ IV ii 460
Not one whose back his p has broken. „ V i 145
Will no man free me from this pestilent p? „ V i 263
No traitor to the King, but P of God, „ V iii 112
How the good p gods himself! „ V iii 149 that more freely than your formal p, Prom. of May III 633 than if my wife And siding with these proud p's, Foresters III 125 all that live By their own hands, the labourer, the poor p; „ III 166 Priestess Hear thy p'es hymn thy glory! The Cup II 7 who has been So oft to see the P, „ II 11 for her beauty, stateliness, and power, Was chosen P „ II 17 wills, thro' me her P, In honour of his gift „ II 350
Thy pardon, P! „ II 374
Priesthood and queenship, all p and prelacy; Queen Mary V iv 48
The heathen p of a heathen creed! Becket I iii 63
Priestly nor p king to cross Their billings ere they nest. Harold III ii 93
Primacy and acknowledge The p of the Pope? Queen Mary III iii 109 Against the Holy Father's p, „ III iii 131 all my lifelong labour to uphold The p—a heretic. „ V ii 71
Primal Have I climb'd back into the p church, „ I ii 49
Primate That I am not the man to be your P, Becket I i 39
Thou still hast shown thy p, Gilbert Foliot. „ I iii 282 bravest in our roll of P's down From Austin— „ V ii 58
Priest of God, P of England. „ V iii 114
Primm'd p her mouth and put Her hands together— „ III i 74
Prince Her Majesty Hears you affect the P— Queen Mary I iv 82
if this P of fluff and feather come To woo you, „ I iv 162 this Philip, the proud Catholic p, And this bald priest, „ I iv 281
The p is known in Spain, in Flanders, „ I v 207
These p's are like children, must be physick'd, „ I v 233
Yet I know the P, „ I v 364
Why do they talk so foully of your P, Renard? „ I v 426
The lot of P's. To sit high Is to be lied about. „ I v 428 the most princelike P beneath the sun. „ I v 445
If you have falsely painted your fine P; „ I v 599
Now as your P, I say, I, „ II ii 188
A p as naturally may love his people „ II ii 192 your lawful P Stand fast against our enemies „ II ii 241
Your lawful P hath come to cast herself „ II ii 261
But this proud P— Bagenhall. Nay, he is King, „ III i 71
Why, ev'n the haughty p, Northumberland, „ III i 147
The second P of Peace— „ III ii 164 little murder'd p's, in a pale light, „ III v 147 no foreign p or priest Should fill my throne, „ III v 235 dance into the sun That shines on p's. „ III v 254 of this fair p to come; „ III vi 100 that I may bear a p. If such a p were born „ III vi 202
I should be here if such a p were born. „ III vi 206
Shall these accuse him to a foreign p? „ IV i 24

Prince (continued) how should reverend prelate or throned p — Queen Mary IV iii 543 make it clear Under what P I fight. — Becket I iii 545
Before the P and chief Justiciary, — „ I iii 709
Ay, the p's sat in judgment against me, — „ I iv 129
Like some wise p of this world from his wars, — „ V ii 13
Reginald, all men know I loved the P. — „ V ii 334
And you a P and Tetrarch in this province— — The Cup I ii 89
O the most kindly P in all the world! — „ I iii 356
Good P, art thou in need of any gold? — Foresters I ii 162
She struck him, my brave Marian, struck the P, — „ II i 135 night Betray me to the wild P. — „ II i 708
No ribald John is Love, no wanton P, — „ IV 46
We told the P and the Sheriff of our coming. — „ IV 575
we will hang thee, p or no p, sheriff or no sheriff. — „ IV 583
Knowest thou not the P? — „ IV 683
He may be p; he is not gentleman. — „ IV 685
You, P, our king to come— — „ IV 696
This gallant P would have me of his— — „ IV 701

Princelike but your Philip Is the most p Prince beneath the sun. — Queen Mary I v 445

Princely Courtenay seems Too p for a pawn. — „ I iii 167
Your star will be your p son, — „ I v 416 beseech Your Highness to accept our lowliest thanks For your most p presence; — „ II ii 133

Princess The P there? If I tried her and la— — „ I iv 16
Also this Wyatt did confess the P Cognisant thereof, — „ II iv 112 Clear Courtenay and the P from the charge — „ III i 135
To sound the P carelessly on this; — „ V i 259
My p of the cloud, my plumed purveyor, — The Falcon 7

Principes Sederunt p, ederunt pauperes. — Becket I iv 131

Print It mun be true, fur it wur i' p as black as owt. — Prom. of May II 731

Printed Only the golden Leopard p in it — Becket II ii 85

Prior We spoil'd the p, friar, abbot, monk, — Foresters III 167

Priory Our priories are Norman; — Harold III i 37

Prison (adj.) The p fare is good enough for me. — Queen Mary IV ii 42

Prison (s) Duke of Suffolk lately freed from p, — „ I iii 122
Of those two friars ever in my p, — „ IV ii 94
Long have I lain in p, yet have heard — „ IV iii 210
Tear out his eyes, And plunge him into p. — Harold II ii 492
To plunge thee into life-long p here:— — „ II ii 550
Except I clap thee into p here, — Becket V i 111
Ho there! thy rest of life is hopeless p. — „ V i 180
First, free thy captive from her hopeless p. — „ V i 184
In the perpetual twilight of a p, — The Falcon 442 but no! We hear he is in p. — Foresters II i 34
This is my son but late escaped from p, — „ II i 461
Richard risks his life for a straw, So lies in p— — „ IV 384
No, no! we have certain news he died in p. — „ IV 779
This young warrior broke his p — „ IV 999

Prison'd —tongueless and eyeless, p— — Harold II ii 497

Prisoner (See also Fellow-prisoner) She is going now to the Tower to loose the p's — Queen Mary I i 109
I shall but be their p in the Tower. — „ II iv 33
there by Sir Maurice Berkeley Was taken p. — „ II iv 96
Quoth Elizabeth, p. — „ III v 21
But I am royal, tho' your p, — „ III v 177 where he sits My ransom'd p. — Harold II ii 45 but he had p's, He tore their eyes out, — „ II ii 388
Knave, hast thou let thy p scape? — „ II ii 673
We have few p's in mine earldom there, — „ II ii 686
if he follow thee, Make him thy p. — Becket I i 332
Am I a p. Leicester. By St. Lazarus, no! — „ I iii 729
Come with us—nay—thou art our p— — „ V iii 143
Ay, make him p, do not harm the man. — „ V iii 145
Come; as he said, thou art our p. — „ V iii 156
I might have sent him p to Rome. — The Cup II 418
With cold, with pain perhaps, poor p! — The Falcon 450 the boy was taken p by the Moors. — Foresters I i 60

Prison-silence I have had a year of p-s, Robin, — „ IV 924

Privacy Will let you learn in peace and p — Queen Mary III iv 326

Private Or into p life within the realm. — „ IV i 47
We'll have no p conference. — „ V iii 13
Sir, we are p with our women here— — „ V v 119
My bed, where ev'n the slave is p—he— — Becket V i 251

Private (continued) mix our spites And p hates with our defence of Heaven. — Becket V ii 52

Privilege Thou hast broken thro' the pales Of p, — „ III iii 194
I kiss it as a prelude to that p — Prom. of May II 528

Privy Those that are now her P Council, sign'd Before me: — Queen Mary I ii 22
theretoward unadvised Of all our P Council; — „ II ii 205

Prize (s) too rich a p To trust with any messenger. — The Falcon 725

Prize (verb) we p The statue or the picture all the more p The pearl of Beauty, even if I found it — Prom. of May I 737
All here will p thee, honour, worship thee, — „ III 600
— Foresters II ii 17

Prized I that so p plain word and naked truth — Harold III i 93
Is not virtue p mainly for its rarity — Becket III iii 303

Probable wild hedge-rose Of a soft winter, possible, not p, — Queen Mary III vi 17

Probing P an old state-secret— — „ V ii 486

Proceed is it then with thy goodwill that I P against thine evil councillors, — Becket III iii 209
I love you all the same. P. — Foresters III 438

Proceeding O Holy Ghost! p from them both, — Queen Mary IV iii 119

Procession will you not follow the p? — „ I i 129 they led P's, chanted litanies, — „ III vi 95

Proclaim Wyatt, shall we p Elizabeth? — „ II i 238 and p Your true undoubted faith, — „ IV iii 112
You must p Elizabeth your heir. (repeat) — „ V i 191, 204
P's himself protector, and affirms The Queen — „ V i 289
P it to the winds. — „ V ii 290

Prodigal happy was the p son, For he return'd to the rich father; — The Falcon 141

Prodigality 'Lust, P, Covetousness, Craft, — Prom. of May II 284

Produce Lifted our p, driven our clerics out— — Becket V ii 432

Profess and p to be great in green things and in garden-stuff. — The Falcon 551

Proffer'd but this day he p peace. — Becket II ii 240 second grain of good counsel I ever p thee, — „ III iii 318

Profit doubtless I shall p by your prayers. — Queen Mary III vi 230

Profitless are p to the burners, And help the other side. — „ IV ii 218

Profligate P pander! Fitzurse. Do you hear that? — Becket V iii 160

Promise (s) Speak, Master Cranmer, Fulfil your p made me, — Queen Mary IV iii 112 Done right against the p of this Queen Twice given. — „ IV iii 455 and to send us again, according to His p, — „ V iv 53
That thou wouldst have his p for the crown? — Harold I i 203 know'st my claim on England Thro' Edward's p: — „ II ii 13
I am heir Of England by the p of her king. — „ II ii 125
Ay . . . if the king have not revoked his p. — „ II ii 610 sorrow'd for my random p given To yon fox-lion. — „ III i 269 all p's Made in our agony for help from heaven? — „ III i 286 poor man, His p brought it on me. — „ III i 338
They know King Edward's p and thine—thine. — „ V i 45
Not know that Edward cancell'd his own p? — „ V i 52 kingly p given To our own self of pardon, — Becket II ii 431 and the more shame to him after his p, — „ III i 131
Nothing, so thy p be thy deed. — „ III iii 224 royal p might have dropt into thy mouth — „ III iii 275
He fenced his royal p with an if. — „ III iii 278
Hath broken all his p's to thyself, — „ V i 3
O joy for the p of May, (repeat) — Prom. of May I 43, 44, 723, 725
O grief for the p of May, (repeat) — „ I 59, 60, 750, 752
he had not forgotten his p to come when I called him. — Prom. of May III 330
So lovely in the p of her May, — „ III 753
She is mine. I have thy p. — Foresters IV 754

Promise (verb) ye did p full Allegiance and obedience — Queen Mary II ii 168
According as King Edward p's. — Harold II ii 714
Not know that he nor I had power to p? — „ V i 50
Didst thou not p Henry to obey These ancient laws — Becket I iii 16
I p thee on my salvation That thou wilt hear — „ I iii 254 and I p thee not to turn the world upside down — „ II i 241 before God I p you the King hath many more wolves — „ III iii 321
I p you that if you forget yourself in your behaviour to this gentleman, — Prom. of May I 161
Did I not p not to listen to him, — „ III 569
I p thee to make this Marian thine. — Foresters I ii 183

Promised letter which thine Emperor p Long since, Queen Mary I v 348
Wyatt, but now you p me a boon. „ II iii 81
Since thou hast p Wulfnoth home with us, Harold II ii 167
He p that if ever he were king In England, „ II ii 587
I p The King to obey these customs, Becket I iii 556
Have I not p to restore her, Thomas, „ III iii 182
Have I not p, man, to send them back? „ III iii 190
I p one of the Misses I wouldn't meddle wi' ye, Prom. of May I 469 has p to keep our heads above water; „ III 169 bit by bit—for she p secrecy—I told her all. „ III 380 precious ring I p Never to part with— Foresters II i 661 fair play Betwixt them and Sir Richard—p too, „ IV 99
Promising By this our supplication p, Queen Mary III iii 135
Prona Acies Acies, P sternatur! Harold V i 582
Prone I cast me down p, praying; „ V i 100
I am a man not p to jealousies, Prom. of May III 626
Pronounce Thou shalt p the blessing of the Church Foresters IV 927
Pronounced Judges had p That our young Edward Queen Mary I ii 24
He is p anathema. „ IV i 187
P his heir of England. Harold I ii 195 hath King Edward not p his heir? „ II ii 576
Proof A diamond, And Philip's gift, as p of Philip's love, Queen Mary III i 67
There was no p against him. „ V ii 492 with full p Of Courtenay's treason? „ V ii 498
You have yet No p against him: The Cup I i 81
—having p enough Against the man, „ I iii 157
Prophecy Dream, Or p, that? Becket I i 56
Well, dream and p both. „ I i 57
Jest or p there? Herbert. Both, Thomas, both. „ I i 67
Prophet (adj.) our hearts, our p hopes Let in the happy distance, The Cup I ii 413
Prophet (s) His p's, and apostles, in the Testaments, Queen Mary IV iii 232
No God but one, and Mahound is his p. Becket II ii 226
Thou art no p, Nor yet a p's son. „ II ii 421
And some of you were p's that I might be Foresters I ii 81
Prosper Saints Pilot and p all thy wandering out Harold I i 265
If you p, Our Senate, wearied of their tetrarchies, The Cup I i 88
To make my marriage p to my wish! „ II 308
Prosper'd Had p in the main, but suddenly Becket I iii 381
Prosperous And I will make Galatia p too, The Cup I iii 169
Protect 'If any cleric be accused of felony, the Church shall not p him; Becket I iii 88
No: it must p me. „ I iii 493
Protector Proclaims himself p, and affirms The Queen Queen Mary V i 289 Protest I p Your Grace's policy hath a farther flight „ I v 311
we do p That our commission is to heal, „ III iii 184
By St. James I do p, „ III vi 253
Proud But if this Philip, the p Catholic prince, „ I iv 280
You are shy and p like Englishmen, „ II ii 257
But this p Prince— Bagenhall. Nay, he is King, you know, „ III i 71
As p as Becket. „ III i 332
The p ambitions of Elizabeth, And all her fieriest partisans— „ III ii 169 it is not for us To see the p Archbishop mutilated. Becket I iii 614
I am p of my 'Monk-King,' „ II ii 101
we know you p of your fine hand, „ IV ii 261
But kinglike fought the p Archbishop,—kinglike „ IV ii 438 p Ev'n of that stale Church-bond which link'd „ IV ii 446 ladyship were not Too p to look upon the garland, The Falcon 663 fur we was all on us p on 'er, Prom. of May II 37
I am sure you must be p of it. „ III 611 than if my wife And siding with these p priests, Foresters III 125 Prove If but to p your Majesty's goodwill, Queen Mary I v 260
And Thomas White will p this Thomas Wyatt, And he will p an Iden „ II ii 367
He'll burn a diocese to p his orthodoxy. „ III iv 353
More kinglike he than like to p a king. Harold II ii 142 p me nothing of myself! Becket I iii 292 and pray God she p True wife to you. „ II ii 78 to p Bigger in our small world than thou art. „ V i 127
I fear I might p traitor with the sheriff. Foresters IV 872 Proved I thought Mr. Edgar the best of men, and he has p himself the worst. Prom. of May II 86
Proven (adj.) And thou thyself a p wanton? Becket IV ii 115
Proven (verb) Who knows? the man is p by the hour. Queen Mary II ii 364
Much suspected, of me Nothing p can be. „ III v 20
However you have p it. „ III vi 17
The truth of God, which I had p and known. „ IV iii 149
That Love is blind, but thou hast p it true. Foresters II i 644
Provençal translated that hard heart into our P facilities, Becket, Pro. 380 Provence Of P blew you to your English throne; „ V i 123 such a comedy as our court of P Had laugh'd at. „ V i 189 Proverb your Ladyship hath sung the old p out of fashion. Foresters I i 164
'Much would have more,' says the p; „ IV 308 Provided perchance a happy one for thee, P— Harold II ii 204
Providence by God's p a good stout staff Lay near me; Queen Mary V ii 468
Province and make us A Spanish p; „ III i 466
Sometime the viceroy of those p's— „ III ii 196 p's Are hard to rule and must be hardly ruled; „ III ii 200 beyond his mitre—Beyond his p. „ V i 154
I am the Dean of the p: let me bear it. Becket I iii 498
Out of thy p? „ I iii 506
With revenues, realms, and golden p's „ V ii 346 you a Prince and Tetrarch in this p— Sinnatus. P! The Cup I ii 90 they call it so in Rome. Sinnatus. P! „ I ii 94
Whose lava-torrents blast and blacken a p To a cinder, „ II 303
Proving all but p man An automatic series of sensations, Prom. of May I 225
Provoke Would I could move him, P him any way! The Cup I ii 137
Prow Our silver cross sparkled before the p, Queen Mary III ii 9
Prowess who know His p in the mountains of the West, Harold IV i 165
Ay, ay, because I have a name for p. Foresters II i 560
Prowling that our wolf-Queen Is p round the fold. Becket III iii 8
Prune (s) and one plate of dried p's be all-but-nothing, The Falcon 136
Oh sweet saints! one plate of p's! „ 216 p's, my lady, from the tree that my lord „ 562 the p's, my lady, from the tree that his lordship— „ 684
But the p's that your lordship— „ 692
Prune (verb) Ay, p our company of thine own and go! „ 695
Pruning-hook not Spear into p-h— Harold V i 442
Psalm-singing Ay, the p-s weavers, cobblers, scum— Queen Mary III iv 289
Psalter They scarce can read their P; Harold I i 163
Public (adj.) Wyatt, who hath tamper'd with A p ignorance, Queen Mary II ii 182
The p form thereof. „ IV ii 71
Is this a place To wail in, Madam? what! a p hall. „ V i 213
O father, mock not at a p fear, Harold I i 74
This is no secret, but a p matter. Becket V ii 319
And drown all poor self-passion in the sense Of p good? The Cup II 103
Public (s) he and Wulfnoth never Have met, except in p; Harold II ii 86
Publius P! Publius. Here! The Cup I iii 1
P! P! No, „ I iii 119
Pudding See Plum-pudding
Puddle I raised him from the p of the gutter, Becket I iii 436
Puff (s) And that a p would do it— Queen Mary III i 444
Puff (inter.) I stay myself—P—it is gone. Becket II ii 151
Puffed p out such an incense of unctuosity into the nostrils of our Gods of Church and State, „ III iii 114
Puissance And all the p of the warrior, „ I i 152
Pull 'P him down! Away with him!' Queen Mary IV iii 280
Pulled or rather p all the Church with the Holy Father Becket III iii 76
Pulpit Spain in the p and on the law-bench; Queen Mary I i 177
Would make this Cole a cinder, p and all. „ IV iii 11
Pulpited See Re-pulpited
Pulse In this low p and palsy of the state, „ II ii 103 a jest In time of danger shows the p's even. „ II ii 357
I came to feel the p of England, „ III i 37
There somewhere beats an English p in thee! Harold II ii 266
How few Junes Will heat our p's quicker! Foresters IV 1062
Pulsed blood That should have only p for Griffyth, Harold I ii 150
Pumpy (Pompey, name of horse) Scizzars an' P was good uns to goä (repeat) Prom. of May II 308, 318
Punish Not p of your own authority? Becket V ii 450
Punishment My p is more than I can bear. Harold V ii 201
Pupil See Fellow-pupil
Puppy as a mastiff dog May love a p cur for no more reason Queen Mary I iv 195
Purchase To p for Himself a stainless bride; „ III iii 205

Purchased I stept between and p him, Harold II ii 40
Pure Your royal father (For so they say) was all p lily and rose Queen Mary II v 20
Nay, p phantasy, your Grace. „ I v 280
If cold, his life is p. „ I v 333
Of a p life? Renard. As an angel among angels. „ I v 448
Exhort them to a p and virtuous life; „ IV ii 77
For the p honour of our common nature, „ IV iii 297
Your Majesty has lived so p a life, „ V v 73
A gentle, gracious, p and saintly man! Harold II ii 584 the heavens—cry out for thee Who art too p for earth. Becket IV ii 134 never since have met Her equal for p innocence of nature, Prom. of May II 372
And yet I had once a vision of a p and perfect marriage, „ III 188 could I stoop so low As mate with one that holds no love is p, Foresters IV 712
Purer O higher, holier, earlier, p church, Queen Mary IV ii 108
A sane and natural loathing for a soul P, and truer Becket II i 172
Purgatory He burns in P, not in Hell. Queen Mary IV i 56
To p, man, to p. Peters. Nay, but, my Lord he denied p. „ IV iii 627
He miss the searching flame of p, Becket V iii 13
Purge that his fan may thoroughly p his floor. Queen Mary III iv 369
Purging you are art and part with us In p heresy, „ III iv 317
Purity I have lived a life of utter p: Harold I i 178 Purple He slew not him alone who wore the p, Queen Mary I v 500 same chair, Or rather throne of p, on the deck. „ III ii 8 and open'd out The p zone of hill and heaven; The Cup I ii 408
The king should pace on p to his bride, „ II 189
Wrap them together in a p cloak And lay them both Harold V ii 158 Purpose it is an age Of brief life, and brief p, Queen Mary III iv 413 these burnings will not help The p of the faith; „ IV ii 185
Somewhat beyond your settled p? „ V i 207
Stigand should know the p's of Heaven. Harold I i 64 thunder moulded in high heaven To serve the Norman p, „ II ii 34
I knew thy p; he and Wulfnoth never Have met, „ II ii 84
I loved according to the main p and intent of nature. Becket, Pro. 502
If the King hold his p, I am myself a beggar. „ I iv 89
if it suit their p to howl for the King, „ III iii 324
I see now Your p is to fright me— „ IV ii 180 can touch The ghittern to some p. The Falcon 799
The p of my being is accomplish'd, „ 926
Purse Red gold—a hundred p's—yea, and more! Harold III i 18
if you boxed the Pope's ears with a p, you might stagger him, but he would pocket the p. Becket II ii 370 how much money hast thou in thy p? Foresters III 274 Pursue retire To Ashridge, and p my studies there. Queen Mary I iv 237
Pursuer only pulsed for Griffyth, beat For his p. Harold I ii 152
They turn on the p, horse against foot, „ V i 608 Pursuing Your Highness knows that in p heresy Queen Mary V ii 96 fled from his own church by night, No man p. Becket II ii 158
Purtiest (prettiest) they be two o' the p gels ye can see of a summer murnin'. Prom. of May I 30
Purveyor not my p Of pleasures, but to save a life— Becket, Pro. 149
My princess of the cloud, my plumed p, The Falcon 8
Push To shake my throne, to p into my chamber— Becket V i 249
Push'd P by the crowd beside— Queen Mary IV iii 397
Pope has p his horns beyond his mitre— „ V i 152 like a thief, p in his royal hand; „ V ii 466
And p our lances into Saracen hearts. Becket II ii 94
His Holiness, p one way by the Empire and another by England, „ II ii 327
Are p from out communion of the Church. „ V i 58
P from all doors as if we bore the plague, Prom. of May III 804 Put Not prettily p? I mean, Queen Mary I v 611 that these statutes may be p in force, „ III iv 367 p off the rags They had mock'd his misery with, „ IV iii 589
Ay, Renard, if you care to p it so. „ V i 309
Had p off levity and p graveness on. „ V ii 510
And p it in my bosom, and all at once „ V v 98
P thou the comet and this blast together— Harold.
P thou thyself and mother-wit together. Harold II i 15
P her away, p her away, my liege! P her away into a nunnery! Becket, Pro. 63
Put (continued) As one that p's himself in sanctuary. Becket I iii 479
Our brother's anger p's him, Poor man, „ II ii 234 evilly used And p to pain. „ II ii 434 when I shall p away—— Rosamund. What will you p away? „ III i 3 she was hard p to it, and to speak truth, „ III i 113 you have p so many of the King's household out of communion, „ III iii 310
Geoffrey, the pain thou hast p me to! „ IV ii 10 wholesome medicine here P's that belief asleep. „ IV ii 52
To p her into Godstow nunnery. (repeat) Becket, Pro. v i 208, 209
He bad me p her into a nunnery— Becket V i 214
I p the bitters on my breast to wean him, The Falcon 189
Was it there to take? P it there, my lord. „ 599
I have p him off as often; but to-day „ 831
I could p all that o' one side easy anew. Prom. of May II 111
What is it Has p you out of heart? Dora. It p's me in heart Again to see you; but indeed the state Of my poor father p's me out of heart. „ III 501 they p it upon me because I have a bad wife. Foresters III 437
Putrid And p water, every drop a worm, Queen Mary IV iii 444
And I ha' nine darters i' the spital that be dead ten times o'er i' one day wi' the p fever; Becket I iv 251
Putting p by his father's will. Queen Mary I ii 28
Putting on marriage-garland withers even with the p o, Becket, Pro. 360
Pwoap (Pope) P's be pretty things, Joan, Queen Mary IV iii 468 but I do know ez P's and vires be bad things; „ IV iii 500
'll burn the P out o' this 'ere land vor iver and iver. „ IV iii 536
Pyx and the Lady Anne Bow'd to the P; „ I v 42

Q

Quack Quash'd my frog that used to q Foresters II ii 149
Quadruple would treble and q it With revenues, Becket V ii 345
Quail some may q, Yet others are that dare Queen Mary III iv 166 Quarrel (s) this marriage is the least Of all their q. „ II ii 155 and there bide The upshot of my q, „ II iv 86 one to rule All England beyond question, beyond q. Harold IV i 146
Q of Crown and Church—to rend again. Becket II ii 56 thro' all this q I still have cleaved to the crown, „ V i 47
Their q's with themselves, their spites The Cup I i 90
Quarrel (verb) we will not q about the stag. „ I ii 39
Quarry and howsoe'er Thy q wind and wheel, The Falcon 12
Why didst thou miss thy q yester-even? „ 151
Quart To reign is restless fence, Tierce, q, and trickery. Queen Mary V v 267 and can make Five q's pass into a thimble. Foresters IV 283 Quarter Thou hast not learnt thy q's here. Harold II ii 154 after much smouldering and smoking, be kindled again upon your q. Becket II ii 314
Quarterstaff I will break thy sconce with my q. Foresters I ii 76
I am too late then with my q! „ II i 428 thou fight at q for thy dinner with our Robin, „ IV 207
Great woodland king, I know not q. „ IV 216
Shall I undertake The knight at q, „ IV 248
Give him the q. „ IV 250
I know no q. „ IV 257
I am overbreathed, Friar, by my two bouts at q. „ IV 267
That thou mightst beat him down at q! „ IV 518
Quash so you q rebellion too, Queen Mary III iv 37
Quash'd Q my frog that used to quack Foresters II ii 149 Queen (s) (See also Wolf-queen) if Parliament can make the Q a bastard, Queen Mary I i 49 cackling of bastardy under the Q's own nose? „ I i 59 met the Q at Wanstead with five hundred horse, and the Q „ I i 77 setting up a mass at Canterbury To please the Q. „ I ii 89
Q's Officers Are here in force to take you to the Tower. „ I ii 107
'Long live Elizabeth the Q!' „ I iii 8

Queen (s) (continued) our gracious Virgin Q hath—— Crowd. No pope! no pope! Queen Mary I iii 23 our Gracious Q, let me call her our second Virgin Mary, " I iii 57 Prince of Spain coming to wed our Q! " I iii 84 Arise against her and dethrone the Q— " I iii 91 does your gracious Q entreat you kinglike? " I iii 110 with her own pawns plays against a Q, " I iii 163
The Q is ill advised: " I iv 5 my Lady Q, tho' by your age, " I iv 11
Has not the Q— Elizabeth. Done what, Sir? " I iv 28
I am utterly submissive to the Q. " I iv 39 the Q Is both my foe and yours: " I iv 41 you have solicited The Q, and been rejected. " I iv 59
So royal that the Q forbad you wearing it. " I iv 76
Your ear; You shall be Q. " I iv 122
He hath fallen out of favour with the Q. " I iv 157
Q would see your Grace upon the moment. " I iv 221 the Q is yours. I left her with rich jewels " I iv 240 Come, come, I will go with you to the Q. " I iv 298
I am English Q, not Roman Emperor. " I v 503
Tho' Q, I am not Q Of mine own heart, " I v 521 when I, their Q, Cast myself down upon my knees " I v 561 for the Q's down, and the world's up, " II i 65 but, for appearance sake, stay with the Q. " II i 138 and the Q hath no force for resistance. " II i 140
If this man marry our Q, " II i 170 the Q, and the laws, and the people, his slaves. " II i 174 must we levy war against the Q's Grace? " II i 187 war for the Q's Grace—to save her " II i 189
I trust the Q comes hither with her guards. " II ii 1
Q in that distress Sent Cornwallis and Hastings " II ii 29 Nay the Q's right to reign— " II ii 96 now the Q In this low pulse and palsy " II ii 102 Q had written her word to come to court: " II ii 117 your Q; To whom, when I was wedded to the realm " II ii 163 and be sure your Q So loves you, " II ii 194 Long live Queen Mary! Down with Wyatt! The Q! " II ii 252
The Q of England—or the Kentish Squire? " II ii 269
The Q of England or the rabble of Kent? " II ii 273
No! No! The Q! the Q! " II ii 282 Gardiner, coming with the Q, And meeting Pembroke, " II ii 309 no man need; but did you mark our Q? " II ii 320
Q stands up, and speaks for her own self; " II ii 341
That knows the Q, the Spaniard, and the Pope, " II ii 413 Whether I be for Wyatt, or the Q? " II ii 415 we know that ye be come to kill the Q, " II iii 108 don't ye kill the Q here, Sir Thomas; " II iii 111 we pray you to kill the Q further off, Sir Thomas.
Wyatt. My friends, I have not come to kill the Q " II iii 115
The Q must to the Tower. " II iv 73
My foes are at my feet and I am Q. " II iv 119 that the son Being a King, might wed a Q— " III i 75 How look'd the Q? " III i 91 before the Q's face Gardiner buys them " III i 143 Long live the King and Q, Philip and Mary! " III i 208 wilt thou wear thy cap before the Q? " III i 237
There be both King and Q, Philip and Mary. Shout! " III i 296
The Q comes first, Mary and Philip. " III i 299
The Q hath felt the motion of her babe! " III ii 213
'The Q of England is delivered of a dead dog!' " III ii 219
The Q would have him! " III iii 27
The Q would have it! " III iii 31 Philip's no sudden alien—the Q's husband, " III iii 42
if the Q should die without a child, " III iii 74
Peace—the Q, Philip, and Pole. " III iii 83
Her Grace the Q commands you to the Tower. " III iii 270 under our Q's regimen We might go softlier " III iv 181
I would not, were I Q, tolerate the heretic, " III iv 209
And done your best to bastardise our Q, " III iv 239
Our good Q's cousin—dallying over seas " III iv 292
Q, most wroth at first with you, " III iv 387 colours of our Q are green and white, " III v 5 to cast myself Upon the good Q's mercy; ay, when, my Lord? God save the Q! " III v 168

Queen (s) (continued) When next there comes a missive from the Q Queen Mary III v 183
A missive from the Q: " III v 187 and think of this in your coming. 'MARY THE Q.' " III v 225
I think the Q may never bear a child; I think that I may be some time the Q, Then, Q indeed: " III v 231
You cannot see the Q. Renard denied her, " III vi 1 Q hath been three days in tears For Philip's going— " III vi 12 bring it Home to the leisure wisdom of his Q, " III vi 23 Against the King, the Q, the Holy Father, " III vi 33
Would she had been the Q! " III vi 47
The Q of Philip should be chaste. " III vi 131
Be somewhat less—majestic to your Q. " III vi 150
King and Q, To whom he owes his loyalty after God, " IV i 22 Declare the Q's right to the throne; " IV ii 78
I must obey the Q and Council, man. " IV ii 164 causes Wherefore our Q and Council at this time " IV iii 36 which our Q And Council at this present " IV iii 55
For if our Holy Q not pardon him, " IV iii 61
Obey your King and Q, and not for dread " IV iii 177 Hard-natured Q, half-Spanish in herself, " IV iii 424 Done right against the promise of this Q Twice given. " IV iii 456
I but a little Q; and, so indeed, " V i 53
A little Q! but when I came to wed your majesty, " V i 55
Being Q of England, I have none other. " V i 69
She stands between you and the Q of Scots. Mary. The Q of Scots at least is Catholic. " V i 192
The Q in tears! " V i 223
How doubly aged this Q of ours hath grown " V i 227 Elizabeth, How fair and royal—like a Q, indeed? " V i 235 methinks my Q is like enough To leave me " V i 242 so my Q Would leave me—as—my wife. " V i 251 and I shall urge his suit Upon the Q, " V i 267 affirms The Q has forfeited her right to reign " V i 290 Might I not say—to please your wife, the Q? " V i 308 for the death Of our accursed Q and Cardinal Pole.' " V ii 181 Unhappiest Of Q's and wives and women! " V ii 408 Sees ever such an aureole round the Q, " V ii 414
I used to love the Q with all my heart— " V ii 418
Our drooping Q should know! " V ii 457
Most loyal and most grateful to the Q. " V iii 26
You will be Q, And, were I Philip— " V iii 37 gather'd from the Q That she would see your Grace " V iii 103
Is not yon light in the Q's chamber? " V iv 1 There's the Q's light. I hear she cannot live. " V iv 10 not courtly to stand helmeted Before the Q. " V v 37
The Q of Scots is married to the Dauphin, " V v 52
How is the good Q now? " V v 229
The Q is dying, or you dare not say it. Elizabeth. The Q is dead. " V v 250
I swear I have no heart To be your Q. " V v 265
God save Elizabeth, the Q of England! " V v 283
God save the Q! " V v 288
Thou art the Q; ye are boy and girl no more: Harold I i 455
Not yet, but then—my q. " I ii 138
If he were King of England, I his q, " I ii 154
And bless the Q of England. " I ii 207
Sign it, my q! " III i 201
They shout as they would have her for a q. " IV i 27
The Q of Wales! Why, Morcar, " IV i 152
Not true, my girl, here is the Q! " V ii 92 Wast thou his Q? Aldwyth. I was the Q of Wales. " V ii 94 that I fear the Q would have her life. Becket, Pro. 61
The Q should play his kingship against thine! " Pro. 236 Dead is he, my Q? " Pro. 368
However kings and q's may frown on thee. " I ii 18
Ay, Madam, and q's also. Eleanor. And q's also! " I ii 80
Remember the Q! " I iv 201
Vouchsafe a gracious answer to your Q? " IV ii 360 shall not I, the Q, Tear out her heart— " IV ii 408
My liege, the Q of England. Henry. God's eyes! " V i 96
Of England? Say of Aquitaine. I am no Q of England. " V i 101
I had dream'd I was the bride of England, and a q. " V i 103
He sends you This diadem of the first Galatian Q, The Cup II 132
I wait him his crown'd q. " II 161

Queen (s) (continued) Hail, King! Synorix. Hail, Q! The Cup II 220
Much graced are we that our Q Rome in you „ II 335
The sovereign of Galatia weds his Q. „ II 432
Synorix, first King, Camma, first Q o' the Realm, „ II 440
This all too happy day, crown—q at once. „ II 451
She too—she too—the bride! the Q! and I— „ II 468
My far-eyed q of the winds— The Falcon 9
I whisper'd, Let me crown you Q of Beauty, „ 360 with the same crown my Q of Beauty. „ 915 he's no respect for the Q, or the parson, or the justice o' peace, or owt. Prom. of May I 132 and the blessed Q of Heaven, Foresters II i 38
O would she stood before me as my q, „ II i 167
She is my q and thine, The mistress of the band. „ II ii 41 catch A glimpse of them and of their fairy Q— „ II ii 104
Tit, my q, must it be so? „ II ii 124
And this new q of the wood. „ II ii 139
Found him dead and drench'd in dew, Q. (repeat) Foresters II ii 148, 151, 153, 155, 157, 159, 161, 163, 171 present her with this oaken chaplet as Q of the wood, Foresters III 59
I were like a q indeed. „ III 77
Sit here, my q, and judge the world with me. „ III 151
Shall drink the health of our new woodland Q. „ III 315
The Q o' the woods, „ III 353
Maid Marian, Q o' the woods! (repeat) Foresters III 357, 375, 377, 398, 400
Drink to the health of our new Q o' the woods, Foresters III 368
We drink the health of thy new Q o' the woods. „ III 372
Drink to the Q o' the woods, „ III 388
—to this maid, this Q o' the woods. „ III 394
We care not much for a Q— „ III 430
For a Q, for a Q o' the woods. (repeat) „ III 431, 445
That we would die for a Q— „ III 444
You hear your Q, obey! „ III 464
And thou their Q. „ IV 932
Queen (verb) Tho' you should q me all over the realms „ IV 707
Queenlike So—am I somewhat Q, Queen Mary V ii 543 Queenly I have never seen her So q or so goodly. „ II ii 327 all men cry, She is q, she is goodly. „ II ii 343
Queen's 'Listed for a soädger, Miss, i' the Q Real Hard Tillery. Prom. of May III 109
Queenship to break down all kingship and q, Queen Mary V iv 48
Quell'd Not to be q; and I have felt within me „ I iv 259
Quench hiss Against the blaze they cannot q— Harold III i 396
Which it will q in blood! Becket IV ii 192
Quenched q the warmth of France toward you, „ II ii 311
And q it there for ever. The Cup II 88
Query had she but given Plain answer to plain q? Becket IV ii 386
Question (s) That is Your q, and I front it with another: Queen Mary I v 141
That's not a pretty q. „ I v 610
While this same marriage q was being argued, „ II ii 37
And by their answers to the q ask'd, „ II ii 153
You brawl beyond the q; speak, Lord Legate! „ III iv 97 one to rule All England beyond q, beyond quarrel. Harold IV i 145
I but ask'd her One q, and she primm'd Becket III i 74
But one q—How fares thy pretty boy, „ V ii 166
I have been unwilling to trouble you with q's, Prom. of May III 321
My Lady, will you answer me a q? Foresters I ii 136
A q that every true man asks of a woman once in his life. „ I ii 138
Question (verb) hath no fence when Gardiner q's him; Queen Mary I iv 203
Nor yet to q things already done; „ III iii 189
Cranmer, I come to q you again; „ IV ii 15 charged me not to q any of those About me. Becket III i 210
May she not tempt me, being at my side, To q her? „ III i 218
Question'd she q me. Did she not slander him? „ III i 212
Questioning he's past your q. Queen Mary I i 39
Quibble You crost him with a q of your law. Foresters IV 850
Quick Were momentary sparkles out as q Almost as kindled; Queen Mary I ii 73
That now we be and ever shall be q, „ III iii 137
Quick (continued) Away now—Q! Queen Mary V ii 295
The King is q to anger; if thou anger him, Becket I iii 164 his monarch mane Bristled about his q ears— The Cup I ii 121
Then with one q short stab—eternal peace. „ I iii 124 whose q flash splits The mid-sea mast, „ II 291
Q, good mother, q! Foresters II i 193
Quicken Employ us, heat us, q us, help us, The Cup I iii 131
Quicker How few Junes Will heat our pulses q! Foresters IV 1062
Quiet Q a moment, my masters; Queen Mary I iii 16
You know your Latin—q as a dead body. „ I iv 181
Q as a dead body. „ I iv 187
In q—home your banish'd countryman. „ III ii 31
Is the North q, Gamel? Harold I i 107
q, ay, as yet—Nothing as yet. „ I i 110
Q! q! Harold. Count! „ II ii 531
My lord, the town is q, and the moon Divides Becket I i 364 he asked our mother if I could keep a q tongue i' my head, „ III i 119
Your Grace will never have one q hour. „ V i 78
Follow my art among these q fields, Prom. of May I 743
Q! q! What is it? „ III 476
Q, good Robin, q! Foresters IV 9
Q, q! or I will to my father. „ IV 77
Quieted new Lords Are q with their sop of Abbey-lands, Queen Mary III i 142
Quieter it was in him to go up straight if the time had been q. Becket II ii 325
Quietest Thou art the q man in all the world— Harold I i 312
Quietist made me A Q taking all things easily. Prom. of May I 232
A Q taking all things easily— „ I 290
Quietness sleeping after all she has done, in peace and q, Queen Mary V iv 35
Quimper a Count in Brittany—he lives near Q. Foresters I i 272
Quip Did you hear the young King's q? Becket III iii 147
Quiring Are those the blessed angels q, father? Harold V i 473
Quiver for God Has fill'd the q, „ III i 400
Quiver'd the tongue yet q with the jest Queen Mary I v 475

R

Rabbit skulk into corners Like r's to their holes. Queen Mary II iv 56 stick to tha like a weasel to a r, I will. Ay! and I'd like to shoot tha like a r an' all. Prom. of May II 740
Rabble The Queen of England or the r of Kent? Queen Mary II ii 273
Rabidest Not dream'd of by the r gospeller. „ III vi 138
Race And I the r of murder'd Buckingham— „ III i 454 advise the king Against the r of Godwin. Harold V i 282 Till famine dwarft the r— Becket I iii 356
Wretched r! And once I wish'd to scourge The Cup I i 26
Solders a r together—yea—tho' they fail, „ I ii 162
And cursed me, as the last heir of my r: Foresters II ii 110
Racing in the r toward this golden goal Harold II ii 377
Rack the rope, the r, the thumbscrew, Queen Mary II i 200 Expectant of the r from day to day, „ IV iii 437 wrung his ransom from him by the r, Harold II ii 39
Raft as men Have done on r's of wreck—it drives you mad. The Cup I iii 142
Rag (See also Half-rag) this r fro' the gangrene i' my leg. Becket I iv 237
Rage (s) With all the r of one who hates a truth Queen Mary III vi 143
'Adulterous dog!' that red-faced r at me! The Cup I iii 122
Rage (verb) But the King r's—most are with the King; Becket I iii 591
Why do the heathen r? „ V ii 628
Ragged A r cloak for saddle—he, he, he, „ V i 248
Raging A bold heart yours to beard that r mob! Queen Mary I iii 96
Rags And here a knot of ruffians all in r, „ II ii 66
R, nothing but our r. Foresters III 191
Rahab scarlet thread of R saved her life; Queen Mary III ii 38
Raid The Norseman's r Hath helpt the Norman, Harold V i 291
Rail and r's against the rose. „ I i 423
He shall not r again. „ II ii 488
Rail'd We have the man that r against thy birth. „ II ii 485

Railer That Map, and these new r's at the Church Becket I i 306
Raiment and soft r about your body ; Queen Mary V iv 33 they spread their r down Before me— Becket V ii 369
Rain Never peacock against r Scream'd as you did Queen Mary III v 57
It is a day of r. „ IV ii 229
Ay, but he's taken the r with him. Becket III i 273 after r o'erleaps a jutting rock And shoots The Cup I i 110 the r beating in my face all the way, Prom. of May III 367 Rainbow R, stay, (repeat) Becket III i 276, 279
O r stay. „ III i 283 are only like The r of a momentary sun. Foresters I ii 279
Raining It is r, Put on your hood Becket III i 93 Raise I have striven in vain to r a man for her. Queen Mary II ii 17 make oath To r your Highness thirty thousand men, „ II ii 290 we will r us loans and subsidies „ V i 179
Tostig, r my head ! Harold III i 157
r his head, for thou hast laid it low ! „ III i 163
To r that tempest which will set it trembling Becket, Pro. 208 tho' I am none of those that would r a storm between you, „ III iii 296
Raised r the rood again, And brought us back the mass. Queen Mary I v 182
But you were never r to plead for Frith, „ IV ii 210
Poitou, all Christendom is r against thee ; Harold III ii 150
I r him from the puddle of the gutter, Becket I iii 436
I cannot brook the turmoil thou hast r. „ I iii 576 better Than r to take a life which Henry „ IV ii 268 thou hast r the world against thee. „ V ii 16
Rake do much To r out all old dying heats, „ II ii 114
Ralph (Sir Ralph Bagenhall) (See also Bagenhall, Ralph Bagenhall) Be merry ! yet, Sir R, you look but sad. Queen Mary II ii 358
Fare you well, Sir R. „ II ii 410
It is Sir R, And muttering to himself „ III i 15
I swear you do your country wrong, Sir R. „ III i 154
You are of the house ? what will you do, Sir R ? „ III i 436
Ralph Bagenhall Sir R R ! Bagenhall. What of that ? „ III iii 250
Rampant Such r weeds Strangle each other, die, Prom. of May III 590
Ran (See also Runned) R sunless down, and moan'd against the piers. Queen Mary II iii 26
And then I rose and r. Harold II i 12
How r that answer which King Harold gave „ IV iii 108
r in upon us And died so, „ V i 409
When they r down the game and worried it. Becket, Pro. 123
r a twitch across his face as who should say what's to follow ? „ III iii 93 vast vine-bowers R to the summit of the trees, The Cup I ii 403 wine R down the marble and lookt like blood. „ II 204 there r a rumour then That you were kill'd The Falcon 381 a fox from the glen r away with the hen, Prom. of May I 51 waded in the brook, r after the butterflies, „ III 275
And ever a tear down r. Foresters I i 19
For whom I r into my debt to the Abbot, „ II i 462
Random I sorrow'd for my r promise given To yon fox-lion. Harold III i 269
Laics and barons, thro' The r gifts of careless kings, Becket I i 159
And run my mind out to a r guest The Cup I ii 107
he begs you to forget it As scarce his act :—a r stroke : „ II 53
I that once The wildest of the r youth of Florence The Falcon 808 this Richard sacks and wastes a town With r pillage, Foresters IV 378
Randulf Robert, The apostate monk that was with R Becket V ii 574
Rang (See also Ringed) Heard how the shield-wall r, Harold IV iii 159
That r Within my head last night, Becket I i 70
—the bells r out even to deafening, „ V ii 363 her cry r to me across the years, Prom. of May II 655 Range (s) daily r Among the pleasant fields of Holy Writ Queen Mary III v 79
The r of knights Sit, each a statue on his horse, Harold V i 523
Range (verb) r with jetsam and with offal thrown Queen Mary III iii 191
Ranged that had found a King Who r confusions, Becket I iii 371
Since I left her Here weeping, I have r the world, Prom. of May II 252
Ranger Thou Robin shalt be r of this forest, Foresters IV 954 Rank (adj.) Fed with r bread that crawl'd upon the tongue, Queen Mary IV iii 442
Rank (line) many English in your r's To help your battle. Queen Mary V i 111
Would set him in the front r of the fight The Cup I ii 153
Rank (social station) Thrones, churches, r's, traditions, customs, Prom. of May I 519
Rankle Normans out From England, and this r's in us yet. Harold II ii 526
Ransom (s) wrench this outlander's r out of him— „ II i 58
Ransom (verb) in our oubliettes Thou shalt or rot or r. „ II i 108 wrung his r from him by the rack, „ II ii 38
he paid his r back. „ II ii 50
What conditions ? pay him back His r ? „ II ii 214 for the r of my son Walter— Foresters I i 265 Whose r was our ruin, „ IV 1007
Ransom'd where he sits My r prisoner. Harold II ii 45
Count of the Normans, thou hast r us, „ II ii 158
Sir Richard was told he might be r Foresters I i 64
Rare O r, a whole long day of open field. Becket I i 296
O r again ! We'll baffle them, „ I i 298
So r the household honeymaking bee, „ V ii 217
Rascal (adj.) and yield Full scope to persons r and forlorn, Queen Mary II ii 185
Or lash'd his r back, and let him go. Harold II ii 507
I blow the horn against this r rout ! Foresters IV 794
Rascal (s) Ay, r, if I leave thee ears to hear. Queen Mary III i 251
R !—this land is like a hill of fire, „ III i 321
Rat scurrying of a r Affrighted me, „ III v 143 tongue on un cum a-lolluping out o' 'is mouth as black as a r. „ IV iii 520 while famish'd r's Eat them alive. „ V ii 197
No bread ? Filippo. Half a breakfast for a r ! The Falcon 123
And a cat to the cream, and a r to the cheese ; Prom. of May I 53
The r's have gnawed 'em already. Foresters I i 88
Rate What do you r her at ? Count. My bird ? The Falcon 322
Rated Hath r for some backwardness Queen Mary IV iii 307
Rave r thy worst, but in our oubliettes Harold II i 106
Raven Night, as black as a r's feather ; III ii 6 and our battle-axes broken The R's wing, „ IV iii 65
I grieve I am the R who croaks it. Foresters III 448
Raven-croak With r-c's of death and after death ? „ II i 624
Raw To gorge a heretic whole, roasted or r. Queen Mary III iv 344 the town Hung out r hides along their walls, Harold II ii 383
Ray light of the seas by the moon's long-silvering r ! Foresters II ii 179
Raymond of Poitou Have we not heard R o P, thine own uncle— Becket IV ii 247
Re Suaviter in modo, fortiter in r, „ V ii 539 Reach (See also Win) To r the hand of mercy to my friend. Queen Mary IV i 65 shout of Synorix and Camma sitting Upon one throne, should r it, The Cup II 148
Reach'd your Grace, it hath not r me. Queen Mary I v 352
If Ludgate can be r by dawn to-morrow. „ II iii 53
They had not r right reason ; little children ! „ III iv 72
Whose dogmas I have r : „ IV ii 212 before The flame had r his body ; „ IV iii 616 that r a hand Down to the field beneath it, Harold IV i 44 so still I r my hand and touch'd ; Becket V ii 235
Re-act this re-action not r-a Yet fiercelier under Queen Elizabeth, Queen Mary IV iii 388
Re-action Action and r-a, The miserable see-saw „ IV iii 384 this r-a not re-act Yet fiercelier under Queen Elizabeth, „ IV iii 388
R needs must follow revel—yet— Prom. of May II 264
Read To r and rhyme in solitary fields, Queen Mary II i 51 show'd his back Before I r his face. „ II i 133 thro' that dim dilated world of hers, To r our faces ; „ II ii 326
I've found this paper ; pray your worship r it ; „ II iii 56
Ay, ay, my friend ; not r it ? „ II iii 64
There, any man can r that. „ II iii 68 clowns and grooms May r it ! „ III iv 37
And may not r your Bible, „ III iv 83
I r his honest horror in his eyes. „ III v 61
She came upon it, r it, and then rent it, „ III vi 142
Hath not your Highness ever r his book, „ IV i 90
Then never r it. The truth is here. „ IV i 99
r your recantation Before the people in St Mary's Church. „ IV ii 27

Read (continued) I sign it with my presence, if I r it. Queen Mary IV ii 73
That Cranmer r all papers that he sign'd ? ,, IV iii 318
This last—I dare not r it her— ,, V ii 183
I never r, I tear them ; ,, V ii 187
I may die Before I r it. Let me see him at once. ,, V ii 550 to r the letter which you bring. ,, V ii 555 what hath she written ? r. ,, V v 2
I cannot r the face of heaven ; Harold I i 66
He can but r the king's face on his coins. ,, I i 70
They scarce can r their Psalter ; ,, I i 163 on those Who r their doom and die. ,, IV i 252
President of this Council, r them. Becket. R ! Becket I iii 76
For John of Oxford here to r to you. ,, I iii 417
I could but r a part to-day, because— ,, I iii 422 and to r the faces of men at a great show. ,, III iii 83 paper sign'd Antonius—will you take it, r it ? The Cup I ii 226 Might I r ? Count. Ay, if you will. The Falcon 433
Shall I Sit by him, r to him, tell him my tales, ,, 795
Well, my man, it seems that you can r. Prom. of May II 710 tho' you can't r, you could whitewash that cottage ,, III 42
That nursery-tale Still r, then ? ,, III 526
Child, r a little history, you will find ,, III 542
Readier I am r to be slain, than thou to slay. Becket V iii 128 Readiness Have him away ! I sicken of his r. Queen Mary V ii 611
Reading (See also A-reädin') Been r some old book, ,, III i 44
Ready make r for the journey. Pray God, we 'scape the sunstroke. R at once. ,, III v 277
Simon, is supper r ? ,, III vi 256
We are r To take you to St. Mary's, Master Cranmer. ,, IV ii 237
I be r to taäke the pledge. Dora. And as r to break it again. Prom. of May III 84 but very r To make allowances, and mighty slow To feel offences. ,, III 628 Real And you, that would not own the R Presence, Have found a r presence in the stake, Queen Mary IV ii 140 there was a great motion of laughter among us, part r, part childlike, to be freed from the dulness— Becket III iii 155
Real Hard Tillery (Royal Artillery) 'Listed for a soädger, Miss, i' the Queen's R H T. Prom. of May III 109
Realised to be r all at once, or altogether, or anywhere but in Heaven ? ,, III 186 Realm the r is poor, The exchequer at neap-tide : Queen Mary I v 119 when I was wedded to the r And the r's laws ,, II ii 164
But for the wealth and glory of our r, ,, II ii 210
To be of rich advantage to our r, ,, II ii 235
Looms the least chance of peril to our r. ,, II ii 239
From stirring hand or foot to wrong the r. ,, III iii 61
Presenting the whole body of this r Of England, ,, III iii 116
As well for our own selves as all the r, ,, III iii 136 this noble r thro' after years May in this unity ,, III iii 156
God to this r hath given A token ,, III iii 168 all the r And its dominions from all heresy, ,, III iii 215
I think they fain would have me from the r ; ,, III v 230 a day may sink or save a r. ,, III vi 239 and degrade the r By seeking justice ,, IV i 19
I cannot be True to this r of England and the Pope ,, IV i 27
Or into private life within the r. ,, IV i 47
A shaker and confounder of the r ; ,, IV iii 40 first In Council, second person in the r, ,, IV iii 72
God's revenge upon this r For narrowness Harold I i 173
A conscience for his own soul, not his r ; ,, III i 64
And given thy r of England to the bastard. ,, III ii 154
To help the r from scattering. ,, IV i 106
Holy Father Hath given this r of England to the Norman. ,, V i 13
The r for which thou art forsworn is cursed, ,, V i 63
But by the royal customs of our r Becket, Pro. 23
For my r's sake, myself must be the wizard ,, Pro. 206 sign'd These ancient laws and customs of the r. ,, I iii 8 to obey These ancient laws and customs of the r ? ,, I iii 19
Ringing their own death-knell thro' all the r. ,, I iii 173
Barons and bishops of our r of England, ,, I iii 336
Much corn, repeopled towns, a r again. ,, I iii 377
Then, glancing thro' the story of this r, ,, I iii 411
To blast my r's with excommunication And interdict. ,, II ii 52

Realm (continued) since he flouts the will of either r, Becket II ii 256
Louis Returning, ah ! to drive thee from his r. ,, II ii 419 Rest in our r, and be at peace with all. ,, II ii 448 it is the law, not he ; The customs of the r. ,, V ii 127
With revenues, r's, and golden provinces ,, V ii 346
On those that crown'd young Henry in this r, ,, V ii 393
Whose winter-cataracts find a r and leave it The Cup II 305
Synorix, first King, Camma, first Queen o' the R, ,, II 441
Fairy r is breaking down Foresters II ii 134
Richard, again, is king over a r He hardly knows, ,, IV 387
What was this r of England, all the crowns ,, IV 403
Tho' you should queen me over all the r's Held by King Richard, ,, IV 708 thou and others in our kingless r's Were fighting ,, IV 820 Reap which we Inheriting r an easier harvest. Becket II ii 194
I may r something from him—come upon her The Cup I i 179
Rear lest they r and run And break both Harold I i 372 and r's his root Beyond his head, The Cup II 283 Reason mastiff dog May love a puppy cur for no more r Queen Mary I iv 195
Your Grace will hear her r's from herself. ,, I iv 230 with right r, flies that prick the flesh. ,, III iv 70
They had not reach'd right r ; little children ! ,, III iv 73
What human r is there why my friend ,, IV i 68
Other r's There be for this man's ending, ,, IV iii 53
Is there no r for the wrath of Heaven ? Harold I i 59
Thy fears infect me beyond r. Peace ! ,, II ii 451
Why, that is r ! Warrior thou art, ,, II ii 542
And with good r too, Becket I iii 58
ay, or himself In any r, ,, II ii 170
For this r, That, being ever duteous to the King, ,, II ii 463
I hate him for I hate him is my r, ,, V i 231
Reave We fear that he may r thee of thine own. ,, I iii 611
Rebel (adj.) that she breathes in England Is life and lungs to every r birth Queen Mary III vi 51
Your Grace hath been More merciful to many a r head ,, V ii 5
Our r Abbot then shall join your hands, Foresters IV 933 Rebel (s) (See also Co-rebels) How traitorously these r's out of Kent Queen Mary II ii 145 spoil and sackage aim'd at by these r's, ,, II ii 249 Charing Cross ; the r's broke us there, ,, II iv 76
Heretic and r Point at me and make merry. ,, V ii 317
Rebel (verb) Will not thy body r, man, if thou flatter it ? Becket, Pro. 102 Rebellion when there rose a talk of the late r, Queen Mary I i 92 and all r's lie Dead bodies without voice. ,, II i 79 let R Roar till throne rock, and crown fall. ,, II i 144 fly out and flare Into r's. ,, III i 284 so you quash r too, ,, III iv 37
Reborn In the r salvation of a land So noble. ,, III iii 182
Rebuilt Saints, I have r Your shrines, ,, V ii 299
Rebuked And Herbert hath r me even now. Becket I i 385
Recall Who now r's her to His ancient fold. Queen Mary III iii 167
Recant It is against all precedent to burn One who r's ; ,, IV ii 50
Recantation read your r Before the people in St. Mary's Church. ,, IV ii 27
Repeat your r in the ears Of all men, ,, IV ii 193
Well, they shall hear my r there. ,, IV ii 199 another r Of Cranmer at the stake. ,, IV iii 299 after all those papers Of r yield again, ,, IV iii 315 Papers of r ! Think you then That Cranmer read ,, IV iii 316
Recanted on the scaffold R, and resold himself to Rome. ,, III i 152
He hath r all his heresies. ,, IV i 49
He hath r, Madam. ,, IV i 54
I have err'd with him ; with him I have r. ,, IV i 67
And so you have r to the Pope. ,, IV ii 145 you r all you said Touching the sacrament ,, IV iii 261
Recanting any one r thus at full, As Cranmer hath, ,, IV i 59
but saved in heaven By your r. ,, IV ii 180 Receive Thou shalt r the penitent thief's award, ,, IV iii 86
the King, till another be appointed, shall r the revenues thereof.' Becket I iii 101
R it from one who cannot at present write The Cup I i 44
Dare beg him to r his diamonds back— The Falcon 262

Received His friends—as Angels I r 'em, Queen Mary I v 625 again r into the bosom And unity of Universal Church; „ III iii 154 Reck We r not tho' we lost this crown of England— „ III iv 55
You r but little of the Roman here, The Cup I i 189
Reckon I r's they'll hev' a fine cider-crop to-year if the blossom 'owds. Prom. of May I 315
Reckoning people do say that his is bad beyond all r, and—— Rosamund. The people lie. Becket III i 175
Reclaimed thou art r; He brings thee home: Queen Mary IV iii 83
Recognise Now you, that would not r the Pope, „ IV ii 138
Recommend I can r our Voltigeur.' Prom. of May III 311
Reconcile We come not to condemn, but r; Queen Mary III iii 186 Reconciled Is r the word? the Pope again? „ III iii 3 the world may know You twain are r, The Cup II 69
Record that thou keepest a r of his birthdays? Foresters I i 221
Recover Stay with us in this wood, till he r. „ II ii 10
Recover'd Methought I had r of the Becket, Becket V i 136
I see you quite r of your wound. The Falcon 391
if you be Not quite r of your wound, „ 590
'I hope your Lordship is quite r of your gout?' Prom. of May III 309
Recoverer but our r and upholder of customs hath Becket III iii 69
Re-create And bid him r-c me, Gilbert Foliot. „ I iii 126
Recrost Crost and r, a venomous spider's web— „ II i 199
Recurring And thousand-times r argument Of those two friars Queen Mary IV ii 93
Red (See also Blood-red, Human-red, Stormy-red) All r and white, the fashion of our land. „ I v 10 but took To the English r and white. „ I v 18
Her face on flame, her r hair all blown back, „ II ii 70 as r as she In hair and cheek; „ II ii 74
She wore r shoes! Stafford. R shoes! „ III i 59
Not r like Iscariot's. „ III ii 217
Laughs at the last r leaf, and Andrew's Day. „ III iii 87
R gold—a hundred purses—yea, and more! Harold III i 18
The nimble, wild, r, wiry, savage king— „ IV i 197
He hath blown himself as r as fire with curses. „ V i 87 and most amorous Of good old r sound liberal Gascon wine: Becket, Pro. 100
This chart with the r line! her bower! whose bower? „ Pro. 308
Fitzurse, that chart with the r line—thou sawest it—her bower. „ Pro. 428
A sight of that same chart which Henry gave you With the r line—'her bower.' „ I ii 62
Dash'd r with that unhallow'd passover; „ I iii 348 coming up with a song in the flush of the glimmering r? „ II i 8
What! have I scared the r rose from your face Into your heart? „ IV ii 73 hand R with the sacred blood of Sinnatus? The Cup II 84
He! . . . He, with that r star between the ribs, „ II 150 that the r wine Ran down the marble and lookt like blood, „ II 202 and seen the r of the battle-field, The Falcon 549
But a r fire woke in the heart of the town, Prom. of May I 50
Why, lass, what maäkes tha sa r? „ I 399
R with his own and enemy's blood— Foresters II i 32
We had it i' the R King's time, „ IV 303
Red-blooded And, when again r-b, speak again; Harold IV iii 208
Red-cheek'd Right honest and r-c; Queen Mary III v 106
Redden God r your pale blood! But mine is human-red; Becket I iv 35
How the good Archbishop r's! „ V ii 298 ambition, pride So bloat and r his face— The Cup II 170
Redden'd shown And r with his people's blood Harold I ii 243
Redder Theer be r blossoms nor them, Miss Dora. Prom. of May I 85
Redeem old Sir Richard might r his land. Foresters IV 487
Out of our treasury to r the land. „ IV 493
And Sir Richard cannot r his land. „ IV 565
Redeem'd who hath r us With His own blood, Queen Mary III iii 202
Redeemer O Son of God, R of the world! „ IV iii 118
Red-faced 'Adulterous dog!' that r-f rage at me! The Cup I iii 122
Redhats But the King hath bought half the College of R. Becket II ii 374
Redress He shall absolve you . . . you shall have r. „ V i 87
Reed some are r's, that one time sway to the current, „ I iii 593
R I rock'd upon broken-back'd, Foresters II ii 162
Re-edify hath begun to r-e the true temple— Queen Mary I iii 58

Reeking The r dungfork master of the mace! Queen Mary II ii 275
Reel r's Now to the right, then as far to the left, „ IV iii 395
Let all the air r into a mist of odour, The Cup II 185
I r beneath the weight of utter joy— „ II 450
Refer R my cause, my crown to Rome! . . . Harold V i 1
r myself, The King, these customs, Becket I iii 725
Re-flame Stamp out the fire, or this Will smoulder and r-f, Queen Mary I v 509
Reflected will be r in the spiritual body among the angels. Becket, Pro. 397
O my good lord, I am but an angel by r light. Foresters II i 108
Reflection I shone from him, for him, his glory, his R: Becket I iii 665 Reformation Northumberland, The leader of our R, Queen Mary III i 149
Reformer disaffected, heretics, r's, Look to you „ I iv 170
Refractory be we not in my lord's own r? Becket I iv 180
Refrain We will r, and not alone from this, Queen Mary II ii 236
Refreshment To find the sweet r of the Saints. Harold I i 177
Reft Not only r me of that legateship Queen Mary V ii 34
Refuge And I can find no r upon earth. „ IV iii 128
Take r in your own cathedral, (repeat) Becket V ii 583, 590
Refuse and r, Reject him, and abhor him. Queen Mary IV iii 278
I r to stand By the King's censure, Becket I iii 722
Refused More than once You have r his hand. The Cup II 43
Refusing r none That come to Thee for succour, Queen Mary IV iii 131
Regal were as glowing-gay As r gardens; „ III ii 14 face me out of all My r rights. Becket II ii 166 Regard even drown you In the good r of Rome. The Cup I i 151
Regarding and all men R her? Queen Mary IV iii 379
Regather'd And be r to the Papal fold? „ III ii 117
Regent O yes! In the name of the R. Foresters I iii 56
Regimen Sir, no woman's r Can save us. Queen Mary III i 122 under our Queen's r We might go softlier „ III iv 181
Reginald (Fitzurse, knight) (See also Fitzurse, Reginald Fitzurse) Ay! what wouldst thou, R? Becket I i 186
R, all men know I loved the Prince. „ V ii 333
I spake no word of treachery, R. „ V ii 402
No, R, he is dead. „ V iii 204
Reginald Fitzurse My lord, I follow'd R F. „ I i 236
R F! Fitzurse. Here, Madam, at your pleasure. „ IV ii 426
Reginald Pole (Cardinal and Papal Legate) (See also Pole) again to her cousin R P, now Cardinal; Queen Mary I i 123
R P, what news hath plagued thy heart? „ V ii 17
Reg'lar and see that all be right and r fur 'em afoor he coom. Prom. of May I 169
Reign (s) Suffer not That my brief r in England Queen Mary V ii 302
The r of the roses is done— (repeat) Becket, Pro. 303, 325
A r which was no r, „ I iii 340 looking thro' my r, I found a hundred ghastly murders „ I iii 406 Reign (verb) Madam, when the Roman wish'd to r, Queen Mary I v 498
Ay, for the Saints are come to r again. „ II i 22
we will teach Queen Mary how to r. „ II i 148
Nay the Queen's right to r— „ II ii 96 forfeited her right to r By marriage with an alien— „ V i 290
To r is restless fence, Tierce, quart, and trickery. „ V v 265
The Christian manhood of the man who r's! Harold II i 105 than to r King of the world without it. „ III ii 44 let him make it his own, let him r in it— Becket II i 18
Reign'd when that which r Call'd itself God.— Harold III ii 166
I have r one year in the wild wood. Foresters II i 36
Reigning Unto the holy see and r Pope Serve God Queen Mary III iii 158
Rein (s) no more r upon thine anger Than any child! „ III iv 302
Rein (verb) If they prance, R in, not lash them, Harold I i 372 Reject and refuse, R him, and abhor him. Queen Mary IV iii 279
Rejected you have solicited The Queen, and been r. „ I iv 59
Rejoice To be your king, ye would r thereat, „ II ii 224 blessed angels who r Over one saved „ III iii 180
I shall r To find my stray sheep back Becket III iii 354
Rejoicing Might it not be the other side r In his brave end? Queen Mary IV iii 357
Relate some r that it was lost When Wyatt sack'd „ V ii 503
Related for I am closely r to the dead man's family. Prom. of May II 715
Release full r from danger of all censures Queen Mary III iii 150
Relent O yet r. O, Madam, if you knew him „ IV i 154
Relic 'O blessed r's!' 'O Holy Peter!' Harold I ii 170 Swear to me by that r on thy neck. Prince John.
I swear then by this r on my neck— Foresters I ii 169

Religion accuse you of indifference To all faiths, all r; Queen Mary III iv 224
A soul with no r—My mother used to say Prom. of May III 532
Yet if thro' any want— Harold. Of this r? „ III 541
Wrong'd by the cruelties of his r's „ III 545
Religious Things that seem jerk'd out of the common rut Of Nature is the hot r fool, Harold I i 139
One half besotted in r rites. The Cup I i 74
Relish a kind of unction in it, a smack of r about it. Foresters I i 87
Bitters before dinner, my lady, to give you a r. „ III 435 Remain It then r's for your poor Gardiner, Queen Mary I v 220
r After the vanish'd voice, and speak to men. „ IV iii 163
R within the chamber, but apart. „ V iii 12 bishops down from all Their thrones in England? I alone r. Harold I i 52
R a hostage for the loyalty Of Godwin's house.' „ III i 90
Then on thee r's the curse, „ III i 314
R's beyond all chances and all churches, „ III ii 182
I r! Stigand. Yea, so will I, daughter, „ V i 458
the Past R's the Past. Prom. of May II 506 but he sent me an alphabetical list of those that r, „ III 29 three yards about the waist is like to r a virgin, Foresters I ii 70
I r Beside my Father's litter. „ IV 604
I r Mistress of mine own self and mine own soul. „ IV 728
Remain'd Have you r in the true Catholic faith Queen Mary IV ii 17 had they r true to me whose bread they have partaken. Becket I iv 149
Remainest thou r Gilbert Foliot, A worldly follower „ I iii 541
Remember thou could'st drink in Spain if I r. Queen Mary II i 39
R how God made the fierce fire „ IV iii 89
R, too, The triumph of St. Andrew on his cross, „ IV iii 93
R that sore saying spoken once By Him „ IV iii 202
Let all rich men r that hard word. „ IV iii 206
I r How I would dandle you upon my knee „ V ii 140 do you r what you said When last you came „ V ii 567 burnt for heresy, not for treason, R that! „ V v 141
I shall r this. Becket I i 232
I shall r this Discourtesy. „ I i 238
R the Queen! „ I iv 201
I r it well. There on the moors. „ II i 51
R also one who lives for thee Out there in France; „ II i 309
I shall R this. Becket. I do r thee; Lest I r thee to the lion, go. „ IV ii 290
He dared not—liar! yet, yet I r—I do r. „ V i 211
Doth he r me? Rosamund. I warrant him. „ V ii 177 drowning man, they say, r's all The chances of his life, „ V ii 273
I told thee that I should r thee! „ V iii 158
Sinnatus, you r—yea, you must, The Cup I ii 400
Do you r what I told you? „ I iii 3
R! Away—farewell! „ I iii 114
Dost thou r when I wedded Sinnatus? „ II 193
I do r your first-marriage fears. „ II 206
I r Her bright face beaming starlike Prom. of May II 247
I r, Scarlet hacking down A hollow ash, Foresters II ii 95
Rememberest Ha, Becket! thou r our talk! Becket, Pro. 404
Remembering r how yourself have changed, Queen Mary IV ii 155
r One who died for thee, Becket II i 307
Remission r Of half that subsidy levied Queen Mary I v 114
Remnant To yield the r of his years to heaven, „ III vi 210
Remorse doubt The man's conversion and r of heart, „ IV iii 108 yet—Why feel r, he, knowing that he must Prom. of May II 265
R then is a part of Destiny, „ II 268
Remorseless Felt the r outdraught of the deep Haul like a great strong fellow Harold II i 9
Remove Your Lordship may not have so long to wait. R him! Queen Mary II iv 108
Removed had to be r lest living Spain „ III i 27
Renard (Simon, Spanish Ambassador) (See also Simon, Simon Renard) O R, I am much beset, „ I v 384 talk so foully of your Prince, R? „ I v 427
No, R; it must never come to this. „ I v 481
O, Master R, Master R, If you have falsely painted „ I v 596
No woman ever love you, Master R. „ I v 602
Methought I smelt out R in the letter, „ II ii 119
Bear witness, R, that I live and die „ II iv 41
Renard (Simon, Spanish Ambassador) (continued) R and the Chancellor sharpen'd them. Queen Mary III i 5
there's no R here to 'catch her tripping.' „ III v 159
R denied her, Ev'n now to me. „ III vi 2
But, R, I am sicker staying here „ III vi 86
With R. Still Parleying with R, all the day with R, „ III vi 115
Good! R, I will stay then. „ V i 305
Ay, R, if you care to put it so. „ V i 309
Rend —ay, and r The renders too. „ V ii 269
The King may r the bearer limb from limb. Becket I i 378
Quarrel of Crown and Church—to r again. „ II ii 56
Take heed he do not turn and r you too: „ II ii 160 would r away Eyesight and manhood, „ IV ii 284
They howl for thee, to r thee head from limb. The Cup I ii 321
Render (s) ay, and rend The r's too. Queen Mary V ii 270 Render (verb) Pope would have you make them r these; „ I v 404 kindly rendering Of 'R unto Cæsar.' . . . The Good Shepherd! Take this, and r that. Harold III ii 168
Rendering kindly r Of 'Render unto Cæsar.' . . . „ III ii 167
Rending The prey they are r from her— Queen Mary V ii 268
Renounce —I here r them all; „ IV iii 245
Rent (s) would fight for his r's, his leases, his houses, Foresters I i 233 Rent (verb) She came upon it, read it, and then r it, Queen Mary III vi 142 tore away My marriage ring, and r my bridal veil; Harold I ii 80 Repaid if they were not r within a limited time your land should be forfeit. Foresters IV 467
Repay Do here and now r you sixty-fold, Queen Mary III iii 199
Repeal Towards the abrogation and r Of all such laws „ III iii 141
Repeat I'll r it. Elizabeth. No! „ I iv 126
See that you neither hear them nor r! „ I v 577
An overmuch severeness, I r, „ III iv 156
R your recantation in the ears Of all men, „ IV ii 193
R them to their music. The Falcon 454
Repeated Ay, and r them as often—mum! Queen Mary I v 580 Repeating I will not vex you by r them— Prom. of May II 408 Repent Grace to r and sorrow for their schism; Queen Mary III iii 177 pardon due To him that so r's, „ IV iii 34 as the libertine r's who cannot Make done undone, Harold III i 31
if thou didst r thy courtesy even in the doing it. Foresters I ii 243
Repentant R of his errors? Queen Mary IV iii 22
Repented As for what I did I suffer'd and r. „ III iv 259
He hath clean r of his Normanism. Harold III i 30
Repeopled Much corn, r towns, a realm again. Becket I iii 377
Replace cut the canvas out; We can r it. Queen Mary V v 184
Report (s) I have to make r of my good earldom Harold I i 406
Save for some slight r in her own Senate The Cup I ii 133 and if her beauties answer their r. Foresters I ii 28 Report (verb) and hundreds more; So they r: Queen Mary I ii 13 foreign courts r him in his manner „ V ii 511
Reported (I have a daughter in her service who r it) „ I i 76
Lord Fitzurse r this In passing to the Castle Becket I ii 12
Reproach Still plied him with entreaty and r: Queen Mary IV iii 577
We have parted from our wife without r, Harold V i 155 smiles, not tears; Good wishes, not r's; Prom. of May I 526
Re-pulpited r-p The Shepherd of St. Peter, Queen Mary I v 180
Repulse the fine attractions and r's, Becket, Pro. 500
Request I never heard of this r of thine. The Cup II 394
Requesting if you, At my r, will but look into Becket II ii 115
Requicken'd be No longer a dead letter, but r. Queen Mary III iv 10
Before these bitter statutes be r. „ III iv 197
Require can deny Nothing to you that you r of him. Lady Giovanna. Then I r you to take back your diamonds— The Falcon 718
Requite With a wanton in thy lodging—Hell r 'em! Becket I ii 10
Rescue Or seek to r me. I thank the Council. Queen Mary IV ii 38
Rescued sends you this cup r from the burning The Cup I i 41
Is that the cup you r from the fire? „ I i 71
Reseat R him on his throne of Canterbury, Becket II ii 118
Resistance and the Queen hath no force for r. Queen Mary II i 140
I had counsell'd him To rest from vain r. The Cup II 414
we must Move in the line of least r Prom. of May II 670
Resold on the scaffold Recanted, and r himself to Rome. Queen Mary III i 152
Resolve fierce r and fixt heart-hate in men „ III vi 32
Resolved Do ye stand fast by that which ye r? „ III iii 103

Respect We have r for man's immortal soul, Harold II ii 500 he's no r for the Queen, or the parson, or the justice o' peace, or owt. Prom. of May I 132
Respite a boon, my king, R, a holiday : Harold I i 227
Rest (remainder) the r of England bow'd theirs to the Norman, Queen Mary II i 159
Should look more goodly than the r of us. „ II ii 349
why should I be bolder than the r, „ III i 438
Bless thou too That brother whom I love beyond the r, Harold III i 295
The r you see is colour'd green— Becket, Pro. 171
Cursed Fitzurse, and all the r of them „ II ii 271
Coom along then, all the r o' ye ! Prom. of May I 442
I'll git the book ageän, and larn mysen the r, „ III 13 he, young Scarlet, and he, old Much, and all the r of us. Foresters III 61
Rest (repose) says That r is all—tells me I must not think— Queen Mary V v 62
All is well then ; r—I will to r ; he said, I must have r. „ V v 186
Shall I not help your Lordship to your r ? Becket I i 2
He hath retired to r, and being in great jeopardy „ I iv 262
And how I long for r.' Prom. of May III 206 Rest (verb) my good mother came (God r her soul) Queen Mary I v 11
the happy haven Where he shall r at night, „ IV iii 580
That you might r among us, till the Pope, „ V ii 47
Let dead things r. „ V ii 506
That I must r—I shall r by and by. „ V v 64 maims himself against the bars, say 'r' : Why, you must kill him if you would have him r— „ V v 68
Nay, r a week or two, Harold II ii 179
That I might r as calmly ! „ III i 44
I needs must r. „ V i 229
To r upon thy bosom and forget him— Becket II i 31
R in our realm, and be at peace with all. „ II ii 448
Let me r. I'll call you by and by. „ V i 89
R you easy, For I am easy to keep. „ V ii 512
I had counsell'd him To r from vain resistance. The Cup II 414
God r his honest soul, he bought 'em for me, The Falcon 49
Show me some cave or cabin where I may r. Foresters II i 131
Rested some waxen doll Thy baby eyes have r on, Queen Mary I v 9
Restless To reign is r fence, „ V v 265 Restore we r you to the bosom And unity of Universal Church. „ III iii 220 and r his kin, Reseat him on his throne Becket II ii 116
Have I not promised to r her, Thomas, „ III iii 183
Restored I shall have my tetrachy r By Rome, The Cup I i 20
Restriction may fence round his power with r, Queen Mary II i 172
Resurrection to be wakened again together by the light of the r, Prom. of May III 197
Retinue with the r of three kings behind him, out-royalling royalty ? Becket, Pro. 444
Retire Permission of her Highness to r To Ashridge, Queen Mary I iv 236
You are fresh from brighter lands. R with me. „ III iv 322
Her Highness is unwell. I will r. „ V ii 247
There was no room to advance or to r. Foresters IV 534
Retired He hath r to rest, and being in great jeopardy Becket I iv 262
Retiring (part.) R into cloistral solitude To yield Queen Mary III vi 209
Retiring (s) or is it but the past That brightens in r ? Prom. of May II 645
Retract and r That Eucharistic doctrine in your book. Queen Mary IV ii 80
Return (s) (See also Home-return) Who loathe you for your late r to Rome, „ IV ii 32
Takes nothing in r from you except R of his affection— The Falcon 716
Many happy r's of the day, father. Prom. of May I 350
I trust that your r—for you know, my dear, „ III 421
This is the gala-day of thy r. Foresters IV 960 whose r Builds up our house again ? „ IV 1008 Return (verb) will r into the one true fold, Queen Mary I iii 22 and I r As Peter, but to bless thee : „ III ii 55
Yet will I be your swallow and r— „ V i 91
R, And tell him that I know he comes no more. „ V ii 588
R to Sens, where we will care for you. Becket II ii 444
Return (verb) (continued) And, being scratch'd, r's to his true rose, Becket III i 249
His child and mine own soul, and so r. „ V ii 194
I here r like Tarquin—for a crown. The Cup I i 142
R's with this Antonius. „ I ii 179
You, Strato, make good cheer till I r. „ I ii 206
Or tell him, if you will, when you r, „ I ii 310
R and tell him Synorix is not here. „ I ii 334
Within the holy shrine of Artemis, And so r. „ I iii 54
I trust she will r. „ I iii 61
She should r thy necklace then. The Falcon 69
Will he not pray me to r his love— „ 247
Was yet too bashful to r for it ? „ 540
My lord, I have a present to r you, „ 711
I came In person to r them. „ 727
If the phrase 'R' displease you, we will say— „ 729
Shall I r to the castle with you ? „ 793
And so r—Heaven help him !—to our son. „ 861
And when will you r ? Edgar. I cannot tell precisely ; Prom. of May I 627 but call for Philip when you will, And he r's. „ I 759 Never to r again, Foresters II ii 170 thou feel'st with me The ghost r's to Marian, „ III 115
When wilt thou r ? Richard. R, I ? when ? when Richard will r. „ IV 417
I trust We shall r to the wood. „ IV 1052
Return'd deem This love by you r as heartily ; Queen Mary II ii 197 glance of some distaste, Or so methought, r. „ III i 101 that hath r To the one Catholic Universal Church, „ IV iii 20
Thomas, I would thou hadst r to England, Becket V ii 12
On a Tuesday from mine exile I r, „ V ii 293
But hath she yet r thy love ? The Falcon 66 happy was the prodigal son, For he r to the rich father ; „ 142
Hath she r thy love ? Count. Not yet ! „ 513
They say your sister, Dora, has r, Prom. of May I 546 almost think she half r the pressure Of mine. „ II 627
That John last week r to Nottingham, Foresters III 147
Returning Louis R, ah ! to drive thee from his realm. Becket II ii 418
Revel (s) loom Across their lamps of r, Harold II ii 407
Reaction needs must follow r—yet— Prom. of May II 264
Revel (verb) It is our forest custom they should r Along with Robin. Foresters III 174
Reveller See Co-reveller
Revelling You see they have been r, and I fear Becket V ii 421
Revelry So the wine run, and there be r, Queen Mary III ii 236
Thou and I will still their revelries presently. Foresters I ii 24
Revenge But dreading God's r upon this realm Harold I i 172
Of this dead King, who never bore r. „ V ii 85
I heard him swear r. Becket I i 280
I follow out my hate and my r. „ IV ii 151
You bad me take r another way— „ IV ii 152
Revenged Thus then thou art r— Harold V i 288
Revenue Meanwhile the r's are mine. Becket, Pro. 413
King, till another be appointed, shall receive the r's thereof.' „ I iii 101
King Demands a strict account of all those r's „ I iii 651
With r's, realms, and golden provinces „ V ii 346 wasted his r's in the service of our good king Richard Foresters I i 193
Reverence (s) Our silence is our r for the king ! Harold IV i 13
Who have that r for him that I scarce The Falcon 260 honey from an old oak, saving your sweet r's. Foresters II i 297
Reverence (verb) Knowing how much you r Holy Church, Becket I ii 48
I r all women, bad me, dying, Foresters II i 40
Reverend Thro' this most r Father, absolution, Queen Mary III iii 148
For how should r prelate or throned prince Brook for an hour „ IV iii 542
Reverential whether from maiden fears Or r love for him I loved, The Cup II 197
Reversed Ye have r the attainder laid on us Queen Mary III iii 194
R his doom, and that you might not seem „ V ii 51
Revived And others of our Parliament, r, „ III i 326
Revoked Ay . . . if the king have not r his promise. Harold II ii 610
Revolt (s) all of us abhor The venomous, bestial, devilish r Of Thomas Wyatt. Queen Mary II ii 287

Revolt (s) (continued) A cry! What's that? Elizabeth? r? Queen Mary v v 187 Revolt (verb) Good, then, they will r: „ v v 174 would hold out, yea, tho' they should r— Harold II ii 554 Reward shall have a hundred pounds for r.' Queen Mary II iii 61
Have courage, your r is Heaven itself. „ v ii 108
Rheumatics See Roomatics
Rheumatizy (Rheumatism) Eh, my r be that bad howiver Queen Mary IV iii 475
Rhyme (s) And head them with a lamer r of mine, „ II i 29
A true r. Lady. Cut with a diamond; „ III v 24
I could so play about it with the r—— Henry. That the heart were lost in the r Becket, Pro. 382
May plaister his clean name with scurrilous r's! „ I i 309 for my verses if the Latin r's be rolled out from a full mouth? „ II ii 337 shall we say this wreath and your sweet r's? The Falcon 735
Your worship may find another r if you care Foresters II i 322
Rhyme (verb) To read and r in solitary fields, Queen Mary II i 51
Rhyming written scroll That seems to run in r's. The Falcon 432 Rib plunge Our boat hath burst her r's; Harold II i 3 thou wouldst hug thy Cupid till his r's cracked— Becket, Pro. 504 with that red star between the r's, The Cup II 151 how bare and spare I be on the r: Foresters I i 50
Spare me thy spare r's, I pray thee; „ I i 53
Back and side and hip and r, „ II ii 120
Ribald No r John is Love, no wanton Prince, „ IV 46
Ribaldry O drunken r! Out, beast! out, bear! Becket I i 230 Ribbon I ask'd A r from her hair to bind it with; The Falcon 359 this faded r was the mode In Florence „ 422
Rich I left her with r jewels in her hand, Queen Mary I iv 242
To be of r advantage to our realm, „ II ii 235 for his heart was r, Of such fine mould, „ IV i 169
'How hard it is For the r man to enter into Heaven;' Let all r men remember that hard word. „ IV iii 205
Till all men have their Bible, r and poor. „ V v 248
She r enough to have bought it for herself! The Falcon 62 happy was the prodigal son, For he return'd to the r father; „ 142
And yet I never saw The land so r in blossom as this year. „ 342
They seem'd too r a prize To trust with any messenger. „ 725
I remember Her bright face beaming starlike down upon me Thro' that r cloud of blossom. Prom. of May II 250
I'll cleave to you r or poor. Foresters I i 155 green earth drink Her health along with us in this r draught, „ III 351
And this r Sheriff too has come between us; „ IV 57
While Richard hath outlaw'd himself, and helps Nor r, nor poor. „ IV 362
Richard (de Brito, knight of the household of King Henry II.) (See also Brito, De Brito) R, if he be mine—I hope him mine. Becket V i 130
Richard (Lea) (See also Richard Lea, Richard of the Lea) these lilies to lighten Sir R's black room, Foresters I i 3
Sir R and my Lady Marian fare wellnigh as sparely as their people. „ I i 30
Sir R was told he might be ransomed „ I i 63
Sir R must scrape and scrape till he get to the land again. „ I i 78
My guests and friends, Sir R, „ I ii 78
the Earl and Sir R come this way. „ I ii 148
You shall wait for mine till Sir R has paid the Abbot. „ I ii 232
O good Sir R, I am sorry my exchequer „ I ii 271
Farewell, Sir R; farewell, sweet Marian. „ I ii 284
She and Sir R Have past away, „ II i 119 but see fair play Betwixt them and Sir R— „ IV 99
Sir R, it was agreed when you borrowed „ IV 465 and thus This old Sir R might redeem his land. „ IV 487
And Sir R cannot redeem his land. „ IV 564
Sir R paid his monies to the Abbot. „ IV 849
I thank thee, good Sir R. „ IV 858
O good Sir R, I am like the man In Holy Writ, „ IV 980
Sir R, let that wait till we have dined. „ IV 991
Kiss him, Sir R—kiss him, my sweet Marian. „ IV 1003
Richard (the First, Cœur de Lion) wasted his revenues in the service of our good king R against the party of John, as I have done, as I have done: and where is R? Foresters I i 194
I believed this Abbot of the party of King R, „ I i 267
This Robin, this Earl of Huntingdon—he is a friend of R— „ I i 282 Long live R, Robin and R! Long live R! „ I ii 1
Love live Robin, Robin and R! „ I ii 14
'Long live King R!' „ I ii 25
O Lord, I will live and die for King R— „ I ii 38 there is a lot of wild fellows in Sherwood Forest who hold by King R. „ I ii 74 but we have no news of R yet, „ I ii 95 not answer it, my lord, till King R come home again. „ I ii 141 you be of those who hold more by John than R. „ I ii 199
I am John's till R come back again, and then I am R's. „ I ii 202
I cannot answer thee till R come. „ I ii 221 till he join King R in the Holy Land. Robin. Going to the Holy Land to R! „ I ii 238 by this Holy Cross Which good King R gave me „ I ii 310 good fellows there in merry Sherwood That hold by R, „ I iii 100
They hold by R—the wild wood! „ I iii 110
I held for R, and I hated John. „ II i 52
she will not marry till R come, „ II ii 84
Art thou for R, or allied to John? „ IV 135
But I am more for R than for John. „ IV 160
Still I am more for R than for John. „ IV 329 and serve King R save thou be A traitor or a goose? „ IV 351
For Robin is no scatterbrains like R, Robin's a wise man, R a wiseacre, „ IV 356
While R hath outlaw'd himself, „ IV 360
R's the king of courtesy, „ IV 362
R sacks and wastes a town With random pillage, „ IV 376
R risks his life for a straw, So lies in prison— „ IV 382
R, again, is king over a realm He hardly knows, „ IV 387
Again this R is the lion of Cyprus, „ IV 391 to R when he flung His life, heart, „ IV 405 Return, I? when? when R will return. „ IV 419
Father, I cannot marry till R comes. „ IV 648 save King R, when he comes, forbid me. „ IV 664
Tho' you should queen me over all the realms Held by King R, „ IV 709
When R comes he is soft enough to pardon „ IV 746 and she will not marry till R come. „ IV 773 a traitor coming In R's name— „ IV 781
Maid Marian. Marian. Yes, King R. King Richard. Thou wouldst marry This Sheriff when King R came „ IV 860
Give me that hand which fought for R there. „ IV 1030
Richard (the Third) Who's a-passing? King Edward or King R? Queen Mary I i 32
Had holpen R's tottering throne to stand, „ III i 114
Richard Lea (See also Richard, Richard of the Lea) We heard Sir R L was here with Robin. Foresters IV 978
Richard of the Lea (See also Richard, Richard Lea) I come here to see this daughter of Sir R o t L „ I ii 27
Robin, I am Sir R o t L. „ II i 441
Where is this old Sir R o t L? „ IV 438
Where is this laggard R o t L? „ IV 449
Richer Was not the year when this was gather'd r? The Falcon 345
R than all the wide world-wealth of May, „ 466
Our Lady's blessed shrines throughout the land Be all the r for us. Foresters IV 1081
Riches 'Better a man without r, than r without a man.' The Falcon 751
Richest Drew here the r lot from Fate, to live And die together. The Cup II 442
For he would marry me to the r man In Florence; The Falcon 747
Rid This last to r thee of a world of brawls! Becket V iii 198 Ridden (See also Fancy-ridd'n) I have r night and day from Pevensey— Harold IV iii 192 tho' we have been a soldier, and r by his lordship's side, The Falcon 548
Ride To-morrow we will r with thee to Harfleur, Harold II ii 195

Ride (continued) To-morrow will we r with thee to Harfleur. Harold II ii 647
To-morrow will I r with thee to Harfleur. „ II ii 769
He r's abroad with armed followers, Becket V i 2
'Will your Ladyship r to cover to-day? Prom. of May III 310
mayhap r a-hawking with the help of the men. Foresters I i 213
Ridley (Bishop of London) Hooper, R, Latimer will not fly. Queen Mary I ii 14
Cranmer and Hooper, R and Latimer, „ III iv 424
Latimer Had a brief end—not R. „ IV ii 225
I saw the deaths of Latimer and R. „ IV iii 295
And you saw Latimer and R die? „ IV iii 328
R was longer burning; but he died As manfully „ IV iii 342
'not till I hears ez Latimer and R be a-vire;' „ IV iii 509
When we had come where R burnt with Latimer, „ IV iii 585
Ridley-soldier Our R-s's and our Latimer-sailors „ IV iii 348 Rift (s) The r that runs between me and the King. Becket I i 140 that the r he made May close between us, „ II ii 131
Rift (verb) and r's the tower to the rock, The Cup II 293
Rifted Taken the r pillars of the wood For smooth stone columns of the sanctuary, Harold I ii 100
Right (adj. and adv.) By God's light a noble creature, r royal! Queen Mary I i 69
He says r; by the mass we'll have no mass here. „ I iii 50
This dress was made me as the Earl of Devon To take my seat in; looks it not r royal? „ I iv 74
You do r well—I do not care to know; „ I iv 188
Now what I am ye know r well—your Queen; „ II ii 162
R, your Grace. Paget, you are all for this poor life of ours, „ III iv 58
They, with r reason, flies that prick the flesh. „ III iv 70
They had not reach'd r reason; little children! „ III iv 73 for you know R well that you yourself have been supposed „ III iv 225
R honest and red cheek'd; Robin was violent, „ III v 106
A r rough life and healthful. „ III v 260
I know them heretics, but r English ones. „ IV iii 344
Said I not r? For how should reverend prelate or throned prince „ IV iii 541 there is the r hand still Beckons me hence. „ V v 136
Knowing r well with what a tenderness He loved my son. Becket V i 20
At the r hand of Power—Power and great glory— „ V iii 193
R. Back again. How many of you are there? The Cup I iii 11 having his r hand Lamed in the battle, wrote it with his left. The Falcon 443
Ay, but you turn r ugly when you're in an ill temper; Prom. of May I 159 and see that all be r and reg'lar fur 'em afoor he coöm. „ I 169 and I'd drive the plow straäit as a line r i' the faäce o' the sun, „ I 370
But now you will set all r again, „ I 718
Come, you will set all r again, and father Will not die miserable.' „ II 658
Count the money and see if it's all r. „ III 65
Sister Agatha is r. „ III 403
R as an Oxford scholar, but the boy was taken prisoner by the Moors. Foresters I i 59
There, there! You see I was r. „ I i 115
Had I a bulrush now in this r hand For sceptre, „ III 76
Rogue, I have a swollen vein in my r leg, „ IV 569 Right (s) Nay the Queen's r to reign— Queen Mary II ii 96 on you, In your own city, as her r, my Lord, „ II ii 106 and his r came down to me, „ II ii 171
Your r's and charters hobnail'd into slush— „ II ii 278
And let the Pope trample our r's, „ III iv 362
Declare the Queen's r to the throne; „ IV ii 78
I do hold The Catholic, if he have the greater r, „ IV iii 382 reels Now to the r, then as far to the left, „ IV iii 396
And thrust his r into the bitter flame; „ IV iii 610
Who know my r, and love me, „ V iii 34 what r had he to get himself wrecked Harold II i 59
Can have no r to the crown,' and Odo said, 'Thine is the r, for thine the might; „ II ii 355
William laugh'd and swore that might was r, „ II ii 362 Right (s) (continued) bad me seal against the r's of the Church, Becket I iii 312 whene'er your royal r's Are mooted in our councils— „ I iii 430 face me out of all My regal r's. „ II ii 166
And trampled on the r's of Canterbury. „ V ii 394 when they seek to overturn our r's, „ V ii 457
Thou art in the r. This blessing is for Synorix The Cup II 375
I am easily led by words, but I think the Earl hath r. Scarlet, hath not the Earl r? Foresters I ii 41
Thou Much, miller's son, hath not the Earl r? „ I ii 47 more goes to make r than I know of, but for all that I will swear the Earl hath r. „ I ii 50 Righteous For which God's r judgment fell upon you Queen Mary III iv 240
Rightful Ye know my father was the r heir Of England, „ II ii 170
What r cause could grow to such a heat Foresters II i 698
Rill the sea-creek—the petty r That falls into it— Becket II ii 294
Rind Most fruitful, yet, indeed, an empty r, Queen Mary III ii 202
Ring (s) (See also Fairy-ring) spousal r whereof, Not even to be laid aside, „ II ii 165
You have a gold r on your finger, „ V iv 32
Take thou this r; Harold I ii 58 tore away My marriage r, and rent my bridal veil; „ I ii 80 but take back thy r. It burns my hand— „ III ii 185
The r thou darest not wear, „ V i 421
And thou art come to rob them of their r's! „ V ii 37
For look, our marriage r! „ V ii 108 and ower a hoonderd pounds worth o' r's stolen. Prom. of May I 394
R, trinket of the Church, „ I 598
This r my mother gave me: it was her own Betrothal r. Foresters I ii 293
All gone!—my r—I am happy—should be happy. She took my r. I trust she loves me—yet „ I iii 1
Thou hast robb'd my girl of her betrothal r. „ II i 587
What! do I not know mine own r? „ II i 590
the precious r I promised Never to part with— „ II i 660
What's here? a dead bat in the fairy r— „ II ii 94
All our r's be trampled out. „ II ii 167
The Sheriff! This r cries out against thee. Say it again, And by this r the lips that never breathed Love's falsehood „ IV 69
Ring (verb) The bells must r; Te Deums must be sung; Queen Mary III ii 211 like the gravedigger's child I have heard of, trying to r the bell, Becket III iii 74
Did not a man's voice r along the aisle, „ V ii 150
When horn and echo r, Foresters III 428
What shouts are these that r along the wood? „ IV 763
Ringdove R's coo again, All things woo again. Queen Mary III v 103
Ring'd I was born of a true man and a r wife, „ I i 55
Ringed (rang) ye r fur that, Miss, didn't ye? Prom. of May III 14
Ringing The bells are r at Maidstone. Queen Mary I i 19 with all his rooftree r 'Harold,' Harold V ii 129
R their own death-knell thro' all the realm. Becket I iii 172
Riot After a r, We hang the leaders, Queen Mary IV i 73
As at this loveless knife that stirs the r, Becket IV ii 191
Ripen'd Who, waiting till the time had r, Queen Mary III ii 78
Ripening (part) this dead fruit was r overmuch, „ III i 26
Ripening (s) harvest moon is the r of the harvest, Becket, Pro. 363
Ripple The r's twinkled at their diamond-dance, Queen Mary III ii 10 and hover Above the windy r, Harold II ii 336 Rise At his coming Your star will r. Queen Mary I v 411
We are fallen, and as I think, Never to r again. „ III i 125
He comes, and my star r's. „ III ii 167
R to the heavens in grateful praise „ III iii 165
That should have fallen, and may r again. „ V ii 6 let England as of old R lionlike, „ V ii 267 if his Northumbrians r And hurl him from them,— Harold II ii 456 thence a king may r Half-Godwin and half-Alfgar, „ IV i 143 wait Till his nose r's; he will be very king. Becket V ii 184
I r to-morrow In the gray dawn, The Cup I ii 433 it would r HE! . . . HE with that red star „ II 149
R—I could almost think that the dead garland The Falcon 917
Nay, nay, I pray you r. „ 921 from that flood will r the New, Prom. of May I 594
And darkness r's from the fallen sun. Foresters I iii 42
Risen And Mary would have r and let him in, Queen Mary III ii 64

Risen (continued) There is a faction r again for Tostig, Harold IV i 172
No, no, he hath r again—he bares his face— „ V i 556
Rising (adj.) (See also Ever-rising) No Sinnatus yet—and there the r moon. The Cup I ii 2
Rising (s) There were not many hang'd for Wyatt's r. Queen Mary V ii 9
And mixt with Wyatt's r— „ V ii 479
Risk (s) the general sees, A r of utter ruin. „ V ii 449
Risk (verb) Shall I r it? I am a Roman now, The Cup I i 184
Richard r's his life for a straw, So lies in prison— Foresters IV 382
R not the love I bear thee for a girl. „ IV 742
Risk'd Thou hast r thy life for mine: bind these two men. „ IV 893
Rite One half besotted in religious r's. The Cup I i 74
Pray you, Go on with the marriage r's. „ II 399
Rival (s) was Rosamund—his paramour—thy r. Becket, Pro. 471
Thou feel for me!—paramour—r! „ Pro. 474
R!—ay, and when the King passes, „ Pro. 483
Rival (verb) Girl never breathed to r such a rose; Queen Mary III i 372
To r him in Christian charity. Becket III iii 233
Rive would make the hard earth r To the very Devil's horns, Harold II ii 740 let earth r, gulf in These cursed Normans— „ II ii 782 River guns From out the vessels lying in the r. Queen Mary II i 222
They had hewn the drawbridge down into the r. „ II iii 19
The r still is free. „ II iv 25
Had you a pleasant voyage up the r? „ III ii 5
And here the r flowing from the sea, „ III ii 26
By the r to the Tower. „ III iii 281
Look to the skies, then to the r, Harold I i 34 like a r in flood thro' a burst dam „ II ii 465 in the cruel r Swale A hundred years ago; „ III ii 10
Whither, O whither? into the r, „ III ii 17
Two r's gently flowing side by side— Becket I iii 445
Were there no boughs to hang on, R's to drown in? The Cup I ii 79 or you may find me at the bottom of the r.— Prom. of May II 88 that we Should find her in the r; and we dragg'd The Littlechester r all in vain: „ II 412 and the black r Flow'd thro' my dreams— „ II 650 why did you write 'Seek me at the bottom of the r'? „ III 364 the r, black, slimy, swirling under me in the lamplight, „ III 369 Hoäm? fro' the bottom o' the r? „ III 444 an' one on 'em went an' lost hersen i' the r. „ III 456
They drag the r for her! no, not they! „ III 694
Rivulet Not while the r babbles by the door, Foresters I ii 321 Road (See also Roäd) I had horses On all the r from Dover, day and night; On all the r from Harwich, night an day; Queen Mary V ii 577 rough r That breaks off short into the abysses— Prom. of May I 229 dosta knaw this paäper? Ye dropt it upo' the r. „ II 688
Roäd Thruf slush an' squad When r's was bad, „ II 310
Roam never I trust to r So far again, Foresters IV 1099
Now the King is home again, and nevermore to r again, „ IV 1104
Roar (s) whispers to the r Of a spring-tide. Queen Mary IV ii 187 Roar (verb) They r for you On Penenden Heath, „ II i 105 let Rebellion R till throne rock, and crown fall. „ II i 145
The lion needs but r to guard his young; „ III v 123 beast might r his claim To being in God's image, „ IV iii 367
Roaring Neighing and r as they leapt to land— Harold IV iii 197
Roast (s) so that the smell of their own r had not come across it— Becket III iii 119
Roast (verb) Then I r 'em, for I have nought else to live on. Foresters II i 387 monkey that should r his chestnuts for him! „ IV 806
Roasted To gorge a heretic whole, r or raw. Queen Mary III iv 344
Rob And thou art come to r them of their rings! Harold V ii 36 comes To r you of your one delight on earth. The Falcon 828
When I and thou will r the nest of her. Foresters I ii 161
So that myself alone may r the nest. Prince John. Well, well then, thou shalt r the nest alone. „ I ii 166
but we r the robber, wrong the wronger, „ II i 54
Robb'd She would have r me then of a great pleasure. The Falcon 64 you have r poor father Of ten good apples. Prom. of May I 615
Thou hast r my girl of her betrothal ring. Foresters II i 586
We never r one friend of the true King. „ III 157
We r the traitors that are leagued with John; We r the lawyer who went against the law; „ III 159
Robber I met a r once, I told him I was bound Becket V ii 98 but we rob the r, wrong the wronger, Foresters II i 54
Robe (s) Thou art the man to fill out the Church r; Becket, Pro. 263
Is it so much heavier than thy Chancellor's r? „ I i 21 mother Canterbury, who sits With tatter'd r's. „ I i 157
For he, when having dofft the Chancellor's r— „ I iii 455 rather than so clip The flowery r of Hymen, The Cup II 436 Robe (verb) Is balmy wind to r our hills with grass, „ II 265 a thousand summers R you life-green again. Foresters IV 1058
Robert (a monk) R, The apostate monk that was with Randulf Becket V ii 573
Robert (of Jumiéges, Archbishop) Did ye not outlaw your archbishop R, R of Jumiéges— Harold I i 56
Archbishop R hardly scaped with life. Harold. Archbishop R! R the Archbishop! R of Jumiéges, „ II ii 527
Robin (Christian name) here's little Dickon, and little R, and little Jenny— Queen Mary II iii 112
Shame upon you R, Shame upon you now! „ III v 85
R came behind me, „ III v 92
Come, R, R, Come and kiss me now; „ III v 99
R was violent, And she was crafty— „ III v 107
She has gone, Maid Marian to her R— „ III v 156
For the wrong R took her at her word. „ III v 264
I had kept My R's and my cows „ III v 270
And had your Grace a R? „ III v 274
Robin (Hood, Earl of Huntingdon) (See also Huntingdon, Robin Hood, Robin of Huntingdon, Man-Robin)
My master, R the Earl, is always a-telling us Foresters I i 94 me who worship R the great Earl of Huntingdon? „ I i 225 your R, all England's R, fights not for himself „ I i 235 but our great man, our R, against it. „ I i 241
God bless our well-beloved R, Earl of Huntingdon. „ I i 248
This R, this Earl of Huntingdon—he is a friend of Richard— „ I i 281
Long live Richard, R and Richard! „ I ii 2
Long live R, R and Richard! Long live R, „ I ii 13
R, Earl— Robin. Let be the Earl. „ I iii 93
Ah dear R! ah noble captain, friend of the poor! „ II i 182
I will, I will, good R. „ II i 218
R may be hard by wi' three-score of his men. „ II i 335
He often looks in here by the moonshine. Beware of R. „ II i 338
Clashing of swords—three upon one, and that one our R! „ II i 420
R, like a deer from a dog, „ II i 433
R, I am Sir Richard of the Lea. „ II i 441
For, R, he must be my son-in-law. „ II i 451
O R, R! Robin. O my dear Marian, „ II i 596
R, tho' I love thee, We cannot come together „ II i 616
R, I ever held that saying false „ II i 642
Our R beaten, pleading for his life! „ II i 674
R—I know not, can I trust myself „ II i 703
What makes you seem so cold to R, lady? Marian. What makes thee think I seem so cold to R? „ III 2
Why, my good R fancied me a man, „ III 19
R—I crave pardon—you always seem to me „ III 52
R, I do, but I have a bad wife. „ III 69
So I would, R, if any man would accept her. „ III 73
R, I will not kiss thee, For that belongs to marriage; „ III 137
It is our forest custom they should revel Along with R. „ III 175
We never wrong'd a woman. Marian. Noble R. „ III 185
These two have forty gold marks between them, R. „ III 203
he hath called plain R a lord. „ III 215
Art thou not hard upon them, my good R? „ III 222
They pledge me, R? „ III 320
I would tap myself in thy service, R. „ III 336
And both at thy service, R. „ III 340
Our R, King o' the woods, „ III 344
R, the people's friend, the King o' the woods! „ III 347
R, will you not hear one of these beggars' catches? „ III 404
R—I crave pardon, I always think of you as my lord, „ III 409
O R, R! See that men be set Along the glades „ III 455
R, the sweet light of a mother's eye, „ IV 1
Quiet, good R, quiet! „ IV 9
Being so sick How should he, R? „ IV 83

Robin (Hood, Earl of Huntingdon) (continued) Fine him ! fine him ! he hath called plain R an earl. How much is it, R, for a knight ? Foresters IV 151
R, he hath no more. He hath spoken truth. „ IV 180
Nay, R, I am like thyself in that „ IV 195
Ay, ay, R, but let him know our forest laws : „ IV 198 thou fight at quarterstaff for thy dinner with our R, „ IV 208
A fine ! a fine ! He hath called plain R a king. „ IV 218
No figure, no fiction, R. „ IV 223
Try, thyself, valorous R ! „ IV 315
I cannot break it, R, if I wish'd. „ IV 328
Look, R, at the far end of the glade „ IV 331 but stay with R ; For R is no scatterbrains like Richard, R's a wise man, Richard a wiseacre, R's an outlaw, „ IV 354
But R is a thief of courtesy „ IV 370
R takes From whom he knows are hypocrites „ IV 378 while our R's life Hangs by a thread, „ IV 384
R king of Sherwood, And loves and dotes „ IV 388
R, the lion of Sherwood— „ IV 392
if our true R Be not the nobler lion of the twain. „ IV 395
And all I love, R, and all his men, „ IV 722
R ! Robin. I am here, my arrow on the cord. „ IV 731
R, shall we not move ? „ IV 782
My good friend R, Earl of Huntingdon, „ IV 829
if the King forbid thy marrying With R, our good Earl of Huntingdon. „ IV 876
I have had a year of prison-silence, R, „ IV 924
On those two here, R and Marian. „ IV 929
Thou R shalt be ranger of this forest, „ IV 954
We heard Sir Richard Lea was here with R. „ IV 979
For our brave R is a man indeed. „ IV 1037 these old oaks will murmur thee Marian along with R. „ IV 1095
Robing And I was r ;—this poor throat of mine, Queen Mary V ii 460
Robin Hood (Earl of Huntingdon) (See also Huntingdon, Robin, Robin of Huntingdon) Thou, R H Earl of Huntingdon, art attainted Foresters I iii 56 by virtue of this writ, whereas R H Earl of Huntingdon „ I iii 61
R H Earl of Huntingdon is outlawed and banished. „ I iii 67 as you would hack at R H if you could light upon him „ II i 287
R H was it ? I thought as much. „ II i 326
We must fly from R H „ II ii 138
And over this R H's bay ! „ II ii 177
we have fallen into the hands Of R H. (repeat) „ III 234, 298
And R H hath sworn— „ III 235
R H, These be the lies the people tell of us, „ III 391 all these walks are R H's And sometimes perilous. „ IV 119
That all was peace—not even a R H— „ IV 131
I am the yeoman, plain R H, „ IV 143
Here Abbot, Sheriff—no—no, R H. „ IV 989
Will chill the hearts that beat for R H ! „ IV 1064
Will whisper evermore of R H. „ IV 1069
Robin of Huntingdon (Robin Hood) so true a friend of the people as Lord R o H. „ I i 189
Rochester first to R, to take the guns From out Queen Mary II i 220
Rock (s) I spy the r beneath the smiling sea. „ I iv 278
The Church on Peter's r ? never ! „ III iv 134
You beat upon the r. „ V i 210 therein Sunk r's—they need fine steering— „ V v 214 sunk r's ; no passionate faith— „ V v 221 not the living r Which guards the land. Harold I ii 120
Thou hast betray'd us on these r's of thine ! „ II i 23
Help the good ship, showing the sunken r, „ II ii 101 customs of the Church are Peter's r. Becket I iii 25 but suddenly Jarr'd on this r. „ I iii 382 after rain o'erleaps a jutting r And shoots The Cup I i 110 and rifts the tower to the r, „ II 294 and leave it A waste of r and ruin, hear. „ II 307 with every gust and wreck On any r ; Prom. of May III 538 Rock (verb) let Rebellion Roar till throne r, and crown fall. Queen Mary II i 145
Holy Church May r, but will not wreck, Becket II ii 104
Rock'd New buds to heaven, whereon the throstle r Foresters I iii 27
Reed I r upon broken-back'd, „ II ii 162
Rocking Crying, ' Forward ! '—set our old church r, Queen Mary IV iii 404
Rod To say ' I did not ? ' and my r's the block. „ III v 130
Rod (continued) that these Three r's of blood-red fire up yonder Harold I i 44 had I fathered him I had given him more of the r than the sceptre. Becket III iii 111 Rode I would not ; but a hundred miles I r, Queen Mary I v 551 when I r with William down to Harfleur, Harold III i 82
Roger (Archbishop of York) (See also Roger of York)
Roger of York. Henry. R is Roger of York. Becket, Pro. 266
He thought less of two kings than of one R „ III iii 91
Roger (a servant) Friend R, steal thou in among the crowd, Queen Mary I iii 37
R, thinkest thou that anyone Suspected thee „ I iii 174
Roger of York R o Y. Henry. Roger is R o Y. Becket Pro. 266
To set that precious jewel, R o Y. „ Pro. 270
R o Y, When I and thou were youths in Theobald's house, „ I iii 39
Cursed be John of Oxford, R o Y, And Gilbert Foliot ! „ II ii 266
And how did R o Y confort himself ? „ III iii 84
R o Y, you always hated him, „ V i 8
Rogers (John, martyr) R and Ferrar, for their time is come, Queen Mary III iv 425
Rogue —'fore God, the r's— „ II ii 97
Stand staring at me ! shout, you gaping r ! „ III i 289 gray r, Gardiner, Went on his knees, „ III v 164 beggars, poor r's (Heaven bless 'em) Becket I iv 82
R's, have you no manhood ? Foresters II i 421 you are sturdy r's that should be set to work. „ III 197 yells of thief And r and liar echo down in Hell, „ III 324
Here, you three r's. „ III 358
R, we have thy captain's safe-conduct ; though he be the chief of r's, he hath never broken his word. „ IV 431
R, I am full of gout. I cannot dance. „ IV 562
R, I have a swollen vein in my right leg, „ IV 568
R, we come not alone. „ IV 573
Rolf (a Ponthieu fisherman) R, what fish did swallow Jonah ? Rolf. A whale ! Harold II i 41
Look thee, R, when I was down in the fever, „ II i 46
I thank thee, R. „ II i 54
Roll (s) If this war-storm in one of its rough r's Wash up „ V i 166 bravest in our r of Primates down From Austin— Becket V ii 58 Roll (verb) And r's himself in carrion like a dog. Queen Mary I v 169 in full force R upon London. „ II i 236 sea shall r me back To tumble at thy feet. Harold I ii 114
The sea may r Sand, shingle, shore-weed, „ I ii 118
Make thou one man as three to r them down ! „ V i 577
The horse and horseman r along the hill, „ V i 595
And r the golden oceans of our grain, The Cup II 269
Good ! R it in here. Foresters III 312
Roll'd It r black as death ; Queen Mary II iii 20 for my verses if the Latin rhymes be r out Becket II ii 338
The wheel of Fate has r me to the top. The Cup II 221
And the white cloud is r along the sky ! Foresters I ii 319
Thou hast r over the Church militant „ IV 272
Rolling parch'd banks r incense, as of old, Queen Mary I v 91
Albeit no r stone, my good friend Gamel, Harold I i 93
Roman (adj.) (See also Anti-Roman) I am English Queen, not R Emperor. Queen Mary I v 504
For thou and thine are R to the core. „ III ii 230
Hark, how those R wolfdogs howl and bay him ! „ IV iii 354 his politic Holiness Hath all but climb'd the R perch again, Becket II ii 46 sends you this cup rescued from the burning of one of her shrines in a city thro' which he past with the R army : The Cup I i 43
' A Galatian serving by force in the R Legion.' „ I i 48
There ' Antonius leader of the R Legion.' „ I i 167
Strato, my name. Sinnatus. No R name ? „ I i 200
' A Galatian serving by force in the R Legion.' „ I ii 76
In the full face of all the R camp ? „ I ii 269
The R Senate, For I have always play'd into their hands, „ I iii 148
Most like it was the R soldier shouted. „ II 119
But that might bring a R blessing on us. „ II 372
O women, Ye will have R masters. „ II 511

Roman (s) Madam, when the R wish'd to reign, Queen Mary I v 498 who shall be true To the R: The Cup I i 95 and be to Rome More faithful than a R. „ I i 103
I am a R now, they dare not touch me. „ I i 185
You reck but little of the R here, „ I i 189
The R is encampt without your city— „ I ii 83
The R's sent me here a spy upon you, „ I ii 220
Will he let you plead for him To a R? „ I ii 307
These R's dare not violate the Temple. „ I iii 62
This very day the R's crown him king „ II 63
He is gentle, tho' a R. „ II 502 and though a R I Forgive thee, Camma. „ II 505

Romance may not a girl's love-dream have too much r in it Prom. of May III 185

Rome on the scaffold Recanted, and resold himself to R. Queen Mary III i 152
And from the Apostolic see of R; „ III iii 127
Old R, that first made martyrs in the Church, „ III iv 126
But when did our R tremble? „ III iv 130
the pine was R. „ III iv 142
Who loathe you for your late return to R, „ IV ii 33 when the King's divorce was sued at R, „ IV iii 42 sharper harm to England and to R, Than Calais taken. „ V ii 29
He has cited me to R, for heresy, „ V ii 42
But held from you all papers sent by R, „ V ii 46
To compass which I wrote myself to R, „ V ii 50
But—he would have me Catholic of R, „ V iii 93 but worse news: this William sent to R, Harold III ii 141 human laughter in old R Before a Pope was born, „ III ii 164 Refer my cause, my crown to R! . . . „ V i 2 flashes And fulminations from the side of R, Becket, Pro. 222
This Canterbury is only less than R, „ I i 147
The pagan temple of a pagan R! „ I iii 62
If R be feeble, then should I be firm. „ I iii 240
And R is venal ev'n to rottenness. „ I iii 296
Against the solemn ordinance from R, „ I iii 505
Map scoffs at R. I all but hold with Map. Save for myself no R were left in England, „ II ii 384
Why should this R, this R, Still choose Barabbas „ II ii 389
I would have done my most to keep R holy, I would have made R know she still is R— „ II ii 401
Has left his bones upon the way to R „ II ii 409
The King had had no power except for R. 'Tis not the King who is guilty of mine exile, But R, R, R! „ II ii 413
Thou hast served me heretofore with R— „ II ii 461 To R again! the storm begins again. „ II ii 468 stand Clothed with the full authority of R, „ V ii 493 when I was flying from My Tetrarchy to R. The Cup I i 7
if he be conspirator, R will chain, Or slay him. „ I i 18
I shall have my tetrarchy restored By R, „ I i 21 quarrels with themselves, their spites at R, „ I i 91
I heard in R, This tributary crown may fall to you. „ I i 96
The king, the crown! their talk in R? „ I i 99 and be to R More faithful than a Roman. „ I i 102
I have heard them say in R, „ I i 136 violence to a woman, As R did Tarquin. „ I i 140 the dry light of R's straight-going policy, „ I i 145 even drown you In the good regard of R. „ I i 151
I am most true to R. „ I i 154
They say that R Sprang from a wolf. „ I ii 13
This mountain shepherd never dream'd of R. „ I ii 18
R Made war upon the peoples not the Gods. „ I ii 59
The force of R a thousand-fold our own. „ I ii 85 they call it so in R. Sinnatus. Province! „ I ii 93
R Will crush you if you wrestle with her; „ I ii 130
If Synorix, who has dwelt three years in R „ I ii 176
Then that I serve with R to serve Galatia. „ I ii 213
Camma, R has a glimpse of this conspiracy; R never yet hath spar'd conspirator. „ I ii 233
—all seen,—all calculated, All known by R. „ I ii 257 with this black thunderbolt of R Above him, „ I ii 266 my serving R To serve Galatia: „ I ii 278
I say it to you—you are wiser—R knows all, „ I ii 285
But you know not the savagery of R. Camma. O—have you power with R? use it for him! Synorix. Alas! I have no such power with R. „ I ii 288

Rome (continued) He steep'd himself In all the lust of R. The Cup I ii 369 loathed the cruelties that R Wrought on her vassals. „ I ii 374
When you cry 'R, R,' to seize On whomsoever „ I iii 5
Or man, or woman, as traitors unto R. „ I iii 10
R! R! Sinnatus. Adulterous dog! „ I iii 107
There then I rest, R's tributary king. „ I iii 156
I surely should have left That stroke to R. „ I iii 160
R! R! Twice I cried R. „ I iii 174
For all his faithful services to R. „ II 65 no more feuds Disturb our peaceful vassalage to R. „ II 71
We cannot fight imperial R, „ II 93
he and I Might teach this R— „ II 96
Our Antonius, Our faithful friend of R, tho' R „ II 244
R in you Deigns to look in upon our barbarisms. „ II 336
If you had found him plotting against R, „ II 407
R is fated To rule the world. „ II 414
I might have sent him prisoner to R. „ II 418
I had a touch of this last year—in—R. „ II 447
Dost thou cry out upon the Gods of R? „ II 455 by the Gods of R and all the world, „ II 465 tell the Senate I have been most true to R— „ II 483 if my people must be thralls of R, „ II 501

Rood by the R I will. Queen Mary I i 61
He swears by the R. Whew! „ I i 63 raised the r again, And brought us back the mass. „ I v 183
They told me that the Holy R had lean'd And bow'd above me; Harold V i 102 and the R itself were bound To that necessity „ V i 106
the Holy R That bow'd To me at Waltham— „ V i 382 we will make her whole; Not one r lost. Becket I i 165 nay, by the r They have done far worse— Foresters IV 908

Roof your loving natural brother Of the same r, same breast. Queen Mary IV iii 191 found thy name a charm to get me Food, r, and rest. Becket V ii 98
To the chapel of St. Blaise beneath the r! „ V iii 83
The shelter of your r—not for one moment— Prom. of May III 800 while the smoke floats from the cottage r, Foresters I ii 318 larger life hereafter, more Tenfold than under r. „ II i 70

Rooftree with all his r ringing 'Harold,' Harold V ii 129

Room (apartment) in a closed r, with light, fire, physic, tendance; Queen Mary V iv 36
The r she sleeps in—is not this the way? „ V v 205
How dark your r is! Prom. of May III 217 these lilies to lighten Sir Richard's black r, Foresters I i 3

Room (space) there is barely r to shift thy side, Harold II ii 441 crying To a mountain 'Stand aside and r for me!' „ IV iii 130 and theer'll be r anew for all o' ye. Prom. of May I 454
There was no r to advance or to retire. Foresters IV 534

Roomatics (rheumatics) I seed tha a-limping' up just now wi' the r i' the knee. Prom. of May I 385

Root (s) heat enough To scorch and wither heresy to the r. Queen Mary III iv 28 burn and blast them r and branch? „ III iv 283 this one fancy hath taken r, and borne blossom too, Becket, Pro. 481
Would God they had torn up all By the hard r, „ II ii 209
And dig it from the r for ever. „ IV ii 77 and rears his r Beyond his head, The Cup II 284

Root (verb) and Napoleons To r their power in. Prom. of May III 594

Rooted and r in far isles Beyond my seeing: Harold III i 152

Rope the r, the rack, the thumbscrew, the stake, Queen Mary II i 200 he hath half-hanged himself in the r of the Church, Becket III iii 75
In the church r?—no. „ III iii 80
I will take the r from off thy waist Foresters IV 687

Rosamund (de Clifford) (See also Clifford, Rosamund de Clifford) With Phryne, Or Lais, or thy R, or another? Henry. My R is no Lais, Thomas Becket; Becket, Pro. 56
And so this R, my true-heart wife, Not Eleanor— „ Pro. 130 and in the midst A garden and my R. „ Pro. 169 her bower. Fitzurse. R's? „ Pro. 429 was R—his paramour—thy rival. „ Pro. 471 Follow me this R day and night, „ Pro. 506 taking charge Of this wild R to please the King, „ I i 392
Well—you know—the minion, R. „ I ii 37
O R, I would be true—would tell thee all— „ II i 204

Rosamund (de Clifford) (continued) R hath not answer'd you one word ; Becket IV ii 361
if R is The world's rose, as her name imports „ V ii 261
Rosamund de Clifford wherefore should she seek The life of R d C „ Pro. 70
R d C ! Rosamund. Save me, father, „ I i 180
R d C. Rosamund. Here am I. „ I i 244
Rosary It served me for a blessed r. The Falcon 632
Rose (s) (See also Hedge-rose, White Rose) was all pure lily and r In his youth, Queen Mary I v 20
To sicken of his lilies and his r's. „ I v 25
Seventeen—a r of grace ! Girl never breathed to rival such a r ; R never blew that equall'd such a bud. „ III i 371
I have play'd with this poor r so long „ V ii 2
He cannot smell a r but pricks his nose Against the thorn, and rails against the r. Queen. I am the only r of all the stock That never thorn'd him ; Harold I i 422
They love the white r of virginity, „ III i 273
The reign of the r's is done— (repeat) Becket, Pro. 303, 325
Over and gone with the r's, (repeat) „ Pro. 326, 333, 343
Not over and gone with the r. True, one r will outblossom the rest, one r in a bower. Becket, Pro. 344
r or no r, has killed the golden violet. „ Pro. 351
The rosebud of my r !— „ II i 68
But, my liege, I am sure, of all the r's— „ II i 140
Thou r of the world ! Thou r of all the r's ! „ II i 146
My brave-hearted R ! Hath he ever been to see thee ? „ II i 287
Babble in bower Under the r ! „ III i 97
And, being scratch'd, returns to his true r, „ III i 250 scared the red r from your face Into your heart ? „ IV ii 73
if Rosamund is The world's r, as her name imports „ V ii 263
I ha' browt these r's to ye—I forgits what they calls 'em, Prom. of May II 14 soom of her oän r's, an' she wur as sweet as ony on 'em— „ II 38 but I thowt I'd bring tha them r's fust. „ II 50
Wi' the wild white r, an' the woodbine sa gääy, „ II 174 matched with my Harold is like a hedge thistle by a garden r. „ III 176 to sääy he's browt some of Miss Eva's r's for the sick laädy to smell on. „ III 347 Might wish its r a lily, „ III 490
These r's for my Lady Marian ; Foresters I i 2
The lady gave a r to the Earl, The maid a r to the man. (repeat) Foresters I i 12, 105
You do well, Mistress Kate, to sing and to gather r's. „ I i 23
A r to the man ! Ay, the man had given her a r and she gave him another. Kate. Shall I keep one little r for Little John ? „ I i 109
Wilt thou not give me rather the little r for Little John ? „ I i 148
Rose (verb) To r and lavender my horsiness, Queen Mary III v 185
Rose (past tense) when there r a talk of the late rebellion, „ I i 91
r again, And, when the headsman pray'd „ III i 392
R hand in hand, and whisper'd 'come away ! „ III v 148
a dead man R from behind the altar, Harold I ii 79
And then I r and ran. „ II i 12 great Angel r And past again along the highest „ III i 155 when I r, They told me that the Holy Rood „ V i 101
So dwelt on that they r and darken'd Heaven. Becket II ii 205
Most like the city r against Antonius, The Cup I ii 62
And presently all r, and so departed. The Falcon 367
Fell with her motion as she r, and she, „ 536
She r From the foul flood and pointed Prom. of May II 652
Rosebud The r of my rose !— Becket II i 68
Rosefaced I and all would be glad to wreak our spite on the r minion of the King, „ Pro. 529
Rosy The r face, and long down-silvering beard, Harold III i 46
The r face and long down-silvering beard— „ IV i 261
Thank you. Look how full of r blossom it is. Prom. of May I 84
Rot in our oubliettes Thou shalt or r or ransom. Harold II i 108
Rotted Until they died of r limbs ; and then Cast on the dunghill naked, Queen Mary IV iii 445 Rotten (adj.) Wake, or the stout old island will become A r limb of Spain. Queen Mary II i 105 swirling under me in the lamplight, by the r wharfs— Prom. of May III 371 Rotten (s) cut out the r from your apple, Queen Mary II ii 5
Rou Ha R ! Ha R ! (repeat) Harold V i 437, 528, 631, 650, 661, 664
Rough Might it not Be the r preface of some closer bond ? Queen Mary I iv 48
Beheld our r forefathers break their Gods, „ III ii 120
A right r life and healthful. „ III v 260
Ever a r, blunt, and uncourtly fellow— „ V v 120
Like the r bear beneath the tree, good brother, Harold I i 327
If this war-storm in one of its r rolls „ V i 165
He comes, a r, bluff, simple-looking fellow. The Cup I i 172 nor our Archbishop Stagger on the slope decks for any r sea Becket II ii 106 Against the unpleasant jolts of this r road Prom. of May I 228
Yeäs, Miss ; but he wur so r wi' ma, I couldn't abide 'im. Dora. Why should he be r with you ? „ III 104
And these r oaks the palms of Paradise ! Foresters II i 169
Rougher To make allowance for their r fashions, Harold II ii 8
Roughness Your violence and much r to the Legate, Queen Mary III iv 318 Round A r fine likelier. Your pardon. „ III iii 279 and a plum-pudding as big as the r haystack. Prom. of May I 794 Round-about as sleek and as r-a as a mellow codlin. Foresters I i 43
Rounded Thou hast r since we met. Harold I i 95
Rouse Not so dead, But that a shock may r her. Queen Mary III i 30 sea-bird r himself and hover Above the windy ripple, Harold II ii 334
R the dead altar-flame, fling in the spices, The Cup II 182
Roused R by the clamour of the chase he woke, „ I ii 117
Rout (s) All our games be put to r. Foresters II ii 166
I blow the horn against this rascal r ! „ IV 794
Row but light enough to r. R to the blessed Isles ! The Cup II 245
Row'd more than one R in that galley—Gardiner to wit, Queen Mary IV i 87
Rowel softlier than with crimson r And streaming lash. „ III iv 183
Roy Hurrah ! Vive le R ! Becket I iv 274
Royal (See also All-royal, Real Hard Tillery) By God's light a noble creature, right r ! Queen Mary I i 69 but to my mind the Lady Elizabeth is the more noble and r. „ I i 73 and among them Courtenay, to be made Earl of Devon, of r blood, „ I i 111
That gave her r crown to Lady Jane. „ I ii 19
This dress was made me as the Earl of Devon To take my seat in ; looks it not right r ? Elizabeth. So r that the Queen forbad you wearing it. „ I iv 75
By your Grace's leave Your r mother came of Spain, „ I v 16
Your r father (For so they say) was all pure lily and rose In his youth, „ I v 19
Our r word for that ! and your good master, „ I v 267 after me Is heir of England ; and my r father, „ I v 286
God send her well ; Here comes her R Grace. „ II ii 126
From your own r lips, at once may know The wherefore of this coming, and so learn Your r will, and do it.— „ II ii 136 or impair in any way This r state of England, „ II ii 230
And I sped hither with what haste I might To save my r cousin. „ II iv 78
Elizabeth, Your R sister. „ II iv 117
That r commonplace too, cloth of gold, Could make it so. „ III i 54
Loyal and r cousin, humblest thanks. „ III ii 3
We had your r barge, and that same chair, „ III ii 6 now that all traitors Against our r state have lost the heads „ III iv 3
He owes himself, and with such r smiles— „ III iv 402 of her most R, Infallible, Papal Legate-cousin. „ III iv 433
But I am r, tho' your prisoner, „ III v 177
How fair and r—like a Queen, indeed ? „ V i 235
And, like a thief, push'd in his r hand ; „ V ii 466
Your r sister cannot last ; your hand Will be much coveted ! „ V iii 43
Madam, your r sister comes to see you. „ V v 191
'This Harold is not of the r blood, Harold II ii 354

Royal (continued) But by the r customs of our realm The Church should hold Becket, Pro. 23
No; too r for me. And I'll have no more Anselms. „ Pro. 274
And for these R customs, These ancient R customs—they are R, Not of the Church— „ I i 165 and the election shall be made in the Chapel R, „ I iii 111
Good r customs—had them written fair For John of Oxford here to read to you. „ I iii 415
As is his wont Too much of late whene'er your r rights „ I iii 429
Babes, orphans, mothers! is that r, Sire? Henry. And I have been as r with the Church. „ II i 81
And is that altogether r? „ II i 95
A faithful traitress to thy r fame. „ II i 98
What matters? R— „ II i 106
Still—thy fame too: I say that should be r. „ II i 110
I bad them clear A r pleasaunce for thee, in the wood, „ II i 128
I here deliver all this controversy Into your r hands. „ II ii 137 part r, for King and kingling both laughed, and so we could not but laugh, as by a r necessity— „ III iii 157 when the full fruit of the r promise might have dropt into thy mouth hadst thou but opened it to thank him. Becket. He fenced his r promise with an if. „ III iii 275
We trust your R Grace, lord of more land Than any crown in Europe, „ V i 28
My r liege, in aiming at your love, „ V i 35
It is a r messenger, my lord: Foresters I iii 52 and he hath seized On half the r castles. „ I iii 83

Royal-cousin their two Graces Do so dear-cousin and r-c him, Queen Mary III iv 400

Royalty retinue of three kings behind him, outroyalling r? Becket, Pro. 446 leave the r of my crown Unlessen'd to mine heirs. „ II i 107

Rub That irritable forelock which he r's, Queen Mary I iv 265
Who r their fawning noses in the dust, „ III iii 242 what hath fluster'd Gardiner? how he r's His forelock! „ III iv 12

Rubb'd Marv r out pale— „ III i 422

Ruby emeralds, Rubies, I know not what. „ III i 86 eyes—and these two sapphires—these Twin rubies— Harold I ii 112

Rudder such a one Was without r, anchor, compass— Prom. of May III 534

Ruddiest You are pale, my Dora! but the r cheek „ III 487

Rude Bandy their own r jests with them, The Cup I ii 360 and then he call'd me a r naäme, and I can't abide 'im. Prom. of May II 159 he wur r to me i' tha hayfield, and he'll be r to me ageän to-night. „ II 219

Ruffian And here a knot of r's all in rags, Queen Mary II ii 66 some Papist r's hereabout Would murder you. „ III v 174 your friends, those r's, the De Brocs, Becket V ii 434

Ruffle Ay, r thyself—be jealous! The Falcon 21

Ruffled but thou hast r my woman, Little John. Foresters I i 165

Ruffler too solemn and formal to be a r. Out upon thee! Little John. I am no r, my lady; „ I i 169

Ruffling that I bear it Without more r. Queen Mary V iii 4

Ruin (s) the general sees, A risk of utter r. „ V ii 449 Delay is death to thee, r to England. Harold II ii 718 whether it symbol'd r Or glory, who shall tell? „ V i 110 and leave it A waste of rock and r, hear. The Cup II 307
But for the slender help that I can give, Fall into r. Prom. of May II 422
Whose ransom was our r, Foresters IV 1007

Ruin (verb) Too like to r himself, and you, and me! The Cup I ii 263

Ruin'd (See also Half-ruin'd) and the race of Godwin Hath r Godwin. Harold V i 294

Rule (s) my Lord Mayor here, By his own r, Queen Mary II ii 347 by this r, Foliot may claim the pall For London Becket I iii 55 not to speak one word, for that's the r o' the garden, „ III i 138 and so cannot suffer by the r of frequency. „ III iii 319

Rule (verb) Spain and we, One crown, might r the world. Queen Mary I v 303 provinces Are hard to r and must be hardly ruled; „ III ii 201 hatred of the doctrines Of those who r, „ III iv 160
So that she come to r us. „ IV iii 390 and the French fleet R in the narrow seas. „ V i 7

Rule (verb) (continued) Thou art the man to r her! Harold I i 223
For I shall r according to your laws, „ II ii 759 he hath served me: none but he Can r all England. „ III i 244 one to r All England beyond question, beyond quarrel. „ IV i 144
I will r according to their laws. „ V ii 198
Rome is fated To r the world. The Cup II 416 when The stronger motive r's. Prom. of May II 671
No man who truly loves and truly r's Foresters II i 76

Ruleable if the land Were r by tongue, „ IV 399

Ruled wherever Spain hath r she hath wither'd Queen Mary II i 206 provinces Are hard to rule and must be hardly r; „ III ii 201

Ruler which hatred by and by Involves the r „ III iv 161
The r of a land Is bounden by his power „ III iv 211
When I was r in the patrimony, „ V ii 72 sat within the Norman chair A r all for England— Harold II ii 534
The r of an hour, but lawful King, Foresters IV 47

Ruling And r men are fatal twins that cannot Move Harold III i 127

Rumour r that Charles, the master of the world, Queen Mary I i 104
I trust it is but a r. „ I i 107
I hear unhappy r's—nay, I say not, I believe. „ V i 35 a r then That you were kill'd in battle. The Falcon 381
I may be outlaw'd, I have heard a r. Foresters I ii 92

Run (See also Runned) So the wine r, and there be revelry, Queen Mary III ii 236
See how the tears r down his fatherly face. „ IV iii 4
There r's a shallow brook across our field „ V v 83 lest they rear and r And break both neck and axle. Harold I i 373 play the note Whereat the dog shall howl and r, „ I ii 192
R thou to Count Guy; he is hard at hand. „ II i 54
That r's thro' all the faiths of all the world. „ III i 352
r in upon her and devour her, one and all Becket, Pro. 525
The rift that r's between me and the King. „ I i 140
Among these happy dales, r clearer, „ II i 157 this love, this mother, r's thro' all The world „ V ii 241
Why, whither r's the boy? The Cup I i 70 break of precipice that r's Thro' all the wood, „ I ii 21
r my mind out to a random guest Who join'd me „ I ii 107 my friends may spy him And slay him as he r's. „ I ii 392 r's to sea and makes it Foam over all the fleeted wealth „ II 287 a written scroll That seems to r in rhymings. The Falcon 432 tho' the fire should r along the ground, Prom. of May I 703
O law—yeäs, Sir! I'll r fur 'im mysen. „ III 714
I am sorry my exchequer r's so low Foresters I ii 272
if I hadn't a sprig o' wickentree sewn into my dress, I should r. „ II i 251 my heart so down in my heels that if I stay, I can't r. „ II i 348 most beaten track R's thro' the forest, „ III 90
And thou wouldst r more wine than blood. „ III 337
Whose writ will r thro' all the range of life. „ IV 48
You r down your game, We ours. „ IV 520

Runned (ran) I r arter thief i' the dark, Prom. of May I 402

Runned (run) Dan Smith's cart hes r ower a laädy i' the holler laäne, „ II 568

Running In the full vessel r out at top Harold I i 378
A hundred pathways r everyway, Becket, Pro. 163 and leprosies, and ulcers, and gangrenes, and r sores, „ I iv 256
r down the chase is kindlier sport Ev'n than the death. „ IV ii 213
I laäme't my knee last night r arter a thief. Prom. of May I 387

Rush Carry fresh r's into the dining-hall, Foresters I i 81
I pray Heaven we may not have to take to the r's. „ I i 90

Rushing No r on the game—the net,—the net. The Cup I i 170

Rust link r's with the breath of the first after-marriage kiss, Becket, Pro. 361

Rustic Is not this wood-witch of the r's fear „ III ii 31
A lady that was beautiful as day Sat by me at a r festival The Falcon 350 he, your r amourist, The polish'd Damon of your pastoral here, Prom. of May III 561

Rusting plow Lay r in the furrow's yellow weeds, Becket I iii 355

Rut Things that seem jerk'd out of the common r Of Nature Harold I i 138

Ruthless And like a river in flood thro' a burst dam Descends the r Norman— „ II ii 467

S

Saäke (sake) fur 'er s an' fur my s an' all? Prom. of May II 41
Saäme (same) a-plaäyin' the s gaäme wi' my Dora—
I'll Soomerset tha. „ II 591
Saäve (save) if she weänt listen to me when I be a-tryin' to s 'er— „ II 694
Saäy (say) I should s 'twur ower by now. Queen Mary IV iii 475
Nowt—what could he s? Prom. of May I 152 and I will s niver master 'ed better men: „ I 323
But I hed a word to s to ye. „ II 45
What did ye do, and what did ye s, „ II 173
What did ye s, and what did ye do, (repeat) „ II 178, 196
What did we do, and what did we s, „ II 185
What we mowt s, and what we mowt do, „ II 191
But what 'ud she s to that? „ II 598 and s it to ye afoor dark; „ III 13 to s he's browt some of Miss Eva's roses for the sick laädy to smell on. „ III 346 she moänt coom here. What would her mother s? „ III 459
Saäyin' (saying) What hasta been s to my Dora? „ II 704
He be s a word to the owd man, „ III 480
Sack (a wine) I marvel is it s or Malvoisie? Foresters III 331
Sack (bag) so dusted his back with the meal in his s, Becket I iv 175 and the s's, and the taäters, and the mangles, Prom. of May I 452 Sack (verb) Richard s's and wastes a town With random pillage, Foresters IV 376
Sackage safe from all The spoil and s aim'd Queen Mary II ii 248
Sack'd By him who s the house of God; „ III iii 195
When Wyatt s the Chancellor's house in Southwark. „ V ii 504
Sacrament Touching the s in that same book „ IV iii 263
Yea, take the S upon it, King. Harold IV i 183
Sacred thy kiss—S! I'll kiss it too. Becket II i 185
More s than his forests for the chase? „ IV ii 24
To bathe this s pavement with my blood. „ V iii 131
A s cup saved from a blazing shrine Of our great Goddess, The Cup I ii 54 and the s shrine By chance was burnt along with it. „ I ii 64 that you should clasp a hand Red with the s blood of Sinnatus? „ II 84
Antonius. Here is another s to the Goddess, „ II 346
O the s little thing. What a shape! Foresters I i 107
And coil'd himself about her s waist. „ II i 138 or shall I call it by that new term Brought from the s
East, his harem? „ IV 705
No friendship s, values neither man Nor woman save as tools— „ IV 713
Sacrifice Their wafer and perpetual s: Queen Mary I ii 45
A holy supper, not a s; „ IV ii 57
No s, but a life-giving feast! „ IV ii 112
A s to Harold, a peace-offering, Harold I ii 203
The more the love, the more acceptable The s of both your loves to heaven. No s to heaven, no help from heaven; „ III i 349
And s there must be, for the king Is holy, „ III i 354 it was but the s of a kingdom to his son, Becket III iii 106 nobler The victim was, the more acceptable Might be the s. The Falcon 881
Sacrificed like the Greek king when his daughter was s, Becket III iii 105
Sacrilege Take fees of tyranny, wink at s, „ II ii 394
O God, O noble knights, O s! „ V iii 179
Sad Be merry! yet, Sir Ralph, you look but s. Queen Mary II ii 359
Stafford, I am a s man and a serious. „ III i 41
Peace, cousin, peace! I am s at heart myself. „ V ii 159 poor lad! how sick and s for home! Harold II ii 325
Why art thou s? „ IV iii 20 but they were s, And somewhat sadden'd me. „ V i 112
Sadden'd but they were sad, And somewhat s me. „ V i 113
Sadder Of a nature Stronger, s than my own, Foresters II ii 189
Saddle A ragged cloak for s—he, he, he, Becket V i 248
Saddle-bow bent to his s-b, As if to win the man Queen Mary II ii 311
Sadness There is a touch of s in it, my lord, Foresters I iii 35
I have a touch of s in myself. „ I iii 38

Safe They have given me a s conduct: Queen Mary I ii 101 and keep you whole and s from all The spoil „ II ii 246
Is he so s to fight upon her side? „ II ii 313
If not, there's no man s. „ II ii 315
Yes, Thomas White. I am s enough; „ II ii 317
Friend, tho' so late, it is not s to preach. „ V iv 42
See him out s! (repeat) Harold V i 85, 93 into thy cloister as the king Will'd it: be s: „ V i 310
Stigand will see thee s, And so—Farewell. „ V i 419
And see thee s from Senlac. „ V i 457
Look out upon the battle—is he s? (repeat) „ V i 485, 655
S enough there from her to whom thou art bound Becket, Pro. 66 that is s with me as with thyself: „ Pro. 489
It is not s for me to look upon him. „ I iii 486
S from the dark and the cold, The Cup I ii 6
Home with the flock to the fold—S from the wolf— „ I ii 9
S from the wolf to the fold— „ I ii 19
charm'd our general into mercy, And all is s again. „ I ii 313
Who causest the s earth to shudder and gape, „ II 298
Safe-conduct Rogue, we have thy captain's s-c; Foresters IV 432
Safeguard Under the shield and s of the Pope, Becket I iii 600
Safelier you had s have slain an archbishop than a she-goat: „ III iii 68 Safer I fear you come to carry it off my shoulders, And sonnet-making's s. Queen Mary II i 93
Said my daughter s that when there rose „ I i 91 she s that no one in her time should be burnt for heresy. „ I i 96
Know too what Wyatt s. „ II ii 35
What Wyatt s, or what they s he s, „ II iv 127
He s it. Gardiner. Your courts of justice „ II iv 129
s she was condemn'd to die for treason; „ III i 377
Then knelt and s the Miserere Mei— „ III i 390 Well s, Lord Legate. Mary. Nay, not well s; I thought of you, my liege, „ III ii 93
Or s or done in all my life by me; „ IV iii 239 you recanted all you s Touching the sacrament „ IV iii 262
I have s. Cries. 'Pull him down! „ IV iii 279
S I not right? For how should reverend prelate „ IV iii 541
Have I not s? Madam, I came to sue Your Council „ V i 106
Why, who s that? I know not—true enough! „ V ii 208
What s you, my good Lord, that our brave English „ V ii 254
S you not Many of these were loyal? „ V ii 329 what you s When last you came to England? „ V ii 567 you s more; You s he would come quickly. „ V ii 574
Is it so fine? Troth, some have s so. „ V iii 54
He s it was not courtly to stand helmeted „ V v 35
He s (thou heardst him) that I must not hence Save on conditions. Malet. So in truth he s. Harold II ii 260
He s that he should see confusion fall „ II ii 489
Some s it was thy father's deed. Harold. They lied. „ II ii 513
S 'ay' when I meant 'no,' lied like a lad „ II ii 656
The Devil is so modest. Gurth. He never s it! „ III i 121
Since Griffyth's head was sent To Edward, she hath s it. „ IV i 222
Monk, Thou hast s thy say, „ V i 5
The manner of his death, and all he s. Becket, Pro. 426
And I have s no word of this to him: „ I i 97
They s—her Grace's people—thou wast found— „ I ii 4
And what s the black sheep, my masters? „ I iv 167 from that height something was s to me I knew not what. „ II i 59
He s as much before. „ II ii 420 from those, as I s before, there may come a conflagration— „ III iii 164
He s so? Louis, did he? „ III iii 255
You wrong the King: he meant what he s to-day. „ III iii 299
You s you couldn't trust Margery, „ IV ii 15 ready To tear himself for having s as much. „ IV ii 279
I s it was the King's courts, not the King; „ V ii 114
Why s you not as much to my brave Sinnatus? The Cup I ii 259
Not say as much? I all but s as much. „ I ii 281
And s he loathed the cruelties that Rome „ I ii 373
As I s before, you are still too early. „ I iii 80
Do what I s; (repeat) The Falcon 265, 269 you have s so much Of this poor wreath „ 426
That is musically s. „ 459
I s you might imagine it was so. „ 545
Master Dobson, did you hear what I s? Prom. of May I 172

Said (continued) Well but, as I s afoor, it be the last loäd hoäm; Prom. of May II 168
She s herself She would forgive him, „ II 679
He s we had been most happy together, „ III 327
O forgive me! forgive me!' Steer. Who s that? „ III 464
I never s As much before to any woman living. „ III 644
he s that whenever I married he would give me away, Foresters I i 287
I care not what he s. „ I ii 259 therefore by the judgment of the officers of the s lord king, „ I iii 65
So he s who lieth here. „ II ii 117
He hath, as he s, but one penny. „ III 208
S I not, I loved thee, man? „ IV 740
Saidest So thou s. Harold V ii 26
Sail Stand on the deck and spread his wings for s! Queen Mary I v 379 Draw with your s's from our poor land, „ III vi 226 every craft that carries s and gun Steer toward Calais. „ V ii 275 her six and thirty s Of Provence blew you Becket V i 122 Sailing S from France, with thirty Englishmen, Queen Mary V i 285 Sailor See Latimer-sailor
Saint (See also Mummy-saints, Saint's-day) Ay, for the S's are come to reign again. „ II i 21
if thou call on God and all the s's, „ IV iii 97
S's, I have rebuilt Your shrines, „ V ii 299
O S of Aragon, with that sweet worn smile „ V v 198
To find the sweet refreshment of the S's. Harold I i 177 the S's Pilot and prosper all thy wandering „ I i 264
Thank the S's, no! „ I i 318
An honest gift, by all the S's, „ I i 345
'O thou more s than king!' „ I ii 167 by the patient S's, she's as crabb'd as ever. „ II i 51
'Marry, the S's must go along with us, „ II ii 365
Holy S's of Normandy When thou art home in England, „ II ii 727
S's to scatter sparks of plague Thro' all your cities, „ II ii 745 send thy s's that I may say Ev'n to their faces, „ II ii 785
To save thee from the wrath of Norman S's. Stigand. Norman enough! Be there no S's of England To help us „ III i 218
The S's are one, but those of Normanland Are mightier „ III i 223 but their S's Have heard thee, Harold. „ III i 253
My son, the S's are virgins; „ III i 271
All the sweet S's bless him! „ III i 297
Eternal war, than that the S's at peace „ III ii 75
Swearing thou swearest falsely by his S's: „ III ii 143
Our S's have moved the Church that moves the world, „ V i 41
Tell him the S's are nobler than he dreams, „ V i 55
Tell him that God is nobler than the S's, „ V i 58 lest the strange S's By whom thou swarest, „ V i 116
But by all S's— Leofwin. Barring the Norman! „ V i 224
My fatal oath—the dead S's—the dark dreams— „ V i 380
His oath was broken—O holy Norman S's, „ V i 617
And so the s's were wroth. I cannot love them, For they are Norman s's— „ V ii 7 liars all of you, Your S's and all! „ V ii 106 arrow which the S's Sharpen'd and sent against him— „ V ii 168 Praise the S's. It is over. No more blood! „ V ii 194
Why thou, the King, the Pope, the S's, the world, Becket I iii 706
And wake with it, and show it to all the S's. „ II i 304
My lord, you will be greater than the S's, „ II ii 197 all on 'us ha' had to go, bless the S's, „ III i 146
And shriek to all the s's among the stars: „ IV ii 239
O blessed s, O glorious Benedict,— „ V iii 1
And all the tutelar S's of Canterbury. „ V iii 167
Why, bless the s's! The Falcon 171 in hope that the s's would send us this blessed morning; „ 186
—they are made by the blessed s's—these marriages. „ 203
Oh sweet s's! one plate of prunes! „ 215 and by all the s's I can shoot almost as closely Foresters I i 215
For holy vows made to the blessed S's „ I ii 175 sweet s's bless your worship for your alms „ IV i 363 s's were so kind to both on us that he was dead „ II i 372 by all the s's and all the devils ye shall dance. „ IV 552

St. Alphege See Alphege
St. Andrew (See also Andrew's) Might not S A's be her happiest day? Mary. Then these shall meet upon S A's day. Queen Mary III ii 123
St. Andrew (continued) S A's day; sit close, sit close, we are friends. Queen Mary III iii 1
The triumph of S A on his cross, „ IV iii 94
St. Blaise See Blaise
St. Calixtus See Calixtus
St. Cupid See Cupid
St. Denis See Denis
St. Dunstan See Dunstan
Sainted yea, may God Forget me at most need when I forget Her foul divorce—my s mother— Queen Mary IV i 81
St. Edmund See Edmund
St. George See George
St. James Till, by S J, I find myself the fool. Queen Mary III vi 101
By S J I do protest, „ III vi 253
St. John What saith S J:—'Love of this world is hatred against God.' „ IV iii 172
St. Lawrence See Lawrence
Saintly Or give thee s strength to undergo. Queen Mary IV iii 99
A gentle, gracious, pure and s man! Harold II ii 585
The sickness of our s king, „ III i 164
Save him till all as s as thyself Becket V iii 12
Thou seem'st a s splendour out from heaven, Foresters II i 606
St. Mary's read your recantation Before the people in S M Church. Queen Mary IV ii 29
farewell; Until I see you in S M Church. „ IV ii 47
We are ready To take you to S M, Master Cranmer. „ IV ii 238
St. Olaf See Olaf
St. Pancratius See Pancratius
St. Paul (See also Paul) loons That cannot spell Esaïas from S P, Queen Mary III i 281
St. Peter (See also Peter) re-pulpited The shepherd of S P, „ I v 182
ev'n S P in his time of fear Denied his Master, „ III iv 263
They crucified S P downward. Becket I iii 619 greater than the Saints, More than S P? „ II ii 198
if they were defective as S P Denying Christ, „ II ii 215
Saint's-day Most like it is a S-d. Queen Mary II i 23
St. Valery Against S V And William. Harold III ii 136
St. Vitus See Vitus
Sake (See also Saäke) I have a head to lose for your sweet s. Queen Mary I iv 131
O, my lord to be, My love, for thy s only. „ I v 67 for appearance s, stay with the Queen. „ II i 137
We have made war upon the Holy Father All for your s: „ V ii 309 for the s Of England's wholeness— Harold I ii 197 for my mother's s I love your England. „ II ii 268
Speak for thy mother's s, and tell me true. Malet. Then for my mother's s and England's s „ II ii 271
O speak him fair, Harold, for thine own s. „ II ii 396
But for my s, oh brother! oh! for my s! „ II ii 401
Not ev'n for thy s, brother, would I lie. „ II ii 420
Harold, for my s and for thine own! „ II ii 607
Ay, brother—for the s of England—ay. „ II ii 638 for mine own s, for thine, For England, „ IV i 229 for their s who stagger betwixt thine Appeal, Becket I iii 621 for the s of the Church itself, if not for my own, „ I iv 152
Agree with him quickly again, even for the s of the Church. „ II ii 377
Then for your own s, Lady, I say it with all gentleness, And for the s The Cup I iii 98
For my s—or they seize on thee. „ I iii 113
For her own s then, if not for mine— Prom. of May II 683
Salad There sprouts a s in the garden still. The Falcon 149 one piece of earthenware to serve the s in „ 482
Here's a fine s for my lady, „ 546
You have but trifled with our homely s, „ 672
Saladdeen Nay, ev'n the accursed heathen S— Becket IV ii 251
Salisbury (Jocelyn, Bishop of) (See also Jocelyn) No saying of mine—Jocelyn of S. „ II ii 373 but S was a calf cowed by Mother Church, „ III iii 95 crowning thy young son By York, London and S—not Canterbury. „ III iii 196 York and myself, and our good S here, „ V i 56
Salisbury (John of) (See also John, John of Salisbury) We gave thee to the charge of John of S, „ I i 247

Salisbury (John of) (continued) John of S Hath often laid a cold hand on my heats, Becket I i 383
He watch'd her pass with John of S „ I ii 40 priest whom John of S trusted Hath sent another. „ III i 69
John of S committed The secret of the bower, „ III iii 4
I know him; our good John of S. „ V ii 77 make me not a woman, John of S, „ V ii 148
Sallied that our brave English Had s out from Calais Queen Mary V ii 256
Sally (Allen, servant to Farmer Dobson) (See also Sally Allen) wheniver 'e sees two sweet'arts togither like thou and me, S, Prom. of May II 164
And you an' your S was forkin' the haäy, „ II 181
When me an' my S was forkin' the haäy, „ II 192
For me an' my S we sweär'd to be true, „ II 204
I can't let tha aloän if I would, S. „ II 234 but us three, arter S'd telled us on 'im, „ III 133
I beänt sa sewer o' that, fur S knaw'd 'im; „ III 147
Some foolish mistake of S's; „ III 154 as the good S says, 'I can't abide him'— „ III 174
Sally Allen S A, you worked for Mr. Dobson, didn't you? „ III 101
Salt (adj.) Up from the s lips of the land we two Becket III ii 1 like a barren shore That grew s weeds, The Cup II 232
And a s wind burnt the blossoming trees; Prom. of May I 57
Salt (s) Have I sown it in s? I trust not, Becket III iii 320
Saltwood (adj.) thou, De Broc, that holdest S Castle— „ I iii 160 cursed those De Brocs That hold our S Castle „ II ii 269
Perchance the fierce De Brocs from S Castle, „ V ii 249
Saltwood (s) but an he come to S, By God's death, „ I iii 182
Salva S patriam Sancte Pater, S Fili, S Spiritus, S patriam, Harold V i 466
Salvation In the reborn s of a land So noble. Queen Mary III iii 182
I promise thee on my s That thou wilt hear Becket I iii 254 Same (See also Sääme) While this s marriage question was being argued, Queen Mary II ii 37 and that s tide Which, coming with our coming, „ II iii 20
We had your royal barge, and that s chair, „ III ii 7
the clauses added To that s treaty which the emperor sent us „ III iii 69
Crave, in the s cause, hearing of your Grace. „ IV i 8
This s petition of the foreign exiles For Cranmer's life. „ IV i 193
Hurt no man more Than you would harm your loving natural brother Of the s roof, s breast. „ IV iii 191
Touching the sacrament in that s book „ IV iii 263
But heaven and earth are threads of the s loom, Harold I i 210
A sight of that s chart which Henry gave you Becket I ii 60
The bird that moults sings the s song again, „ I iii 447
The s smile still. „ III iii 44
And that s head they would have play'd at ball with The Cup II 126
Have I not drunk of the s cup with thee? „ II 463
If I might send you down a flask or two Of that s vintage? The Falcon 586
Giovanna, my dear lady, in this s battle We had been beaten— „ 602 crown you Again with the s crown my Queen of Beauty. „ 915
But he'll never be the s man again. Prom. of May I 70
Can I fancy him kneeling with me, and uttering the s prayer; standing up side by side with me, and singing the s hymn? „ III 181
I believe thou fell'st into the hands Of these s Moors Foresters II i 564
Prettier than that s widow which you wot of. „ III 268 or by that s love of God we will hang thee, prince or no prince, „ IV 582 Sanction s your decree Of Tostig's banishment, Harold IV i 103
He s thee to excommunicate The prelates Becket V ii 398
Sanctuary For smooth stone columns of the s, Harold I ii 101
As one that puts himself in s. Becket I iii 479
Antonius would not suffer me to break Into the s. The Cup I iii 121 Sand sea may roll S, shingle, shore-weed, Harold I ii 119 from the liquid s's of Coesnon Haled „ II ii 56
Sudden change is a house on s; Becket III iii 60
Sand-castle A child's s-c on the beach The Cup I ii 253
Sanders What is thy name? Man. S. Queen Mary III i 313
Sane Brave, wary, s to the heart of her— „ V v 224
A s and natural loathing for a soul Purer, Becket II i 170
Will hardly help to make him s again. The Falcon 83
Sang S out their loves so loud, Harold I ii 20
Heard how the war-horn s, „ IV iii 157
Sanguelac Senlac! S, The Lake of Blood! „ III i 385
S! S! the arrow! the arrow! „ III i 402 the dead man call it—S, The lake of blood? „ V i 184 thou shalt die on Senlac hill—S! „ V i 243
dear brother, nevermore—S! „ V i 249 my voice against thee from the grave—S! „ V i 256
S! S! The arrow! the arrow! „ V i 262
S—S—the arrow— the arrow!—away! „ V i 671
Sank I s so low that I went into service— Prom. of May III 391
Sap Like April s to the topmost tree, Foresters I iii 24
Sapphire eyes—and these two s's—these Twin rubies, Harold I ii 110
Saracen (adj.) And push'd our lances into S hearts. Becket II ii 94
Saracen (s) He calls us worse than Jews, Moors, S's. Queen Mary V i 151
Sarve (serve) if ye be goin' to s our Dora as ye sarved our Eva— Prom. of May II 691
Sarved (served) fur I ha' s for ye well nigh as long as the man s for 'is sweet'art i' Scriptur'. „ II 61
if ye be goin' to sarve our Dora as ye s our Eva— „ II 692
Sat As if he had been the Holy Father, s And judged it. Queen Mary IV iii 44
if there s within the Norman chair A ruler Harold II ii 532
He s down there And dropt it in his hands, Becket I iii 323
s in mine own courts Judging my judges, „ I iii 367
Ay, the princes s in judgment against me, „ I iv 129 a son stone-blind S by his mother's hearth: „ V ii 106
s Stone-dead upon a heap of ice-cold eggs. „ V ii 238
S by me at a rustic festival The Falcon 350 and s Thro' every sensual course of that full feast Prom. of May II 253 while I s Among my thralls in my baronial hall Foresters II i 60
Kill'd the sward where'er they s, „ II ii 152
Satan terms Of S, liars, blasphemy, Antichrist, Queen Mary I ii 95
A spice of S, ha! „ III iv 77 betwixt thine Appeal, and Henry's anger, yield.
Becket. Hence, S! Becket I iii 624
Satin white s his trunk-hose, Inwrought with silver,— Queen Mary III i 76
Satisfaction we cannot yield thee an answer altogether to thy s. Becket I iv 22
Satisfy Have I not writ enough to s you? Queen Mary IV ii 63
Saturday and he pays me regular every S. Prom. of May I 311 spent all your last S's wages at the ale-house; „ III 78
Sauce-deviser A s-d for thy days of fish, Becket, Pro. 98
Saul (first Hebrew King) gloom of S Was lighten'd by young David's harp. Queen Mary V ii 358
Savage The nimble, wild, red, wiry, s king— Harold IV i 197
I heard your s cry. Becket IV ii 320
You have spoilt the farce. My s cry? „ IV ii 338
Our s mastiff, That all but kill'd the beggar, Prom. of May I 557
S, is he? What matters? „ I 562
'I go to fight in Scotland With many a s clan;' Foresters I i 15
Savagery hast thou never heard His s at Alençon,— Harold II ii 382
But you know not the s of Rome. The Cup I ii 287
Save (verb) (See also Sääve) up, son, and s him! They love thee, Queen Mary I iii 66
To s your crown that it must come to this. „ I v 479 no glory Like his who s's his country: „ II i 110 to s her from herself and Philip— „ II i 189
I come to s you all, And I'll go further off. „ II iii 118 but we can s your Grace. The river still is free. „ II iv 23 with what haste I might To s my royal cousin. „ II iv 78 and s the life Of Devon: if I s him, „ II iv 123
Sir, no woman's regimen Can s us. „ III i 123
God s their Graces! (repeat) Queen Mary III i 177, 187, 342, 412 trusted God would s her thro' the blood Of Jesus Christ Queen Mary III i 386
God s the Queen! „ III v 170 a day may sink or s a realm. Mary. A day may s a heart from breaking too. „ III vi 239
Yet to s Cranmer were to serve the Church, „ IV i 135
Written for fear of death, to s my life, „ IV iii 242
Tell, tell me; s my credit with myself. „ V ii 452
God s Elizabeth, the Queen of England! „ V v 283
God s the Queen! „ V v 288
Their saver, save thou s him from himself. Harold II ii 61

Save (verb) (continued) I have commission'd thee to s the man: Harold II ii 98
For having lost myself to s myself, „ II ii 654
To s thee from the wrath of Norman Saints. „ III i 217 lamb to Holy Church To s thee from the curse. „ III i 336 when our good hive Needs every sting to s it. „ IV i 18
This brother comes to s Your land from waste; „ IV i 94 not my purveyor Of pleasures, but to s a life— Becket, Pro. 150
S me, father, hide me—they follow me— „ I i 181
Make it so hard to s a moth from the fire? „ I i 283
S the King's honour here before his barons. „ I iii 187
God s him from all sickness of the soul! „ V ii 174 thy solitude among thy nuns, May that s thee! „ V ii 177
Is it too late for me to s your soul? „ V ii 524
S that dear head which now is Canterbury, S him, he saved my life, he saved my child, S him, his blood would darken Henry's name; S him till all as saintly as thyself „ V iii 6
He is not here—Not yet, thank heaven. O s him! „ V iii 17
That way, or this! S thyself either way. „ V iii 85
And s her from herself, and be to Rome The Cup I i 101
She may, perchance, to s this husband. „ I iii 33 but he may s the land, (repeat) Foresters I i 283 pay My brother all his debt and s the land. „ I ii 218 pay this mortgage to his brother, And s the land. „ I ii 265
God s the King! „ IV 857

Save (quasi-prep. and conj.) S for my daily range
Among the pleasant fields Queen Mary III v 78
s for the fate Which hunted him Harold II ii 28
Their saver, s thou save him from himself. „ II ii 61
S for the prattling of thy little ones. „ II ii 122
I must not hence S on conditions. „ II ii 262
S for thy wild and violent will that wrench'd „ V i 277
S for some once or twice, Becket, Pro. 122
S from the throne of thine archbishoprick? „ I i 119

Saved I trust this day, thro' God, I have s the crown. Queen Mary II ii 303 scarlet thread of Rahab s her life; „ III ii 39 blessed angels who rejoice Over one s „ III iii 181 once he s your Majesty's own life; „ IV i 124
Who s it or not s. „ IV i 133
but s in heaven By your recanting. „ IV ii 178
I thank thee for having s thyself. Harold II ii 653 save Your land from waste; I s it once before, „ IV i 95
I have s many of 'em. Becket I i 285 for to-night ye have s our Archbishop! „ I iv 257 life S as by miracle alone with Him Who gave it. „ IV ii 368 but s From all that by our solitude. „ V ii 170 all the souls we s and father'd here „ V ii 223
Save him, he s my life, he s my child, „ V iii 8 sacred cup s from a blazing shrine The Cup I ii 54
However I thank thee; thou hast s my life. „ I ii 333
He s my life too. Did he? „ I iii 160
I s his life once in battle. He has monies. I will go to him. I s him. I will try him. Foresters I i 272
Thou hast s my head at the peril of thine own. „ IV 795

Saver 'Hail, Daughter of God, and s of the faith. Queen Mary III ii 82
Their s, save thou save him from himself. Harold II ii 61

Saving to the s of their souls, Before your execution. Queen Mary IV ii 194
S my confessor and my cousin Pole. „ V ii 527
S thro' Norman bishopricks— Harold II ii 538
And even as I should bless thee s mine, „ II ii 651
S the honour of my order—ay. Becket I iii 20
S thine order! But King Henry sware That, s his King's kingship, „ I iii 26
S thine order, Thomas, Is black and white at once, „ I iii 30

Savour Burn!—Fie, what a s! Queen Mary V v 116
It bears an evil s among women. The Cup I iii 86

Savoury geese, beside Hedge-pigs, a s viand, Foresters IV 193

Savoy 'It is the King's wish, that you should wed Prince Philibert of S. Queen Mary III v 222
Specially not this landless Philibert Of S; „ III v 240
She will not have Prince Philibert of S, „ III vi 43
Elizabeth—To Philibert of S, as you know, „ V i 247
She will not have Prince Philibert of S. „ V i 254

Saw (maxim) For I was musing on an ancient s, Becket V ii 538

Saw (verb) (See also Seed) and s They had hewn the drawbridge Queen Mary II iii 17
I s Lord William Howard By torchlight, „ II iii 28 than have seen it: yet I s it. „ III i 48 changed not colour when she s the block, „ III i 399
I never s your Highness moved till now. „ III vi 103
Ay, my liege, I s the covers laying. „ III vi 258
I s the deaths of Latimer and Ridley. „ IV iii 295
And you s Latimer and Ridley die? „ IV iii 328
You s him how he past among the crowd; „ IV iii 574
s the church all fill'd With dead men Harold I ii 81
Griffyth when I s him flee, Chased deer-like „ I ii 146
I s him over there. „ II i 46
I s him coming with his brother Odo „ II ii 347 whose baby eye S them sufficient. „ III ii 67 and yet I s thee drive him up his hills— „ IV i 211
I s the hand of Tostig cover it. „ IV iii 81 someone s thy willy-nilly nun Vying a tress „ V i 148
I s her even now: She hath not left us. „ V i 158
I s it in her eyes! „ V i 368
I s that door Close even now upon the woman. Becket I i 201 who never s nor dreamed of such a banquet. „ I iv 83
Then I s Thy high black steed among the flaming furze, „ II i 54 bad me whatever I s not to speak one word, „ III i 133
s your ladyship a-parting wi' him even now „ III i 159
Thou art the prettiest child I ever s. „ IV i 7
I s the ball you lost in the fork of the great willow „ IV ii 56
I never s any such, Never knew any such, „ IV ii 125
I s you there. Fitzurse. I was not. „ V ii 411
You s my hounds True to the scent; The Cup I ii 109
When last I s you, You all but yielded. „ II 44 that ye s me crown myself withal. „ II 159
She s it at a dance, upon a neck Less lovely The Falcon 54
I never s The land so rich in blossom as this year. „ 341
Before I s you—all my nobleness Of nature, „ 810
I s a man go in, my lord. Foresters II i 207
Captain, we s thee cowering to a knight „ II i 682
I thought I s thee clasp and kiss a man „ II ii 71
I never s them: yet I could believe „ II ii 107

Saw See also See-saw

Saw'st Our bashful Legate, s not how he flush'd? Queen Mary III iv 350 that chart with the red line—thou s it— Becket, Pro. 428

Saxon (See also Un-Saxon, West Saxon) We hold our S woodcock in the springe, Harold II ii 1
Breathe the free wind from off our S downs, „ II ii 186
Angle, Jute, Dane, S, Norman, „ II ii 763 little help without our S carles Against Hardrada. „ IV i 35 yet he held that Dane, Jute, Angle, S, „ IV i 77
And Loathing wield a S battle-axe— „ V i 414
Ay, there springs a S on him, „ V i 498
I have heard the Steers Had land in S times; Prom. of May III 608 have loved Harold the S, or Hereward the Wake. Foresters I i 228 True soul of the S churl for whom song has no charm. „ II i 385

Say (s) Monk, Thou hast said thy s, Harold V i 5
Say all thy s, But blaze not out before the Frenchmen Becket III iii 220

Say (verb) (See also Saäy) from their sees Or fled, they s, or flying— Queen Mary I ii 5 hear what the shaveling has to s for himself. „ I iii 17
He s's right; by the mass we'll have no mass „ I iii 50
Perinde ac cadaver—as the priest s's, „ I iv 180 some s, That you shall marry him, make him King belike. Elizabeth. Do they s so, good uncle? „ I iv 211
But why s that? what have you done to lose her? „ I iv 295
Your royal father (For so they s) „ I v 20
I s your Grace is loved. „ I v 131
What s's the King your master? „ I v 247
No, s I come. I won by boldness once. „ I v 547
S for ten thousand ten—and pothouse knaves, „ II i 69
I s no more—only this, their lot is yours. „ II i 213
What do and s Your Council at this hour? „ II ii 45
So I s Your city is divided, „ II ii 98
I s, I, that was never mother, cannot tell „ II ii 188
he s's he's a poor gentleman. „ II iii 74
Hang him, I s. „ II iii 80 whom—whom did you s? Messenger. Elizabeth, „ II iv 115

Say (verb) (continued) What such a one as Wyatt s's is nothing : Queen Mary III i 139
He keeps, they s, some secret that may cost „ III i 200
I s There is no man—there was one woman with us— „ III i 336
oversea they s this state of yours Hath no more mortice „ III i 441
What s you ? Bagenhall. We talk and talk. „ III iii 37
But stretch it wider ; s when England fell. „ III iii 261
I s you were the one sole man who stood. „ III iii 263 yet I would not s Burn ! „ III iv 174 there are many, As my Lord Paget s's. „ III iv 177
beware, I s, Lest men accuse you of indifference „ III iv 222
But truth, they s, will out, „ III v 28
To s ' I did not ? ' and my rod's the block. „ III v 130 she would s These are the means God works with, „ III vi 67
What should I s, I cannot pick my words— „ III vi 147
You s true, Madam. „ III vi 198
I s, Your father had a will that beat men down ; „ IV i 107
So, so ; this will I s—thus will I pray. „ IV ii 113
I'll s something for you—so—good-bye. „ IV ii 167
And first I s it is a grievous case, „ IV iii 167
I s, I hold by all I wrote within that book. „ IV iii 274
I s they have drawn the fire On their own heads : „ IV iii 379
' Now,' s's the Bishop, s's he, ' we'll gwo to dinner ; ' „ IV iii 512
I hear unhappy rumours—nay, I s not, I believe. „ V i 36
They s your wars are not the wars of England. „ V i 165
S go ; but only s it lovingly. „ V i 216
Might I not s—to please your wife, the Queen ? „ V i 307
They s the gloom of Saul Was lighten'd „ V ii 358 but s the world is nothing— „ V ii 367
How dare you s it ? „ V ii 379
And s's, he will come quickly. „ V ii 565
Then I may s your Grace will see your sister ? „ V ii 603
They s she's dying. First. So is Cardinal Pole. „ V iv 4 s's That rest is all—tells me I must not think— „ V v 61
And who s's that ? Alice. It is a saying among the Catholics. „ V v 243
The Queen is dying, or you dare not s it. „ V v 251
I needs must s—That never English monarch „ V v 276
I s not this, as being Half Norman-blooded, Harold I i 168 and I s it For the last time perchance, „ I i 174
So s's old Gurth, not I : „ I i 302
I s, thou hast a tongue, „ I i 400
What do they s ? did Edward know of this ? Malet. They s, his wife was knowing and abetting. Harold. They s, his wife !— „ II ii 304
I s Ye would applaud that Norman who should drive „ II ii 538 send thy saints that I may s Ev'n to their faces, „ II ii 786 forbidden By Holy Church : but who shall s ? „ III ii 24
They s thou art to wed the Lady Aldwyth. Harold. They s, they s. „ III ii 107
Never shall any man s that I, that Tostig „ IV ii 66
He means the thing he s's. See him out safe ! „ V i 84
I s it now, forgive me ! „ V ii 27
S, The Queen should play his kingship Becket, Pro. 235
They s that you are wise in winged things, „ I i 255
We are friends no more : he will s that, not I. „ I i 345
I have heard him s He means no more ; „ I iii 192
S that a cleric murder'd an archbishop, „ I iii 399
What did the traitor s ? „ I iii 471
Tell what I s to the King. „ I iii 564
What s the bishops ? „ I iii 589
S that he blind thee and tear out thy tongue. „ I iii 615
Wilt thou not s, ' God bless you,' ere we go ? „ I iv 33
Call them in, I s. „ I iv 85 and they do s the very breath catches. „ I iv 222
And I s, I care not for thy saying. (repeat) „ II i 111
I almost fear to s That my poor heretic heart „ II i 282
I s that those Who went before us „ II ii 201
All that you s is just. I cannot answer it „ III i 1 and so brought me no-hows as I may s, „ III i 130 people do s that his is bad beyond all reckoning, and—— Rosamund. The people lie. „ III i 174 that is to s in her time when she had the ' Crown.' „ III i 197
S all thy say, But blaze not out before the Frenchmen „ III iii 219 but I s no more . . . farewell, my lord. „ III iii 271

Say (verb) (continued) base as—who shall I s—Fitzurse and his following— Becket III iii 308
False figure, Map would s. „ III iii 347 she s's she can make you sleep o' nights. „ IV ii 19
They s that walls have ears ; „ IV ii 79
there are those Who s you do not love him— „ IV ii 97
See, I can s no more. Eleanor. Will you not s you are not married to him ? Rosamund. Ay, Madam, I can s it, if you will. „ IV ii 107
And what would my own Aquitaine s to that ? „ V i 182
York will s anything. What is he saying now ? „ V ii 5
What s ye there of Becket ? „ V ii 56
They s that Rome Sprang from a wolf. The Cup I ii 12
Do not s so. I know of no such wives „ I ii 190
I have much to s, no time to s it in. „ I ii 207
Not s as much ? I all but said as much. „ I ii 281
I s it to you—you are wiser—Rome knows all, „ I ii 285
What did that villain Synorix s to you ? „ I ii 336
What did he s ? Camma. What should he s ? Sinnatus. What should he s, „ I ii 345
He should s this, that being Tetrarch once „ I ii 349
What should he s ? He should s nothing „ I ii 365
Lady, I s it with all gentleness, „ I iii 99
How dare she s it ? I could hate her for it „ II 177 some old Greek S death was the chief good ? „ II 515
Call him back and s I come to breakfast with him. The Falcon 212 for when I s What can I do— „ 238
How long since do you s ? „ 372
How can your lordship s so ? „ 508
I did not s, my lord, that it was so ; „ 544 shall we s this wreath and your sweet rhymes ? „ 734
And what did you s to that ? Prom. of May I 142
And what did he s to that ? „ I 151 thaw I s's it mysen, niver men 'ed a better master— „ I 326 Shall I s it ?—fly with me to-day. „ I 678
Didn't I s that we had forgiven you ? „ III 75
S that the sick lady thanks him ! „ III 348 but he s's he wants to tell ye summut „ III 354 some will s because I have inherited my Uncle. „ III 596
I s to it, Thou art mine, and it answers, Foresters I i 335
What did he s to thee ? „ I ii 254
Do you doubt me when I s she loves me, man ? „ II i 520
Speak to me, Kate, and s you pardon me ! „ II ii 53
Leave them each what they s is theirs, „ III 294
Out on it, I s, as out of tune and time ! „ IV 34
S it again, And by this ring the lips „ IV 69
What did I s ? Nay, my tongue tript— „ IV 498

Saying (part.) (See also Sāāyin) I cannot catch what Father Bourne is s. Queen Mary I iii 15
What wast thou s of this Lady Jane, „ I v 37
This Howard, whom they fear, what was he s ? „ III vi 55 hear that you are s behind his back what you see you are s afore his face ? The Falcon 106

Saying (s) It is a s among the Catholics. Queen Mary V v 244
I have heard a s of thy father Godwin, Harold III i 111
And I say, I care not for thy s. (repeat) Becket II i 112
No s of mine—Jocelyn of Salisbury. „ II ii 372 slopes Of Solomon-shaming flowers—that was your s, „ III i 49
I heard a s in Egypt, that ambition Is like the sea wave, The Cup I iii 137 you know the s—' Better a man without riches, The Falcon 750
A noble s—and acted on would yield A nobler breed „ 753

Sayst Why (smiling), no, indeed. Mary. S thou ? Queen Mary I v 335

Scaäred (scared) I be a bit deaf, and I wur hallus s by a big word ; Prom. of May III 33

Scabbard Down s, and out sword ! Queen Mary II i 143

Scaffold on the s Recanted, and resold himself to Rome. „ III i 151
She came upon the s, „ III i 376
You'll hear of me again. Bagenhall. Upon the s. „ III i 475

Scald And felt the sun of Antioch s our mail, Becket II ii 93

Scale (for weighing) always in suspense, like the s, Becket II ii 363
But lest we turn the s of courtesy Harold II ii 164

Scale (of a fish) my fellows know that I am all one s like a fish. Becket I iv 213

Scandal My flight were such a s to the faith, Queen Mary I ii 53
I'll have the s sounded to the mud. I know it a s.
Gardiner. All my hope is now It may be found a s. „ I v 227
Scandalous but I am small and s, „ V ii 428
Scant I had s time to do him in. The Falcon 556
Scape (escape) flies To right and left, and cannot s the flame. Harold I i 12
Knave, hast thou let thy prisoner s? „ II ii 673
Pray God, we 's the sunstroke. Queen Mary III v 279 let him bury her Even in the bowels of the earth to 's
The glance of John— Foresters III 463
Scaped (escaped) Archbishop Robert hardly s with life. Harold II ii 527
Scape-goat A sacrifice to Harold, a peace-offering, A s-g marriage— „ I ii 204
Scar To hide the s left by thy Parthian dart. Becket, Pro. 377 mine own, a grief To show the s for ever— „ I i 178
Scarboro' Castle Hath taken S C, north of York; Queen Mary V i 287
Scare old enough To s me into dreaming, „ IV ii 103
We thought to s this minion of the King Becket IV ii 330
Ye think to s me from my loyalty „ V ii 481 and speak small to 'em, and not s 'em, Foresters I i 101 make a ghostly wail ever and anon to s 'em. „ II i 216 that s's The Baron at the torture of his churls, „ III 105
Scarecrow no such s in your father's time. Queen Mary I v 473
We be more like s's in a field than decent serving men; Foresters I i 34
Scared (See also Scaäred) Mumbling and mixing up in his s prayers Heaven and earth's Maries; Queen Mary II ii 86
And s the gray old porter and his wife. „ II iii 16
S by the Church— Harold III ii 87
That s the dying conscience of the king, „ V i 211
Too s—so young! Becket II i 67
King at last is fairly s by this cloud—this interdict. „ III iii 63 have I s the red rose from your face Into your heart? „ IV ii 73
And he was s and slew it. Foresters II ii 99
We be s with song and shout. „ II ii 164
Scarlet (a companion of Robin Hood) S, hath not the Earl right? Foresters I ii 41
You, S, you are always moody here. „ I iii 128
Then, S, thou at least wilt go with me. „ I iii 144
I remember, S hacking down A hollow ash, „ II ii 95
I Little John, he Much the miller's son, and he S, „ III 55
he, young S, and he, old Much, and all the rest of us. „ III 60
Friend S, art thou less a man than Much? „ III 65
Then let her pass as an exception, S. „ III 72
S told me—is it true?— „ III 145
S, begin. „ III 423
Give me thy hand, Much; I love thee. At him, S! „ IV 311
You, good friar, You Much, you S, you dear Little John, „ IV 1083
Scarlet (adj.) S, as if her feet were wash'd in blood, Queen Mary III i 61
The s thread of Rahab saved her life; „ III ii 38
Scatter Saints to s sparks of plague Thro' all your cities, Harold II ii 745
S thy people home, descend the hill, „ V i 10
Winnow and s all scruples to the wind, Becket I i 150
I s all their cowls to all the hells. „ II i 93
To break our band and s us to the winds. Foresters III 453
Scatterbrains For Robin is no s like Richard, „ IV 355
Scatter'd (See also Loosely-scatter'd) Were s to the harvest . . . Harold IV iii 211
Smite the shepherd and the sheep are s. Becket I iv 227
Who dragg'd the s limbs into their den. Queen Mary I v 401
My people are all s I know not where. Foresters II i 176
Scattering To help the realm from s. Harold IV i 106
The crowd are s, let us move away! Becket III iii 357
Scelera Illorum s Pœna sequatur! (repeat) Harold V i 517, 604
Scene —not dead now—a swoon—a s— Prom. of May III 697
Scent (s) You saw my hounds True to the s; The Cup I ii 111
Scent (verb) I s it in the green leaves of the wood. Foresters IV 944 Sceptre His s shall go forth from Ind to Ind! Queen Mary III ii 177 unsubject to One earthly s. Becket I iii 681
S and crozier clashing, and the mitre „ II i 25 had I fathered him I had given him more of the rod than the s. „ III iii 111 bulrush now in this right hand For s, Foresters III 77 Scheme You s against her father's weal and hers, „ IV 481
Schism and grief For our long s and disobedience, Queen Mary III iii 129
Grace to repent and sorrow for their s; „ III iii 178
All s, and from all and every censure, „ III iii 217 so the plague Of s spreads; „ III iv 172 make Our island-Church a s from Christendom, Becket I iii 116 Scholar (See also Scholard) Right as an Oxford s, Foresters I i 59 Scholard (scholar) how can tha keep all thy s's i' horder? Prom. of May I 198 thaw I beänt naw s, fur I 'ednt naw time to maäke mysen a s „ I 332 School I was just out of s, I had no mother— „ I 706 afoor she went to s at Littlechester— „ II 19
Them be what they larns the childer' at s, „ III 40
School-boy More like a s-b that hath broken bounds, Queen Mary I v 170
School'd a Tudor S by the shadow of death— „ V v 226
Schoolin-time but I were burn afoor s-t. Prom. of May III 40
Schoolmaster S! Why if Steer han't haxed s to dinner, thaw 'e knaws I was hallus ageän heving s i' the parish! „ I 184
An' thou doänt understan' it neither—and thou s an' all. „ I 239
Noä, fur thou be nobbut s; „ I 308 but the s looked to the paying you your wages when I was away, „ III 23
Schoolmen The Canonists and S were with me. Queen Mary I ii 61
Schoolmistress Wasn't Miss Vavasour, our s at Littlechester, Prom. of May III 298 Science I had some smattering of s then, „ II 301 and s now could drug and balm us Back into nescience „ II 339
Scindatur Illorum, Domine, Scutum s! Harold V i 509
Scion whether her Grace incline to this splendid s of Plantagenet. Queen Mary I i 135
Scizzars (Cæsar, name of horse) S an' Pumpy was good uns to goä (repeat) Prom. of May II 308, 318
Sconce I will break thy s with my quarterstaff. Foresters I ii 75
Scope yield Full s to persons rascal and forlorn, Queen Mary II ii 185
Scorch heat enough To s and wither heresy to the root. „ III iv 28
Score (See also Three-score) There goes a musical s along with them, The Falcon 452
How many of you are there? Publius. Some half a s. The Cup I iii 13
Half a s of them, all directed to me— Prom. of May II 721
Scorn (s) He never yet could brook the note of s. Becket V ii 300
S! I hate s. A soul with no religion— Prom. of May III 531
Scorn (verb) dost thou s me, Because I had my Canterbury pallium, Harold III i 105
Fool and wise, I fear This curse, and s it. „ III ii 68
Madam, you do ill to s wedded love. Becket, Pro. 353
Church must s herself whose fearful Priest „ I ii 64
Not s him for the foibles of his youth. „ V ii 328
s's The noblest-natured man alive, The Falcon 258 Scorn'd His foes would blame him, and I s 'em, Queen Mary I v 624 tho' some of you Have s me— Harold I i 188 have s the man, Or lash'd his rascal back, „ II ii 506
s her too much To harm her. Becket IV ii 392
Scorning divorced King Louis, S his monkery,— „ IV ii 419
Scory (Bishop) Poinet, Barlow, Bale, S, Coverdale; Queen Mary I ii 7
Scotland Mary of S,—for I have not own'd My sister, „ I v 284
To make the crown of S one with ours, „ I v 287 but your king stole her a babe from S „ I v 292
Mary of S, married to your Dauphin, „ I v 295
he would weld France, England, S, „ V i 137
—S, Ireland, Iceland, Orkney, Harold III ii 124
'I go to fight in S With many a savage clan;' Foresters I i 14
Scots (Mary, Queen of) (See also Mary of Scotland) She stands between you and the Queen of S.
Mary. The Queen of S at least is Catholic. Queen Mary V i 193
The Queen of S is married to the Dauphin, „ V v 52
Scottish your S namesake marrying The Dauphin, „ V i 134
Scoundrel Trusted than trust—the s— „ II ii 39
Who shook the Norman s's off the throne, Harold IV i 81
Scourge (s) they call me now, The s and butcher Queen Mary V ii 106 Yon grimly-glaring, treble-brandish'd s Of England! Harold I i 4 lied like a lad That dreads the pendent s, „ II ii 658
If fast and prayer, the lacerating s— Becket I iii 304

Scourge (verb) Threaten the child; 'I'll s you if you did it:' Queen Mary III v 126
Fast, s thyself, and mortify thy flesh, Becket I iii 539 once I wish'd to s them to the bones. The Cup I i 27
Scourging In s's, macerations, mortifyings, Fasts, Becket v i 41
Horrible! flaying, s, crucifying— The Cup I ii 235
Scout Our s's have heard the tinkle of their bells. Harold v i 220
Scouted I am glad that France hath s him at last: Becket II ii 252
Scowl A smile abroad is oft a s at home. Queen Mary III i 213
Scowl'd S that world-hated and world-hating beast, „ II ii 90
Scrape (s) less loyalty in it than the backward s of the clown's heel— Becket III iii 143
Scrape (verb) Sir Richard must s and s till he get to the land again. Foresters I i 78
Scraped I S from your finger-points the holy oil; Queen Mary IV ii 132
Scraps make Thy slender meal out of those s and shreds The Falcon 146
Scratch'd And, being s, returns to his true rose, Becket III i 249
Scratching See A-scrattin
Scream the s of some wild woodland thing. Foresters II i 252
Scream'd S as you did for water. Queen Mary III v 58
Scrimp Do not s your phrase, „ III iii 259
Scriptur' as long as the man sarved for 'is sweet'art i' S. Prom. of May II 63
Scripture (adj.) It's the old S text, 'Let us eat and drink, „ I 258
Scripture (s) (See also Scriptur') wholesome s, 'Little children Love one another.' Queen Mary III iv 84
Did you find a s, 'I come not to bring peace „ III iv 87
Scritch-owl Anger the s-o. Mercenary. But, my lord, the s-o bodes death, my lord. Foresters II i 331
Scroll But then what's here? King Harry with a s. Queen Mary III i 261
What's here? a s Pinned to the wreath. The Falcon 424 a written s That seems to run in rhymings. „ 431
Scruple and I fear One s, this or that way, Queen Mary II ii 100
Winnow and scatter all s's to the wind, Becket I i 150
Scruplest And s not to flaunt it to our face Foresters IV 887
Sculptor as a s clay, To their own model. Queen Mary III iii 33
Scum the psalm-singing weavers, cobblers, s— „ III iv 290
s And offal of the city would not change Estates „ IV iii 76 men, the s and offal of the Church; Becket I iii 408
Scurrilous May plaister his clean name with s rhymes! „ I i 309
Scurrying the s of a rat Affrighted me, Queen Mary III v 143
Scutage Church should pay her s like the lords. Becket I i 34
Scuttle S his cockle-shell? Harold IV iii 142
Scutum Illorum, Domine, S scindatur! „ V i 509
Scythe Your havings wasted by the s and spade— Queen Mary II ii 276
Sea (See also Mid-sea,) I spy the rock beneath the smiling s. „ I iv 279
Mine is the fleet and all the power at s— „ I iv 288
God lay the waves and strow the storms at s, „ I v 382
When they will sweep her from the s's. „ III i 162
Our voyage by s was all but miracle; „ III ii 25
And here the river flowing from the s, „ III ii 26 offal thrown Into the blind s of forgetfulness. „ III iii 193
dallying over s's Even when his brother's, „ III iv 293
So they have sent poor Courtenay over s. „ III v 2
I am sicker staying here Than any s could make me passing hence, Tho' I be ever deadly sick at s. „ III vi 87 and the French fleet Rule in the narrow s's. „ V i 7 Sending an insolent shot that dash'd the s's Upon us, „ V i 58 must lower his flag To that of England in the s's „ V i 66
A voice of shipwreck on a shoreless s! „ V ii 384
Spain would be England on her s's, and England Mistress of the Indies. „ V iii 72
I had heard of him in battle over s's, „ V v 33
Beyond the s's—a change! Harold I i 104 and hunt and hawk beyond the s's! „ I i 230
s shall roll me back To tumble at thy feet. „ I ii 114
The s may roll Sand, shingle, shore-weed, „ I ii 117 there is a post from over s's With news for thee. „ II ii 209
I'll hack my way to the s. „ II ii 312
Our Duke is all between thee and the s, „ II ii 315
God and the s have given thee to our hands— „ II ii 548 a lake, A s of blood—we are drown'd in blood— „ III i 398 dumb'd his carrion croak From the gray s for ever. „ IV iii 67
Sea (continued) send the shatter'd North again to s, Harold IV iii 141
I send my voice across the narrow s's— „ V i 246
Till the s wash her level with her shores, „ V i 331
The sign in heaven—the sudden blast at s— „ V i 379
Follow them, follow them, drive them to the s! „ V i 603
No man without my leave shall cross the s's Becket, Pro. 35
I mean to cross the s to France, „ I iii 124
Wilt not be suffer'd so to cross the s's „ I iii 129
Love that is born of the deep coming up with the sun from the s. (repeat) „ II i 10, 20 for any rough s Blown by the breath of kings. „ II ii 107 Shall the waste voice of the bond-breaking s „ V ii 359 bays And havens filling with a blissful s. The Cup II 236 runs to s and makes it Foam over all the fleeted wealth „ II 287
The sky? or the s on a blue day? Prom. of May I 101 myself Would guide you thro' the forest to the s. Foresters II i 639 light of the s's by the moon's long-silvering ray! „ II ii 178
Were plunged beneath the waters of the s, „ IV 669
Sea-bird Nor mark the s-b rouse himself and hover Above the windy ripple, Harold II ii 334
Sea-creek the s-c—the petty rill That falls into it— Becket II ii 293
Seal (s) Let the Great S be sent Back to the King to-morrow. „ I i 374
O thou Great S of England, Given me by my dear friend „ I i 336
Send the Great S by daybreak. „ I i 405
Thy sending back the Great S madden'd him, „ I iii 9
Flung the Great S of England in my face— „ I iii 456
Seal (verb) except he s his faith In sight of all Queen Mary IV iii 28
My lord Archbishop, thou hast yet to s. Becket I iii 306
S? If a seraph shouted from the sun, And bad me s „ I iii 311
I will not s. „ I iii 315
He would not s. „ I iii 319
the man shall s, Or I will s his doom. „ I iii 330
And thou art perjured, and thou wilt not s. „ I iii 527 Sign? s? I promised The King to obey these customs, „ I iii 555 will s Love's truth On those sweet lips Foresters IV 73
Sea-laughter and fill the sky With free s-l— Harold II ii 337
Seal'd Sign'd and not s! How's that? Becket I iii 318
Seaman Perhaps; but we have seamen. Queen Mary V iii 84
Sea-marks they should hang Cliff-gibbeted for s-m; Harold II i 97
Sea-mew our s-m Winging their only wail! „ II i 97
Sear Thine 'ifs' will s thine eyes out—ay. „ II ii 626
Search S them, Little John. Foresters III 201
S this other. „ III 207
S them, Kate, and see if they have spoken truth. „ III 288
s him then. How much hast thou about thee? „ IV 163
S me then. I should be hard beset with thy fourscore. „ IV 178
Search'd But how then if I will not bide to be s? „ IV 169
Searching He miss the s flame of purgatory, Becket V iii 13
Sea-saw The miserable s-s of our child-world, Queen Mary IV iii 385
Sea-shore lay them both upon the waste s-s At Hastings, Harold V ii 159
Sea-sick so should all the love-sick be s-s. Foresters IV 673
Season not in tune, a nightingale out of s; Becket, Pro. 350
Seat (See also Judgment-seat) This dress was made me as the Earl of Devon To take my s in; Queen Mary I iv 74
Throw cushions on that s, and make it throne-like. „ V ii 536
Seated Were s sadly at a fountain side, The Falcon 610
Sea-will-o'-the-wisp Wicked s-w-o'-t-w! Harold II i 20
Second let me call her our s Virgin Mary, Queen Mary I iii 57
The s Prince of Peace— „ III ii 164
Should play the s actor in this pageant That brings him in; „ III iii 13
Or a s fire, Like that which lately crackled underfoot „ III v 52 first In Council, s person in the realm, „ IV iii 72 and the s curse Descend upon thine head, Harold III ii 47
Who made the s mitre play the first, And acted me? Becket III iii 212
This is the s grain of good counsel I ever proffered thee, „ III iii 317 and I Became his s father: „ V ii 336
I have no fears at this my s marriage. The Cup II 209
It seem'd so; only there was left A s daughter, Prom. of May III 772
Second-sight Or some strange s-s, the marriage cup The Cup II 198
Second-sighted Your s-s man That scared the dying Harold V i 210
Secrecy bound me by his love to s Till his own time. Becket III i 228 Secret (adj.) And fearing for her, sent a s missive, Queen Mary II ii 121
And if you be not s in this matter, „ V i 271
I have built a s bower in England, Thomas, Becket, Pro. 158

Secret (adj.) (continued) We take her from her s bower in Anjou And pass her to her s bower in England. Becket Pro. 181 that s matter which would heat the King against thee „ Pro. 487
To pass thee to thy s bower to-morrow. „ I i 249
The s whisper of the Holy Father. „ I iii 236
And that old priest whom John of Salisbury trusted Hath sent another. Henry. S? „ III i 72
Henry. S, then? „ III i 82
Know you not this bower is s, „ IV ii 22
Found out her s bower and murder'd her. „ V i 175

Secret (s) (See also State-secret) some s that may cost Philip his life. Queen Mary III i 201
That is my s, Thomas. Becket. State s's should be patent to the statesman Becket, Pro. 75
—there lies the s of her whereabouts, „ Pro. 430
I do not then charm this s out of our loyal Thomas, „ Pro. 466
Thine enemy knows the s of my bower. „ II i 265
Is our s ours? Have you had any alarm? „ III i 27
John of Salisbury committed The s of the bower, „ III iii 6
This is no s, but a public matter. „ V ii 319
That is my s: keep it, or you sell me The Cup I ii 214
We never kept a s from each other; Prom. of May I 552
I have done wrong in keeping your s; „ III 399

Sect Their 'dies Illa,' which will test their s. Queen Mary III iv 428 worthy Bonner,—To test their s. „ III iv 431

Sectaries dishonour'd even in the sight Of thine own s— „ V v 134

Secular A s kingdom is but as the body Lacking a soul; and in itself a beast. The Holy Father in a s kingdom Is as the soul descending out of heaven Into a body generate. „ IV i 32
he was deliver'd To the s arm to burn; „ IV ii 214
I have been a lover of wines, and delicate meats, And s splendours, Becket I i 78
You have had the better of us In s matters. „ II ii 81

Secured if our person be s From traitor stabs— Queen Mary V v 280

Security Ay, ay, but what s, „ III iii 81

Sederunt S principes, ederunt pauperes. Becket I iv 131

See (a bishoprick) And from the Apostolic s of Rome; Queen Mary III iii 127 by your intercession May from the Apostolic s obtain, „ III iii 147 obedience Unto the holy s and reigning Pope „ III iii 158 our Bishops from their s's Or fled, „ I ii 4
From all the vacant s's and abbacies, Becket I iii 652
That hold our Saltwood Castle from our s! „ II ii 270

See (verb) fear, I s you, Dear friend, for the last time; Queen Mary I ii 102 my Lord; I s you in the Tower again. „ I iv 80
S that you neither hear them nor repeat! „ I v 576
To tell you what indeed ye s and know, „ II ii 144
And s the citizens arm'd. Good day; „ II ii 378 if he s the man and still will jeer, „ II ii 402
I could s that as the new-made couple „ III i 93
Bagenhall, I s The Tudor green and white. „ III i 179
S there be others that can use their hands. „ III i 243
Did you s her die? „ III i 344
No, cousin, happy—Happy to s you; „ III ii 87
Ay; but s here! First Page. S what? „ III ii 215 pray Heaven That you may s according to our sight. „ III iv 331
You cannot s the Queen. Renard denied her, „ III vi 1
My Lords, you cannot s her Majesty. „ III vi 19
Can I not s him? Renard. Not now. „ III vi 35 farewell; Until I s you in St. Mary's Church. „ IV ii 47
You have not gone to s the burning? „ IV iii 290
I could s that many silent hands Came from the crowd „ IV iii 582
Not to s me? Philip. Ay, Madam, to s you. „ V i 118
Count de Feria waits without, In hopes to s your Highness. „ V ii 401
She neither s's nor hears, „ V ii 404
Our Clarence there S's ever such an aureole „ V ii 413 Sin is too dull to s beyond himself. „ V ii 441 they s not what the general s's, A risk of utter ruin. „ V ii 447 throat of mine, Barer than I should wish a man to s it,— „ V ii 462
I will s no man hence for evermore, „ V ii 525
I may die Before I read it. Let me s him at once. „ V ii 550

See (verb) (continued) Then I may say your Grace will s your sister? Queen Mary V ii 604
You s the lodging, sir, „ V iii 23
That she would s your Grace before she—died. „ V iii 104
Nay, dearest Lady, s your good physician. „ V v 59 your royal sister comes to s you. Mary. I will not s her. „ V v 192
I will s none except the priest. Your arm. „ V v 196
For all the world s's it as well as England. Harold I i 129
I s the flashing of the gates of pearl— „ I i 186
s Deeper into the mysteries of heaven „ I i 199
S's he into thine, That thou wouldst have „ I i 202
S here—an interwoven H and E! „ I ii 57
thou shalt s My greyhounds fleeting „ I ii 128
I s the goal and half the way to it.— „ I ii 196
We be fishermen; I came to s after my nets. „ II i 27
He came not to s me, had past me by To hunt „ II ii 27
He s's me not—and yet he dreams of me. „ II ii 144
And s thee shipt, and pray in thy behalf „ II ii 197
I Shall s the dewy kiss of dawn no more „ II ii 331
I s the blackness of my dungeon loom „ II ii 405
s confusion fall On thee and on thine house. „ II ii 489
S here this little key about my neck! „ III i 10 to s my solemn vow Accomplish'd. „ III i 306 join our hands before the hosts, That all may s. „ IV i 243 cannot s the world but thro' their wines! „ IV iii 225
S him out safe! (repeat) „ V i 84, 93
S all be sound and whole. „ V i 194
I s it in thine. And not on thee— „ V i 369
Stigand will s thee safe, And so—Farewell. „ V i 418
And s thee safe from Senlac. „ V i 457
I can s it From where we stand: „ V i 462
I s the gonfanon of Holy Peter „ V i 549 and s beyond Your Norman shrines, „ V i 618
Our Harold—we shall never s him more. „ V ii 3
Take them away, I do not love to s them. „ V ii 142
s my bishop Hath brought your king to a standstill. Becket, Pro. 42
Ay! blood, perchance, except thou s to her. „ Pro. 176
Ay, ay, but swear to s to her in England. „ Pro. 190 longed much to s your Grace and the Chancellor ere he past, „ Pro. 399 you could not s the King for the kinglings. „ Pro. 452
I can s further into a man than our hot-headed Henry, „ Pro. 462
I stand and s The rift that runs between me „ I i 139 herself should s That kings are faithful „ I ii 77
He will not s thy face till thou hast sign'd „ I iii 5
I s it, I s it. „ I iii 297
Foliot, let me s what I have sign'd. „ I iii 307
To s the proud Archbishop mutilated. „ I iii 614 and s it mounting to Heaven, my God bless you, „ I iv 37
s here, my lord, this rag fro' the gangrene i' my leg. „ I iv 236
My brave-hearted Rose! Hath he ever been to s thee? „ II i 288
S if our pious—what shall I call him, John?— „ II ii 38
How should you s this rightly? „ II ii 98 now I s That I was blind—suffer the phrase— „ II ii 437
Bird mustn't tell, Whoop—he can s. (repeat) „ III i 107, 256
I s it—some confusion, Some strange mistake. „ III i 233
S here! Herbert. What's here? „ III iii 1
Do you s, my lord, There is the King „ III iii 21
Do you s that great black cloud „ III iii 45
And s you yon side-beam that is forced from under it, „ III iii 49
Ay, but some one comes to s her now and then. „ IV i 16
we shall s the silk here and there, and I want my supper. „ IV i 56
S, I can say no more. „ IV ii 107
what uncomely faces, could he s you! „ V i 201
I told him I was bound to s the Archbishop; „ V ii 100
You s they have been revelling, and I fear „ V ii 421
Who are with him? I s no face that knows me. The Cup I i 183
Had you then No Message with the cup? Camma. Why, yes, s here. „ I ii 69 a brave one Which you shall s to-morrow. „ I ii 432
S, s, my white bird stepping toward the snare. „ I iii 35 who has been So oft to s the Priestess, „ II 11
Are you so sure? I pray you wait and s. „ II 107
S here—I stretch my hand out—hold it there. „ II 210

See (verb) (continued) I am glad I shall not s it. The Cup II 513
Beneath an ever-rising sun—I s him— „ II 535
s, why she turns down the path through our little vineyard, The Falcon 167
I s you quite recover'd of your wound. „ 391
I s There goes a musical score along with' them, „ 451
S, my lady! Giovanna. I s, Filippo! „ 654 and s that all be right and reg'lar fur 'em afoor he coöm. Prom. of May I 168
S that you do not do so again! „ II 24
And wheniver 'e s's two sweet'arts togither like thou and me, Sally, „ II 163
Which told us we should never s her more— „ II 477
Letters! Yeas, I s's now. „ III 38
Ye s's the holler laäne be hallus so dark i' the arternoon, „ III 92
I cannot and I will not s anybody. „ III 340 may drop off any day, any hour. You must s him at once. „ III 408 Tell him that I and the lady here wish to s him. You s she is lamed, „ III 415
It puts me in heart Again to s you; „ III 503
I s it all now. O she has fainted. „ III 670 you s her there! Only fifteen when first you came on her, „ III 749
There, there! You s I was right. Foresters I i 114
She doesn't s me. Shall I be bold? „ I i 124
I could s her for a moment Glide like a light „ II i 157
You s, they are so fond o' their own voices „ II i 382
I will not brook to s Three upon two. „ II i 423
S whether there be more of 'em in the wood. „ II i 430
Thou wilt not s My Marian more. „ II i 455
S, thou hast wrong'd my brother and myself. „ II i 665
S then, I kneel once more to be forgiven. „ II i 667
Thou s me clasp and kiss a man indeed, „ II ii 76 that he may s The fashion of it. „ IV 253 left mine horse and armour with a Squire, And I must s to 'em. „ IV 416
You s he is past himself. What would you more? „ IV 471
S you not They are jesting at us yonder, „ IV 675
S thou thwart me not, thou fool! „ IV 744

Seeäms (seems) S I ommost knaws the back on 'im— Prom. of May II 577

Seed(s) 'Martyr's blood—s of the Church.' Queen Mary IV i 146 sow'd therein The s of Hate, it blossom'd Charity. „ IV i 172
The s thou sowest in thy field is cursed, Harold V i 70

Seed (saw) I s that one cow 'o thine i' the pinfold Prom. of May I 190
I s tha a-limpin' up just now wi' the roomatics i' the knee. „ I 384
I s how the owd man wur vext. „ II 27
I knaw'd 'im when I s 'im ageän „ III 121

Seed (seen) Noä, Miss. I ha'n't s 'er neither. „ I 48

Seeing (part.) s that our gracious Virgin Queen hath— Queen Mary I iii 23
if he jeer not s the true man Behind his folly, „ II ii 400
S there lie two ways to every end, „ III iv 113
s now The poor so many, and all food so dear. „ IV iii 208
And, s in a moment, I shall find Heaven „ IV iii 223 religious fool, Who, s war in heaven, Harold I i 140 and s the hospitable lights in your castle, Foresters I ii 194

Seeing (s) Grew ever high and higher, beyond my s, Harold III i 149 and rooted in far isles Beyond my s: „ III i 154 keep us From s all too near that urn, The Cup I iii 133

Seek s In that lone house, to practise on my life, Queen Mary I iv 283
You play at hide and s. „ I v 305
We but s Some settled ground for peace „ I v 314
S to possess our person, hold our Tower, „ II ii 158
s's To bend the laws to his own will, „ II ii 183
Or s to rescue me. I thank the Council. „ IV ii 38
I am not vext,—Altho' ye s to vex me, Harold I i 405 wherefore should she s The life of Rosamund de Clifford Becket, Pro. 69 where to s? I have been about the city. „ I i 397 when they s to overturn our rights, „ V ii 456
They s—you make—occasion for your death. „ V ii 558
I am he ye s. What would ye have of me? „ V iii 115
S not for me, or you may find me at the bottom of the river.— Prom. of May II 87

Seek (continued) why did you write 'S me at the bottom of the river'? Prom. of May III 363
Because we s to curb their viciousness. Foresters III 393

Seeking By s justice at a stranger's hand Queen Mary IV i 20
I am s one who wedded me in secret. Harold V ii 29
I tell thee, girl, I am s my dead Harold. „ V ii 43
pale beggar-woman s alms For her sick son, The Falcon 852

Seem (See also Seeäms) it s's that we shall fly These bald, blank fields, Queen Mary III v 250 even now You s the least assassin of the four. Becket V ii 522

Seem'd S thro' that dim dilated world of hers, Queen Mary II ii 324
s to smile And sparkle like our fortune „ II iii 22
S as a happy miracle to make glide— „ III ii 29
it s to me but just The Church should pay Becket I i 33
It s to me that we were parted for ever. Prom. of May I 769
It s so; only there was left A second daughter, „ III 770

Seeming s not as brethren, But mortal foes! Queen Mary IV iii 184
As s his, not mine, and fall abroad. Becket, Pro. 228

Seen (See also Seed) I have s enough for this day. Queen Mary I i 130 should already have s your steps a mile „ I ii 80 do not you Be s in corners with my Lord of Devon. „ I iv 154 and yet, methinks, I have s goodlier. „ I v 7
Have you s Philip ever? Noailles. Only once. „ I v 319
I have s them in their own land; „ II i 167
I have never s her So queenly or so goodly. „ II ii 326 flask of wine Beside me, than have s it: yet I saw it. „ III i 48 track of the true faith Your lapses are far s. „ III iv 95
I have s A pine in Italy that cast its shadow „ III iv 135 when she once more is s White as the light, „ III iv 198 Brief-sighted tho' they be, I have s them, „ III vi 158 never s That any one recanting thus at full, „ IV i 58
It will be s now, then. „ IV i 62
Have I not s the gamekeeper, the groom, „ IV iii 371
I have s heretics of the poorer sort, „ IV iii 436 old age that never will be mine Is all the clearer s. „ V ii 236
s the true men of Christ lying famine-dead by scores, „ V iv 37
Thou hast but s how Norman hands can strike, Harold II ii 171
I dare not well be s in talk with thee. „ II ii 481
Edward wakes!—Dazed—he hath s a vision. „ III i 131 hath talk'd with God, and s A shadowing horror; „ III i 356
Nor s, nor heard; thine, „ V i 161
I have s The trenches dug, the palisades uprear'd „ V i 188
No footfall—no Fitzurse. We have s her home. Becket I i 367
The world had never s the like before. „ II i 125 and I ha' s what I ha' s, (repeat) Becket III i 109, 143, 151 and to be sure I ha' s great ones to-day— Becket III i 136 and I ha' s the King once at Oxford, „ III i 163 she had s the Archbishop once, So mild, so kind. „ V ii 118
S by the Church in Heaven, the Church on earth— „ V iii 98
S in the thicket at the bottom there The Cup I i 113
—all s,—all calculated, All known by Rome. „ I ii 255
It may be I had never s the wars. The Falcon 379
I have s it like the snow on the moraine. „ 505 and s the red of the battle-field, „ 548
I haven't s Eva yet. Is she anywhere in the garden? Prom. of May I 46
I can't tell, for I have never s him. „ I 115
She would have s at once into my trouble, „ I 553
if you Had s us that wild morning when we found „ II 469 —had you been one of us And s all this, „ II 484
I have s the world—And cheer his blindness „ II 513 since then, no one has s you but myself. „ III 228
I have s thee clasp and kiss a man indeed, Foresters IV 1035

See-saw The miserable s-s of our child-world, Queen Mary IV iii 385

Seest when thou s him next, Commend me to thy friend. Becket I i 323
Thou s, Sir Knight, our friar is so holy Foresters IV 279

Seethed She s with such adulteries, Queen Mary III iv 189

Seize that anyone Should s our person, „ II ii 178
To s upon the forts and fleet, „ III i 464
S him and burn him for a Lutheran. „ V ii 245
Stumble not in the darkness, Lest they should s thee. Becket V iii 80
We shall be overwhelm'd. S him and carry him! „ V iii 141
I give you here an order To s upon him. The Cup I i 165
'You are to s on Sinnatus,—if——' „ I ii 228

Seize (continued) to s On whomsover may be talking with you, The Cup I iii 6
For my sake—or they s on thee. „ I iii 113
Why come we now? Whom shall we s upon? „ I iii 178
S on the knight? wrench his sword from him! Foresters II i 676
S him and truss him up, and carry her off. „ IV 690
S her and carry her off into my castle. „ IV 738
Seized may not be s With some fierce passion, Prom. of May II 335 he hath s On half the royal castles. Foresters I iii 82 Self The Queen stands up, and speaks for her own s; Queen Mary II ii 342 his fault So thoroughly to believe in his own s. „ II ii 386
Yet thoroughly to believe in one's own s, So one's own s be thorough, „ II ii 388
the Pope's Holiness By mine own s. „ III ii 112
As well for our own selves as all the realm, „ III iii 136 and not sure Of their own selves, they are wroth with their own selves, „ III iv 120
Bonner cannot out-Bonner his own s— „ III vi 27
By mine own s—by mine own hand! „ IV ii 202 and mine own s and all the world. „ V ii 12 but I speak from mine own s, not him; „ V iii 42
—yea and mine own s. Harold II ii 784
Tho' somewhat less a king to my true s „ III ii 53 where mine own s Takes part against myself! „ V i 299 what shall I call it, affect her thine own s. Becket, Pro. 513
Look to it, your own selves! „ I iii 398
Strong—not in mine own s, but Heaven; „ I iii 537
Who stands aghast at her eternal s „ II ii 404 on mine own s The King had had no power „ II ii 411 kingly promise given To our own s of pardon, „ II ii 433
'great honour,' says he, 'from the King's s to the King's son.' „ III iii 145
I am mine own s Of and belonging to the King. „ IV ii 29
I'll swear to mine own s it was a feint. „ IV ii 401
The soldier, when he lets his whole s go Lost in the common good, the common wrong, Strikes truest ev'n for his own s. „ V ii 39
Then speak; this is my other s, „ V ii 74 as beautiful this morning as the very Madonna her own s— The Falcon 199
And this last costly gift to mine own s, „ 228
Vice and Virtue Are but two masks of s; Prom. of May I 538
I have found it once again In your own s. „ II 377
—so be more at peace With mine own s. „ II 663 till we be only bones our own selves. Foresters I i 26
I remain Mistress of mine own s and mine own soul. „ IV 729
Self-assertion than to stand On naked s-a. Queen Mary IV i 120
Self-blotted he is effaced, S-b out; „ IV i 138
Self-disdain for a spark Of s-d born in me when I sware Harold V i 302
Self-exposure Why will you court it By s-e? Becket I i 282
Self-lauding Without too large s-l I must hold Harold IV iii 87
Selfless The simple, silent, s man Is worth a world of tongueasters. „ V i 81
Self-murder lying were s-m by that state „ III i 70
Self-passion drown all poor s-p in the sense Of public good? The Cup II 101
Self-stock Of one s-s at first, Make them again Harold V ii 186
Self-uncertain and yet We are s-u creatures, Becket V ii 48 Sell s not thou Our living passion for a dead man's dream; Harold III ii 58 keep it, or you s me To torment and to death. The Cup I ii 214
We shall have to s all the land, Prom. of May III 164
And so wouldst s thy sister to the Sheriff, Foresters II i 536
'S all thou hast and give it to the poor;' „ III 169
S me again perchance for twice as much. „ IV 654
Seller but I bound the s To silence, The Falcon 73
Semi-barbarous altho' the inhabitants Seem s-b. Prom. of May II 542 Semi-madman known a s-m in my time So fancy-ridd'n) Queen Mary II i 9
Senate Our S, wearied of their tetrarchies, The Cup I i 89
What filthy tools our S works with! „ I i 156
Save for some slight report in her own S „ I ii 134
Roman S, For I have always play'd into their hands, „ I iii 149 tell the S I have been most true to Rome— „ II 482 Send God s her well; Here comes her Royal Grace. Queen Mary II ii 125
s's His careful dog to bring them to the fold. „ III iv 104
S out: let England as of old Rise lionlike, „ V ii 265
Send (continued) S out, s out, and make Musters in all the counties; Queen Mary V ii 270
S out; I am too weak to stir abroad: „ V ii 286 he s's his veriest love, And says, he will come quickly. „ V ii 563 and to s us again, according to His promise, „ V iv 52 s thee back among thine island mists With laughter. Harold II ii 181 s her hosts Of injured Saints to scatter sparks „ II ii 743 and s thy saints that I may say Ev'n to their faces, „ II ii 785
And s the shatter'd North again to sea, „ IV iii 140
I s my voice across the narrow seas— „ V i 246
The Norman s's his arrows up to Heaven, „ V i 666
I s thee as a common friend To tell the King, Becket I i 341
S the Great Seal by daybreak. „ I i 405
S for him back. „ I iii 334 he s's me to bid you this night pray for him „ I iv 265 can I s her hence Without his kingly leave? „ III i 218
And s thee back again to Canterbury? „ III iii 184
S back again those exiles of my kin „ III iii 186
Have I not promised, man, to s them back? „ III iii 191
She s's it back, as being dead to earth, „ V i 170 and s Her whole heart's heat into it, „ V ii 254 s's you this cup rescued from the burning The Cup I i 41
I s it to the wife of Sinnatus, „ I i 72
—s's you this cup—the cup we use in our marriages— „ I ii 72
He s's you This diadem of the first Galatian Queen, „ II 131 and s him forth The glory of his father— „ II 261 in hope that the saints would s us this blessed morning; The Falcon 186
I might s you down a flask or two „ 584
if the farming-men be come for their wages, to s them up to me. Prom. of May III 16
Sending Lord Howard, S an insolent shot that dash'd Queen Mary V i 57
Thy s back the Great Seal madden'd him, Becket I iii 9
Seneschal and confer with her ladyship's s, The Falcon 416 Senlac (adj.) signs on earth! Knowest thou S hill? Harold III i 361 tell him we stand arm'd on S Hill, „ V i 59
To tell thee thou shalt die on S hill— „ V i 241
Senlac (s) over nameless graves— Harold. At S? Aldred. S. „ III i 383
S! Sanguelac, The Lake of Blood! „ III i 385
And see thee safe from S. „ V i 457
Sens (a French town) Return to S, where we will care for you. Becket II ii 444
Sensation all but proving man An automatic series of s's, Prom. of May I 226
What can a man, then, live for but s's, „ I 242
if man be only A willy-nilly current of s's— „ II 263 Sense thro' his dying s Shrills 'lost thro' thee.' Harold III i 34
Which in your s is treason. The Cup I i 79 for the s's, love, are for the world; That for the s's. Prom. of May I 580
Sensual and sat Thro' every s course of that full feast „ II 254 Sent I stood out, till Edward s for me. Queen Mary I ii 29 hath s for the holy legate of the holy father „ I iii 26
God hath s me here To take such order „ I v 33
You have s her from the court, „ I v 462
S out my letters, call'd my friends together, „ I v 552
S Cornwallis and Hastings to the traitor, „ II ii 31
And fearing for her, s a secret missive, „ II ii 121
But we s divers of our Council to them, „ II ii 152
s his myriads hither To seize upon the forts „ III i 463 which the emperor s us Were mainly Gardiner's: „ III iii 70 s here as Legate From our most Holy Father „ III iii 124
You were s for, You were appeal'd to, „ III iv 255
I am s to fetch you. „ III iv 393
So they have s poor Courtenay over sea. „ III v 1
But held from you all papers s by Rome, „ V ii 45
And how should he have s me Legatic hither, „ V ii 87 this young Earl was s on foreign travel, „ V ii 489 and have s him back A holy gonfanon, Harold III ii 146
And Edward would have s a host against you, „ IV i 99
Since Griffyth's head was s To Edward, „ IV i 221
Have thy two brethren s their forces in? „ V i 342 arrow which the Saints Sharpen'd and s against him— „ V ii 169
Let the Great Seal be s Back to the King to-morrow. Becket I i 375
s his folk, His kin, all his belongings, „ II i 69 priest whom John of Salisbury trusted Hath s another. „ III i 71

Sent (continued) I s this Margery, and she comes not back;
I s another, and she comes not back. Becket IV ii 3
A strange gift s to me to-day. The Cup I ii 52 know myself am that Galatian Who s the cup. „ I ii 210
The Romans s me here a spy upon you, „ I ii 220
I might have s him prisoner to Rome. „ II 418 and he s me wi' the gig to Littlechester to fetch 'er; Prom. of May I 19 cotched 'im once a-steälin' coäls an' I s fur 'im, „ I 413 and he s 'im awaäy to t'other end o' the field; „ II 153 but he s me an alphabetical list of those that remain, „ III 28
What hasta s fur me, then, fur? „ III 435
I have s to the Abbot and justiciary Foresters IV 87
I had despair'd of thee—that s me crazed, „ IV 1022

Sentence The s having past upon them all, Queen Mary I v 487
Hear first thy s! Becket I iii 670

Sequatur Illorum scelera Pœna s! (repeat) Harold V i 518, 605

Sequel The s had been other than his league With Norway, „ IV iii 88

Seraph If a s shouted from the sun, Becket I iii 311

Serf All those poor s's whom we have served will bless us, Foresters IV 1074

Series all but proving man An automatic s of sensations, Prom. of May I 226

Serious Stafford, I am a sad man and a s. Queen Mary III i 42

Serjeant See Drill-serjeant

Serpent s that hath slough'd will slough again. Queen Mary III iii 18
Tut, then we all are s's. „ III iii 21
Let her eat it like the s, Becket, Pro. 533
s that had crept into the garden And coil'd himself Foresters II i 136

Servant these old-world s's Are all but flesh and blood The Falcon 708

Serve (See also Sarve) it s's to fan A kindled fire. Queen Mary I v 620 make Those that we come to s our sharpest foes? „ II iii 77
S God and both your Majesties. „ III iii 159
Yet to save Cranmer were to s the Church, „ IV i 136 but I am not sure She will not s me better— „ V i 250
May s to charm the tiger out of him. Harold I i 153 thunder moulded in high heaven To s the Norman purpose, „ II ii 34
Let Harold s for Tostig! Queen. Harold served Tostig so ill, he cannot s for Tostig! „ III i 160 sight of Danish blood Might s an end not English— „ IV iii 98 my foundation For men who s the neighbour, „ V i 98 to the statesman Who s's and loves his king, Becket, Pro. 78
I am his no more, and I must s the Church. „ I i 145
S my best friend and make him my worst foe; „ I iii 567
Then there isn't a goodly wench to s him with it: „ I iv 159 tongue lick him whole again To s your will? „ II ii 26 wriggle out of them like an eel When the time s's. „ II ii 188
we make the time, we keep the time, ay, and we s the time; „ II ii 368
Well—I shall s Galatia taking it, The Cup I i 100
S by force? No force Could make me s by force. „ I ii 79
Then that I s with Rome to s Galatia. „ I ii 212 my serving Rome To s Galatia: „ I ii 279
I am much malign'd. I thought to s Galatia. Sinnatus. S thyself first, villain! They shall not harm „ I ii 324
Well used, they s us well. „ I iii 136 one piece of earthenware to s the salad in to my lady, The Falcon 481 servants Are all but flesh and blood with those they s. „ 710
I ha' served the King living, says she, and let me s him dead, Foresters II i 311 and s King Richard save thou be A traitor or a goose? „ IV 351

Served (See also Sarved, Well-served) I hoped I had s God with all my might! Queen Mary V ii 296 if you be fairly s, And lodged, and treated. „ V iii 21
For I have s thee long and honestly. Harold I i 214
Harold s Tostig so ill, he cannot serve for Tostig! „ III i 161
No, no, but Harold. I love him: he hath s me: „ III i 242
I s our Theobald well when I was with him; Becket I i 142
I s King Henry well as Chancellor; „ I i 144 in your chancellorship you s The follies of the King. „ I ii 30
Thou hast s me heretofore with Rome— „ II ii 460
Heaven be s Tho' earth's last earthquake „ V iii 40
It s me for a blessed rosary. The Falcon 632
Hath s me better than her living— „ 901
I ha' s the King living, says she, and let me serve him dead, Foresters II i 310 those poor serfs whom we have s will bless us, „ IV 1075

Service (I have a daughter in her s who reported it) Queen Mary I i 76
This chains me to your s, „ I v 537
Twelve years of s! Harold I i 221
My lord, permit us then to leave thy s. Becket I iv 10 told me he would advance me to the s of a great lady, „ III i 123 which our loyal s, And since we likewise „ V i 53
For all his faithful s's to Rome. The Cup II 65 then there is anything in your lordship's larder at your lordship's s, The Falcon 138 cold-manner'd friend may strangely do us The truest s, „ 644
I sank so low that I went into s— Prom. of May III 392 wasted his revenues in the s of our good king Richard Foresters I i 193
All thanks for all your s; „ I iii 165
Do me the s to tap it, and thou wilt know. „ III 333
I would tap myself in thy s, Robin. „ III 336
And both at thy s, Robin. „ III 339

Serviceable so she be s In all obedience, Harold III i 291

Serving (adj. and part.) We be more like scarecrows in a field than decent s men; Foresters I i 35
'A Galatian s by force in the Roman Legion.' The Cup I i 47
'A Galatian s by force in the Roman Legion.' S by force! „ I ii 75

Serving (s) my s Rome To serve Galatia: „ I ii 277

Servitor King would act s and hand a dish to his son; Becket III iii 139

Session Your Council is in S, please your Majesty. Queen Mary I v 543

Set (s) I know a s of exiles over there, „ III i 155

Set (sit) they wunt s i' the Lord's cheer o' that daay. „ IV iii 470

Set (verb) was a wheedling monk S up the mass. „ I ii 91
s yourselves by hundreds against one? „ I iii 72
Yearns to s foot upon your island shore. „ I v 367
s it round with gold, with pearl, with diamond. „ I v 375
I'll have my head s higher in the state; „ II i 250
Few things have fail'd to which I s my will. „ II ii 22
s no foot theretoward unadvised Of all our Privy Council; „ II ii 204
I am not so s on wedlock as to choose „ II ii 214
I must s The guard at Ludgate. „ II ii 408 you'll s the Divil's Tower a-spitting, „ II iii 102 cry To have the gates s wide again, „ II iv 65
They are the flower of England; s the gates wide. „ II iv 70
S up a viceroy, sent his myriads hither To seize „ III i 463
So to s forth this humble suit of ours „ III iii 145
Like dogs that s to watch their master's gate, „ III iv 309
Would fain s forth some saying that may live „ IV iii 158
For there be writings I have s abroad „ IV iii 240
Crying, 'Forward!'—s our old church rocking, „ IV iii 403
s up your broken images; Be comfortable to me. „ V ii 300 and s up The Holy office here— „ V v 112 thy leave to s my feet On board, Harold I i 228 a sun s But leaving light enough for Alfgar's house „ I i 306 and s her up again, till now, „ II i 50
And over thee the suns arise and s, „ II ii 433 sunder'd tree again, and s it Straight on the trunk, „ III i 145
S forth our golden Dragon, „ IV i 245 shall cross the seas To s the Pope against me— Becket, Pro. 36 will s it trembling Only to base it deeper. „ Pro. 208
To s that precious jewel, Roger of York. „ Pro. 270
True enough, my mind was s upon other matters. „ Pro. 318
Has my simple song s you jingling? „ Pro. 378
He took his mitre off, and s it on me, „ I i 63
S all on fire against him! „ I ii 89
Strike, and ye s these customs by my death „ I iii 170
Fight for the Church, and s the Church against me! Herbert. To be honest is to s all knaves against thee. „ I iii 569
s the Church This day between the hammer and the anvil— „ I iii 584
Poor beast! poor beast! s him down. „ I iv 106
Lord hath s his mark upon him that no man should murder him. „ I iv 192
I brought them In from the wood, and s them here. „ II i 131 and s's the church-tower over there all a-hell-fire as it were? „ III iii 51
Give me the poison; s me free of him! „ IV ii 164

Set (verb) (continued) To s them straight again. Becket v ii 459
Not s myself abroach And run my mind The Cup I ii 106
Would s him in the front rank of the fight „ I ii 153
And that s's her against me—for the moment. „ I iii 163 tho' Rome may s A free foot where she will, „ II 245 it is thou Hath s me this hard task, The Falcon 237
S, as you say, so lightly on her head, „ 535
I had but emptiness to s before you, „ 870
But now you will s all right again, Prom. of May I 718
she s the bush by my dairy winder afoor „ II 18
Come, you will s all right again, „ II 658
I be afeard I shall s him a-sweäring like onythink. „ III 359
I would s my men-at-arms to oppose thee, like the Lord of the Castle. Foresters I i 322 whenever I s my own foot on it I say to it, „ I i 334 mantle of the cloud, And s's, a naked üre. „ II i 29 a price is s On this poor head; „ II i 73
Well, s them forth. I could eat anything. „ II i 273 you are sturdy rogues that should be s to work. „ III 197
See that men be s Along the glades „ III 456

Set See High-set

Setting slander'd you For s up a mass at Canterbury „ I ii 88 gave me this morning on my s forth. Foresters III 282

Settle now would s Upon this flower, Queen Mary I iv 55 in the eternal distance To s on the Truth. Harold III ii 103

Settled We but seek Some s ground for peace to stand upon. Queen Mary I v 315 pass Into more s hatred of the doctrines Of those who rule, „ III iv 159 but you will stay your going Somewhat beyond your s purpose? „ V i 207

Seven (See also Twenty-seven) Some six or s Bishops, diamonds, pearls, „ III i 52
Not for the s devils to enter in? „ III ii 140
The s sleepers in the cave at Ephesus Have turn'd from right to left. Harold I i 192
S feet of English land, or something more, Seeing he is a giant. „ IV ii 54
'S feet of English earth, or something more, Seeing he is a giant!' „ IV iii 112
My lord, the King demands s hundred marks, Becket I iii 634
I led s hundred knights and fought his wars. „ I iii 638
Forgive him seventy times and s; Prom. of May III 9

Seven-fold weak and meek old man, S-f dishonour'd Queen Mary V v 133

Seventeen S—and knew eight languages— „ III i 358
S—a rose of grace! „ III i 371

Seventh Lo! there once more—this is the s night! Harold I i 2 only she kept the s commandment better than some I know on, Becket III i 194

Seventy Forgive him s times and seven; Prom. of May III 9

Seven-years' My s-y friend was with me, my young boy; Queen Mary III iii 47

Several In s bills and declarations, Madam, „ IV i 48

Sever'd long divided in itself, and s from the faith, „ I iii 21
My arm is s. I can no more— Becket V iii 188

Severeness An overmuch s, I repeat, Queen Mary III iv 156

Sew these poor hands but s, Spin, broider— Harold IV iii 10

Sewer (sure) Ay, to be s! Be thou? Prom. of May I 3 but s I be, they be two o' the purtiest gels ye can see of a summer murnin'. „ I 29 and I feel s, Miss Dora, that I ha' been noän too sudden wi' you, „ II 59
I be Farmer Dobson, s anew; „ II 136
I beänt sa s o' that, fur Sally knaw'd im; Now then? „ III 146

Sewer In breathless dungeons over steaming s's, Queen Mary IV iii 441

Sewn if I hadn't a sprig o' wickentree s into my dress, Foresters II i 250

Shaäky (shaky) The weather's well anew, but the glass be a bit s. Prom. of May II 52

Shaämed (ashamed) Then the owd man i' Lear should be s of hissen, „ I 267

Shackle The s's that will bind me to the wall. Harold II ii 410

Shadder (shadow) then back ageän, a-follering my oän s— Prom. of May I 372

Shade moon Divides the whole long street with light and s. Becket I i 366

Shadow (See also Shadder) Is to be love-sick for a s. Queen Mary I v 535 pine in Italy that cast its s Athwart a cataract; firm stood the pine—The cataract shook the s. „ III iv 136
It was the s of the Church that trembled; Your church was but the s of a church, „ III iv 144
And how her s crosses one by one „ V v 7 a Tudor School'd by the s of death— „ V v 226 s's of a hundred fat dead deer For dead men's ghosts. Harold I ii 103 dog that snapt the s, dropt the bone.— „ I ii 188 be as the s of a cloud Crossing your light. „ II ii 177
That lies within the s of the chance. „ II ii 463
And dreadful s's strove upon the hill, „ III i 377
And on it falls the s of the priest; „ III ii 70
Yet if a fear, Or s of a fear, „ V i 115
Surely too young Even for this s of a crown; Becket, Pro. 231
That were but as the s of an assent. „ I iii 195 cloud that hath come over the sun and cast us all into s? „ III iii 47
Your s. Synorix— The Cup I ii 450 and enrich Earth with her s! „ I iii 60
Tell him there is one s among the s's, „ II 139
Beneath the s of our pines and planes! „ II 227
We lie too deep down in the s here. The Falcon 581 but they, the s's of ourselves, Have past for ever. Prom. of May I 271 would she moved beside me like my s! Foresters II i 165
O look! before the s of these dark oaks „ II i 604
A s, a poetical fiction— „ IV 219

Shadowing hath talk'd with God, and seen A s horror; Harold III i 357
And s of this double thunder-cloud „ III ii 159

Shaft He drew this s against me to the head, Queen Mary V ii 80
Parthian s of a forlorn Cupid at the King's left breast, Becket, Pro. 339

Shake Our friends, the Normans, holp to s his chair. Harold I i 85 to s the North With earthquake and disruption— „ I ii 198 Come, Harold, s the cloud off! „ III i 73 that would s the Papacy as it stands. Becket I iii 213
When what ye s at doth but seem to fly, „ I iii 743
s's at mortal kings—her vacillation, Avarice, craft— „ II ii 405
To s my throne, to push into my chamber— „ V i 249
That this brave heart of mine should s me so, The Cup I iii 39
the very letters seem to s With cold, The Falcon 448
I do not dare it, like an old friend, to s it. Prom. of May II 527

Shaken When he hath s off the Emperor, Becket I iii 244 dead Are s from their stillness in the grave Foresters II i 46

Shaker A s and confounder of the realm; Queen Mary IV iii 40

Shakest thou s! Here, here—a cup of wine— Foresters I iii 88

Shaking (See also A-shaäkin', Head-shaking) by thy wisdom Hast kept it firm from s; Becket, Pro. 204

Shaky See Shaäky

Shallow There runs a s brook across our field For twenty miles, Queen Mary V v 83
But thou hast drain'd them s by thy tolls, Harold I i 319

Shambles-oak or the s-o, or a weasel-sucked egg, Foresters IV 211

Shame (s) Nay, for bare s of inconsistency, Queen Mary I ii 39
S, s, my masters! are you English-born, „ I iii 69
A gracious guard Truly; s on them! „ IV iv 58
S upon you, Robin, S upon you now! „ III v 85
And bring us all to s? Becket I iii 38
S, wrath, I know not what. „ I iii 322 and the more s to him after his promise, „ III i 130
Will feel no s to give themselves the lie. The Cup II 117
S on her that she took it at thy hands, The Falcon 60 it's all you have left us. S on you! „ 163
S on her then! „ 206
I scarce believe it! Elisabetta. S upon her then! „ 518
I shall go mad for utter s and die. Prom. of May I 682
Will he not fly from you if he learn the story of my s „ III 257
Five years of s and suffering broke the heart „ III 761
John—S on him!—Stole on her, Foresters II i 111
S on thee, Little John, thou hast forgotten— „ III 237

Shame (verb) Nor s to call it nature. Queen Mary III v 77 no need For Philip so to s himself again. „ V ii 587
That would but s me, Rather than make me vain. Harold I ii 116 thought that naked Truth would s the Devil „ III i 118
I s to quote 'em—caught, my lord, Becket I ii 7

Shamed (See also Half-shamed) make me s and tongue-tied in my love. Queen Mary III ii 162

Shamed (continued) only s to the quick Before the king— Harold IV i 7 s of his poor farmer's daughter among the ladies in his drawing-room? Prom. of May III 294
S of me in a drawing-room! (repeat) „ III 296, 306
Sooner or later s of her among The ladies, „ III 581
But—s of you, my Empress! „ III 599
S a too trustful widow whom you heard In her confession; Foresters III 385
Shaming See Solemn-shaming
Shape (s) struck a s from out the vague, Becket I iii 373 my sleeping-draught May bloat thy beauty out of s, „ IV ii 170
What a s! what lovely arms! Foresters I i 108 Shape (verb) Statesmen that are wise S a necessity, Queen Mary III iii 33 stay Yet for awhile, to s and guide the event. „ V i 303
Love that can s or can shatter a life Becket II i 11 Shaped See Well-shaped
Share Come, come! thou hadst thy s on her. „ I iv 124
S and s alike! Harold II i 64
Shared and s His fruits and milk. Liar! The Cup I ii 427
Sharp stake and fire—S work and short. Queen Mary III i 329
Here—give me one s pinch upon the cheek Foresters IV 1011
Sharp-dividing battle-axe keen As thine own s-d justice, Harold V i 564 Sharpen'd Renard and the Chancellor s them. Queen Mary III i 5 arrow which the Saints S and sent against him— Harold V ii 169
Sharper A s harm to England and to Rome, Than Calais taken. Queen Mary V ii 29
Sharpest Shall we make Those that we come to serve our s foes? „ II iii 77
Shatter Will front their cry and s them into dust. „ II iv 5
No Norman horse Can s England, Harold V i 196
Love that can shape or can s a life Becket II i 11
God's full curse S you all to pieces „ V iii 135
Shatter'd or whether England Be s into fragments. Harold II ii 286 have we s back The hugest wave from Norseland „ IV iii 60
And send the s North again to sea, „ IV iii 140
Shaveling hear what the s has to say for himself. Queen Mary I iii 17
—and that, turncoat s! Becket I iii 737
Shaven beard, which he had never s Since Henry's death, Queen Mary IV iii 593
Shawl Indian s That Philip brought me in our happy days!— „ V ii 539
Sheath Take up your dagger; put it in the s. Becket IV ii 294 whose whole life hath been folded like a blossom in the s, Foresters I i 206
Sheathe s your swords, ye will displease the King. Becket I iii 178
Shed True tears that year were s for you in Florence. The Falcon 384
Sheep S at the gap which Gardiner takes, Queen Mary III iii 236 doth not kill The s that wander from his flock, „ III iv 103 inherited loathing of these black s of the Papacy. Becket, Pro. 461
But thou the shepherd hast betray'd the s, „ I iii 525 Swine, s, ox—here's a French supper. „ I iv 112 black s baaed to the miller's ewe-lamb, „ I iv 162
Black s, quoth she, too black a sin for me. And what said the black s, my masters? „ I iv 165
That he made the black s white. „ I iv 176
Out from among us; thou art our black s. „ I iv 181
S, said he? And s without the shepherd, too. „ I iv 182
Smite the shepherd and the s are scattered. Smite the s and the shepherd will excommunicate thee. „ I iv 227 that the s May feed in peace. „ III iii 345
To find my stray s back within the fold. „ III iii 355
Sheet And as for the flesh at table, a whole Peter's s, „ III iii 129
Sheeted when all the s dead Are shaken from their stillness in the grave Foresters II i 45
She-goat you had safelier have slain an archbishop than a s-g: Becket III iii 69
Shelf Shelves and hooks, shelves and hooks, and when I see the shelves The Falcon 119 Shell (See also Cockle-shell) she that has eaten the yolk is scarce like to swallow the s. „ 705 woodland squirrel sees the nut Behind the s, Foresters II i 648
I crawl'd like a sick crab from my old s, „ IV 127
Shelter (s) The s of your roof—not for one moment— Prom. of May III 800
Shelter (verb) We s you no more. Becket II ii 249
I will s here. Foresters II i 180
Shelter'd Ah! much heresy S in Calais. Queen Mary V ii 299
He s in the Abbey of Pontigny. Becket II i 84
I have s some that broke the forest laws. Foresters I iii 69
Shepherd re-pulpited The s of St. Peter, Queen Mary I v 182 the s doth not kill The sheep that wander „ III iv 101
The Good S! Take this, and render that. Harold III ii 169
But thou the s hast betray'd the sheep, Becket I iii 524
And sheep without the s, too. „ I iv 183 Smite the s and the sheep are scattered. Smite the sheep and the s will excommunicate thee. „ I iv 226 the wolves of England Must murder her one s, „ III iii 344
This mountain s never dream'd of Rome. The Cup I ii 17 our carters and our s's Still find a comfort there.
Harold. Carters and s's! Prom. of May III 527
Sheriff Thou knowest that the S of Nottingham loves thee. Marian. The S dare to love me? Foresters I i 223
But then your S, your little man, „ I i 231 our little S will ever swim with the stream! „ I i 240
The S of Nottingham was there—not John. „ I i 252
Beware of John and the S of Nottingham. „ I i 255
What art thou, man? S of Nottingham? „ I ii 190
S, thy friend, this monk, is but a statue. „ I ii 233
How close the S peered into thine eyes! „ I ii 253
Did he say so, the S? „ I ii 267
I heard this S tell her he would pay „ I iii 5 after some slight speech about the S „ II i 115
the S Would pay this cursed mortgage to his brother „ II i 143
Most honourable S! „ II i 154 the S, and by heaven, Prince John himself „ II i 173 the S had taken all our goods for the King without paying, „ II i 190 since the S left me naught but an empty belly, „ II i 278 when the S took my little horse for the King without paying for it— „ II i 300 Missed! There goes another. Shoot, S! „ II i 397
Strike S! Strike, mercenary! „ II i 416
Prince John, the S, and a mercenary. „ II i 445
The S—I am grieved it was the S; „ II i 449
Rather than that would wed her with the S. „ II i 525
And so wouldst sell thy sister to the S, „ II i 537
That such a brother—she marry the S! „ II i 551
In that great heat to wed her to the S „ II i 585
Thou shalt not marry The S, but abide with me „ II i 602
Then you will wed the S? „ III 11
And this rich S too has come between us; „ IV 57
The S! This ring cries out against thee. „ IV 68
What wilt thou do with the S? „ IV 107
We told the Prince and the S of our coming. „ IV 576
we will hang thee, prince or no prince, s or no s. „ IV 584
The S! the S, follow'd by Prince John „ IV 587
But, Sir, the S— Sir Richard. Let me be, I say! The S will be welcome! „ IV 600
And then the S! Marian. Ay, the S, father, „ IV 650
I cannot love the S. „ IV 662
S, Who thought to buy your marrying me „ IV 717
S, thou wilt find me at Nottingham. „ IV 801
No, let him be. S of Nottingham, „ IV 815
Thou wouldst marry This S when King Richard came „ IV 862
If you would marry me with a traitor s, I fear I might prove traitor with the s. „ IV 871
Here Abbot, S—no—no, Robin Hood. „ IV 989
Sheriffship True, for through John I had my s. „ I ii 201
Sherwood (adj.) there is a lot of wild fellows in S Forest who hold by King Richard. „ I ii 73
In S Forest. I have heard of them. „ I iii 102
Sherwood (s) good fellows there in merry S That hold by Richard, „ I iii 99
To make this S Eden o'er again, „ II i 168
Tut! be there wolves in S? „ II i 512
Robin king of S, And loves and dotes „ IV 389
Robin, the lion of S— „ IV 392
All the birds in merry S sing and sing him home again. „ IV 1109
Shield (adj.) our s wall—Wall—break it not—break not—break— Harold V i 232
Shield (s) Noble as his young person and old s. Queen Mary V ii 513
No Norman horse Can shatter England, standing s by s; Harold V i 196

Shield (s) (continued) bit his s, and dash'd it on the ground, Harold v i 405 make their wall of s's Firm as thy cliffs, „ v i 479
The horse and horseman cannot meet the s, „ v i 592
Hot-headed fools—to burst the wall of s's! „ v i 613
Under the s and safeguard of the Pope, Becket i iii 600
See there our s. Prom. of May iii 606
That I might breathe for a moment free of s Foresters iv 129
Shield-borne Their s-b patriot of the morning star The Cup ii 121
Shielded You are doubly fenced and s sitting here Queen Mary iii ii 104
And grateful to the hand that s him, Harold ii ii 586
Shield-wall Let kith and kin stand close as our s-w, „ i i 399
Heard how the s-w rang, „ iv iii 159
Shift (s) a s, a trick Whereby to challenge, Becket ii ii 163
Shift (verb) Will s the yoke and weight of all the world Queen Mary iii vi 212
the currents So s and change, „ iv iii 409
there is barely room to s thy side, Harold ii ii 441
The One Who s's his policy suffers something, The Cup ii 113
Shifting for how their lances snap and shiver Against the s blaze of Harold's axe! Harold v i 587
Shine so the beams of both may s upon us, Queen Mary iii iv 20 dance into the sun That s's on princes. „ iii v 254 you want the sun That s's at court; „ iii v 277
I s! What else, Sir Count? „ v iii 16
Our day beside the Derwent will not s Less than a star Harold iv iii 50
Could s away the darkness of that gap Becket iii i 59
What are you crying for, when the sun s's? „ iii i 270
Who never deign'd to s into my palace. The Falcon 285 how the sun 'ud s, and the larks 'ud sing Prom. of May i 373
Shingle sea may roll Sand, s, shore-weed, Harold i ii 119 Shining See Ever-shining
Ship Spain in our s's, in our forts, Queen Mary ii i 179
Help the good s, showing the sunken rock, Harold ii ii 100
A thousand s's—a hundred thousand men— „ iv iii 194 lest ye should draw together like two s's in a calm. Becket iii iii 298
Shipt And see thee s, and pray in thy behalf Harold ii ii 197
Shipwreck A voice of s on a shoreless sea! Queen Mary v ii 384 stormless s in the pools Of sullen slumber, Harold v i 296
Shipwreckt that the s are accursed of God;— „ ii i 100
Shire is not the cause of a county or a s, Queen Mary ii i 162
Shirt I wear beneath my dress A s of mail: „ i v 146
Shiver lances snap and s Against the shifting Harold v i 586
Shoal (See also Herring-shoal) No, but a s of wives upon the heath, „ v i 146
His Holiness cannot steer straight thro' s's, Becket ii ii 59
Shock Not so dead, But that a s may rouse her. Queen Mary iii i 30
To find one s upon the field when all The harvest has been carried. The Falcon 301
Shock'd Hath s me back into the daylight truth Queen Mary iii v 135
Shoe (s) She wore red s's! Stafford. Red s's! „ iii i 59
Shoe (verb) Blacksmith, thaw he niver s's a herse to my likings; Prom. of May i 448
Shone I s from him, for him, his glory, his Reflection: Becket i iii 664 Shook The cataract s the shadow. Queen Mary iii iv 138 but Cranmer only s his head, „ iv iii 601
He s so that he scarce could out with it— Harold iii i 368
Who s the Norman scoundrels off the throne, „ iv i 81
He sued my hand. I s at him. Becket i i 273
So s within my hand, that the red wine The Cup ii 202 Shoot By the hard root, which s's again; Becket ii ii 209 o'erleaps a jutting rock And s's three hundred feet. The Cup i i 111 and I'd like to s tha like a rabbit an' all. Prom. of May ii 740
I can s almost as closely with the bow Foresters i i 216 that s's New buds to heaven, „ i iii 25 there goes one in the moonlight. S! Prince John. Missed! There goes another. S, Sheriff! „ ii i 395 an old woman can s closer than you two. Prince John. S then, and if thou miss I will fasten thee „ ii i 400
Did I not tell you an old woman could s better? „ ii i 407
Shore (See also Sea-shore) Yearns to set foot upon your island s. Queen Mary i v 367 your s's Wore in mine eyes the green of Paradise. „ iii ii 17
I dug mine into My old fast friend the s, Harold ii i 7
Wolf of the s! dog, with thy lying lights „ ii i 21
To shove that stranded iceberg off our s's, „ iv iii 139
Till the sea wash her level with her s's, „ v i 331
Shore (continued) like a barren s That grew salt weeds, The Cup ii 231
There—league on league of ever-shining s „ ii 534
Shoreless A voice of shipwreck on a s sea! Queen Mary v ii 384
Shore-swallow'd s-s, armour'd Normans up To fight Harold ii ii 57
Shore-weed sea may roll Sand, shingle, s-w, „ i ii 119
Shorn (See also Smooth-shorn) lest the crown should be S of ancestral splendour. Becket i iii 157
Gave his s smile the lie. Harold ii ii 226
Short stake and fire—Sharp work and s. Queen Mary iii i 329
Hast not thou drawn the s straw? Becket i iv 3
Daughter, my time is s, I shall not do it. „ v ii 157
Then with one quick s stab—eternal peace. The Cup i iii 124
Short-lived Our s-l sun, before his winter plunge, Queen Mary iii iii 85 Shot (s) practise on my life, By poison, fire, s, stab— „ i iv 285 insolent s that dash'd the seas Upon us, „ v i 57 Shot (verb) clash'd their bells, S off their lying cannon, „ iii vi 97
s out sidelong boughs across the deep Harold iii i 150 not life s up in blood, But death drawn in;— Becket iv ii 380
I have s her thro' the heart. Kate. He lies, my lord. I have s him thro' the heart. Foresters ii i 97
That I had s him thro' the heart, „ ii i 123
Turk s her as she was helping to build the mound „ ii i 308
Shou'der (shoulder) and doänt laäy my cartwhip athurt 'is s's, Prom. of May ii 138
Shoulder (See also Shou'der) If you can carry your head upon your s's. Wyatt. I fear you come to carry it off my s's, Queen Mary ii i 90 over his bow'd s Scowl'd that world-hated „ ii ii 89 and brush This Wyatt from our s's, „ ii ii 294
That hovers round your s— „ v iii 52 and the weight of the church to boot on my s's, Foresters i ii 58
Shout (s) Came with a sudden splendour, s, and show, Queen Mary iii i 449
s of Synorix and Camma sitting Upon one throne, The Cup ii 146
But s and echo play'd into each other Foresters ii i 258
We be scared with song and s. „ ii ii 164
What s's are these that ring along the wood? „ iv 762
Shout (verb) S, knaves! Queen Mary i i 9
And get the swine to s Elizabeth. „ i iii 39
Who are those that s below there? „ ii i 149
Stand staring at me! s, you gaping rogue! „ iii i 288
There be both King and Queen, Philip and Mary. S! „ iii i 297
S, then, Mary and Philip! „ iii i 300
Thou hast shouted for thy pleasure, s for mine! „ iii i 304
They s as they would have her for a queen. Harold iv i 26
S's something—he points onward— „ v i 558
Shouted (See also Holla'd) I have, my Lord, s till I am hoarse. Gardiner. What hast thou s, knave? Queen Mary iii i 290
Thou hast s for thy pleasure, shout for mine! „ iii i 304
But s in Queen Mary. „ iii iv 46
If a seraph s from the sun, Becket i iii 311
Most like it was the Roman soldier s. The Cup ii 120
We s, and they s, as I thought, Foresters ii i 256
Shouting Then followed the thunder of the captains and the s, Becket iii iii 113
Shove To s that stranded iceberg off our shores, Harold iv iii 138
Show (s) Came with a sudden splendour, shout, and s, Queen Mary iii i 450
To stand at ease, and stare as at a s, „ iv iii 292 and to read the faces of men at a great s. Becket iii iii 83 new-made children Of our imperial mother see the s. The Cup ii 165
Show (verb) S me your faces! Queen Mary i v 307
Philip s's Some of the bearing of your blue blood— „ i v 433
So doubtless will ye s yourselves to me. „ ii ii 175 a jest In time of danger s's the pulses even. „ ii ii 357
I will s fire on my side— „ iii i 327
They s their teeth upon it; „ v i 299
Too small! a comet would not s for that! Harold i i 475
S him by whom he hath sworn. „ ii ii 732 mine own, a grief To s the scar for ever— Becket i i 178 hath he sign'd? s me the papers! „ i iii 317
And wake with it, and s it to all the Saints. „ ii i 303
S me where thou camest out of the wood. „ iv i 45
May they not say you dared not s yourself „ v ii 595
If he should ever s his face among us, Prom. of May ii 423
I would like to s you, Mistress Kate, Foresters i i 49

Show (verb) (continued) a tenderness toward me, but is too shy to s it. Foresters I i 116 bounden by a vow not to s his face, „ I ii 237
S me some cave or cabin where I may rest. „ II i 130
if thou wilt s us the way back to Nottingham. „ II i 360
But to s thou art mortal. „ II i 612
And s thyself more of a man than me. „ IV 285
Show'd s his back Before I read his face. Queen Mary II i 131
s her The weakness and the dissonance The Cup I i 22 Shower s's of blood are blown Before a never ending blast, Harold III i 393 storm and s lashing Her casement, Prom. of May II 471 Showing Help the good ship, s the sunken rock, Harold II ii 100
Shown and brief patience, As I have s to-day. Queen Mary III iv 415
I have but s a loathing face to you, „ III vi 113
Than you have s to Cranmer. „ IV i 190 have s And redden'd with his people's blood Harold I ii 242
Thou still hast s thy primate, Gilbert Foliot. Becket I iii 282
You have s me that, though fortune had born you Prom. of May II 119
Shrank you perforce again S into France. Becket II ii 88
Shreds make Thy slender meal out of those scraps and s The Falcon 147
Shrew Is broken ere it joins—a s to boot, Becket V ii 207
Shrewd I find you a s bargainer. The Falcon 757
But you will find me a s bargainer still. „ 774
And apt at arms and s in policy. Foresters I ii 104
Shriek And s to all the saints among the stars: Becket IV ii 239
Who s's by day at what she does by night, Prom. of May I 532
Shrill thro' his dying sense S's 'lost thro' thee.' Harold III i 35
Shrilling She s 'Wyatt,' while the boy she held Queen Mary II ii 72 Shrine Saints, I have rebuilt Your s's, „ V ii 300 as He dwells In statelier s's. Harold I i 168
From all the holiest s's in Normandy! „ II ii 735 and see beyond Your Norman s's, „ V i 620 rescued from the burning of one of her s's The Cup I i 42 cup saved from a blazing s Of our great Goddess, „ I ii 55 sacred s By chance was burnt along with it. „ I ii 65 take this holy cup To lodge it in the s of Artemis. „ I ii 435
To lodge this cup Within the holy s of Artemis „ I iii 53 part to the s of our Lady. Foresters III 207
Our Lady's blessed s's throughout the land „ IV 1079
Shrink And when he flash'd it S from me, Becket II i 277
Shrivell'd I, old s Stigand, I, Dry as an old wood-fungus on a dead tree, Harold III i 7
Shroud But after they had stript him to his s, Queen Mary IV iii 334
I'll have it with me in my s, Becket II i 302
Shudder causest the safe earth to s and gape, The Cup II 298
I mounted upon the parapet—— Dora. You make me s! Prom. of May III 373
Shun Who is he? let me s him. Queen Mary II ii 405 and now but s's The semblance of defeat; Becket I iii 190
s To meet her face to face at once! The Cup I i 58 Shut shame on them! they have s the gates! Queen Mary II iv 58 hath s the gates On friend and foe. „ II iv 61
One crater opens when another s's. „ III i 322
Have s you from our counsels. „ III iv 320 hath the door S on him by the father whom he loved, „ V ii 122
She to s up my blossom in the dark! Harold I ii 62 to s in A happier dream. „ I ii 126
S the hall-doors. Becket V ii 532
S the doors! We will not have him slain „ V iii 53
Was not the great gate s? „ V iii 138
Shut-up There were citizens Stood each before his s-u booth. Queen Mary II ii 63
Shy You are s and proud like Englishmen, „ II ii 257 a tenderness toward me, but is too s to show it. Foresters I i 116
Sicily the Netherlands, S, Naples, Lombardy. Queen Mary II i 212
Granada, Naples, S, and Milan,— „ V i 44
Sick (See also Fancy-sick, Heart-sick, Love-sick, Sea-sick) sent a secret missive, Which told her to be s. Happily or not, It found her s indeed. „ II ii 122
We heard that you were s in Flanders, cousin. „ III ii 33
Tho' I be ever deadly s at sea. So s am I „ III vi 88 didst thou ever see a carrion crow Stand watching a s beast before he dies? „ IV iii 7

Sick (continued) Art thou s, good Earl? Harold. S as an autumn swallow for a voyage, S for an idle week of hawk and hound Harold I i 100 poor lad! how s and sad for home! „ II ii 325
'Wulfnoth is s,' he said; 'he cannot follow;' „ III i 84 so if the city be s, and I cannot call the kennel sweet, Becket II ii 348
'The King is s and almost unto death.' „ V ii 152
I am not mad, not s, not old enough The Cup I iii 69
O my s boy! My daily fading Florio, The Falcon 235
S! is it so? why, when he came last year „ 311
I give it my s son, and if you be Not quite recover'd of your wound, „ 589
My one child Florio lying still so s, „ 678
You know s people, More specially s children, have strange fancies, „ 816
How often has my s boy yearn'd for this! „ 829 more blessed were the rags Of some pale beggar-woman seeking alms For her s son, „ 854
The s lady here might have been asleep. Prom. of May III 343
Mr. Dobson telled me to saäy he's browt some of Miss Eva's roses for the s laädy to smell on.
Dora. Take them, dear. Say that the s lady thanks him! „ III 347
Tell him I cannot leave the s lady just yet. „ III 353
And my s father here has come between us Foresters IV 55
Being so s How should he, Robin? „ IV 82 at last I crawl'd like a s crab from my old shell, „ IV 126 Move me no more! I am s and faint with pain! „ IV 599 Sicken To s of his lilies and his roses. Queen Mary I v 25 lest living Spain Should s at dead England. „ III i 28
Nay, you s me, To hear you. „ IV iii 451
Have him away! I s of his readiness. „ V ii 611 they cried Sinnatus Not so long ago—they s me. The Cup II 111
And wake the Devil, and I may s by 'em. Foresters III 325
Sickening S himself with sweets. Queen Mary I v 172
Sicker I am s staying here Than any sea could make me „ III vi 86
Sickly But s, slight, half-witted and a child, Harold II ii 571
Sickness The s of our saintly king, for whom „ III i 164
I ha' three sisters a-dying at home o' the sweating s. Becket I iv 247
No fever, cough, croup, s? „ V ii 169
God save him from all s of the soul! „ V ii 174
he hath fallen Into a s, and it troubles me. The Falcon 310 Side (adj.) Dark even from a s glance of the moon, Becket IV ii 148 Side (s) The Council, the Court itself, is on our s. Queen Mary II i 193
The Lord Chancellor himself is on our s.
Is he so safe to fight upon her s? „ II ii 313 moving s by s Beneath one canopy, „ III i 95
I will show fire on my s—stake and fire— „ III i 327 are profitless to the burners, And help the other s. „ IV ii 220
Those of the wrong s will despise the man, „ IV iii 24
Might it not be the other s rejoicing In his brave end? „ IV iii 357
Here by the s of her who loves you most? „ V i 75 there is barely room to shift thy s, Harold II ii 442 when at thy s He conquer'd with thee. „ IV iii 28
we might take your s against the customs— Becket I ii 56
Two rivers gently flowing s by s— „ I iii 445
I evermore have sworn upon his s, „ II ii 465
he hath pass'd out again, And on the other s. „ III ii 13
That in the summer keeps the mountain s, The Cup I i 109
You on this s the altar. You on that. „ II 254 tho' we have been a soldier, and ridden by his lordship's s, The Falcon 548
Were seated sadly at a fountain s, „ 610
I could put all that o' one s eäsy anew. Prom. of May II 111 meä and my sweet'art was a workin' along o' one s wi' one another, „ II 153 standing up s by s with me, and singing the same hymn? „ III 181
But being o' John's s we must have thy gold. Foresters IV 157
And cleft the Moslem turban at my s. „ IV 1001 Side (verb) 'If ye s with William Ye are not noble.' Harold II ii 787
It is, my boy, to s with the King when Chancellor, Becket II i 235
Side-beam see you yon s-b that is forced from under it, „ III iii 49
Side-cousin —though she's but a s-c— Queen Mary II iii 113
Side-current swoll'n and fed With indraughts and s-c's, „ II i 234

Side-gorge with sudden wreckful gusts From a s-g. Harold III i 52
Sidelong And shot out s boughs across the deep „ III i 150
Side-smile that hath squeezed out this s-s upon Canterbury, Becket III iii 56
Sideway Lest thou be s's guilty of the violence. Harold I i 458
Siding S with our great Council against Tostig, „ III i 59
Siege Lent at the s of Thoulouse by the King. Becket I iii 636
Sigh (s) a s With these low-moaning heavens. Harold V i 151
Sigh (verb) tell me, did you ever S for a beard? Queen Mary I v 609
Wherefore do you s? Count. I have lost a friend of late. Lady Giovanna. I could s with you For fear of losing more than friend, The Falcon 328
Sight (See also Second-sight) the half s which makes her look so stern, Queen Mary II ii 322
Gamble thyself at once out of my s, „ II iii 95 pray Heaven That you may see according to our s. „ III iv 331 Behold him—— People. Oh, unhappy s! „ IV iii 2 dishonour'd even in the s Of thine own sectaries— „ V v 133
s of Danish blood Might serve an end not English— Harold IV iii 96
My s is eagle, but the strife so thick— „ V i 627 let not my strong prayer Be weaken'd in thy s, „ V i 648
Wast thou not told to keep thyself from s? Becket I i 252
A s of that same chart which Henry gave you „ I ii 60
I would move this wanton from his s „ I ii 71 throned together in the s Of all the people, The Cup II 67 to the fullest in the s Of all the Gods. „ II 433
My last s ere I swoon'd was one sweet face The Falcon 647 and I haätes the very s on him. Prom. of May I 154 were I taken They would prick out my s. Foresters II i 72 Sighted (See also Brief-sighted, Second-sighted) We s 'em Only this moment. „ IV 589
Sign (s) if yon weird s Not blast us in our dreams.— Harold I i 121
In heaven s's! S's upon earth! s's everywhere! „ I i 159
there are s's in heaven— „ III i 357
And s's on earth! Knowest thou Senlac hill? „ III i 360
The s in heaven—the sudden blast at sea— „ V i 378
Where, knave, where? Man. S of the Talbot. Queen Mary III i 319
Sign (verb) Now s. Cranmer. I have sign'd enough, and I will s no more. „ IV ii 66
I s it with my presence, if I read it. „ IV ii 73
Will you not s it now? Cranmer. No, Villa Garcia, I s no more. „ IV ii 82
S, s at once—take, s it, Stigand, Aldred! S it, my good son Harold, Gurth, and Leofwin, S it, Harold III i 197
Then shalt thou step into my place and s. Becket I iii 15 that I cannot s: for that would drag The cleric „ I iii 82
And that I cannot s. (repeat) Becket I iii 91, 103, 114
That, too, I cannot s. S and obey! Becket I iii 131
S, and obey the crown! „ I iii 144
O my good lord, I do entreat thee—s. „ I iii 186
He hath sworn that thou shouldst s, „ I iii 189 so if thou s, my lord, That were but as the shadow „ I iii 193
Cannot the Pope absolve thee if thou s? „ I iii 231
Why—there then—there—I s, „ I iii 269 that we too should s? „ I iii 273
S? seal? I promised The King to obey these customs, „ I iii 555 order To seize upon him. Let me s it. The Cup I i 165 Sign'd first of those who s the Letters Patent Queen Mary I ii 17
Those that are now her Privy Council, s Before me: „ I ii 23
then I could no more—I s. „ I ii 38
'Thou shalt!' And s it—Mary! Stafford. Philip and the Pope Must have s too. „ III i 428
I have s enough, and I will sign no more. Villa Garcia. It is no more than what you have s already, „ IV ii 67
'twas you That s the burning of poor Joan of Kent; „ IV ii 206 papers by my hand S since my degradation—by this hand Written and s— „ IV iii 244
That Cranmer read all papers that he s? Or s all those they tell us that he s? „ IV iii 319
We have s it. Harold III i 202 s These ancient laws and customs of the realm. Becket I iii 6
'Twould seem too like the substance, if I s. „ I iii 197
Foliot, let me see what I have s. „ I iii 308 hath he s! show me the papers! S and not seal'd! „ I iii 317 when he s, his face was stormy-red— „ I iii 320 Sign'd (continued) Hadst thou not s, I had gone along with thee; Becket I iii 522 true too, that when written I s them— „ I iii 561
This paper s Antonius—will you take it, The Cup I ii 225
O Dora, he s himself 'Yours gratefully'! Prom. of May III 334
Signing Smooth thou his pride—thy s is but form; Becket I iii 218
Too late, my lord: you see they are s there. „ I iii 289
I hold not by my s. „ I iii 563
Sign of the Talbot Where, knave, where? Man. S o t T. Queen Mary III i 319
Silence (s) (See also Prison-silence) Ay, sir; Inherit the great S. „ III ii 199
They can but weep in s. „ IV iii 361
Our s is our reverence for the king! Harold IV i 13 thou shalt have our love, our s, and our gold— Becket, Pro. 492 ever spread into the man Here in our s? „ III i 23
God help her, That she was sworn to s. „ III i 78
This violence ill becomes The s of our Temple. The Cup II 216 whose cheerless Houris after death Are Night and S, Prom. of May I 251
Thou art alone in the s of the forest Foresters IV 630
Silence (verb) may give that egg-bald head The tap that s's. Harold V i 92
Silenced Little doubt This buzz will soon be s; Queen Mary V i 293
Silencing See Bell-silencing
Silent four guns gaped at me, Black, s mouths: Queen Mary II iii 32
William of Orange, William the S. „ III i 198
And I could see that many s hands Came from the crowd „ IV iii 582 even while I speak There lurks a s dagger, „ V ii 216
And both were s, letting the wild brook Speak for us— „ V v 90
The s, cloister'd, solitary life, Harold III i 277
The simple, s, selfless man Is worth a world of tongueasters. „ V i 81
Why do you stand so s, brother John? Becket V ii 535
All s there, Yes, deathlike! Dead? Prom. of May III 715
I am a s man myself, and all the more wonder at our Earl. Foresters I ii 34 but make haste then, and be s in the wood. Follow me. „ II i 365
The s blessing of one honest man Is heard in heaven— „ III 321
Silk There was a bit of yellow s here and there, Becket IV i 22 shall see the s here and there, and I want my supper. „ IV i 56
Silken Breaks into feather'd merriments, and flowers In s pageants. Queen Mary III v 15
Silking See A-silking
Silver (adj.) Our s cross sparkled before the prow, Queen Mary III ii 9
Some thirty—forty thousand s marks. Becket I iii 658 and we haven't never so much as a s one for the golden lips of her ladyship. Count. Have we not half a score of s spoons? The Falcon 403
I will give thee a s penny if thou wilt show us the way back to Nottingham. Foresters II i 359
Silver (s) white satin his trunkhose, Inwrought with s,— Queen Mary III i 78 Clothed with the mystic s of her moon. Foresters II i 608
if his backward-working alchemy Should change this gold to s, why, the s Were dear as gold, „ IV 40
Silvering See Down-silvering, Long-silvering
Simon (Renard, Spanish Ambassador) (See also Renard, Simon Renard) S, is supper ready? Queen Mary III vi 256
Simoniacal your Priests Gross, worldly, s, unlearn'd! Harold I i 162
Simon Renard so that Gardiner And S R spy not out Queen Mary I iii 173
Ay, S R knows it. „ I v 218 trust him somewhat less Than S R, „ I v 223
Thou art ever welcome, S R. „ I v 345
S R!—This Howard, whom they fear, „ III vi 53
May S R speak a single word? „ III vi 121
S R Knows me too well to speak a single word „ III vi 125
Am I to change my manners, S R, „ III vi 152
Well, S R, shall we stop a day? „ III vi 242
Simple The downfall of so many s souls, „ I ii 54
Then have my s headstone by the church, „ III v 113
And make you s Cranmer once again. „ IV ii 129
S! let fly the bird within the hand, Harold II ii 65
The s, silent, selfless man Is worth a world of tongueasters. „ V i 81
Has my s song set you jingling? Becket, Pro. 378
The s lobster-basket, and the mesh— „ II ii 297

Simple (continued) This author, with his charm of s style And close dialectic, Prom. of May I 224
And out upon all s batchelors! Foresters IV 52
Simple-looking He comes, a rough, bluff, s-l fellow. The Cup I i 173
Sin It was a s to love her married, Queen Mary III i 339
With His own blood, and wash'd us from our s's, „ III iii 204
O Lord God, although my s's be great, „ IV iii 135 not for little s's Didst thou yield up thy Son to human death; But for the greatest s that can be sinn'd, „ IV iii 143
Unpardonable,—s against the light, „ IV iii 148
Thy mercy must be greater than all s. „ IV iii 151 what s Beyond all grace, all pardon? „ V ii 339
S is too dull to see beyond himself. Alice. Ah, Magdalen, s is bold as well as dull. „ V ii 441
That marriage was half s. Harold I ii 53
s's of both The houses on mine head— „ I ii 204
Or is it the same s to break my word „ II ii 664
—a s against The truth of love. „ V i 170
Black sheep, quoth she, too black a s for me. Becket I iv 165
We can make a black s white. „ I iv 169
Thou shalt confess all thy sweet s's to me. „ II i 292
Well, it's no s in a gentleman not to fish. Prom. of May I 215
Bow'd to the dust beneath the burthen of s. Harold. S! What s? „ III 522
Veiling one s to act another. „ III 773
Sin' (since) It be five year s ye went afoor to him, Prom. of May II 5
Him as did the mischief here, five year' s. „ III 140
Sing To s, love, marry, churn, brew, bake, and die, Queen Mary III v 111 but, my Lord, you know what Virgil s's, „ III vi 134 Shall Alice s you One of her pleasant songs? „ V ii 354 the lark s's, the sweet stars come and go, Harold II ii 434
s, Asaph! clash The cymbal, Heman! „ III i 186 bird that moults s's the same song again, Becket I iii 447 our mother 'ill s me old songs by the hour, „ III i 184 tell him my tales, S him my songs? The Falcon 797
I don't know why I s that song; I don't love it. Prom. of May I 61 and the larks 'ud s i' them daäys, „ I 374 do thou and thy sweet'art s us hoäm to supper— „ II 170
Ye shall s that ageän to-night, „ II 215
You do well, Mistress Kate, to s and to gather roses. Foresters I i 23
S's a new song to the new year— „ I iii 28
I have a touch of sadness in myself. S. „ I iii 40
I can s it. Robin. Not now, good Much! „ I iii 157
To s the songs of England Beneath the greenwood tree. „ II i 23
S, and by St. Mary these beggars and these friars „ III 416
And all the birds that s „ III 440
Did I not s it in tune? „ IV 29
Till thou thyself shall come to s it—in time. „ IV 37
Let the birds s, and do you dance to their song. „ IV 557
All the birds in merry Sherwood s and s him home again. „ IV 1109 Singing (See also Psalm-singing) I wish'd myself the milkmaid s here, Queen Mary III v 256 standing up side by side with me, and s the same hymn? Prom. of May III 182
Single May Simon Renard speak a s word? Queen Mary III vi 121
Simon Renard Knows me too well to speak a s word That could not be forgiven. „ III vi 126
Our axes lighten with a s flash About the summit of the hill, Harold V i 538
But dallied with a s lettuce-leaf; The Falcon 673
He loves the chivalry of his s arm. Foresters IV 786
Sing-songing and you sit S-s here; Queen Mary II i 112
Sink a day may s or save a realm. „ III vi 238
Here's to him, s or swim! Thane. God s him! Harold IV iii 133 and all her loves and hates S again into chaos. Foresters I ii 330
Perchance this day may s as gloriously, „ II i 31
Sinking I am s—hold me—Let me alone. The Cup II 478
Sinnatus (a Tetrarch) married Since—married S, the Tetrarch „ I i 16
'To the admired Camma, wife of S, the Tetrarch, „ I i 37 Boy, dost thou know the house of S? Boy. These grapes are from the house of S— „ I i 50 and this cup to Camma, The wife of S. Boy. Going or gone to-day To hunt with S. „ I i 63
I send it to the wife of S, „ I i 73
Sinnatus (a Tetrarch) (continued) you suspect This S of playing patriotism, The Cup I i 78
I envied S when he married her. „ I i 129
Nor S either? Synorix. No, nor S. „ I i 133
If you track this S In any treason, „ I i 162
No S yet—and there the rising moon. „ I ii 1
Lord S, I once was at the hunting of a lion. „ I ii 115 were he living And grown to man and S will'd it, „ I ii 151
'You are to seize on S,—if——' „ I ii 229
Hath S never told you of this plot? „ I ii 250
No chance for S. „ I ii 258
Why said you not as much to my brave S? „ I ii 260
S, you remember—yea, you must, „ I ii 400
S, kiss me now. „ I ii 419
Not if S Has told her all the truth about me. „ I iii 22
And for the sake of S your husband, „ I iii 100 body of that dead traitor S. Bear him away. „ I iii 180
To marry him who stabb'd her S. „ II 24
When he struck at S— „ II 47 hand Red with the sacred blood of S? „ II 84 found All good in the true heart of S, „ II 87
So they cried S Not so long since— „ II 110
O how unlike our goodly S. „ II 173
A goodlier-looking man than S. „ II 176
Dost thou remember when I wedded S? „ II 194 came To plead to thee for S's life, „ II 392
Would you have tortured S to death? „ II 408
S! Why comes he not to meet me? „ II 527
'Camma, Camma!' S, S! „ II 536
Sinn'd But for the greatest sin that can be s, Queen Mary IV iii 146
Have s against it—all in vain. Harold III i 95
Sinner Most miserable s, wretched man. Queen Mary IV iii 123
We are s's all, The best of all not all-prepared Becket V ii 563
Sire The s begets Not half his likeness Queen Mary II i 53 like his kingly s's, The Normans, Becket IV ii 441
Sister took her hand, call'd her sweet s, Queen Mary I i 80
To the Pleiads, uncle; they have lost a s. „ I iv 294 bastard sprout, My s, is far fairer than myself. „ I v 72
My s cowers and hates me. „ I v 83
—for I have not own'd My s, and I will not.— „ I v 285
So that your s were but look'd to closer. „ I v 460 whom did you say? Messenger. Elizabeth, Your Royal s. „ II iv 117
And your so loving s? Mary. She shall die. „ II iv 141
Our little s of the Song of Songs! „ III ii 103
Then I may say your Grace will see your s? „ V ii 604
Your royal s cannot last; your hand Will be much coveted! „ V iii 43
My s's marriage, and my father's marriages, „ V iii 96
Madam, your royal s comes to see you. „ V v 192
Who knows if Boleyn's daughter be my s? „ V v 195
Why would you vex yourself, Poor s? „ V v 264
Tostig, s, galls himself; Harold I i 421
Nay, my good s— „ I i 462
Our s hates us for his banishment; „ III i 78 thou art not A holy s yet, my girl, „ III ii 82
And more than s in thine own. „ III ii 85
Why cry thy people on thy s's name? „ IV i 21
Where is thy s? „ IV i 184
For there was more than s in my kiss, „ V ii 5 wicked s clapt her hands and laugh'd; „ V ii 48
Two s's gliding in an equal dance, Becket I iii 444
I ha' three s's a-dying at home o' the sweating sickness. „ I iv 246
twin s of the morning star, Forelead the sun. The Cup I iii 45 my s wrote that he was mighty pleasant, and had no pride in him. Prom. of May I 116 nor father, S, nor you, shall ever see me more. „ I 676
My s far away—and you, a gentleman, „ I 708
Speak not so loudly; that must be your s. „ I 727 not only on my s's account, but the ill success of the farm, „ II 67
It seems to me that I hate men, ever since my s left us. „ II 80
Poor s, I had it five years ago. „ II 82 knaw'd better nor to cast her s's misfortin inter 'er teeth „ II 127
Are you—you are—that Dora, The s. „ II 364 you are young, and—pardon me—As lovely as your s. „ II 508

Sister (continued) niver 'a been talkin' haäfe an hour wi' the divil 'at killed her oän s, Prom. of May II 604
But the love of s for s can never be old-fashioned. „ III 319 a S of Mercy, come from the death-bed of a pauper, „ III 376
S took me to her house, and bit by bit— „ III 379
I appealed to the S again, her answer— „ III 394
O she has fainted. S, Eva, s! „ III 672
She hid this s, told me she was dead— „ III 689
And so wouldst sell thy s to the Sheriff, Foresters II i 536
But thou art fair as ever, my sweet s. „ IV 1018 Sit (See also Set) To s high Is to be lied about. Queen Mary I v 428 burn the throne Where you should s with Philip: „ I v 511
Sir, let them s. I must have time to breathe. „ I v 545
An instant Ay or No! the Council s's. „ I v 591 and you s Sing-songing here; „ II i 111
S down here, all; „ III ii 99
St. Andrew's day; s close, s close, we are friends. „ III iii 1
You s upon this fallen Cranmer's throne; „ IV i 114
S down here: Tell me thine happiest hour. „ V v 78 sons of Godwin S topmost in the field of England, Harold I i 326 where he s's My ransom'd prisoner. „ II ii 44
S down, s down, and eat, „ IV iii 206 range of knights S, each a statue on his horse, „ V i 525
If I s, I grow fat. Becket, Pro. 414 mother Canterbury, who s's With tatter'd robes. „ I i 156 Priest S's winking at the license of a king, „ I ii 66 none could s By his own hearth in peace; „ I iii 341
And our great lords will s in judgment on him. „ I iii 549
Sons s in judgment on their father!— „ I iii 551
There is a bench. Come, wilt thou s? „ II i 124 she s's naked by a great heap of gold in the middle of the wood, „ III ii 21 even among those Who s on thrones— „ IV ii 125 crowns must bow when mitres s so high. „ IV ii 297
S and eat, And take a hunter's vengeance The Cup I ii 41 Shall I S by him, read to him, tell him my tales, The Falcon 795 and you should s i' your oän parlour quite like a laädy, Prom. of May II 97 s's and eats his heart for want of money to pay the Abbot. Foresters I i 4
S here by me, where the most beaten track „ III 88
S here, my queen, and judge the world with me. „ III 151
S there, knaves, till the captain call for you. „ III 219
S there till you be called for. „ III 295
Sitting (See also A-sitting) s here Between the two most high-set thrones Queen Mary III ii 104 and the dead were found S, and in this fashion; „ V ii 397
Who stole the widow's one s hen o' Sunday, Becket I iv 121
S hen! Our Lord Becket's our great sitting-hen cock, we shouldn't ha' been s here if the barons and bishops hadn't been a-sitting on the Archbishop. „ I iv 124 shout of Synorix and Camma s Upon one throne, The Cup II 146 nurse, I had forgotten thou wast s there. The Falcon 35
Sitting-hen (See also Sitting) Our Lord Becket's our great s-h cock, Becket I iv 124
S'iver (Howsoever) S we've led moäst on it. Prom. of May II 52
S I mun git along back to the farm, „ II 321
Six It lies there in s pieces at your feet; Queen Mary II i 87
Some s or seven Bishops, diamonds, pearls, „ III i 52
Then for the bastard S feet and nothing more! Harold IV iii 116
Yet this no wife—her s and thirty sail Of Provence Becket V i 122
She was there s years ago. Prom. of May II 399
Dan Smith, they tell me that you—and you have s children—spent all your last Saturday's wages at the ale-house; „ III 77
Sixteen gather all From s years to sixty; Queen Mary V ii 273
Sixty And Counts, and s Spanish cavaliers, „ III i 51 gather all From sixteen years to s; „ V ii 273
Sixty-fold Do here and now repay you s-f, „ III iii 199
'Size (assize) thaw they hanged ma at 'S fur it. Prom. of May II 698
Sketching but I Take some delight in s, „ II 539
Skilful The King is s at it? Queen Mary I iii 144
For all that, Most honest, brave, and s; „ II ii 383
Skill Upon the s and swiftness of the players. „ I iii 143

Skill (continued) with this s of fence! let go mine arm. Foresters II ii 38
Skim Not while the swallow s's along the ground, „ I ii 313 Skin If ye love your liberties or your s's, Queen Mary II i 216 doth not the living s thicken against perpetual whippings? Becket III iii 316
Skinn'd See Thin-skinn'd
Skip S's every way, from levity or from fear. Queen Mary I iii 170 who s's and flies To right and left, Harold I i 11
Skipping And now be s in their fairy-rings, Foresters II i 497
Skipworth (a farm labourer) Luscombe, Nokes, Oldham, S! Prom. of May III 54
Skulk s into corners Like rabbits to their holes. Queen Mary II iv 54
Skull And smite thee with my crozier on the s? Becket I i 222
Sky (See also Leaf-sky) So from a clear s falls the thunderbolt! Queen Mary V iii 115
Look to the skies, then to the river, Harold I i 34 and fill the s With free sea-laughter— „ II ii 336 the bright s cleave To the very feet of God, „ II ii 741 dash us down Our dinner from the skies. The Falcon 154
The s? or the sea on a blue day? Prom. of May I 101
An' the midders all mow'd, an' the s sa blue—(repeat) Prom. of May II 176, 188, 200
O tower spiring to the s, Prom. of May III 203
And the white cloud is roll'd along the s! Foresters I ii 320
Slack O God! I have been too s, too s; Queen Mary V v 100
Slain and there be more As villainously s. Harold II ii 300 Better methinks have s the man at once! „ II ii 498
s, Whose life was all one battle, „ V i 396
Gurth hath leapt upon him And s him: „ V i 634
The king is s, the kingdom overthrown! „ V ii 15
Three horses had I s beneath me: „ V ii 171 you had safelier have s an archbishop than a she-goat: Becket III iii 68
They fear you s; they dread they know not what. „ V ii 600
We will not have him s before our face. „ V iii 54
And will you bolt them out, and have them s? „ V iii 61
I am readier to be s, than thou to slay. „ V iii 128
Slander (s) heard S's against Prince Philip in our Court? Alice. What s's? Queen Mary I v 570 Slander (verb) And let him go? To s thee again? Harold II ii 508 she question'd me. Did she not s him? Becket III i 214
Slander'd when they s you For setting up a mass Queen Mary I ii 86
Slandering Or am I s my most inward friend, „ IV ii 105
Slanderous kill, kill with knife or venom One of his s harlots? Becket IV ii 411
Slaughter peril mine own soul By s of the body? Queen Mary V v 169
Slaughter-field Would perish on the civil s-f, „ III i 118
Slave (See also Galley-slave) the Queen, and the laws, and the people, his s's. „ II i 175
Crown'd s of s's, and mitred king of kings, „ III iv 381
S, if he love thee, Thy life is worth the wrestle Becket IV ii 192
The s that eat my bread has kick'd his King! „ V i 242
My bed, where ev'n the s is private— „ V i 251
Slay I could take and s thee. Harold IV ii 7
Take and s me, For Edward loved me. „ IV ii 9
Take and s me, I say, Or I shall count thee fool. „ IV ii 14
Free thee or s thee, Norway will have war; „ IV ii 18 dash thyself against me that I may s thee! Becket IV ii 196
I am readier to be slain, than thou to s. „ V iii 128
if he be conspirator, Rome will chain, Or s him. The Cup I i 19 my friends may spy him And s him as he runs. „ I ii 392 true woodman's bow of the best yew-wood to s the deer. Foresters II i 393
What! go to s his brother, and make me „ IV 804
O Thou that s the babe within the womb The Cup II 278
Slayest or after s him As boy or man, „ II 280
Sleek To s and supple himself to the king's hand. Harold I i 149
She beautiful: s as a miller's mouse! The Falcon 164 as s and as round-about as a mellow codlin. Foresters I i 42
Sleep (s) kiss that charms thine eyelids into s, Harold I ii 140
Sound s to the man Here by dead Norway „ IV iii 120
A snatch of s were like the peace of God. „ V i 180
The Virgin, in a vision of my s, Becket I i 53
All my brain is full of s. The Cup I ii 446
He's been a-moänin' and a-groänin' in 'is s, Prom. of May III 412

Sleep (s) (continued) She must be crying out 'Edgar' in her s. Harold. Who must be crying out 'Edgar' in her s? Prom. of May III 654
'To s! to s!' (repeat) Foresters I iii 34, 41, 43, 46, 49
Whate'er thy griefs, in s they fade away. Foresters I iii 45
Why so I said, my arrow. Well, to s. The Cup I ii 386
Sleep (verb) when I s, a hundred men-at-arms Queen Mary I v 152
I couldn't s in Spain. „ II i 36 son turn'd out into the street To s, to die— „ V ii 127
The room she s's in—is not this the way? „ V v 205 let them turn from left to right And s again. Harold I i 197
S, s, and thou shalt see My greyhounds „ I ii 127
the people stupid-sure S like their swine . . . „ IV iii 217
Go home, and s thy wine off, for thine eyes Becket I i 212
I sometimes think he s's When he would watch; „ III i 33 can't s sound o' nights because of the bad fairies. „ IV i 30 she shall s sound enough if thou wilt take me to her. „ IV i 33
she says she can make you s o' nights. „ IV ii 20
I could not eat, s, pray: „ V ii 92
S, mournful heart, and let the past be past! S, happy soul! all life will s at last. Foresters I iii 47
I cannot s o' nights by cause on 'em. „ II i 383
Sleeper seven s's in the cave at Ephesus Have turn'd like a careless s in the down; Harold I i 192 Foresters I i 207
Sleeping s after all she has done, in peace and quietness, Queen Mary V iv 34
S or dying there? If this be death, Harold III i 1
Sleeping-draught I pray you then to take my s-d; Becket IV ii 69 my s-d May bloat thy beauty out of shape, „ IV ii 168
Sleepy I am faint and s. Leave me. „ III i 208 and my hands are too s To lift it off. The Cup II 530
Sleeve look—is this a s For an archbishop? Becket, Pro. 250
Slender Pray thee make Thy s meal out of those scraps and shreds The Falcon 146
But for the s help that I can give, Prom. of May II 421 Slept Our guardsmen have s well, since we came in? Leofwin. Ay, s and snored. Harold V i 207 when I s Methought I stood in Canterbury Minster, Becket I i 72
Slew s not him alone who wore the purple, Queen Mary I v 499
And s two hundred of his following, Harold IV i 116
They s my stags in mine own manor here, Becket V ii 438
And he was scared and s it. Foresters II ii 99
Sliced He tore their eyes out, s their hands away, Harold II ii 389 Slight (adj.) Not for s faults alone, when thou becamest Man in the Flesh, Queen Mary IV iii 139
But sickly, s, half-witted and a child, Harold II ii 571
So that you grant me one s favour. Becket I ii 58 then Save for some s report in her own Senate The Cup I ii 133
And after some s speech about the Sheriff He caught her round the waist, Foresters II i 114
He is stricken with a s paralysis. „ IV 456
Slight (verb) When the fairy s's the crown. „ II ii 135
Slighted like a friend s by one That hath climb'd up to nobler company. Not s—all but moan'd for: thou must go. Becket I i 350
Slimy the river, black, s, swirling under me in the lamplight, Prom. of May III 369
Slink Why did you s away so like a cur? Becket IV ii 431
Sliver'd are s off and splinter'd by Their lightning— Harold V i 540
Slope (adj.) nor our Archbishop Stagger on the s decks for any rough sea Becket II ii 106 Slope (s) I am half-way down the s—will no man stay me? „ II ii 148 golden s's Of Solomon-shaming flowers— „ III i 47
Slouch Dares the bear s into the lion's den? „ IV ii 282
Slough serpent that hath slough'd will s again. Queen Mary III iii 19 snake that s's comes out a snake again. Becket I iii 449
Slough'd serpent that hath s will slough again. Queen Mary III iii 18
Slow The s, fat fool! He drawl'd and prated so, I smote him suddenly, Harold IV ii 40
One s, fat, white, a burthen of the hearth; Becket V ii 211 but very ready To make allowances, and mighty s To feel offences. Prom. of May III 629
Sluggard honour me, obey me! S's and fools! Becket V i 241
S's and fools, why do you stand and stare? „ V i 256
Slum even if I found it Dark with the soot of s's. Prom. of May III 602

Slumber stormless shipwreck in the pools Of sullen s, Harold V i 297
Slur But wherefore s the perfect ceremony? The Cup II 431
Slush Your rights and charters hobnail'd into s— Queen Mary II ii 279
Thruf a' squad When roäds was bad, Prom. of May II 309
Slut a s whose fairest linen seems Foul as her dust-cloth, Becket V ii 202
Smack kind of unction in it, a s of relish about it. Foresters I i 87
Small Are you so s a man? Queen Mary III v 192 matter Of s importance now and then to cede A point to her demand? „ III vi 168
Beyond his aim—but I am s and scandalous, „ V ii 427
That were too s a matter for a comet! Harold I i 470
Too s! a comet would not show for that! Aldwyth. Not s for thee, if thou canst compass it. „ I i 474
Bigger in our s world than thou art. Becket V i 128
S peace was mine in my noviciate, father. „ V ii 86
And the s state more cruelly trampled on The Cup I ii 145
And I have s hope of the gentleman gout in my great toe. The Falcon 656
Dance! s heart have I to dance. Prom. of May I 429
Till Nature, high and low, and great and s Forgets herself, Foresters I ii 327
I fear I had s pity for that man.— „ IV 547
Smaller it was but the sacrifice of a kingdom to his son, a s matter; Becket III iii 107
Smash (See also Mash) he'll s all our bits o' things, worse than Philip o' Spain. Queen Mary II iii 103
Smattering I had some s of science then, Prom of May II 301 Smell (s) Wilt thou smell it, my lord? for the Archbishop likes the s on it, my lord; Becket I iv 240 so that the s of their own roast had not come across it— „ III iii 119 and the s o' the mou'd an' all. Prom. of May I i 375 the s o' the mou'd 'ud ha' maäde ma live as long as Jerusalem. „ I i 377
Smell (verb) He cannot s a rose but pricks his nose Harold I i 422
It's humbling—it s's of human natur'. Wilt thou s it, my lord? for the Archbishop likes the smell on it, Becket I iv 238
Do but s! „ II i 145
when I was a-getting o' bluebells for your ladyship's nose to s on— „ III i 163 two-legg'd dogs Among us who can s a true occasion, The Cup I ii 113
Yes; how sweet they s! Prom. of May I 608 to saäy he's browt some of Miss Eva's roses for the sick laädy to s on. „ III 347 so greasy, and s so vilely that my Lady Marian Foresters I i 82
Smelt Methought I s out Renard in the letter, Queen Mary II ii 119
Smile (s) (See also Side-smile) She cast on him a vassal s of love, „ III i 98
A s abroad is oft a scowl at home. „ III i 212 and with such royal s's— Gardiner. S's that burn men. „ III iv 403 with a cheerful s, as one whose mind Is all made up, „ IV iii 587 sweet worn s Among thy patient wrinkles— „ V v 199
Love is come with a song and a s, Welcome Love with a s and a song: Harold I ii 10
Gave his shorn s the lie. „ II ii 226
Then with that friendly-fiendly s of his, „ III i 86 that sweet other-world s, which will be reflected Becket, Pro. 396
Still with a s. „ III iii 36
The same s still. „ III iii 44
Bid their old bond farewell with s's, not tears; Prom. of May I 524 Smile (verb) love that men should s upon you, niece. They'd s you into treason— Queen Mary I iv 274 seem'd to s And sparkle like our fortune „ II iii 23
They s as if content with one another. „ III i 210
How he s's As if he loved me yet! „ V v 40 and see, he s's and goes, Gentle as in life. „ V v 145 but s As kindness, watching all, Harold I i 366
Why dost thou s So dolorously? Becket, Pro. 134 not to s Is all but death to me. „ II i 40
Or scarce would s that fashion. „ III iii 28 that they began to s at it. „ III iii 312 and s At bygone things till that eternal peace. The Cup I iii 171
She s's at him—how hard the woman is! The Falcon 660
Nay, you must s upon me! Prom. of May I 571
I am glad my nonsense has made you s! „ III 315

Smile (verb) (continued) One word, or do but s! Prom. of May III 677 but Hope S's from the threshold of the year Foresters I iii 16
I could but sneak and s and call it courtesy, „ IV 366
And s's at my best meanings, „ IV 727
Smiled loveliest day that ever s On England. Queen Mary III iii 162
Smiling I spy the rock beneath the s sea. „ I iv 279
He pass'd out s, and he walk'd upright; „ IV iii 302
Or answer'd them in s negatives; „ IV iii 603
Down thirty feet below the s day— Harold II ii 430
Smite The sword Is in her Grace's hand to s with. Queen Mary III iv 90
I fell. Why fall? Why did He s me? Becket I i 109
And s thee with my crozier on the skull? „ I i 221
Shall I s him with the edge of the sword? „ I iv 224
S the shepherd and the sheep are scattered. S the sheep and the shepherd will excommunicate thee. „ I iv 226 plagues That s the city spare the solitudes. „ V ii 173
Shall I not s him with his own cross-staff? „ V ii 313
Smith (Dan) See Dan Smith
Smitten our good Gurth hath s him to the death. Harold V i 503
S with fever in the open field, Prom. of May III 806 Smoke you bring the s Of Cranmer's burning with you. Queen Mary IV iii 561
s of Cranmer's burning wrapt me round. „ IV iii 564 a candle in the sun Is all but s— „ V i 79
Ay, if he do not end in s again. Becket II ii 316 said to the s, 'Go up, my son, straight to Heaven.' And the s said, 'I go;' „ II ii 318 while the s floats from the cottage roof, Foresters I ii 317
Smoking after much smouldering and s, be kindled again upon your quarter. Becket II ii 313
Smooth (adj.) Taken the rifted pillars of the wood For s stone columns of the sanctuary, Harold I ii 101
Cannot a s tongue lick him whole again To serve your will? Becket II ii 24
That all was planed and bevell'd s again, „ V i 138
Smooth-Smoothe (verb) Smooth thou my way, before he clash with me; Harold II ii 69
Smoothe thou his pride—thy signing is but form; Becket I iii 218
Smooth-shorn Husband-in-law, our s-s suzerain, „ II ii 40
Smote Methought some traitor s me on the head. Queen Mary V ii 252
I s him suddenly, I knew not what I did. Harold IV ii 41
And s me down upon the Minster floor. Becket I i 104
Smoulder or this Will s and re-flame, Queen Mary I v 509
Smouldering after much s and smoking, be kindled again upon your quarter. Becket II ii 313
Snaffle Then I and he will s your 'God's death,' Queen Mary V iii 119
Snake A s—and if I touch it, it may sting. „ III v 218
s that sloughs comes out a s again. S—ay, Becket I iii 449
Snake-like creeps s-l about our legs Queen Mary II i 203
Snap bind a score All in one faggot, s it over knee, Harold IV i 58
S not the faggot-band then. „ IV i 66 lances s and shiver Against the shifting blaze „ V i 586
Snapt dog that s the shadow, dropt the bone.— „ I ii 188
Snare Before he fell into the s of Guy; „ V ii 131 my white bird stepping toward the s. The Cup I iii 36
Snatch A s of sleep were like the peace of God. Harold V i 180
Sneak I could but s and smile and call it courtesy, Foresters IV 366
Sneezed and I s three times this morning. The Falcon 168
Sniffed that Lucullus or Apicius might have s it in their Hades of heathenism, Becket III iii 118
Snore (s) Misheard their s's for groans. Harold V i 213
Snore (verb) to s away his drunkenness Into the sober headache,— Becket I i 371
Nip him not, but let him s. Foresters II ii 122
Snored Ay, slept and s. Harold V i 209
Snow And winter again and the s's. Becket, Pro. 334
I am s to mud. „ IV ii 130
s had frozen round her, and she sat Stone-dead „ V ii 237
In the sweet moon as with a lovelier s! The Cup I ii 397 see your cloth be white as s! The Falcon 499 as the s yonder on the very tip-top o' the mountain. „ 501
I have seen it like the s on the moraine. „ 505
Soä (so) An' s they be. Man. S they be! s they be! Prom. of May I 338 an' s I know'd 'im when I seed 'im ageän „ III 121
Soädger (soldier) 'Listed for a s, Miss, i' the Queen's Real Hard Tillery. Prom. of May III 108
Soak'd he s the trunk with human blood, Harold III i 142
Soar thou that canst s Beyond the morning lark, The Falcon 10
Sob trumpets in the halls, S's, laughter, cries: Becket V ii 368
Sober to snore away his drunkenness Into the s headache,— „ I i 373
Socialist I that have been call'd a S, A Communist, Prom. of May III 584
Soft You lived among your vines and oranges, In your s Italy yonder! Queen Mary III iv 254
What weapon hath the child, save his s tongue, „ III v 129 like the wild hedge-rose Of a s winter, possible, „ III vi 16
The s and tremulous coward in the flesh? „ IV ii 107
You have a gold ring on your finger, and s raiment about your body; „ V iv 32 on a s bed, in a closed room, with light, fire, physic, tendance; „ V iv 36
Except it be a s one, And undereaten to the fall. Harold I ii 122
Nor dwelt alone, like a s lord of the East, Becket I iii 358
When Richard comes he is s enough to pardon His brother; Foresters IV 746
Softlier We might go s than with crimson rowel And streaming lash. Queen Mary III iv 182
Soil (s) make the s For Cæsars, Cromwells, and Napoleons Prom. of May III 592
Soil (verb) You heed not how you s her maiden fame, Foresters IV 479
Soil'd and the man Hurls his s life against the pikes and dies. Queen Mary IV iii 311
Sojourn For I shall most s in Normandy; Harold II ii 634
Solace Pride of his heart—the s of his hours— The Falcon 223
Sold Thou hast s me for a cry.— Harold IV ii 76
And s thine own To buy it for her. The Falcon 76
And the other nine? Filippo. S! „ 412 and he hath s himself to that beast John— Foresters I i 267
Soldan I had it from an Arab s, who, Becket IV ii 300
Solder S's a race together—yea—tho' they fail, The Cup I ii 162
Soldier (See also Soädger) you are as poor a poet, Wyatt, As a good s. Queen Mary II i 114
Wyatt was a good s, yet he fail'd, „ III i 132
The Duke Of Alva, an iron s. „ III i 194
His eye was like a s's, „ IV iii 304
Stupid s's oft are bold. „ V ii 445
A s's, not a spiritual arm. Henry. I lack a spiritual s, Thomas— Becket, Pro. 255 as brave a s as Henry and a goodlier man: „ Pro. 437 Make an Archbishop of a s? „ I i 41 not the s As Foliot swears it.— „ I i 387
I am no s, as he said—at least No leader. „ I iii 298
the lady holds the cleric Lovelier than any s, „ V i 194
The s, when he lets his whole self go „ V ii 39
You come here with your s's to enforce The Cup I i 75
Most like it was the Roman s shouted. „ II 120 tho' we have been a s, and ridden by his lordship's side, The Falcon 547
Sole I say you were the one s man who stood. Bagenhall. I am the one s man in either house, Queen Mary III iii 263
I will be S master of my house. Becket V i 151 Solemn Should not this day be held in after years More s than of old? Queen Mary III iii 91 swear When thou art king, to see my s vow Accomplish'd. Harold III i 306
Against the s ordinance from Rome, Becket I iii 505
I bound myself, and by a s vow, The Falcon 679
I believed thee to be too s and formal to be a ruffler. Foresters I i 168
Solemnity Low words best chime with this s. The Cup II 217
Solicited you have s The Queen, and been rejected. Queen Mary I iv 58
Solid Far from s foot of men, Never to return again, Foresters II ii 169
Solitary To read and rhyme in s fields, Queen Mary II i 51
The silent, cloister'd, s life, Harold III i 277 Solitude Retiring into cloistral s To yield Queen Mary III vi 209 but saved From all that by our s. The plagues That smite the city spare the s's. Becket V ii 171 thy s among thy nuns, May that save thee! „ V ii 176
Solomon-shaming golden slopes Of S-s flowers— „ III i 48

Some (See also Soom) Might it not Be the rough preface of s closer bond? Queen Mary I iv 48 counsel your withdrawing To Ashridge, or s other country house. „ I iv 226
I have felt within me Stirrings of s great doom when God's just hour Peals— „ I iv 261
Some one See Summun
Somerset-Somersetshire (See also Soomerset) He's a Somersetshire man, and a very civil-spoken gentleman. Prom. of May I 206
Philip Edgar of Toft Hall In Somerset. „ II 439
One Philip Edgar of Toft Hall in Somerset Is lately dead. „ II 445
I have been telling her of the death of one Philip Edgar of Toft Hall, Somerset. „ II 707
Yes; it was in the Somersetshire papers. „ III 148
Something (See also Summat, Summut) I miss s. The tree that only bears dead fruit is gone. Queen Mary III i 18
I'll say s for you—so—good-bye. „ IV ii 167 and our Latimer-sailors Will teach her s. „ IV iii 350
There should be s fierier than fire „ V iv 26
Make not thou The nothing s. Harold I i 363
On a sudden—at a s—for a nothing— „ I i 442 and s I had to say—I love thee none the less—Which will so vex thee. Rosamund. S against me? Becket II i 206
We that are kings are s in this world, „ II ii 245
S that would displease me. „ III i 245 may there not be s Of this world's leaven in thee too, „ V ii 28
Something-nothing Some daily s-n. „ III i 80
Sometime (See also Soomtimes) It may be s's I have overshot My duties „ V i 37
s's been moved to tears by a chapter of fine writing in a novel; Prom. of May III 208
Somewhat (See also Summat, Summut) trust him s less Than Simon Renard, Queen Mary I v 221
S beyond your settled purpose? „ V i 207
Son has offer'd her his s Philip, the Pope and the Devil. „ I i 106
S Courtenay, wilt thou see the holy father Murdered before thy face? up, s, and save him! They love thee, „ I iii 63
Most goodly, Kinglike and an Emperor's s,— „ I v 3
Holy Virgin, Plead with thy blessed S; „ I v 85
And be stepmother of a score of s's! „ I v 206 princely s, Heir of this England and the Netherlands! „ I v 417 sire begets Not half his likeness in the s. „ II i 55 that the s Being a King, might wed a Queen— „ III i 74
The King is here!—My star, my s! „ III ii 184
Perchance in England, loves her like a s. „ III iii 267
O S of God, Redeemer of the world! „ IV iii 118
O God the S, Not for slight faults alone, „ IV iii 138
Didst thou yield up thy S to human death; „ IV iii 144
And Thy most blessed S's, who died for man. „ IV iii 154
For Alva is true s of the true church— „ V i 159
Have done my best, and as a faithful s, „ V ii 117
And the poor s turn'd out into the street „ V ii 125
Gamel, s of Orm, What thinkest thou this means? (repeat) Harold I i 20, 463
I have a Norman fever on me, s, „ I i 87
Hail, Gamel, s of Orm! „ I i 92
War there, my s? is that the doom of England? „ I i 125
Tostig says true; my s, thou art too hard, „ I i 205
I know it, s; I am not thankless: „ I i 215
Not thee, my s: some other messenger. „ I i 243 now the s's of Godwin Sit topmost in the field „ I i 324 feuds that part The s's of Godwin from the s's of Alfgar „ I ii 180 that was his guest, Gamel, the s of Orm: „ II ii 299
O s, when thou didst tell me of thine oath, „ III i 267
My s, the Saints are virgins; „ III i 271
O my s! Are all oaths to be broken then, „ III i 285
S, there is one who loves thee: „ III i 289 and dear s, swear When thou art king, „ III i 304
O good s! That knowledge made him all the carefuller „ III i 339
Come thou back, and be Once more a s of Godwin. „ IV ii 60
Of Alfred, or of Edward his great s, „ IV iii 52
mark'd the s's of those Who made this Britain England, „ IV iii 152
Noble Gurth! Best s of Godwin! „ V i 135
Son (continued) They are so much holier than their harlot's s Harold V ii 12
I, true s Of Holy Church—no croucher Becket, Pro. 210
To this s of a London merchant— „ Pro. 433
Look on me as I were thy bodily s, For, like a s, „ I iii 263
My burgher's s—Nay, if I cannot break him „ I iii 332
S's sit in judgment on their father!— „ I iii 551
S, first hear me! „ I iii 672
Hear me, s. As gold Outvalues dross, „ I iii 713
I thank you, s's; when kings but hold by crowns, „ II ii 280
Thou art no prophet, Nor yet a prophet's s. „ II ii 422
S, I absolve thee in the name of God. „ II ii 442 it was but the sacrifice of a kingdom to his s, a smaller matter; „ III iii 107
King would act servitor and hand a dish to his s; „ III iii 140
'great honour,' says he, 'from the King's self to the King's s.' „ III iii 146
'Should not an earl's s wait on a king's s?' „ III iii 151 crowning thy young s by York, London and Salisbury —not Canterbury. „ III iii 194 fawn upon him For thy life and thy s's. Rosamund. I am a Clifford, My s a Clifford and Plantagenet. „ IV ii 225
King himself, for love of his own s's, „ IV ii 345 link'd me with him To bear him kingly s's. „ IV ii 449
Stirr'd up a party there against your s— „ V i 7
I cannot think he moves against my s, Knowing right well with what a tenderness He loved my s. „ V i 19 that but obey'd the crown, Crowning your s; „ V i 52 this no wife has born you four brave s's, „ V i 126
In one a s stone-blind Sat by his mother's hearth: „ V ii 104
The prelates whom he chose to crown his s! „ V ii 400
S, husband, brother gash'd to death in vain, The Cup I ii 143 came back last night with her s to the castle. The Falcon 3
How couldst thou do it, my s? „ 52 happy was the prodigal s, For he return'd to the rich father; „ 141
For fear of losing more than friend, a s; „ 333
White? I warrant thee, my s, as the snow „ 500
O my dear s, be not unkind to me. „ 509 give my time To him that is a part of you, your s. „ 792
I would you had a s! „ 824 beggar-woman seeking alms For her sick s, „ 854
We two together Will help to heal your s—your s „ 923
After my frolic with his tenant's girl, Made younger elder s, Prom. of May I 494
I have lost my gold, I have lost my s, Foresters I i 338
Thou Much, miller's s, hath not the Earl right? „ I ii 46
Much, the miller's s, I knew thy father: „ I iii 146
And all their s's be free, „ II i 22 and the s Is most like dead— „ II i 146
This is my s but late escaped from prison, „ II i 460
I Little John, he Much the miller's s, and he Scarlet, „ III 55 which a pious s of the Church gave me this morning „ III 281
Blown like a true s of the woods. „ IV 427
I grieve to say it was thy father's s. „ IV 811
We ever fail'd to light upon thy s. „ IV 984
The gold—my s—my gold, my s, the land— „ IV 987
Art thou my s? Walter Lea. I am, good father, „ IV 1019
Song According to the s. Queen Mary I v 622
And answer them in s. „ II i 53
S flies you know For ages. „ II i 80
Our little sister of the S of S's! „ III ii 103 mock the blessed Host In s's so lewd, „ IV iii 367 Shall Alice sing you One of her pleasant s's? „ V ii 355
Love is come with a s and a smile, Welcome Love with a smile and a s: Harold I ii 10
And chanting that old s of Brunanburg „ V i 215 our old s's are prayers for England too! „ V i 222
—like a s of the people. Becket, Pro. 338
Has my simple s set you jingling? „ Pro. 378 bird that moults sings the same s again, „ I iii 447 coming up with a s in the flush of the glimmering red? „ II i 7 they say, she makes s's, and that's against her, for I never knew an honest woman that could make s's, tho' to be sure our mother 'ill sing me old s's by the hour, „ III i 181

Song (continued) none on 'em ever made s's, and they were all honest. Becket III i 189
Whose evil s far on into the night „ V ii 208 tell him my tales, Sing him my s's? The Falcon 797
I don't know why I sing that s; I don't love it. Prom. of May I 61
Fanny be the naäme i' the s, but I swopt it fur she. „ II 212
Sings a new s to the new year—and you Strike up a s, Foresters I iii 28
There was a s he made to the turning wheel— „ I iii 153
To sing the s's of England Beneath the greenwood tree. „ II i 23
True soul of the Saxon churl for whom s has no charm. „ II i 386
We be scared with s and shout. „ II ii 164
we have made a s in your honour, so your ladyship care to listen. „ III 414
Out on thy s! „ IV 28 did ye not call me king in your s? „ IV 220
Let the birds sing, and do you dance to their s. „ IV 557

Songing See Sing-songing

Son-in-law For, Robin, he must be my s-i-l. Foresters II i 451

Sonnet (See also Sonnet-making) were a pious work To string my father's s's, Queen Mary II i 27 Hand me the casket with my father's s's. William.
Ay—s's— „ II i 44
Tut, your s's a flying ant, „ II i 83
Write you as many s's as you will. „ II i 95

Sonneteer Or would you have me turn a s, „ III vi 154

Sonnet-making and no call for sonnet-sorting now, nor for s-m either, „ II i 60
And s-m's safer. „ II i 93

Sonnet-sorting and no call for s-s now, nor for sonnet-making either, „ II i 59

Sonnetting Come, now, you're s again. „ II i 247

Soom (some) and I taäked 'im fur s sort of a land-surveyor— Prom. of May I 204 but I hallus gi'ed s on 'em to Miss Eva at this time o' year. „ II 15 so I allus browt soom on 'em to her; „ II 20 an' them theer be s of her oän roses, „ II 38

Soomerset (Somerset) Philip Hedgar o' S! (repeat) „ II 587
—I'll S tha. „ II 592
'O' the 17th, Philip Edgar, o' Toft Hall, S.' „ II 712

Soomtimes (sometimes) And p'raps ye hears 'at I s taäkes a drop too much; „ II 108

Sooner He'd s be, While this same marriage question Queen Mary II ii 36
At thy most need—not s. Harold. So I will. Harold III i 16
S or later shamed of her among The ladies, Prom. of May III 581
No s? when will that be? Foresters IV 420

Soot even if I found it Dark with the s of slums. Prom. of May III 602

Sop new Lords Are quieted with their s of Abbey-lands, Queen Mary III i 142

Sore (adj.) (See also Half-sore) Remember that s saying spoken once By Him „ IV iii 202

Sore (s) gangrenes, and running s's, praise ye the Lord, Becket I iv 256

Sorrier thou canst not be s than I am. Foresters I ii 282

Sorrow Grace to repent and s for their schism; Queen Mary III iii 177
Following her like her s. „ V v 11

Sorrow'd I s for my random promise given Harold III i 269
Have s for her all these years in vain. Prom. of May II 415

Sorry Good faith, I was too s for the woman To mark the dress. Queen Mary III i 57
I am s for it If Pole be like to turn. „ III iv 415
I'm s for it, for, tho' he never comes to church, Prom. of May I 260
I am s Mr. Steer still continues too unwell to attend to you, „ III 21 though I can be s for him—as the good Sally says, „ III 173
'I am s that we could not attend your Grace's party on the 10th!' „ III 312
I am s my exchequer runs so low Foresters I ii 272
Here is thy gold again. I am s for it. „ IV 985

Sort What s of brothers then be those that lust Queen Mary IV iii 196
I have seen heretics of the poorer s, „ IV iii 436
I think that in some s we may. „ IV iii 551
Were but a s of winter; „ V iv 16
As . . . in some s . . . I have been false to thee. Harold V i 351
Yes, in some s I do. Foresters II i 527
I tell thee, in some s. Robin. S! s! what s? what s of man art thou For land, „ II i 531

Sorting See Sonnet-sorting

Sought I s him and I could not find him. The Cup II 396
That s to free the tomb-place of the King Foresters IV 408

Soul The downfall of so many simple s's, Queen Mary I ii 54 my good mother came (God rest her s) „ I v 12
Or Lady Jane? Wyatt. No, poor s; no. „ II i 242
We kill the heretics that sting the s— „ III iv 69
And every s of man that breathes therein. „ III vi 107
A secular kingdom is but as the body Lacking a s; „ IV i 33
Is as the s descending out of heaven „ IV i 35 to the saving of their s's, Before your execution. „ IV ii 194 for thy s shall masses here be sung „ IV iii 100 Pray with one breath, one heart, one s for me. „ IV iii 104 peril mine own s By slaughter of the body? „ V v 168
Let the great Devil fish for your own s's. Harold II i 32
We have respect for man's immortal s, „ II ii 501
A conscience for his own s, not his realm; „ III i 63
But wing'd s's flying Beyond all change „ III ii 100 one for all, and all for one, One s! „ IV iii 60
The s who fighteth on thy side is cursed, „ V i 69
Praying perchance for this poor s of mine „ V i 323 and the s of Eleanor from hell-fire. Becket, Pro. 151
Peace to his s! „ Pro. 394
Poor s! poor s! My friend, the King! . . . „ I i 334
The s the body, and the Church the Throne, „ I iii 717 loathing for a s Purer, and truer and nobler „ II i 171
Fling not thy s into the flames of hell: „ II i 316
And break the s from earth. „ V i 44
God save him from all sickness of the s! „ V ii 175
His child and mine own s, and so return. „ V ii 193 all the s's we saved and father'd here Will greet us „ V ii 223
Is it too late for me to save your s? „ V ii 524 ere two s's be knit for life and death, The Cup II 359
God rest his honest s, he bought 'em for me, The Falcon 49
For all the s's on earth that live Prom. of May III 7
For all the blessed s's in Heaven „ III 10
A s with no religion—My mother used to say „ III 532
Sleep, happy s! all life will sleep at last. Foresters I iii 48
The s of the woods hath stricken thro' my blood, „ II i 66
True s of the Saxon churl for whom song has no charm. „ II i 385
And that would quite *un*man him, heart and s. „ III 30
I Embrace thee with the kisses of the s. „ III 143 flung His life, heart, s into those holy wars „ IV 407
Who hunger for the body, not the s— „ IV 700
Marriage is of the s, not of the body. „ IV 720
I remain Mistress of mine own self and mine own s. „ IV 730

Sound (adj.) S sleep to the man Here by dead Norway without dream or dawn! Harold IV iii 120 Go round once more; See all be s and whole. „ V i 194 and most amorous Of good old red s liberal Gascon wine: Becket, Pro. 100
A great and s policy that: I could embrace him for it: „ Pro. 451
And were my kindly father s again, Foresters III 81
S at the core as we are. „ III 102

Sound (s) What is that whirring s? (repeat) Harold V i 482, 665

Sound (verb) To s the Princess carelessly on this; Queen Mary V i 259
That is noble! That s's of Godwin. Harold IV ii 58
How ghostly s's that horn in the black wood! Becket III ii 16 when the horn s's she comes out as a wolf. „ III ii 23 when that horn s's, a score of wolf-dogs are let loose „ III ii 38 all that s's so wicked and so strange; Prom. of May I 656
name Of Harold s's so English and so old „ III 610
Wherever the horn s, and the buck bound, Foresters III 345
Wherever the buck bound, and the horn s, „ III 356

Sounded I'll have the scandal s to the mud. Queen Mary I v 227

Sour Yon gray old Gospeller, s as midwinter, „ I iii 40
S milk and black bread. Foresters II i 272
And jealousy is wither'd, s and ugly: „ II ii 65

South North and S Thunder together, Harold III i 392
The men that guarded England to the S „ IV iii 210 in S and North at once I could not be. „ IV iii 217
I left our England naked to the S „ V i 289

Southern The tan of s summers and the beard? Prom. of May II 617

Southwark Wyatt comes to S; Queen Mary II ii 375
And pointed full at S; „ II iii 46

Southwark (continued) When Wyatt sack'd the Chancellor's house in S. Queen Mary v ii 505
South-west North-east took and turned him S-w, then the S-w turned him North-east, Becket II ii 321
Sovereign (adj.) I am of s nature, but I know, Not to be quell'd; Queen Mary I iv 258
Our s Lady by King Harry's will; „ II ii 268
Why should I swear, Eleanor, who am, or was, A s power? Becket IV ii 405
And when you came and dipt your s head Thro' these low doors, The Falcon 867 Sovereign (s) Bride of the mightiest s upon earth? Queen Mary v ii 544 he and I are both Galatian-born, And tributary s's, The Cup II 95
The s of Galatia weds his Queen. „ II 432
Sow Who knows what s's itself among the people? Harold IV i 149
That s this hate between my lord and me! Becket II ii 272
Sow'd if you s therein The seed of Hate, Queen Mary IV i 170
Who s this fancy here among the people? Harold IV i 147
Sowest The seed thou s in thy field is cursed, „ V i 70
Sown Can render thanks in fruit for being s, Queen Mary III iii 198
Have I s it in salt? I trust not, Becket III iii 320
Space For a little s, farewell; Queen Mary IV ii 46
Spade Your havings wasted by the scythe and s— „ II ii 277
Spain Prince of S coming to wed our Queen! „ I iii 83 my good mother came (God rest her soul) Of S, „ I v 13
Your royal mother came of S, „ I v 16 for to wed with S Would treble England— „ I v 75 Stab me in fancy, hissing S and Philip; „ I v 150 prince is known in S, in Flanders, „ I v 207
That you may marry Philip, Prince of S— „ I v 252
Mary of England, joining hands with S, „ I v 299
S and we, One crown, might rule the world. „ I v 301
Who waits? Usher. The Ambassador of S, „ I v 342 would not graze The Prince of S. „ I v 454
I was in S with him. I couldn't eat in S, I couldn't sleep in S. I hate S, Sir Thomas. Wyatt. But thou could'st drink in S if I remember. „ II i 35
Philip and the black-faced swarms of S, „ II i 99 island will become A rotten limb of S. „ II i 105
I know S. I have been there with my father; „ II i 166 shall we have S on the throne and in the parliament; S in the pulpit and on the law-bench; S in all the great offices of state; S in our ships, „ II i 176
No! no! no S! William. No S in our beds— „ II i 181 and the beds I know. I hate S. „ II i 185 —war against S. „ II i 190
the world is with us—war against S! „ II i 197
If we move not now, S moves, „ II i 202 wherever S hath ruled she hath wither'd all „ II i 206
They would not have me wed the Prince of S; „ II ii 149
Who mouth and foam against the Prince of S. „ II ii 251 smash all our bits o' things worse than Philip o' S. Second Woman. Don't ye now go to think that we be for Philip o' S. „ II iii 104 lest living S Should sicken at dead England. „ III i 27 and hurl'd our battles Into the heart of S; but England now Is but a ball chuck'd between France and S, „ III i 109
they pillage S already. „ III i 158
Looks very S of very S? „ III i 192
Philip had been one of those black devils of S, „ III i 216
How should he bear a bridegroom out of S? „ III iii 26 married my good mother,—For fear of S. „ III v 247
Than yours in happier S. „ III vi 64
In hope to charm them from their hate of S. Philip. In hope to crush all heresy under S. „ III vi 83
If ever, as heaven grant, we clash with S, „ IV iii 347
And grafted on the hard-grain'd stock of S— „ IV iii 427
Into one sword to hack at S and me. „ V i 138
I would we had you, Madam, in our warm S. „ V ii 608
Count de Feria, from the King of S. „ V iii 9
Were you in S, this fine fair gossamer gold— „ V iii 48
If such a one as you should match with S, What hinders but that S and England join'd, „ V iii 67
S would be England on her seas, and England Mistress of the Indies. „ V iii 72

Spain (continued) Without the help of S. Feria. Impossible; Except you put S down. Queen Mary V iii 78
Spake (See also Spoke) That was their pretext—so they s at first— „ II ii 150 and wherefore s you not before? „ V iii 107
Make thou not mention that I s with thee. Harold II ii 483
There s Godwin, Who hated all the Normans; „ III i 251
Stigand believed he knew not what he s. „ III ii 62
And s to the Lord God, and said, Becket I i 74
I s no word of treachery, Reginald. „ V ii 401
Antonius—'Camma!' who s? The Cup II 401
I am all but sure that some one s. „ II 405
Spaniard (See also Spaniel-Spaniard) Stave off the crowd upon the S there. Queen Mary I iii 77
Will brook nor Pope nor S here „ I v 189
That knows the Queen, the S, and the Pope, „ II ii 413 that every S carries a tail like a devil „ III i 223
Would I had been Born S! „ III iii 246
Upon the faith and honour of a S, „ III vi 254
Here swings a S—there an Englishman; „ V i 87
The Pope would cast the S out of Naples: „ V i 148
He is all Italian, and he hates the S; „ V ii 56
And more than all—no S. „ V ii 483
Spaniel her poor s wailing for her, Prom. of May II 473
Spaniel-Spaniard These s-S English of the time, Queen Mary III iii 240 Spanish (See also Half-Spanish) sworn this S marriage shall not be. „ I iv 115 and I am S in myself, „ I v 13
We'll dust him from a bag of S gold. „ I v 421
And Counts, and sixty S cavaliers, „ III i 51 and English carrot's better than S licorice; „ III i 220 every S priest will tell you that „ III i 228 and make us A S province; „ III i 466 as he walk'd the S friars Still plied „ IV iii 576
Our S ladies have none such— „ V iii 46
Spare (adj.) how bare and s I be on the rib: Foresters I i 50
Spare me thy s ribs, I pray thee; „ I i 53
Spare (verb) To s the life of Cranmer. Queen Mary IV i 4
That I should s to take a heretic priest's, „ IV i 131
S and forbear him, Harold, if he comes! Harold III i 299
Edward bad me s thee. „ IV ii 11
Is thy wrath Hell, that I should s to cry, „ V i 37 to s us the hardness of your facility? Becket, Pro. 385
S not thy tongue! be lavish with our coins, „ II ii 469 plead so pitifully, that I may s thee? „ IV ii 217
S this defence, dear brother. „ V iii 168
Let him—he never s's me to my face! The Falcon 109
I never s your lordship to your lordship's face, „ 111 to s myself, And her too, pain, pain, pain? Prom. of May III 718
S me thy spare ribs, I pray thee; Foresters I i 53
Spared S you the Duke of Suffolk, Guildford Dudley, Queen Mary I v 489
Rome never yet hath s conspirator. The Cup I ii 234
We s the craftsman, chapman, Foresters III 163 Spark Saints to scatter s's of plague Thro' all your cities, Harold II ii 745 for a s Of self-disdain born in me when I sware „ V i 301 Sparkle s's out as quick Almost as kindled; Queen Mary I ii 73 seem'd to smile And s like our fortune „ II iii 24
What s's in the moonlight on thy hand? Foresters II i 582
Sparkled Our silver cross s before the prow, Queen Mary III ii 9
Spatter my battle-axe and him To s his brains! Harold II ii 781
Spavin'd And broken bridge, or s horse, or wave And wind at their old battle: Queen Mary I v 355
Spawn Knights, bishops, earls, this London s— Becket II ii 144
Speak You s too low, my Lord; I cannot hear you. Queen Mary I iv 123
S not thereof—no, not to your best friend, „ I iv 176 ever faithful counsellor, might I s? „ I v 136 that will s When I and thou and all rebellious lie „ II i 78 fifty That followed me from Penenden Heath in hope To hear you s. „ II i 153
The mine is fired, and I will s to them. „ II i 155
S at once—and all! For whom? „ II ii 265
S! in the name of God! „ II ii 271
The Queen stands up, and s's for her own self; „ II ii 341 had Howard spied me there And made them s, „ II iii 34
S for yourself. „ III iii 22

Speak (continued) You brawl beyond the question; s, Lord Legate! Queen Mary III iv 98
S, friend Bonner, And tell this learned Legate „ III iv 270
Nay, God's passion, before me! s! „ III iv 286 till it spells and s's Quite other than at first. „ III v 36
May Simon Renard s a single word? „ III vi 121 to s a single word That could not be forgiven. „ III vi 126 Yourselves shall hear him s. S, Master Cranmer, „ IV iii 110
After the vanish'd voice, and s to men. „ IV iii 164 see, see, I s of him in the past. „ IV iii 422 even while I s There lurks a silent dagger, „ V ii 215
Low, my lute; s low, my lute, „ V ii 367
And may not s for hours. „ V ii 406
When he we s of drove the window back, „ V ii 464 but I s from mine own self, not him; „ V iii 41 letting the wild brook S for us— „ V v 92
—they cannot s—for awe; Harold I i 32
s him sweetly, he will hear thee. „ I i 116 in Normanland God s's thro' abler voices, „ I i 167
Did not Heaven s to men in dreams of old? „ I ii 94
He'll s for himself! Hold thine own, if thou canst! „ II i 79
S for thy mother's sake, and tell me true. „ II ii 271
Obey him, s him fair, „ II ii 317
Is it not better still to s the truth? „ II ii 373
O s him fair, Harold, for thine own sake. „ II ii 395
Oh no, no—s him fair! „ II ii 413 thou be my vice-king in England. S. „ II ii 636
When all the world hath learnt to s the truth, „ III i 68
If one may dare to s the truth, „ IV i 108
We never—oh! good Morcar, s for us, „ IV i 216
And, when again red-blooded, s again; „ IV iii 208
I s after my fancies, for I am a Troubadour, Becket, Pro. 346 he s's to a noble as tho' he were a churl, „ Pro. 454
And all that s for them anathema. „ I i 171
Do thou s first. „ I iv 1
To s without stammering and like a free man? „ I iv 7
Who misuses a dog would misuse a child—they cannot s for themselves— „ I iv 110
S only of thy love. „ II i 179
He s's As if it were a cake of gingerbread. „ II i 229 and to s truth, night at the end of our last crust, „ III i 113 and not s till I was spoke to, „ III i 120 bad me whatever I saw not to s one word, „ III i 133 not to s one word, for that's the rule o' the garden, „ III i 137 tho' I shouldn't s one word, „ III i 154 tho' I be sworn not to s a word, I can tell you all about her, „ III i 205
That I would s with you once more alone. „ III iii 40
Did the King S of the customs? „ III iii 333
You have wrong'd Fitzurse. I s not of myself. „ IV ii 328
—I have still thy leave to s. „ V ii 45
Can I s with you Alone, my father? „ V ii 69
Then s; this is my other self, „ V ii 73
Better perhaps to s with them apart. „ V ii 310
S with them privately on this hereafter. „ V ii 419
As I shall s again. „ V ii 517
I pray you for one moment stay and s. „ V ii 525
Some friends of mine would s with me without. The Cup I ii 203
Phœbe. Will you s to him, The messenger from Synorix „ II 35
Did not this man S well? „ II 92
Nor s I now too mightily, being King And happy! „ II 237
These are strange words to s to Artemis. „ II 326
S freely, tho' to call a madman mad The Falcon 81
Can I s with the Count? „ 179 won't you s with the old woman first, „ 182 yet to s white truth, my good old mother, „ 503
Can I not s with you once more alone? „ 688
You s like love, and yet you love me not. „ 782
No more, but s. Giovanna. I will. „ 814
And s for him after—you that are so clever! Prom. of May I 619
S not so loudly; that must be your sister. „ I 726
Did you s, Philip? „ I 748
Is not this To s too pitilessly of the dead? „ II 461

Speak (continued) will you not s with Father to-day? Prom. of May III 237 Can't I s like a lady; pen a letter like a lady; „ III 501 and he wants to s to ye partic'lar. „ III 351
What ails you? Harold. S. „ III 662 and s small to 'em, and not scare 'em Foresters I i 100
I will s with her. „ I i 306 so that you keep the cowl down and s not? „ I ii 22
nor to s word to anyone, „ I ii 237
We old hags should be bribed to s truth, „ II i 237
S straight out, crookback. „ II i 270
I beseech you all to s lower. „ II i 334
S but one word not only of forgiveness, „ II i 610
S to me, I am like a boy now going to be whipt; „ II ii 49
S to me, Kate, and say you pardon me! Kate. I never will s word to thee again. „ II ii 53
How much? how much? S, or the arrow flies. „ III 278
S not. I wait upon a dying father. „ IV 610
If a cat may look at a king, may not a friar s to one? „ IV 922
Speaker It would have burnt both s's. Queen Mary III vi 164 for thou Art known a s of the truth, Harold II ii 517
Speakest Thou s of the enemy of thy king. Queen Mary I v 327
Thou s like a fool or a woman. Foresters I i 203
Thou standest straight. Thou s manlike. „ II i 409
Speaking I can forespeak your s. Queen Mary I v 137 or by s aught Which might impugn or prejudice „ III iii 132 not half s The language of the land. Becket II i 136
I was s with Your father, asking Prom. of May III 491
Spear not S into pruning-hook— Harold V i 442
Spear-head Mark'd how the s-h sprang, „ IV iii 158
Sped And I s hither with what haste Queen Mary II iv 77
Speech after some slight s about the Sheriff Foresters II i 114
Speechify and we'll git 'im to s for us arter dinner. Prom. of May I 440
Speed That sun may God s! Harold III i 72
Must s you to your bower at once. Becket I i 291
Speedwell Bluebell, harebell, s, bluebottle, Prom. of May I 97
Spell (s) Eva's eyes thro' hers—A s upon me! „ II 643
Weary—weary As tho' a s were on me. Foresters II ii 115 Spell (verb) loons That cannot s Esaïas from St. Paul, Queen Mary III i 281 till it s's and speaks Quite other than at first. „ III v 36 old hag tho' I be, I can s the hand. Foresters II i 351 Spend For she shall s her honeymoon with me. „ IV 757
Spent like a butterfly in a chrysalis, You s your life; Queen Mary I iv 52
I s thrice that in fortifying his castles. Becket I iii 632
s all your last Saturday's wages at the ale-house; Prom. of May III 78
Spice Some s of wisdom in my telling you, Queen Mary II iv 134
A s of Satan, ha! „ III iv 77 fling in the s's, Nard, Cinnamon, The Cup II 183
Spiced I know your Norman cookery is so s, Harold II ii 811
Spice-islands And all the fair s-i's of the East. Queen Mary V i 49
Spider Crost and recrost, a venomous s's web— Becket II i 199
Then I would drop from the casement, like a s. Foresters I i 317
Spied had Howard s me there And made them speak, Queen Mary II iii 32
s my people's ways; Becket I iii 363
I never s in thee one gleam of grace. „ V ii 474
Spilt the cow kick'd, and all her milk was s. Queen Mary III v 267
Spin these poor hands but sew, S, broider— Harold IV iii 11
Spine My old crook'd s would bud out „ III i 24 Spire parson from his own s swung out dead, Queen Mary IV iii 375
s of Holy Church may prick the graves— Becket I iii 553
Spiring O tower s to the sky, Prom. of May III 203 Spirit If Cranmer's s were a mocking one, Queen Mary V ii 210 like a s in Hell who skips and flies Harold I i 10 some familiar s must have help'd him. „ II ii 677
s of the twelve Apostles enter'd Into thy making. Becket I i 50 and mortify thy flesh, Not s— „ I iii 541 talk not of cows. You anger the s. Foresters II i 330
Spiritual We, the Lords S and Temporal, Queen Mary III iii 113
A soldier's, not a s arm. Henry. I lack a soldier, Thomas— Becket, Pro. 255 that sweet other-world smile which will be reflected in the s body among the angels. „ Pro. 397
And on a matter wholly s. „ I iii 85 striving still to break or bind The s giant with our island laws And customs, „ IV ii 444
Fasts, disciplines that clear the s eye, „ V i 42

Spiritus Salva Fili, Salva S, Harold v i 469
Spit S them like larks for aught I care. Queen Mary i v 395
Dare-devils, that would eat fire and s it out „ iii i 156
Spital (hospital) I ha' nine darters i' the s that be dead Becket i iv 250
Spite (s) S of her tears her father forced it on her. Queen Mary i v 495
S of Lord Paget and Lord William Howard, „ iii i 324
Sir Henry Bedingfield May split it for a s. „ iii v 48
S of your melancholy Sir Nicholas, „ v ii 327
I never found he bore me any s. „ v ii 474
S of this grisly star ye three must gall Harold i i 418 glad to wreak our s on the rosefaced minion Becket, Pro. 529
And mean to keep them, In s of thee! „ i iii 143
S, ignorance, envy, Yea, honesty too, „ ii i 100 mix our s's And private hates with our defence „ v ii 51 quarrels with themselves, their s's at Rome, The Cup i i 91
S of ten thousand brothers, Federigo. The Falcon 898 he be fit to bust hissen wi' s's and jalousies. Prom. of May ii 165
Spite (verb) I wear it then to s her. Queen Mary i iv 78
Spiteful Elf, with s heart and eye, Talk of jealousy? Foresters ii ii 172
Spiteful-like 'Coomly to look at,' says she—but she said it s-l. Prom. of May i 180
Spitting See A-spitting
Splendid and among them Courtenay, to be made Earl of Devon, of royal blood, of s feature, Queen Mary i i 111
I shall judge with my own eyes whether her Grace incline to this s scion of Plantagenet. „ i i 135
Good, was it s? „ iii i 49
you couldn't have more s weather. Prom. of May ii 48
Splendour Came with a sudden s, shout, and show, Queen Mary iii i 449 by the s of God, no guest of mine. Harold ii ii 25 scarce touch'd or tasted The s's of our Court. „ ii ii 175 by the s of God—have I fought men Like Harold „ v ii 177 secular s's, and a favourer Of players, Becket i i 78 lest the crown should be Shorn of ancestral s. „ i iii 157
Rather than dim the s of his crown „ v ii 343
Thou seem'st a saintly s out from heaven, Foresters ii i 606
Splinter'd are sliver'd off and s by Their lightning— Harold v i 540
Split (s) I hate a s between old friendships Becket ii ii 380 Split (verb) Sir Henry Bedingfield May s it for a spite. Queen Mary iii v 48 whose quick flash s's The mid-sea mast, The Cup ii 292 Spoil (s) To make free s and havock of your goods. Queen Mary ii ii 186 safe from all The s and sackage aim'd „ ii ii 248
Spoil (verb) thou hast taught the king to s him too; Harold i i 451
We never hounded on the State at home To s the Church. Becket ii ii 97
Yea, let a stranger s his heritage, „ ii ii 258
No—no gold. Mother says gold s's all. „ iv i 43
To foil and s the tyrant Foresters ii i 11
Spoil'd-Spoilt Now the spoilt child sways both. Harold i i 453
Had I been by, I would have spoil'd his horn. „ i ii 73
You have spoilt the farce. Becket iv ii 337
We spoil'd the prior, friar, abbot, monk, Foresters iii 167
Spoke (See also Spake) she s even of Northumberland pitifully, Queen Mary i i 92
I thought of you, my liege, Ev'n as I s. „ iii ii 96
What traitor s? Here, let my cousin Pole „ v ii 243
He s of this; and unto him you owe „ v iii 29
And he s! I heard him— Harold ii ii 352
Who s? Beggar. Nobody, my lord. Becket i iv 134
I s of late to the boy, he answer'd me, „ ii ii 5 and not speak till I was s to, and I answered for myself that I never s more than was needed, „ iii i 120 out of those scraps and shreds Filippo s of. The Falcon 148 brooding Upon a great unhappiness when you s. Prom. of May ii 384
I s of your names, Allen, „ iii 35
Spoken (See also Civil-spoken) wish fulfill'd before the word Was s, Queen Mary i iv 234
I scarce have s with you Since when?— „ iv ii 118 saying s once By Him that was the truth, „ iv iii 202
I take it that the King hath s to you; „ v iii 85
I have not s to the king One word; Harold v i 334
There have I s true? Becket ii i 119
You have s to the peril of your life? „ v ii 516
Well s, wife. Synorix. Madam, so well I yield. The Cup i ii 171
He hath s truth in a world of lies. Foresters iii 211
Search them, Kate, and see if they have s truth. „ iii 289
Spoken (continued) Robin, he hath no more. He hath s truth. Foresters iv 181
Spoon What is it, Filippo. Filippo. S's your lordship. Count. S's! The Falcon 398 wasn't my lady born with a golden s in her ladyship's mouth, „ 401
Have we not half a score of silver s's? „ 406
Sport And heard these two, there might be s for him. Queen Mary v ii 213
Co-mates we were, and had our s together, Becket ii ii 121
'As flies to the Gods; they kill us for their s.' Prom. of May i 265
It is Nature kills, And not for her s either. „ i 273 your free s's have swallow'd my free hour. Foresters iv 339
Spotless White as the light, the s bride of Christ, Queen Mary iii iv 199
Spousal (the s ring whereof, Not ever to be laid aside, I wear Upon this finger), „ ii ii 165
Spouse The s of the Great King, thy King, hath fallen— Becket iii iii 175
Sprang Mark'd how the spear-head s, Harold iv iii 158
They say that Rome S from a wolf. The Cup i ii 14 Spread (See also Wide-spread) Stand on the deck and s his wings for sail! Queen Mary i v 379 so the plague Of schism s's; „ iii iv 172 ever s into the man Here in our silence? Becket iii i 22 they s their raiment down Before me— „ v ii 368
if the fever s, the parish will have to thank you for it. Prom. of May iii 46
Our feast is yonder, s beneath an oak, Foresters iv 189 Spreading See A-spreading
Sprig if I hadn't a s o' wickentree sewn into my dress, Foresters ii i 249
Spring (fountain) the s Of all those evils that have flow'd Queen Mary iii iv 233 midriff-shaken even to tears, as s's gush out after earthquakes— Becket iii iii 162
Spring (season) Her life was winter, for her s was nipt: Queen Mary v v 269
They are but of s, They fly the winter change— Harold iii ii 96
By all the leaves of s, Foresters iii 439
For now is the s of the year. „ iv 17
Spring (verb) there s's to light That Centaur Queen Mary iii iv 161 char us back again into the dust We s from. „ iii v 56 when he s's And maims himself against the bars, „ v v 66
Tostig, thou look'st as thou wouldst s upon him. Harold i i 394 be those I fear who prick'd the lion To make him s, „ iv iii 96
Ay, there s's a Saxon on him, „ v i 498
S's from the loneliness of my poor bower, Becket iii i 40
By all the deer that s Thro' wood and lawn Foresters iii 424
Spring-and-winter Must come to in our s-a-w world Prom. of May iii 510
Springe We hold our Saxon woodcock in the s, Harold ii ii 2
Spring-tide whisper to the roar Of a s-t. Queen Mary iv ii 188
Sprout (s) bastard s, My sister, is far fairer than myself. „ i v 71
Sprout (verb) There s's a salad in the garden still. The Falcon 149
Sprung They must have s like Ghosts from underground, Foresters iv 592
Spurn'd If hearing, would have s her; Becket iv ii 346
Spy (s) We have our spies abroad to catch Queen Mary i v 467
From spies of thine to spy my nakedness Harold i i 351
The Romans sent me here a s upon you, The Cup i ii 220
Spy (verb) s not out our game Too early. Queen Mary i iii 173
I s the rock beneath the smiling sea. „ i iv 278 to s my nakedness In my poor North! Harold i i 351
Lest thy fierce Tostig s me out alone, „ iv i 190
I can s already A strain of hard and headstrong Becket, Pro. 233 my friends may s him And slay him as he runs. The Cup i ii 391
Didn't I s 'em a-sitting i' the woodbine harbour togither? Prom. of May i 124
Dobbins, or some other, s Edgar in Harold? „ ii 674 but softly, lest they s thee, friar! Foresters ii i 438
Squad (mud) Thruf slush an' s When roäds was bad, Prom. of May ii 309
Squeamish so thou be S at eating the King's venison. Foresters iv 194
Squeezed I stand so s among the crowd Queen Mary iii i 238 that hath s out this side-smile upon Canterbury, whereof may come conflagration. Becket iii iii 56
Squint from the s Of lust and glare of malice. „ i i 312
Squire The Queen of England—or the Kentish S? Queen Mary ii ii 270
S!—if so be you be a s. Prom. of May i 457 you be a pretty s. I ha' fun' ye out, I hev. „ ii 689

Squire (continued) I left mine horse and armour with a S, Foresters IV 415 Squirrel The tawny s vaulting thro' the boughs, „ I iii 117 your woodland s sees the nut Behind the shell, „ II i 646 Stab (s) practise on my life, By poison, fire, shot, s— Queen Mary I iv 285
if our person be secured From traitor s's— „ V v 281
Then with one quick short s—eternal peace. The Cup I iii 124
Stab (verb) S me in fancy, hissing Spain and Philip ; Queen Mary I v 150
That I could s her standing there ! Harold V i 365
Steady enough to s him ! The Cup II 213
Stabb'd To marry him who s her Sinnatus. „ II 23 and my grandsire s him there. The Falcon 252
Stack when you put it in green, and your s caught fire. Prom. of May II 56
Staff (See also Cross-staff) by God's providence a good stout s Lay near me ; Queen Mary V ii 468 Stafford (Sir Thomas) (See also Thomas Stafford) S, I am a sad man and a serious. „ III i 41
Stag They slew my s's in mine own manor here, Becket V ii 438
The s is there ? Maid. Seen in the thicket The Cup I i 112 Hillo, the s ! What, you are all unfurnish'd ? „ I i 205 my good fellow, My arrow struck the s. „ I ii 28
we will not quarrel about the s. „ I ii 39 would have chased the s to-day In the full face „ I ii 267
Have let him hunt the s with you to-day. Sinnatus.
I warrant you now, he said he struck the s. Camma.
Why no, he never touched upon the s. „ I ii 379
You will believe Now that he never struck the s— „ I ii 430 if we kill a s, our dogs have their paws cut off, Foresters IV 225
He met a s there on so narrow a ledge— „ IV 531
Stagger for their sake who s betwixt thine Appeal, Becket I iii 621 nor our Archbishop S on the slope decks „ II ii 106 if you boxed the Pope's ears with a purse, you might s him, „ II ii 371
Stagger'd Not s by this ominous earth and heaven : Harold I i 207
Staggering who could trace a hand So wild and s ? The Falcon 439 Stain'd from the street S with the mire thereof. Becket I iii 691 you Would find it s— Count. Silence, Elisabetta !
Elisabetta. S with the blood of the best heart The Falcon 664
Stainless To purchase for Himself a s bride ; Queen Mary III iii 205
Stake (a post) the thumbscrew, the s, the fire. „ II i 201
Or—if the Lord God will it—on the s. „ II i 251
I will show fire on my side—s and fire— „ III i 327
To bring the heretic to the s, „ III iv 9
Yet others are that dare the s and fire, „ III iv 167
And that myself was fasten'd to the s, „ IV ii 3
Have found a real presence in the s, „ IV ii 142 another recantation Of Cranmer at the s. „ IV iii 300 chain, Wherewith they bound him to the s, „ IV iii 596 blood and sweat of heretics at the s „ V i 101 Stake (a wager) And the s's high ? „ I iii 146 no such gamester As, having won the s, The Cup I iii 146
Stale And customs, made me for the moment proud
Ev'n of that s Church-bond Becket IV ii 447
Stalk From off the s and trample it in the mire, Foresters I ii 110
Stamford-bridge on the Derwent ? ay At S-b. Harold IV i 255
On to S-b ! „ IV ii 82
I fought another fight than this Of S-b. „ IV iii 25
What's Brunanburg To S-b ? „ IV iii 144 middle of that fierce fight At S-b. „ IV iii 185
Many are fallen At S-b. . . . „ IV iii 215
To tell thee thou shouldst win at S-b, „ V i 236
Stammer'd when she touch'd on thee, She s in her hate ; „ I ii 37
Stammering To speak without s and like a free man ? Becket I iv 7
Stamp S out the fire, or this Will smoulder Queen Mary I v 507 and a foot to s it . . . Flat. Harold V ii 193
Stan' I ha' heärd 'im a-gawin' on 'ud make your 'air—
God bless it !—s on end, Prom. of May I 135 Stand (See also Stan') S back, keep a clear lane ! Queen Mary I i 1 your name S's first of those who sign'd „ I ii 17
S first it may, but it was written last : „ I ii 20 s within the porch, and Christ with me : „ I ii 51
S from me. If Elizabeth lose her head— „ I iii 87
S further off, or you may lose your head. „ I iv 128
Some settled ground for peace to s upon. „ I v 315
S on the deck and spread his wings for sail ! „ I v 379 with your lawful Prince S fast against „ II ii 242 Stand (continued) The Queen s's up, and speaks for her own self ; Queen Mary II ii 341
I dare avouch you'd s up for yourself, „ II ii 360 they will s by us If Ludgate can be reach'd „ II iii 52
Had holpen Richard's tottering throne to s, „ III i 115
I s so squeezed among the crowd I cannot lift „ III i 238
S staring at me ! shout, you gaping rogue ! „ III i 288
Do ye s fast by that which ye resolved ? „ III iii 103
Paget, You s up here to fight for heresy, „ III iv 92
He knows not where he s's, „ III iv 420 than to s On naked self-assertion. „ IV i 119 ever see a carrion crow S watching a sick beast „ IV iii 7
There s's a man, once of so high degree, „ IV iii 68
To s at ease, and stare as at a show, „ IV iii 292
s behind the pillar here ; „ IV iii 462
She s's between you and the Queen of Scots. „ V i 192 there is one Death s's behind the Groom, And there is one Death s's behind the Bride— „ V ii 165 Who s's the nearest to her. „ V ii 416 not courtly to s helmeted Before the Queen. „ V v 35
Then here she s's ! my homage. „ V v 253
S by me then, and look upon my face, Harold I i 25
S by him, mine old friend, „ I i 112
S thou by him ! „ I i 118
thou didst s by her and give her thy crabs, „ II i 49
S out of earshot then, „ II ii 240
S there and wait my will. „ II ii 682 crying To a mountain 'S aside and room for me ! ' „ IV iii 130 tell him we s arm'd on Senlac Hill, „ V i 59
I can see it From where we s : „ V i 463
He s's between the banners with the dead „ V i 656 high altar S where their standard fell . . . „ V ii 140
I s and see The rift that runs between me Becket I i 139
And that would shake the Papacy as it s's. „ I iii 214
I refuse to s By the King's censure, „ I iii 722
Who s's aghast at her eternal self „ II ii 404 nor any ground but English, Where his cathedral s's. „ III iii 262 Come hither, man ; s there. „ IV ii 219
s beside thee One who might grapple with thy dagger, „ IV ii 228 Sluggards and fools, why do you s and stare ? „ V i 256
s Clothed with the full authority of Rome, „ V ii 492
Why do you s so silent, brother John ? „ V ii 535
Some would s by you to the death. „ V ii 605
S by, make way ! „ V iii 67
S aside, S aside ; here she comes ! The Cup I i 104
S apart. „ I ii 317
How gracefully there she s's Weeping— Prom. of May I 735 to s between me and your woman, Kate. Foresters I i 304 where twelve Can s upright, nor touch each other. „ III 310
I s up here, thou there. „ IV 261
The Holy Virgin S by the strongest. „ IV 265
Standard Advance our S of the Warrior, Harold IV i 248
He lies not here : not close beside the s. „ V ii 57 high altar Stand where their s fell . . . „ V ii 140
As once he bore the s of the Angles, So now he bears the s of the angels. Becket I iii 494
Standest Thou s straight. Thou speakest manlike. Foresters II i 408
Standing dash The torch of war among your s corn, Harold II ii 749
No Norman horse Can shatter England, s shield by shield ; „ V i 196
That I could stab her s there ! „ V i 365
I cannot tell, tho' s in her presence. Prom. of May II 557
s up side by side with me, and singing the same hymn ? „ III 181
Standstill my bishop Hath brought your king to a s. Becket, Pro. 44
Star At his coming Your s will rise. Mary. My s ! Queen Mary I v 411
What s ? Renard. Your s will be your princely son, „ I v 415
He comes, and my s rises. „ III ii 167 fieriest partisans—are pale Before my s ! „ III ii 171 which is their doom Before my s ! „ III ii 176
The King is here !—My s, my son ! „ III ii 184 a s beside the moon Is all but lost ; „ V i 79
Would nor for all the s's and maiden moon „ V ii 455 Fair island s ! Elizabeth. I shine ! „ V iii 15 s That dances in it as mad with agony ! Harold I i 8
Spite of this grisly s ye three must gall „ I i 418

Star (continued) the lark sings, the sweet s's come and go, Harold II ii 434 banner, Blaze like a night of fatal s's „ IV i 251 shine Less than a s among the goldenest hours „ IV iii 51 Dream'd that twelve s's fell glittering out of heaven Becket I i 46 cowling and clouding up That fatal s, thy Beauty, „ I i 312
Her crypt among the s's. „ I iii 555
And shriek to all the saints among the s's: „ IV ii 240
I fling all that upon my fate, my s. The Cup I iii 27
twin sister of the morning s, Forelead the sun. „ I iii 45
This shield-borne patriot of the morning s „ II 122 with that red s between the ribs, „ II 150
A houseless head beneath the sun and s's, Foresters II i 65

Starched That strange s stiff creature, Little John, the Earl's man. „ I i 183

Stare Sluggards and fools, why do you stand and s? Becket V i 257
To stand at ease, and s as at a show, Queen Mary IV iii 292
Philip shall not S in upon me in my haggardness; „ V v 177
Stops and s's at our cottage. Ay, ay! s at it: The Falcon 162

Staring Stand s at me! shout, you gaping rogue! Queen Mary III i 288
he stood there S upon the hunter. The Cup I ii 123

Stark but s as death To those that cross him.— Harold II ii 320

Starting And gather'd with his hands the s flame, Queen Mary IV iii 336

Starve —there to beg, s, die— Becket II i 74 but if you s me I be Gaffer Death himself. Foresters I i 48

Starved s, maim'd, flogg'd, flay'd, burn'd, Queen Mary II i 209
Famine is fear, were it but Of being s. Harold IV iii 206

State (adj.) (See also state-secret) S secrets should be patent to the statesman Becket, Pro. 76
What matters? S matters? love matters? „ Pro. 319

State (body politic) I should be still A party in the s; Queen Mary I iv 24 great party in the s Wills me to wed her. „ I iv 92 as great a party in the s Will you to wed me? „ I iv 95
My heart, my Lord, Is no great party in the s „ I iv 102
Spain in all the great offices of s; „ II i 179
I'll have my head set higher in the s; „ II i 250
In this low pulse and palsy of the s, „ II ii 103 or impair in any way This royal s of England, „ II ii 230
He is child and fool, and traitor to the S. „ II ii 404 they say this s of yours Hath no more mortice „ III i 441
In our own name and that of all the s, „ III iii 120 wherefore not Helm the huge vessel of your s, „ V i 73
In all that handles matter of the s I am the king. Harold I i 412
We fought like great s's for grave cause; „ I i 440 lying were self-murder by that s Which was the exception. „ III i 70
That, were a man of s nakedly true, „ III i 113
King, Church, and S to him but foils wherein Becket, Pro. 268 she, whom the King loves indeed, is a power in the S. „ Pro. 483 for he would murder his brother the S. „ I iv 190
We never hounded on the S at home To spoil the Church. „ II ii 96 puffed out such an incense of unctuosity into the nostrils of our Gods of Church and S, „ III iii 116
The S will die, the Church can never die. „ III iii 336
And the small s more cruelly trampled on The Cup I ii 145
if a s submit At once, she may be blotted out „ I ii 156

State (condition) But your own s is full of danger here. Queen Mary I iv 168 in happy s To give him an heir male. „ V ii 572 that I am in s to bring forth death— „ V ii 592 the s Of my poor father puts me out of heart. Prom. of May III 503
s we all Must come to in our spring-and-winter world „ III 509

State (chair of state) that anyone Should seize our person, occupy our s, Queen Mary II ii 178

State (verb) Swear and unswear, s and misstate thy best! Becket II ii 476

Stated It is s there that these monies should be paid Foresters IV 506

Statelier while in Normanland God speaks thro' abler voices, as He dwells In s shrines. Harold I i 168
The trees are all the s, and the flowers Are all the fairer. Becket, Pro. 115

Stateliest You are the s deer in all the herd— Queen Mary V ii 425

Stateliness Why do you move with such a s? Becket V ii 623
Lilylike in her s and sweetness! Prom. of May II 621

Stately 'My young Archbishop—thou wouldst make A s Archbishop!' Becket I i 67
Camma the s, Camma the great-hearted, The Cup I iii 72
The s widow has no heart for me. The Falcon 30

State-policy S-p and church-policy are conjoint, Queen Mary III ii 73

State-secret (See also State (adj.)) Probing an old s-s— Queen Mary V ii 487

Statesman The s that shall jeer and fleer at men, „ II ii 397
Statesmen that are wise Shape a necessity, „ III iii 31
Statesmen that are wise Take truth herself „ III iii 35
State secrets should be patent to the s Becket, Pro. 77 and whom the king Loves not as s, „ Pro. 80
S not Churchman he. „ Pro. 450 that hast been a s, couldst thou always „ I iii 237

Statesmanship but in s To strike too soon is oft to miss the blow. Queen Mary III vi 71

Statue And finds you s's. „ II ii 265 like a s, Unmoving in the greatness of the flame, „ IV iii 621 range of knights Sit, each a s on his horse, Harold V i 525 we prize The s or the picture all the more Prom. of May I 738
Sheriff, thy friend, this monk, is but a s. Foresters I ii 234

Stature Does he think Low s is low nature, Queen Mary V ii 434 lost Somewhat of upright s tho' mine oath, Harold III ii 56

Statured See Low-statured

Statute That those old s's touching Lollardism Queen Mary III iv 7
Before these bitter s's be requicken'd. „ III iv 197
Why? that these s's may be put in force, „ III iv 367 that since these s's past, „ III vi 24

Stave (s) Strike up a s, my masters, all is well. Foresters IV 1101

Stave (verb) S off the crowd upon the Spaniard there. Queen Mary I iii 77

Staved like enough s us from her. Becket, Pro. 518

Stay for all that I dare not s. Queen Mary I ii 102 yet s, this golden chain—My father on a birthday „ I v 525 for appearance sake, s with the Queen. „ II i 138
On over London Bridge We cannot: s we cannot; „ II iii 42
S's longer here in our poor north than you:— „ V i 24
I will, I will; and you will s? „ V i 105
And you will s your going? „ V i 185
Then it is done; but you will s your going „ V i 206 should s Yet for awhile, „ V i 302
Good! Renard, I will s then. „ V i 305 but s a moment; He can but s a moment: Harold I ii 3
Love can s but a little while. Why cannot he s? „ I ii 13
Love will s for a whole life long. „ I ii 17
if she s the feuds that part The sons of Godwin „ I ii 178
S—as yet Thou hast but seen how Norman hands „ II ii 170
I s with these, Lest thy fierce Tostig „ IV i 189
Farewell! Harold. Not yet. S. „ V i 338
Tears? Why not s with me then? Becket I iv 18 s it But for a breath. „ II i 177 to s his hand Before he flash'd the bolt. „ II i 273
I am half-way down the slope—will no man s me? „ II ii 149
I s myself—Puff—it is gone. „ II ii 150
if he move at all, Heaven s him, is fain to diagonalise. „ II ii 329
Should she s here? „ III i 215
Rainbow, s, (repeat) Becket III i 276, 279
O rainbow s. Becket III i 283
I daren't s—I daren't s! „ III ii 27
Again! s, fool, and tell me why thou fliest. „ III ii 34 when we felt we had laughed too long and could not s ourselves— „ III iii 161 Come, s with us, then, Before you part for England. „ III iii 244 bound For that one hour to s with good King Louis, „ III iii 247
I pray you for one moment s and speak. „ V ii 525
S!—too near is death. The Cup I iii 103
S, s, I am most unlucky, most unhappy. The Falcon 863
To s—Follow my art among these quiet fields, Prom. of May I 742
But I shall have to thwack her if I s. Foresters I iii 139 my heart so down in my heels that if I s, I can't run. „ II i 347
Young Walter, nay, I pray thee, s a moment. „ II i 472
But go not yet, s with us, and when thy brother— „ II i 640
S with us in this wood, till he recover. „ II ii 9
S with us here, sweet love, Maid Marian, „ II ii 13
Shall I be happy? Happy vision, s. „ II ii 199
S, Dine with my brethren here, „ IV 345 but s with Robin; For Robin is no scatterbrains „ IV 353

Stay'd should be s From passing onward. „ III 241

Staying I am sicker s here Than any sea Queen Mary III vi 86
However, s not to count how many, The Falcon 627
You are s here? Prom. of May II 533
Not to-day. What are you s for? „ III 357

Steady How s it is ! Phœbe. S enough to stab him ! The Cup II 212
Steadying S the tremulous pillars of the Church— Queen Mary I v 517 Steal Friend Roger, s thou in among the crowd, „ I iii 37 fear creeps in at the front, honesty s's out at the back, Becket III iii 62
Were it best to s away, to spare myself, Prom. of May III 718
Stealing (See also A-steälin') my father and I forgave you s our coals. „ III 69
Steam look how the table s's, like a heathen altar ; Becket I iv 69
Steam'd S upward from the undescendible Abysm. Harold I i 14
Steaming In breathless dungeons over s sewers, Queen Mary IV iii 440
Steed Thy high black s among the flaming furze, Becket II i 55
Steel To s myself against the leaving her ? Prom. of May I 293
Steep'd He s himself In all the lust of Rome. The Cup I ii 367
Steeple Let all the s's clash, Queen Mary III ii 237
Steep-up And on the s-u track of the true faith „ III iv 94
Steer (Dora) See Dora, Dora Steer
Steer (Farmer) Owd S wur afeärd she wouldn't be back i' time Prom. of May I 16
Why if S han't haxed schoolmaster to dinner, „ I 184
Hev' ony o' ye seen Eva ? Dobson. Noä, Mr. S. „ I 314
An' the saäme to you, Master S, likewise. „ I 347
But, S, thaw thou be haäle anew „ I 383
Yeas, yeas ! Three cheers for Mr. S ! „ I 456 an' ony o' S's men, an' ony o' my men „ II 34
Owd S's gotten all his grass down and wants a hand, „ II 221
Owd S gi'es nubbut cowd tea to 'is men, „ II 223
But I'd like owd S's cowd tea better „ II 226
I am sorry Mr. S still continues too unwell to attend „ III 21
Milly, my dear, how did you leave Mr. S ? „ III 410 poor S looks The very type of Age in a picture, „ III 512
Steer (verb) Cranmer, as the helmsman at the helm S's, Queen Mary IV iii 579
Let every craft that carries sail and gun S toward Calais. „ V ii 276
His Holiness cannot s straight thro' shoals, Becket II ii 58
Steer (young ox) The s wherewith thou plowest thy field is cursed, Harold V i 71
Steering therein Sunk rocks—they need fine s— Queen Mary V v 214
Steers (family of) because one of the S's had planted it there in former times. Prom. of May III 247
If it had killed one of the S's there the other day, „ III 250
The S's was all gentlefoälks i' the owd times, „ III 447
The land belonged to the S's i' the owd times, an' it belongs to the S's ageän : „ III 450
We S's are of old blood, tho' we be fallen. „ III 604
I have heard the S's Had land in Saxon times ; „ III 607
Step (s) S after s, Thro' many voices crying Queen Mary I ii 47 seen your s's a mile From me and Lambeth ? „ I ii 80 myself upon the s's. „ III v 238
No, to the crypt ! Twenty s's down. Becket V iii 78
Not twenty s's, but one. „ V iii 90 one s in the dark beyond Our expectation, The Cup I i 212
'tis but a s from here To the Temple. „ I ii 442
No, not one s with thee. Where is Antonius ? „ I iii 96
Step (verb) Then shalt thou s into my place and sign. Becket I iii 14
the master 'ud be straänge an' pleased if you'd s in fust, Prom. of May I 168
Better s out of his road, then, for he's walking to us, „ I 218
Lady Marian holds her nose when she s's across it. Foresters I i 84
Stephen (King of England) Church in the pell-mell of S's time Becket, Pro. 19
Him who crown'd S—King S's brother ! „ Pro. 273 may come a crash and embroilment as in S's time ; „ Pro. 485
That havock'd all the land in S's day. „ I i 242
King S gave Many of the crown lands „ I iii 149
Then he took back not only S's gifts, „ I iii 154
After the nineteen winters of King S— „ I iii 339
Stephen Gardiner (Bishop of Winchester and Lord Chancellor) (See also Gardiner) is every morning's prayer Of your most loyal subject, S G. Queen Mary I v 104
Stepmother And be s of a score of sons ! „ I v 206
Stepping my white bird s toward the snare. The Cup I iii 35 delicate-footed creature Came s o'er him, Foresters IV 537 Stept I s between and purchased him, Harold II ii 40 king of day hath s from off his throne, Foresters II i 26
Stern half sight which makes her look so s, Queen Mary II ii 323
Sternatur Acies, Acies Prona s ! Harold V i 582 Stick (s) Ye take a s, and break it ; „ IV 1 57 as when we threaten A yelper with a s. Becket IV ii 350 Stick (verb) old leaven s's to my tongue yet. Queen Mary I iii 48 so 'z we was forced to s her, „ IV iii 495
By God's death, thou shalt s him like a calf ! Becket I iii 183 and Baäker, thaw I s's to hoäm-maäde— Prom. of May I 449 if thou s to she I'll s to thee—s to tha like a weasel „ II 738
Stiff S as the very backbone of heresy. Queen Mary I v 44
That strange starched s creature, Little John, the Earl's man. Foresters I i 183
Stigand (Archbishop of Canterbury) S should know the purposes of Heaven. Harold I i 64
Old uncanonical S—ask of me Who had my pallium „ I i 81
Well, father S—War there, my son ? „ I i 123
S shall give me absolution for it— „ II ii 798
I, old shrivell'd S, I, „ III i 7 one whom they dispoped ? Harold. No, S, no ! „ III i 108 Ay—S, unriddle This vision, canst thou ? „ III i 173 take, sign it, S, Alfred ! Sign it, „ III i 198
S hath given me absolution for it. Edward. S is not canonical enough To save thee „ III i 213
S believed he knew not what he spake. „ III ii 61
S will see thee safe, And so—Farewell. „ V i 418 old S, With hands too limp to brandish iron— „ V i 448
S, O father, have we won the day ? „ V i 543
Stile is the King's if too high a s for your lordship to overstep Becket III iii 281
Still To s the petty treason therewithin, Queen Mary III i 13
I left her lying s and beautiful, „ V v 261
Still'd Nay, have we s him ? Becket V iii 201 Stillness Who breaks the s of the morning thus ? Foresters I iii 50 dead Are shaken from their s in the grave „ II i 46
Stilt And that would s up York to twice himself. Becket II ii 34 Sting (s) an amphisbæna, Each end a s : Queen Mary III iv 40 when our good hive Needs every s to save it. Harold IV i 18
Sting (verb) We kill the heretics that s the soul— Queen Mary III iv 69
A snake—and if I touch it, it may s. „ III v 218
Stinging All hollow'd out with s heresies ; „ III ii 203
Stir s not yet This matter of the Church lands. „ V v 407
Carew s's In Devon : „ II i 5
Will s the living tongue and make the cry. „ III i 354
He s's within the darkness ! „ III ii 158
this Henry S's up your land against you „ V i 131
Send out ; I am too weak to s abroad : „ V ii 287
S up thy people : oust him ! Harold I i 482
S up the King, the Lords ! Becket I ii 88
As at this loveless knife that s's the riot, „ IV ii 191 she did not s ; The snow had frozen round her, „ V ii 236
Stir'd never s or writhed, but, like a statue, Queen Mary IV iii 620
Morcar and Edwin have s up the Thanes Harold II ii 288
That in thy cause were s against King Henry, Becket II ii 429
S up a party there against your son— „ V i 6
Stirrest Thou s up a grief thou canst not fathom. Queen Mary III iv 298
Stirring S's of some great doom when God's „ I iv 261
I hear them s in the Council Chamber. „ I v 628
From s hand or foot to wrong the realm. „ III iii 60
S her baby-king against me ? ha ! Becket V i 106
What is this ? some one been s Against me ? Prom. of May III 560
Stitch'd they be fine ; I never s none such. Queen Mary III i 226 Stock (See also Self-stock) And grafted on the hard-grain'd s of Spain— „ IV iii 426 only rose of all the s That never thorn'd him ; Harold I i 426
I am but a stone and a dead s to thee. Foresters II ii 69
Stock-dove The s-d coo'd at the fall of night, Prom. of May I 41
And the s-d coo'd, till a kite dropt down, „ I 55
Stole but your king s her a babe from Scotland Queen Mary I v 291 there s into the city a breath Full of the meadows, Becket I i 261
Who s the widow's one sitting hen o' Sunday, „ I iv 120
S on her, she was walking in the garden, Foresters II i 112 Stolen The golden ornaments are s from her— Becket III iii 180 and ower a hoonderd pounds worth o' rings s. Prom. of May I 394

Stolen (continued) For thou hast s my will, and made it thine. Foresters III 329
Stone (adj.) For smooth s columns of the sanctuary, Harold I ii 101
Stone (s) into some more costly s Than ever blinded eye. Queen Mary I v 370 why fling back the s he strikes me with ? „ IV ii 150 Albeit no rolling s, my good friend Gamel, Harold I i 93 tho' the drop may hollow out the dead s, Becket III iii 315 a cheek like a peach and a heart like the s in it— The Falcon 94
Hard as the s's of his abbey. Foresters I ii 270
I am but a s and a dead stock to thee. „ II ii 69
Stone (verb) Our men and boys would hoot him, s him, Prom. of May II 425
Stone-blind a son s-b Sat by his mother's hearth : Becket V ii 105
Stone-cut And, like the s-c epitaph, Queen Mary IV iii 163
Stone-dead sat S-d upon a heap of ice-cold eggs. Becket V ii 239
Stone-hard S-h, ice-cold—no dash of daring in him. Queen Mary I v 331
Stood I s out, till Edward sent for me. „ I ii 29
Lady Jane s up Stiff as the very backbone „ I v 42 citizens S each before his shut-up booth, „ II ii 63 and almost elbowing her, So close they s, „ II ii 78
In every London street a gibbet s. „ III i 7
Who s upright when both the houses fell. „ III iii 254
Well, you one man, because you s upright, „ III iii 269 firm s the pine—The cataract shook „ III iv 137
S out against the King in your behalf, „ IV i 126
At your trial Never s up a bolder man than you ; „ IV ii 122
He s upright, a lad of twenty-one, „ IV iii 335
s More like an ancient father of the Church, „ IV iii 597
I s near—Mark'd him— „ IV iii 616 while we s together, a dead man Rose Harold I ii 78 and at once He s beside me, „ III i 136
Every man about his king Fell where he s. „ V ii 182
Methought I s in Canterbury Minster, Becket I i 73 as the case s, you had safelier have slain an archbishop than a she-goat : „ III iii 67
They s on Dover beach to murder me, „ V ii 436 he s there Staring upon the hunter. The Cup I ii 121
How often have I s With Eva here ! Prom. of May II 296
O would she s before me as my queen, Foresters II i 166
Stoop Might not your courtesy s to hand it me ? Becket IV ii 296 could I s so low As mate with one that holds Foresters IV 709 Stoop'd he s and gather'd one From out a bed Queen Mary V v 92
Stop Well, Simon Renard, shall we s a day ? „ III vi 243
s the heretic's mouth ! Hale him away ! „ IV iii 282
S's and stares at our cottage. The Falcon 161
But hallus ud s at the Vine-an'-the-Hop, Prom. of May II 311
Storm (See also War-storm) and strow the s's at sea, Queen Mary I v 381 Wet, famine, ague, fever, s, wreck, wrath,— „ V v 108 all the North of Humber is one s. Harold II ii 292 To Rome again ! the s begins again. Becket II ii 468 tho' I am none of those that would raise a s between you, III iii 296
Can you not hear them yonder like a s, „ V ii 625
the s was drawing hither Across the hills The Cup II 319
The s is hard at hand will sweep away Thrones, Prom. of May I 517
I will fly to you thro' the night, the s— „ I 702
s and shower lashing Her casement, „ II 471
Out in the fiercest s That ever made earth tremble— „ III 797
Storming All the Norman foot Are s up the hill. Harold V i 523
Stormless No—our waking thoughts Suffer a s shipwreck in the pools „ V i 296
Storm-voice whose s-v Unsockets the strong oak, The Cup II 282
Stormy The s Wyatts and Northumberlands, Queen Mary III ii 168
Stormy-red when he sign'd, his face was s-r— Becket I iii 320
Story But truth of s, which I glanced at, Queen Mary III v 33
Then, glancing thro' the s of this realm, Becket I iii 410
The s of your battle and your wound. The Falcon 594
Will he not fly from you if he learn the s of my shame Prom. of May III 257
Stout Wake, or the s old island will become A rotten limb of Spain. Queen Mary II i 104
But by God's providence a good s staff Lay near me ; „ V ii 468
And Tostig is not s enough to bear it. Harold I i 402
I have a s crabstick here, which longs to break itself across their backs. Foresters IV 917
Stoutness Your learning, and your s, and your heresy, Queen Mary IV ii 125
Straäit (straight) hallus hup at sunrise, and I'd drive the plow s as a line right i' the faäce o' the sun, Prom. of May I 370
Straänge (strange) and the master 'ud be s an' pleased if you'd step in fust, „ I 167
Straight (See also Straäit) and set it S on the trunk, Harold III i 146
Speak s out, crookback. Foresters II i 271
Straight-going the dry light of Rome's s-g policy, The Cup I i 145
Strain (s) A s of hard and headstrong in him. Becket, Pro. 234 Strain (verb) if we did not s to make ourselves Better Prom. of May I 602
Strain'd I cannot cope with him : my wrist is s. Foresters IV 313
Strand voice coming up with the voice of the deep from the s, Becket II i 6
Stranded To shove that s iceberg off our shores, Harold IV iii 138
Strange (See also Straänge) S game of chess : a King That with her own pawns plays against a Queen, Queen Mary I iii 160
S in a wooer ! „ I v 363
A s youth Suddenly thrust in on me, whisper'd, „ II i 128
That may seem s beyond his nursery. „ II ii 396 how s, That Gardiner, once so one with all of us Against this foreign marriage, should have yielded So utterly !—s ! „ III iii 5 when men are tost On tides of s opinion, „ III iv 119 however, in s hours, After the long brain-dazing colloquies, „ IV ii 90
His Highness is so vex'd with s affairs— „ V ii 560
What is the s thing happiness ? Sit down here : „ V v 77
S and ghastly in the gloom And shadowing of this double thunder-cloud Harold III ii 157
No, not s This was old human laughter in old Rome „ III ii 162 lest the s Saints By whom thou swarest, „ V i 115
I see it—some confusion, Some s mistake. Becket III i 235
A s gift sent to me to-day. The Cup I ii 52
So mad, I fear some s and evil chance Coming upon me, for by the Gods I seem S to myself. „ I iii 74
So s among them—such an alien there, „ II 143
Or some s second-sight, the marriage cup Wherefrom „ II 198
Surely—yet These are s words to speak to Artemis. „ II 326
S that the words at home with me so long Should fly The Falcon 525 sick people, More specially sick children, have s fancies, S longings ; „ 817
But all that sounds so wicked and so s ; Prom. of May I 657
Come, come, my girl, enough Of this s talk. „ III 620
That s starched stiff creature, Little John, the Earl's man. Foresters I i 183
Stranger (adj.) A s monk desires access to you Becket V ii 65
Stranger (compar.) strange ! but s still that he, So fierce against the Headship of the Pope, Queen Mary III iii 9
Stranger (s) By seeking justice at a s's hand „ IV i 20
The s at his hearth, and all his house— „ IV i 163
Norman who should drive The s to the fiends ! Harold II ii 541
Yea, let a s spoil his heritage, Becket II ii 258
Have you had any alarm ? no s ? „ III i 28 tho' a s fain would be allow'd To join the hunt. The Cup I i 196
And you, that seldom brook the s here, „ I ii 378
Strangle for he Who vows a vow to s his own mother Harold III i 229
Such rampant weeds S each other, Prom. of May III 591
Strangled Holy Father s him with a hair Of Peter, Harold V ii 45
Strasburg To S, Antwerp, Frankfort, Zurich, Queen Mary I ii 1
Strato Your name ? Synorix. S, my name. The Cup I i 199
Who is our guest ? Sinnatus. S he calls himself.
Sinnatus. I pledge you, S. Synorix. And I you, my lord. „ I ii 48
You, S, make good cheer till I return. „ I ii 205
Straw Hast not thou drawn the short s ? Becket I iv 4
Take thy one chance ; Catch at the last s. „ IV ii 221
Richard risks his life for a s, So lies in prison— Foresters IV 383
Stray not here I shall rejoice To find my s sheep back within the fold. Becket III iii 355
Stray'd Hath he s From love's clear path into the common bush, „ III i 246 Stream foul s Thro' fever-breeding levels,—at her side, „ II i 155
—the s is bearing us all down, Foresters I i 238

Stream (continued) our little Sheriff will ever swim with the s ! Foresters I i 240 have the great men striven against the s, „ I i 243
Streamer and dropt Their s's earthward, The Cup I ii 405
Streaming We might go softlier than with crimson rowel And s lash. Queen Mary III iv 184
And flung them s o'er the battlements Harold II ii 391
Street Cries of the moment and the s— Queen Mary II iv 128
In every London s a gibbet stood. „ III i 7
And might assail you passing through the s, „ IV ii 35
And Ignorance crying in the s's, „ IV iii 377 son turn'd out into the s To sleep, to die— „ V ii 126
To take the vagabond woman of the s Into thine arms ! Becket I i 228 moon Divides the whole long s with light and shade. „ I i 365
Then hidden in the s He watch'd her „ I ii 39 from the s Stain'd with the mire thereof. „ I iii 690
Call in the poor from the s's, and let them feast. „ I iv 72 they were fighting for her to-day in the s. „ I iv 160
Save that it was mid-winter in the s, „ V ii 372
Strength I not doubt that God will give me s, Queen Mary IV ii 235
Or give thee saintly s to undergo. „ IV iii 99
s To shove that stranded iceberg off our shores, Harold IV iii 137
there make s to breast Whatever chance, „ V i 126
The people know their Church a tower of s, Becket I i 16
Is s less strong when hand-in-hand with grace ? „ V ii 540 Curse on your brutal s ! I cannot pass that way. Prom. of May III 732
So—so—I have presumed Beyond my s. Foresters II i 458
What breadth, height, s—torrents of eddying bark ! „ III 94
Strengthen Might s thee in keeping of thy word, Harold II ii 730
s their palisades ! „ V i 480
Strengthen'd yet he fail'd, And s Philip. Queen Mary III i 133
Stretch Do not scrimp your phrase, But s it wider ; „ III iii 261
See here—I s my hand out—hold it there. The Cup II 210
Strew See Strow
Strewn which I found S in your palace. Queen Mary V ii 173 Stricken (See also Famine-stricken) My father s with his first paralysis, Prom. of May II 481 soul of the woods hath s thro' my blood, Foresters II i 66
I think I should have s him to the death. „ II i 140
He is s with a slight paralysis. „ IV 456
Strict The King Demands a s account of all those revenues Becket I iii 650
Strife My sight is eagle, but the s so thick— Harold V i 627
Strike And arm and s as with one hand, Queen Mary II ii 292
Can I s Elizabeth ?—not now and save the life Of Devon : „ II iv 122 he and his Are bound to me—may s hereafter. „ II iv 125 you may s fire from her, Not hope to melt her. „ III vi 38
To s too soon is oft to miss the blow. „ III vi 72
why fling back the stone he s's me with ? „ IV ii 150
He s's thro' me at Philip and yourself. „ V ii 58
s hard and deep into The prey they are rending „ V ii 267
There you s in the nail. „ V ii 436
s Their hearts, and hold their babies up to it. Harold I i 34 light enough for Alfgar's house To s thee down „ I i 308 the true must Shall make her s as Power : but when to s— „ I i 369
And s among them with thy battle-axe— „ I ii 89
Thou hast but seen how Norman hands can s, „ II ii 172
No man would s with Tostig, save for Norway. „ IV ii 20 the childish fist That cannot s again. „ IV iii 31
all the monks of Peterboro' S for the king ; „ V i 447
We wait but the King's word to s thee dead. Becket.
S, and I die the death of martyrdom ; S, and ye set these customs by my death Ringing Becket I iii 166
The man shall feel that I can s him yet. „ II i 78
Why then I s into my former path For England, „ II ii 455
S ! I challenge thee to meet me before God. „ IV ii 253
S, then, at once, the King would have him— „ V i 237
S's truest ev'n for his own self. „ V ii 42
Do you hear that ? s, s. „ V iii 162
S him, Tracy ! Rosamund. No, No, No, No ! „ V iii 169
S, I say. „ V iii 177
S our Archbishop in his own cathedral ! „ V iii 180
Answer not, but s. „ V iii 186

Strike (continued) And I may s your game when you are gone. The Cup I ii 36
Why did I s him ?—having proof enough „ I iii 157
s, make his feathers Glance in mid heaven. The Falcon 14
Nor ever s him blow for blow ; Prom. of May iii 6 you S up a song, my friends, and then to bed. Foresters I iii 30 these will s for England And man and maid be free „ II i 9
S, Sheriff ! S, mercenary ! „ II i 415
They s the deer at once to death— „ IV 525
S up our music, Little John. „ IV 558
s the bonds From these three men, „ IV 961
S up a stave, my masters, all is well. „ IV 1101
Striking And s at Hardrada and his madmen Harold IV iii 17
I have heard of you. The likeness Is very s. Prom. of May II 366
String were a pious work To s my father's sonnets, Queen Mary II i 27
Strip A thousand winters Will s you bare as death, Foresters IV 1056
Stripe callous with a constant s, Unwoundable. Queen Mary V v 172
Stripping They are s the dead bodies naked yonder, Harold V ii 34
Stript But after they had s him to his shroud, Queen Mary IV iii 334 Strive And in thy cause I s against him now. Becket V i 16 great man s against it again to save his country, Foresters I i 245 Striven I have s in vain to raise a man for her. Queen Mary II ii 17 have the great men s against the stream, Foresters I i 243
Striving Not s still, however much in vain, Becket III iii 232
s still to break or bind The spiritual giant „ IV ii 442 Stroke (s) Toll of a bell, S of a clock, Queen Mary III v 143 and iron s's that brought Thy war with Brittany Harold II ii 47
But I heard say he had had a s, Becket IV i 54
Guard from the s that dooms thee after death „ IV ii 270
I surely should have left That s to Rome. The Cup I iii 160
As scare his act :—a random s : „ II 53
Stroke (verb) you s me on one cheek, Buffet the other. Queen Mary II i 116
Stroking Cannot be heal'd by s. „ III iv 274
Strong Would be too s for France. „ I v 300
Have made s head against ourselves and you. „ II ii 146
And s to throw ten Wyatts and all Kent. „ II ii 353 or we are torn Down the s wave of brawlers. „ III i 186
And their s torment bravely borne, „ III iv 168
A drinker of black, s, volcanic wines, „ V ii 93
I would I were as tall and s as you. „ V ii 422 and you know me s of arm ; „ V ii 469
Haul like a great s fellow at my legs, Harold II i 11
Is 'ay' an oath ? is 'ay' s as an oath ? „ II ii 662 let not my s prayer Be weaken'd in thy sight, „ V i 647
S—not in mine own self, but Heaven ; Becket I iii 536
A s hate-philtre as may madden him— „ IV ii 458
Is strength less s when hand-in-hand with grace ? „ V ii 540 whose storm-voice Unsockets the s oak, and rears his root Beyond his head, The Cup II 283
Were some s fellow here in the wild wood, Foresters IV 515 Stronger Ay, ay, but art thou s than the King ? Becket I iii 534 and now the s motive, Misnamed free-will— Prom. of May II 635 Anyhow we must Move in the line of least resistance when The s motive rules. „ II 671 only differing as the s and the weaker, „ III 190
Of a nature S, sadder than my own, Foresters II ii 189
Strongest Well, well, be it so, thou s thief of all, „ III 327
The Holy Virgin Stand by the s. „ IV 265
Strong-wing'd the best, s-w against the wind. Harold II ii 148
Strove We s against the papacy from the first, Queen Mary III iii 224
And dreadful shadows s upon the hill, Harold III i 377 and once he s to hide his face, Becket III iii 103
s To work against her license for her good, „ IV ii 339
In mine own cause I s against him there, „ V i 14
I cannot tell how long we s before The Falcon 638 Strow and s the storms at sea, Queen Mary I v 381 s's our fruits, and lays Our golden grain, The Cup II 285 Struck S home and won. Queen Mary I v 554
Gardiner wur s down like by the hand o' God „ IV iii 516
And s a shape from out the vague, Becket I iii 373
Very bad. Somebody s him. „ IV i 50
I tell thee, my good fellow, My arrow s the stag. The Cup I ii 28
I am sure I s him. Synorix. And I am just as sure, my lord, I s him. „ I ii 33
I warrant you now, he said, he s the stag. „ I ii 382

Struck (continued) You will believe Now that he never s the stag— The Cup I ii 430
When he s at Sinnatus— „ II 46
His grandsire s my grandsire in a brawl The Falcon 250 whereon she s him, And fled into the castle. Foresters II i 117
She s him, my brave Marian, s the Prince, „ II i 134
Stubbornness O bolster'd up with s and pride, Becket I iii 34
Stuck Come, come, the morsel s—this Cardinal's fault— Queen Mary III iv 375
Studded English Garter, s with great emeralds, „ III i 84
Study retire To Ashridge, and pursue my studies there. „ I iv 237
It shall be all my s for one hour „ III v 184
Studying There wore his time s the canon law Becket II i 85
Stuff See Garden-stuff, Gipsy-stuff
Stuff'd s the boy with fears that these may act Harold II ii 90 Stumble S not in the darkness, Lest they should seize thee. Becket V iii 78 fear not I should s in the darkness, „ V iii 91 Stumbled Hath s on our cups? Harold IV iii 179
Stump-tailed or a s-t ox in May-time, Foresters II i 434
Stung your wise bees had s him first to death. Queen Mary III iii 64
Stunn'd Sir Nicholas! I am s— „ V ii 250 Stupid S soldiers oft are bold. „ V ii 445 that you were s drunk all Sunday, and so ill in consequence all Monday, Prom. of May III 79
Stupid-honest Be thou not s-h, brother Gurth! Harold III i 122
Stupid-sure the people s-s Sleep like their swine . . . „ IV iii 216
Stupid-wild thine eyes Glare s-w with wine. Becket I i 214
Sturdy Beggars, you are s rogues that should be set to work. Foresters III 196
Style with his charm of simple s And close dialectic, Prom. of May I 224
Suaviter S in modo, fortiter in re, Becket V ii 539
Subject is every morning's prayer Of your most loyal s, Queen Mary I v 104 marriage should bring loss or danger to you, My s's, „ II ii 229
And all our loving s's, most expedient. „ II ii 211
Against my natural s. „ IV i 21
I am your s, not your—— Henry. Pander. Becket, Pro. 145
I'll crush him as the s. „ I iii 334
Submission Except they make s to the Church. „ V iii 122
Submissive I am utterly s to the Queen. Queen Mary I iv 39
Submit S; I promise thee on my salvation Becket I iii 254
They have but to s. „ V ii 382 to s at once Is better than a wholly-hopeless war, The Cup I ii 140
if a state s At once, she may be blotted out „ I ii 156
Suborn'd His foes—the Devil had s 'em. Queen Mary I v 626
Subscribe Will you s the customs? Becket I ii 46
Subsidy remission Of half that s levied Queen Mary I v 115 raise us loans and subsidies Among the merchants; „ V i 179
Substance 'Twould seem too like the s, if I sign'd. Becket I iii 197
Subtlety repulses, the delicacies, the subtleties. „ Pro. 500
Sub-writing as you suspended yourself after s-w to the customs. „ II ii 351 Success this or that way, of s Would turn it thither. Queen Mary II ii 100 but the ill s of the farm, and the debts, Prom. of May II 68
Successor give his kingly voice To me as his s. Harold II ii 589 we must have a mightier man than he For his s. Becket, Pro. 8 as his s in the archbishoprick. „ Pro. 402
Succory speedwell, bluebottle, s, forget-me-not? Prom. of May I 98
Succour refusing none That come to Thee for s, Queen Mary IV iii 132
Such Answer thou for him, then! thou'rt no s cockerel thyself, „ I i 41
My flight were s a scandal to the faith, „ I ii 53
These beastly swine make s a grunting here, „ I iii 12
Why, s a game, sir, were whole years a playing. „ I iii 139 to be s a one As Harry Bolingbroke hath a lure in it. „ I iv 9 but God hath sent me here To take s order with all heretics „ I v 34 to compose the event In some s form as least may harm your Grace. „ I v 225
the thing Was no s scarecrow in your father's time. „ I v 473
A pretty man for s a pretty maiden. „ I v 613
Many s groups. „ II ii 92
Should play the second actor in this pageant That brings him in; s a cameleon he! „ III iii 15
Towards the abrogation and repeal Of all s laws and ordinances made; „ III iii 142 wherein have been S holocausts of heresy! to what end? „ III iv 108

Such (continued) She seethed with s adulteries, and the lives Queen Mary III iv 189
And I have known s women more than one— „ III vi 178
If s a prince were born and you not here! „ III vi 203
Your father was a man Of s colossal kinghood, „ IV i 101
My heart is no s block as Bonner's is: „ IV ii 174 but methinks I love her less For s a dotage upon s a man. V ii 421
Come, thou shalt dream no more s dreams; I swear it, Harold I ii 108
Like Jonah, than have known there were s devils. „ II i 38
Hast thou s trustless jailors in thy North? „ II ii 684
She hath wean'd me from it with s bitterness. „ IV ii 28
Wakening s brawls and loud disturbances In England, Becket V ii 352
I never felt s passion for a woman. The Cup I i 34
I know of no s wives in all Galatia. „ I ii 191
Alas! I have no s power with Rome. „ I ii 291
I will be no s wreck, „ I iii 144
We have been in s grief these five years, Prom. of May II 66
I have freed myself From all s dreams, „ III 596
Suck one of those mercenaries that s the blood of England. Foresters II i 175 may this mouth Never s grape again, „ IV 394
Suck'd (See also Weasle-sucked) And kingdom will be s into the war, Queen Mary I v 257
Sucking s thro' fools' ears The flatteries of corruption— Becket I iii 360
Suckling Out of the mouths of babes and s's, praise! „ II ii 279
Sudden Came with a s splendour, shout, and show, Queen Mary III i 449
Philip's no s alien—the Queen's husband, „ III iii 42
Whereat Lord Williams gave a s cry:— „ IV iii 604
Methinks that would you tarry one day more (The news was s) „ III vi 234
s touches For him, or him—sunk rocks; „ V v 219 but Tostig On a s—at a something—for a nothing— Harold I i 442
A summer mere with s wreckful gusts From a side-gorge. „ III i 50
Edith, The sign in heaven—the s blast at sea— „ V i 378
Like s night in the main glare of day. Becket II i 57
S change is a house on sand; „ III iii 59 that our good Henry Says many a thing in s heats, „ IV ii 276
If God would take him in some s way— „ V i 93
Did he? It seem'd so. I have play'd the s fool. The Cup I iii 162
To-day? Too s. I will brood upon it. „ II 72
Ay! but you must not be too s with it either, Prom. of May II 54
But I weant be too s wi' it; and I feel sewer, Miss Dora, that I ha' been noän too s wi' you, „ II 59
By St. Nicholas I have a s passion for the wild wood— Foresters I iii 122 but look, there is a cross line o' s death. „ II i 354
But I have ta'en a s fancy to thee. „ IV 422
Sue —infatuated—To s you for his life? Queen Mary IV i 11
I came to s Your Council and yourself (repeat) „ V i 107, 114 Sued Not s for that—he knows it were in vain. „ IV i 13 when the King's divorce was s at Rome, „ IV iii 41
He s my hand. I shook at him. Becket I i 272
Suffer So your king-parliament s him to land, Queen Mary I v 365
Your Grace's business will not s, sire, „ III vi 245
We talk and Cranmer s's. „ IV iii 420
S not That my brief reign in England „ V ii 301
That s's in the daily want of thee, Harold II ii 275
S a stormless shipwreck in the pools „ V i 296 Perish she, I, all, before The Church should s wrong! Becket III iii 20 and so cannot s by the rule of frequency. „ III iii 319
The One Who shifts his policy s's something, The Cup II 113
Do you still s from your fall in the hollow lane? Prom. of May III 240 they that s by him call the blossom Of bandits. Foresters IV 371
Suffer'd As for what I did I s and repented. Queen Mary III iv 259
She hath followed with our host, and s all. Harold IV i 29
Wilt not be s so to cross the seas Becket I iii 129 has s More than we know. Prom. of May II 501 Suffering Five years of shame and s broke the heart „ III 761
Sufficient whose baby eye Saw them s. Harold III ii 67
S for the day, dear father! Foresters I i 343
Suffolk (Duke of) Duke of S lately freed from prison, Queen Mary I iii 121
Duke of S and Sir Peter Carew, „ I iv 112
Spared you the Duke of S, Guildford Dudley, „ I v 489
I do not hear from Carew or the Duke Of S, „ II i 3
Till Guildford Dudley and the Duke of S, „ II iv 138
Did not Lord S die like a true man? „ III i 164

Suffolk (Lady) The Lady S and the Lady Lennox? Queen Mary I iv 31
Suit (courtship) and I shall urge his s Upon the Queen, „ v i 266
Suit (of clothes) And look at our s's, out at knee, out at elbow. Foresters I i 33
Suit (petition) Do make most humble s unto your Majesties, Queen Mary III iii 118
So to set forth this humble s of ours „ III iii 145
Suit (verb) if it s their purpose to howl for the King, Becket III iii 323
Sullen What! are thy people s from defeat? Harold IV i 1
Let not our great king Believe us s— „ IV i 7
Make not our Morcar s: it is not wise. „ IV iii 103 our waking thoughts Suffer a stormless shipwreck in the pools Of s slumber, „ V i 297
Sully pray'd me not to s Mine own prerogative, Queen Mary IV i 17
Sulphur I was born with it, and s won't bring it out o' me. Becket I iv 232
Sultana That I am his main paramour, his s. „ IV ii 39
Summat (something) I heerd s as summun towld summun o' owld Bishop Gardiner's end; Queen Mary IV iii 502 Summer (adj.) The brows unwrinkled as a s mere.— Stigand. A s mere with sudden wreckful gusts Harold III i 48 they be two o' the purtiest gels ye can see of a s murnin'. Prom. of May I 31
Summer (s) (See also Mid-summer) —That was many a s gone— Harold I i 253
Over! the sweet s closes, (repeat) Becket, Pro. 302, 323, 331
Bar the bird From following the fled s— Becket I i 259 Cold after warm, winter after s, „ I iv 65 belike it 'ud ha' been always s, „ III i 149
That in the s keeps the mountain side, The Cup I i 108
How long ago was that? Count. Alas, ten s's! The Falcon 348
The tan of southern s's and the beard? Prom. of May II 617
Thy thirtieth s may be thirty-fold Foresters I ii 128 a thousand s's Robe you life-green again. „ IV 1057
Summer-flies flash out at times Of festival like burnish'd s-f, „ I ii 276
You lovers are such clumsy s-f „ IV 10
Summit flash About the s of the hill, Harold V i 539 vast vine-bowers Ran to the s of the trees, The Cup I ii 403 Summon When will you that we s both our houses Queen Mary III ii 114
the King shall s the chapter of that church to court, Becket I iii 109
S your barons; take their counsel: „ V i 74
Summon'd seems then I was s hither But to be mock'd Queen Mary III iv 269
I doubt not but thou knowest Why thou art s. Harold IV i 188
Summons he shall answer to the s of the King's court to be tried therein.' Becket I iii 89
Summun (some one) I heerd summat as s towld s o' owld Bishop Gardiner's end; Queen Mary IV iii 502 why then I beänt Farmer Dobson, but s else— Prom. of May II 140 Minds ma o' s. „ II 583
Summut (something) There mun be s wrong theer, Wilson, „ I 234 but he says he wants to tell ye s very partic'lar. „ III 355
Sumpter-mule Mutilated, poor brute, my s-m, Becket V ii 440
Sun the most princelike Prince beneath the s. Queen Mary I v 446 amazed To find as fair a s as might have flash'd „ III ii 22
Till the s dance, as upon Easter Day. „ III ii 238
Our short-lived s, before his winter plunge, „ III iii 85 your Highness is our s, the King And you together our two s's in one; „ III iv 18
What power this cooler s of England hath „ III iv 327 dance into the s That shines on princes. „ III v 253 you want the s That shines at court; „ III v 276
That might live always in the s's warm heart, „ V i 22 a candle in the s Is all but smoke— „ V i 78
a s set But leaving light enough Harold I i 306
And we will fill thee full of Norman s, „ II ii 180
And over thee the s's arise and set, „ II ii 433
Thine by the s; nay, by some s to be, „ III i 67
That s may God speed! „ III i 72
And over and gone with the s. Here; but our s in Aquitaine lasts longer. Becket, Pro. 327
If a seraph shouted from the s, „ I iii 311
Love that is born of the deep coming up with the s from the sea. (repeat) „ II i 10, 20
Sun (continued) My s, no cloud! Let there not be one frown Becket II i 41
Out of the cloud, my S—out of the eclipse „ II i 202
And felt the s of Antioch scald our mail, „ II ii 93
The s himself, should he be changed to one, „ III i 57
What are you crying for, when the s shines? „ III i 270 cloud that hath come over the s and cast us all into shadow? „ III iii 46
And hiss'd against the s? „ V iii 45 twin sister of the morning star, Forelead the s. The Cup I iii 47
Beneath an ever-rising s—I see him— „ II 535
Your ladyship lives higher in the s. The Falcon 583 Help me to move this bench for him into the s. Prom. of May I 81 plow straäit as a line right i' the faäce o' the s, „ I 371 —then hup ageän i' the faäce o' the s. Eh! how the s 'ud shine, „ I 373 like The rainbow of a momentary s. Foresters I ii 279
And darkness rises from the fallen s. „ I iii 42
A houseless head beneath the s and stars, „ II i 64
Sunday Who stole the widow's one sitting hen o' S, Becket I iv 121 you were stupid drunk all S, Prom. of May III 80
Sunder plenty to s and unsister them again: Queen Mary I i 85
Sunder'd And brought the s tree again, and set it Straight on the trunk, Harold III i 144 Sung The bells must ring; Te Deums must be s; Queen Mary III ii 212 shall masses here be s By every priest in Oxford. „ IV iii 100
'Love for a whole life long' When was that s? Harold III ii 89
Well s! James. Fanny be the naäme i' the song, Prom. of May II 210 your Ladyship hath s the old proverb out of fashion. Foresters I i 163
Sun-gilt Like s-g breathings on a frosty dawn— Queen Mary V iii 50 Sunk and might have s a navy— Becket III iii 125 past is like a travell'd land now s Below the horizon— The Cup II 230
S in the deepest pit of pauperism, Prom. of May III 803 sudden touches For him, or him—s rocks; Queen Mary V v 221 Sunken Help the good ship, showing the s rock, Harold II ii 100
Sunless Ran s down, and moan'd against the piers. Queen Mary II iii 26
Sunlight I am sure Her morning wanted s, Harold I ii 45 lark first takes the s on his wing, The Cup I iii 43
The town lay still in the long s-l, Prom. of May I 37
Sunrise hallus up at s, and I'd drive the plow „ I 369
Sunrising which he Gainsays by next s— Becket IV ii 278
Sunset a paleness, Like the wan twilight after s, „ I iii 326
Sunshine Like universal air and s! Queen Mary III ii 182
The s sweeps across my life again. „ III vi 249
Air and s. I would we had you, „ V ii 606
Winter s! Beware of opening out thy bosom Becket III iii 29
Sunstroke Pray God, we 'scape the s. Queen Mary III v 279
Superstition letter you wrote against Their s „ I ii 86
if you cared To fee an over-opulent s, Prom. of May I 693
Superstitious S fool, What brought me here? „ II 350
Supper Simon, is s ready? Queen Mary III vi 256
A holy s, not a sacrifice; „ IV ii 57
Was not my lord of Leicester bidden to our s? Becket I iv 57
Swine, sheep, ox—here's a French s. „ I iv 113
Is the Archbishop a thief who gives thee thy s? „ I iv 116
We be a-going home after our s in all humbleness, „ I iv 207 shall see the silk here and there, and I want my s. „ IV i 57 Cheese? Filippo. A s for twelve mites. The Falcon 127 do thou and thy sweet'art sing us hoäm to s— Prom. of May II 170 fur owd Dobson 'll gi'e us a bit o' s. „ II 217
Supping See A-supping
Supple (adj.) You must be sweet and s, like a Frenchman. Queen Mary V i 275
Supple (verb) To sleek and s himself to the king's hand. Harold I i 149
Supplicate all one mind to s The Legate here for pardon, Queen Mary III iii 106
Supplication Our s be exhibited To the Lord Cardinal Pole, „ III iii 123
By this our s promising, „ III iii 135
Supplied daily want s—The daily pleasure to supply it. Becket II ii 301
Supply daily want supplied—The daily pleasure to s it. „ II ii 303
Supposed have been s Tainted with Lutheranism Queen Mary III iv 226
Supposition But you, my Lord, beyond all s, „ III iv 229
Suppress to s God's honour for the sake Of any king Becket II ii 220
Sure (See also Sewer, Stt ɔid-sure) Lord Paget's 'Ay' is s—who else? Queen Mary I v 630

Sure (continued) I am s (Knowing the man) he wrought it Queen Mary III i 275
I should fight then. Stafford. I am s of it. „ III i 469 and not s Of their own selves, „ III iv 119
Of this be s, he is whole worlds away. „ IV iii 194 but I am not s She will not serve me better— „ V i 249
Papacy is no more. Paget. Are we so s of that? „ V v 287
I am s she hates thee, Pants for thy blood. Harold I ii 37
I his queen, I might be s of it. „ I ii 155
I am s this body Is Alfwig, the king's uncle. „ V ii 67
Art thou so s thou followedst anything? Becket I i 210
But, my liege, I am s, of all the roses— „ II i 139 for to be s it's no more than a week since our old Father Philip „ III i 109 be s they be, but he blinded 'em for all that, „ III i 128 and to be s I ha' seen great ones to-day— „ III i 136 tho' to be s if I had been Eve i' the garden I shouldn't ha' minded the apple, „ III i 139 to be s if I hadn't minded it we should all „ III i 144 tho' to be s our mother 'ill sing me old songs by the hour, „ III i 184
You had never used so many, Not if you meant it, I am s. „ IV ii 184
And yet I am all but s my dagger was a feint Till the worm turn'd— „ IV ii 379
I am not so s But that I love him still. „ IV ii 450
I am s I struck him. Synorix. And I am just as s, my lord, I struck him. The Cup I ii 34
Wise I am s as she is beautiful, „ I ii 139
I am s of being every way malign'd. „ I ii 241
I am s I told him that his plot was folly. „ I ii 283
Plead to him, I am s you will prevail. „ I ii 302
I am s you will not marry him. Camma. Are you so s? „ II i 104
I am all but s that some one spake. „ II i 404
I am most s that some one call'd. „ II i 509
I am s that more than one brave fellow The Falcon 633 but be s That I shall never marry again, my lord! Count. S? „ 741
I am s I wish her happy. Prom. of May I 478
But s am I that of your gentleness You will forgive him. „ II 487 and that, I am s, would be the death of him. „ III 167 and he loves me too, I am quite s of that. „ III 214
I am s that when we are married he will be willing „ III 259 are you quite s that after marriage this gentleman „ III 292
He will be s to know you to-morrow. „ III 470
But there I am s the ballad is at fault. Foresters I i 122
I am all but s of him. I will go to him. „ I i 275
Nay—that, my friend, I am s I did not say. „ II i 489
Surgas S e tenebris, Sis vindicator! Harold V i 571
Surged hugest wave from Norseland ever yet S on us, „ IV iii 64
Surname He must deserve his s better. Queen Mary III ii 197
Surprise Well, Father, I have a s for you. Prom. of May III 438
Surprised niver been s but once i' my life, and I went blind upon it. „ III 439
Surrendering s God's honour to the pleasure of a man. Becket II ii 439
Survey Not an eye to s, Foresters II ii 181
Surveyor See Land-surveyor
Suspect Why still s your Grace? Queen Mary III v 17 you s This Sinnatus of playing patriotism, The Cup I i 77
Suspected anyone S thee to be my man? Queen Mary I iii 176
Much s, of me Nothing proven can be. „ III v 19
Suspend I will s myself from all my functions. Becket I iii 301 your lordship would s me from verse-writing, „ II ii 349 and tho' you s Foliot or another, „ II ii 358 Suspended as you s yourself after sub-writing to the customs. „ II ii 350 tho' you s yourself, The Pope let you down again; „ II ii 356 Suspense the Pope will not leave them in s, for the Pope himself is always in s, „ II ii 359 —always in s, like the scales, „ II ii 362 always in s, like the tail of the horologe— „ II ii 365
Sussex I know all S; A good entrenchment Harold III i 362
Suzerain Husband-in-law, our smooth-shorn s, Becket II ii 40
Swaddling-band flings aside His s-b's, Prom. of May I 586
Swale in the cruel river S A hundred years ago; Harold III ii 10

Swaller (swallow) Wi' the butterflies out, and the s's at plaäy, Prom. of May II 198
Swallow (s) (See also Swaller) S's fly again, Cuckoos cry again, Queen Mary III v 96
Why, nature's licensed vagabond, the s, „ V i 21
Yet will I be your s and return— „ V i 91
Sick as an autumn s for a voyage, Harold I i 101
Farewell, friends! farewell, s's! Becket I iv 45
Not while the s skims along the ground, Foresters I ii 313
Swallow (verb) find Heaven or else hell ready to s me, Queen Mary IV iii 224
Rolf, what fish did s Jonah? Rolf. A whale! Harold II i 41 all their horse S the hill locust-like, „ V i 560
My one grain of good counsel which you will not s. Becket II ii 379 that will s anything. Farewell. „ II ii 382
Will the earth gape and s us? „ V iii 206
she that has eaten the yolk is scarce like to s the shell. The Falcon 705 Swallowed (See also Shore-swallow'd) I had liefer that the fish had s me, Harold II i 37 whale to a whelk we have s the King of England. „ II i 45 glory of the Church Hath s up the glory of the King; Becket I iii 666
And s in the conqueror's chronicle. The Cup I ii 158 your free sports have s my free hour. Foresters IV 339
Swam or else s heavily Against the huge corruptions Queen Mary IV ii 98
Swamp running out at top To s the house. Harold I i 379
Swan flocks of s's, As fair and white as angels; Queen Mary III ii 15
Swang Mark'd how the war-axe s, Harold IV iii 156
Swapped See Swopt
Sward Kill'd the s where'er they sat, Foresters II ii 152
Sware (See also Swore) He knew not whom he s by. Harold III i 256 and I s To consecrate my virgin here „ III i 275 born in me when I s Falsely to him, „ V i 302
by whom I knew not that I s,— „ V i 305
King Henry s That, saving his King's kingship, Becket I iii 27
I s I would not give the kiss of peace, „ III iii 259
Swarest Swearing thou s falsely by his Saints: Harold III ii 142 lest the strange Saints By whom thou s, „ V i 117
Thou s falsely by our blessed bones, „ V i 259
Swarm (s) Philip and the black-faced s's of Spain, Queen Mary II i 98
Out crept a wasp, with half the s behind. „ III iii 49
Is coming with a s of mercenaries To break Foresters III 452
Swarm (verb) they s into the fire Like flies—for what? no dogma. Queen Mary V ii 110
S to thy voice like bees to the brass pan. Foresters I iii 108
Swarming Swallow the hill locust-like, s up. Harold V i 560 Sway Now the spoilt child s's both. „ I i 453 that one time s to the current, And to the wind another. Becket I iii 593
And s the long grape-bunches of our vines, The Cup II 270
Sway'd might well have s All England under Henry, Becket I iii 467 Swaying And s his two-handed sword about him, Harold V i 407 and like the s vines—Yea,—with our eyes,— The Cup I ii 410 Swear (See also Sweär) He s's by the Rood. Whew! Queen Mary I i 62
Peter, I'll s for him He did believe „ I ii 76
S with me, noble fellow-citizens, all, „ II ii 296
We s! Mary. We thank your Lordship and your loyal city. „ II ii 299
I s you do your country wrong, Sir Ralph. „ III i 153 but of this fire he says, Nay s's, „ III v 72
I s I have no heart To be your Queen. „ V v 264
I s it, By mine own eyes— Harold I ii 109 to s Vows that he dare not break. „ II ii 76
S thou on this! Harold. What should I s? Why should I s on this? William. S thou to help me to the crown of England. „ II ii 701
S thou to-day, to-morrow is thine own. „ II ii 709
I s to help thee to the crown of England . . . (repeat) Harold II ii 712, 721
Thou must s absolutely, noble Earl. „ II ii 715
S, dearest brother, I beseech thee, s! „ II ii 719
I made thee s.—Show him by whom he hath sworn. „ II ii 732 and dear son, s When thou art king, „ III i 305 for I have sworn Not to s falsely twice. Edward. Thou wilt not s? Harold. I cannot. „ III i 311
For I can s to that, but cannot s That these will follow thee „ IV i 156

Swear (continued) who made And heard thee s— Harold v i 121
There is no man can s to him. „ v ii 78
Ay, ay, but s to see to her in England. Becket. Well, well, I s, but not to please myself. Becket, Pro. 190
s nay to that by this cross on thy neck. „ Pro. 369
I heard him s revenge. „ I i 280 not the soldier As Foliot s's it.— „ I i 388
And s to obey the customs. „ I iii 270
I, my liege, could s, To death for death. „ I iii 404
I can easily s to these as being The King's will „ I iii 419
Cross swords all of you! s to follow him! „ I iv 200
S and unswear, state and misstate thy best! „ II ii 476
But can I s to that, had she but given „ IV ii 384
I'll s to mine own self it was a feint. Why should I s, Eleanore, who am, or was, „ IV ii 401
I know—could s—as long as Becket breathes, „ V i 76
I will s by the head of the Earl. Foresters I ii 45 but for all that I will s the Earl hath right. „ I ii 51
S to me by that relic on thy neck. „ I ii 169
I s then by this relic on my neck—No, no, I will not s by this; „ I ii 171
I have heard him s he will be even wi' thee. „ II i 344
Not any of these, I s. Men. No, no, we s. „ II i 710

Swe̊ar Minds ma o' summun. I could s to that; Prom. of May II 583

Swear'd (swore) For me an' my Sally we s to be true, „ II 204

Swearer They call thee John the S. Becket II ii 462

Swearest that s by the mass? Queen Mary I iii 46

Swearing (See also A-swearing) For s falsely by those blessed bones; Harold III i 246
S thou swarest falsely by his Saints: „ III ii 142

Sweat (s) hand, Damp with the s of death, Queen Mary I ii 33 blood and s of heretics at the stake „ V i 100 cries continually with s and tears to the Lord God „ V iv 45
In the s of thy brow, says Holy Writ, shalt thou eat bread, but in the s of thy brow Foresters IV 201

Sweat (verb) he'll s it out of thee, (repeat) Harold II i 77
S out your gout, friend, for by my life, Foresters IV 565

Sweating My lord, I ha' three sisters a-dying at home o' the s sickness. Becket I iv 246

Sweep (s) How many names in the long s of time Queen Mary III v 40 in the long s of years to come must the great man Foresters I i 244

Sweep (verb) When they will s her from the seas. Queen Mary III i 162
The sunshine s's across my life again. „ III vi 249 storm is hard at hand will s away Thrones, Prom. of May I 517

Sweeping See Down-sweeping

Sweet took her hand, call'd her s sister, and kiss'd not her alone, Queen Mary I i 80 but you, cousin, are fresh and s As the first flower „ I iv 62
I have a head to lose for your s sake. „ I iv 131
S mother, you had time and cause enough To sicken „ I v 23
More like a school-boy that hath broken bounds, Sickening himself with s's. „ I v 172
The bitter in the s. „ I v 235
S cousin, you forget That long low minster where you gave your hand To this great Catholic King. „ III ii 89
I know that she was ever s to me. „ III ii 228
And she was crafty—a s violence, And a s craft. „ III v 108
They are not s, The violence and the craft that do divide The world of nature; „ III v 119
And, whether it bring you bitter news or s, „ III v 202
Lose the s hope that I may bear a prince. „ III vi 201
You must be s and supple, like a Frenchman. „ V i 275
Your pardon, S cousin, and farewell! „ V ii 204
Look'd hard and s at me, and gave it me. „ V v 95
O Saint of Aragon, with that s worn smile „ V v 198 before I go To find the s refreshment of the Saints. Harold I i 177
And the lark sings, the s stars come and go, „ II ii 434
All the s Saints bless him! „ III i 297
Their anthems of no church, how s they are! „ III ii 92
Over! the s summer closes, (repeat) Becket, Pro. 301, 323, 331
I left him with peace on his face—that s other-world smile, Becket, Pro. 396 and it minded me Of the s woods of Clifford, „ I i 264
Be s to her, she has many enemies. „ I i 404

Sweet (continued) that seems s to you now, will blast and blind you like a curse. Becket I iv 39 that seem at most S guests, or foreign cousins, „ II i 135
Thou shalt confess all thy s sins to me. „ II i 292 so if the city be sick, and I cannot call the kennel s, „ II ii 349
All praise to Heaven, and s St. Magdalen! „ III iii 235
And I will fly with my s boy to heaven, „ IV ii 237 Home, s moon, bring him home, The Cup I ii 7 white In the s moon as with a lovelier snow! „ I ii 396 and bless your s face, you look as beautiful this morning as the very Madonna her own self— The Falcon 197
Oh s saints! one plate of prunes! „ 215
My last sight ere I swoon'd was one s face Crown'd with the wreath. „ 648
Well, shall we say this wreath and your s rhymes? „ 735
My s Eva, Where have you lain in ambush all the morning? Prom. of May I 543 we might be As happy as the bees there at their honey In these s blossoms. Eva. Yes; how s they smell! „ I 607 an' them theer be soom of her oän roses, an' she wur as s as ony on 'em— „ II 39
Why, lass, doänt tha knaw he be s upo' Dora Steer, „ II 161
Can tell me anything of our s Eva When in her brighter girlhood, „ II 520
Be not so cast down, my s Eva. „ III 468
O s Kate, my first love, the first kiss, the first kiss! Foresters I i 126
But he flutter'd his wings with a s little cry, „ I i 154
Farewell, Sir Richard; farewell, s Marian. „ I ii 285
Here's a pot o' wild honey from an old oak, saving your s reverences. „ II i 296
O s sir, talk not of cows. You anger the spirit. „ II i 329
All the s saints bless your worship for your alms to the old woman! „ II i 363 and if thou be as gentle Give me some news of my s Marian. Where is she? Marian. Thy s Marian? „ II i 481
Stay with us here, s love, „ II ii 14
Those s tree-Cupids half-way up in heaven, „ III 35
Robin, the s light of a mother's eye, „ IV 2
On those s lips that dare to dally with it. „ IV 75
S Marian, by the letter of the law It seems thy father's land is forfeited. „ IV 638
S heavens, I could wish that all the land Were plunged „ IV 666
Kiss him, Sir Richard—kiss him, my s Marian. „ IV 1004
But thou art fair as ever, my s sister. „ IV 1018

Sweet'art (sweetheart) kissin' o' one another like two s's i' the poorch Prom. of May I 22 as long as the man sarved for 'is s i' Scriptur'. „ II 62
meä and my s was a workin' along o' one side wi' one another, „ II 152 telled me 'at s's niver worked well togither; and I telled 'im 'at s's allus worked best together; „ II 156
wheniver 'e sees two s's togither like thou and me, „ II 163 do thou and thy s sing us hoäm to supper— „ II 170 an' axed ma to be 'is little s, „ III 120

Sweeten Hast thou anything to s this? Foresters II i 294

Sweeter I had kept My Robins and my cows in s order Had I been such. Queen Mary III v 270
S than any violet of to-day, The Falcon 465

Sweetest This wild one—nay, I shall not prick myself—Is s. Becket II i 145
And then the s flower of all the wolds, Prom. of May III 751

Sweetheart (See also Sweet'art) How sayst thou, s? Becket IV ii 161
And your s—when are you and he to be married? Prom. of May III 110
Wilt thou embrace thy s 'fore my face? Foresters II ii 28
No, s! out of tune with Love and me. „ IV 30

Sweetness Lilylike in her stateliness and s! Prom. of May II 621

Swept We have had it s and garnish'd after him. Queen Mary III ii 138

Swiftness Upon the skill and s of the players. „ I iii 143

Swim Here's to him, sink or s! Thane. God sink him! Harold IV iii 134 our little Sheriff will ever s with the stream! Foresters I i 240
And I would s the moat, like an otter. „ I i 320

Swimming hardly, save by boat, s, or wings. Queen Mary II iii 13

Swindler but I taäkes 'im for a Lunnun s, and a burn fool. Prom. of May I 309

Swine These beastly s make such a grunting here, Queen Mary I iii 12
And get the s to shout Elizabeth. „ I iii 39 was not meet the heretic s should live In Lambeth. „ III ii 134
No, for we trust they parted in the s. „ III ii 143
the people stupid-sure Sleep like their s . . . Harold IV iii 217
S, sheep, ox—here's a French supper. Becket I iv 112
Swing (s) Two deaths at every s, ran in upon us Harold V i 409
Swing (verb) Here s's a Spaniard—there an Englishman ; Queen Mary V i 87
Which way soever the vane-arrow s, Harold II ii 257
Swirling river, black, slimy, s under me in the lamplight, Prom. of May III 370
Swoll'n s and fed With indraughts and side-currents, Queen Mary II i 232 Rogue, I have a s vein in my right leg, Foresters IV 568
Swoon (s) —not dead now—a s—a scene— Prom. of May III 696
Swoon (verb) being thwarted ever s's And weeps herself Becket V ii 213
Swoon'd He hath s ! Death ? . . . no, as yet a breath. Harold III i 318
My last sight ere I s was one sweet face The Falcon 647 had his draught of wine And then he s away. Foresters II ii 3
Swoop s down upon him Eagle-like, lightning-like— The Falcon 12
Swopt Fanny be the naäme i' the song, but I s it fur she. Prom. of May II 212
Sword Down scabbard, and out s ! Queen Mary II i 143
His s shall hew the heretic peoples down ! „ III ii 178
'I come not to bring peace but a s' ? The s Is in her Grace's hand to smite with. „ III iv 88
Into one s to hack at Spain and me. „ V i 138 they clapt their hands Upon their s's when ask'd ; „ V i 174 voice of any people is the s That guards them, or the s that beats them down. Harold II ii 135
s Of lightnings, wherewithal he cleft the tree „ III i 136 swaying his two-handed s about him, „ V i 407 sheathe your s's, ye will displease the King, Becket I iii 179
Did not your barons draw their s's against me ? „ I iii 502 than the s's of the craven sycophants „ I iv 147
Cross s's all of you ! swear to follow him ! „ I iv 199
Shall I smite him with the edge of the s ? „ I iv 224
Tho' all the s's in England flash'd above me „ V ii 484 score of knights all arm'd with s's and axes— „ V iii 71
Clashing of s's—three upon one, and that one our Robin ! Foresters II i 419
And never drewest s to help the old man „ II i 541
Seize on the knight ! wrench his s from him ! „ II i 676
Quick with thy s ! the yeoman braves the knight. „ II ii 30
Down with thy s ! She is my queen and thine, „ II ii 40
Robin fancied me a man, And drew his s upon me, „ III 21
Swore (See also Sware, Swear'd) William laugh'd and s that might was right, Harold II ii 362
King s to our cardinals He meant no harm Becket I iii 215 arms of her first love, Fitzurse, Who s to marry her. „ IV ii 336 since we likewise s to obey the customs, „ V i 54
Nay, she s it never Should leave her finger. Foresters II i 592
Sworn s this Spanish marriage shall not be. Queen Mary I iv 115
I have s upon the body and blood of Christ „ I v 214
Hath your Grace so s ? „ I v 217 Show him by whom he hath s. Harold II ii 733 thou hast s an oath Which, if not kept, „ II ii 737 for I have s Not to swear falsely twice. „ III i 310 noble Harold, I would thou couldst have s. „ III i 326
I would thou couldst have s. „ III i 333
—brother—I have not s— „ V i 122 thou hast s a voluntary allegiance to him ? Becket, Pro. 439
He hath s that thou shouldst sign, „ I iii 189
I evermore have s upon his side, „ II ii 465
God help her, That she was s to silence. „ III i 78
tho' I be s not to speak a word, I can tell you all about her, „ III i 204
s on this my cross a hundred times Never to leave him— „ IV ii 205 Ye have s Yourselves my men when I was Chancellor— „ V ii 501 on this cross I have s that till I myself pass away, Foresters I i 289
And Robin Hood hath s— „ III 236
I have s by our Lady if they come „ IV 96
Swung parson from his own spire s out dead, Queen Mary IV iii 375

Sycamore the knights are arming in the garden Beneath the s. Becket V ii 570
Sycophant than the swords of the craven s's „ I iv 148
Syllable And every s taught us by our Lord, Queen Mary IV iii 231 Symbol In s of their married unity, The Cup II 363 take and wear this s of your love ; Foresters III 79 or any other s of vacuity. „ IV 214 Symbol'd-symboll'd happily symboll'd by The King your husband, Queen Mary III ii 108 whether it symbol'd ruin Or glory, who shall tell ? Harold V i 110
Synorix (an ex-tetrarch) If S, who has dwelt three years in Rome The Cup I ii 175
What is S ? Sinnatus. Galatian, and not know ? „ I ii 180
This S Was Tetrarch here, and tyrant also— „ I ii 318
Thou art that S ! One whom thou hast wrong'd „ I ii 335 Return and tell them S is not here. What did that villain S say to you ? Camma. Is he—that—S ? „ I ii 450
S—His face was not malignant, „ I ii 450
Will she come to me Now that she knows me S ? „ I iii 21 that man from S, who has been So oft to see the Priestess, „ II 10
Since Camma fled from S to our Temple, „ II 14
You will not marry S ? „ II 27 and only Marry the dead. Priestess. Not s then ? „ II 31 messenger from S who waits Before the Temple ? „ II 37 Greeting and health from S ! (repeat) „ II 41, 131 mine own dagger driven by S found All good „ II 86
'S ! S !' Camma. S, S ! „ II 108 shout of S and Camma sitting Upon one throne, „ II 146
Call first upon the Goddess, S. „ II 256
Here is another sacred to the Goddess, The gift of S ; „ II 347
That S should drink from his own cup. „ II 353
This blessing is for S and for me. „ II 376
S, first King, Camma, first Queen o' the Realm, „ II 440

T

Taäen (taken) but I ha t good care to turn out boäth my darters right down fine laädies. Prom. of May I 335
Taäke (take) But I t's 'im fur a bad lot and a burn fool, „ I 153 but if she'd t to ma i' that waäy, or ony waäy, „ I 177 but I t's 'im fur a Lunnon swindler, and a burn fool. „ I 308
I t's it kindly of all o' you that you be coomed— „ I 318 an' I can t my glass wi' the youngest, „ I 360
I thinks I'd like to t the measure o' your foot. „ I 463
Will ya t 'em ? fur Miss Eva, „ II 17 and now she be gone, will ye t 'em, Miss Dora ? „ II 21 an' weänt ye t 'em now, Miss Dora, „ II 41
I would t the owd blind man to my oän fireside. „ II 74 p'raps ye hears 'at I soomtimes t's a drop too much ; „ II 108 fur she tell'd ma to t the cart to Littlechester. „ II 322
T one o' the young 'uns fust, Miss, „ III 31
I be ready to t the pledge. „ III 84
T me awaäy, little gell. It be one o' my bad daäys. „ III 464
Taäked (took) and I t 'im fur soom sort of a land-surveyor— „ I 204
Taäkin' (taking) theer be a thousand i' the parish, t in the women and childer ; „ I 146
I likes 'er all the better fur t me down, „ II 133
Taäter (potato) and the sacks, and the t's, and the mangles, „ I 453
Table look how the t steams, like a heathen altar ; Becket I iv 68 and the Lord hath prepared your t— „ I iv 131
And as for the flesh at t, a whole Peter's sheet, „ III iii 129
Taboo'd No pleasure then t : for when the tide Prom. of May I 591
Tabor Like Christ himself on T, Queen Mary III iv 201
Tabula rasa a blank page, a t r. Prom. of May II 282
Ta'en (taken) and they ha' t the body up inter your chaumber, „ II 569
Tail (adj.) for thou was born i' the t end of old Harry the Seventh. Queen Mary I i 42
Tail (s) I was born true man at five in the forenoon i' the t of old Harry, „ I i 46

Tail (s) (continued) that every Spaniard carries a t like a devil Queen Mary III i 223
They make amends for the t's. „ III i 227 tell you that all English heretics have t's. „ III i 230 wrath of Heaven hath three t's, The devil only one. Harold I i 61 always in suspense, like the t of the horologe— Becket II ii 366 hasn't an eye left in his own t to flourish The Falcon 102

Tailed See Stump-tailed

Taint I bring the t on it along wi' me, for the Archbishop likes it, Becket I iv 252

Tainted T with Lutheranism in Italy. Queen Mary III iv 227

Take (See also Taäke, Take care, Take heed, Tek)
Officers Are here in force to t you to the Tower. „ I ii 109 as the Earl of Devon To t my seat in ; „ I iv 74
To t such order with all heretics „ I v 34
Madam, t it bluntly ; marry Philip, „ I v 204
t And wear it as memorial of a morning „ I v 528 to t the guns From out the vessels lying in the river. „ II i 220
T thy poor gentleman ! „ II iii 93
There yet is time, t boat and pass to Windsor. „ II iv 27 heard She would not t a last farewell of him, „ III i 367
' Will you t it off Before I lay me down ? ' „ III i 401
To t this absolution from your lips, „ III ii 116
Statesmen that are wise T truth herself for model. „ III iii 37
Sheep at the gap which Gardiner t's, „ III iii 236
To t the lives of others that are loyal, „ III iv 48
it t's my breath : „ III v 189
I will t Such order with all bad, „ IV i 94
That I should spare to t a heretic priest's, „ IV i 131
My fancy t's the burner's part, „ IV ii 231
We are ready To t you to St. Mary's, Master Cranmer. „ IV ii 238
T therefore, all, example by this man, „ IV iii 59
there be two old gossips—gospellers, I t it ; „ IV iii 462
And tell me how she t's it. „ V i 261 and your Grace, So you will t advice of mine, „ V i 301
T it away ! not low enough for me ! „ V ii 377
But shall I t some message from your Grace ? „ V ii 597
I t it that the King hath spoken to you ; „ V iii 85
T thou this ring ; Harold I ii 58
For if the North t fire, I should be back ; „ I ii 67
So thou, fair friend, will t them easily, „ II ii 207
We seldom t man's life, except in war ; „ II ii 502
Men would but t him for the craftier liar. „ III i 114
t, sign it, Stigand, Aldred ! Sign it, „ III i 197
The Good Shepherd ! T this, and render that. „ III ii 170 but t back thy ring. It burns my hand— „ III ii 185
Ye t a stick, and break it ; „ IV i 57
This old Wulfnoth Would t me on his knees „ IV i 72
Yea, t the Sacrament upon it, king. „ IV i 183
I could t and slay thee. „ IV ii 7
T and slay me, For Edward loved me. „ IV ii 9
T and slay me, I say, Or I shall count thee fool. Harold. „ IV ii 14
T thee, or free thee, Free thee or slay thee, „ V i 300 where mine own self T's part against myself ! „ V ii 136
Thou art half English. T them away ! „ V ii 142
T them away, I do not love to see them. Becket, Pro. 93
Hell t thy bishop then, and my kingship too ! „ Pro. 127
Nay, then, I t thee at thy word— „ Pro. 161 chart here mark'd 'Her Bower,' T, keep it, friend. „ Pro. 181
We t her from her secret bower in Anjou „ Pro. 282
T thou mine answer in bare commonplace— „ Pro. 311 chart is not mine, but Becket's : t it, Thomas. „ Pro. 372
T it and wear it on that hard heart of yours— „ I i 227
To t the vagabond woman of the street Into thine arms ! „ I i 327
Herbert, t out a score of armed men „ I ii 56
we might t your side against the customs— „ I ii 72
And t the Church's danger on myself. „ I iii 242
T it not that way—balk not the Pope's will. „ I iii 390 since your canon will not let you t Life for a life, „ I iii 733
In peace now—but after. T that for earnest. „ II i 296
I brought not ev'n my crucifix. Henry. T this. „ II ii 260
And let another t his bishoprick ! „ II ii 263
I pray you come and t it. „ II ii 355
Nay, my lord, t heart ; „ IV i 26 a good fairy to thy mother. T me to her. „ IV i 33

Take (continued) shall sleep sound enough if thou wilt t me to her. Becket IV i 33
I pray you then to t my sleeping-draught ; „ IV ii 69
But if you should not care to t it— „ IV ii 71
You bad me t revenge another way— „ IV ii 152
T thy one chance ; Catch at the last straw. „ IV ii 220 to t a life which Henry bad me Guard „ IV ii 268
T up your dagger ; put it in the sheath. „ IV ii 293
To t my life might lose him Aquitaine. „ IV ii 396
T care o' thyself, O King. „ V i 66
Summon your barons ; t their counsel : „ V i 75
If God would t him in some sudden way— „ V i 93 a man may t good counsel Ev'n from his foe. „ V ii 3
T refuge in your own cathedral, (repeat) Becket V ii 583, 590
T thou this letter and this cup to Camma, The Cup I i 61
T thou this cup and leave it at her doors. „ I i 67
While you can t your pastime in the woods. „ I i 190
And t a hunter's vengeance on the meats. „ I ii 43 paper sign'd Antonius—will you t it, read it ? „ I ii 226
t this holy cup To lodge it in the shrine of Artemis. „ I ii 434 lark first t's the sunlight on his wing, „ I iii 43 that I was bold enough To t it down, The Falcon 429
You can t it, nurse ! Elisabetta. I did t it, „ 489 will you t the word out of your master's own mouth ?
Filippo. Was it there to t ? Put it there, my lord. „ 597
T's nothing in return from you except „ 716
Then I require you to t back your diamonds— „ 720
Cannot he t his pastime like the flies ? Prom. of May I 277
Altho' at first he t his bonds for flowers, „ I 645
I t them, then, for Eva's sake. „ II 29
t to the milking of your cows, the fatting of your calves, „ II 91 but I T some delight in sketching, „ II 539 you, I doubt not, Would t to them as kindly, „ II 548
T them, dear. Say that the sick lady thanks him ! „ III 348
T it again, dear father, be not wroth Foresters I i 341
Not in this hut I t it. „ II i 205
T thou mine arm. Who art thou, gallant knight ? „ II i 439
T him, good Little John, and give him wine. „ II i 469
—t and use your moment, while you may. „ II i 476
And t and wear this symbol of your love ; „ III 79
T thou this light kiss for thy clumsy word. „ III 134
T all they have and give it to thyself ! „ III 171
T his penny and leave him his gold mark. „ III 217
T thou my bow and arrow and compel them to pay toll. „ III 262
t the twenty-seven marks to the captain's treasury. „ III 294
Maid ? Friar. Paramour ! Friar. Hell t her ! „ III 403
The flower said 'T it, my dear, „ IV 16
T him and try him, friar. „ IV 268
Robin t's From whom he knows are hypocrites „ IV 379
T the left leg for the love of God. „ IV 577
T up the litter ! „ IV 597
I will t the rope from off thy waist „ IV 686

Take care T c, t c ! I dance—I will dance— „ IV 585

Take heed And so t h I pray you— Queen Mary I iv 273
So thou and thine must be. T h ! „ III ii 232
T h, t h ! The blade is keen as death. „ V v 174
T h, t h ; Thou art the Queen ; Harold I i 453
My lord— Malet. T h now. „ II ii 641
T h, lest he destroy thee utterly. Becket I iii 13
T h he do not turn and rend you too : „ II ii 160
T h, t h ! in Nottingham they say There bides Foresters II i 201

Taken (See also Taäen, Ta'en, Tuk) Hath t to this Courtenay. Queen Mary I iv 201
it is thought the Duke will be t. „ II i 136
Is Peter Carew fled ? Is the Duke t ? „ II i 142 there by Sir Maurice Berkeley Was t prisoner. „ II iv 96
Hath t Scarboro' Castle, north of York ; „ V i 287
Is Calais t ? „ V ii 27 sharper harm to England and to Rome, Than Calais t. „ V ii 30
Madam, Calais is t. „ V ii 242
Guisnes is not t yet ? (repeat) „ V ii 277
T the rifted pillars of the wood Harold I ii 100
They have t away the toy thou gavest me, „ II ii 105
They have t York. „ III ii 171

Taken (continued) York t? Gurth. Yea, Tostig hath t York! Harold III ii 174
Brother of France, you have t, cherish'd him Becket II ii 154
Ay, but he's t the rain with him. „ III i 273 gone to the King And t our anathema with him. „ V ii 8
You should have t counsel with your friends „ V ii 555
My counsel is already t, John. „ V ii 560 and was much t with you, my dear. Eva. T with me; Prom. of May III 263 the boy was t prisoner by the Moors. Foresters I i 60 were I t They would prick out my sight. „ II i 71
Sheriff had t all our goods for the King without paying, „ II i 190
Taker if giver And t be but honest! Harold I i 346
Taking (See also Taäkin') thou wast not happy t charge Of this wild Rosamund Becket I i 391 that t The Fiend's advantage of a throne, „ II i 151
Well—I shall serve Galatia t it, The Cup I i 100 made me A Quietist t all things easily. Prom. of May I 232
A Quietist t all things easily— „ I 290
Talbot Where, knave, where? Man. Sign of the T. Queen Mary III i 319 Tale (See also Nursery-tale) And love to hear bad t's of Philip. „ V ii 429 tell me t's Of Alfred and of Athelstan the Great Harold IV i 73
This is the likelier t. We have hit the place. Becket III ii 42 tell him my t's, Sing him my songs? The Falcon 796
And cheer his blindness with a traveller's t's? Prom. of May II 516
Talent like the man In Holy Writ, who brought his t back; Foresters IV 981
Talk (s) when there rose a t of the late rebellion, Queen Mary I i 92
I am somewhat faint With our long t. „ I v 521
—he is free enough in t, But tells me nothing. „ III ii 193
Touch him upon his old heretical t, „ III iv 352
Nor let Priests' t, or dream of worlds to be, „ V v 217
More t of this to-morrow, if yon weird sign Harold I i 120
Unwholesome t For Godwin's house! „ I i 390
I leave thee to thy t with him alone; „ II ii 324
I dare not well be seen in t with thee. „ II ii 482
Ha, Becket! thou rememberest our t! Becket, Pro. 405
The king, the crown! their t in Rome? The Cup I i 99
That must be t, not truth, but truth or t, The Falcon 232
Come, come, my girl, enough Of this strange t. Prom. of May III 620
Talk (verb) when your Highness t's of Courtenay— Queen Mary I v 198
Why do they t so foully of your Prince, „ I v 425
We t and t. Member. Ay, and what use to t? „ III iii 39
We t and Cranmer suffers. „ IV iii 420
I warrant you they t about the burning. „ IV iii 463
You t almost as if it Might be the last. The Cup I ii 422
Tut! you t Old feudalism. Prom. of May I 669 we'd as lief t o' the Divil afoor ye as 'im, „ III 130
t a little French like a lady; „ III 302 then what is it That makes you t so dolefully? „ III 572 Go with him. I will t with thee anon. Foresters II i 132
O sweet sir, t not of cows. „ II i 329
Elf, with spiteful heart and eye, T of jealousy? „ II ii 173
Talked They've almost t me into it: Queen Mary I iv 7
When last we t, that Philip would not come „ II iv 135
Have t together, and are well agreed „ III iv 6
I t with her in vain—says she will live „ III vi 44
Council (I have t with some already) are for war. „ V i 295
I have often t with Wulfnoth, Harold II ii 88 for the king Is holy, and hath t with God, „ III i 355
Hath Henry told thee? hast thou t with him? Becket I iii 258
I could have t him out of His ten wives into one. „ IV ii 311
Talkin' she'd niver 'a been t haäfe an hour wi' the divil 'at killed her oän sister, Prom. of May II 603
Talking (See also A-talkin', Talkin') what's the good of my t to myself, Becket III i 152
There is the King t with Walter Map? „ III iii 22 to seize On whomsoever may be t with you, The Cup I iii 7
Tall I would I were as t and strong as you. Lady Magdalen. I seem half-shamed at times to be so t. Queen Mary V ii 422
Make blush the maiden-white of our t cliffs, Harold II ii 332
So t and bold as they be. Foresters II i 8
I can bring down Fourscore t fellows on thee. „ IV 177

Tall (continued) Good, now I love thee mightily, thou t fellow. Foresters IV 322
Tame (adj.) And break your paces in, and make you t; Queen Mary V iii 122
Tame (verb) King hath many more wolves than he can t Becket III iii 322
Tamer but the plots against him Had madden'd t men. Harold IV i 112
Tamper'd Wyatt, who hath t with A public ignorance, Queen Mary II ii 180
Tamperer Or t's with that treason out of Kent. „ II ii 11
Tan The t of southern summers and the beard? Prom. of May II 617
Tann'd Thou art t almost beyond my knowing, brother. Foresters IV 1015
Tanner and cried 'Work for the t.' Harold II ii 385
William the t's bastard! „ II ii 775
The t's bastard! „ IV iii 173
Tap (s) may give that egg-bald head The t that silences. „ V i 92
Tap (verb) Do me the service to t it, and thou wilt know. Friar Tuck. I would t myself in thy service, Robin. Foresters III 333
Tare burn the t's with unquenchable fire! Queen Mary V v 114
Target and make thine old carcase a t for us three. Foresters II i 404
Tarquin (II., the seventh and last King of Rome) violence to a woman, As Rome did T. The Cup I i 140
I here return like T—for a crown. Antonius. And may be foil'd like T, if you follow „ I i 142
Tarry Methinks that would you t one day more Queen Mary III vi 232
Task it is thou Hath set me this hard t, The Falcon 237
Taste by the hand o' God avore a could t a mossel, Queen Mary IV iii 517
Not t his venison first? Foresters IV 343
Tasted scarce touch'd or t The splendours of our Court. Harold II ii 174
This Almoner hath t Henry's gold. Becket I iii 294
Tatter'd Our holy mother Canterbury, who sits With t robes. „ I i 157
Taught (See also Larned) the old priests t me nothing. Queen Mary II iii 58
And every syllable t us by our Lord, „ IV iii 231 thou hast t the king to spoil him too; Harold I i 451 then I t him all our hawking-phrases. The Falcon 314
T her the learned names, anatomized Prom. of May II 302 for you have t me To love you. „ III 557
Tawny The t squirrel vaulting thro' the boughs, Foresters I iii 117
Tax They will not lay more t'es on a land Queen Mary V i 167
Taxing See Over-taxing
Tea Owd Steer gi'es nubbut cowd t to 'is men, Prom. of May II 224
But I'd like owd Steer's cowd t better nor Dobson's beer. „ II 227 worked at all the worse upon the cold t than you would have done upon the beer? „ III 56
we worked naw wuss upo' the cowd t; „ III 59
Teach (See also Larn) we will t Queen Mary how to reign. Queen Mary II i 147 if this pass, We two shall have to t him; „ III iv 422 and our Latimer-sailors Will t her something. „ IV iii 350 he and I Might t this Rome— The Cup II 96
Tear (s) (See also Woman-tears) Spite of her t's her father forced it on her. Queen Mary I v 495 those hard men brake into woman t's, Ev'n Gardiner, „ I v 565
Queen hath been three days in t's „ III vi 13
See how the t's run down his fatherly face. „ IV iii 3
The Queen in t's! „ V i 223 cries continually with sweat and t's to the Lord God „ V iv 45
And blotted by her t's. This cannot last. „ V v 17
My prayers go up as fast as my t's fall, Harold III i 166
Vying a t with our cold dews, „ V i 150
My heart is full of t's—I have no answer. Becket, Pro. 406
My lord, we leave thee not without t's. Becket. T's? Why not stay with me then? „ I iv 17 many midriff-shaken even to t's, as springs gush out after earthquakes— „ III iii 162 old affection master'd you, You falter'd into t's. „ V ii 145
True t's that year were shed for you in Florence. The Falcon 384
I hate t's. Marriage is but an old tradition. Prom. of May I 490
Bid their old bond farewell with smiles, not t's; „ I 525
That desolate letter, blotted with her t's, „ II 476 should walk hand in hand together down this valley of t's, „ III 192
T's! I have sometimes been moved to t's „ III 207

Tear (s) (continued) but what have I to do with t's now? Prom. of May III 210
And ever a t down ran. Foresters I i 19
Tear (verb) From thine own mouth I judge thee—t him down! Queen Mary I iii 54
T up that woman's work there. „ II i 75
And t you piecemeal: so you have a guard. „ IV ii 36
I never read, I t them; „ V ii 188
T out his tongue. Officer. He shall not rail again. Harold II ii 487
T out his eyes, And plunge him into prison. „ II ii 491
Say that he blind thee and t out thy tongue. Becket I iii 615
I could t him asunder with wild horses „ II i 266 score of wolf-dogs are let loose that will t thee piecemeal. „ III ii 39 ready To t himself for having said as much. „ IV ii 279 shall not I, the Queen, T out her heart— „ IV ii 409
I t it all to pieces, never dream'd Of acting on it. The Cup I ii 247
I t away The leaves were darken'd by the battle— The Falcon 912
Towser'll t him all to pieces. Prom. of May I 423 Down with him, t his coat from his back. Foresters I iii 73
if they come I will not t the bond, „ IV 98
Te Deum See Deum
Tek (take) but t thou my word vor't, Joan,— Queen Mary IV iii 533
Tekel Mene, Mene, T! Is thy wrath Hell, Harold V i 36
Tell might be forgiven. I t you, fly, my Lord. Queen Mary I ii 43
I charge you, T Courtenay nothing. „ I iv 191
t your Grace What Lady Jane replied. „ I v 49 Come you to t me this, my Lord? „ I v 106
t me, did you ever Sigh for a beard? „ I v 607
Bad me to t you that she counts on you „ II ii 104
To t you what indeed ye see and know, „ II ii 144 cannot t How mothers love their children; „ II ii 189
Their voice had left me none to t you this. „ II iii 36
I cannot t you why they call him so. „ III i 204 will t you that all English heretics have tails. „ III i 229
T him to paint it out, „ III i 267 doubtless you can t me how she died? „ III i 356
Good news have I to t you, news to make „ III ii 186 he is free enough in talk, But t's me nothing. „ III ii 194
And t this learned Legate he lacks zeal. „ III iv 272 mad bite Must have the cautery—t him— „ III iv 276
I cannot t you, His bearing is so courtly-delicate; „ III iv 396
For one day more, so far as I can t. „ III vi 246
Ay, t us that. „ IV iii 23
More grievously than any tongue can t. „ IV iii 125
Or sign'd all those they t us that he sign'd? „ IV iii 320 Pole Will t you that the devil helpt them thro' it. „ IV iii 352 and t's un ez the vire has tuk holt. „ IV iii 511
T me that, or leave All else untold. „ IV iii 568
Then t me all. Paget. Ay Master Peters, t us. „ IV iii 572
Sir Nicholas t's you true, „ V i 16
And t me how she takes it. „ V i 261
T my mind to the Council—to the Parliament: „ V ii 288
T, t me; save my credit with myself. „ V ii 452
I might dare to t her that the Count— „ V ii 523
And t him that I know he comes no more. T him at last I know his love is dead, „ V ii 589
T her to come and close my dying eyes, „ V ii 599
t the King that I will muse upon it; „ V iii 89
Have you aught else to t me? „ V iii 100 t's me I must not think—That I must rest— „ V v 62 Sit down here: T me thine happiest hour. „ V v 79
t the cooks to close The doors of all the offices below. „ V v 116
But t us, is this pendent hell in heaven Harold I i 76
he may t thee, I am a harm to England. „ I i 79
I may t thee, Tostig, I heard from thy Northumberland „ I i 349 and t him That where he was but worsted, „ I i 448
I t thee what, my child; Thou hast misread „ I ii 96
T him what hath crept into our creel, „ II i 56
Fly thou to William; t him we have Harold. „ II i 110
I'll t them I have had my way with thee. „ II ii 118
I cannot t. I have the Count's commands. „ II ii 238
Speak for thy mother's sake, and t me true. „ II ii 272
O son, when thou didst t me of thine oath, „ III i 267 and t me tales Of Alfred and of Athelstan „ IV i 72
Is there so great a need to t thee why? „ IV iii 40

Tell (continued) My nurse would t me of a molehill Harold IV iii 128
T him the Saints are nobler than he dreams, T him that God is nobler than the Saints, And t him we stand arm'd on Senlac Hill, „ V i 55 whether it symbol'd ruin Or glory, who shall t? „ V i 111
T that again to all. Gurth. I will, good brother. „ V i 198
To t thee thou shouldst win at Stamford-bridge, „ V i 236
To t thee thou shalt die on Senlac hill— „ V i 241
I t thee, girl, I am seeking my dead Harold. „ V ii 42 and sent against him—who can t?— „ V ii 170 which cannot t A good dish from a bad, Becket, Pro. 105
Then t me who and what she is. „ I i 208
Back, man, I t thee! „ I i 218
He found me once alone. Nay—nay—I cannot T you: „ I i 276
To t the King, my friend, I am against him. „ I i 343
And I can t you, lords, ye are all as like „ I iii 174
T what I say to the King. „ I iii 564
T the King I spent thrice that in fortifying „ I iii 631
I would be true—would t thee all— „ II i 205
Bird mustn't t, Whoop—he can see. (repeat) „ III i 106, 255 you shall t me of her some other time. Margery. There's none so much to t on her, my lady, „ III i 190 tho' I be sworn not to speak a word, I can t you all about her, „ III i 205 stay, fool, and t me why thou fliest. „ III ii 34
Who is he? Geoffrey. Can't t. „ IV i 17
Can't t. But I heard say he had had a stroke, „ IV i 53
Henry—Becket t's him this—To take my life „ IV ii 394
Did she not t me I was playing on her? „ IV ii 399
I cannot t why monks should all be cowards. „ V ii 581
No, I t you! I cannot bear a hand „ V iii 19
I t thee, my good fellow, My arrow struck the stag. The Cup I ii 26 as you t me Tetrarch, there might be willing wives „ I ii 186
I dare not t him how I came to know it; „ I ii 275
Still—I should t My husband. „ I ii 303
Then do not t him. Or t him, if you will, „ I ii 309
Return and t them Synorix is not here. „ I ii 335
T him there is one shadow among the shadows, „ II 139
t him That I accept the diadem of Galatia— „ II 157
I wait him his crown'd queen. Noble. So will I t him. „ II 162
t the Senate I have been most true to Rome— „ II 481 and t her all about it and make her happy? The Falcon 183
I can t you True tears that year were shed „ 383
Well, T me the words—or better— „ 451
I can t you, my lady, I can t you. „ 595
I cannot t how long we strove before „ 637
t him my tales, Sing him my songs? „ 795
How shall I break it to him? how shall I t him? „ 849
I can't t, for I have never seen him. Prom. of May I 115
Will he? How can I t? „ I 120
And I t's ye what, Miss Dora: he's no respect for the Queen, „ I 131
I forgot to t you He wishes you to dine along with us, „ I 616
And when will you return? Edgar. I cannot t precisely; „ I 628
But you shall t me all about it. „ I 785
They t me that yesterday you mentioned „ II 22
I t you, it cannot be. „ II 113
Do ye think I be gawin' to t it to you, „ II 190
Why, coom then, owd feller, I'll t it to you; „ II 202
Who can t What golden hours, „ II 508 but if you Can t me anything of our sweet Eva „ II 520
I cannot t, tho' standing in her presence. „ II 557 they t me that you—and you have six children— „ III 76
You t me you have a lover. „ III 255
he t's me that he met you once in the old times, „ III 262
I dare not t him how much I love him. „ III 287
Shall I t her he is dead? No; She is still too feeble. „ III 337
T him I cannot leave the sick lady just yet. „ III 352 says he wants to t ye summut very partic'lar. „ III 355
T him that I and the lady here wish to see him. „ III 414
T him, then, that I'm waiting for him. „ III 483
Did you not t me he was crazed with jealousy, „ III 565
I can t you, We Steers are of old blood, „ III 603
T them to fly for a doctor. „ III 712

Tell (continued) I cannot t; but I came to give thee Foresters I i 131
I cannot t, but I had sooner have given „ I i 137
I cannot t. Manners be so corrupt, „ I i 176
Give me thy hand and t him— „ I ii 241
I heard this Sheriff t her he would pay „ I iii 5
T me, t me of her. „ II i 103
Did I not t you an old woman could shoot better? „ II i 406
I t thee, in some sort. „ II i 531
These be the lies the people t of us, „ III 392
when will that be? canst thou t? „ IV 421

Telled (told) and 'e t all on us to be i' the long barn by one o'clock, Prom. of May I 7 he niver mended that gap i' the glebe fence as I t 'im; „ I 447
he t me 'at sweet'arts niver worked well togither; and I t 'im 'at sweet'arts allus worked best togither; „ II 155
I t tha to let ma aloän! „ II 229 fur she t ma to taäke the cart to Littlechester. „ II 322 as I t 'er to-daäy when she fell foul upo' me. „ II 581
She t me once not to meddle wi' 'im, „ II 599
I knaw'd 'im when I seed 'im ageän an I t feyther on 'im. „ III 122 but us three, arter Sally'd t us on 'im, „ III 134
Mr. Dobson t me to saäy he's browt „ III 346
'at I t 'em to gallop 'im. „ III 432

Telling (part.) (See also A-telling) What was my Lord of Devon t you? Queen Mary I iv 183
I have been t her of the death of one Philip Edgar Prom. of May II 705

Telling (s) Some spice of wisdom in my t you, Queen Mary II iv 134
Ay, since you hate the t it. „ III i 89

Temper Thou hast lost thine even t, brother Harold! Harold V i 95 but you turn right ugly when you're in an ill t; Prom. of May I 160

Tempest To raise that t which will set it trembling Becket, Pro. 208

Templars Becket, I am the oldest of the T; „ I iii 248
I am the youngest of the T, „ I iii 261

Temple (adj.) In the gray dawn before the T doors. The Cup I ii 295
She—close the T door. Let her not fly. „ II 460

Temple (s) hath begun to re-edify the true t— Queen Mary I iii 59
For London had a t and a priest When Canterbury Becket I iii 59
The pagan t of a pagan Rome! „ I iii 61
Among her maidens to this T— The Cup I i 10 beheld you afar off worshipping in her T, „ I i 40 house of Sinnatus—Close to the T. „ I i 53
'tis but a step from here To the T. „ I ii 444
These Romans dare not violate the T. „ I iii 63
I have it in my heart—to the T—fly— „ I iii 111
The women of the T drag her in. „ I iii 118 waits once more Before the T. „ II 12
Since Camma fled from Synorix to our T, „ II 15 messenger from Synorix who waits Before the T? „ II 38
And where? Messenger. Here by your t. „ II 77
This violence ill becomes The silence of our T. „ II 216
Welcome, my lord Antonius, to our T. „ II 253
I call on our own Goddess in our own T. „ II 315
It is the cup belonging our own T. „ II 345
Beside this t half a year ago? „ II 393

Temple Bar and the traitor flying To T B, Queen Mary II iv 94

Temporal We, the Lords Spiritual and T, „ III iii 113

Temporize Call it to t: and not to lie; Harold II ii 415

Tempt May she not t me, being at my side, To question her? Becket III i 216

Tempted ever Be t into doing what might seem Prom. of May III 554

Ten but t thousand men on Penenden Heath all calling after your worship, Queen Mary II i 60
Say for t thousand t—and pothouse knaves, „ II i 69
And strong to throw t Wyatts and all Kent. „ II ii 353
T miles about. Wyatt. Ev'n so. „ II iii 49
Ay! tho' it were t Englands! „ III iv 57 and I bean't wrong not twice i' t year— „ IV iii 534
There is no king, not were he t times king, T times our husband, „ V i 62
And I ha' nine darters i' the spital that be dead t times o'er i' one day Becket I iv 250
I could have talk'd him out of His t wives into one. „ IV ii 313
Alas, t summers! The Falcon 348 this faded ribbon was the mode In Florence t years back. „ 423

Ten (continued) Spite of t thousand brothers, Federigo. The Falcon 898
What be he a-doing here t mile an' moor fro' a raäil? Prom. of May I 209 you have robb'd poor father Of t good apples. „ I 616 they have each t marks in gold. Foresters III 292

Ten-aäcre (acre) I ha' plowed the t-a—it be mine now —afoor ony o' ye wur burn—ye all knaws the t-a— Prom. of May I 365

Tenant shall excommunicate My t's or my household. Becket, Pro. 32
Wasted our diocese, outraged our t's, „ V ii 431
After my frolic with his t's girl, Prom. of May I 493

Tendance in a closed room, with light, fire, physic, t; Queen Mary V iv 37

Tender Father, I am so t to all hardness! Becket I i 315
The father's eye was so t it would have called a goose off the green, „ III iii 102
I am t enough. Why do you practise on me? The Cup I ii 237

Tenderness with what a t He loved my son. Becket V i 20
She had a t toward me, Foresters I i 115

Tenebris Surgas e t, Sis vindicator! Harold V i 571

Tenfold t, than this fearful child can do; „ I ii 143
False to himself, but t-f false to me! Becket I iii 472
Sir, you are t more a gentleman, Prom. of May III 742 larger life hereafter, more T than under roof. Foresters II i 70

Term with hot t's Of Satan, liars, Queen Mary I ii 94
call it by that new t Brought from the sacred East, Foresters IV 704

Territory Large lordship there of lands and t. Harold II ii 83

Test (s) True t of coward, ye follow with a yell. Becket I iii 745

Test (verb) Their 'dies Illa,' which will t their sect. Queen Mary III iv 428 worthy Bonner,—To t their sect. „ III iv 431 yet it is a day to t your health „ IV ii 117

Testament in the T's, Both Old and New. „ IV iii 232

Testy It is the heat and narrowness of the cage That makes the captive t; „ III v 208

Tetrarch married Since—married Sinnatus, the T The Cup I i 16
'To the admired Camma, wife of Sinnatus, the T, „ I i 37
And you a Prince and T in this province— „ I ii 89
This Synorix Was T here, and tyrant also— „ I ii 183 being as you tell me T, there might be willing wives „ I ii 187 being T once His own true people cast him „ I ii 349

Tetrarchy when I was flying from My T to Rome. „ I i 7
I shall have my t restored By Rome, „ I i 20
Our Senate, wearied of their tetrarchies, „ I i 89

Tew (worry) and he wur in a t about it all the mumin'; Prom. of May I 18

Text by Heaven, The t—Your Highness knows it, Queen Mary I v 451 Traced in the blackest t of Hell—'Thou shalt!' „ III i 426
It's the old Scripture t, 'Let us eat and drink, Prom. of May I 258

Thames I'll have the drawbridge hewn into the T, Queen Mary II ii 377
Upon their lake of Garda, fire the T; „ III ii 24
It glares in heaven, it flares upon the T, Harold I i 30

Thane Morcar and Edwin have stirr'd up the T's „ II ii 289
Hath massacred the T that was his guest, „ II ii 297
Earls and T's! Full thanks for your fair greeting „ IV iii 45
Earls, T's, and all our countrymen! „ IV iii 48

Thank I t my God it is too late to fly. Queen Mary I ii 112
I t God, I have lived a virgin, „ II ii 216
We t your Lordship and your loyal city. „ II ii 300
I t you heartily, sir, „ III v 176
I came to t her Majesty For freeing „ III vi 5
Or seek to rescue me. I t the Council. „ IV ii 39
Hand it me, then! I t you. „ IV ii 45
T the Lord therevore. (repeat) Queen Mary IV iii 496, 520, 529
T the Saints, no! Harold I i 318
I t thee, Rolf. „ II i 54
I t thee, but had rather Breathe the free wind „ II ii 184
I t thee now for having saved thyself. „ II ii 653
T thee, father! Thou art English, „ III i 27
I t you, sons; when kings but hold by crowns, Becket II ii 280 into thy mouth hadst thou but opened it to t him. „ III iii 277
He is not here—Not yet, t heaven. O save him! „ V iii 17
I t you from my heart. The Cup I ii 211
However I t thee; thou hast saved my life. „ I ii 331
I t thee, Camma,—I t thee. (repeat) „ II 331, 355
Who touch'd me then? I t you. „ II 532
I t thee, good Filippo. The Falcon 553

Thank (continued) I t you, my good nurse. The Falcon 559
I t you heartily for that—and you, ,, 801
My lord, we t you for your entertainment. ,, 859 scarce Will t me for your entertainment now. ,, 882
T you. Look how full of rosy blossom it is. Prom. of May I 83
I t you for that, Miss Dora, onyhow. ,, I 157
saäme to you, Master Steer, likewise. Steer. T ye. ,, I 348
I t you. They tell me that yesterday ,, II 22 if the fever spread, the parish will have to t you for it. ,, III 47
But I t's ye all the saäme, Miss. ,, III 50
All right, Miss; and t ye kindly. ,, III 66
An' I t's ye fur that, Miss, moor nor fur the waäge. ,, III 116
Say that the sick lady t's him! ,, III 349
I t you, my lady, and I wish you Foresters I i 307
We t you, and farewell. ,, I ii 248
Comrades, I t you for your loyalty, ,, III 78
I t thee. Marian. Scarlet told me— ,, III 144
I t you, my lord. ,, III 213
I t you, noble sir, the very blossom Of bandits. Curtsey to him, wife, and t him. Wife. I t you, noble sir, and will pray for you ,, III 246
There is our bond. Robin. I t thee. ,, IV 436
Here is my father's bond. Robin. I t thee, dear. ,, IV 464
I t thee, good Sir Richard. ,, IV 858

Thank'd She t her father sweetly for his book Queen Mary V v 236

Thankful And shalt be t if I leave thee that. ,, III i 257

Thankless Were but a t policy in the crown, ,, III iv 51
I know it, son; I am not t: Harold I i 216

Thanks I am all t To God and to your Grace: Queen Mary I v 185 beseech Your Highness to accept our lowliest t ,, II ii 132
T, Sir Thomas, we be beholden to you, ,, II iii 120
Loyal and royal cousin, humblest t. ,, III ii 4
Can render t in fruit for being sown, ,, III iii 198
Madam, my t. ,, V i 184
T, truthful Earl; I did not doubt thy word, Harold II ii 723
Full t for your fair greeting of my bride! ,, IV iii 46
T, Gurth! The simple, silent, selfless man ,, V i 80
Our humblest t for your blessing. Becket I iv 42
t of Holy Church are due to those That went ,, II ii 190
T to the blessed Magdalen, whose day it is. ,, III iii 171
T in this life, and in the life to come. ,, V ii 161
I owe you t for ever. The Cup I ii 249
My t. But, look, how wasteful of the blossom Prom. of May I 611
Yeäs; and t to ye. ,, III 26
T, my lady—inasmuch as I am a true believer Foresters I i 161
All t for all your service; ,, I iii 164

Thaw and those bleak manners t, Queen Mary III ii 161 cold corners of the King's mouth began to t, Becket III iii 154

Thaw (though) t 'e knaws I was hallus ageän heving schoolmaster i' the parish! Prom. of May I 185 fur t I may ha' fallen out wi' ye sometimes, ,, I 324 and, t I says it mysen, niver men 'ed a better master— ,, I 326
I be a gentleman, t I beänt naw scholard, ,, I 332 fur t I be heighty this very daäy, ,, I 358
But, Steer, t thou be haäle anew I seed tha a-limpin' up just now ,, I 383
Churchwarden be a coomin', t me and 'im we niver 'grees about the tithe; and Parson mebbe, t he niver mended that gap i' the glebe fence as I telled 'im; and Blacksmith, t he niver shoes a herse to my likings; and Baäker, t I sticks to hoäm-maäde— ,, I 443
Noä—yeas—t the feller's gone and maäde such a litter of his faäce. ,, II 588 noä—t they hanged ma at 'Size fur it. ,, II 697

Themselves See Thessens

Theobald (Archbishop of Canterbury) So then our good Archbishop T Lies dying. Becket, Pro. 2 thou didst help me to my throne In T's time, ,, Pro. 202 when I was of T's household, once— ,, I i 59
I served our T well when I was with him; ,, I i 142
I and thou were youths in T's house, ,, I iii 40
Exile me from the face of T. ,, I iii 43
Even when you both were boys at T's. ,, V i 11

Therevore (therefore) Thank the Lord t. (repeat) Queen Mary IV iii 496, 520, 529

Therewithin To still the petty treason t, Queen Mary III i 13

Thessens (themselves) Foälks doesn't hallus knaw t; Prom. of May I 29

Thick (adj.) on his neck a collar, Gold, t with diamonds; Queen Mary III i 80
And here's a crowd as t as herring-shoals. ,, III i 182 till he stoop'd and gather'd one From out a bed of t forget-me-nots, ,, V v 94
The people are as t as bees below, Harold I i 31
And wattled t with ash and willow-wands; ,, V i 190
My sight is eagle, but the strife so t— ,, V i 627
The King's 'God's eyes!' come now so t and fast, Becket I iii 610

Thick (s) I left him somewhere in the t of it. Queen Mary II iv 81

Thicken doth not the living skin t against perpetual whippings? Becket III iii 316

Thicket Seen in the t at the bottom there The Cup I i 113

Thief Gentleman! a t! Go hang him. Queen Mary II iii 75 when the t is ev'n within the walls, ,, III iv 311
Thou shalt receive the penitent t's award, ,, IV iii 86
And, like a t, push'd in his royal hand; ,, V ii 466
When thieves fall out, honest men— Becket I iv 113
Is the Archbishop a t who gives thee thy supper? ,, I iv 116
When honest men fall out, thieves— ,, I iv 119 Absolve the left-hand t and damn the right? ,, II ii 392 like a t at night when he hears a door open ,, III iii 97
I laäme't my knee last night running arter a t. Prom. of May I 387
I runned arter t i' the dark, ,, I 402
I am a t, ay, and a king of thieves. Foresters II i 53
By a t. Sheriff. Who, woman, who? ,, II i 317
Softly! softly! there may be a t in every bush. ,, II i 368 thou art disguised—thou art one of the thieves. ,, II i 411
It is the very captain of the thieves! ,, II i 413
These friars, thieves, and liars, Shall drink ,, III 312 yells of t And rogue and liar echo down in Hell, ,, III 323
Well, well, be it so, thou strongest t of all, ,, III 327
But Robin is a t of courtesy ,, IV 370
There—to be a t of courtesy— ,, IV 373
my liege, these men are outlaws, thieves, ,, IV 906

Thief-like Who t-l fled from his own church by night, Becket II ii 156

Thimble and can make Five quarts pass into a t. Foresters IV 283

Thimbleful I am misty with my t of ale. ,, IV 278

Thin He! too t, too t. Becket, Pro. 261
Ay, child; and you look t and pale. Prom. of May I 781 that wur sa long back, and the walls sa t, ,, III 72
It is but t and cold, Not like the vintage The Falcon 578

Thing There is but one t against them. Queen Mary I i 101 but all t's here At court are known; ,, I iv 56
I must needs wish all good t's for France. ,, I v 309
the t Was no such scarecrow in your father's time. ,, I v 472 Few t's have fail'd to which I set my will. ,, II ii 22 were to do Great t's, my Lord. ,, II ii 390 smash all our bits o' t's worse than Philip o' Spain. ,, II iii 104
These are the t's that madden her. Fie upon it! ,, III ii 221
By bonds of beeswax, like your creeping t; ,, III iii 63
Nor yet to question t's already done; ,, III iii 189
Ringdoves coo again, All t's woo again. ,, III v 104 all t's lived and ended honestly. ,, III v 115
Fancy-sick; these t's are done, ,, IV iii 453
Pwoaps be pretty t's, Joan, ,, IV iii 469
I do know ez Pwoaps and vires be bad t's; ,, IV iii 501 other t's As idle; a weak Wyatt! ,, V i 291
Let dead t's rest. ,, V ii 506 the one King, the Christ, and all t's in common, ,, V iv 54
And done such mighty t's by Holy Church, ,, V v 74
What is the strange t happiness? ,, V v 77 dream of worlds to be, Miscolour t's about her— ,, V v 219 worst that follows T's that seem jerk'd Harold I i 137 thou be a wild t Out of the waste, ,, I i 380 where they were lost, Where all good t's are lost, ,, III ii 28
I hate myself for all t's that I do. ,, IV ii 45
He means the t he says. See him out safe! ,, V i 84
They say that you are wise in winged t's, Becket I i 256 like Egypt's plague, had fill'd All t's with blood; ,, I iii 346 have I Not heard ill t's of her in France? ,, III i 231

Thing (continued) Some dreadful t is coming on me. Becket III i 267 all manner of game, and four-footed t's, and fowls— „ III iii 130
And all manner of creeping t's too? „ III iii 133
Yet one t more. Thou hast broken thro' the pales „ III iii 192
I might deliver all t's to thy hand— „ III iii 270 to overstep and come at all t's in the next field? „ III iii 282 that's a finer t there. How it glitters! „ IV i 2
Henry Says many a t in sudden heats, „ IV ii 276
Deal not with t's you know not. „ V ii 133
I know not why You call these old t's back „ V ii 270 and smile At bygone t's till that eternal peace. The Cup I iii 172
This old t here they are but blue beads— The Falcon 47
My one t left of value in the world! „ 496 and profess to be great in green t's and in garden-stuff. „ 551 made me A Quietist taking all t's easily. Prom. of May I 232
A Quietist taking all t's easily— „ I 290
O the sacred little t! What a shape! Foresters I i 108 to whom all t's, up to this present, „ I i 209
if this life of ours Be a good glad t, „ I iii 13
Because thou sayest such fine t's of women, „ I iii 137 the scream of some wild woodland t. „ II i 253 criedst 'I yield' almost before the t was ask'd, „ II i 566
True, she is a goodly t. „ II ii 140
A woman's heart is but a little t, „ IV 656
Think I t she entreats me like a child. Queen Mary I iii 111
I t you may. „ I iii 153
I t she means to counsel your withdrawing „ I iv 224
I t my time will come. „ I iv 256
Because they t me favourer of this marriage. „ I v 156
I do t To save your crown that it must come to this. „ I v 478
And t not we shall be alone— „ II i 191
I'll t upon it, Knyvett. „ II i 240
Don't ye now go to t that we be for Philip o' Spain. „ II iii 106 are you not in peril here? Stafford. I t so. „ III i 36
I t with you. The King of France will help „ III i 104
We are fallen, and as I t, Never to rise again. „ III i 124
I t I should fight then. „ III i 468 that I t, 'Wilt thou lie there to-morrow?' „ III v 132 Help me: what t you, Is it life or death? „ III v 193 and t of this in your coming. 'MARY THE QUEEN.' „ III v 224
T! I have many thoughts; I t there may be birdlime here for me; I t they fain would have me from the realm; I t the Queen may never bear a child; I t that I may be some time the Queen, „ III v 226
I t I will not marry anyone, „ III v 239
I t that I will play with Philibert,— „ III v 242
Albeit he t himself at home with God, „ IV iii 192
T you then That Cranmer read all papers „ IV iii 316
I t that in some sort we may. But see, „ IV iii 551
Does he t Low stature is low nature, „ V ii 433
It is the low man t's the woman low; „ V ii 439
T you That I might dare to tell her that the Count— „ V ii 522 tells me I must not t—That I must rest— „ V v 63
I t that they would Molochize them too, Harold I i 36
Ask thou Lord Leofwin what he t's of this! „ I i 40
I love him or t I love him. „ I ii 152
As I t He was thine host in England „ II ii 3
I t it so, I t I am a fool To t it can be otherwise „ III i 102
Some t they loved within the pale forbidden „ III ii 22
I t that this is Thurkill. „ V ii 65
I will not t so, Thomas. Becket, Pro. 238 dost thou t the king Forced mine election? Herbert. I do t the King Was potent in the election, „ I i 126
T on it again. „ I i 380
t of me as thy father! „ I iii 250
I ask'd the way. Rosamund. I t so. „ II i 63
I sometimes t he sleeps When he should watch; „ III i 32 when he hears a door open in the house and t's 'the master.' „ III iii 99
I t, time given, I could have talk'd „ IV ii 311
I cannot t he moves against my son, „ V i 18
I t ye four have cause to love this Becket. „ V i 224 lightnings that we t are only Heaven's Flash „ V ii 35
I t our Abbess knew it and allow'd it. „ V ii 95

Think (continued) but t not of the King: farewell! Becket V ii 185
T,—torture,—death,—and come. The Cup I ii 314
I warrants ye'll t moor o' this young Squire Edgar Prom. of May I 109 ye'll t more on 'is little finger than hall my hand „ I 111
Dobbins, I t. Dobson. Dobbins, you t's; and I t's ye weärs „ I 459
I t's I'd like to taäke the measure o' your foot. „ I 463
I can't abeär to t on 'er now, „ II 32
How could I t of leaving him? „ II 71
Do ye t I be gawin' to tell it to you, „ II 190 almost t she half return'd the pressure Of mine. „ II 627
I'd t na moor o' maäkin' an end o' tha nor a carrion craw— „ II 695
d'ye t I'd gi'e 'em the fever? „ III 49
Do you t that I may? No, not yet. „ III 238 her answer—I t I have it about me—yes, there it is! „ III 395
I t That I should break my heart, „ III 555
I am easily led by words, but I t the Earl hath right. Foresters I ii 40
I t they will be mightier than the king. „ I ii 119
What makes thee t I seem so cold to Robin? „ III 3
That when I t of it hotly, Love himself Seems „ III 111
Robin—I crave pardon, I always t of you as my lord, „ III 410
Thinkest Roger, t thou that anyone Suspected thee Queen Mary I iii 174
Gamel, son of Orm, What t thou this means? (repeat) Harold I i 21, 464
Thinking —I was t of her when—O yes, Prom. of May II 368
Thin-skinn'd O t-s hand and jutting veins, Queen Mary IV ii 204
Third Linger not till the t horn. Fly! Becket III ii 40
O would it were His t last apoplexy! The Cup II 172
Thirlby (Bishop of Ely) (See also Ely) Bishop T, And my Lord Paget Queen Mary IV i 5
Weep not, good T. „ IV ii 172
Will they burn me, T? „ IV ii 182
And may God bless you, T! „ IV ii 198 these burnings, As T says, are profitless „ IV ii 218 Thirst which the more you drink, The more you t— The Cup I iii 140
Thirtieth To-day he hath accomplished his t birthday, Foresters I i 298 all of you Who deign to honour this my t year, „ I ii 79 pray Thy t summer may be thirty-fold As happy „ I ii 128
Thirty To raise your Highness t thousand men, Queen Mary II ii 290
Sailing from France, with t Englishmen, „ V i 285
Down t feet below the smiling day— Harold II ii 430
Some t—forty thousand silver marks. Becket I iii 657 her six and t sail Of Provence blew you to your English throne; „ V i 122
Thirty-fold Thy thirtieth summer may be t-f Foresters I ii 128
This t Gardiner for one, who is to be made Lord Chancellor, Queen Mary I i 85
My masters, yonder's fatter game for you Than t old gaping gurgoyle: „ I iii 81 but t fine blue-blooded Courtenay seems Too princely for a pawn. „ I iii 165 now would settle Upon t flower, now that; „ I iv 56
T dress was made me as the Earl of Devon To take my seat in; „ I iv 72
Have sworn t Spanish marriage shall not be. „ I iv 115
And if t Prince of fluff and feather come To woo you, niece, „ I iv 162
He commends me now From out his grave to t archbishoprick. Becket, Pro. 420 and I do not then charm t secret out of our loyal Thomas, „ Pro. 466 Follow me t Rosamund day and night, whithersoever she goes; „ Pro. 506 and t Becket, her father's friend, like enough staved us from her. „ Pro. 517
And mine uplifter in t world, and chosen me For t thy great archbishoprick, „ I i 89 and I sneezed three times t morning. The Falcon 169
To make amends I come t day to break my fast with you. „ 276
Thistle matched with my Harold is like a hedge t by a garden rose. Prom. of May III 176
Thomas (Becket, Chancellor of England, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury) (See also Becket, Thomas Becket, Thomas of Canterbury) That is my secret, T. Becket, Pro. 75

Thomas (Becket, Chancellor of England, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury) (continued) I have built a secret bower in England, T, Becket Pro. 154
Nay—I know not, T. „ Pro. 197
I will not think so, T. „ Pro. 238
And who shall be be, my friend T? „ Pro. 243
I lack a spiritual soldier, T— „ Pro. 258 chart is not mine, but Becket's: take it, T. „ Pro. 311
I do not then charm this secret out of our loyal T, „ Pro. 467
Jest or prophecy there? Herbert. Both, T, both. „ I i 69
T, thou art moved too much. „ I i 172
T, thou wast not happy taking charge „ I i 390
Saving thine order, T, Is black and white „ I iii 31
Where's T? hath he sign'd? „ I iii 316
Ah! T, excommunicate them all! „ I iii 573
Thou wert plain T and not Canterbury, „ I iii 578
The holy T? Brother, you have traffick'd „ II ii 66
Ah, T, T, Thou art thyself again, T again. „ II ii 138 me, T, son Of Gilbert Becket, London merchant. „ II ii 229
Ah, T, You had not borne it, no, not for a day. „ II ii 304
Our T never will diagonalise. „ II ii 333 condemn The blameless exile?— Herbert. Thee, thou holy T! „ II ii 397
We have had so many hours together, T, „ III iii 38
Were I T, I wouldn't trust it. „ III iii 58
As magnificently and archiepiscopally as our T would have done: „ III iii 87 but look if T have not flung himself at the King's feet. „ III iii 168
Have I not promised to restore her, T, „ III iii 183
What more, my lord Archbishop? What more, T? „ III iii 218
T, I would there were that perfect trust between us, „ III iii 263
Oh, T, I could fall down and worship thee, my T, „ III iii 287
T, lord Not only of your vassals but amours, „ V i 204
T, I would thou hadst return'd to England, „ V ii 11
T, The lightnings that we think are only Heaven's „ V ii 34
T You could not—old affection master'd you, „ V ii 142
T, Why should you heat yourself for such as these? „ V ii 543
Take refuge in your own cathedral, T. „ V ii 584

Thomas (Wyatt, insurrectionary leader) (See also Thomas Wyatt, Wyatt) None so new, Sir T, and none so old, Sir T. Queen Mary II i 14
Ay, why not, Sir T? „ II i 32
I hate Spain, Sir T. „ II i 37
Sir T, we may grant the wine. „ II i 40
But, Sir T, must we levy war against the Queen's Grace? „ II i 186
I fear we be too few, Sir T. „ II i 225
Sir T, I've found this paper; „ II iii 55
Sir T— Wyatt. Hang him, I say. „ II iii 79
O Sir T, Sir T, pray you go away, Sir T, „ II iii 98 don't ye kill the Queen here, Sir T; „ II iii 111
we pray you to kill the Queen further off, Sir T. „ II iii 115
Thanks, Sir T, we be beholden to you, „ II iii 120

Thomas (Wyatt, the elder) Old Sir T would have hated it. „ II i 18
Old Sir T always granted the wine. „ II i 41 a fine courtier of the old Court, old Sir T. „ II i 46
I have been there with old Sir T, and the beds I know. „ II i 184

Thomas Becket (Chancellor of England, afterwards Archbishop of Canterbury) (See also Becket, Thomas, Thomas of Canterbury) My Rosamund is no Lais, T B; Becket, Pro. 58
last words were a commendation of T B to your Grace „ Pro. 401 ye are all as like To lodge a fear in T B's heart „ I iii 176
Wilt thou hold out for ever, T B? „ I iii 266
Where is the Archbishop, T B? „ V iii 110

Thomas Gresham and Sir T G Will aid us. Queen Mary V i 180

Thomas of Canterbury (Becket) I would, my lord T o C, Thou wert plain Thomas and not Canterbury, Becket I iii 577

Thomas Stafford (insurrectionary leader) (See also Stafford) Sir T S, and some more— Queen Mary I iii 124
I believe Sir T S? „ III i 32
You would but make us weaker, T S. „ III i 131
Carew is there, and T S there. „ V i 125
Sir T S, a bull-headed ass, „ V i 284

Thomas White (Lord Mayor of London) I am T W. Few things have fail'd to which I set my will. „ II ii 21
Am I T W? One word before she comes. Queen Mary II ii 108
Yes, T W. I am safe enough; „ II ii 316
And T W will prove this Thomas Wyatt, „ II ii 367

Thomas Wyatt (insurrectionary leader) (See also Thomas, Wyatt) Sir Peter Carew and Sir T W, „ I iii 123
Sir T W, I myself, some others, „ I iv 113 all of us abhor The venomous, bestial, devilish revolt Of T W. „ II ii 288
And Thomas White will prove this T W, „ II ii 368
'Whosoever will apprehend the traitor T W „ II iii 60

Thor by St. Dunstan, old St. T—By God, we thought him dead—but our old T Heard his own thunder again, Harold IV iii 147

Thorn rose but pricks his nose Against the t, „ I i 423 not t enough to prick him for it, Ev'n with a word? Becket III i 251

Thorn'd only rose of all the stock That never t him; Harold I i 427

Thorough Yet thoroughly to believe in one's own self, So one's own self be t, Queen Mary II ii 389

Though See Thaw

Thought (s) You fly your t's like kites. Queen Mary I v 390
Think! I have many t's; „ III v 226
Had in him kingly t's—a king of men, Harold IV i 83 our waking t's Suffer a stormless shipwreck „ V i 295
And thy t's, thy fancies? Becket, Pro. 118 every thread of t Is broken ere it joins— „ V ii 206
I have no t of marriage, my friend. Prom. of May II 65
No t was mine of torture or of death, The Cup II 410 when T Comes down among the crowd, Prom. of May I 500

Thought (verb) (See also Thowt) t To bind me first by oaths I could not keep, Queen Mary I v 556 it is t the Duke will be taken. „ II i 136
if I either t or knew This marriage should bring loss „ II ii 226
I t this Philip had been one of those black devils of Spain, „ III i 214 but I t he was a beast. „ III i 220
she t they knew the laws. „ III i 380
(for they t not of our tides), „ III ii 27
I t of you, my liege, Ev'n as I spoke. „ III ii 94
I t not on my boots; „ III v 195 when it was t I might be chosen Pope, „ V ii 82 and it was t we two Might make one flesh, „ V ii 135
I t you knew me better. „ V ii 186 but I t I was not loved. „ V v 89
I t that naked Truth would shame the Devil Harold III i 118
By God, we t him dead— „ IV iii 148 twice I t that all was lost. „ V ii 173
Have you t of one? Becket, Pro. 9 and I t Lo! I must out or die. „ I i 267
T that I knew him, err'd thro' love of him, „ I iii 440
I t it was a gift; (repeat) „ I iii 646 and I t at first it was the King, „ III i 165
I t if it were the King's brother he had a better bride than the King, „ III i 172
He t less of two kings than of one Roger the king of the occasion. „ III iii 90
I t if I followed it I should find the fairies. „ IV i 23
We t to scare this minion of the King „ IV ii 330
I t that I had made a peace for thee. „ V ii 84
He t to excommunicate him— „ V ii 141
De Morville, I had t so well of you; „ V ii 520
I am much malign'd. I t to serve Galatia. The Cup I ii 324
Too late—t myself wise—A woman's dupe. „ II 480
Perhaps I t with those of old, The Falcon 878
We shouted, and they shouted, as I t, Foresters II i 257
Robin Hood was it? I t as much. „ II i 327
And t thou wert bewitch'd. „ II i 684
I t I saw thee clasp and kiss a man „ II ii 71
Who t to buy your marrying me with gold. „ IV 718

Thoulouse (Toulouse) Not heavier than thine armour at T? Becket I i 26
Lent at the siege of T by the King. „ I iii 636

Thousand Good Lord! but I have heard a t such. Queen Mary I v 579 but ten t men on Penenden Heath all calling after your worship, „ II i 60
Say for ten t ten—and pothouse knaves, „ II i 69

Thousand (continued) And think not we shall be alone—t's will flock to us. Queen Mary II i 191
To raise your Highness thirty t men, „ II ii 290
A hundred, yea, a t thousand-fold, „ III iii 300
A t ships—a hundred t men—T's of horses, Harold IV iii 194
I know Some three or four poor priests a t times Fitter for this grand function. Becket, Pro. 291
Some thirty—forty t silver marks. „ I iii 657
What! forty t marks! „ I iii 704
Forty t marks! forty t devils—and these craven bishops! „ I iv 90
Spite of ten t brothers, Federigo. The Falcon 898
I took it For some three t acres. Prom. of May III 614
And Sir Richard was told he might be ransomed for two t marks in gold. Foresters I i 64
Those two t marks lent me by the Abbot „ I i 264 they have trodden it for half a t years, „ I i 334
Two t marks in gold. I have paid him half. That other t— „ II i 464 for Oberon fled away Twenty t leagues to-day. „ II ii 143
Where he would pay us down his t marks. „ IV 441
Lest he should fail to pay these t marks „ IV 454
What more? one t marks, Or else the land. „ IV 473
Here be one t marks Out of our treasury to redeem the land. „ IV 492
Would buy me for a t marks in gold— „ IV 652
Is weightier than a t marks in gold, „ IV 660
A t winters Will strip you bare as death, a t summers Robe you life-green again. „ IV 1055
Thousand-fold A hundred, yea, a thousand t-f, Queen Mary III iii 200
The force of Rome a t-f our own. The Cup I ii 85
Thousand-times And t-t recurring argument Of those two friars Queen Mary IV ii 93
Thowt (thought) Coomly, says she. I niver t o' mysen i' that waäy; Prom. of May I 176
So I t, and I heärd the winder— „ I 395 but I t I'd bring tha them roses fust. „ II 50
When ye t there were nawbody watchin' o' you, „ II 179
I should ha' t they'd hed anew o' gentlefoälk, „ II 580
Thrall if my people must be t's of Rome, The Cup II 500 sat Among my t's in my baronial hall Foresters II i 61
The scarlet t of Rahab saved her life; Queen Mary III ii 38
Thread heaven and earth are t's of the same loom, Harold I i 209 that every t of thought Is broken ere it joins— Becket V ii 205
The child, a t within the house of birth, The Cup II 259 my nurse has broken The t of my dead flowers, The Falcon 522 while our Robin's life Hangs by a t, Foresters IV 385
Threadbare to cost All t household habit, „ I iii 112
Threadbare-worn long-tugged at, t-w Quarrel of Crown and Church— Becket II ii 54
Threat T's! t's! ye hear him. „ V ii 464 Threaten T the child; 'I'll scourge you if you did it:' Queen Mary III v 126 it t's us no more Than French or Norman. Harold I i 133 and t us thence Unschool'd of Death? „ V i 285
Not in my chin, I hope! That t's double. Becket II i 251
T our junction with the Emperor— „ II ii 471 they t The immediate thunder-blast of interdict: „ III iii 25 as when we t A yelper with a stick. „ IV ii 349 yet t your Archbishop In his own house. „ V ii 504
Threaten'd Had t ev'n your life, and would say anything? Prom. of May III 567
Three (See also Dree) for thou art as white as t Christmasses. Queen Mary I i 30
T voices from our guilds and companies! „ II ii 255
Because the Queen hath been t days in tears „ III vi 12
God made the fierce fire seem To those t children like a pleasant dew. „ IV iii 91
T persons and one God, have mercy on me, „ IV iii 121 that these T rods of blood-red fire up yonder mean Harold I i 44
Why then the wrath of Heaven hath t tails, The devil only one. „ I i 61 and hurl'd it from him T fields away, „ III i 140
There is one Who passing by that hill t nights ago— „ III i 366
T horses had I slain beneath me: „ V ii 171
Three (continued) I know Some t or four poor priests a thousand times Becket, Pro. 291 with the retinue of t kings behind him, outroyalling royalty? „ Pro. 445
My lord, the King demands t hundred marks, „ I iii 626
My lord, I ha' t sisters a-dying at home „ I iv 245
She past me here T years ago when I was flying from My Tetrarchy to Rome. The Cup I i 6
But after rain o'erleaps a jutting rock And shoots t hundred feet. „ I i 111 who has dwelt t years in Rome And wrought his worst against his native land, „ I ii 175
That there t years ago—the vast vine-bowers „ I ii 401 cloudless heaven which we have found together In our t married years! „ I ii 417
T laps for a cat! The Falcon 125 and I sneezed t times this morning. „ 169
Yeas, yeas! T cheers for Mr. Steer! Prom. of May I 455
Why, Miss Dora, meä and my maätes, us t, we wants to hev t words wi' ye. „ III 126
Milly, who came to us t years after you were gone, „ III 232
They did not last t Junes. „ III 589
I took it For some t thousand acres. „ III 614
t yards about the waist is like to remain a virgin, Foresters I ii 69
Here come t beggars. „ III 187
Here come t friars. „ III 256
Thou and thy woman are a match for t friars. „ III 262
Here, you t rogues, „ III 358 blow upon it T mots, this fashion—listen! „ IV 425 for the moment strike the bonds From these t men, „ IV 963
Three-score the doctors tell you, At t-s years; Queen Mary III iv 410
Threshold I'll fight it on the t of the grave. „ V v 189
Hope Smiles from the t of the year to come Foresters I iii 16
Threw Northumbria t thee off, she will not have thee, Harold IV ii 33
But I that t the mightiest knight of France, Becket I iii 746
Thrill T's to the topmost tile—no hope but death; „ V ii 209
Thrive And may your business t in Nottingham! Foresters III 244
That you may t, but in some kindlier trade. „ III 252 Throat heretic t's Cried no God-bless-her Queen Mary III iv 44 this poor t of mine, Barer than I should wish a man to see it,— „ V ii 460
I have my dagger here to still their t's. Becket III ii 50
Madam, I saw your dagger at her t; „ IV ii 319 not at the moment who had fasten'd About his t— The Cup II 51
t might gape before the tongue could cry who? Foresters III 225 Throated See Full-throated Throne (s) Until your t had ceased to tremble. Queen Mary I v 393
But his assessor in the t, „ I v 501 burn the t Where you should sit with Philip: „ I v 510 let Rebellion Roar till t rock, and crown fall. „ II i 145 shall we have Spain on the t and in the parliament; „ II i 176
Had holpen Richard's tottering t to stand, „ III i 114 same chair, Or rather t of purple, on the deck. „ III ii 8 Between the two most high-set t's on earth, „ III ii 106 no foreign prince or priest Should fill my t, „ III v 237
You sit upon this fallen Cranmer's t; „ IV i 114 Declare the Queen's right to the t; „ IV ii 78 floated downward from the t Of God Almighty. Harold I i 18 bishops down from all Their t's in England? „ I i 51
The Atheling is nearest to the t. „ II ii 570 help to build a t Out-towering hers of France . . . „ II ii 764
Why then the t is empty. Who inherits? „ III i 234
Who shook the Norman scoundrels off the t, „ IV i 82
To thrust our Harold's t from under him? „ IV iii 126 Hath climb'd the t and almost clutch'd the crown; Becket, Pro. 21 thou didst help me to my t In Theobald's time, „ Pro. 201
A bulwark against T and Baronage. „ I i 17 weight down all free choice beneath the t. „ I iii 119
The soul the body, and the Church the T, „ I iii 718
I, that taking The Fiend's advantage of a t, „ II i 152
Reseat him on his t of Canterbury, „ II ii 118 yea, even among those Who sit on t's— „ IV ii 125
Of Provence blew you to your English t; „ V i 124
Lest Becket thrust you even from your t. „ V i 160
To shake my t, to push into my chamber— „ V i 249

Throne (s) (continued) Blared from the heights of all the t's of her kings, Becket v ii 489 die upon the Patriarchal t Of all my predecessors? „ v iii 75 and wear it Beside him on his t. The Cup ii 137 shout of Synorix and Camma sitting Upon one t, „ ii 148
He climbs the t. Hot blood, „ ii 168
So falls the t of an hour. Synorix. T? is it thou? „ ii 486
T's, churches, ranks, traditions, customs, Prom. of May i 519 king of day hath stept from off his t, Foresters ii i 27 oaks, Gnarl'd—older than the t's of Europe— „ iii 92 Throne (verb) King Would t me in the great Archbishoprick: Becket i iii 694 and t One king above them all, The Cup i i 92
T him—and then the marriage—ay and tell him „ ii 156
Throned For how should reverend prelate or t prince Queen Mary iv iii 543
And so be t together in the sight The Cup ii 67 is it thou? the Fates are t, not we— „ ii 488
Throne-like Throw cushions on that seat, and make it t-l. Queen Mary v ii 537
Thronging Their horse are t to the barricades; Harold v i 547
They are t in to vespers—half the town. Becket v iii 139
Throning Not to a Gregory of my t! No. „ v i 34
Throstle New buds to heaven, whereon the t rock'd Foresters i iii 27
Throttle say nothing to my wife if I Were by to t him! The Cup i ii 367
Throw strong to t ten Wyatts and all Kent. Queen Mary ii ii 353
T cushions on that seat, and make it throne-like. „ v ii 536
Why, I could t four o' ye; Prom. of May i 468
Thrown offal t Into the blind sea of forgetfulness. Queen Mary iii iii 192
There was a paper t into the palace, „ iii vi 139 dogs' food t upon thy head. Harold ii ii 431
she had t my chaplet on the grass, The Falcon 368
Had she not t my chaplet on the grass, „ 377
Thrush See Mavis
Thrust A strange youth Suddenly t it on me, Queen Mary ii i 129 brave Lord William T him from Ludgate, „ ii iv 92 invade their hive Too gross to be t out, „ iii iii 55
And t his right into the bitter flame; „ iv iii 610
To t our Harold's throne from under him? Harold iv iii 126
Why do you t this Becket on me again? Becket v i 155
Thumb A lesson worth Finger and t—thus Harold i ii 55
Thumbscrew the t, the stake, the fire. Queen Mary ii i 200
Thunder (s) the poor t Never harm'd head. Harold i ii 232
But t may bring down That which the flash „ i ii 234
And bolts of t moulded in high heaven „ ii ii 32
Wilt thou play with the t? „ iii i 391 but our old Thor Heard his own t again, „ iv iii 150
T! Ay, ay, the storm was drawing hither The Cup ii 318
Thunder (verb) I will both flash And t for thee. Harold i ii 229
North and South T together, „ iii i 393
They t again upon the barricades. „ v i 625 crying On Holy Church to t out her rights Becket v ii 31
Thunder-blast The immediate t-b of interdict: „ iii iii 26
Thunderbolt I wish some t Would make this Cole a cinder, Queen Mary iv iii 10
So from a clear sky falls the t! „ v iii 116 with this black t of Rome Above him, The Cup i ii 265
Thunder-cloud shadowing of this double t-c That lours Harold iii ii 159
Thurkill I think that this is T. „ v ii 65
Thwack But I shall have to t her if I stay. Foresters i iii 139
Thwack'd I would have t the woman, but I did not, „ i iii 135
Thwart That shalt thou never be If I can t thee. Harold i i 415 but tramples flat Whatever t's him; „ ii ii 380
Thysen (thyself) Why, Wilson, tha 'eärd 'im t— Prom. of May i 302
Mäake t eäsy. „ i 419
if she weänt—look to t, „ ii 695 an' whether thou calls t Hedgar or Harold, „ ii 737
Tib (country wife) Why, it be T! Queen Mary iv iii 464
I must set down myself, T; „ iv iii 471
Eh, then ha' thy waay wi' me, T; „ iv iii 487
Thou's thy way wi' man and beast, T. „ iv iii 499
Tick-tack like the tail of the horologe—to and fro—t-t— Becket ii ii 367
Tide same t Which, coming with our coming, Queen Mary ii iii 21 (for they thought not of our t's), „ iii ii 28 when men are tost On t's of strange opinion, „ iii iv 119
William's or his own As wind blows, or t flows: Harold v i 163 all drown'd in love And glittering at full t— The Cup ii 234
Tide (continued) for when the t Of full democracy Prom. of May i 592
In this full t of love, Wave heralds wave: Foresters iv 1043
Tidings My liege, I bring you goodly t. Queen Mary v i 280
Tied (See also Tongue-tied) that the twain have been t up together, „ i iv 196
Tierce To reign is restless fence, T, quart, and trickery. „ v v 267
Tiger And he hath learnt, despite the t in him, Harold i i 148
May serve to charm the t out of him. Leofwin. He hath as much of cat as t in him. „ i i 153
Tigress t had unsheath'd her nails at last, Queen Mary iii i 3
Tile Thrills to the topmost t—no hope but death; Becket v ii 209
Till'd —our fallows t, Much corn, „ i iii 376
Time (See also Breathing-time, Thousand-times) no one in her t should be burnt for heresy. Queen Mary i i 97
Well, sir, I look for happy t's. „ i i 99 am I trenching on the t That should already „ i ii 79 fear, I see you, Dear friend, for the last t; „ i ii 103
These birds of passage come before their t: „ i iii 76
Have we not heard of her in Edward's t, „ i iv 19
Your t will come. Elizabeth. I think my t will come. „ i iv 255 you had t and cause enough To sicken „ i v 23
I should some t have a happy morning; „ i v 245 no such scarecrow in your father's t. „ i v 474 let them sit. I must have t to breathe. „ i v 546 known a semi-madman in my t So fancy-ridd'n) „ ii i 10
I fear the mine is fired before the t. „ ii i 123 a jest In t of danger shows the pulses even. „ ii ii 357
There yet is t, take boat and pass to Windsor. „ ii iv 27
Who, waiting till the t had ripen'd, „ iii ii 78
This Gardiner turn'd his coat in Henry's t; „ iii iii 17
In William's t, in our first Edward's t, And in my master Henry's t; „ iii iii 226
These spaniel-Spaniard English of the t, „ iii iii 241
I have some t, for curiousness, my Lord, „ iii iv 61
Such is our t—all t's for aught I know. „ iii iv 66
Did she not In Henry's t and Edward's? „ iii iv 132
St. Peter in his t of fear Denied his Master, „ iii iv 263
In those t's, Thou knowest we had to dodge, „ iii iv 356
For a t, for a t. „ iii iv 366
Rogers and Ferrar, for their t is come, „ iii iv 425
How many names in the long sweep of t „ iii v 40 last t she wrote, I had like to have lost my life: „ iii v 188
I think that I may be some t the Queen, „ iii v 233
Wherefore our Queen and Council at this t „ iv iii 37 Friend for so long t of a mighty King; „ iv iii 73 every man at t of death Would fain set forth „ iv iii 156
I have not t for more: „ iv iii 207
Than heretic of these t's; „ iv iii 599 not were he ten t's king, Ten t's our husband, „ v i 62
I have to pray you, some odd t, „ v i 258 even now, when bow'd before my t, „ v ii 65
T that I were gone too! „ v ii 320
I seem half-shamed at t's to be so tall. „ v ii 424 and I say it For the last t perchance, Harold i i 176 left me t And peace for prayer to gain a better one. „ i i 219 but at t's They seem to me too narrow, „ iii ii 63
A goodly flower at t's. „ iv i 151
Hear me again—for the last t. „ v i 9
Then for the last t, monk, I ask again „ v i 15
Good for good hath borne at t's „ v i 175
Church in the pell-mell of Stephen's t Becket, Pro. 20 —be facile to my hands. Now is my t. „ Pro. 220 thousand t's Fitter for this grand function. „ Pro. 292
Madam, I have loved her in my t. „ Pro. 496
And Earth should get the better—for the t. „ i iii 229 that be dead ten t's o'er i' one day wi' the putrid fever; „ i iv 250 wriggle out of them like an eel When the t serves. „ ii ii 188
we make the t, we keep the t, ay, and we serve the t; „ ii ii 367
I cannot answer it Till better t's, „ iii i 3
That which you ask me Till better t's. „ iii i 7 you shall tell me of her some other t. „ iii i 191 that is to say in her t when she had the 'Crown.' „ iii i 198 bound me by his love to secrecy Till his own t. „ iii i 229 sworn on this my cross a hundred t's Never to leave him— „ iv ii 206
Daughter, my t is short, I shall not do it. „ v ii 157

Time (continued) I have much to say, no t to say it in. The Cup I ii 208
As I have many a t declared to you— „ II 48 and I sneezed three t's this morning. Coming to visit my lord, for the first t in her life too! The Falcon 169 fine fowl for my lady; I had scant t to do him in. „ 556
What? my t? Is it my t? Well, I can give my t „ 789 and they was all a-crying out at the bad t's, Prom. of May I 139 fur I 'ednt naw t to maäke mysen a scholard „ I 333
I mun ha' plowed it moor nor a hoonderd t's; „ I 368
Forgive him seventy t's and seven; „ III 9 next t you waste them at a pot-house you get no more from me. „ III 99 because one of the Steers had planted it there in former t's. „ III 248 he tells me that he met you once in the old t's, „ III 263 all in all to one another from the t when we first peeped „ III 273 and he trusted that some t we should meet again, „ III 328
The Steers was all gentlefoälks i' the owd t's, „ III 448
The land belonged to the Steers i' the owd t's, „ III 451
A hundred t's more worth a woman's love, „ III 743 weight of the flesh at odd t's overbalance the weight of the church, Foresters I ii 61 last t When I shall hold my birthday in his hall: „ I ii 88
Till better t's. Robin. But if the better t's „ I ii 286
And if the worst t come? „ I ii 290
Why then I will be better than the t. „ I ii 292
we must at t's have wrought Some great injustice, „ III 154
Out on it, I say, out of tune and t! Marian. Till thou thyself shall come to sing it—in t. Robin. T! if his backward-working alchemy „ IV 35
We had it i' the Red King's t, „ IV 303
if they were not repaid within a limited t your land should be forfeit. „ IV 468
Timorous Why creep'st thou like a t beast of prey Harold I ii 212
Tinkle Our scouts have heard the t of their bells. „ V i 220
Tipsy —and I fear you were t then, too— Prom. of May III 88
Tip-top snow yonder on the very t-t o' the mountain. The Falcon 501 Tire would she were but his paramour, for men t of their fancies; Becket, Pro. 479
Tired last night, T, pacing my new lands Prom. of May II 647
Tit Kiss in the bower, T on the tree! Becket III i 105
No bird? Filippo. Half a t and a hern's bill. The Falcon 131
T, my queen, must it be so? Foresters II ii 124
And you dare to call me T. T, for love and brevity, „ II ii 127
Titania I T bid you flit, „ II ii 126
Tit-bit You be fed with t-b's, you, „ I i 24
I am fed with t-b's no more than you are, „ I i 27
Tithe thaw me and 'im we niver 'grees about the t; Prom. of May I 445
Title And nothing of the t's to the crown; Queen Mary III i 383
Titular That if this Philip be the t king Of England, „ I v 254
Toad you that have not the head of a t, The Falcon 91
Tod Like a t of wool from wagon into warehouse. Foresters IV 274
To-daäy (to-day) The owd man be heighty t-d, beänt he? Prom. of May I 77 as I telled 'er t-d when she fell foul upo' me. „ II 581
To-day (See also To-daäy) She looks comelier than ordinary t-d; Queen Mary I i 71
I trust that he will carry you well t-d, „ I iv 145
he hath been so bold t-d, „ II ii 348
They are down t-d. „ III i 8 for t-d My heart beats twenty, „ III ii 57 and brief patience, As I have shown t-d. „ III iv 415 into the daylight truth That it may fall t-d! „ III v 137
That you t-d should read your recantation „ IV ii 27
t-d Thou shalt receive the penitent thief's award, „ IV iii 85
When camest thou hither? Gamel. T-d, good Earl. Harold I i 106
I heard from thy Northumberland t-d. „ I i 350
Lady Aldwyth Was here t-d, „ I ii 35
Swear thou t-d, to-morrow is thine own. „ II ii 710
we must use our battle-axe t-d. „ V i 205 Thy death!—t-d! Is it not thy birthday? „ V i 428 that blighted vow Which God avenged t-d. „ V ii 157
I could but read a part t-d, because— Becket I iii 422 they were fighting for her t-d in the street. „ I iv 160
To-day (continued) Fame of t-d is infamy to-morrow; Infamy of t-d is fame to-morrow; Becket II i 103
He warmed to you t-d, and you have chilled him again. „ II ii 375
T-d I almost fear'd your kiss was colder— „ III i 16 and to be sure I ha' seen great ones t-d— „ III i 136 a man passed in there t-d: I holla'd to him, „ III ii 25
You wrong the King: he meant what he said t-d. „ III iii 299 for thou must leave him T-d, but not quite yet. „ IV ii 211 Going or gone t-d To hunt with Sinnatus. The Cup I i 64 come upon her Again, perhaps, t-d—her. „ I i 181
A strange gift sent to me t-d. „ I ii 53
Have let him hunt the stag with you t-d. „ I ii 379
T-d they are fixt and bright—they look straight out. „ II 20
T-d? Too sudden. I will brood upon it. „ II 72
I would that every man made feast t-d „ II 225
For all my truer life begins t-d. „ II 229
T-d, my beauty, thou must dash us down The Falcon 152 Sweeter than any violet of t-d, „ 465
but t-d I dared not—so much weaker, „ 831
I must leave you, love, t-d. Eva. Leave me, t-d! Prom. of May I 625 Shall I say it?—fly with me t-d. „ I 678 will you not speak with Father t-d? „ III 237
'Will your Ladyship ride to cover t-d? „ III 310
but you seem somewhat better t-d. „ III 322
Not t-d. What are you staying for? „ III 356 but is not t-d his birthday? Foresters I i 219
T-d he hath accomplished his thirtieth birthday, „ I i 297
No, Sir Earl, I will not fight t-d. „ II i 575 for Oberon fled away Twenty thousand leagues t-d. „ II ii 143 thy father will not grace our feast With his white beard t-d. „ IV 81
No, not an hour: the debt is due t-d. „ IV 448
Toe bursten at the t's, and down at heels. Queen Mary I i 53 small hope of the gentleman gout in my great t. The Falcon 657
Toft Hall Philip Edgar of T H In Somerset. Prom. of May II 438
One Philip Edgar of T H in Somerset Is lately dead. „ II 445
I have been telling her of the death of one Philip Edgar of T H, Somerset. „ II 706
'O' the 17th, Philip Edgar, o' T H, Soomerset.' „ II 712
Togither (together) Didn't I spy 'em a-sitting i' the woodbine harbour t? „ I 125
he tell'd me 'at sweet'arts niver worked well t; and I telled 'im 'at sweet'arts allus worked best t; „ II 156
And wheniver 'e sees two sweet'arts t like thou and me, Sally, „ II 163
Toil we have him in the t's. Harold II ii 14
Toil'd Our guardsman hath but t his hand and foot, „ V i 201 Token given A t of His more especial Grace; Queen Mary III iii 170 an' I be half dog already by this t, Becket I iv 219 Told (See also Telled, Towld) Whether he t me anything or not, Queen Mary I iv 184 secret missive, Which t her to be sick. „ II ii 122
'Tis said he t Sir Maurice there was one Cognisant „ II iv 98
I t my Lord He should not vex her Highness; „ III vi 64
He t me I should conquer:— Harold IV i 263
And t me we should conquer. „ IV i 267
They t me that the Holy Rood had lean'd „ V i 102 how been made Archbishop hadst thou t him, Becket I i 122
Wast thou not t to keep thyself from sight? „ I i 251
He t me thou shouldst pacify the King, „ I iii 224
Hath Henry t thee? hast thou talk'd with him? „ I iii 258
'Tis true what Becket t me, that the mother „ II ii 9
I t the Pope what manner of man he was. „ II ii 253
t me he would advance me to the service of a great lady, „ III i 122 you t me a great fib: it wasn't in the willow. „ IV ii 370
I t him I was bound to see the Archbishop; „ V ii 100 she t us of arm'd men Here in the city. „ V ii 226 but I t them I would wait them here. „ V ii 592
I t thee that I should remember thee! „ V iii 158
Hath Sinnatus never t you of this plot? The Cup I ii 250
I am sure I t him that his plot was folly. „ I ii 283
there You t your love; and like the swaying vines— „ I ii 410
Do you remember what I t you? „ I iii 4
Not if Sinnatus Has t her all the truth about me. „ I iii 23
She t thee as much? The Falcon 58

Told (continued) Do what I t thee. Must I do it myself? The Falcon 279
None has ever t me yet The story of your battle „ 592
You know, my lord, I t you I was troubled. „ 676
Eva t me that he was taking her likeness. He's an artist. Prom. of May I 126 and you, a gentleman, T me to trust you: „ I 710
You never t her, then, of what has past „ I 728
I t her I should hear her from the grave. „ II 244
She has disappear'd, They t me, from the farm— „ II 407
Which t us we should never see her more— „ II 477 always t Father that the huge old ashtree there would cause an accident some day; „ III 243
Have you t him I am here? Dora. No; do you wish it; „ III 266 bit by bit—for she promised secrecy—I t her all. „ III 380
Is yours yet living? Harold. No—I t you. „ III 506
I t you—My father. „ III 573
Can it be? They t me so. Yes, yes! „ III 670
She hid this sister, t me she was dead— „ III 689
Sir Richard was t he might be ransomed Foresters I i 63
It should have t us how the man first kissed the maid. „ I i 123
Scarlet t me—is it true?— „ III 145
They have t but a tenth of the truth: „ III 291
We t the Prince and the Sheriff of our coming. „ IV 575
Told'st Thou t us we should meet him in the forest, „ IV 439
Tolerance Till when, my Lords, I counsel t. Queen Mary III iv 203
Tolerate I would not, were I Queen, t the heretic, „ III iv 209
T them! Why? do they t you? „ III iv 213 Toll T of a bell, Stroke of a clock, „ III v 141 thou hast drain'd them shallow by thy t's, Harold I i 320
T! Beggar. Eh! we be beggars, Foresters III 188
Take thou my bow and arrow and compel them to pay t. Marian. T! „ III 264
Ha, brother. T, my dear? the t of love. „ III 270
Church and Law, halt and pay t! „ IV 430
Toll'd A passing bell t in a dying ear— Queen Mary V ii 41
Tomb There was an old-world t beside my father's, „ V ii 393
Tomb-place free the t-p of the King Of all the world? Foresters IV 408
To-morrow If Ludgate can be reach'd by dawn t-m. Queen Mary II iii 53
Come to me t-m.— „ III i 320 that I think, 'Wilt thou lie there t-m?' „ III v 132
And goes t-m. „ III vi 119
More talk of this t-m, if yon weird sign Harold I i 120
No more now: t-m. „ I i 487
T-m—first to Bosham, then to Flanders. „ II ii 239
T-m we will ride with thee to Harfleur, „ II ii 195
I will go with thee t-m— „ II ii 204
T-m will we ride with thee to Harfleur. „ II ii 647
Swear thou to-day, t-m is thine own. „ II ii 710
T-m will I ride with thee to Harfleur. „ II ii 769
To-night we will be merry—and t-m— „ II ii 772
Come to me t-m. Becket, Pro. 411
To pass thee to thy secret bower t-m. „ I i 249
Let the Great Seal be sent Back to the King t-m. „ I i 376 Fame of to-day is infamy t-m; Infamy of to-day is fame t-m; „ II i 103 and crown Young Henry there t-m. „ III ii 10
Who shall vouch for his t-m's? One word further. „ III iii 300
Antonius T-m will demand your tribute— The Cup I ii 97
He will pass t-m In the gray dawn „ I ii 294
—a brave one Which you shall see t-m. Camma. I rise t-m In the gray dawn, „ I ii 432
'Let us eat and drink, for t-m we die.' Prom. of May I 259
He will be sure to know you t-m. „ III 470
T-m then? Marian. Well, I will fight t-m. Foresters II i 576 Tongue (See also Evil-tongue) make what noise you will with your t's, Queen Mary I i 6 old leaven sticks to my t yet. „ I iii 48
Make all t's praise and all hearts beat for you. „ I v 117
t yet quiver'd with the jest When the head leapt— „ I v 475 thou shalt lose thine ears and find thy t, „ III i 256
Will stir the living t and make the cry. „ III i 354 every t Alters it passing, till it spells „ III v 35
What weapon hath the child, save his soft t, „ III v 129
More grievously than any t can tell. „ IV iii 125 Tongue (continued) Fed with rank bread that crawl'd upon the t, Queen Mary IV iii 443
the t on un cum a-lolluping out o' 'is mouth as black as a rat. „ IV iii 518
Leofwin, thou hast a t! Harold I i 392
I say, thou hast a t, „ I i 401
Tear out his t. Officer. He shall not rail again. „ II ii 487 Treble denial of the t of flesh, „ III i 281 play The William with thine eyesight and thy t. „ V i 28
Say that he blind thee and tear out thy t. Becket I iii 616
Cannot a smooth t lick him whole again „ II ii 25
Spare not thy t! be lavish with our coins, „ II ii 469 asked our mother if I could keep a quiet t i' my head, „ III i 119
So charged with t, that every thread „ V ii 205
Well, well, well! I bite my t. The Falcon 624 throat might gape before the t could cry who? Foresters III 225 if the land Were ruleable by t, „ IV 399
Nay, my t tript—five hundred marks for use. „ IV 499
Tongue-free Crow over Barbarossa—at last t-f Becket II ii 50
Tongueless —t and eyeless, prison'd— Harold II ii 496
Tonguester selfless man Is worth a world of t's. „ V i 82
Tongue-tied make me shamed and t-t in my love. Queen Mary III ii 162
Tongue-torn fiends that utter them T-t with pincers, „ V ii 194
To-night you would honour my poor house t-n, „ I iii 118
When do you meet? Noailles. T-n. „ I iii 155
Make out the writ t-n. „ IV i 195
T-n we will be merry. Harold II ii 767
T-n we will be merry—and to-morrow— „ II ii 771
Go with her—at once—T-n— Becket I i 402
T-n. Retainer. T-n, my lord. „ I iv 13
Am I to be murdered t-n? „ I iv 48
I must fly to France t-n. „ I iv 154
The miller's away for t-n. „ I iv 164 for t-n ye have saved our Archbishop! „ I iv 257 not t-n—the night is falling. What can be done t-n? „ III ii 51
Ye shall sing that ageän t-n, Prom. of May II 216 and he'll be rude to me ageän t-n, „ II 220 prays your ladyship and your ladyship's father to be present at his banquet t-n. Foresters I i 301 let us be merry t-n at the banquet. „ I i 344
Tonitrua Jacta t Deus bellator! Harold V i 569 Tonsure crept Up even to the t, and he groan'd, Becket I iii 327 his poor t A crown of Empire. „ V i 195
Tonsured Ye haled this t devil into your courts; „ I iii 387 Took (See also Taäked) t her hand, call'd her sweet sister, Queen Mary I i 79
but t To the English red and white. „ I v 17
For the wrong Robin t her at her word. „ III v 264
I t it, tho' I did not know I t it, „ V v 97 another hill Or fort, or city, t it, Harold IV i 50
if I t and translated that hard heart Becket, Pro. 379
He t his mitre off, and set it on me, „ I i 63
Then he t back not only Stephen's gifts, „ I iii 154 rather than God's cause T it upon me— „ I iii 699 North-east t and turned him South-west, „ II ii 321
t me ever so far away, and gave me a great pat „ III i 124 which a breeze of May T ever and anon, The Cup I ii 407 Shame on her that she t it at thy hands, The Falcon 61 he always t you so kindly, he always t the world so kindly. „ 187 he made a wry mouth at it, but he t it so kindly, „ 191 he always t you so kindly— „ 194 the Sister t me to her house, and bit by bit— Prom. of May III 379
I t it For some three thousand acres. „ III 613
She t my ring. I trust she loves me—yet Foresters I iii 3 when the Sheriff t my little horse for the King „ II i 300 and t His monies. „ III 362
O no, we t Advantage of the letter— „ IV 620 Tool What filthy t's our Senate works with! The Cup I i 156 values neither man Nor woman save as t's— Foresters IV 714
Tooth They show their teeth upon it; Queen Mary V i 299
His early follies cast into his teeth, „ V ii 124 the teeth That shall be broken by us— Harold I ii 244 knaw'd better nor to cast her sister's misfortin inter 'er teeth Prom. of May II 128 how should thy one t drill thro' this? Foresters II i 276

Top (See also A-top) wheel of Fate has roll'd me to the t. The Cup II 222
Topmost Thrills to the t tile—no hope but death; Becket V ii 209 wine leaps to the brain Like April sap to the t tree, Foresters I iii 24 Torch Thou light a t that never will go out! Queen Mary V v 122 dash The t of war among your standing corn, Harold II ii 749
Torchlight I saw Lord William Howard By t, Queen Mary II iii 30
Tore t away My marriage ring, and rent my bridal veil; Harold I ii 79
He t their eyes out, sliced their hands away, „ II ii 389
Torment And their strong t bravely borne, Queen Mary III iv 168 keep it, or you sell me To t and to death. The Cup I ii 216 Torn (See also Tongue-torn) Die like the t fox dumb, but never whine Queen Mary II ii 331 or we are t Down the strong wave of brawlers. „ III i 185
Would God they had t up all By the hard root, Becket II ii 208
We found a letter in your bedroom t into bits. Prom. of May III 323 Torrent (See also Lava-torrents) What breadth, height, strength—t's of eddying bark! Foresters III 94
Torture (s) Think,—t,—death,—and come. The Cup I ii 314
Shall I go? Shall I go? Death, t— „ I ii 454
No thought was mine of t or of death, „ II 411 scares The Baron at the t of his churls, Foresters III 106 Torture (verb) I know they mean to t him to death. The Cup I ii 273
Tortured Would you have t Sinnatus to death? „ II 408
Tost when men are t On tides of strange opinion, Queen Mary III iv 118
Geoffrey have not t His ball into the brook! Becket II i 320 Tostig (Earl of Northumbria) A faint foot hither, leaning upon T. He hath learnt to love our T much of late. Harold I i 144
Our T loves the hand and not the man. „ I i 156
T says true; my son, thou art too hard, „ I i 205
Thou art the man to rule her! Aldwyth. So, not T! „ I i 224
T, I am faint again. „ I i 266
And T knows it; T loves the king. „ I i 274
Then T too were wiser than he seems. „ I i 278
No, T—lest I make myself a fool „ I i 292 thine earldom, T, hath been a kingdom. „ I i 304
I may tell thee, T, I heard from thy Northumberland to-day. „ I i 349
O T, O dear brother—If they prance, „ I i 371
T, thou look'st as thou wouldst spring upon him. „ I i 393
And T is not stout enough to bear it. „ I i 402 ye three must gall Poor T. Leofwin. T, sister, galls himself; „ I i 420
but T—On a sudden—at a something— „ I i 441
Side not with T in any violence, „ I i 457
It means the fall of T from his earldom. „ I i 468
This T is, or like to be, a tyrant; „ I i 481
Yea, but Earl T— „ I ii 65
When Harold goes and T, shall I play The craftier T „ I ii 163
Our wild T, Edward hath made him Earl: „ I ii 185
Down with T! That first of all.— „ I ii 236
Not to come back till T shall have shown „ I ii 242
Against thy brother T's governance; „ II ii 290
T in his own hall on suspicion Hath massacred „ II ii 295 our fiery T, while thy hands Are palsied here, „ II ii 453 flamed When T's anger'd earldom flung him, „ III i 54
Siding with our great Council against T, „ III i 60
Our T parted cursing me and England; „ III i 76
T, raise my head! Harold. Let Harold serve for T! Queen. Harold served T so ill, he cannot serve for T! „ III i 157 hath mainly drawn itself From lack of T— „ III i 168
I love beyond the rest, My banish'd T. „ III i 296 where T lost The good hearts of his people. „ III ii 29
Our hapless brother, T—He, „ III ii 121
Yea, T hath taken York! „ III ii 176
Thou art T's brother, Who wastes the land. „ IV i 92
For when your people banish'd T hence, „ IV i 97 sanction your decree Of T's banishment, „ IV i 104
Who brake into Lord T's treasure-house „ IV i 114 when T hath come back with power, Are frighted back to T. „ IV i 117
There is a faction risen again for T, Since T came with Norway— „ IV i 172
Lest thy fierce T spy me out alone, „ IV i 190 Tostig (Earl of Northumbria) (continued) Who is it comes this way? T? Harold IV ii 2
No man would strike with T, save for Norway. „ IV ii 20 that T Conjured the mightier Harold from his North „ IV ii 67
All traitors fail like T! „ IV iii 79
I saw the hand of T cover it. Our dear, dead, traitor-brother T, him Reverently we buried. „ IV iii 81
T, poor brother, Art thou so anger'd? „ V i 272 and his brother T helpt; „ V ii 47
T'other (other) When theer wur a meeting o' farmers at Littlechester t daäy, Prom. of May I 137
I coom'd upon 'im t daäy lookin' at the coontry, „ I 201
It be five year sin' ye went afoor to him, and it seems to me nobbut t day. „ II 7 and he sent 'im awaäy to t end o' the field; „ II 154 wasn't thou and me a-bussin' o' one another t side o' the haäycock, „ II 231
Tottering Harry of Bolingbroke Had holpen Richard's t throne to stand, Queen Mary III i 114 Touch (s) sudden t's For him, or him— „ V v 220
I trust the kingly t that cures the evil Harold I i 151
I had a t of this last year—in—Rome. The Cup II 446
There is a t of sadness in it, my lord, Foresters I iii 35
I have a t of sadness in myself. „ I iii 38
Touch (verb) you t upon the rumour that Charles, Queen Mary I i 104 cannot t you save that you turn traitor; „ I iv 271 as the heathen giant Had but to t the ground, „ III ii 44
T him upon his old heretical talk, „ III iv 352
A snake—and if I t it, it may sting. „ III v 218
Alva will but t him on the horns, And he withdraws; „ V i 155
Nobles we dared not t. „ V v 104
I t mine arms, My limbs— Harold II ii 793
As far as t'es Wulfnoth I that so prized „ III i 91
And t'es Him that made it. „ III ii 198
T me not! De Brito. How the good priest gods himself! Becket V iii 147
I will not only t, but drag thee hence. „ V iii 151
I am a Roman now, they dare not t me. The Cup I i 185
You can t No chord in me that would not The Falcon 455
That I would t no flesh till he were well „ 680 know that I can t The ghittern to some purpose. „ 798 Shall I be bold? shall I t her? Foresters I i 125 while the lark flies up and t'es heaven! „ I ii 315 where twelve Can stand upright, nor t each other. „ III 310
He dies who dares to t thee. „ IV 734
Touch'd if I And others made that move I t upon, Queen Mary III i 445 when she t on thee, She stammer'd in her hate; Harold I ii 35 scarce t or tasted The splendours of our Court. „ II ii 174 so still I reach'd my hand and t; Becket V ii 235
I almost t her—A maiden slowly The Cup I i 7
Why no, he never t upon the stag. „ I ii 383
Who t me then? I thank you. „ II 532 niver t a drop of owt till my oän wedding-daäy, Prom. of May I 362
For tho' we t at many pirate ports, Foresters IV 983
Touching That those old statutes t Lollardism Queen Mary III iv 7
T the sacrament in that same book „ IV iii 263
Yet he can scarce be t upon those, Becket III iii 27 would not blur A moth's wing by the t; Prom. of May II 492
Toulouse (See also Thoulouse) and won the violet at T; Becket, Pro. 348
Tourney He wore thy colours once at a t. Foresters I i 250 Tower (See also Church-tower, Tree-tower) going now to the T to loose the prisoners Queen Mary I i 109 Officers Are here in force to take you to the T. „ I ii 109 you late were loosed from out the T, „ I iv 50
my Lord; I see you in the T again. „ I iv 80
So many years in yon accursed T— „ I iv 200 saying of this Lady Jane, Now in the T? „ I v 38 Earl of Devon? I freed him from the T, „ I v 163 then if caught, to the T. Renard. The T! „ I v 469 but your old Traitors of the T— „ I v 484 he loved the more His own gray t's, „ II i 49 every parish t Shall clang and clash alarum „ II i 228 demanded Possession of her person and the T. „ II ii 41 Seek to possess our person, hold our T, „ II ii 159 ordnance On the White T and on the Devil's T, „ II iii 44

Tower (continued) you'll make the White T a black 'un Queen Mary II iii 100 you'll set the Divil's T a-spitting, „ II iii 102
Pass, then, I pray your Highness, to the T. „ II iv 32
I shall but be their prisoner in the T. „ II iv 34
The Queen must to the T. „ II iv 73
To the T with him ! (repeat) „ II iv 97, 102
the T, the T, always the T, I shall grow into it—
I shall be the T. „ II iv 103
To the T with her ! „ II iv 118
Hath no more mortice than a t of cards ; „ III i 442
Her Grace the Queen commands you to the T. „ III iii 271
By the river to the T. „ III iii 281 damp, black, dead Nights in the T ; „ III v 139
For freeing my friend Bagenhall from the T ; „ III vi 8 winds so cross and jostle among these t's. Harold II ii 156
The people know their Church a t of strength, Becket I i 16
Danaë has escaped again Her t, and her Acrisius— „ I i 396 and rifts the t to the rock, The Cup II 293
O t spiring to the sky, Prom. of May III 203 or closed For ever in a Moorish t, Foresters II i 656 Towering See Out-towering
Towld (told) summun t summun o' owld Bishop Gardiner's end ; Queen Mary IV iii 502
Town and we cannot burn whole t's ; they are many, „ III iv 175
And there be many heretics in the t, „ IV ii 31
the t Hung out raw hides along their walls, Harold II ii 382
My lord, the t is quiet, and the moon Divides Becket I i 364
Much corn, repeopled t's, a realm again. „ I iii 377
Close the great gate—ho, there—upon the t. „ V ii 531
They are thronging in to vespers—half the t. „ V iii 140
The t lay still in the low sun-light, Prom. of May I 37 a red fire woke in the heart of the t, „ I 50
Richard sacks and wastes a t With random pillage, Foresters IV 377
Towser (a dog's name) I'll hev the winder naäiled up, and put T under it. Prom. of May I 420
T'll tear him all to pieces. „ I 423
Toy They have taken away the t thou gavest me, Harold II ii 106
I like to have my t's, and break them too. „ II ii 112
To-year (this year) they'll hev' a fine cider-crop t-y if the blossom 'owds. Prom. of May I 316
Trace Let the dead letter live ! T it in fire, Queen Mary III iv 34 who could t a hand So wild and staggering ? The Falcon 438 but can he t me Thro' five years' absence, Prom. of May II 614 Traced T in the blackest text of Hell—' Thou shalt ! ' Queen Mary III i 426
Track (s) most beaten t Runs thro' the forest, Foresters III 89
Track (verb) t her, if thou canst, even into the King's lodging, Becket, Pro. 507
If you t this Sinnatus In any treason, The Cup I i 162
Track'd Have t the King to this dark inland wood ; Becket III ii 3
Judas-lover of our passion-play Hath t us hither. „ IV ii 138
Tractate His t upon True Obedience, Queen Mary IV i 92
Tracy (Sir William de, knight of the household of King Henry II.) (See also De Tracy) T, what dost thou here ? Becket I i 234 France ! Ha ! De Morville, T, Brito—fled is he ? „ I iv 199 —on a Tuesday—T ! God help thee ! „ V ii 295 Strike him, T ! Rosamund. No, No, No, No ! „ V iii 169
Nay, nay, good T. Fitzurse. Answer not, „ V iii 185
Trade With all your t's, and guilds, and companies. Queen Mary II ii 297
That you may thrive, but in some kindlier t. Foresters III 253
There is a t of genius, there's glory ! „ IV 375
Tradition Customs, t's,—clouds that come and go ; Becket I iii 22 Marriage is but an old t. I hate T's, Prom. of May I 491 violated the whole T of our land, „ I 496
Thrones, churches, ranks, t's, customs, „ I 519
Traffick'd you have t Between the Emperor and the Pope, Becket II ii 67
Tragedy A comedy meant to seem a t— „ IV ii 322
Tragic You are too t : both of us are players „ V i 187
Train Captain Brett, who went with your t bands To fight with Wyatt, Queen Mary II ii 27
Train'd (See also Full-train'd) Good dogs, my liege, well t, Becket, Pro. 120
Traitor (adj.) She cannot pass her t council by, Queen Mary I ii 40
The t husband dangled at the door, And when the t wife came out for bread „ III i 10
Traitor (adj.) (continued) But with Cecil's aid And others, if our person be secured From t stabs— Queen Mary V v 281
Traitors are rarely bred Save under t kings. Foresters II i 81
If you would marry me with a t sheriff, „ IV 870
Traitor (s) down with all t's ! Queen Mary I i 66 shall I turn t ? „ I iv 6
He cannot touch you save that you turn t ; „ I iv 272
the King—that t past forgiveness, „ I v 28 being t Her head will fall : „ I v 59 but your old T's of the Tower— „ I v 484 Sent Cornwallis and Hastings to the t, „ II ii 32
Her name is much abused among these t's. „ II ii 111 a t so presumptuous As this same Wyatt, „ II ii 179
He is child and fool, and t to the State. „ II ii 403
' Whosoever will apprehend the t Thomas Wyatt „ II iii 60
The t ! treason ! Pembroke ! „ II iv 35 will do you right Against all t's. „ II iv 68 and the t flying To Temple Bar, „ II iv 92
As t, or as heretic, or for what ? „ III iii 272 all t's Against our royal state have lost the heads „ III iv 2
For heretic and t are all one : „ III iv 38
He hath been a t, „ IV iii 39
Liar ! dissembler ! t ! to the fire ! „ IV iii 259
King Henry warms your t's at his hearth. „ V i 123
What t spoke ? Here, let my cousin Pole „ V ii 243
Methought some t smote me on the head. „ V ii 252
Noailles wrote To that dead t, Wyatt, „ V ii 498
It frights the t more to maim and blind. Harold II ii 503
All t's fail like Tostig ! „ IV iii 79
Not fight—tho' somehow t to the King— Becket I i 112
Let t be ; For how have fought thine utmost „ I i 116
What did the t say ? „ I iii 470 it is the t that imputes Treachery to his King ! „ I iii 483
There, there, there ! t, t, t ! „ I iii 737
How, do you make me a t ? „ III iii 241
Nor make me t to my holy office. „ V ii 149
He makes the King a t, me a liar. „ V ii 416 charge you that ye keep This t from escaping. „ V ii 511
Where is the t Becket ? Becket V iii 103
Where is this treble t to the King ? „ V iii 108
No t to the King, but Priest of God, „ V iii 112
The t 's dead, and will arise no more. „ V iii 200
Or man, or woman, as t's unto Rome. The Cup I iii 9
Hang'd at mid-day, their t of the dawn „ II 123
T's are rarely bred Save under traitor kings. Foresters II i 79
We robb'd the t's that are leagued with John ; „ III 159 serve King Richard save thou be A t or a goose ? „ IV 353 a t coming In Richard's name— „ IV 780
I never found one t in my band. „ IV 836
You both are utter t's to your king. „ IV 844
If you would marry me with a traitor sheriff, I fear I might prove t with the sheriff. „ IV 872
I can defend my cause against the t's Who fain would make me t. „ IV 899
Traitor-brother Our dear, dead, t-b, Tostig, Harold IV iii 83
Traitor-heretic So there be Some t-h, Queen Mary III iv 47
Centaur of a monstrous Commonweal, The t-h) „ III iv 165
Traitorous Make not thy King a t murderer. Becket I iii 500
Traitress T ! Rosamund. A faithful t to thy royal fame. „ II i 96
Tramp You are those that t the country, Foresters III 198
Trample And let the Pope t our rights, Queen Mary III iv 362 but t's flat Whatever thwarts him ; Harold II ii 378
And I shall live to t on thy grave. Becket I ii 95
From off the stalk and t it in the mire, Foresters I ii 110 Trampled And t on the rights of Canterbury. Becket V ii 394 state more cruelly t on Than had she never moved. The Cup I ii 145
Crush'd, hack'd at, t underfoot. The Falcon 640
And boast that he hath t it. Foresters I ii 112
All our rings be t out. „ II ii 167
Trampling T thy mother's bosom into blood ? Harold IV ii 26
Trance Wait he must—Her t again. Queen Mary V ii 404
Transact as I used to t all his business for him, Prom. of May II 719
Translated if I took and t that hard heart Becket, Pro. 379
Translating T his captivity from Guy Harold II ii 42

Transparent his frail t hand, Damp with the sweat of death, Queen Mary I ii 31
Trap Would help thee from the t. Harold I i 383
Travel this young Earl was sent on foreign t, Queen Mary V ii 490
Travell'd The past is like a t land now sunk Below the horizon— The Cup II 230
Traveller And cheer his blindness with a t's tales? Prom. of May II 515
Treachery it is the traitor that imputes T to his King! Becket I iii 485
What! dare you charge the King with t? „ V ii 397
Tread Ay, sir; she needs must t upon them. Queen Mary I iii 9
That t the kings their children under-heel— Becket, Pro. 213
The priests of Baal t her underfoot— „ III iii 179
If you will deign to t a measure with me. Foresters I ii 132
Treason so it be not t. Queen Mary I i 7
They'd smile you into t—some of them. „ I iv 276
But hatch you some new t in the woods. „ I v 465
Or tamperers with that t out of Kent. „ II ii 11
They have betrayed the t of their hearts: „ II ii 156
The traitor! t! Pembroke! Ladies. T! t! „ II iv 35
To still the petty t therewithin, „ III i 13 said she was condemn'd to die for t; „ III i 378
I had to cuff the rogue For infant t. „ III iii 52 with full proof Of Courtenay's t? „ V ii 499 you were burnt for heresy, not for t, „ V v 140
Which in your sense is t. The Cup I i 79
If you track this Sinnatus In any t, „ I i 163
Treasonous Wherewith they plotted in their t malice, Queen Mary III iv 4
Treasure There lies a t buried down in Ely: Harold III i 11
Treasure-house Who brake into Lord Tostig's t-h „ IV i 114
Treasury Is the King's t A fit place for the monies Becket I iii 104 Cast them into our t, the beggars' mites. Foresters III 204 take the twenty-seven marks to the captain's t. „ III 295
One half shall pass into our t. „ III 305
Out of our t to redeem the land. „ IV 493
Treat Feigning to t with him about her marriage— Queen Mary II ii 33
Treated if you be fairly served, And lodged, and t. „ V iii 22
Treaty fain have some fresh t drawn between you. „ I v 261
Why some fresh t? wherefore should I do it? „ I v 263 maintain All former treaties with his Majesty. „ I v 266 understand We made thereto no t of ourselves, „ II ii 203 clauses added To that same t which the emperor „ III iii 69 broken Your bond of peace, your t with the King— Becket V ii 350 Treble —for to wed with Spain Would t England— Queen Mary I v 76 would t and quadruple it With revenues, Becket V ii 345
Where is this t traitor to the King? „ V iii 108
T denial of the tongue of flesh, Harold III i 281
Treble-brandish'd Yon grimly-glaring, t-b scourge Of England! „ I i 3
Tree t that only bears dead fruit is gone. Stafford. Queen Mary III i 19
What t, sir? Bagenhall. Well, the t in Virgil, Harold I i 327
Like the rough bear beneath the t, „ III i 8
Dry as an old wood-fungus on a dead t, „ III i 132
The green t! Then a great Angel past „ III i 137 cleft the t From off the bearing trunk, „ III i 144 sunder'd t again, and set it Straight on the trunk, Becket, Pro. 111
Men are God's t's, and women are God's flowers; Pro. 115
The t's are all the statelier, and the flowers „ III i 105
Kiss in the bower, Tit on the t! „ IV i 47
By this t; but I don't know if I can find The Cup I ii 403 vast vine-bowers Ran to the summit of the t's, The Falcon 562
t that my lord himself planted here „ 685 prunes, my lady, from the t that his lordship— Prom. of May I 58
And a salt wind burnt the blossoming t's; „ I 83
No, not that way—here, under the apple t. Foresters I iii 24
Like April sap to the topmost t, „ II i 12, 24
Beneath the greenwood t. (repeat) „ III 48
I'll watch him from behind the t's, „ III 35
Tree-Cupid Those sweet t-C's half-way up in heaven, Becket III i 43
Tree-tower Yet these t-t's, Their long bird-echoing Queen Mary I v 393
Tremble Until your throne had ceased to t. „ III iv 130
But when did our Rome t? The Cup I ii 272
I have made her t. Prom. of May III 798 fiercest storm That ever made earth t— Queen Mary III iv 128
Trembled T for her own gods, for these were trembling—
Trembled (continued) It was the shadow of the Church that t; Queen Mary III iv 145
Trembling Your Highness is all t. Mary. Make way. „ I v 594 Trembled for her own gods, for these were t— „ III iv 129 will set it t Only to base it deeper. Becket, Pro. 209 thy flock should catch An after ague-fit of t. „ III iii 33
But you are t. Prom. of May II 573
Tremulous and one Steadying the t pillars of the Church— Queen Mary I v 517
The soft and t coward in the flesh? „ IV ii 107
Trench and driven back The Frenchmen from their t'es? „ V ii 258
The t'es dug, the palisades uprear'd Harold V i 189
Trenching am I t on the time That should already Queen Mary I ii 78
Trespass Let this be thy last t. Becket V ii 165
Trespassed by force and arms hath t against the king in divers manners, Foresters I iii 63
Tress nun Vying a t against our golden fern. Harold V i 149
Trial At your t Never stood up a bolder man than you; Queen Mary IV ii 121
If the King Condemn us without t, Foresters IV 902
Tribe His swaddling-bands, the morals of the t, Prom. of May I 587
Tributary This t crown may fall to you. The Cup I i 97
There then I rest, Rome's t king. „ I iii 156
And t sovereigns, he and I Might teach this Rome— „ II 95
Tribute to enforce The long-withholden t: „ I i 77
Antonius To-morrow will demand your t— „ I ii 97
Where to lay on her t—heavily here And lightly there. „ II 98
Trick I will be there; the fellow's at his t's— Queen Mary I iii 157
You have an old t of offending us; „ III iv 315
Ay, my girl, no t's in him— Harold V i 401 Truth! no; a lie; a t, a Norman t! „ V i 606 a shift, a t Whereby to challenge, Becket II ii 164
It is the t of the family, my lord. Foresters I iii 151
Trick'd Daughter, the world hath t thee. Becket IV ii 364
The world hath t her—that's the King; „ IV ii 375
Trickery To reign is restless fence, Tierce, quart, and t. Queen Mary V v 267
Trickster See Fellow-trickster
Trie (Sir Engelram de) See Engelram de Trie
Tried If I t her and la—she's amorous. Queen Mary I iv 17
As the first flower no bee has ever t. „ I iv 63 whether between laymen or clerics, shall be t in the King's court.' Becket I iii 80
he shall answer to the summons of the King's court to be t therein. „ I iii 89
Trifled You have but t with our homely salad, The Falcon 671
Trifling perchance were t royally With some fair dame Queen Mary III vi 159
Trinket Ring, t of the Church, Prom. of May I 598
Tripping We have our spies abroad to catch her t, Queen Mary I v 468 there's no Renard here to 'catch her t.' „ III v 160
Tript my tongue t—five hundred marks for use. Foresters IV 499 Triumph (s) The t of St. Andrew on his cross, Queen Mary IV iii 94
Triumph (verb) do t at this hour In the reborn salvation „ III iii 181
Trivial So wife-like humble to the t boy „ III i 364
Trod I t upon him even now, my lord, in my hurry, The Falcon 409
Trodden For thou hast t this wine-press alone. Becket III iii 290 Becket hath t on us like worms, my liege; T one half dead; „ V i 61 they have t it for half a thousand years, Foresters I i 333
Troop when a t, Laden with booty and with a flag The Falcon 611
A t of horse—— Filippo. Five hundred! „ 617
Troops Your t were never down in Italy. Queen Mary V ii 315
Trope Here be t's. Pole. And t's are good to clothe „ III iv 149
T's again! Pole. You are hard to please. Then without t's, my Lord, „ III iv 153
Troth T, they be both bastards by Act of Parliament „ I i 23
Is it so fine? T, some have said so. „ V iii 54
Troubadour for I am a T, you know, Becket, Pro. 347
—a t, You play with words. „ IV ii 180
Trouble (s) all Your t to the dogstar and the devil. Queen Mary I iv 292
But the wench Hath her own t's; „ III v 262
She would have seen at once into my t, Prom. of May I 554
I have been in t, but I am happy— „ I 788
Indeed, you seem'd in t, sir. „ II 385 Trouble (verb) 'I would they were cut off That t you.' Queen Mary III iv 33 yet she must have him; She t's England: „ III vi 49

Trouble (verb) (continued) I had forgotten How these poor libels t you. Queen Mary v ii 202 he hath fallen Into a sickness, and it t's me. The Falcon 310
I have been unwilling to t you with questions, Prom. of May III 321
Troubled The King looks t. Becket II ii 425
The Parliament as well, came t waters; Queen Mary II ii 50
You know, my lord, I told you I was t. The Falcon 677
But you look t. Prom. of May I 549
Trout leästwaäys they niver cooms 'ere but fur the t i' our beck, „ I 212
Trow Nay, I t not: and you shall see, Queen Mary IV iii 322
Trucida Illos t, Domine. Harold V i 515
Trucidatur Pastor fugatur Grex t— „ V i 514
Truckled For you yourself have t to the tyrant, Queen Mary III iv 236
Truckler And let him call me t. „ III iv 355
What, what, a t! a word-eating coward! Foresters IV 161
True I was born t man at five in the forenoon Queen Mary I i 45
I was born of a t man and a ring'd wife, „ I i 54
T, Mary was born, „ I ii 65 and sever'd from the faith, will return into the one t fold, „ I iii 22
Art thou of the t faith, fellow, „ I iii 45 hath begun to re-edify the t temple— „ I iii 58
the hatred of another to us Is no t bond of friendship. „ I iv 46
Nay, I meant T matters of the heart. „ I iv 100
No, being of the t faith with myself. „ I v 74
And when your Highness talks of Courtenay—Ay, t—a goodly one. „ I v 200
Indeed, if that were t—For Philip comes, one hand in mine, „ I v 514 and we pray That we, your t and loyal citizens, „ II ii 135
And if he jeer not seeing the t man Behind his folly, „ II ii 400 that I live and die The t and faithful bride of Philip— „ II iv 43 tho' a t one, Blazed false upon her heart. „ III i 68
Did not Lord Suffolk die like a t man? Is not Lord William Howard a t man? „ III i 164
t enough Her dark dead blood is in my heart with mine. „ III i 347
Said 'You will give me my t crown at last, „ III i 395
T, good cousin Pole; „ III ii 68
T, cousin, I am happy. „ III ii 113
T, and I am the Angel of the Pope. „ III ii 144
T; the provinces Are hard to rule and must be hardly ruled; „ III ii 200
And whether this flash of news be false or t, „ III ii 235
And on the steep-up track of the t faith Your lapses are far seen. „ III iv 94
call they not The one t faith, a loathsome idol-worship? „ III iv 219
What hath your Highness written? Elizabeth. A t rhyme. „ III v 24
I woke Sir Henry—and he's t to you—I read his honest horror in his eyes. Elizabeth. Or t to you? Lady. Sir Henry Bedingfield! I will have no man t to me, your Grace, „ III v 60 says she will live And die t maid—a goodly creature too. „ III vi 46
You say t, Madam. „ III vi 198
I cannot be T to this realm of England „ IV i 27
His tractate upon T Obedience, Writ by himself and Bonner? „ IV i 92
Of the t Church; but his is none, nor will be. „ IV i 148
Have you remain'd in the t Catholic faith I left you in? „ IV ii 17
In the t Catholic faith, By Heaven's grace, I am more and more confirm'd. „ IV ii 20 and proclaim Your t undoubted faith, that all may hear. „ IV iii 114
Sir Nicholas tells you t, And you must look to Calais when I go. „ V i 16
For Alva is t son of the t church— „ V i 159
Why, who said that? I know not—t enough! „ V ii 209 Died in the t faith? „ V ii 518 and I have seen the t men of Christ lying famine-dead by scores, „ V iv 38
Ay, worse than that—not one hour t to me! „ V v 159
Tostig says t; my son, thou art too hard, Harold I i 205 till the t must Shall make her strike as Power: „ I i 367
T, that the battle-axe Was out of place; „ I ii 104
True (continued) And that were t enough. Harold I ii 169
Speak for thy mother's sake, and tell me t. „ II ii 272
Is naked truth actable in t life? „ III i 109
That, were a man of state nakedly t, „ III i 113
Tho' somewhat less a king to my t self „ III ii 53
They are not so t, They change their mates. „ III ii 104
Hear King Harold! he says t! „ IV i 61
That is t! (repeat) „ IV i 67, 88
I yield it freely, being the t wife Of this dead King, „ V ii 84
Not t, my girl, here is the Queen! „ V ii 91
Will none among you all Bear me t witness—only for this once— „ V ii 115 pray God My Normans may but move as t with me To the door of death. „ V ii 184 whom the king Loves not as statesman, but t lover and friend. Becket, Pro. 80
And so this Rosamund, my t heart-wife, „ Pro. 130
I, t son Of Holy Church—no croucher to the Gregories „ Pro. 210
T enough, my mind was set upon other matters. „ Pro. 317
T, one rose will outblossom the rest, one rose in a bower. „ Pro. 345
T, and I have an inherited loathing of these black sheep of the Papacy. „ Pro. 460
May the hand that next Inherits thee be but as t to thee As mine hath been! „ I i 358
T! Tho' she that binds the bond, „ I ii 75
t To either function, holding it; „ I iii 537
t too, that when written I sign'd them—being a fool, „ I iii 559
I had been so t To Henry and mine office „ I iii 692
T test of coward, ye follow with a yell. „ I iii 745 had they remained t to me whose bread they have partaken. „ I iv 149
O Rosamund, I would be t—would tell thee all— „ II i 205
'Tis t what Becket told me, that the mother Would make him play „ II ii 9 and pray God she prove T wife to you. „ II ii 79
The crowd that hungers for a crown in Heaven Is my t king. Herbert. Thy t King bad thee be A fisher of men; „ II ii 284
And, being scratch'd, returns to his t rose, „ III i 249
Almost as many as your t Mussulman— „ IV ii 34
The more the pity then That thy t home—the heavens—cry out for thee „ IV ii 132
Play! . . . that bosom never Heaved under the King's hand with such t passion „ IV ii 190
Why? for I am t wife, and have my fears Lest Becket thrust you „ V i 157 who shall be t To the Roman: The Cup I i 94
I am most t to Rome. „ I i 154
You saw my hounds T to the scent; and we have two-legg'd dogs Among us who can smell a t occasion, „ I ii 111 that being Tetrarch once His own t people cast him from their doors „ I ii 351
T; and my friends may spy him And slay him as he runs. „ I ii 390
Yet if she be a t and loving wife She may, „ I iii 32 mine own dagger driven by Synorix found All good in the t heart of Sinnatus, „ II 87
Antonius, tell the Senate I have been most t to Rome—would have been t To her—if—if— „ II 483
I can tell you T tears that year were shed for you in Florence. The Falcon 384
T; for the senses, love, are for the world; Prom. of May I 580
The t ones—nay, and those not t enough, „ I 660
That was the only t love; and I trusted— „ I 712
For me an' my Sally we swëar'd to be t, „ II 205
'To be t to each other, let 'appen what maäy, (repeat) Prom. of May II 206, 236, 257
It mun be t, fur it wur i' print as black as owt. Prom. of May II 730 and a t and lasting love for me: „ III 172 which is my dream of a t marriage. „ III 179
If thro' the want of any—I mean the t one— „ III 550
T, I have held opinions, hold some still, „ III 622
No! by this t kiss, you are the first I ever have loved truly. „ III 647 inasmuch as I am a t believer in t love myself, Foresters I i 162
There never was an Earl so t a friend of the people „ I i 188
We will be beggar'd then and be t to the King. „ I i 202

True (continued) A question that every t man asks of a woman once in his life. Foresters I ii 138
T, for through John I had my sheriffship. „ I ii 200
That is no t man's hand. I hate hidden faces. „ I ii 244
T, were I taken They would prick out my sight. „ II i 71 there lives No man who truly loves and truly rules His following, but can keep his followers t. „ II i 78
T king of vice—t play on words— „ II i 83
T soul of the Saxon churl for whom song has no charm. „ II i 385 this is a t woodman's bow of the best yew-wood „ II i 392
Lovers hold T love immortal. „ II i 616
I ever held that saying false That Love is blind, but thou hast proven it t. „ II i 645
O Kate, t love and jealousy are twins, „ II ii 62
T, she is a goodly thing. „ II ii 140
She is t, and you are t, „ II ii 194
Scarlet told me—is it t? „ III 146
We never robb'd one friend of the t King. „ III 157
so His own t wife came with him, „ III 240
Join them and they are a t marriage; „ III 421
Love's falsehood to t maid will seal Love's truth „ IV 73 is not he that goes against the king and the law the t king in the sight of the King of kings? „ IV 230
if our t Robin Be not the nobler lion of the twain. „ IV 394 Blown like a t son of the woods. Farewell! „ IV 427
Our bowmen are so t They strike the deer at once to death— „ IV 524
Mine eye most t to one hair's-breadth of aim. „ IV 694
The King forbad it. T, my liege. „ IV 865

True-born Nay, it means t-b. Queen Mary I i 14
Parliament can make every t-b man of us a bastard. „ I i 27

Truer That's a t fear! Harold I ii 66
Purer, and t and nobler than herself; Becket II i 172
For all my t life begins to-day. The Cup II 229

Truest Here fell the t, manliest hearts of England. Harold V ii 58
As some cold-manner'd friend may strangely do us The t service, The Falcon 644

Trumpet Hark! the t's. Queen Mary I i 64
And after that, the t of the dead. Why, there are t's blowing now: what is it? „ IV ii 12
Why are the t's blowing, Father Cole? „ IV ii 23 blow the t, priest! Harold III i 188
Were the great t blowing doomsday dawn, „ V i 227 t's in the halls, Sobs, laughter, cries: Becket V ii 367
Tho' all the loud-lung'd t's upon earth „ V ii 487
The t's of the fight had echo'd down, The Falcon 605 stillness in the grave By the last t. Foresters II i 48

Trunk cleft the tree From off the bearing t, Harold III i 138
he soak'd the t with human blood, „ III i 142 sunder'd tree again, and set it Straight on the t, „ III i 146

Trunk-hose white satin his t-h, Inwrought with silver,— Queen Mary III i 76 tail like a devil under his t-h. Tailor. Ay, but see what t-h's! „ III i 224

Truss Seize him and t him up, and carry her off. Foresters IV 690

Trust (s) to whom The king, my father, did commit his t; Queen Mary II ii 208
I have lost all t in him. Becket II ii 434
Thomas, I would there were that perfect t between us, „ III iii 264
That perfect t may come again between us, „ III iii 351

Trust (verb) I t it is but a rumour. Queen Mary I i 107
Nay; not so long I t. „ I iii 141
I t that he will carry you well to-day, „ I iv 145
So you still care to t him somewhat less „ I v 221
Farewell, and t me, Philip is yours. „ I v 540
I t the Queen comes hither with her guards. „ II ii 1
Trusted than t—the scoundrel— „ II ii 39
I will t you. We fling ourselves on you, „ II ii 47
And it would be your comfort, as I t; „ II ii 225
And will not t your voices. „ II ii 259
I t this day, thro' God, I have saved the crown. „ II ii 302
I t by this your Highness will allow „ II iv 132
I t that you would fight along with us. „ III i 457
No, for we t they parted in the swine. „ III ii 142
You will be, we t, Sometime the viceroy „ III ii 195
I t your Grace is well. „ V ii 551
I t that God will make you happy yet. „ V v 76

Trust (verb) (continued) I t the kingly touch that cures the evil Harold I i 151
Nay, I t not, For I have served thee long „ I i 213
I t he may do well, this Gamel, „ I ii 190
Were I Thomas, I wouldn't t it. Becket III iii 59
Have I sown it in salt? I t not, „ III iii 320
You said you couldn't t Margery, „ IV ii 15
We t your Royal Grace, lord of more land „ V i 28
I durst not t him with—my serving Rome The Cup I ii 277
I t, my dear, we shall be always friends. Prom. of May I 631 and you, a gentleman, Told me to t you: „ I 710
I t I shall forgive him—by-and-by— „ II 465
I t I may be able by-and-by to help you in the business of the farm; „ III 222
I t he will, but if he do not I and thou Foresters II 199 can I t myself With your brave band? „ II i 703
I t We shall return to the wood. „ IV 1051 never I t to roam So far again, „ IV 1099

Trusted T than trust—the scoundrel— Queen Mary II ii 39
And t God would save her thro' the blood „ III i 386 priest whom John of Salisbury t Hath sent another. Becket III i 70
That was the only true love; and I t— Prom. of May I 713 and he t that some time we should meet again, „ III 328

Trustful A child, and all as t as a child! „ III 759 one of you Shamed a too t widow whom you heard Foresters III 385

Trustless Hast thou such t jailors in thy North? Harold II ii 685

Trusty Your faithful friend and t councillor. Queen Mary IV i 89

Truth in t I had meant to crave Permission „ I iv 234
Make no allowance for the naked t. „ I v 329
Statesmen that are wise Take t herself for model. „ III iii 37 tropes are good to clothe a naked t, „ III iv 151
Cut with a diamond; so to last like t. Elizabeth. Ay, if t last. Lady. But t, they say, „ III v 26
T, a word! The very T and very Word are one. „ III v 31
But t of story, which I glanced at, girl, „ III v 33 into the daylight t That it may fall to-day! „ III v 136 rage of one who hates a t He cannot but allow. „ III vi 144
Then never read it. The t is here. „ IV i 100
The t of God, which I had proven and known. „ IV iii 149 saying spoken once By Him that was the t, „ IV iii 203 Against the t I knew within my heart, „ IV iii 241 hour has come For utter t and plainness; „ IV iii 273
So in t he said. Harold II ii 263
Is it not better still to speak the t? „ II ii 374 Welshman says, 'The T against the World,' Much more the t against myself. „ II ii 398 for thou Art known a speaker of the t, „ II ii 517
When all the world hath learnt to speak the t, „ III i 69
I that so prized plain word and naked t „ III i 94
By all the t's that ever priest hath preach'd, „ III i 97
Is naked t actable in true life? „ III i 109 thought that naked T would shame the Devil „ III i 118 the t Was lost in that fierce North, „ III ii 25 in the eternal distance To settle on the T. „ III ii 103
if the t be gall, Cram me not thou with honey, „ IV i 15
If one may dare to speak the t, „ IV i 108
—a sin against The t of love. „ V i 171
the God of t hath heard my cry. „ V i 600
T! no; a lie; a trick, a Norman trick! „ V i 606 or any harm done to the people if my jest be in defence of the T? Becket II ii 340 Till T herself be shamed of her defender. „ II ii 344 some dreadful t is breaking on me— „ III i 266
Earth's falses are heaven's t's. „ III iii 348
But for the t of this I make appeal „ V ii 403
Not if Sinnatus Has told her all the t about me. The Cup I iii 23
That must be talk, not t, but t or talk, The Falcon 232 yet to speak white t, my good old mother, „ 503 and t to say, Sir Richard and my Lady Marian Foresters I i 29
We old hags should be bribed to speak t, „ II i 237
They have told but a tenth of the t: „ III 291 will seal Love's t On those sweet lips „ IV 74
Boldness is in the blood, T in the bottle. „ IV 240
Damsel, is this the t? Marian. Ay, noble knight. „ IV 770
Even this brawler of harsh t's—I trust Half t's, „ IV 948

Truthful being t wrought upon to swear Vows Harold II ii 76
For thou art t, and thy word thy bond. „ II ii 645
Thanks, t Earl; I did not doubt thy word, „ II ii 723
And wise, yea t, till that blighted vow „ V ii 155
Try Are you the bee to t me? Queen Mary I iv 64
Shall I t If this be one of such? „ V ii 331
Go t it, play. Becket II i 246
Why do you jest with me, and t To fright me? Prom. of May I 665
I saved him. I will t him. Foresters I i 274
Well, then, let me t. „ IV 256
Take him and t him, friar. „ IV 268
T me an hour hence. „ IV 276
T, thyself, valorous Robin! „ IV 314
Trying (See also A-tryin') like the gravedigger's child I have heard of, t to ring the bell, Becket III iii 74
Tuck (Friar) See Friar Tuck
Tudor but I am T, And shall control them. Queen Mary I v 175
I am Harry's daughter, T, and not Fear. „ II iv 52
Bagenhall, I see The T green and white. „ III i 180
Thou last of all the T's, come away! „ III v 151 a T School'd by the shadow of death— „ V v 225 a Boleyn, too, Glancing across the T— „ V v 228
Tuesday the Archbishop washed my feet o' T. Becket I iv 234
What day of the week? T? Salisbury. T, my lord. Becket. On a T was I born, and on a T Baptized; and on a T did I fly Forth from Northampton; on a T pass'd From England into bitter banishment; On a T at Pontigny came to me The ghostly warning of my martyrdom; On a T from mine exile I return'd, And on a T—on a T— „ V ii 282 nine o'clock, upo' T murnin', Prom. of May III 136
She broke my head on T with a dish. Foresters I iii 133
Tuk (taken) and tells un ez the fire has t holt. Queen Mary IV iii 512 Tumble first put up your hair; It t's all abroad. „ V ii 233 sea shall roll me back To t at thy feet. Harold I ii 115
Tumbled The hog hath t himself into some corner, Becket I i 369 Tune Thou playest in t. Harold I i 384 my voice is harsh here, not in t, Becket, Pro. 349
Did I not sing it in t? Robin. No, sweetheart! out of t with Love and me. Marian. And yet in t with Nature and the bees. Robin. Out on it, I say, as out of t and time! Foresters IV 29
Tunis T, and Oran, and the Philippines, Queen Mary V i 48
Turban And cleft the Moslem t at my side. Foresters IV 1001
Turbulent for I must hence to brave The Pope, King Louis, and this t priest. Becket II i 312
Turk T shot her as she was helping to build Foresters II i 308
Turmoil I cannot brook the t thou hast raised. Becket I iii 575
Turn (s) Thy t, Galatian King. The Cup II 379
wheere the big eshtree cuts athurt it, it gi'es a t like, Prom. of May III 95 Turn (verb) shall I t traitor? Queen Mary I iv 5 cannot touch you save that you t traitor; „ I iv 271 this or that way, of success Would t it thither. „ II ii 101
I am sorry for it If Pole be like to t. „ III iv 416
Or would you have me t a sonneteer, „ III vi 154
She t's again. „ V v 12 let them t from left to right And sleep again. Harold I i 195 to t and bite the hand Would help thee from the trap. „ I i 381
But lest we t the scale of courtesy „ II ii 164
He t's not right or left, but tramples flat „ II ii 378
t not thou Thy face away, „ III ii 38
They t on the pursuer, horse against foot, „ V i 608 and t the world upside down. Becket II i 238
I promise thee not to t the world upside down. „ II i 242 to t anyway and play with as thou wilt— „ II i 244 Take heed be do not t and rend you too: „ II ii 160 and t me Mussulman! „ II ii 223 she t's down the path through our little vineyard, The Falcon 167
And welcome t's a cottage to a palace. „ 272 but you t right ugly when you're in an ill temper; Prom. of May I 159 to t out boäth my darters right down fine laädies. „ I 336
Theer! he t's round. „ II 586
t back at times, and make Courtesy to custom? „ II 633
'T! t!' but I forget it. Foresters I iii 155
Turncoat —and that, t shaveling! Becket I iii 736

Turn'd The word has t your Highness pale; Queen Mary I v 471
This Gardiner t his coat in Henry's time; „ III iii 16 hath t so often, He knows not where he stands, „ III iv 418
And the poor son t out into the street „ V ii 125
Have t from right to left. Harold I i 193 then I t, and saw the church all fill'd „ I ii 81
The millwheel t in blood; Becket I iii 353
North-east took and t him South-west, then the South-west t him North-east, „ II ii 321
there they go—both backs are t to me— „ II ii 454 sure my dagger was a feint Till the worm t— „ IV ii 380 an' then I wur t huppads o' sixty. Prom. of May I 363 lanker than an old horse t out to die on the common. Foresters I i 51
I that have t their Moslem crescent pale— „ IV 792
Turning (adj.) There was a song he made to the t wheel— „ I iii 153
Turning (s) He knows the twists and t's of the place. Becket V ii 576
Turtle Here His t builds; his exit is our adit: „ III ii 7
Tussle flying from the heat and t, Queen Mary III iv 252
Tut T, t, I have absolved thee: Harold III i 104
T, t! did we convene This conference Becket II ii 88
T, the chance gone, She lives— „ IV ii 413
Tutelar And all the t Saints of Canterbury. „ V iii 167
Twang Why, that wur the very t on 'im. Prom. of May II 733
Twelve To go t months in bearing of a child? Queen Mary III vi 90
Don Carlos, Madam, is but t years old. „ V iii 87
T years of service! England loves thee for it. Harold I i 221
And after those t years a boon, my king, „ I i 225
Dream'd that t stars fell glittering out of heaven Becket I i 46
The spirit of the t Apostles enter'd Into thy making. „ I i 50
A supper for t mites. The Falcon 127
Twenty (See also Four-and-twenty) Thus, after t years of banishment, Queen Mary III ii 46
After my t years of banishment, „ V ii 69
There runs a shallow brook across our field For t miles, „ V v 84
Father Philip that has confessed our mother for t years, Becket III i 112
No, to the crypt! T steps down. „ V iii 78
Not t steps, but one. „ V iii 90 where t years ago Huntsman, and hound, and deer The Cup I ii 22 for Oberon fled away T thousand leagues to-day. Foresters II ii 143 but having lived For t days and nights in mail, „ IV 124
Twenty-cubit cherubim With t-c wings from wall to wall— Harold III i 184
Twenty-fold outvalues t-f The diamonds that you The Falcon 759
Twenty-seven and take the t-s marks to the captain's treasury. Foresters III 294
Twilight (adj.) A t conscience lighted thro' a chink; Harold III i 65
Twilight (s) a paleness, Like the wan t after sunset, Becket I iii 326 made the t day, And struck a shape from out the vague, „ I iii 371
In the perpetual t of a prison, The Falcon 442
t of the coming day already glimmers in the east. Foresters I ii 247
Twin (adj.) these T rubies, that are amulets against all The kisses Harold I ii 112
But you, t sister of the morning star, The Cup I iii 45
Twin (s) that lying And ruling men are fatal t's Harold III i 127
O Kate, true love and jealousy are t's, Foresters II ii 63
Yet are they t's and always go together. „ II ii 66
Twinkled The ripples t at their diamond-dance, Queen Mary III ii 10
Twist (s) He knows the t's and turnings of the place. Becket V ii 576
Twist (verb) And t it round thy neck and hang thee by it. Foresters IV 688
Twitch ran a t across his face as who should say what's to follow? Becket III iii 93
Two Bad me to tell you that she counts on you And on myself as her t hands; Queen Mary II ii 105 sitting here Between the t most high-set thrones on earth, „ III ii 106 the King And you together our t suns in one; „ III iv 19
T vipers of one breed—an amphisbæna, Each end a sting: „ III iv 39
Seeing there lie t ways to every end, „ III iv 113 their t Graces Do so dear-cousin and royal-cousin him, „ III iv 398
Of those t friars ever in my prison, „ IV ii 94
Hist! there be t old gossips—gospellers, I take it; „ IV iii 460 in Guisnes Are scarce t hundred men, „ V i 5
Nay, not t hundred. „ V ii 10 mainland over which Our flag hath floated for t hundred years Is France again. „ V ii 261

Two (continued) and there you will find written T names, Philip and Calais; Queen Mary v v 155
By mine own eyes—and these t sapphires—these Twin rubies, Harold i ii 110
I do believe My old crook'd spine would bud out t young wings „ iii i 24 lo! my t pillars, Jachin and Boaz!— „ iii i 191
T young lovers in winter weather, „ iii ii 3
And slew t hundred of his following, „ iv i 116
if our t houses Be less than brothers. „ iv i 129
Have thy t brethren sent their forces in? „ v i 342
T deaths at every swing, ran in upon us And died so, „ v i 409
Gregory bid St. Austin here Found t archbishopricks, London and York? Becket i iii 50
T sisters gliding in an equal dance, T rivers gently flowing side by side— „ i iii 444 who hath withstood t Kings to their faces for the honour of God. „ ii ii 276
He thought less of t kings than of one Roger the king of the occasion. „ iii iii 90 lest ye should draw together like t ships in a calm. „ iii iii 298
My t good friends, What matters murder'd here, or murder'd there? „ v ii 629
That ere t souls be knit for life and death, The Cup ii 359
Ay, and I left t fingers there for dead. The Falcon 653 they fell a kissin' o' one another like t sweet'arts i' the poorch Prom. of May i 22 and Vice and Virtue Are but t masks of self; „ i 538
And wheniver 'e sees t sweet'arts togither like thou and me, Sally, „ ii 163
And Sir Richard was told he might be ransomed for t thousand marks in gold. Foresters i i 64
Those t thousand marks lent me by the Abbot for the ransom of my son Walter— „ i i 263
Did t knights pass? „ ii i 230
For whom I ran into my debt to the Abbot, T thousand marks in gold. „ ii i 464
And mark'd if those t knaves from York be coming? „ iv 112
Friar, by my t bouts at quarterstaff. „ iv 267 at the far end of the glade I see t figures crawling up the hill. „ iv 333
Thou hast risk'd thy life for mine: bind these t men. „ iv 894

Two-handed And swaying his t-h sword about him, Harold v i 407

Two-legg'd t-l dogs Among us who can smell The Cup i ii 111

'Twur (it were, it was) I should saay 't ower by now. Queen Mary iv iii 475

Tyne (river) thro' all the forest land North to the T: Foresters ii i 89

Type poor Steer looks The very t of Age in a picture, Prom. of May iii 514

Typed cataract t the headlong plunge and fall Queen Mary iii iv 140

Tyranny Take fees of t, wink at sacrilege, Becket ii ii 394 both fought against the t of the kings, the Normans. Foresters i i 230
This John—this Norman t— „ i i 238

Tyrant brook nor Pope nor Spaniard here to play The t, Queen Mary i v 191
Is this the face of one who plays the t? „ i v 194 you yourself have truckled to the t, „ iii iv 237
This Tostig is, or like to be, a t; Harold i i 481
This Synorix Was Tetrarch here, and t also— The Cup i ii 183
To foil and spoil the t Beneath the greenwood tree. Foresters ii i 11 maiden freedom which Would never brook the t. „ iii 121 men will call him An Eastern t, not an English king. „ iv 904

U

Ugly Ay, but you turn right u when you're in an ill temper; Prom. of May i 159
And jealousy is wither'd, sour and u: Foresters ii ii 65

Ulcer Crutches, and itches, and leprosies, and u's, Becket i iv 255

Unadvised theretoward u Of all our Privy Council; Queen Mary ii ii 204

Unalterably U and pesteringly fond! „ v i 120

Unarmour'd And walkest here U? Foresters iv 119

Unask'd She gave her hand, u, at the farm-gate; Prom. of May ii 625

Unaware That might have leapt upon us u's. Queen Mary ii ii 295

Unbearded As helplessly as some u boy's The Cup i iii 40

Unborn The great u defender of the Faith, Queen Mary iii ii 165

Unbrotherlike O brother, most u to me, Harold v i 251

Uncanonical Old u Stigand—ask of me Who had my pallium from an Antipope! „ i i 81
Thou u fool, Wilt thou play with the thunder? „ iii i 390

Uncared upon the way to Rome Unwept, u for. Becket ii ii 410

Uncertain See Self-uncertain

Uncle Not very dangerous that way, my good u. Queen Mary i iv 167
I follow your good counsel, gracious u. „ i iv 186
Do they say so, good u? „ i iv 215
You should not play upon me. Elizabeth. No, good u. „ i iv 220
U, I am of sovereign nature, „ i iv 257
To the Pleiads, u; they have lost a sister. „ i iv 293
I am sure this body Is Alfwig, the king's u. Harold v ii 68
Have we not heard Raymond of Poitou, thine own u— Becket iv ii 247
An' how did ye leäve the owd u i' Coomberland? Prom. of May i 68
That fine, fat, hook-nosed u of mine, old Harold, „ i 509
So the owd u i' Coomberland be deäd, Miss Dora, „ ii 1
I met her first at a farm in Cumberland—Her u's. „ ii 398 some will say because I have inherited my U. „ iii 598

Uncomely Nay, what u faces, could he see you! Becket v i 201

Uncourtly Ever a rough, blunt, and u fellow— Queen Mary v v 120

Uncouth and your churches, U, unhandsome, Harold i i 165

Unction that very word 'greasy' hath a kind of u in it, Foresters i i 87

Unctuosity puffed out such an incense of u into the nostrils of our Gods of Church and State, Becket iii iii 115

Undefiled As persons u with our offence, Queen Mary iii iii 144

Underdid must we follow All that they overdid or u? Becket ii ii 214

Underdone I hope he be not u, for we be undone in the doing of him. The Falcon 557

Undereaten Except it be a soft one, And u to the fall. Harold i ii 123

Underfoot the wild hawk passing overhead, The mouldwarp u. Foresters iii 319 crackled u And in this very chamber, Queen Mary iii v 53 and u An earthquake; „ iv iii 397
The priests of Baal tread her u— Becket iii iii 179
Crush'd, hack'd at, trampled u. The Falcon 640

Undergo Or give thee saintly strength to u. Queen Mary iv iii 99 men of old would u Unpleasant for the sake of pleasant ones Hereafter, Prom. of May i 243

Underground They must have sprung like Ghosts from u, Foresters iv 593

Underhand Were fighting u unholy wars Against your lawful king. „ iv 821

Under-handedness and all left-handedness and u-h. Becket, Pro. 341

Under-heel That tread the kings their children u-h— „ Pro. 213

Understan' summat wrong theer, Wilson, fur I doänt u it. Prom. of May i 235
An' thou doänt u it neither—and thou school-master an' all. „ i 239 Cannot you u plain words, Mr. Dobson? „ ii 112

Understand (See also Understan') u We made thereto no treaty of ourselves, Queen Mary ii ii 202
U: Your lawful Prince hath come „ ii ii 259 because I am not certain: You u, Feria. „ v i 269
You u me there, too? „ v i 273

Undertake Shall I u The knight at quarterstaff, Foresters iv 247

Underwood mix with all The lusty life of wood and u, „ i iii 114

Undescendible Steam'd upward from the u Abysm. Harold i i 15

Undone I hope he be not underdone, for we be u in the doing of him. The Falcon 558

Undoubted and proclaim Your true u faith, that all may hear. Queen Mary iv iii 114

Unfamiliar marvell'd at Our u beauties of the west; Becket iv ii 303

Unfurnish'd you are all u? Give him a bow and arrows— The Cup i i 207

Unhallow'd Dash'd red with that u passover; Becket i iii 348

Unhandsome and your churches Uncouth, u, Harold i i 165

Unhappiest U Of Queens and wives and women! Queen Mary v ii 407

Unhappiness brooding Upon a great u when you spoke. Prom. of May ii 383

Unhappy and so this u land, long divided in itself, Queen Mary i iii 20
Behold him— People. Oh, u sight! „ iv iii 2
U land! Hard-natured Queen, half-Spanish in herself, „ iv iii 422
Voices—I hear u rumours—nay, I say not, I believe. „ v i 34
O this u world! How shall I break it to him? The Falcon 846
I am most unlucky, most u. „ 864

Unheard But will the King, then, judge us all u? Foresters iv 897

Unholy Were fighting underhand u wars Against your lawful king. Foresters IV 821
Uninvited knowing the fame of your hospitality, we ventured in u. „ I ii 196
Unity again received into the bosom And u of Universal Church; Queen Mary III iii 155 in this u and obedience Unto the holy see „ III iii 157 to the bosom And u of Universal Church. „ III iii 221 but now, The u of Universal Church, „ III iii 229
The u of Universal Hell, „ III iii 232
Join hands, let brethren dwell in u; Harold I i 397
In symbol of their married u, The Cup II 363
Universal Like u air and sunshine! Open, Queen Mary III ii 182
Be once again received into the bosom And unity of U Church; „ III iii 155
And also we restore you to the bosom And unity of U Church. „ III iii 221 but now, The unity of U Church, Mary would have it; and this Gardiner follows; The unity of U Hell, „ III iii 229
Yet wherefore should he die that hath return'd To the one Catholic U Church, „ IV iii 21
Unkind O my dear son, be not u to me. The Falcon 509
Unkingly U should I be, and most unknightly, Becket III iii 230
Unknightly Unkingly should I be, and most u, „ III iii 230
Unlearn'd your Priests Gross, wordly, simoniacal, u! Harold I i 162
Unlike The peoples are u as their complexion; Queen Mary V i 89
O how u our goodly Sinnatus. The Cup II 173
Weak natures that impute Themselves to their u's, Foresters II i 692
Unlord after that, We had to dis-archbishop and u, Queen Mary IV ii 128
Unlucky I am most u, most unhappy. The Falcon 864
Unman She fear'd it might u him for his end. Queen Mary III i 368
And that would quite u him, heart and soul. Foresters III 29
Unmann'd She could not be u—no, nor outwoman'd— Queen Mary III i 369
Unmatchable face and form u! The Cup I i 122
Unmoving U in the greatness of the flame, Queen Mary IV iii 622
Unpardonable Yea, even such as mine, incalculable, U,— „ IV iii 148 Unpleasant Against the u jolts of this rough road Prom. of May I 228 men of old would undergo U for the sake of pleasant ones Hereafter, „ I 245
Unprincely For some u violence to a woman, The Cup I i 139
God help the mark—To his own u ends. Foresters IV 716
Unqueen Who did discrown thine husband, u thee? Harold IV i 193
Unquenchable And burn the tares with u fire! Queen Mary V v 114
Unquiet and the people so u— „ III i 453
Unriddle Stigand, u This vision, canst thou? Stigand. Dotage! Harold III i 174
Unsafe Their lives u in any of these our woods, Foresters IV 93
Un-Saxon Which hunted him when that u-S blast, Harold II ii 30
Unscathed And let him pass u; he loves me, Harold! „ III i 301
Unschool'd and threaten us thence U of Death? „ V i 287
Unsheath'd tigress had u her nails at last, Queen Mary III i 3
Unsister plenty to sunder and u them again: „ I i 85
Unslept seen us that wild morning when we found Her bed u in, Prom. of May II 471
Unsocket whose storm-voice U's the strong oak, The Cup II 283
Unsubject u to One earthly sceptre. Becket I iii 680
Unswear Swear and u, state and misstate thy best! „ II ii 476
Unsymmetrically but u, preposterously, illogically, „ Pro. 336 Untold Tell me that, or leave All else u. Queen Mary IV iii 569
Unwavering Your lordship affects the u perpendicular; Becket II ii 326 Unwell Ah, heaven! Pole. U, your Grace? Queen Mary III ii 85
Her Highness is u. I will retire. „ V ii 246
I am sorry Mr. Steer still continues too u to attend to you, Prom. of May III 22
Unwept upon the way to Rome U, uncared for. Becket II ii 410
Unwholesome U talk For Godwin's house! Harold I i 390
Unwilling I have been u to trouble you with questions, Prom. of May III 321
Unwillingness Foreseeing, with whate'er u, Queen Mary I v 253
Unworthy 'This hath offended—this u hand!' „ IV iii 613
O thou u brother of my dear Marian! Foresters II i 538
Unwoundable callous with a constant stripe, U. Queen Mary V v 173
Unwounded having passed u from the field, The Falcon 608

NN*

Unwrinkled The brows u as a summer mere.— Harold III i 48
Up See Hup, Oop, Shut-up, Steep-up
Uphold all my lifelong labour to u The primacy—a heretic. Queen Mary V ii 70
Wilt thou u my claim? Harold II ii 602
Upholder our recoverer and u of customs hath in this crowning Becket III iii 70
Uplifter And mine u in this world, „ I i 89
Upper My lords of the u house, Queen Mary III iii 101
Uprear'd The trenches dug, the palisades u Harold V i 189
Upright you that have kept your old customs u, Queen Mary II i 159
Well, you one man, because you stood u, „ III iii 269
He pass'd out smiling, and he walk'd u; „ IV iii 303
He stood u, a lad of twenty-one, „ IV iii 335 and saw the church all fill'd With dead men u from their graves, Harold I ii 83
And thou art u in thy living grave, „ II ii 440 for I have lost Somewhat of u stature thro' mine oath, „ III ii 56
Uproar —made an u. Henry. And Becket had my bosom Becket I iii 432
Upshot and there bide The u of my quarrel, Queen Mary II iv 86
Upwards See Huppads
Urge not be wanting Those that will u her injury— Queen Mary III vi 176 and I shall u his suit Upon the Queen, „ V i 265
She will u marriage on me. Prom. of May I 489
Urn keep us From seeing all too near that u, The Cup I iii 133 Usage I came on certain wholesome u's, Becket I iii 412 so violated the immemorial u of the Church, „ III iii 72
Use (s) Ay, and what u to talk? Queen Mary III iii 40
I kept my head for u of Holy Church; „ III iv 359 wholesome u of these To chink against the Norman, Harold III i 20 made too good an u of Holy Church To break „ V i 312 Not yet. Stay. Edith. To what u? „ V i 339 fringe of gorgeousness beyond Old u, The Cup II 439 had you left him free u of his wings, Prom. of May I 652 but there is u, four hundred marks. Foresters IV 495 my tongue tript—five hundred marks for u. „ IV 500
You have the monies and the u of them. „ IV 548
Use (verb) Well, we shall u him somehow, Queen Mary I iii 171 and u Both us and them according as they will. „ II ii 160
Ay, but they u his name. „ V i 129
we must u our battle-axe to-day. Harold V i 205
King's courts would u thee worse than thy dog— Becket I iv 102 it is the cup we u in our marriages. The Cup I i 44 sends you this cup—the cup we u in our marriages— „ I ii 72 have you power with Rome? u it for him! „ I ii 290 we never u it For fear of breakage— The Falcon 486
—take and u your moment, while you may. Foresters II i 476
Used evilly u And put to pain. Becket II ii 433
You had never u so many, „ IV ii 183
Hath u the full authority of his Church „ V i 207
Foul as her dust-cloth, if she u it— „ V ii 203
Well u, they serve us well. The Cup I iii 135 Used (was accustomed) I u to love the Queen with all my heart— Queen Mary V ii 418 that Dobbins, is it, With whom I u to jar? Prom. of May II 613 as I u to transact all his business for him, „ II 719 Useless But your moan is u now: Queen Mary IV iii 638
Using fears he might be crack'd in u, „ II i 8
Usurper And thou, u, liar— Harold. Out, beast monk! Harold V i 74
Utmost I will help you, Madam, Even to the u. Queen Mary I v 178
To do to the u all that in us lies „ III iii 140
Utopian What are all these? Harold. U idiotcies. Prom. of May III 588
Utter (adj.) but the hour has come For u truth and plainness; Queen Mary IV iii 273
Poor lads, they see not what the general sees, A risk of u ruin. „ V ii 449
I have lived a life of u purity: Harold I i 178
I reel beneath the weight of u joy— The Cup II 450
I shall go mad for u shame and die. Prom. of May I 682
You both are u traitors to your king. Foresters IV 844
Utter (verb) fiends that u them Tongue-torn with pincers, Queen Mary V ii 192
I never heard him u worse of you Than that „ V ii 431
Uttered he never u moan of pain: „ IV iii 618

Uttering not like a word, That comes and goes in u. Queen Mary III v 30
Can I fancy him kneeling with me, and u the same prayer; Prom. of May III 180
Utterly I am u submissive to the Queen. Queen Mary I iv 39
Uxor And one an u pauperis Ibyci. Becket V ii 216

V

Vacancy 'And when the v is to be filled up, Becket I iii 108
Vacant 'When a bishoprick falls v, the King, till another be appointed, shall receive the revenues thereof.' „ I iii 100
King Demands a strict account of all those revenues From all the v sees and abbacies, „ I iii 652
Your heaven is v of your angel. Foresters II i 109
Vacillation shakes at mortal kings—her v, Avarice, craft— Becket II ii 405
Vacuity or any other symbol of v. Foresters IV 214
Vagabond (adj.) To take the v woman of the street Into thine arms! Becket I i 227
Vagabond (s) Why, nature's licensed v, the swallow, Queen Mary V i 20
I should have beaten thee, But that was v. Becket, Pro. 53
Vague struck a shape from out the v, „ I iii 373
Vain Surely, not all in v. Queen Mary V ii 158 —And all in v! The Queen of Scots is married „ V v 51
I had counsell'd him To rest from v resistance. The Cup II 414
Vale And kindle all our v's with myrtle-blossom, „ II 267
Valery Against St. V And William. Harold III ii 136
Valhalla See Walhalla
Valley should walk hand in hand together down this v of tears, Prom. of May III 192
Valorous Try, thyself, v Robin! Foresters IV 314
Valour came to know Thy v and thy value, Harold II ii 202
V and holy life should go together. Becket V ii 587
But seeing v is one against all odds, Foresters IV 318
Value came to know Thy valour and thy v, Harold II ii 202
My one thing left of v in the world! The Falcon 496 have won Their v again—beyond all markets— „ 905 v's neither man Nor woman save as tools— Foresters IV 713
Vane-arrow Which way soever the v-a swing, Harold II ii 257
Vanish Whate'er thy joys, they v with the day; Foresters I iii 44
Vanish'd (adj.) remain After the v voice, and speak to men. Queen Mary IV iii 164
Vanish'd (verb) And somewhere hereabouts he v. Becket III ii 5
Vanity As he hath ever err'd thro' v. Queen Mary IV i 31
Vanquish'd Our Artemis Has v their Diana. The Cup II 457
Var (far) it be a v waay vor my owld legs up vro' Islip. Queen Mary IV iii 472
Variance The Church is ever at v with the kings, Becket I iv 79
Various Woman is v and most mutable. Queen Mary III vi 135
Vassal (adj.) She cast on him a v smile of love, „ III i 98
Vassal (s) Then must I play the v to this Pole. „ III iii 111
Thomas, lord Not only of your v's but amours, Becket V i 205 sworn Yourselves my men when I was Chancellor—My v's— „ V ii 504
Thou art my man, thou art my v. „ V iii 154 loathed the cruelties that Rome Wrought on her v's. The Cup I ii 375
The pillage of his v's. Foresters III 107
Vassalage no more feuds Disturb our peaceful v to Rome. The Cup II 71
Vast the v vine-bowers Ran to the summit of the trees, „ I ii 401
Vastly I am v grieved to leave your Majesty. Queen Mary III vi 255
Vatican leave Lateran and V in one dust of gold— Becket II ii 475
Vaulted When I v on his back, Foresters II ii 150
Vaulting The tawny squirrel v thro' the boughs, „ I iii 117
Vavasour Wasn't Miss V, our schoolmistress at Littlechester, a lady born? Prom. of May III 297
Veer V to the counterpoint, and jealousy Queen Mary III vi 180
Veil (s) tore away My marriage ring, and rent my bridal v; Harold I ii 80
Like the Love-goddess, with no bridal v, Prom. of May I 597 you kept your v too close for that when they carried you in; „ III 226 Veil (verb) To v the fault of my most outward foe— Queen Mary IV ii 106
Veiled Her face was v, but the back methought Becket, Pro. 470
Veiling and no need Of v their desires. Prom. of May I 530
Veiling (continued) V one sin to act another. Prom. of May III 773 Vein O thin-skinn'd hand and jutting v's, Queen Mary IV ii 204 love I bear to thee Glow thro' thy v's? Synorix.
The love I bear to thee Glows thro' my v's The Cup II 427
I have a swollen v in my right leg, Foresters IV 569
O Lord, the v! Not paid at York— „ IV 622
They have missed the v. „ IV 636
Velvet (See also A-velveting) V and gold. This dress was made me Queen Mary I iv 71
Venal And Rome is v ev'n to rottenness. Becket I iii 296
V imp! What say'st thou to the Chancellorship of England? „ II i 224
Vengeance Is v for its own sake worth the while, The Cup I i 30
And take a hunter's v on the meats. „ I ii 43
Beware, O King, the v of the Church. Foresters IV 913 let me execute the v of the Church upon them. „ IV 916 the v of the Church! Thou shalt pronounce the blessing of the Church „ IV 925 Venice He caught a chill in the lagoons of V, Queen Mary V ii 515 Venison What's that, my lord? Becket. V. Beggar. V? Becket I iv 137 and the world shall live by the King's v „ I iv 272
V, and wild boar, hare, geese, Foresters IV 191 so thou be Squeamish at eating the King's v. „ IV 194
I look on the King's v as my own. „ IV 197 in the fear of thy life shalt thou eat the King's v— „ IV 206
Not taste his v first? „ IV 343
if you hold us here Longer from our own v. „ IV 942
Venom It lies there folded: is there v in it? Queen Mary III v 217
Venomous all of us abhor The v, bestial, devilish revolt Of Thomas Wyatt. „ II ii 287 but he that lookt a fangless one, Issues a v adder. Becket I iii 453 and hers Crost and recrost, a v spider's web— „ II i 199
Ventris Sit benedictus fructus v tui!' Queen Mary III ii 83 Venture and deafen'd by some bright Loud v, „ III i 453
Ventured knowing the fame of your hospitality, we v in uninvited. Foresters I ii 196
Venus bust of Juno and the brows and eyes Of V; The Cup I i 122
Verbum Ha—V Dei—v—word of God! Queen Mary III i 262
Verdurer King's v caught him a-hunting in the forest, Becket I iv 95
Veriest Nay, Madam, nay! he sends his v love, Queen Mary V ii 564 believe thee The v Galahad of old Arthur's hall. Becket, Pro. 129
Verily Thou shalt be v king—all but the name— Harold II ii 632
Veritas In vino V. Foresters IV 247
Vermin In breeding godless v. Queen Mary III iv 329
Verse for my v's if the Latin rhymes be rolled out from a full mouth? Becket II ii 337
Verse-maker Thou art a jester and a v-m. „ II ii 334
Verse-writing your lordship would suspend me from v-w, „ II ii 350
Very but Lady Jane stood up Stiff as the v backbone of heresy. Queen Mary I v 44
A v wanton life indeed. „ I v 336
A fine beard, Bonner, a v full fine beard. „ III iv 338
The v Truth and v Word was one. „ III v 32
And in this v chamber, fuse the glass, „ III v 54 would make the hard earth rive To the v Devil's horns, the bright sky cleave To the v feet of God, Harold II ii 741
And all the Heavens and v God: they heard— „ V i 43
I want to bite, and they do say the v breath catches. Becket I iv 222
But ha! what's here? By v God, the cross I gave the King! „ IV ii 199
Ay, but wait Till his nose rises; he will be v king. „ V ii 184
This v day the Romans crown him king The Cup II 63 you look as beautiful this morning as the v Madonna her own self— The Falcon 199
That was the v year before you married. „ 373
O heavens! the v letters seem to shake With cold, „ 448 as the snow yonder on the v tip-top o' the mountain. „ 501
He be heighty this v daäy, Prom. of May I 7
But I taäkes 'im fur a bad lot and a burn fool, and I haätes the v sight on him. „ I 154
He's a Somersetshire man, and a v civil-spoken gentleman. „ I 207 fur thaw I be heighty this v daäy, „ I 358
I have heard of you. The likeness Is v striking. „ II 366
Why, that wur the v twang on 'im. „ II 733 and poor Steer looks The v type of Age in a picture, „ III 514

Very (continued) Why there, now! that v word 'greasy' hath a kind of unction in it, Foresters I i 86
I am thine to the v heart of the earth— " I i 337
My God, thou art the v woman who waits On my dear Marian. " II i 101 Thou comest a v angel out of heaven. " II i 105 and what doest thou with that who art more bow-bent than the v bow thou carriest? " II i 378
It is the v captain of the thieves! " II i 412
I thank you, noble sir, the v blossom Of bandits. " III 247
It is not he—his face—tho' v like—No, no! " IV 777
Yea, and the weight of the v land itself, " IV 1025
Veselay But since he cursed My friends at V, Becket II i 89
Vesper I will but pass to v's, And breathe one prayer " V ii 190
In your old place? and v's are beginning. " V ii 596
Come, then, with us to v's. " V iii 35
They are thronging in to v's—half the town. " V iii 139 Vessel guns From out the v's lying in the river. Queen Mary II i 222
wherefore not Helm the huge v of your state, " V i 73
In the full v running out at top Harold I i 378
Plunder'd the v full of Gascon wine, Becket V ii 441
Vex V him not, Leofwin. Tostig. I am not vext,—Altho' ye seek to v me, Harold I i 403
I told my Lord He should not v her Highness; Queen Mary III vi 66
Why do you v me? " IV i 134
Why would you v yourself, Poor sister? " V v 263
Which will so v thee. Becket II i 208
I will not v you by repeating them— Prom. of May II 403
Why do you v me With raven-croaks Foresters II i 623
Vex'd-Vext His Highness is so vex'd with strange affairs— Queen Mary V ii 559
No, I am not vext,—Altho' ye seek to vex me, Harold I i 404
—I am not vext at all. " I i 409
A gnat that vext thy pillow! " I ii 71
I seed how the owd man wur vext. Prom. of May II 28
Viand besides Hedge-pigs, a savoury v, Foresters IV 193 Vicar Julius, God's V and Vicegerent upon earth, Queen Mary III iii 213 and adore This V of their V. " III iii 244 Vice Foul maggots crawling in a fester'd v! " V v 162
Would call this v; but one time's v may be The virtue of another; and V and Virtue Are but two masks of self; and what hereafter Shall mark out V from Virtue Prom. of May I 534
Our vice-king John,—True king of v— Foresters II i 83
Vicegerent Julius, God's Vicar and V upon earth, Queen Mary III iii 213
Vice-king And thou be my v-k in England. Harold II ii 635
Our v-k John, True king of vice— Foresters II i 81
Viceroy Set up a v, sent his myriads Queen Mary III i 463
Sometime the v of those provinces— " III ii 196
Viciousness Because we seek to curb their v. Foresters III 393
Victim nobler The v was, the more acceptable Might be the sacrifice. The Falcon 880
Or happy fallen a v to the wolf. Foresters II i 509
Victor will you crown my foe My v in mid-battle? Becket V i 150 crown'd v of my will— The Cup II 519 Victory wines Of wedding had been dash'd into the cups Of v, Harold IV iii 8 thy victories Over our own poor Wales, " IV iii 26
I ever had my victories among women. The Cup I i 153 at last May lead them on to v— " I ii 168
Vile With that v Cranmer in the accursed lie Of good Queen Catharine's divorce— Queen Mary III iv 231
Villa Garcia No man can make his Maker—V G. " IV ii 58
No, V G, I sign no more. " IV ii 83
Village (adj.) His v darling in some lewd caress Becket IV ii 200
So loved by all the v people here, Prom. of May III 755
Village (s) I Shall not be made the laughter of the v, " I 721
Villain v's with their lying lights have wreck'd us! Harold II i 83 Serve thyself first, v! They shall not harm The Cup I ii 325 that v, Edgar, If he should ever show Prom. of May II 422
Vindicator Surgas e tenebris, Sis v! Harold V i 572
Vine You lived among your v's and oranges, Queen Mary III iv 253
Perhaps our v's will grow the better for it. Harold I i 68 apricot, V, cypress, poplar, myrtle, The Cup I i 3 and like the swaying v's—Yea,— " I ii 411

Vine (continued) we will chirp among our v's, and smile sway the long grape-bunches of our v's, The Cup I iii 170
" II 271
Vine-an'-the-Hop (inn sign) But hallus ud stop at the V-a-t-H, Prom. of May II 311
Vine-bower vast v-b's Ran to the summit of the trees, The Cup I ii 402
Vineyard she turns down the path through our little v, The Falcon 168
Vino In v veritas. Foresters IV 247
Vintage Not like the v blowing round your castle. The Falcon 579 send you down a flask or two Of that same v? " 586 Violate These Romans dare not v the Temple. The Cup I iii 62 Violated A cleric v The daughter of his host, Becket I iii 382 so v the immemorial usage of the Church, " III iii 72
v the whole Tradition of our land, Prom. of May I 494 Violence (See also Over-violence) Your v and much roughness to the Legate, Queen Mary III iv 318
—a sweet v, And a sweet craft. " III v 108 v and the craft that do divide The world " III v 120 cast with bestial v Our holy Norman bishops Harold I i 49 Side not with Tostig in any v, " I i 457
For some unprincely v to a woman, The Cup I i 139
This v ill becomes The silence of our Temple. " II 215
Violent Robin was v, And she was crafty— Queen Mary III v 107
Save for thy wild and v will that wrench'd All hearts of freemen from thee. Harold V i 277
Violet and won the v at Toulouse; Becket, Pro. 348 rose or no rose, has killed the golden v. Pro. 352
Sweeter than any v of to-day, The Falcon 465
I meän'd they be as blue as v's. Prom. of May I 104
Viper Two v's of one breed—an amphisbæna, Queen Mary III iv 39 Vire (fire) I do know ez Pwoaps and v's be bad things; " IV iii 501 and tells un ez the v has tuk holt. " IV iii 512 There's nought but the v of God's hell ez can burn out that. " IV iii 527 Virgil Well. the tree in V, sir, " III i 22 but, my Lord, you know what V sings, " III vi 134 Virgin (adj.) seeing that our gracious V Queen hath— " I iii 23 Virgin (s) (See also Mary) let me call her our second V Mary, " I iii 57
V Mary! we'll have no virgins here— " I iii 60 we'll have no v's here—we'll have the Lady Elizabeth! " I iii 61 by the holy V, being noble, But love me only: " I v 70 Holy V, Plead with thy blessed Son; " I v 84
I thank God, I have lived a v, " II ii 218
Holy V will not have me yet Lose the sweet hope " III vi 199
My son, the Saints are v's; Harold III i 272
I have been myself a v; and I sware To consecrate my v here " III i 275
Yea, by the Blessed V! Becket, Pro. 520
The V, in a vision of my sleep, " I i 53
we have the Blessed V For worship, " V ii 220
I do commend my cause to God, the V, " V iii 164
I am a v, my masters, I am a v. Much. And a v, my masters, three yards about the waist is like to remain a v, Foresters I ii 67
And you three holy men, You worshippers of the V, " III 383
The Holy V Stand by the strongest. " IV 264
Our holy king Hath given his v lamb to Holy Church Harold III i 334
Virginity They love the white rose of v, " III i 273
Virgo Homo sum, sed v sum, Foresters I ii 66 Virtue (I count it as a kind of v in him, Queen Mary I iv 193
Is not v prized mainly for its rarity Becket III iii 303 one time's vice may be The v of another; and Vice and V Are but two masks of self; and what hereafter Shall mark out Vice from V Prom. of May I 536
Virtuous Exhort them to a pure and v life; Queen Mary IV ii 77
Virtus Gratior in pulchro corpore v. Becket V ii 542 Visible Is not the Church the v Lord on earth? " I iii 92
Vision I have had a v; Harold I i 191
Edward wakes!—Dazed—he hath seen a v. " III i 131
Stigand, unriddle This v, canst thou? Stigand. Dotage! " III i 175
The Virgin, in a v of my sleep, Becket I i 53
It will be so—my v's in the Lord: " III iii 341
I had once a v of a pure and perfect marriage, Prom. of May III 188
Shall I be happy? Happy v, stay. Foresters II ii 199
Visionary And found it all a v flame, Queen Mary IV ii 4

Visit thine host in England when I went To v Edward. Harold II ii 6
Coming to v my lord, for the first time in her life too! The Falcon 170
Visited When I v England, Some held she was his wife Harold V ii 99
Vitus (Saint) By old St. V Have you gone mad? Foresters IV 614
Vive le Roy Hurrah! V l R! Becket I iv 274 Voice (See also Storm-voice) Thro' many v's crying right and left, Queen Mary I ii 48 and all rebellions lie Dead bodies without v. „ II i 80
Three v's from our guilds and companies! „ II ii 255
And will not trust your v's. „ II ii 259
Their v had left me none to tell you this. „ II iii 36
A sound Of feet and v's thickening hither— „ II iv 45
Thine is a half v and a lean assent. „ III i 311
To join a v, so potent with her Highness, „ IV i 117
All your v's Are waves on flint. „ IV i 121 my poor v Against them is a whisper to the roar „ IV ii 186 remain After the vanish'd v, „ IV iii 164 crying, in his deep v, more than once, „ IV iii 611
Ay, ay; but many v's call me hence. Mary. V's —I hear unhappy rumours—nay, „ V i 32
What v's call you Dearer than mine „ V i 36
Alas, my Lord! what v's and how many? Philip. The v's of Castille and Aragon, „ V i 40 v's of Franche-Comté, and the Netherlands, The v's of Peru and Mexico, „ V i 45
if the fetid gutter had a v And cried „ V ii 323
Your Grace hath a low v. „ V ii 378
A low v Lost in a wilderness where none can hear! A v of shipwreck on a shoreless sea! A low v from the dust and from the grave „ V ii 381
No, that way there are v's. Am I too late? „ V v 207
Thou art a great v in Northumberland! Harold I i 114 in Normanland God speaks thro' abler v's, „ I i 167
I want his v in England for the crown, I want thy v with him to bring him round; „ II ii 71
The choice of England is the v of England. William. I will be king of England by the laws, The choice, and v of England. „ II ii 128
v of any people is the sword That guards them, „ II ii 134 would give his kingly v To me as his successor. „ II ii 588
Thou art the mightiest v in England, man, Thy v will lead „ II ii 617 we be not bound by the king's v In making of a king, yet the king's v „ III i 236
The v of Gurth! Good even, my good brother! „ III ii 115
Wessex dragon flies beyond the Humber, No v to greet it. „ IV i 5
Thou gavest thy v against me in the Council— „ IV ii 77 till her v Die with the world. „ IV iii 75
I am but a v Among you: murder, martyr me „ V i 77
I send my v across the narrow seas— „ V i 246
Thou gavest thy v against me in my life, I give my v against thee from the grave— „ V i 252
We give our v against thee out of heaven! „ V i 260
My battle-axe against your v's. „ V i 265 my v is harsh here, not in tune, Becket, Pro. 349
v of the deep as it hollows the cliffs of the land. „ II i 3 a v coming up with the v of the deep from the strand, „ II i 5 hand of one To whom thy v is all her music, „ II i 177 the v Of the perpetual brook, „ III i 45
The brook's v is not yours, and no flower, „ III i 55 when my v Is martyr'd mute, and this man disappears, „ III iii 349
Did not a man's v ring along the aisle, „ V ii 150
The King beyond the water, thro' our v's, „ V ii 324
Shall the waste v of the bond-breaking sea „ V ii 358 Blessings on your pretty v, Miss Dora. Prom. of May I 64 arter she'd been a-rеädin' me the letter wi' 'er v a-shaäkin', „ II 129
And her charm Of v is also yours; „ II 381
I heard a v, 'Girl, what are you doing there?' „ III 375
Swarm to thy v like bees to the brass pan. Foresters I iii 108 they are so fond o' their own v's „ II i 383
Thou art her brother, and her v is thine, „ II i 479
In the cold water that she lost her v, „ IV 243
Void you would make his coronation v By cursing those who crown'd him. Becket V ii 330

Volcanic A drinker of black, strong, v wines, Queen Mary V ii 93
Volk (folk) and a-makin' o' v madder and madder; „ IV iii 532
Voltigeur I can recommend our V.' Prom. of May III 311
Voluntary that thou hast sworn a v allegiance to him? Becket, Pro. 439
Vomit Made even the carrion-nosing mongrel v Queen Mary IV iii 449
Vor (for) it be a var waay v my owld legs up vro' Islip. „ IV iii 472
the burnin' o' the owld archbishop 'll burn the Pwoap out o' this 'ere land v iver and iver. „ IV iii 536
Vor't (for it) but tek thou my word v, Joan,— „ IV iii 533
Vouch Who shall v for his to-morrows? One word further. Becket III iii 300
Vouchsafe V a gracious answer to your Queen? „ IV ii 359
Vour (four) and so they bided on and on till v o' the clock, Queen Mary IV iii 510 Vow (s) to swear V's that he dare not break. Harold II ii 77 for he Who vows a v to strangle his own mother „ III i 229
He did not mean to keep his v. „ III i 248 to see my solemn v Accomplish'd. „ III i 307 that blighted v Which God avenged to-day. „ V ii 156
That kings are faithful to their marriage v. Becket I ii 78
I bound myself, and by a solemn v, The Falcon 679 but what a v! what a v! Foresters I i 294
For holy v's made to the blessed Saints „ I ii 175 bounden by a v not to show his face, „ I ii 236 Vow (verb) Kiss'd me well I v; Queen Mary III v 93 for he Who v's a vow to strangle his own mother Harold III i 229
I v to build a church to God Here on the hill of battle; „ V ii 137
Voyage Had you a pleasant v up the river? Queen Mary III ii 5
Our v by sea was all but miracle; „ III ii 25
Sick as an autumn swallow for a v, Harold I i 102
On my last v—but the wind has fail'd— The Cup II 521
Vro' (from) and it be a var waay vor my owld legs up v Islip. Queen Mary IV iii 473 till his man cum in post v here, „ IV iii 511
Vying saw thy willy-nilly nun V a tress against our golden fern. Harold. V a tear with our cold dews, Harold V i 149

W

Waage (wage) An' I thanks ye fur that, Miss, moor nor fur the w. Prom. of May III 117
Waäist (waist) 'A cotched ma about the w, Miss, „ III 119
Waäy (way) it be a var w vor my owld legs up vro' Islip. Queen Mary IV iii 472
Eh, then ha' thy w wi' me, Tib; „ IV iii 486
I niver thowt o' mysen i' that w; but if she'd taäke to ma i' that w, or ony w, Prom. of May I 176
We laäys out o' the w fur gentlefoälk altogither— „ I 210
An' I haätes booöks an' all, fur they puts foälk off the owd w's. „ I 222 fell ageän coalscuttle and my kneeä gev w „ I 404
I mun git out on 'is w now, or I shall be the death on 'im. „ II 609
Waded As if she had w in it. Queen Mary III i 63
w in the brook, ran after the butterflies, Prom. of May III 275
Wafer Their w and perpetual sacrifice: Queen Mary I ii 45
Waged Thou hast w God's war against the King; Becket V ii 46
Wages (See also Waäge) if the farming-men be come for their w, to send them up to me. Prom. of May III 16 but the schoolmaster looked to the paying you your w when I was away, „ III 24 spent all your last Saturday's w at the ale-house; „ III 78
Why should I pay you your full w? „ III 83
there are your w; the next time you waste „ III 98
Wagon Like a tod of wool from w into warehouse. Foresters IV 274
Wail (s) our sea-mew Winging their only w! Harold II i 98 better death With our first w than life— Prom. of May II 291
—how she made her w as for the dead! „ III 698 and make a ghostly w ever and anon to scare 'em. Foresters II i 216 Wail (verb) Is this a place To w in, Madam? Queen Mary V i 213 thou wilt have To w for it like Peter. Harold III i 285
dooms thee after death To w in deathless flame. Becket IV ii 272

Wailing helpless folk Are wash'd away, w, in their own blood— Harold II ii 471
W ! not warring ? Boy, thou hast forgotten „ II ii 473 her poor spaniel w for her, Prom. of May II 473
Waist (See also Waaist) three yards about the w is like to remain a virgin, Foresters I ii 69
He caught her round the w, „ II i 116
And coil'd himself about her sacred w. „ II i 139
I will take the rope from off thy w „ IV 687
Waistcoat I doänt believe he's iver a 'eart under his w. Prom. of May I 130
Wait Who w's, sir ? Usher. Madam, the Lord Chancellor. Queen Mary I v 95
Who w's ? Usher. The Ambassador from France, „ I v 238
Who w's ? Usher. The Ambassador of Spain, „ I v 341
Your Lordship may not have so long to w. Remove him ! „ II iv 107
Lord Paget W's to present our Council to the Legate. „ III ii 98
And w my coming back. „ III vi 219
Madam, the Count de Feria w's without, „ V ii 400
W he must—Her trance again. „ V ii 402
W's till the man let go. Harold I i 329
Stand there and w my will. „ II ii 683
Then our great Council w to crown thee King— „ III i 3
And our great Council w to crown thee King. „ III i 406 knights Sit, each a statue on his horse, and w. „ V i 525 the business Of thy whole kingdom w's me : Becket, Pro. 278
We w but the King's word to strike thee dead. „ I iii 166
'Should not an earl's son w on a king's son ?' „ III iii 152
w Till his nose rises ; he will be very king. „ V ii 183
I told them I would w them here. „ V ii 593 w's once more Before the Temple. The Cup II 11 messenger from Synorix who w's Before the Temple ? „ II 37
Are you so sure ? I pray you w and see. „ II 107
He w's your answer. „ II 137
I w him his crown'd queen. „ II 161
Well, you must w till then. Foresters I ii 223
You shall w for mine till Sir Richard has paid the Abbot. „ I ii 231 thou art the very woman who w's On my dear Marian. „ II i 102
I w till Little John makes up to me. „ III 17
W and see. (repeat) „ IV 106, 108
Speak not. I w upon a dying father. „ IV 610
W till he blow the horn. „ IV 787
Sir Richard, let that w till we have dined. „ IV 991 Waited Who brings that letter which we w for— Queen Mary I v 586 child We w for so long—heaven's gift at last— Becket III i 14 Waiting (part.) All arm'd, w a leader ; Queen Mary II i 108
Who, w till the time had ripen'd, „ III ii 78 like the Moslem beauties w To clasp Prom. of May I 247 what full hands, may be W you in the distance ? „ II 511
Tell him, then, that I'm w for him. „ III 483
Waiting (s) Good counsel yours—No one in w ? Queen Mary V v 203
Wake (s) have loved Harold the Saxon, or Hereward the W. Foresters I i 228 our great Earl, bravest English heart Since Hereward the W, „ II i 688
Wake (verb) W, or the stout old island will become Queen Mary II i 104
Edward w's !—Dazed—he hath seen a vision. Harold III i 130
And w with it, and show it to all the Saints. Becket II i 303 on a great occasion sure to w As great a wrath in Becket— „ III i 87
W me before you go, I'll after you— The Cup I ii 447
And w the Devil, and I may sicken by 'em. Foresters III 325
Waked She must be w. Harold. Who must be w ? Prom. of May III 658
Wakened to be w again together by the light of the resurrection, „ III 196
Wakening (See also New-wakening, Wakkenin') W such brawls and loud disturbances Becket V ii 352
Waking thine eyelids into sleep, Will hold mine w. Harold I ii 141 our w thoughts Suffer a stormless shipwreck in the pools Of sullen slumber, „ V i 294
Wakkenin' (wakening) but I thinks he be w oop. Prom. of May III 413 Wales The Queen of W ? Why, Morcar, Harold IV i 152 had in it W, Her floods, her woods, her hills : „ IV i 206 let him flap The wings that beat down W ! „ IV i 247 thy victories Over our own poor W, „ IV iii 27
Have we not broken W and Norseland ? „ V i 395
I was the Queen of W. „ V ii 95
Walhalla for better, Woden, all Our cancell'd warrior-gods, our grim W, Eternal war, Harold III ii 74 Walk (s) and the w's Where I could move at pleasure, Becket I i 265 that dreadful night ! that lonely w to Little-chester, Prom. of May III 366
He was the cock o' the w ; Foresters II i 320 all these w's are Robin Hood's And sometimes perilous. „ IV 119
Walk (verb) And when I w abroad, the populace, Queen Mary I v 148
And if I w within the lonely wood, Harold II ii 246
we are Danes, Who conquer'd what we w on, „ IV i 38
If you will w with me we needs must meet The Cup I iii 91
I pray you lift me And make me w awhile. „ II 473 should w hand in hand together down this valley of tears, Prom. of May III 191 Walk'd He pass'd out smiling, and he w upright ; Queen Mary IV iii 302 as he w the Spanish friars Still plied him „ IV iii 576
But w our Norman field, Harold II ii 173
Upon the heads of those who w within— „ II ii 393
W at night on the misty heather ; „ III ii 5
I have heard these poisons May be w down. The Cup II 475
As Wealth w in at the door. Foresters I i 151
Walkest And w here Unarmour'd ? „ IV 118
Walking (See also A-walkin') I was w with the man I loved. Queen Mary V v 88
he's w to us, and with a book in his hand. Prom. of May I 219
Stole on her, she was w in the garden, Foresters II i 112
Wall (See also Shield-wall) And carve my coat upon the w's again ! Queen Mary II iv 110 when the thief is ev'n within the w's, „ III iv 312 moonlight casements pattern'd on the w, „ V v 10
The w's oppress me, And yon huge keep Harold II ii 226 town Hung out raw hides along their w's, „ II ii 383 shackles that will bind me to the w. „ II ii 411 cherubim With twenty-cubit wings from w to w— „ III i 184 our shield w—W—break it not—break not— „ V i 232 make their w of shields Firm as thy cliffs, „ V i 479
Hot-headed fools—to burst the w of shields ! „ V i 613
They say that w's have ears ; Becket IV ii 79
Battering the doors, and breaking thro' the w's ? „ V ii 627 and the w's sa thin, and the winders brokken, Prom. of May III 72 Wallow Delight to w in the grossness of it, Becket II ii 343
Walnut w, apricot, Vine, cypress, poplar, myrtle, The Cup I i 2
Walter (Lea, son of Sir Richard Lea) (See also Walter Lea) No news of young W ? Foresters I i 73 for the ransom of my son W— „ I i 265
Young W, nay, I pray thee, stay a moment. „ II i 472 to dream that he My brother, my dear W— „ II i 652
O W, W, is it thou indeed Whose ransom was our ruin, „ IV 1005
Walter Lea I ask you all, did none of you love young W L ? „ I i 55
My masters, welcome gallant W L. „ IV 1002
W L, Give me that hand which fought for Richard „ IV 1028
Walter Map (See also Map) But bear with W M, Becket II ii 307
Non defensoribus istis, W M. „ II ii 346
There is the King talking with W M ? „ III iii 22
That's a delicate Latin lay Of W M : „ V i 193
Waltham W, my foundation For men who serve the neighbour, Harold V i 97
the Holy Rood That bow'd to me at W— „ V i 383
No, daughter, but the canons out of W, „ V i 475
Walworth And he will play the W to this Wat ; Queen Mary II ii 370
Wan The w boy-king, with his fast-fading eyes Fixt hard on mine, „ I ii 30
How w, poor lad ! how sick and sad for home ! Harold II ii 325 thou art Harold, I am Edith ! Look not thus w ! „ V i 393
Like the w twilight after sunset, crept Up even to the tonsure, Becket I iii 326
Wander doth not kill The sheep that w from his flock, Queen Mary III iv 103
Who w famine-wasted thro' the world. Becket III iii 188
Wander'd so long Have w among women,— „ II i 154
Wandering (adj. and part.) I found this white doe w through the wood, Foresters II i 96
As Canterbury calls them, w clouds, Becket I iii 70
Wandering (s) prosper all thy w out And homeward. Harold I i 265
Wane light of this new learning w's and dies : Queen Mary III ii 172

Waning and make Our w Eleanor all but love me! Becket II ii 458
Wanstead she met the Queen at W Queen Mary I i 77
Want (s) Yet too much mercy is a w of mercy, „ I v 506
This coarseness is a w of phantasy. „ V ii 438
Thine absence well may seem a w of care. Harold I i 322
That suffers in the daily w of thee, „ II ii 275 daily w supplied—The daily pleasure to supply it. Becket II ii 301 Yet if thro' any w— Harold. Of this religion? Prom. of May III 540 ever have happen'd thro' the w Of any or all of them. „ III 547
If thro' the w of any—I mean the true one— „ III 550 who never hast felt a w, to whom all things, Foresters I i 208 and their own w Of manhood to their leader! „ II i 693 Want (verb) his manners w the nap And gloss of court; Queen Mary III v 70 you w the sun That shines at court; „ III v 276
I w his voice in England for the crown, I w thy voice with him to bring him round; Harold II ii 71 and I w to bite, I w to bite, Becket I iv 221 shall see the silk here and there, and I w my supper. „ IV i 57
Do you w them back again? Prom. of May II 43
Owd Steer's gotten all his grass down and w's a hand, „ II 222
Miss Dora, meä and my maätes, us three, we w's to hev three words wi' ye. „ III 125 all on us, wi' your leave, we w's to leather 'im. „ III 137 and he w's to speak to ye partic'lar. „ III 350 says he w's to tell ye summut very partic'lar. „ III 355 an w's To hev a word wi' ye about the marriage. „ III 703
Wanted I am sure Her morning w sunlight, Harold I ii 45 Wanting W the Papal mitre. Queen Mary III iv 148 not be w Those that will urge her injury— „ III vi 175
My palace w you was but a cottage; The Falcon 287
Wanton (adj.) A very w life indeed. Queen Mary I v 336
No ribald John is Love, no w Prince, Foresters IV 46
Wanton (s) With a w in thy lodging—Hell requite 'em! Becket I ii 9
I would move this w from his sight „ I ii 70
And thou thyself a proven w? „ IV ii 116
Lest thou shouldst play the w there again. „ V i 112
This w here. De Morville, Hold her away. „ V iii 171
Wantonness high Heaven guard thee from his w, Foresters I ii 122 War and at w with him, your Grace And kingdom will be suck'd into the w, Queen Mary I v 255 must we levy w against the Queen's Grace? Wyatt. No, my friend; w for the Queen's Grace—to save her from herself and Philip —w against Spain. „ II i 187 the world is with us—w against Spain! „ II i 196 not mix us any way With his French w's— „ III iii 79
The civil w's are gone for evermore: „ III v 150
Not so well holpen in our w's with France, „ III vi 188
If w should fall between yourself and France; „ V i 9 came to sue Your Council and yourself to declare w. (repeat) „ V i 109, 116 soon or late you must have w with France; „ V i 121
You make your w's upon him down in Italy:— „ V i 141
Who deems it a most just and holy w. „ V i 147
Alas! the Council will not hear of w. They say your w's are not the w's of England. „ V i 164
There will be w with France, at last, my liege; „ V i 282 the Council (I have talk'd with some already) are for w. „ V i 296
He cannot dream that I advised the w; „ V ii 57
We have made w upon the Holy Father All for your sake: „ V ii 307
You did but help King Philip's w with France, „ V ii 313
Dear Madam, Philip is but at the w's; „ V v 25
And all his w's and wisdoms past away; „ V v 56
W, my dear lady! Harold I i 22
W there, my son? is that the doom of England? „ I i 124
W? the worst that follows Things that seem „ I i 135 religious fool, Who, seeing w in heaven, „ I i 140 Ay, ay and wise in peace and great in w— „ I i 313
W, my dear lady, W, waste, plague, „ I i 465 brought Thy w with Brittany to a goodlier close „ II ii 49
We seldom take man's life, except in w; „ II ii 502 dash The torch of w among your standing corn, „ II ii 749 War (continued) Eternal w, than that the Saints at peace Harold III ii 75
Free thee or slay thee, Norway will have w; „ IV ii 19 save for Norway, Who loves not thee but w. „ IV ii 24
My legacy of w against the Pope „ V i 328
Whose life was all one battle, incarnate w, „ V i 398
I led seven hundred knights and fought his w's. Becket I iii 639
You will have w; and tho' we grant „ II ii 241
Like some wise prince of this world from his w's, „ V ii 14
Thou hast waged God's w against the King; „ V ii 46
Rome Made w upon the peoples not the Gods. The Cup I ii 60 you, Can you make w? Have you alliances? „ I ii 99 submit at once Is better than a wholly-hopeless w, „ I ii 141
Whereas in w's of freedom and defence „ I ii 160
When I was married you were at the w's. The Falcon 376
It may be I had never seen the w's. „ 379 flung His life, heart, soul into those holy w's Foresters IV 407 Heading the holy w against the Moslem, „ IV 818 fighting underhand unholy w's Against your lawful king. „ IV 821 War-axe Mark'd how the w-a swang, Harold IV iii 156
Warble And w those brief-sighted eyes of hers? Queen Mary III vi 155
Warblest 'O happy lark, that w high Prom. of May III 199
War-club wields His w-c, dashes it on Gurth, Harold V i 640
War-crash a w-c, and so hard, So loud, that, „ IV iii 144
War-cry I do not hear our English w-c. „ V i 652
Ward lest the king Should yield his w to Harold's will. „ I ii 159
Warden When thou thereof wast w. Becket I iii 630
Warder The w of the bower hath given himself „ III i 30
Where's the w? Geoffrey. Very bad. „ IV i 49
Warehouse Like a tod of wool from wagon into w. Foresters IV 275
War-horn Heard how the w-h sang, Harold IV iii 157
Warm (adj.) know that whether A wind be w or cold, Queen Mary I v 620
That might live always in the sun's w heart, „ V i 22
Philip is as w in life As ever. „ V ii 24
I would we had you, Madam, in our w Spain. „ V ii 607 Cold after w, winter after summer, Becket I iv 64 old faces Press round us, and w hands close with w hands, Foresters I iii 20 so she glided up into the heart O' the bottle, the w wine, „ IV 245
Warm (verb) King Henry w's your traitors at his hearth. Queen Mary V i 123
To w the cold bounds of our dying life The Cup I iii 128
And let them w thy heart to Little John. Foresters III 44
Warmed He w to you to-day, and you have chilled him again. Becket II ii 374
Warmth quenched the w of France toward you, „ II ii 311
Warn To w us of his coming! Foresters III 458
Warning (part.) Was w me that if a gentleman Prom. of May III 578
Warning (s) he must die, For w and example. Queen Mary IV iii 52
Kind of the witch to give thee w thro'. Becket III ii 30
The ghostly w of my martyrdom; „ V ii 292
Warping You see thro' w glasses. Queen Mary I v 212
Warrant but then she goes, I w, „ I v 464 and I w this fine fellow's life. „ II iii 83
I w you. Cole. Take, therefore, „ IV iii 58
I w you they talk about the burning. „ IV iii 463
I w thee! thou wouldst hug thy Cupid Becket, Pro. 503
We'll baffle them, I w. „ I i 299
I w you, or your own either. „ I iv 23
So we will—so we will, I w thee. „ I iv 269
Ay, and I w the customs. „ III iii 331
Doth he remember me? Rosamund. I w him. „ V ii 179 there I w I worm thro' all their windings. The Cup I i 86
I w you now, he said he struck the stag. „ I ii 381
White? I w thee, my son, as the snow The Falcon 500
I w's ye'll think moor o' this young Squire Edgar Prom. of May I 109
I w's that ye goäs By haäfe a scoor o' naämes— „ III 728
I w thee—thou canst not be sorrier Foresters I ii 281
Warring Wailing! not w? Boy, thou hast forgotten Harold II ii 473 Warrior (adj.) The w Earl of Allendale, He loved the Lady Anne; Foresters I i 6
'Farewell, farewell, my w Earl!' „ I i 18
Warrior (s) And I would have my w all in arms. Queen Mary V v 34
W thou art, and mighty wise withal! Harold II ii 543 Advance our Standard of the W, „ IV i 248

Warrior (s) (continued) yet he was a w, And wise, yea truthful, Harold v ii 154
—a w—ay, And but that Holy Peter fought for us, „ v ii 163
And all the puissance of the w, Becket i i 152
This young w broke his prison Foresters iv 998
Warrior-god all Our cancell'd w-g's, our grim Walhalla, Harold iii ii 73
Warsong He is chanting some old w. „ v i 495
War-storm If this w-s in one of its rough rolls Wash up „ v i 165
War-woodman W-w of old Woden, how he fells „ v i 588
Wary I will be wise and w, not the soldier As Foliot swears it.— Becket i i 387
Brave, w, sane to the heart of her—a Tudor Queen Mary v v 225
Was W it so indeed? w it so? w it so? The Falcon 541
Wash W up that old crown of Northumberland. Harold v i 167
Till the sea w her level with her shores, „ v i 331
Wash'd as if her feet were w in blood, Queen Mary iii i 62
With His own blood, and w us from our sins, „ iii iii 203
w his hands and all his face therein, „ iv iii 338 our helpless folk Are w away, wailing, Harold ii ii 471
the Archbishop w my feet o' Tuesday. Becket i iv 234
Washerwoman The w's brat! Harold iv iii 171
Wasp Out crept a w, with half the swarm behind. Queen Mary iii iii 49
Wassail The curse of England! these are drown'd in w, Harold iv iii 224 the w yells of thief And rogue and liar echo down in Hell, Foresters iii 322
Waste (adj.) w field With nothing but my battle-axe and him To spatter his brains! Harold ii ii 777
And lay them both upon the w sea-shore At Hastings, „ v ii 159 never again Shall the w voice of the bond-breaking sea Becket v ii 358
Waste (s) thou be a wild thing Out of the w, Harold i i 381
War, w, plague, famine, all malignities. „ i i 466
This brother comes to save Your land from w; „ iv i 95
Moon on the w and the wold, The Cup i ii 4 and leave it A w of rock and ruin, hear. „ ii 307
Waste (verb) And w's more life. Queen Mary i v 507
Thou art Tostig's brother, Who w's the land. Harold iv i 93
And w the land about thee as thou goest, „ v i 130 should the King of England w the fields Of England, „ v i 140
W not thy might before the battle! „ v i 415
if a man W's himself among women, Becket, Pro. 137
But wherefore w your heart In looking Prom. of May ii 503 next time you w them at a pot-house you get no more from me. „ iii 99
Than this, this—but I w no words upon him: „ iii 745 how to charm and w the hearts of men. Foresters ii i 502
Richard sacks and w's a town With random pillage, „ iv 376
Wasted (See also Famine-wasted) Your havings w by the scythe and spade— Queen Mary ii ii 276
Hath w all the land at Pevensey— Harold iv iii 189 wells of Castaly are not w upon the desert. Becket, Pro. 388
Shall God's good gifts be w? „ i iv 71
W our diocese, outraged our tenants, „ v ii 431
I have w pity on her—not dead now— Prom. of May iii 691
w his revenues in the service of our good king Richard Foresters i i 193
Wasteful look, how w of the blossom you are! Prom. of May i 612
Wat And he will play the Walworth to this W; Queen Mary ii ii 371
Watch (verb) and w The parch'd banks rolling incense, Queen Mary i v 90
Like dogs that set to w their master's gate, „ iii iv 309
I must not dream, not wink, but w. „ iii v 154
w All that is gracious in the breath of heaven „ iii vi 223
And w a good man burn. „ iv iii 293 belike he w'es, If this war-storm in one of its rough rolls Harold v i 164
And w Fitzurse, and if he follow thee, Becket i i 330
I sometimes think he sleeps When he should w; „ iii i 34
W! he will out again, and presently, „ iii ii 8 climb The mountain opposite and w the chase. The Cup i i 117
I'll w him from behind the trees, Foresters iii 48
Watch (vigil) (See also Death-watch) arm'd men Ever keep w beside my chamber door, Harold ii ii 245
We all keep w. Foresters iv 608
Watch (watchman) you curse so loud, The w will hear you. Queen Mary v iv 63
Watch'd So hated here! I w a hive of late; Queen Mary iii iii 46
W children playing at their life to be, „ iii iv 63
Watch'd (continued) I w you dancing once With your huge father; Queen Mary v ii 143 in Guernsey, I w a woman burn; „ v iv 18
Why am I follow'd, haunted, harass'd, w? Harold ii ii 249
He w her pass with John of Salisbury Becket i ii 40
We have w So long in vain, he hath pass'd out again, „ iii ii 11 and I w her and followed her into the woods, „ iv ii 16
Watchin' When ye thowt there were nawbody w o' you, Prom. of May ii 180
Watching (See also Watchin') ever see a carrion crow Stand w a sick beast Queen Mary iv iii 7 but smile As kindness, w all, Harold i i 367
I have had a weary day in w you. The Cup i ii 40
He dozes. I have left her w him. Foresters ii ii 81
Water lead The living w's of the Faith again Queen Mary i v 88
Council, The Parliament as well, are troubled w's; And yet like w's „ ii ii 51
Scream'd as you did for w. „ iii v 58
And putrid w, every drop a worm, „ iv iii 444
Pour not w In the full vessel Harold i i 377 tho' I can drink wine I cannot bide w, Becket i iv 220 keep the figure moist and make it hold w, „ iii iii 166
we bring a message from the King Beyond the w; „ v ii 303
The King beyond the w, thro' our voices, „ v ii 323
To your young King on this side of the w, „ v ii 327 has promised to keep our heads above w; Prom. of May iii 170
More w goes by the mill than the miller wots of, Foresters i ii 48
In the cold w that she lost her voice, „ iv 243
Were plunged beneath the w's of the sea, „ iv 668
Waterfall You know the w That in the summer The Cup i i 107
Waterside I will go with you to the w. Queen Mary iii ii 148
Wattled And w thick with ash and willow-wands; Harold v i 190
Wave or w And wind at their old battle: Queen Mary i v 356
God lay the w's and strow the storms „ i v 381 torn Down the strong w of brawlers. „ iii i 186
All your voices Are w's on flint. „ iv i 122 shatter'd back The hugest w from Norseland Harold iv iii 62 child's sand-castle on the beach For the next w— The Cup i ii 255 heard a saying in Egypt, that ambition Is like the sea w, „ i iii 138 to the w, to the glebe, to the fire! „ ii 4
In this full tide of love, W heralds w: Foresters iv 1044
Waver'd The Pope himself w; Queen Mary iv i 85
Waverer makes the w pass Into more settled hatred „ iii iv 157
Wavering When faith is w makes the waverer pass „ iii iv 157
Waxen some w doll Thy baby eyes have rested on, belike; „ i v 8
Who melts a w image by the fire, Foresters ii i 671
Way (See also Half-way, Waäy) Skips every w, from levity or from fear. Queen Mary i iii 170
He is every w a lesser man than Charles; „ i v 330
Your Highness is all trembling. Mary. Make w. „ i v 595 and I fear One scruple, this or that w, „ ii ii 100
But Janus-faces looking diverse w's. „ iii ii 75
If any man in any w would be The one man, „ iii iii 274
No—nor this w will come, Seeing their lie two w's „ iii iv 111
Thou's thy w wi' man and beast, Tib. „ iv iii 498 bound and babble all the w As if itself were happy, „ v v 86 is not this the w? No, that w there are voices. „ v v 206
God guide me lest I lose the w. „ v v 210
That he should harp this w on Normandy? Harold i i 270
I see the goal and half the w to it.— „ i ii 196
Smooth thou my w, before he clash with me; „ ii ii 69
I'll tell them I have had my w with thee. „ ii ii 119
Which w soever the vane-arrow swing, „ ii ii 257
I'll hack my w to the sea. „ ii ii 312
And, brother, we will find a w,' said he— „ ii ii 367 but thou must not this w answer him. „ ii ii 371
Lost, lost, we have lost the w. „ iii ii 15
Who is it comes this w? Tostig? „ iv ii 1 the counter w—Cowl, helm; and crozier, „ v i 443 until I find Which w the battle balance. „ v i 461
That was not the w I ended it first— Becket, Pro. 335
Thou canst not fall that w. „ i i 115
Take it not that w—balk not the Pope's will. „ i iii 242 spied my people's w's; „ i iii 364

Way (continued) like a fool, thou knowest no middle w. Becket I iii 533
I ask'd the w. Rosamund. I think so. „ II i 62 the goodly w of women Who love, „ II i 256 daughter of Zion lies beside the w— „ III iii 178
Well, well, then—have thy w! „ III iii 215
If God would take him in some sudden w— „ V i 94
That w, or this! Save thyself either w. Becket. Oh, no, not either w, nor any w Save by that w „ V iii 84
Slowly but surely—till I see my w. The Cup I i 211
Thou—coming my w too—Camma — good-night. Camma. Thy w? poor worm, crawl down thine own black hole „ II 492
No, not that w—here, under the apple tree. Prom. of May I 82 yet that might be The best w out of it, „ I 476
Is there no other w? „ I 691
the rain beating in my face all the w, „ III 368
I was dreaming of it all the w hither. Foresters I i 136
Dream of it, then, all the w back, „ I i 140
Glide like a light across these woodland w's! „ II i 160
Did we not hear the two would pass this w? „ II i 198 only they that be bred in it can find their w a-nights in it. „ II i 265 forest lawns are all as bright As w's to heaven, „ II i 632
Have ye glanced down thro' all the forest w's „ IV 111
So now which w to the dinner? „ IV 972

Wayside Yes, at the w inn Close by that alder-island in your brook, Prom. of May II 534

Weak But a w mouth, an indeterminate—ha? Bonner. Well, a w mouth, perchance. Queen Mary III iv 340 what is w must lie; „ III v 121 other things As idle; a w Wyatt! „ V i 292
Send out; I am too w to stir abroad: „ V ii 286
Ah, w and meek old man, „ V v 131
W natures that impute Themselves to their unlikes, Foresters II i 690

Weaken'd whether that which held it Had w, Harold V i 106 let not my strong prayer Be w in thy sight, „ V i 648

Weaker You would but make us w, Thomas Stafford. Queen Mary III i 130 so much w, so much worse For last day's journey. The Falcon 832 where the man and the woman, only differing as the stronger and the w, Prom. of May III 191

Weakness was it boldness Or w that won there? Queen Mary I v 560
The w and the dissonance of our clans, The Cup I i 23

Weal foes in Edward's hall To league against thy w. Harold I ii 33
You scheme against her father's w and hers, Foresters IV 481

Wealth (See also World-wealth) He wrecks his health and w on courtesans, Queen Mary I v 167
Which in his absence had been all my w. „ I v 362
But for the w and glory of our realm, „ II ii 210 his w A fountain of perennial alms— „ II ii 384 to those that own exceeding w, „ IV iii 201
The wine and w of all our France are yours; Becket II ii 446
Foam over all the fleeted w of kings The Cup II 289
Than all my childless w, if mine must die. The Falcon 855
I have land now And w, and lay both at your feet. Prom. of May III 616 not with all your w, Your land, your life! „ III 795
As W walk'd in at the door. 'You have come for you saw W coming,' Foresters I i 151
W dropt out of the window, „ I i 156
'Well now you would fain follow W,' „ I i 158
What a w of words—O Lord, I will live „ I ii 36

Wealthy all the magistracy, all the nobles, and all the w; Queen Mary V iv 51

Wean I put the bitters on my breast to w him, The Falcon 190

Wean'd She hath w me from it with such bitterness. Harold IV ii 27

Weänt (will not) Well, it be i' my natur to knock 'im o' the 'eäd now; but I w. Prom. of May I 289 but I promised one of the Misses I wouldn't meddle wi' ye, and I w. „ I 470 an' w ye taäke 'em now, Miss Dora, „ II 40
But I w be too sudden wi' it; „ II 58
W ye gi'e me a kind answer at last? „ II 63 but that be all along o' you, Miss, because ye w hev me; „ II 110 and she w sa much as look at 'im? „ II 161
I w goä to owd Dobson; „ II 218 then, by-and-by, if she w listen to me when I be a-tryin' to saäve 'er—if she w— „ II 693

Weänt (will not) (continued) An' we w mention naw naämes, Prom. of May III 129

Weapon What w hath the child, save his soft tongue, Queen Mary III v 128
I had wish'd for any w. Harold IV iii 19

Wear (See also Weär) I w it then to spite her. Queen Mary I iv 78
I w beneath my dress A shirt of mail: „ I v 144
Ev'n that young girl who dared to w your crown? „ I v 491
w it as memorial of a morning Which found me „ I v 529
I w Upon this finger), ye did promise full Allegiance „ II ii 167 wilt thou w thy cap before the Queen? „ III i 236
And w my crown, and dance upon my grave. „ V ii 601
I dare not w it. Harold III ii 187
The ring thou darest not w, „ V i 421
Take it and w it on that hard heart of yours Becket, Pro. 373
The Mitre! Salisbury. Will you w it?— „ V ii 617
She will be glad at last to w my crown. The Cup I iii 168 and w it Beside him on his throne. „ II 136
The diamonds that you never deign'd to w. The Falcon 762
I w it next my heart. Prom. of May II 81
Will you have it? Will you w it? Foresters I ii 302
And take and w this symbol of your love; „ III 79

Weär and I thinks ye w's a Lunnon boot. Prom. of May I 461

Wearest Why w thou thy cowl to hide thy face? Foresters I ii 206

Wearied I am an old man w with my journey, Queen Mary III ii 127
King hath w of his barren bride.' „ III vi 140
Thou art w out With this day's work, Becket I i 6
Our Senate, w of their tetrarchies, The Cup I i 89

Wearier Yours must have been a w. „ I ii 41

Wearing So royal that the Queen forbad you w it. Queen Mary I iv 77

Weary So w am I of this wet land of theirs, „ III vi 105
I am w—go; make me not wroth with thee! Harold V i 31
I have had a w day in watching you. The Cup I ii 40
O Love and Life, how w am I, Prom. of May III 205 but, my flower, You look so w and worn! „ III 499
But I am w pacing thro' the wood. Foresters II i 129
I am w. What's here? „ II ii 92
W—w As tho' a spell were on me. „ II ii 114

Weasel stick to tha like a w to a rabbit, I will. Prom. of May II 739

Weasel-sucked or the shambles-oak, or a w-s egg, Foresters IV 212

Weather Two young lovers in winter w, Harold III ii 3 you couldn't have more splendid w. Prom. of May II 48
The w's well anew, but the glass be a bit shaäky. „ II 51
the winders brokken, and the w sa cowd, „ III 73

Weather'd Many points w, many perilous ones, Queen Mary V v 211

Weave w the web That may confound thee yet. Harold I i 211

Weaver the psalm-singing w's, cobblers, scum— Queen Mary III iv 290

Web weave the w That may confound thee yet. Harold I i 211
Crost and recrost, a venomous spider's w— Becket II i 200

Wed 'Thou shalt not w thy brother's wife.' Queen Mary I ii 63
Prince of Spain coming to w our Queen! „ I iii 83 that after all She means to w you. „ I iv 89 great party in the state Wills me to w her. „ I iv 93 as great a party in the state Will you to w me? „ I iv 96
—for to w with Spain Would treble England— „ I v 75
No new news that Philip comes to w Mary, „ II i 16
Philip shall not w Mary; „ II i 164
They would not have me w the Prince of Spain; „ II ii 148 that the son Being a King, might w a Queen— „ III i 75
'It is the King's wish, that you should w Prince Philibert of Savoy. „ III v 222 when I came to w your majesty, Lord Howard, „ V i 56 as you know, We meant to w her; „ V i 248
Why then, thou must not w him. Harold III i 265
They say thou art to w the Lady Aldwyth. „ III ii 107
The sovereign of Galatia w's his Queen. The Cup II 432
if a gentleman Should w a farmer's daughter, Prom. of May III 579
And these shall w with freemen, Foresters II i 21
Rather than that would w her with the Sheriff. „ II i 524
In that great heat to w her to the Sheriff „ II i 584 till thou w what man thou wilt. „ II ii 15
'This boy will never w the maid he loves, „ II ii 111
You shall w your Marian. She is true, and you are true, „ II ii 193
Then you will w the Sheriff? „ III 11
For so this maid would w our brother, „ IV 483

Wed (continued) He shall w thee: The land shall still be mine. Child, thou shalt w him, Or thine old father will go mad— Foresters IV 642
But thou wilt w him? „ IV 663
Wedded Were I in Devon with my w bride, Queen Mary I iv 119 when I was w to the realm And the realm's laws „ II ii 164
I would she could have w that poor youth, „ V ii 475
God bless thee, w daughter. Harold III i 293
I am seeking one who w me in secret. „ V ii 29
How dost thou know I am not w to her? Becket, Pro. 73
Madam, you do ill to scorn w love. „ Pro. 354
W? Rosamund. Father! „ I i 318
I that w Henry, Honouring his manhood— „ IV ii 419
I be wife to one That only w me for Aquitaine? „ V i 121
Dost thou remember when I w Sinnatus? The Cup II 194
Wedding wines Of w had been dash'd into the cups Of victory, Harold IV iii 7
You are an honest pair. I will come to your w. Prom. of May III 115
Wedding-dăăy (day) niver touched a drop of owt till my oän w-d, „ I 362
Wedlock I am not so set on w as to choose Queen Mary II ii 214
Weed (See also Shore-weed) But on the heretic dunghill only w's. „ IV i 180
Such w's make dunghills gracious. „ IV i 181 plow Lay rusting in the furrow's yellow w's, Becket I iii 355 like a barren shore That grew salt w's, The Cup II 232
Such rampant w's Strangle each other, Prom. of May III 590
Week Sick for an idle w of hawk and hound Harold I i 103
Nay, rest a w or two, „ II ii 179
I ha' been but a w here and I ha' seen Becket III i 108
What day of the w? Tuesday? „ V ii 281
Only last w at Littlechester, drove me Prom. of May II 404
That John last w return'd to Nottingham, Foresters III 147
Why then a w. Justiciary. No, not an hour: „ IV 446
Weep W not, good Thirlby. Queen Mary IV ii 172
Who would not w? „ IV ii 175
Behold him, brethren: he hath cause to w!—So have we all: w with him if ye will, Yet—— „ IV iii 14
They can but w in silence. „ IV iii 361
I could w for them And her, and mine own self „ V ii 11
And w's herself into the place of power; Becket V ii 214
Weeping she is w now; For the wrong Robin took her Queen Mary III v 262
My girl, thou hast been w: Harold III ii 38
I was w for him; He gave me his hand: The Falcon 834
How gracefully there she stands W— Prom. of May I 736
Since I left her Here w, I have ranged the world, „ II 252
She gave a w kiss to the Earl, (repeat) Foresters I i 20, 119
Weigh the cause that w's Upon my conscience Queen Mary IV iii 237
Which w's even on me. Becket III i 42
Weight (s) Will shift the yoke and w of all the world Queen Mary III vi 212 lighten'd for me The w of this poor crown, Harold I i 218 Charged with the w of heaven wherefrom they fall! „ V i 567 dead man's dying wish should be of w. Becket, Pro. 423 till the w of Germany or the gold of England brings one of them down to the dust— „ II ii 363
I reel beneath the w of utter joy— The Cup II 450 but that I am a man of w, and the w of the church to boot Foresters I ii 57 doth not the w of the flesh at odd times overbalance the w of the church, „ I ii 60
Thou art worth thy w in all those marks of gold, Yea, and the w of the very land „ IV 1023
Weight (verb) And w down all free choice beneath the throne. Becket I iii 118
Weightier Is w than a thousand marks in gold. Foresters IV 660 Weird if yon w sign Not blast us in our dreams.— Harold I i 120
Welcome (adj.) Thou art ever w, Simon Renard. Queen Mary I v 345
To whom the fire were w, „ IV iii 438 but all on 'em w, all on 'em w; Prom of May I 450
You are w, though I fear you be of those Foresters I ii 197
Let me be, I say! The Sheriff will be w! „ IV 602
Welcome (inter.) W to England! Queen Mary V iii 13
W to this poor cottage, my dear lady. The Falcon 270
Welcome (s) And w turns a cottage to a palace. The Falcon 272
Will bid you w, and will listen to you. Prom. of May II 522

Welcome (s) (continued) and there's for you—and the old woman's w. Foresters II i 290
Welcome (verb) let us w him, Love that can lift up Becket II i 13
My masters, w gallant Walter Lea. Foresters IV 1002
Weld he would w France, England, Scotland, Queen Mary V i 136 Welfare Believe it will be better for your w. „ I iv 254 be curious About the w of their babes, The Cup I ii 362 Well (adj. and adv.) God send her w; Here comes her Royal Grace. Queen Mary II ii 125
Now what I am ye know right w—your Queen; „ II ii 162
But all is w; 'twas ev'n the will of God, „ III ii 77
Can we not have the Catholic church as w Without as with the Italian? „ III iii 98
Philip, can that be w? „ V i 143
Thou knowest never woman meant so w, „ V ii 343
I trust your Grace is w. „ V ii 551
I am not w, but it will better me, „ V ii 553
All is w then; rest—I will to rest; he said, I must have rest. „ V v 185 a Boleyn, too, Glancing across the Tudor—not so w. „ V v 228
And it is w with me, tho' some of you Have scorn'd me— Harold I i 187
w, w—a dream—no more! „ I ii 92
Ay—w—of old. I tell thee what, my child; „ I ii 96
And it were w, if thou shouldst let him feel, „ II ii 15
And w for thee and England—and for her— „ III ii 111
Tho' we have pierced thro' all her practices; And that is w. „ V i 157
That is w. The Norman, What is he doing? „ V i 217
W? Fitzurse. Nay, let me pass, my lord, for I must know. Becket I i 204 an' it 'ud be w for me in the end, „ III i 134
W—w—away. „ III ii 54
I mean to marry him—if that be w. The Cup II 62
Great Artemis! O Camma, can it be w, „ II 81
'Get the Count to give me his falcon, And that will make me w.' The Falcon 243 when he came last year To see me hawking, he was w enough: „ 313
It might have been as w for me. „ 386
Here, or else w in Heaven, where all is w. „ 682
He gave me his hand: 'I should be w again If the good Count would give me——' „ 836
As w as ever. I came back to keep his birthday. Prom. of May I 73
The weather's w anew, but the glass be a bit shaäky. „ II 51
Eh, but I be w to do; „ II 72
Courage, courage! and all will go w. „ III 215
Crown thee with flowers; and he will soon be w: All will be w. Foresters II ii 20
Then all is w. In this full tide of love, Wave heralds wave: „ IV 1042
Strike up a stave, my masters, all is w. „ IV 1102
Well (s) The w's of Castaly are not wasted upon the desert. Becket, Pro. 387 this bitter world again—These w's of Marah. „ V ii 82
We are almost at the bottom of the w: Prom. of May III 161
She lay so long at the bottom of her w Foresters IV 242
Well-beloved God bless our w-b Robin, Earl of Huntingdon. „ I i 248
Wells Deans Of Christchurch, Durham, Exeter, and W— Queen Mary I ii 10
Well-served I am w-s, and am in everything „ V iii 24
Well-shaped I am as w-s as my lady here, Becket III i 150
Well to do but I be w t d; and if ye would nobbut hev me, Prom. of May II 72
Welsh had I been his, I had been all W. Aldwyth. Oh, ay—all W—and yet I saw thee drive him up his hills— Harold IV i 209
Welshman Your W says, 'The Truth against the World,' „ II ii 397
Wench But the w Hath her own troubles; Queen Mary III v 261
Then there isn't a goodly w to serve him with it: Becket I iv 159 gave me a great pat o' the cheek for a pretty w, „ III i 126 Went My mother said, Go up; and up I w. Queen Mary I iii 99 who w with your train bands To fight with Wyatt, „ II ii 26 gray rogue, Gardiner, W on his knees, „ III v 166 all boots were ever made Since man w barefoot. „ III v 198
These meteors came and w before our day, Harold I i 131 wouldst thou that it w aught else than well? „ I i 334

Went (continued) I would it w as well as with mine earldom, Harold I i 336
An evil dream that ever came and w— „ I ii 70 thine host in England when I w To visit Edward. „ II ii 5
Your comet came and w. „ III i 359
w abroad Thro' all my counties, Becket I iii 362 due to those That w before us for their work, „ II ii 192 those Who w before us did not wholly clear „ II ii 202 lost her and w on and on till I found the light and the lady, „ IV ii 18
besides the wind W with my arrow. The Cup I ii 32
It be five year sin' ye w afoor to him, Prom. of May II 5
I sank so low that I w into service— „ III 391 an' one on 'em w an' lost hersen i' the river. „ III 456
As happy as any of those that w before. Foresters I ii 129
Wept then all w but she, Who changed not colour Queen Mary III i 397
That heaven w and earth blush'd. „ III iv 193 under no ceiling but the cloud that w on them, „ V iv 40 Wessex (adj.) Our W dragon flies beyond the Humber, Harold IV i 3
Wessex (s) (kingdom of the West Saxons) Harold, Earl of W! „ II i 82
Art thou not Earl of W? „ II i 85
Were such murderous liars In W— „ II i 95
West (adj.) we fun' 'im out a-walkin' i' W Field wi' a white 'at, Prom. of May III 135
Yet Thou art but a W Saxon: we are Danes! Harold IV i 53
West (s) (See also South-west) Tho' charged with all the wet of all the w. „ II ii 189 who know His prowess in the mountains of the W, „ IV i 165
To leave the Pope dominion in the W. He gave him all the kingdoms of the W. „ V i 23
Whose doings are a horror to the east, A hissing in the w!' Becket IV ii 245 marvell'd at Our unfamiliar beauties of the w; „ IV ii 303
In our poor w We cannot do it so well. „ IV ii 316
Westminster (abbey and city) Where is the charter of our W? Harold III i 194
Seeing he must to W and crown Young Henry Becket III ii 9
Westminster (Bishop) Bishops—York, London, Chichester, W— „ I iii 386
West Saxon Thou art but a W S: we are Danes! Harold IV i 53
Wet (adj.) it would seem this people Care more for our brief life in their w land, Queen Mary III vi 62
So weary am I of this w land of theirs, „ III vi 105
Will my faggots Be w as his were? „ IV ii 229
Wet (s) Eh, the wind and the w! „ IV iii 467 barrin' the w, Hodge 'ud ha' been a-harrowin' „ IV iii 491
W, famine, ague, fever, storm, wreck, wrath,— „ V v 108
Tho' charged with all the w of all the west. Harold II ii 188
Whale Rolf, what fish did swallow Jonah? Rolf. A w! Fisherman. Then a w to a whelk we have swallowed the King of England. „ II i 43
Wharf swirling under me in the lamplight, by the rotten w's— Prom. of May III 371
Wharton (Lady Anne) See Anne, Anne Wharton
Wheat garner the w, And burn the tares Queen Mary V v 113
Wheedle I could not force or w to my will. The Cup I iii 167
Wheedled Has w it off the King's neck to her own. Becket IV ii 201
Wheedling It was a w monk Set up the mass. Queen Mary I ii 90
Wheel(s) The w of Fate has roll'd me to the top. The Cup II 221
There was a song he made to the turning w— Foresters I iii 154
Wheel (verb) and howsoe'er Thy quarry wind and w, The Falcon 12
Whelk whale to a w we have swallowed the King of England. Harold II i 44
Whelmest corpse thou w with thine earth is cursed, „ V i 67
When When did I hear aught but this 'W' from thee? „ I i 284
Whew He swears by the Rood. W! Queen Mary I i 63
Whine never w Like that poor heart, Northumberland, „ II ii 332
Whined The man had children, and he w for those. „ II ii 336
Whinnied colt winced and w and flung up her heels; Becket, Pro. 515
Whipping doth not the living skin thicken against perpetual w's? „ III iii 317
Whipt for doing that His father w him into doing— Queen Mary I v 63
I hope they w him. I would have hang'd him. Becket, Pro. 15
I am like a boy now going to be w; Foresters II ii 50
Whirl in the w of change may come to be one. Queen Mary I iii 106
Whirring What is that w sound? (repeat) Harold V i 482, 665
Whisking And w round a corner, show'd his back Queen Mary II i 131
Whisper (s) voice Against them is a w to the roar „ IV ii 187
The secret w of the Holy Father. Becket I iii 236
Indungeon'd from one w of the wind, „ IV ii 146
Thro' all closed doors a dreadful w crept „ V ii 88
Whisper (verb) W! God's angels only know it. Ha! Harold V ii 31
You never w close as lovers do, Foresters III 5
Will w evermore of Robin Hood. „ IV 1069 Whisper'd W me, if I loved him, not to yield Queen Mary I ii 35
w, 'Wyatt,' And whisking round a corner, „ II i 129
Rose hand in hand, and w, 'come away! „ III v 148
I w, Let me crown you Queen of Beauty, The Falcon 360
Whispering W—leagued together To bar me Queen Mary I iv 139
Lord Devon, girls! what are you w here? „ V ii 485 year to come W 'it will be happier,' Foresters I iii 18 Whistle La, to w out my life, Queen Mary II iv 109
I w to the bird has broken cage, And all in vain. „ V v 19
Arrows w all about. Foresters II ii 165
White (See also Maiden-white) for thou art as w as three Christmasses. Queen Mary I i 30 because they know him The last W Rose, the last Plantagenet „ I iv 207
All red and w, the fashion of our land. „ I v 10 but took To the English red and w. „ I v 18 another, mute as death, And w as her own milk; „ II ii 80 there is ordnance On the W Tower and on the Devil's Tower, „ II iii 44 or you'll make the W Tower a black 'un for us this blessed day. „ II iii 100 w satin his trunkhose, Inwrought with silver,— „ III i 76
Bagenhall, I see The Tudor green and w. „ III i 180
Mary rubb'd out pale—She could not make it w— „ III i 424 and your flocks of swans, As fair and w as angels; „ III ii 16
So after that when she once more is seen W as the light, „ III iv 199
The colours of our Queen are green and w, „ III v 6
Hodge 'ud ha' been a-harrowin' o' w peasen i' the outfield „ IV iii 492 Charged him to do it—he is w as death. „ IV iii 558 and all in w, His long w beard, which he had never shaven „ IV iii 591
Choose therefore whether thou wilt have thy conscience W as a maiden's hand, Harold II ii 284
My lord! thou art w as death. „ II ii 813
Am I so w? Thy Duke will seem the darker. Hence, I follow. „ II ii 816
They love the w rose of virginity, The cold, w lily blowing in her cell: „ III i 273
For England, for thy poor w dove, who flutters Between thee and the porch, „ IV i 230
In cold, w cells beneath an icy moon— „ V i 325
A doter on w pheasant-flesh at feasts, Becket, Pro. 97
Is black and w at once, and comes to nought. „ I iii 32
We can make a black sin w. „ I iv 169
That he made the black sheep w. „ I iv 176
w In the sweet moon as with a lovelier snow! The Cup I ii 395
See, see, my w bird stepping toward the snare. „ I iii 35
No matter! see your cloth be w as snow! The Falcon 498
W? I warrant thee, my son, as the snow yonder on the very tip-top o' the mountain. „ 500
And yet to speak w truth, my good old mother, „ 503
The hen cluckt late by the w farm gate, Prom. of May I 38
Why, now, what maäkes tha sa w? „ I 417
Wi' the wild w rose, an' the woodbine sa gaäy, „ II 174
And the w cloud is roll'd along the sky! Foresters I ii 319
I found this w doe wandering thro' the wood, „ II i 95
Ghost! did one in w pass? „ II i 228 thy father will not grace our feast With his w beard to-day. „ IV 81
White (Sir Thomas) See Thomas White
White Rose The last W R, the last Plantagenet Queen Mary I iv 207
Whitethorn There's w, girl. „ III v 9
Whitewash you could w that cottage of yours Prom. of May III 43
Whizzing Will hear our arrows w overhead, Foresters IV 1090
Whoä (stop) Gee oop! w! Gee oop! w! (repeat) Prom. of May II 307, 317

Whole Why, such a game, sir, were w years a playing. Queen Mary I iii 140
To guard and keep you w and safe from all The spoil „ II ii 246 Presenting the w body of this realm Of England, „ III iii 116 and we cannot burn w towns; they are many, „ III iv 175
Lest your w body should madden with the poison? „ III iv 207
And not like thine To gorge a heretic w, roasted or raw. „ III iv 344
'what am I, Cranmer, against w ages?' „ IV ii 104
Of this be sure, he is w worlds away. „ IV iii 194
I were w devil if I wrong'd you, Madam. „ V iii 6
Love will stay for a w life long. Harold I ii 17 but ours are w; I have but bark'd my hands. „ II i 4
'Love for a w life long' When was that sung? „ III ii 88
Go round once more; See all be sound and w. „ V i 194
Sire, the business Of thy w kingdom waits me: Becket, Pro. 278
And goodly acres—we will make her w; „ I i 164
O rare, a w long day of open field. „ I i 296 and the moon Divides the w long street with light and shade. „ I i 365 Cannot a smooth tongue lick him w again To serve your will? „ II ii 25
And as for the flesh at table, a w Peter's sheet, „ III iii 129
The soldier, when he lets his w self go Lost in the common good, „ V ii 39 and send Her w heart's heat into it, „ V ii 255
The Pope, the King, will curse you—the w world Abhor you; „ V iii 183 violated the w Tradition of our land, Prom. of May I 495
We shall have to sell all the land, which Father, for a w life, has been getting together, „ III 165
Canst thou endure to be a beggar whose w life hath been folded like a blossom in the sheath, Foresters I i 205
I would ha' given my w body to the King had he asked for it, „ II i 306
Wholesome yet I found One day, a w scripture, Queen Mary III iv 84
If thou canst make a w use of these Harold III i 20 the w plow Lay rusting in the furrow's yellow weeds, Becket I iii 354
I came on certain w usages, „ I iii 412
Because I have a w medicine here Puts that belief asleep. „ IV ii 50
Wholly not for myself—For England—yet not w— Harold V i 307
Only that the rift he made May close between us, here I am w king, Becket II ii 132 those Who went before us did not w clear The deadly growths of earth, „ II ii 202
Wholly-hopeless submit at once Is better than a w-h war, The Cup I ii 141
Whoop Bee musn't buzz, W—but he knows. (repeat) Becket III i 99, 241
Grasshopper, grasshopper, W—you can hear. „ III i 103
Bird mustn't tell, W—he can see. (repeat) „ III i 107, 256
W—but he knows, W—but he knows. „ III i 262 Whose W play is all to find herself a King. Queen Mary I iii 164 but of this England, in w crown our Kent is the fairest jewel. „ II i 163
One, w bolts, That jail you from free life, „ III v 171
Deserts? Amen to what? W deserts? Yours? „ V iv 31
Whoy (why) W, O lor, Miss! that wur sa long back, Prom. of May III 70
Wicked Nay swears, it was no w wilfulness, Only a natural chance. Queen Mary III v 72
A chance—perchance One of those w wilfuls that men make, „ III v 75
W sea-will-o'-the-wisp! Wolf of the shore! Harold II i 20
The w sister clapt her hands and laugh'd; „ V ii 48
But all that sounds so w and so strange; Prom. of May I 656
Wickedness His w is like my wretchedness— „ III 747 Wickentree if I hadn't a sprig o' w sewn into my dress, Foresters II i 250
Wide cry To have the gates set w again, Queen Mary II iv 65
They are the flower of England; set the gates w. „ II iv 70
W of the mark ev'n for a madman's dream. „ V iii 81
O God, that I were in some w, waste field Harold II ii 777
Fling w the doors and let the new-made children The Cup II 163
Richer than all the w world-wealth of May, The Falcon 466
Wider But stretch it w; say when England fell. Queen Mary III iii 261
Wide-spread Into the w-s arms of fealty, „ II ii 264

Widow (See also Wife-widow) a w And orphan child, whom one of thy wild barons— Becket, Pro. 187
Who stole the w's one sitting hen o' Sunday, „ I iv 120
The stately w has no heart for me. The Falcon 30
Prettier than that same w which you wot of. Foresters III 268
Shamed a too trustful w whom you heard In her confession; „ III 385
All w's we have holpen pray for us, „ IV 1078
Widow'd Back thro' their w channel here, Queen Mary I v 89 Wield And Loathing w a Saxon battle-axe— Harold V i 414
w's His war-club, dashes it on Gurth, „ V i 639 Wife (See also Country-wives, Heart-wife, Maiden-wife) was born of a true man and a ring'd w, Queen Mary I i 55
'Thou shalt not wed thy brother's w.' „ I ii 63
And scared the gray old porter and his w. „ II iii 16
Your Grace hath a most chaste and loving w. „ III vi 130 parting of a husband and a w Is like the cleaving of a heart; „ III vi 195 so my Queen Would leave me—as—my w. „ V i 252 Might I not say—to please your w, the Queen? „ V i 307 and cleave unto each other As man and w? „ V ii 139
Unhappiest Of Queens and wives and women! „ V ii 408
That his own w is no affair of his. „ V ii 561
They say, his w was knowing and abetting. Harold. They say, his w!—To marry and have no husband Makes the w fool. Harold II ii 306
And that my w descends from Alfred? „ II ii 594 a w, What matters who, so she be serviceable „ III i 290
Yea, am I not thy w? „ IV iii 41
No, but a shoal of wives upon the heath, „ V i 146
We have parted from our w without reproach, „ V i 154 devil Hath haunted me—mine oath—my w— „ V i 318 being the true w Of this dead King, „ V ii 84
Ay, and what art thou? Edith. His w! „ V ii 90
Some held she was his w in secret— „ V ii 100
I am his w! and she—For look, „ V ii 106 Thy w am I for ever and evermore. „ V ii 118 it seems Was false to his own w. „ V ii 152
Who calls me? she That was my w, Becket II ii 75 and pray God she prove True w to you. „ II ii 79 convene This conference but to babble of our wives? „ II ii 90 whom you call—fancy—my husband's brother's w. „ III i 202 whom it pleases him To call his wives; „ IV ii 37
talk'd him out of His ten wives into one. „ IV ii 313
You were but Aquitaine to Louis—no w; You are only Aquitaine to me—no w. „ V i 117
I be w to one That only wedded me for Aquitaine? Yet this no w— „ V i 120 this no w has born you four brave sons, „ V i 125
I am true w, and have my fears Lest Becket „ V i 157 for of your wives you shall Find one a slut „ V ii 201
'To the admired Camma, w of Sinnatus, the Tetrarch, The Cup I i 36 and this cup to Camma, The w of Sinnatus. „ I i 63
I send it to the w of Sinnatus, „ I i 72
Well spoken, w. Synorix. Madam, so well I yield. „ I ii 171 —did Dishonour to our wives. „ I ii 184 be willing wives enough To feel dishonour, honour. „ I ii 187
I know of no such wives in all Galatia. „ I ii 191
What follows is for no w's eyes. „ I ii 231
What should he say, my w! „ I ii 348 welfare of their babes, their wives, O ay—their wives—their wives. „ I ii 363
He should say nothing to my w if I Were by „ I ii 366 if she be a true and loving w She may, „ I iii 32 will he ever be of one faith with his w? Prom. of May III 178
But lack of happiness in a blatant w. Foresters I iii 132
There are no wives like English wives „ II i 15
An outlaw's bride may not be w in law. „ II ii 90
Robin, I do, but I have a bad w. „ III 70
Thou art more my w so feeling, than if my w „ III 123
Here comes a citizen, and I think his w. „ III 228
dear w, we have fallen into the hands Of Robin Hood. „ III 232 no man, so His own true w came with him, „ III 240
Curtsey to him, w, and thank him. „ III 248
Away, away, w, wilt thou anger him? „ III 254

Wife (continued) they put it upon me because I have a bad w. Foresters III 438 then each Man That owns a w or daughter, „ III 460 dishonour The daughters and the wives of your own faction— „ IV 698 Wife-like So w-l humble to the trivial boy Mismatch'd with her for policy! Queen Mary III i 364
Wife-widow Left Mary a w-w here alone, „ III i 462
Wild and will pounce like a w beast out of his cage to worry Cranmer. „ I i 88
You are w; what headache? „ I iv 147 like the w hedge-rose Of a soft winter, possible, „ III vi 14 Catch the w cat, cage him, and when he springs „ V v 65 letting the w brook Speak for us— „ V v 90
Thou knowest I soon go w. Harold I i 297
Come, come! as yet thou art not gone so w „ I i 299
Nor thou be a w thing Out of the waste, „ I i 380
Our w Tostig, Edward hath made him Earl: he would be king:— „ I ii 185
W as he, born so: „ IV i 110
The nimble, w, red, wiry, savage king— „ IV i 197
Save for thy w and violent will that wrench'd All hearts „ V i 277
I lost it, playing with it when I was w. „ V ii 110 a widow And orphan child, whom one of thy w barons— Becket, Pro. 188
Thomas, thou wast not happy taking charge Of this w Rosamund to please the King, „ I i 392
This w one—nay, I shall not prick myself— „ II i 143
And I could tear him asunder with w horses Before he would betray it. „ II i 267
Like the w beast—if you can call it love. „ IV ii 121
Nay, for who could trace a hand So w and staggering? The Falcon 439
Wi' the w white rose, an' the woodbine sa gaäy, Prom. of May II 174
if you Had seen us that w morning when we found Her bed unslept in, „ II 469
That were a w justice indeed. „ III 156
Knave, there is a lot of w fellows in Sherwood Forest Foresters I ii 72
They hold by Richard—the w wood! „ I iii 111 the highback'd polecat, the w boar, The burrowing badger—By St. Nicholas I have a sudden passion for the w wood—We shall be free as air in the w wood— „ I iii 120
I have reign'd one year in the w wood. „ II i 36
Tut! tut! the scream of some w woodland thing. „ II i 253
Here's a pot o' w honey from an old oak, „ II i 295 might Betray me to the w Prince. „ II i 708 loud enough To fright the w hawk passing overhead, „ III 318
Venison, and w boar, hare, geese, besides Hedge-pigs, and they are delivered here in the w wood an hour after noon. „ IV 191
Were some strong fellow here in the w wood, „ IV 509
When the Church and the law have forgotten God's music, they shall dance to the music of the w wood. „ IV 515
Then will I live for ever in the w wood. „ IV 556
We dealt in the w justice of the woods. „ IV 879
Wild-beast The mere w-b! Dobson. Out o' the chaumber, Prom. of May III 1072 Wilderness Lost in a w where none can hear! Queen Mary V ii 382 pray for him who hath fed you in the w. Becket I iv 267
Wildest The w of the random youth of Florence The Falcon 808
Wild-flower My bank Of w-f's. At thy feet! Becket II i 126
Wild-fowl we came upon A w-f sitting on her nest, „ V ii 234
Wilful One of those wicked w's that men make, Queen Mary III v 75
W, w. Go—the Saints Pilot Harold I i 263
Wilfulness was no wicked w, Only a natural chance. Queen Mary III v 72
Will (s) (See also Free-will) putting by his father's w. „ I ii 28 Few things have fail'd to which I set my w. „ II ii 23 and so learn Your royal w, and do it.— „ II ii 139 seeks To bend the laws to his own w, „ II ii 184
Our sovereign Lady by King Harry's w; „ II ii 268
But all is well; 'twas ev'n the w of God, „ III ii 77
Your father had a w that beat men down; „ IV i 108
It is God's w, the Holy Father's w, And Philip's w, „ IV i 184
Stand there and wait my w. Harold II ii 683
Help us against the Norman? Morcar. With good w; „ IV i 182
Will (s) (continued) Take it not that way—balk not the Pope's w. Becket I iii 243
Is it thy w, My lord Archbishop, „ I iii 271 it is the w of God To break me, „ I iii 290
'False to myself! It is the w of God!' Henry. God's w be what it will, „ I iii 328
The King's w and God's w and justice; „ I iii 420
The w of God—why, then it is my w— „ I iii 473 tongue lick him whole again To serve your w? Henry. He hates my w, not me. „ II ii 26 since he flouts the w of either realm, „ II ii 256
My liege, your w and happiness are mine. „ III iii 42
God's w be done! (repeat) „ V ii 565, 567
It is God's w. Go on. „ V ii 634
Why do you force me thus against my w? „ V iii 22
I could not force or wheedle to my w. The Cup I iii 167 would oust me from his w, if I Made such a marriage. Prom. of May I 513
There is a fence I cannot overleap, My father's w. Foresters III 10
For thou hast stolen my w, and made it thine. „ III 329
Will (verb) Or—if the Lord God w it—on the stake. Queen Mary II i 251 and use Both us and them according as they w. „ II ii 161
As you w. Fitzurse. Nay, as you w. Becket. Nay, as you w. Becket V ii 306
I w, I w. And I w not betray you. The Cup I ii 315
I w, I w. Poor fellow! The Falcon 281
Will'd Get thou into thy cloister as the king W it: Harold V i 310 were he living And grown to man and Sinnatus w it, The Cup I ii 151
Willer (willow) Wi' the briar sa green, an' the w sa graäy, Prom. of May II 186
William (Lord William Howard) (See also Howard, William Howard) News abroad, W? Queen Mary II i 13 brave Lord W Thrust him from Ludgate, „ II iv 91
William (the Conqueror) (See also William the First) Fly thou to W; tell him we have Harold. Harold II i 110
W laugh'd and swore that might was right, „ II ii 361
That had anger'd me Had I been W. „ II ii 387 may he not make A league with W, „ II ii 461
I will not hear thee—W comes. „ II ii 480
W the tanner's bastard! „ II ii 775
'If ye side with W Ye are not noble.' „ II ii 788 when I rode with W down to Harfleur, „ III i 82 one should be This W's fellow-tricksters;— „ III ii 77 Against St. Valery And W. „ III ii 137 but worse news: this W sent to Rome, „ III ii 141
Keep that for Norman W! Thane. Down with W! „ IV iii 169
W the Norman, for the wind had changed— „ IV iii 181
W hath landed, ha? „ IV iii 185 play The W with thine eyesight and thy tongue. „ V i 27
—thou art but a messenger of W. „ V i 30
W's or his own As wind blows, or tide flows: „ V i 162 hath borne at times A bastard false as W. „ V i 176
A lake that dips in W As well as Harold. „ V i 186 a mightier man-in-arms Than W. „ V i 400
Save W's death or mine. „ V i 427
William (the First) (See also William the Conqueror) In W's time, in our first Edward's time, Queen Mary III iii 226
There was no Canterbury in W's time. Becket III iii 200
William Howard (Lord, Lord High Admiral) (See also Howard, William) I leave Lord W H in your city, Queen Mary II ii 245
I saw Lord W H By torchlight, „ II iii 28
Is not Lord W H a true man? „ III i 165 Spite of Lord Paget and Lord W H, „ III i 324 my Lord Paget and Lord W H, Crave, „ IV i 6
No, here's Lord W H. „ IV iii 288
William of Orange W o O, William the Silent. „ III i 197
Williams (Lord, of Thame) Whereat Lord W gave a sudden cry:— „ IV iii 604
William the Silent (William of Orange) William of Orange, W t S. „ III i 198
W t S They call him— „ III ii 191
Willing he will be w that you and Father should live with us; Prom. of May III 260

Willing (continued) there might be w wives enough To feel dishonour, honour. The Cup I ii 187
Willingly Full w, my lord. Foresters I ii 134
Willingness With most exceeding w, I will; Queen Mary III v 214
Will not See Weänt, Wunt
Willow (See also Willer) This is the hottest of it: hold, ash! hold, w! Harold V i 629 saw the ball you lost in the fork of the great w Becket IV ii 58 you told me a great fib: it wasn't in the w. „ IV ii 371
Willow-herb Forget-me-not, meadowsweet, w-h. Prom. of May II 299
Willow-wands And wattled thick with ash and w-w; Harold V i 190
Wills-o'-the-wisp (See also Wisp) oafs, ghosts o' the mist, w-o'-t-w; Foresters II i 264
Willy-nilly if man be only A w-n current of sensations— Prom. of May II 263
And someone saw thy w-n nun Vying a tress Harold V i 148
This other, w-n, for his bride. Foresters IV 768
Wilson (a schoolmaster) Well, W. I seed that one cow o' thine Prom. of May I 190 summat wrong theer, W, fur I doänt understan' it. „ I 234
Why, W, tha 'eärd 'im thysen— „ I 301
—what's the newspaäper word, W?—celebrate— „ I 320
Win I'm the first of players. I shall w. Queen Mary I iii 149
As if to w the man by flattering him. „ II ii 312
W thro' this day with honour to yourself, „ IV ii 165
And, if I w, I w, and thou art king; Harold V i 125
To tell thee thou shouldst w at Stamford-bridge, „ V i 236 and to w my own bread, Becket III i 117
A policy of wise pardon W's here as well as there. „ V ii 24
—if I w her love, They too will cleave to me, The Cup I iii 153 his falcon Ev'n w's his dinner for him in the field. The Falcon 231
W me you cannot, murder me you may, Foresters IV 721
Win (reach) Eh, my rheumatizy be that bad how-iver be I to w to the burnin'. Queen Mary IV iii 474
Winced colt w and whinnied and flung up her heels; Becket, Pro. 515
Winchester a plundering o' Bishop W's house; Queen Mary II iii 73 same book You wrote against my Lord of W; „ IV iii 265
Henry of W? Henry. Him who crown'd Stephen— Becket, Pro. 272 Wind (s) or wave And w at their old battle: Queen Mary I v 357 know that whether A w be warm or cold, „ I v 620
Eh, the w and the wet! „ IV iii 466 but Dumble wur blow'd wi' the w, „ IV iii 477 barrin' the w, Dumble wur blow'd wi' the w, „ IV iii 493
Proclaim it to the w's. „ V ii 290
As few as I may in a w, Harold II i 68
the best, strong-wing'd against the w. „ II ii 149
The w's so cross and jostle among these towers. „ II ii 155
Breathe the free w from off our Saxon downs, „ II ii 186
For happier homeward w's than that which crack'd „ II ii 198
But wherefore is the w, „ II ii 256
The w is fair For England now . . . „ II ii 766 Heard, heard— Harold. The w in his hair? „ III i 371
we must fight. How blows the w? „ III ii 135
William the Norman, for the w had changed— „ IV iii 181
William's or his own As w blows, or tide flows: „ V i 163
Winnow and scatter all scruples to the w, Becket I i 151 that one time sway to the current, And to the w another. „ I iii 595
Is it the w of the dawn that I hear „ II i 1 and so of the other w's; „ II ii 323
God and his free w grant your lordship a happy home-return „ III iii 327
Indungeon'd from one whisper of the w, „ IV ii 147 besides the w Went with my arrow. The Cup I ii 31 thou that art life to the w, to the wave, „ II 3
Thou whose breath Is balmy w to robe „ II 265
On my last voyage—but the w has fail'd— „ II 521
My far-eyed queen of the w's— The Falcon 9
And a salt w burnt the blossoming trees; Prom. of May I 57 day's bright like a friend, but the w east like an enemy. „ I 79
He wur sa bellows'd out wi' the w this murnin', „ III 432
To break our band and scatter us to the w's. Foresters III 454 Wind (verb) and howsoe'er Thy quarry w and wheel, The Falcon 12
if I w This forest-horn of mine Foresters IV 174
Winder (window) and I heärd the w—that's the w at the end o' the passage, Prom. of May I 396
afoor I coomed up he got thruff the w ageän. „ I 406

Winder (window) (continued) I'll hev the w näailed up, and put Towser under it. Prom. of May I 420
she set the bush by my dairy w „ II 18
the walls sa thin, and the w's brokken, „ III 72
Winding I warrant I worm thro' all their w's. The Cup I i 87
To lead us thro' the w's of the wood. Foresters II i 634
And catch the w of a phantom horn. „ IV 1091
Window (See also Winder) Open the w, Knyvett; Queen Mary II i 154
My w look'd upon the corridor; „ V ii 459
When he we speak of drove the w back, „ V ii 464
Got thro' the w again? Prom. of May I 407 will be placed Beneath the w, Philip. „ I 561
Love flew in at the w Foresters I i 150
Wealth dropt out of the w, „ I i 156
Windsor There yet is time, take boat and pass to W. Mary. I pass to W and I lose my crown. Queen Mary II iv 28
Windy for in our w world What's up is faith, Harold I i 83
Nor mark the sea-bird rouse himself and hover Above the w ripple, „ II ii 336 Wine we may grant the w. Old Sir Thomas always granted the w. Queen Mary II i 41 and mine old flask of w Beside me, „ III i 47
So the w ran, and there be revelry, „ III ii 236
what an acrid w has Luther brew'd, „ IV iii 545
A drinker of black, strong, volcanic w's, „ V ii 94
Would the w's Of wedding had been dash'd Harold IV iii 6 cannot see the world but thro' their w's! „ IV iii 226
Some w! Too much! „ V i 203 amorous Of good old red sound liberal Gascon w: Becket, Pro. 101
A good dish from a bad, new w from old. Henry. Well, who loves w loves woman. „ Pro. 106 when the Gascon w mounts to my head, „ Pro. 113
I have been a lover of w's, and delicate meats, „ I i 76
Go home, and sleep thy w off, for thine eyes Glare stupid-wild with w. „ I i 212
Well—if that isn't goodly w— „ I iv 157 that tho' I can drink w I cannot bide water, „ I iv 220
The w and wealth of all our France are yours; „ II ii 446 warder of the bower hath given himself Of late to w. „ III i 32 his fond excess of w Springs from the loneliness „ III i 39
Are braced and brazen'd up with Christmas w's „ V ii 424
Plunder'd the vessel full of Gascon w, „ V ii 441
—we have eaten—we are heated. W! The Cup I ii 46 red w Ran down the marble and lookt like blood, „ II 203
Bring me The costly w's we use in marriages. „ II 365
W! Filippo, w! Count. It is but thin and cold, The Falcon 576
Not quite recover'd of your wound, the w Might help you. „ 591 thro' the blood the w leaps to the brain Foresters I iii 22
Here, here—a cup of w—drink and begone! „ I iii 89
Give me a draught of w. „ II i 459
A draught of w. Robin. Our cellar is hard by. „ II i 467 Take him, good little John, and give him w. „ II i 470 your good father had his draught of w „ II ii 2
Where lies that cask of w whereof „ III 306
And thou wouldst run more w than blood. „ III 338
the warm w, and found it again. „ IV 245
Wine-press For thou hast trodden this w-p alone. Becket III iii 290 Wing on the deck and spread his w's for sail! Queen Mary I v 379 hardly, save by boat, swimming, or w's. „ II iii 13 free w The world were all one Araby. „ III v 209
May the great angels join their w's, „ V iv 6
Would their w's were mine To follow thee Harold I ii 26 two young w's To fly to heaven straight with. „ III i 25 cherubim With twenty-cubit w's from wall to wall— „ III i 184 not so with us—No w's to come and go. „ III ii 99 let him flap The w's that beat down Wales! „ IV i 247 and our battle-axes broken The Raven's w, „ IV iii 65 hear him presently with clapt w Crow over Barbarossa— Becket II ii 49 we pray you, draw yourself from under The w's of France. „ II ii 249 lark first takes the sunlight on his w, The Cup I iii 44 had you left him the free use of his w's, Prom. of May I 653 would not blur A moth's w by the touching; „ II 492 he flutter'd his w's with a sweet little cry, Foresters I i 154
he flutter'd his w's as he gave me the lie, „ I i 159

Wing'd (See also Strong-wing'd) sonnet's a flying ant, W for a moment. Queen Mary II i 85
But w souls flying Beyond all change Harold III ii 100
They say that you are wise in w things, Becket I i 255
Winging our sea-mew W their only wail! Harold II i 98
Wingless and thus I dumb thee too, my w nightingale! „ I ii 24
Wink The French King w's at it. Queen Mary III i 160
I must not dream, not w, but watch. „ III v 154
Take fees of tyranny, w at sacrilege, Becket II ii 394
Winking Priest Sits w at the license of a king, „ I ii 66
Winnow W and scatter all scruples to the wind, „ I i 150
Winsome So w in her grace and gaiety, Prom. of May III 754
Winter (adj.) (See also Spring-and-winter) Tho' all the world should bay like w wolves. Queen Mary II ii 361
Our short-lived sun, before his w plunge, „ III iii 86
Two young lovers in w weather, Harold III ii 3
They are but of spring, They fly the w change— „ III ii 97
W sunshine! Beware of opening out thy bosom to it, Becket III iii 29
Close to the grating on a w morn The Falcon 441
Winter (s) (See also Midwinter) like the wild hedge-rose Of a soft w, Queen Mary III vi 16
Hath, like a brief and bitter w's day, „ IV iii 430
Were but a sort of w; „ V iv 16
Her life was w, for her spring was nipt: „ V v 269
And be thy hand as w on the field, Harold V i 132
And w again and the snows. Becket, Pro. 334
After the nineteen w's of King Stephen— „ I iii 338
Cold after warm, w after summer, „ I iv 64
And in the w I will fire their farms. Foresters IV 95
A thousand w's Will strip you bare as death, „ IV 1055
Winter-cataracts Whose w-c find a realm and leave it The Cup II 305
Wiry The nimble, wild, red, w, savage king— Harold IV i 197
Wisdom Some spice of w in my telling you, Queen Mary II iv 134 Best w is to know the worst at once. „ III v 220 bring it Home to the leisure w of his Queen, „ III vi 23
And all his wars and w's past away; „ V v 56
Fool still? or w there, Harold I i 359
W when in power And wisest, should not „ I i 363
Ay, if W Pair'd not with Good. „ V i 177 by thy w Hast kept it firm from shaking; Becket, Pro. 203
And all the w of the Chancellor, „ I i 153
Life yields to death and w bows to Fate, The Cup II 89
Wise (See also Stupid-wise) Statesmen that are w Shape a necessity, Queen Mary III iii 32
Statesmen that are w Take truth herself for model. „ III iii 36
But your w bees that stung him first to death. „ III iii 64
And love should know; and—be the king so w,— Harold I i 277
Ay, ay and w in peace and great in war— „ I i 313
Fool still? or wisdom there, My w head-shaking Harold? „ I i 361
Warrior thou art, and mighty w withal! „ II ii 543
And all our just and w and holy men „ III i 209
Fool and w, I fear This curse, and scorn it. „ III ii 67
Make not our Morcar sullen: it is not w. „ IV iii 104 but I am wiser now . . . I am too w . . . „ V ii 113
And w, yea truthful, till that blighted vow „ V ii 155
They say that you are w in winged things, Becket I i 255
I will be w and wary, not the soldier „ I i 387
Poor man, beside himself—not w. „ II ii 235
Like some w prince of this world from his wars, „ V ii 13
A policy of w pardon Wins here as well as there. „ V ii 22
Camma, W I am sure as she is beautiful, The Cup I ii 139
Or good, or w, that you should clasp a hand „ II 82
W! Life yields to death and wisdom „ II 88
Too late—thought myself w—A woman's dupe. „ II 480
However w, we must at times have wrought Some great injustice, Foresters III 154
Robin's a w man, Richard a wiseacre, „ IV 357
Wiseacre Robin's a wise man, Richard a w, „ IV 357
Wisely Have I done w, then, in accepting him? Prom. of May III 183
Wiser Brother, the king is w than he seems; Harold I i 272
Then Tostig too were w than he seems. „ I i 278 but I am w now . . . I am too wise . . . „ V ii 111
The w choice, because my sleeping-draught Becket IV ii 168
Woman again!—but I am w now. The Cup I i 169
I say it to you—you are w—Rome knows all, „ I ii 285

Wisest But thou canst hear the best and w of us. Harold I i 300 Wisdom when in power And w, „ I i 365 choose A hundred of the w heads from England, Becket II ii 171 wisdom bows to Fate, Is w, doing so. The Cup II 91 Wish (s) mine own w fulfill'd before the word Queen Mary I iv 232 to have the w before the word Is man's „ I iv 238
Your pious w to pay King Edward's debts, „ I v 111 my w Echoes your Majesty's. Pole. It shall be so. „ III iii 92
'It is the King's w, that you should wed Prince Philibert of Savoy. „ III v 221
Mere compliments and w's. „ V ii 596
Amen to all Your w, and further. „ V iv 29 dead man's dying w should be of weight. Becket, Pro. 422
To make my marriage prosper to my w! The Cup II 309 smiles, not tears; Good w's, not reproaches; Prom. of May I 526 Wish (verb) council and all her people w her to marry. Queen Mary I i 113
I must needs w all good things for France. „ I v 309
I w some thunderbolt Would make this Cole a cinder, „ IV iii 10
I w you a good morning, good Sir Nicholas: „ V i 13
I w her Highness better. „ V ii 615
I w you joy o' the King's brother. Becket III i 155
I am sure I w her happy. Prom. of May I 478
He w's you to dine along with us, „ I 618
Then you should w us both to love for ever. „ I 642
Do you w it? Eva. Do I w it? „ I 696
I only w This pool were deep enough, „ II 303
Have you told him I am here? Dora. No; do you w it? „ III 267 make herself anything he w'es her to be? „ III 306
Tell him that I and the lady here w to see him. „ III 415
Might w its rose a lily, „ III 490
I w you and your ladyship's father a most exceedingly good morning. Foresters I i 308
I could w that all the land Were plunged „ IV 666
Wish'd Madam, when the Roman w to reign, Queen Mary I v 498 sometime I have w That I were caught, „ III v 162
I w myself the milkmaid singing here, „ III v 256
I had w for any weapon. Harold IV iii 19 and she w The Church were king: Becket V ii 117 once I w to scourge them to the bones. The Cup I i 27
Oh, how often I have w for you! Prom. of May I 769 asking his consent—you w me— „ III 494
I w, if you—— Dora. If I—— „ III 776
I w, I hoped To make, to make—— „ III 782
I cannot break it, Robin, if I w. Foresters IV 328
Wisp (See also Wills-o'-the-wisp) No, by w and glowworm, no. „ II ii 136
Wit (See also Mother-wit) The man is able enough—no lack of w, „ I ii 103
Witan Ay . . . if the W will consent to this. Harold II ii 615
Thy voice will lead the W— „ II ii 619
Witch (See also Wood-witch) But then she was a w. Queen Mary IV ii 208 what are you flying from? Countryman. The w! the w! Becket III ii 20 he'll never out again, the w has got him. „ III ii 26
Kind of the w to give thee warning tho'. „ III ii 29
Here is the w's hut. The fool-people call her a w—a good w to me! Foresters II i 178 in Nottingham they say There bides a foul w „ II i 203
Half-witted and a w to boot! „ II i 375
Or learning witchcraft of your woodland w, „ II i 501 he kneels! he has anger'd the foul w, „ II i 670
Witchcraft Or learning w of your woodland witch, „ II i 500
Witch'd Our woodland Circe that hath w the King? Becket III ii 32
Withdraw we might w Part of our garrison at Calais. Queen Mary I v 122
Permit me to w. To Lambeth? „ III ii 129
That Cranmer may w to foreign parts, „ IV i 45
Alva will but touch him on the horns, And he w's; „ V i 157
God from me w's Himself, And the King too. Becket I iii 701
Will you not w? „ V ii 228 speak with them apart. Let us w. „ V ii 311 Withdrawing means to counsel your w To Ashridge, Queen Mary I iv 225
Withdrew thought I might be chosen Pope, But then w it. „ V ii 84

Wither heat enough To scorch and w heresy to the root. Queen Mary III iv 28 marriage-garland w's even with the putting on, Becket, Pro. 360
Wither'd wherever Spain hath ruled she hath w Queen Mary II i 206
That w wreath were of more worth to me. The Falcon 335
That w wreath is of more worth to me. „ 337
And jealousy is w, sour and ugly : Foresters II ii 65
When the flower was w and old. „ IV 22
Withholden See Long-withholden
Within-door They burn themselves w-d. Becket I i 289
Withstood who hath w two Kings to their faces for the honour of God. „ II ii 275
Witness (s) Bear w, Renard, that I live and die Queen Mary II iv 41
No perfect w of a perfect faith In him who persecutes : „ III iv 117
Let all men here bear w of our bond ! Harold II ii 698
Ye heard one w even now. „ IV i 170
Bear me true w—only for this once— „ V ii 115
Witness (verb) And w to your Grace's innocence, Queen Mary III v 50 you are gone, my liege, W these papers, „ III vi 174
w the brawls, the gibbets. „ V i 85
Witted See Half-witted
Wizard myself must be the w To raise that tempest Becket, Pro. 207
Woden W, all Our cancell'd warrior-gods, Harold III ii 72
War-woodman of old W, how he fells „ V i 588
Woe W knave to thy familiar and to thee ! „ II ii 679 Woke I w Sir Henry—and he's true to you— Queen Mary III v 60 and w and came Among us again, Harold IV iii 150 Roused by the clamour of the chase he w, The Cup I ii 118 a red fire w in the heart of the town, Prom. of May I 50
Wold Moon on the waste and the w, The Cup I ii 4
That ever charm'd the plowman of your w's Prom. of May III 489 then the sweetest flower of all the w's, „ III 752
Wolf not to yield His Church of England to the Papal w And Mary ; Queen Mary I ii 36 there were many wolves among you Who dragg'd „ I v 399 black night, and hear the w. „ I v 414
if your w the while should howl for more, „ I v 419
Tho' all the world should bay like winter wolves. „ II ii 362
W of the shore ! dog, with thy lying lights Harold II i 21
The w ! the beast ! „ II ii 301
God gave us to divide us from the w ! „ IV iii 101
The w Mudded the brook and predetermined all. „ V i 2
Mannerless wolves ! Becket I iii 739 when the horn sounds she comes out as a w. „ III ii 23
King hath many more wolves than he can tame „ III iii 322 wolves of England Must murder her one shepherd, „ III iii 342 with the flock to the fold—Safe from the w— The Cup I ii 9
They say that Rome Sprang from a w. „ I ii 14
With some conspiracy against the w. „ I ii 16
Safe from the w to the fold— „ I ii 19
Or haply fallen a victim to the w. Foresters II i 510 be there wolves in Sherwood ? Marian. The w, John ! „ II i 511 Wolfdog how those Roman w's howl and bay him ! Queen Mary IV iii 354 a score of w-d's are let loose that will tear thee piecemeal. Becket III ii 39
Wolf-queen that our w-Q Is prowling round the fold. „ III iii 6
Woman (See also Beggar-woman, Mad-woman, Yeo-woman) I and my old w 'ud burn upon it, Queen Mary I i 56
'Whosoever Looketh after a w,' „ I v 453
I pray God No w ever love you, „ I v 602
All the women loved him. „ II i 34
Tear up that w's work there. „ II i 75
That makes or man or w look their goodliest. „ II ii 329
Away ! Women and children ! „ II iii 97
I was too sorry for the w To mark the dress. „ III i 58
Sir, no w's regimen Can save us. „ III i 122
I say There is no man—there was one w with us— „ III i 337 for women To go twelve months in bearing „ III vi 90
W is various and most mutable. „ III vi 135
—And I have known such women more than one— „ III vi 178
To the poor flock—to women and to children— „ IV ii 158
Thou knowest never w meant so well, „ V ii 342
Hapless doom of w happy in betrothing ! „ V ii 364 Unhappiest Of Queens and wives and women ! „ V ii 408 or all women's Low as his own ? „ V ii 434

Woman (continued) It is the low man thinks the w low ; Queen Mary V ii 439 in Guernsey, I watch'd a w burn ; „ V iv 18 the w up yonder sleeping after all she has done, „ V iv 34 burnt The heretic priest, workmen, and women and children. „ V v 106
we are private with our women here— „ V v 119
Women, the Holy Father Has ta'en the legateship „ V v 124
I am but a w, I have no power.— „ V v 130
Women, when I am dead, Open my heart, „ V v 152
I have given her cause—I fear no w. Harold I ii 42
Then our modest women— „ II ii 476 and women Cling to the conquer'd, „ IV i 212
I am no w to put faith in dreams. „ IV i 264
The king commands thee, w ! „ V i 341
To part me from the w that I loved ! „ V i 346
no man can swear to him. Edith. But one w ! „ V ii 79
Who be these w ? And what body is this ? „ V ii 86
Pluck the dead w off the dead man, Malet ! „ V ii 144
Well, who loves wine loves w. Becket, Pro. 109 Men are God's trees, and women are God's flowers ; „ Pro. 111 whom I love indeed As a w should be loved— „ Pro. 133
if a man Wastes himself among women, how should he love A w, as a w should be loved ? „ Pro. 137
Last night I followed a w in the city here. „ Pro. 469
The w that I follow'd hither. „ I i 195
I saw that door Close even now upon the w. „ I i 203
To take the vagabond w of the street Into thine arms ! „ I i 227
'Tis known you are midwinter to all women, „ I ii 28
so long Have wander'd among women— „ II i 154
the goodly way of women Who love, „ II i 257
There is no w that I love so well. Rosamund. No w but should be content with that— „ III i 9 and to make me a w of the world, „ III i 117 more a w o' the world than my lady here, „ III i 142 most on 'em know an honest w and a lady when they see her, „ III i 179
I never knew an honest w that could make songs, „ III i 183 there were Abbots—but they did not bring their women ; „ III iii 136
if he Had aught of man, or thou of w ; „ IV ii 232
Are ye king's men ? I am king's w, I. „ V i 265 make me not a w, John of Salisbury, „ V ii 147
Lacking the love of w and of child. „ V ii 199
I never felt such passion for a w. The Cup I i 34
With all my range of women should yet shun „ I i 57
For some unprincely violence to a w, „ I i 139
I ever had my victories among women. „ I i 153
W again !—but I am wiser now. „ I i 168
Not one to keep a w's fealty when Assailed „ I i 176
Antonius, So gracious toward women, never yet Flung back a w's prayer. „ I ii 299
'He never yet flung back a w's prayer '— „ I ii 455
Or man, or w, as traitors unto Rome. „ I iii 9
A w I could live and die for. What ! Die for a w, what new faith is this ? „ I iii 65
It bears an evil savour among women. „ I iii 86
It is not easy to disarm a w ? „ I iii 106
The women of the Temple drag her in. „ I iii 118
I never found the w I could not force „ I iii 166 thought myself wise—A w's dupe. „ II 481
O women, Ye will have Roman masters. „ II 510
Ah, the women, the women ! The Falcon 84 won't you speak with the old w first, „ 182
She smiles at him—how hard the w is ! „ 661 best heart that ever Beat for one w. „ 668
Well, well ! the women ! „ 699
A nobler breed of men and women. „ 755 cheer be a thousand i' the parish, taäkin' in the women and childer ; Prom. of May I 146
Then the man, the w, Following their best affinities, „ I 522 but I hev an owd w as 'ud see to all that ; „ II 96
My grandfather—of him They say, that women— „ II 272 where the man and the w, only differing as the stronger and the weaker, „ III 189
If marriage ever brought a w happiness „ III 639

Woman (continued) I never said As much before to any w living. Prom. of May III 645
A hundred times more worth a w's love, „ III 743 in the w, and the man must bring it out of her. Foresters I i 117 thou hast ruffled my w, Little John. „ I i 166
Thou speakest like a fool or a w. „ I i 204 your w so flustered me that I forgot my message „ I i 296 to stand between me and your w, Kate. „ I i 305
A question that every true man asks of a w once in his life. „ I ii 139
Not pleasures, women's matters. „ I ii 176
Because thou sayest such fine things of women, „ I iii 138
I reverence all women, bad me, dying, „ II i 40 thou art the very w who waits On my dear Marian. „ II i 102 and the old w's blessing with them to the last fringe. „ II i 195
There is but one old w in the hut. „ II i 241
There is yet another old w. „ II i 244 there's for you—and the old w's welcome. „ II i 290 like the w at Acre when the Turk shot her „ II i 307 bury me in the mound, says the w. „ II i 313
By a thief. Sheriff. Who, w, who? „ II i 318 sweet saints bless your worship for your alms to the old w! „ II i 364 an old w can shoot closer than you two. „ II i 400
Did I not tell you an old w could shoot better? „ II i 407
Thou art no old w—thou art disguised— „ II i 410 kiss a man And it was but a w. „ II ii 73
I could love you like a w. „ II ii 191 being every inch a man I honour every inch of a w. „ III 64
Why art thou mute? Dost thou not honour w? „ III 68
And if a w pass— „ III 176
We never wrong'd a w. „ III 184
Marian, thou and thy w, Why, where is Kate? „ III 257
Thou and thy w are a match for three friars. „ III 261
A w's heart is but a little thing, „ IV 656 values neither man Nor w save as tools— „ IV 714 Womankind kisses of all kind of w In Flanders, Harold I ii 113 handle all w gently, and hold them in all honour, Foresters I i 99 honouring all w, and more especially my lady Marian, „ III 56
Woman-tears And those hard men brake into w-t, Queen Mary I v 564
Womb O Thou that slayest the babe within the w The Cup II 279
Won I w by boldness once. The Emperor counsell'd Queen Mary I v 547 Struck home and w. „ I v 554 was it boldness Or weakness that w there? „ I v 560 possibly The Lutheran may be w to her again; „ III iv 202
She hath w upon our people thro' her beauty, Harold IV i 22
The day is w! „ IV i 270
Stigand, O father, have we w the day? „ V i 544 and w the violet at Toulouse; Becket, Pro. 348 boldness of this hand hath w it Love's alms, „ II i 183
The glory and grief of battle w or lost The Cup I ii 161 no such gamester As, having w the stake, „ I iii 146 have w Their value again—beyond all markets— The Falcon 904
--onder I w at tha', it beats me! Queen Mary IV iii 499 shall not w If Synorix, who has dwelt three years The Cup I ii 174
I w if I look as pale as she? „ II 322
Sometimes I w, When man has surely learnt Prom. of May II 329
How worn he looks, poor man! who is it, I w. „ II 391 you yourself are ashamed of me, and I do not w at it.
Dora. But I should w at myself if it were so. „ III 270
I am a silent man myself, and all the more w at our Earl. Foresters I ii 35
Wonder'd But w more at my much constancy Becket IV ii 304
Woo Prince of fluff and feather come To w you, Queen Mary I iv 164
Ringdoves coo again, All things w again. „ III v 104
And w their loves and have forgotten thee; Harold II ii 438
Wood But hatch you some new treason in the w's. Queen Mary I v 466
Cool as the light in old decaying w; „ IV ii 5
'Make short! make short!' and so they lit the w. „ IV iii 607
Be there not fair w's and fields In England? Harold I i 261
Taken the rifted pillars of the w „ I ii 100
And if I walk within the lonely w, „ II ii 246 had in it Wales, Her floods, her w's, her hills: „ IV i 207

Wood (continued) See, first, a circling w, A hundred pathways Becket, Pro. 162
And then another w, and in the midst „ Pro. 168 it minded me Of the sweet w's of Clifford, „ I i 264
A royal pleasaunce for thee, in the w, „ II i 128
I brought them In from the w, and set them here. „ II i 131 the people Believe the w enchanted. „ III i 36
Have track'd the King to this dark inland w; „ III ii 4
How ghostly sounds that horn in the black w! „ III ii 17
she sits naked by a great heap of gold in the middle of the w, „ III ii 22 in the dark heart of the w I hear the yelping „ III ii 47 more wolves than he can tame in his w's of England, „ III iii 323 Show me where thou camest out of the w. „ IV i 46
I watched her and followed her into the w's, „ IV ii 17
he had gone too far Into the King's own w's; „ V ii 108
While you can take your pastime in the w's. The Cup I i 191 break of precipice that runs Thro' all the w, „ I ii 22 Came to the front of the w— „ I ii 119 not fear the crowd that hunted me Across the w's, „ I iii 17
They hold by Richard—the wild w! Foresters I iii 111 mix with all The lusty life of w and underwood, „ I iii 114
I have a sudden passion for the wild w— „ I iii 123
We should be free as air in the wild w— „ I iii 125
Would it be better for thee in the w? Scarlet. Ay, so she did not follow me to the w. „ I iii 141
I have reign'd one year in the wild w. „ II i 36 soul of the w's hath stricken thro' my blood, „ II i 66
I found this white doe wandering thro' the w, „ II i 96
But I am weary pacing thro' the w. „ II i 129
The w is full of echoes, owls, elfs, „ II i 262
He was the king o' the w. „ II i 321 but make haste then, and be silent in the w. „ II i 365
See whether there be more of 'em in the w. „ II i 431
To lead us thro' the windings of the w. „ II i 635
Stay with us in this w, till he recover. „ II ii 9
We be fairies of the w, „ II ii 118
And this new queen of the w. „ II ii 139
You see why We must leave the w and fly. „ II ii 174 with you, out of it, over the w and away! „ II ii 201 present her with this oaken chaplet as Queen of the w, „ III 59
In this dark w when all was in our power „ III 182
Behold a pretty Dian of the w, „ III 267
Our Robin, King o' the w's, „ III 344
Robin, the people's friend, the King o' the w's! „ III 348
The Queen o' the w's, „ III 354
Maid Marian, Queen o' the w's! (repeat) Foresters III 357, 375, 377, 398, 400
Drink to the health of our new Queen o' the w's, Foresters III 369
We drink the health of thy new Queen o' the w's. „ III 373
Drink to the Queen o' the w's, „ III 389
—to this maid, this Queen o' the w's. „ III 395
Thro' w and lawn and ling, „ III 425
For a Queen, for a Queen o' the w's, (repeat) „ III 431, 445
Along the glades and passes of the w „ III 457
Their lives unsafe in any of these our w's, „ IV 94
And live with us and the birds in the green w. „ IV 326 Blown like a true son of the w's. „ IV 427 are delivered here in the wild w an hour after noon. „ IV 509
Were some strong fellow here in the wild w, „ IV 516 they shall dance to the music of the wild w. „ IV 556
Not paid at York—the w—prick me no more! „ IV 623
What shouts are these that ring along the w? „ IV 763
Then will I live for ever in the wild w. „ IV 879
I scent it in the green leaves of the w. „ IV 944
I trust We shall return to the w. „ IV 1052
We dealt in the wild justice of the w's. „ IV 1073
Your names will cling like ivy to the w. „ IV 1086
Woodbine (adj.) Didn't I spy 'em a-sitting i' the w harbour togither? Prom. of May I 125
Woodbine (s) Wi' the wild white rose, an' the w sa gaäy, „ II 174
Woodcock We hold our Saxon w in the springe, Harold II ii 1
Wood-fungus Dry as an old w-f on a dead tree, „ III i 8
Woodland (adj.) Glide like a light across these w ways! Foresters II i 159

Woodland (adj.) (continued) Tut ! tut ! the scream of some wild w thing. Foresters II i 253
Or learning witchcraft of your w witch, „ II i 501
Why—even your w squirrel sees the nut Behind the shell, „ II i 646
Shall drink the health of our new w Queen. „ III 314
Great w king, I know not quarterstaff. „ IV 215
Then, if ye cannot breathe but w air, „ IV 952
Woodland (s) Fifty leagues Of w hear and know my horn, „ III 104
Woodman (See also War-woodman) They must have past. Here is a w's hut. „ II i 199 true w's bow of the best yew-wood to slay the deer. „ II i 392 in the name of all our woodmen, present her with „ III 58
You caught a lonely w of our band, „ III 359
Woodstock banish'd us to W and the fields. Queen Mary III v 3
Wood-witch Is not this w-w of the rustic's fear Becket III ii 31
Wooer Strange in a w ! Queen Mary I v 363
Wool Like a tod of w from wagon into warehouse. Foresters IV 274 Word That's a hard w, legitimate ; what does it mean ? Queen Mary I i 11 let his own w's damn the Papist. „ I iii 53 yet the w Affrights me somewhat : „ I iv 8
'Tis mine own wish fulfill'd before the w Was spoken, „ I iv 233 wish before the w Is man's good Fairy— „ I iv 239
Our royal w for that ! „ I v 267
Philip never writes me one poor w, „ I v 360
The w has turn'd your Highness pale ; „ I v 471
One w before she comes. „ II ii 109
Queen had written her w to come to court : „ II ii 117
No, no, my w's my w. „ II iii 93
Ha—Verbum Dei—verbum—w of God ! „ III i 262
W of God In English ! „ III i 279
Is reconciled the w ? the Pope again ? „ III iii 3
I have changed a w with him In coming, and may change a w again. „ III iv 14 not like a w, That comes and goes in uttering. „ III v 29 Truth, a w ! The very Truth and very W are one. „ III v 31
Is like a w that comes from olden days, „ III v 34
For the wrong Robin took her at her w. „ III v 265
May Simon Renard speak a single w ? „ III vi 122 to speak a single w That could not be forgiven. „ III vi 126
What should I say, I cannot pick my w's— „ III vi 148
For death gives life's last w a power to live, „ IV iii 161
Let all rich men remember that hard w. „ IV iii 206 but tek thou my w vor't, Joan,— „ IV iii 533 ever give yourselves your own good w. Harold I i 343
May, surely, play with w's. Harold. W's are the man. „ II ii 418 at thy w, for thou Art known a speaker „ II ii 516
For thou art truthful, and thy w thy bond. „ II ii 645
Or is it the same sin to break my w As break mine oath ? He call'd my w my bond ! „ II ii 664
And makes believe that he believes my w— „ II ii 669
Thy naked w thy bond ! „ II ii 693
Thanks, truthful Earl ; I did not doubt thy w, But that my barons might believe thy w, „ II ii 724
Might strengthen thee in keeping of thy w, „ II ii 731
I that so prized plain w and naked truth „ III i 93
This lightning before death Plays on the w,— „ III i 388
The king's last w—' the arrow ! ' „ V i 266
I have not spoken to the king One w ; „ V i 336
Nay, then, I take thee at thy w— Becket, Pro. 128 his last w's were a commendation of Thomas Becket „ Pro. 400
And I have said no w of this to him : „ I i 97
We wait but the King's w to strike thee dead. „ I iii 166 who cares not for the w, Makes ' care not '— „ II i 117
The w should come from him. „ II ii 134
W's ! he will repudiate of them „ II ii 186 bad me whatever I saw not to speak one w, „ III i 133 not to speak one w, for that's the rule o' the garden, „ III i 137 tho' I shouldn't speak one w, „ III i 155 tho' I be sworn not to speak a w, I can tell you all about her, if—— Rosamund. No w now. „ III i 205 not thorn enough to prick him for it, Ev'n with a w ? „ III i 253
One w further. Doth not the fewness of anything „ III iii 301 we had w's of late, And thereupon he call'd „ IV ii 42

Word (continued) —a troubadour You play with w's. Becket IV ii 182
Rosamund hath not answer'd you one w ; Madam, I will not answer you one w. „ IV ii 362
I spake no w of treachery, Reginald. „ V ii 401
Ready to fall at Henry's w or yours— „ V ii 486
Low w's best chime with this solemnity. The Cup II 217
These are strange w's to speak to Artemis. „ II 326
W's are not always what they seem, my King. „ II 328
My lord, a w with you. The Falcon 394
Well, Tell me the w's—or better— „ 451
A w with you, my lord ! „ 472
A w, my lord ! Count. ' Dead flowers ! ' Elisabetta. A w, my lord ! „ 475 one w more. Count. Good ! let it be but one. „ 510 Strange that the w's at home with me so long „ 525 will you take the w out of your master's own mouth ? „ 598
I will never change w with you again. Prom. of May I 163
—what's the newspaäper w, Wilson ?—celebrate— „ I 320
thou'll put one w fur another as I does. „ I 381
' Till death us part '—those are the only w's, „ I 659
But I hed a w to saäy to ye. „ II 45
Cannot you understand plain w's, Mr Dobson ? „ II 113
I be a bit deaf, and I wur hallus scaäred by a big w ; „ III 33
Miss Dora, meä and my maätes, us three, we wants to hev three w's wi' ye. „ III 126
he gave me no address, and there was no w of marriage ; „ III 333
He be saäyin' a w to the owd man, „ III 481
One w, or do but smile ! „ III 677 and wants To hev a w wi' ye about the marriage. „ III 704
Than this, this—but I waste no w's upon him : „ III 745
I cannot find the w—forgive it—Amends. „ III 790
—her last w Forgave—and I forgive you— „ III 810 that very w ' greasy ' hath a kind of unction in it, Foresters I i 86
What a wealth of w's—O Lord, I will live „ I ii 36
O Lord, I am easily led by w's, „ I ii 40 nor to speak w to anyone, „ I ii 237
True king of vice—true play on w's— „ II i 83
Speak but one w not only of forgiveness, „ II i 610
I never will speak w to thee again. „ II ii 55
Then I am yeo-woman. O the clumsy w ! Robin. Take thou this light kiss for thy clumsy w. „ III 133 Air and w, my lady, are maid and man. „ III 419 though he be the chief of rogues, he hath never broken his w. „ IV 434
Say thou no w against my brother John. „ IV 824
Why then, my liege, I have no w to say. „ IV 827
Word-eating what, a truckler ! a w-e coward ! „ IV 162
Word-monger Diagonalise ! thou art a w-m. Becket II ii 332
Wore slew not him alone who w the purple, Queen Mary I v 499
She w red shoes ! Stafford. Red shoes ! „ III i 59 your shores W in mine eyes the green „ III ii 18
There w his time studying the canon law Becket II i 85
he answer'd me, As if he w the crown already— „ II ii 7
I w the lady's chaplet round my neck ; The Falcon 631 wreath That once you w outvalues twenty-fold „ 759
He w thy colours once at a tourney. Foresters I i 249
Work (s) were a pious w To string my father's sonnets, Queen Mary II i 26
Tear up that woman's w there. „ II i 75
Well, for mine own w, „ II i 86
Sharp w and short. „ III i 329
Cranmer, be thou glad. This is the w of God. „ IV iii 82
That all day long hath wrought his father's w, „ V ii 119 and cried ' W for the tanner.' Harold II ii 385 Thou art wearied out With this day's w, Becket I i 7 due to those That went before us for their w, „ II ii 192
The w of the farm will go on still, but for how long ? Prom. of May III 159
Work (verb) Your master w's against me in the dark. Queen Mary I v 277
These are the means God w's with, „ III vi 68 so much of the anti-papal leaven W's in him yet, „ IV i 16
For Henry could not w a miracle— Becket I i 40 studying the canon law To w it against me. „ II i 87 strove To w against her license for her good, „ IV ii 340 but pray you do not w upon me. „ V i 81

Work (verb) (continued) What filthy tools our Senate w's with! The Cup I i 156
May w them grievous harm at times, The Falcon 821
Shall we too w injustice? Foresters I iii 87
If the king and the law w injustice, „ IV 228
Worked telled me 'at sweet'arts niver w well togither; and I telled 'im 'at sweet'arts allus w best togither; Prom. of May II 156
Did you find that you w at all the worse upon the cold tea „ III 55
we w naw wuss upo' the cowd tea; but we'd ha' w better upo' the beer. „ III 58 you w well enough, and I am much obliged to all of you. „ III 61 Sally Allen, you w for Mr. Dobson, didn't you? „ III 101 an' I w early an' laäte to maäke 'em all gentlefoälks ageän. „ III 448
Workin' meä and my sweet'art was a w along o' one side wi' one another, „ II 152 Working See Backward-working, Workin'
Workman burnt The heretic priest, workmen, and women and children. Queen Mary V v 106
Some of our workmen have left us, Prom. of May III 27
Workmanship Look at the hilt. What excellent w. Becket IV ii 315
Work-wan Look! am I not W-w, flesh-fallen? Harold I i 99 World (See also Child-world, Old-world, Other-world) rumour that Charles, the master of the w, Queen Mary I i 105 broken, out you flutter Thro' the new w, „ I iv 54 Spain and we, One crown, might rule the w. „ I v 303 for the Queen's down, and the w's up, „ II i 66 hardest, cruellest people in the w, „ II i 100 the w is with us—war against Spain! „ II i 196
Look at the New W—a paradise made hell; „ II i 207
The w as yet, my friend, Is not half-waked; „ II i 226 thro' that dim dilated w of hers, To read our faces; „ II ii 324 Tho' all the w should bay like winter wolves. „ II ii 361 unto no dead w; but Lambeth palace, „ III ii 153
His faith shall clothe the w that will be his, „ III ii 180 craft that do divide The w of nature; „ III v 121 free wing The w were all one Araby. „ III v 210 and weight of all the w From off his neck to mine. „ III vi 213
O Son of God, Redeemer of the w! „ IV iii 118
Many so dote upon this bubble w, „ IV iii 168
'Love of this w is hatred against God.' „ IV iii 173
Of this be sure, he is whole w's away. „ IV iii 194
The w's mad. Paget. My Lord, the w is like „ IV iii 391
—the w A most obedient beast and fool— „ IV iii 413
Come out, my Lord, it is a w of fools. „ IV iii 639 and mine own self and all the w. „ V ii 13
'O bubble w, Whose colours in a moment break and fly!' „ V ii 205
And fared so ill in this disastrous w. „ V ii 344
but say the w is nothing— „ V ii 368
Charles, the lord of this low w, is gone; „ V v 54 Priests' talk, or dream of w's to be, „ V v 217 never merry w In England, since the Bible came among us. „ V v 240
It never will be merry w in England, „ V v 246 for in our windy w What's up is faith, Harold I i 83
Why not the doom of all the w as well? For all the w sees it „ I i 128
Thou art the quietest man in all the w— „ I i 312 an honest w Will not believe them. „ I i 347
Far as he knew in this poor w of ours— „ II ii 363
Welshman says, 'The Truth against the W,' „ II ii 398
When all the w hath learnt to speak the truth, „ III i 68
That runs thro' all the faiths of all the w. „ III i 353 than to reign King of the w without it. „ III ii 45 all the faiths Of this grown w of ours, „ III ii 65
A breath that fleets beyond this iron w, „ III ii 197 kingdoms of this w began with little, „ IV i 42 till her voice Die with the w. „ IV iii 76 cannot see the w but thro' their wines! „ IV iii 225
Our Saints have moved the Church that moves the w, „ V i 42 selfless man Is worth a w of tonguesters. „ V i 82
I cannot fall into a falser w— „ V i 271 World (continued) bear their earthly heats Into yon bloodless w, Harold V i 285 should have a hand To grasp the w with, „ V ii 192
A man of this w and the next to boot. Becket, Pro. 259
I could pity this poor w myself that it is no better ordered. „ Pro. 366 old men must die, or the w would grow mouldy, „ Pro. 409
And mine uplifter in this w, „ I i 89
Why thou, the King, the Pope, the Saints, the w, „ I iii 706 and the w shall live by the King's venison „ I iv 271
Thou rose of the w! „ II i 146 and turn the w upside down. „ II i 238 promise thee not to turn the w upside down. „ II i 242
Here is a ball, my boy, thy w, „ II i 244
The w had never seen the like before. „ II ii 125
we grant the Church King over this w's kings, yet, my good lord, We that are kings are something in this w, „ II ii 243
Is the w any the worse for my verses „ II ii 336 cried out on him to put me forth in the w and to make me a woman of the w, „ III i 116 into a garden and not into the w, „ III i 132 more a woman o' the w than my lady here, „ III i 143
From all the hidden by-ways of the w „ III iii 16
Who wander famine-wasted thro' the w. „ III iii 189 beg my bread along the w With my young boy, „ IV ii 103
Daughter, the w hath trick'd thee. „ IV ii 364
The w hath trick'd her—that's the King; „ IV ii 375 all the w allows I fall no inch Behind this Becket, „ V i 39 to prove Bigger in our small w than thou art. „ V i 128
Like some wise prince of this w from his wars, „ V ii 13
Why, John, my kingdom is not of this w. John of Salisbury. If it were more of this w it might be More of the next. „ V ii 19 be something Of this w's leaven in thee too, „ V ii 29
To plunge into this bitter w again— „ V ii 81 this mother, runs thro' all The w God made— „ V ii 243 brood Too long o'er this hard egg, the w, „ V ii 253
If Rosamund is The w's rose, as her name imports her—she Was the w's lily. „ V ii 263
What! will he excommunicate all the w? „ V ii 467
Blowing the w against me, „ V ii 491
—the whole w Abhor you; „ V iii 183
This last to rid thee of a w of brawls! „ V iii 199
O the most kindly Prince in all the w! The Cup I ii 357
the w may know You twain are reconciled, „ II 68
Rome is fated To rule the w. „ II 416 by the Gods of Rome and all the w, „ II 466 he always took the w so kindly. The Falcon 188 and your ladyship has given him bitters enough in this w, „ 193
My one thing left of value in the w! „ 497
I have nothing in this w but love for you. „ 784
O this unhappy w! How shall I break it to him? „ 847 no fear Of the w's gossiping clamour, Prom. of May I 528 all the w is beautiful If we were happy, „ I 576 for the senses, love, are for the w; „ I 581 for when the tide Of full democracy has overwhelm'd This Old w, „ I 594
When the great Democracy Makes a new w— „ I 672
Neither the old w, nor the new, „ I 674
Since I left her Here weeping, I have ranged the w, „ II 252
She has disappear'd, poor darling, from the w— „ II 410 this w Is brighter for his absence as that other Is darker for his presence. „ II 457
I have seen the w—And cheer his blindness „ II 514
Must come to in our spring-and-winter w „ III 511
My curse on all This w of mud, „ III 722
We cannot come together in this w. Foresters II i 618
And all the foolish w is pressing thither. „ III 149
Sit here, my queen, and judge the w with me. „ III 152
He hath spoken truth in a w of lies. „ III 212 all the crowns Of all this w, „ IV 405 free the tomb-place of the King Of all the w? „ IV 410
Tho' all the w should go about in boats. „ IV 670
World-hated Scowl'd that w-h and world-hating beast, Queen Mary II ii 90
World-hating Scowl'd that world-hated and w-h beast, „ II ii 90

Worldly your Priests Gross, w, simoniacal, unlearn'd ! Harold I i 162
The w bond between us is dissolved, Becket I i 347
Gilbert Foliot, A w follower of the w strong. „ I iii 543
World-wealth Richer than all the wide w-w of May, The Falcon 466
Worm (s) And putrid water, every drop a w, Queen Mary IV iii 444
The w ! shall I let her go ? Becket IV ii 197 sure my dagger was a feint Till the w turn'd— „ IV ii 380
Becket hath trodden on us like w's, „ V i 61 poor w, crawl down thine own black hole The Cup II 494
Worm (verb) I warrant I w thro' all their windings. „ I i 87
Worms Zurich, W, Geneva, Basle— Queen Mary I ii 2
Worn (See also Threadbare-worn) what, you look somewhat w ; „ IV ii 116
O Saint of Aragon, with that sweet w smile „ V v 198
I am somewhat w, A snatch of sleep Harold V i 179
But have you ever w my diamonds ? The Falcon 736 tho' I grudge the pretty jewel, that I Have w, Prom. of May I 474
How w he looks, poor man ? who is it, I wonder. „ II 390 but, my flower, You look so weary and so w ! „ III 499
I have ; but these were never w as yet. Foresters IV 835
Worried boil'd, buried alive, w by dogs ; Queen Mary II i 211
When they ran down the game and w it. Becket, Pro. 124 dog I cramm'd with dainties w me ! „ V i 244 Worry (See also Tew) out of his cage to w Cranmer. Queen Mary I i 88
Worrying To w one another. „ III iv 313
Worse (See also Wuss) They call him cold, Haughty, ay, w. „ I v 432 —that were w than all. „ II i 183 and he'll smash all our bits o' things w than Philip o' Spain. „ II iii 104
A better and a w—the w is here „ III iv 114
And w than all, you had to kneel to me ; „ IV ii 134
No place for w. „ IV iii 80
He calls us w than Jews, Moors, Saracens. „ V i 150 but w—And yet I must obey the Holy Father, „ V ii 37
w than all, A passing bell toll'd in a dying ear— „ V ii 39
w than that—not one hour true to me ! „ V v 159
Ay, but w news : this William sent to Rome, Harold III ii 140
The King's courts will use thee w than thy dog— Becket I iv 102 get you hence in haste Lest w befall you. „ IV ii 28
We can do w. Madam, I saw your dagger „ IV ii 318 so much w For last day's journey. The Falcon 833
I be w off than any of you, for I be lean by nature, Foresters I i 44
Then I shall be no w. „ I ii 289
Am I w or better ? I am outlaw'd. „ II i 49
I am none the w for that. (repeat) „ II i 50, 58 and another—w !—An innocent maid. „ III 387
I am allied to John. Robin. The w for thee. „ IV 138 and the hunters, if caught, are blinded, or w than blinded. „ IV 227 nay, by the rood They have done far w— „ IV 909
Worship (s) (See also Idol-worship) we have the Blessed Virgin For w, Becket V ii 221
Who hast that w for me which Heaven knows Foresters I iii 160
Worship (verb) The people there so w me— Queen Mary I iv 120
Devil's 'if Thou wilt fall down and w me.' Becket III iii 286 me who w Robin the great Earl of Huntingdon ? Foresters I i 225
All here will prize thee, honour, w thee, „ II ii 17
Worshipper With a crowd of w's, Becket I iii 476
And you three holy men, You w's of the Virgin, Foresters III 383
Worshipping beheld you afar off w in her Temple, The Cup I i 39
Worshipt (See also Long-worshipt) So w of all those that came across him ; Queen Mary IV i 161
w whom she loathed, I should have let her be, Becket IV ii 390 Worst (adj.) Serve my best friend and make him my w foe ; „ I iii 568
And if the w time come ? Foresters I ii 290
Worst (s) Come, come, the w ! Best wisdom is to know the w at once. Queen Mary III v 219
He was not of the w. Harold IV iii 91
And wrought his w against his native land, The Cup I ii 177
Worsted That where he was but w, he was wrong'd. Harold I i 449
Worth (adj.) by your looks you are not w the having, Queen Mary I iv 13
A lesson w Finger and thumb—thus Harold I ii 54 selfless man Is w a world of tonguesters. „ V i 82 Thy life is w the wrestle for it : arise, Becket IV ii 194 central diamond, w, I think, Half of the Antioch „ V i 165 Worth (adj.) (continued) Is vengeance for its own sake w the while, The Cup I i 30
A hundred times more w a woman's love, Prom. of May III 743
Thou art w thy weight in all those marks of gold, Foresters IV 1023
Worth (s) Your people have begun to learn your w. Queen Mary I v 110
That wither'd wreath were of more w to me. The Falcon 335 wither'd wreath is of more w to me Than all the blossom, „ 338 rate the land fivefold The w of the mortgage, Foresters II i 151
Worthies The conduit painted—the nine w—ay ! Queen Mary III i 258
Worthy you will find in it Pleasure as well as duty, w Bonner,— „ III iv 430
My most w brother, Thou art the quietest man in all the world— Harold I i 311
I am not w of her—this beast-body That God has plunged my soul in— Becket II i 148 or I Would bow to such a baseness as would make me Most w of it : „ IV ii 236 for all of them Loved her, and she was w of all love. Prom. of May II 429 you should ever Be tempted into doing what might seem Not altogether w of you, „ III 555
A w messenger ! how should he help it ? Foresters I iii 85
Wound Tho' leaving each, a w ; Becket I i 176
I will bind up his w's with my napkin. „ I iv 107
I see you quite recover'd of your w. The Falcon 391
if you be Not quite recover'd of your w, „ 590
The story of your battle and your w. „ 594 balms and simples of the field To help a w. Foresters II ii 13
Wounded so w in his honour, He can but creep Queen Mary IV i 138
This Canterbury, like a w deer, Becket II ii 21
I was but w by the enemy there And then imprison'd. The Falcon 388 Woven jewel of St. Pancratius W into the gold. Harold II ii 701
Wrap W them together in a purple cloak „ V ii 158
Wrapt smoke of Cranmer's burning w me round. Queen Mary IV iii 564 Wrath Wet, famine, ague, fever, storm, wreck, w,— „ V v 109 mean The doom of England and the w of Heaven ? Harold I i 46
Is there no reason for the w of Heaven ? Leofwin. Why then the w of Heaven hath three tails, The devil only one. „ I i 59
To save thee from the w of Norman Saints. „ III i 217
Is thy w Hell, that I should spare to cry, „ V i 37
Shame, w, I know not what. Becket I iii 322
My lord John, In w because you drove him from the forest, Foresters III 450
Wreak glad to w our spite on the rosefaced minion Becket, Pro. 529 crowd May w my wrongs upon my wrongers. Prom. of May I 507 Wreath That wither'd w were of more worth to me. The Falcon 335 wither'd w is of more worth to me Than all the blossom, „ 337
I made a w with some of these ; „ 357
What's here ? a scroll Pinned to the w. My lord, you have said so much Of this poor w „ 425
And can you not imagine that the w, „ 534 one sweet face Crown'd with the w. „ 649 shall we say this w and your sweet rhymes ? „ 735
The w That once you wore outvalues twenty-fold „ 758
Then keep your w, But you will find me „ 773 Wreck (s) Wet, famine, ague, fever, storm, w, wrath,— Queen Mary V v 108 as men Have done on rafts of w—it drives you mad. The Cup I iii 142
I will be no such w, am no such gamester „ I iii 144
Wreck (verb) He w's his health and wealth on courtesans, Queen Mary I v 167
Holy Church May rock, but will not w, Becket II ii 104
Blown everyway with every gust and w On any rock ; Prom. of May III 537 Wrecked-Wreckt get himself wrecked on another man's land ? Harold I i 60 villains with their lying lights have wreck'd us ! „ II i 84
Or he is wreckt for ever. „ II ii 102 or wreckt And dead beneath the midland ocean, Foresters II i 656
Wreckful A summer mere with sudden w gusts From a side-gorge. Harold III i 51
Wrench w this outlander's ransom out of him— „ II i 58
Seize on the knight ! w his sword from him ! Foresters II i 676
Wrench'd violent will that w All hearts of freemen from thee. Harold V i 278
Wrest Would w from me the precious ring Foresters II i 660 Wrestle (s) Thy life is worth the w for it : Becket IV ii 194
Wrestle (verb) Rome Will crush you if you w with her ; The Cup I ii 131 Wretch but I, old w, old Stigand, With hands too limp Harold V i 447 if the w were dead I might forgive him ; Prom. of May II 433

Wretch (continued) Infamous w! Shall I tell her he is dead? Prom. of May III 336
The old w is mad, and her bread is beyond me: Foresters II i 291
Wretched Most miserable sinner, w man. Queen Mary IV iii 123 on a land So hunger-nipt and w; „ V i 168
W race! And once I wish'd to scourge them to the bones. The Cup I i 25
Wretchedness yet have heard Of all their w. Queen Mary IV iii 212
His wickedness is like my w— Prom. of May III 747
Wriggle he will w out of them like an eel Becket II ii 187
Wring what we w from them we give the poor. Foresters II i 56
Wrinkle sweet worn smile Among thy patient w's— Queen Mary V v 200 silver Were dear as gold, the w as the dimple. Foresters IV 42
Wrist I cannot cope with him: my w is strain'd. „ IV 313
Writ (s) range Among the pleasant fields of Holy W Queen Mary III v 80
Make out the w to-night. „ IV i 195 by virtue of this w, whereas Robin Hood Earl of Huntingdon Foresters I iii 61
For playing upside down with Holy W. „ III 168
Whose w will run thro' all the range of life. „ IV 48
In the sweat of thy brow, says Holy W, shalt thou eat bread, „ IV 201 like the man In Holy W, who brought his talent back; „ IV 981 Writ (verb) (See also Written) W by himself and Bonner? Queen Mary IV i 93
Have I not w enough to satisfy you? „ IV ii 62
Write Philip never w's me one poor word, „ I v 359 yet—to w it down. „ II i 56
W you as many sonnets as you will. „ II i 95
W to him, then. Pole. I will. „ IV i 37
Pray you w out this paper for me, Cranmer. „ IV ii 60 hands that w them should be burnt clean off „ V iii 190 Cornwall's hand or Leicester's: they w marvellously alike. Becket I iv 52 cannot at present w himself other than The Cup I i 45 cannot at present w himself other than „ I ii 73
You will w to me? Edgar. I will. Prom. of May I 699
Eva, why did you w 'Seek me at the bottom of the river'? „ III 363
Writhed never stirr'd or w, but, like a statue, Queen Mary IV iii 620
Writing (part.) That any man so w, preaching so, „ IV iii 47
Writing (s) (See also Sub-writing, Verse-writing)
For these be w's I have set abroad „ IV iii 240 by your leave if you would hear the rest, The w. The Falcon 531 sometimes been moved to tears by a chapter of fine w in a novel; Prom. of May III 209 Written (See also Writ) Stand first it may, but it was w last: Queen Mary I ii 21
'Tis w, 'They shall be childless.' „ I ii 64
he must have w. „ I v 358
Queen had w her word to come to court: „ II ii 117
'tis not w Half plain enough. „ II iii 65
What hath your Highness w? „ III v 23
Hath he not w himself—infatuated— „ IV i 10
You have w much, But you were never raised „ IV ii 209
W for fear of death, to save my life, „ IV iii 242 by this hand W and sign'd— „ IV iii 245 since my hand offended, having w Against my heart, „ IV iii 248 what hath she w? read. „ V v 2
What hath she w now? „ V v 13 you will find w Two names, Philip and Calais; „ V v 154
I'll have them w down and made the law. Becket, Pro. 26
But by the King's command are w down, „ I iii 72
Good royal customs—had them w fair „ I iii 416 not yet w, Saving mine order; true too, that when w I sign'd them— „ I iii 558
What have I w to her? The Cup I i 35 and I find a w scroll That seems to run in rhymings. The Falcon 431 is w in invisible inks 'Lust, Prodigality, Prom. of May II 283 Wrong (adj.) I may be w, sir. This marriage will not hold. Queen Mary III i 102
For the w Robin took her at her word. „ III v 264
Those of the w side will despite the man, „ IV iii 24 —and I bean't w not twice i' ten year— „ IV iii 534
summut w theer, Wilson, fur I doänt understan' it. Prom. of May I 234 Wrong (s) I knew they would not do me any w, Queen Mary I iii 100
You did me w, I love not to be called „ I iv 67
Wrong (s) (continued) And she impress her w's upon her Council, Queen Mary III vi 183
To do him any w was to beget A kindness „ IV i 167
Ye do him w, ye do him w; Harold I ii 16
They did thee w who made thee hostage; „ II ii 349
I have done no man w. „ V i 272
We mean thee no w. Becket I iv 32 wilt but look into The w's you did him, „ II ii 116 before The Church should suffer w! „ III iii 20 if you love him, there is great w done Somehow; „ IV ii 94
Holy Church to thunder out her rights And thine own w „ V ii 33
Lost in the common good, the common w, „ V ii 41 crowd May wreak my w's upon my wrongers. Prom. of May I 507
I have done w in keeping your secret; „ III 399 ye did w in crying 'Down with John;' Foresters I ii 96 to such a heat As burns a w to ashes, „ II i 700
Wrong (verb) From stirring hand or foot to w the realm. Queen Mary III iii 60
Hush, hush! You w the Chancellor: „ III iii 67
Out, girl! you w a noble gentleman. „ III v 67
Perchance that Harold w's me; Harold I ii 225
That none should w or injure your Archbishop. Becket I iii 754
I w the bird; she leaves only the nest she built, „ I iv 45
You w the King: he meant what he said to-day. „ III iii 298
Perhaps, my lord, you w us. „ V ii 604
Why should I practise on you? How you w me! The Cup I ii 240
You w him surely; far as the face goes „ II 174
You w me there! hear, hear me! Prom. of May III 775 but we rob the robber, w the wronger, Foresters II i 54
Wrong'd There's half an angel w in your account; Queen Mary V iii 2
I were whole devil if I w you, Madam. „ V iii 7
That where he was but worsted, he was w. Harold I i 450
If one may dare to speak the truth, was w. „ IV i 109 believing that our brother Had w you; Becket II ii 239
The by-things of the Lord Are the w innocences that will cry „ III iii 14
You have w Fitzurse. I speak not of myself. „ IV ii 328
One whom thou hast w Without there, The Cup I ii 319
W by the cruelties of his religions Prom. of May III 545
One that has been much w, whose griefs are mine, „ III 576 thou hast w my brother and myself. Foresters II i 665
We never w a woman. „ III 184
One half of this shall go to those they have w, „ III 304
Wronger It gilds the greatest w of her peace, Queen Mary V ii 415
In the great day against the w. Becket III iii 17 crowd May wreak my wrongs upon my w's. Prom. of May I 507 but we rob the robber, wrong the w, Foresters II i 55
Wrote letter you w against Their superstition Queen Mary I ii 85
I w it, and God grant me power to burn! „ I ii 98
And what a letter he w against the Pope! „ III i 173 which God's hand W on her conscience, „ III i 422 last time she w, I had like to have lost my life: „ III v 188 when last he w, declared His comfort „ III vi 77 same book You w against my Lord of Winchester; „ IV iii 265
I hold by all I w within that book. „ IV iii 275
To compass which I w myself to Rome, „ V ii 49 letter which the Count de Noailles w „ V ii 497 right hand Lamed in the battle, w it with his left. The Falcon 445
my sister w he was mighty pleasant, and had no pride in him. Prom. of May I 116
Wroth they are w with their own selves, Queen Mary III iv 120
That I was for a moment w at thee. „ III iv 306
The Queen, most w at first with you, „ III iv 387
Except when w, you scarce could meet his eye
And hold your own; and were he w indeed,
You held it less, or not at all. „ IV i 103
Why should not Heaven be w? Harold I i 53
I am weary—go: make me not w with thee! „ V i 31
Yon heaven is w with thee? „ V i 39
And so the saints were w. „ V ii 7 be not w at the dumb parchment. Foresters I i 342 Wrought and this w Upon the king; Queen Mary I ii 70 he w it ignorantly, And not from any malice. „ III i 276 was the great mystery w; „ IV iii 142
That all day long hath w his father's work, „ V ii 118

Wrought (continued) I have w miracles—to God the glory—
And miracles will in my name be w Hereafter.— Harold I i 181
w upon to swear Vows that he dare not break. ,, II ii 76
Yea, w at them myself. ,, V i 192
O Edith, if I ever w against thee, ,, V ii 21
We long have w together, thou and I— Becket I i 339 forgive you For aught you w against us. ,, II ii 110
And w his worst against his native land, The Cup I ii 177 we must at times have w Some great injustice, Foresters III 155 Wrung She had no desire for that, and w her hands, Queen Mary III i 384
w his ransom from him by the rack, Harold II ii 38
Wry he made a w mouth at it, but he took it so kindly, The Falcon 191 and he never made a w mouth at you, he always took you so kindly— ,, 194
Wulfnoth Is not my brother W hostage there Harold I i 239
he and W never Have met, except in public; ,, II ii 85
I have often talk'd with W, ,, II ii 89
Since thou hast promised W home with us, Be home again with W. ,, II ii 167
Look thou, here is W! ,, II ii 323
No, W, no. Wulfnoth. And William laugh'd ,, II ii 360
Poor W! do they not entreat thee well? ,, II ii 403 let me hence With W to King Edward. ,, II ii 563
O W, W, brother, thou hast betray'd me! ,, II ii 801
And W is alone in Normandy. ,, III i 81
'W is sick,' he said; 'he cannot follow;' ,, III i 84
As far as touches W I that so prized ,, III i 92 only grandson To W, a poor cow-herd. Harold. This old W Would take me on his knees ,, IV i 70
Wunt (will not) but they w set i' the Lord's cheer o' that daay. Queen Mary IV iii 469
Wuss (worse) And w nor that. Prom. of May I 136
Glum! he be w nor glum. ,, II 149
Noä, Miss; we worked naw w upo' the cowd tea; ,, III 59
Wyatt (Sir Thomas, insurrectionary leader) (See also Thomas, Thomas Wyatt) Look you, Master
W, Tear up that woman's work Queen Mary II i 74
W, W, Wake, or the stout old island ,, II i 102 you are as poor a poet, W, As a good soldier. ,, II i 113
whisper'd, 'W,' And whisking round a corner, ,, II i 130
A W! a W! Wyatt. But first to Rochester, ,, II i 219
A W! a W! Forward! Knyvett. W, ,, II i 237 who went with your train bands To fight with W, ,, II ii 28 Know too what W said. ,, II ii 35
She shrilling 'W,' while the boy she held Mimick'd and piped her 'W,' ,, II ii 72 names of W, Elizabeth, Courtenay, ,, II ii 94
W, who hath tamper'd with A public ignorance, ,, II ii 180
Long live Queen Mary! Down with W! The Queen! ,, II ii 253 and brush This W from our shoulders, ,, II ii 294 strong to throw ten W's and all Kent. ,, II ii 353
W comes to Southwark; ,, II ii 374
Whether I be for W, or the Queen? ,, II ii 415
Thou cried'st 'A W!' and flying to our side ,, II iii 3
W, but now you promised me a boon. ,, II iii 81
W, your Grace, hath broken thro' the guards ,, II iv 19
Also this W did confess the Princess ,, II iv 111
What W said, or what they said he said, ,, II iv 127
W was a good soldier, yet he fail'd, ,, III i 132
What such a one as W says is nothing: ,, III i 139
Thou art one of W's men? Man. No, my Lord, no. ,, III i 244
The stormy W's and Northumberlands, ,, III ii 168 pray'd me to confess In W's business, ,, III v 167 other things As idle; a weak W! ,, V i 292
There were not many hang'd for W's rising. ,, V ii 9
Noailles wrote To that dead traitor W, ,, V ii 498 lost When W sack'd the Chancellor's house ,, V ii 504
A new Northumberland, another W? ,, V v 188

Y

Yard And make a morning outcry in the y; Queen Mary III v 158 three y's about the waist is like to remain a virgin, Foresters I ii 69
Yawn (s) A life of nods and y's. Queen Mary I iii 116
Yawn (verb) Dug from the grave that y's for us beyond; ,, V ii 163
Yawn'd The nurses y, the cradle gaped, ,, III vi 93
Year (See also Five-years', New Year, Seven-years', To-year) such a game, sir, were whole y's a playing. ,, I iii 140
So many y's in yon accursed Tower— ,, I iv 200
I am eleven y's older than he is. ,, I v 68
Thus, after twenty y's of banishment, ,, III ii 46 this day be held in after y's More solemn ,, III iii 90 this noble realm thro' after y's May in this unity ,, III iii 156
In your five y's of imprisonment, ,, III iv 242
But not for five-and-twenty y's, my Lord. ,, III iv 267
the doctors tell you, At three-score y's; ,, III iv 410
To yield the remnant of his y's to heaven, ,, III vi 210
His eighty y's Look'd somewhat crooked ,, IV iii 331 —and I bean't wrong not twice i' ten y— ,, IV iii 534
After my twenty y's of banishment, ,, V ii 69
Our flag hath floated for two hundred y's Is France again. ,, V ii 262 gather all From sixteen y's to sixty; ,, V ii 273
Don Carlos, Madam, is but twelve y's old. ,, V iii 88
I am eleven y's older than he, Poor boy! ,, V v 46
Twelve y's of service! Harold I i 221 after those twelve y's a boon, my king, ,, I i 225
And leave them for a y, and coming back Find them again. ,, II i 89
in the cruel river Swale A hundred y's ago; ,, III ii 11 thou in after y's Praying perchance for this poor soul ,, V i 322
And York lay barren for a hundred y's. Becket I iii 54
Ye have eaten of my dish and drunken of my cup for a dozen y's. ,, I iv 30
Father Philip that has confessed our mother for twenty y's, ,, III i 112
Y's and y's, my lady, for her husband, King Louis— ,, III i 169
She past me here Three y's ago The Cup I i 6 one who y's ago, himself an adorer of our great goddess, ,, I i 37
To see if y's have changed her. ,, I i 125
where twenty y's ago Huntsman, and hound, ,, I ii 22
If Synorix, who has dwelt three y's in Rome ,, I ii 175 three y's ago—the vast vine-bowers ,, I ii 401 found together In our three married y's! ,, I ii 417
It is old, I know not How many hundred y's. ,, II 343
Beside this temple half a y ago? ,, II 393
I had a touch of this last y—in—Rome. ,, II 446 a-spreading to catch her eye for a dozen y, The Falcon 101 been on my knees every day for these half-dozen y's ,, 185 when he came last y To see me hawking, ,, 312
all the leaf of this New-wakening y. ,, 340
I never saw The land so rich in blossom as this y.
Count. Was not the y when this was gather'd richer? ,, 343
That was the very y before you married. ,, 373
True tears that y were shed for you in Florence. ,, 384 faded ribbon was the mode In Florence ten y's back. ,, 423 most beautiful May we have had for many y's! Prom. of May I 567
As y's go on, he feels them press upon him, ,, I 647
It be five y sin' ye went afoor to him, ,, II 5 hallus gi'ed soom on 'em to Miss Eva at this time o' y. ,, II 16 you must not be too sudden with it either, as you were last y, ,, II 55
We have been in such grief these five y's, ,, II 67
Poor sister, I had it five y's ago. ,, II 82
Many y's back, and never since have met ,, II 370
She was there six y's ago. ,, II 399
Have sorrow'd for her all these y's in vain. ,, II 415 can he trace me Thro' five y's absence, ,, II 615 her cry rang to me across the y's, ,, II 656

Year (continued) Him as did the mischief here, five y' sin'. Prom. of May III 140 who came to us three y's after you were gone, „ III 232
You must not expect to find our Father as he was five y's ago. „ III 420 grave he goes to, Beneath the burthen of y's. „ III 517 Five y's of shame and suffering broke the heart „ III 761 if they be not paid back at the end of the y, the land goes to the Abbot. Foresters I i 70 in the long sweep of y's to come must the great man „ I i 244 must be paid in a y and a month, or I lose the land. „ I i 269 they have trodden it for half a thousand y's, „ I i 334
Who deign to honour this my thirtieth y, „ I ii 80
Must you have these monies before the y and the month end? „ I ii 150 make us merry Because a y of it is gone? but Hope Smiles from the threshold of the y to come „ I iii 15
Sings a new song to the new y— „ I iii 28
I have reign'd one y in the wild wood. „ II i 36
I should be happier for it all the y. „ II i 163
She was murdered here a hundred y ago, „ II i 245
For now is the spring of the y. „ IV 17
She said 'It's the fall of the y, „ IV 24
I have been away from England all these y's, „ IV 817
I have had a y of prison-silence, Robin, „ IV 923
And here perhaps a hundred y's away „ IV 1087

Yearn Y's to set foot upon your island shore. Queen Mary I v 367

Yearn'd How often has my sick boy y for this! The Falcon 829

Yeäs (yes) Y, y! I'll not meddle wi' 'im if he doänt meddle wi' meä. Prom. of May I 173
To look to—y, 'coomly'; „ I 180
Y; but I haätes 'im, „ I 312
Y, y! Three cheers for Mr. Steer! „ I 455
Eva's saäke. Y. „ II 31
The last on it, eh? Haymaker. Y. „ II 142
Y, an' owd Dobson should be glad on it. „ II 146
Noä—y—thaw the feller's gone and maäde such a litter of his faäce. „ II 588
Y! Fur she niver knawed 'is faäce when 'e wur 'ere afoor; „ II 606
The little 'ymn? Y, Miss; „ III 1
Y, Miss. (repeat) Prom. of May III 18, 480, 485
Y; and thanks to ye. Prom. of May III 26
Letters! Y, I sees now. „ III 38
Y, Miss; but he wur so rough wi' ma, „ III 103
Y, Miss; and he wants to speak to ye partic'lar. „ III 350
Y, Miss; but he says he wants to tell ye summut very partic'lar. „ III 354
Y, Miss, I will. „ III 417
Y, the marriage. „ III 708
O law—y, Sir! I'll run fur 'im mysen. „ III 713

Yell (s) True test of coward, ye follow with a y. Becket I iii 745 wassail y's of thief And rogue and liar Foresters III 322

Yell (verb) whenever a murder is to be done again she y's out i' this way— „ II i 247

Yell'd when all was lost, he y, Harold V i 404

Yellow I thought this Philip had been one of those black devils of Spain, but he hath a y beard. Queen Mary III i 216 the wholesome plow Lay rusting in the furrow's y weeds, Becket I iii 355
There was a bit of y silk here and there, „ IV i 21

Yelper as when we threaten A y with a stick. „ IV ii 350

Yelping I hear the y of the hounds of hell. „ III ii 48

Yeoman Quick with thy sword! the y braves the knight. Foresters II ii 30
Nay, no Earl am I. I am English y. „ III 131
I am the y, plain Robin Hood, „ IV 143

Yeo-woman Then I am y-w. O the clumsy word! „ III 132

Yes See Yeas

Yesterday (See also Yisterdaäy) I heard from my Northumbria y. Harold I i 331
y you mentioned her name too suddenly before my father. Prom. of May II 23

Yestereven It seems but y I held it with him Harold V ii 126
Seen in the thicket at the bottom there But y-e. The Cup I i 115
Why didst thou miss thy quarry y-e? The Falcon 151

Yew I that held the orange blossom Dark as the y? Prom. of May II 631
Past the bank Of foxglove, then to left by that one y. Foresters IV 974

Yew-wood true woodman's bow of the best y-w to slay the deer. „ II i 393

Yield not to y His Church of England Queen Mary I ii 35
I do believe she'd y. „ I iv 22
y Full scope to persons rascal and forlorn, „ II ii 184
Doth Pole y, sir, ha! „ III iv 394
To y the remnant of his years to heaven, „ III vi 210
Didst thou y up thy Son to human death; „ IV iii 144 after all those papers Of recantation y again. „ IV iii 315 fierier than fire To y them their deserts. „ V iv 27
Harold, I will not y thee leave to go. Harold I i 256
Thou canst make y this iron-mooded Duke „ II ii 339
Ask me not, Lest I should y it, „ III ii 47
Heaven y us more! for better, „ III ii 71 will ye, if I y, Follow against the Norseman? „ IV i 176
I y it freely, being the true wife „ V ii 84 betwixt thine Appeal, and Henry's anger, y. Becket I iii 623
My lord, we cannot y thee an answer „ I iv 21 not y To lay your neck beneath your citizen's heel. „ V i 30
Well spoken, wife. Synorix. Madam, so well I y. The Cup I ii 173
O y them all their desire! „ II 8
Life y's to death and wisdom bows to Fate, „ II 89
Will y herself as easily to another. Prom. of May I 747 y A nobler breed of men and women. The Falcon 754 let them be, man, let them be. We y. Foresters I iii 78 criedst 'I y' almost before the thing was ask'd, „ II i 566
She will not marry till her father y. „ II ii 82
I y, I y. I know no quarterstaff. „ IV 257

Yielded should have y So utterly!—strange! Queen Mary III iii 8
When last I saw you, You all but y. The Cup II 45

Yisterdaäy (yesterday) He coom'd up to me y i' the haäyfield, Prom. of May II 150

'Ymn (hymn) The little 'y? Yeäs, Miss; „ III 1

Yoke Will shift the y and weight of all the world Queen Mary III vi 212

Yolk she that has eaten the y is scarce like to swallow the shell. The Falcon 704

Yon Y gray old Gospeller, sour as midwinter, Queen Mary I iii 40 for the two were fellow-prisoners So many years in y accursed Tower— „ I iv 200
Is not y light in the Queen's chamber? „ V iv 1
Y grimly-glaring, treble-brandish'd scourge Of England! Harold I i 3
More talk of this to-morrow, if y weird sign Not blast us in our dreams.— „ I i 120
And y huge keep that hinders half the heaven. „ II ii 228
I sorrow'd for my random promise given To y fox-lion. „ III i 270
Y heaven is wroth with thee? „ V i 39 drop The mud I carried, like y brook, Becket II i 159
And see you y side-beam that is forced from under it, „ III iii 49

Yore There is one Come as Goliath came of y— Harold V i 493

York Hath taken Scarboro' Castle, north of Y; Queen Mary V i 288
They have taken Y. Harold III ii 171
Y taken? Gurth. Yea, Tostig hath taken Y! „ III ii 174
To Y then. Edith, Hadst thou been braver, „ III ii 177
Roger of Y. Henry. Roger is Roger of Y. Becket, Pro. 267
To set that precious jewel, Roger of Y. „ Pro. 270
Roger of Y, When I and thou were youths in Theobald's house, „ I iii 39
Now I am Canterbury and thou art Y. Roger of York. And is not Y the peer of Canterbury? „ I iii 45
Found two archbishopricks, London and Y? „ I iii 51
And Y lay barren for a hundred years. „ I iii 54
Bishops—Y, London, Chichester, Westminster— „ I iii 385
Let Y bear his to mate with Canterbury. „ I iii 512
My Lord of Y, Let us go in to the Council, „ I iii 546
There's Y, my liege. „ II ii 28 hold Young Henry king, if only crown'd by Y, And that would stilt up Y „ II ii 33
Cursed be John of Oxford, Roger of Y, And Gilbert Foliot! „ II ii 266
I go to have young Henry crown'd by Y. „ II ii 479 hath in this crowning of young Henry by Y and London „ III iii 71
And how did Roger of Y comport himself? „ III iii 84
my Lord of Y—his fine-cut face bowing „ III iii 140

York (continued) crowning thy young son by Y, London and Salisbury—not Canterbury. Becket III iii 195
Y crown'd the Conqueror—not Canterbury. „ III iii 197
Roger of Y, you always hated him, „ V i 8
Y and myself, and our good Salisbury here, „ V i 56
Y said so? Salisbury. Yes: a man may take good counsel „ V ii 1
Y will say anything. What is he saying now? „ V ii 5
Y! Can the King de-anathematise this Y? „ V ii 9
Who hold With Y, with Y against me. „ V ii 63
Y against Canterbury, Y against God! „ V ii 66
he borrowed the monies from the Abbot of Y, the Sheriff's brother. Foresters I i 68
mark'd if those two knaves from Y be coming? „ IV 113
The Abbot of Y and his justiciary. „ IV 334
Not paid at Y—the wood—prick me no more! „ IV 623

Young (adj.) Judges had pronounced That our y Edward might bequeath the crown Of England, Queen Mary I ii 26
But our y Earl of Devon— Mary. Earl of Devon? „ I v 160
Ev'n that y girl who dared to wear your crown? „ I v 491
Here was a y mother, Her face on flame, „ II ii 68
My seven-years' friend was with me, my y boy; „ III iii 48
my Lord, Under y Edward. „ III iv 244
Which a y lust had clapt upon the back, „ IV iii 401
They say the gloom of Saul Was lighten'd by y David's harp. Mary. Too y! And never knew a Philip. „ V ii 359 how it chanced That this y Earl was sent on foreign travel, „ V ii 489
Noble as his y person and old shield. „ V ii 513
Ay, ay, y lord, there the king's face is power. Harold I i 72
Yet in thine own land in thy father's day They blinded my y kinsman, Alfred— „ II ii 511
I do believe My old crook'd spine would bud out two y wings „ III i 25
Two y lovers in winter weather, „ III ii 3
I will have My y son Henry crown'd the King of England, Becket, Pro. 224
Surely too y Even for this shadow of a crown; „ Pro. 230
Ay, but the y colt winced and whinnied and flung up her heels; „ Pro. 514
And said 'My y Archbishop—thou wouldst make A stately Archbishop!' „ I i 65 he might well have sway'd All England under Henry, the y King, „ I iii 468
Deal gently with the y man Absalom. „ I iii 756
Too scared—so y! „ II i 67
You have not crown'd y Henry yet, my liege? „ II ii 3
But England scarce would hold Y Henry king, if only crown'd by York, „ II ii 32 crown y Henry there, and make Our waning Eleanor all but love me! „ II ii 456
I go to have y Henry crown'd by York. „ II ii 478
Seeing he must to Westminster and crown Y Henry there to-morrow. „ III ii 10 hath in this crowning of y Henry by York and London so violated the immemorial usage of the Church, „ III iii 71

Young (adj.) (continued) but as to the y crownling himself, he looked so malapert in the eyes, Becket III iii 108
Did you hear the y King's quip? „ III iii 146
Thou hast broken thro' the pales Of privilege, crowning thy y son by York, „ III iii 194
I do beseech you—my child is so y, „ IV ii 84
But the child is so y. „ IV ii 89 let me go With my y boy, and I will hide my face, „ IV ii 98
But I will beg my bread along the world With my y boy, „ IV ii 104 till it break Into y angels. „ V ii 257
Commands you to be dutiful and leal To your y King on this side of the water, „ V ii 326
On those that crown'd y Henry in this realm, „ V ii 392
If this be so, complain to your y King, „ V ii 448
I warrants ye'll think moor o' this y Squire Edgar as ha' coomed among us— Prom. of May I 109
But you are y, and—pardon me—As lovely as your sister. „ II 506
Taäke one o' the y 'uns fust, Miss, fur I be a bit deaf, „ III 31 the poor y heart Broken at last—all still— „ III 680 but now I ask you all, did none of you love y Walter Lea? Foresters I i 55
No news of y Walter? „ I i 72
Y Walter, nay, I pray thee, stay a moment. „ II i 472
I Little John, he, y Scarlet, and he, old Much, and all the rest of us. „ III 60
This y warrior broke his prison And join'd my banner in the Holy Land, „ IV 998

Young (s) The lion needs but roar to guard his y; Queen Mary III v 123

Youngest I am the y of the Templars, Becket I iii 261 an' I can taäke my glass along wi' the y, Prom. of May I 361

Youngster thou and thy y's are always muching and moreing me. Foresters IV 295 always so much more of a man than my y's old Much. „ IV 298

Youth (adolescence) was all pure lily and rose In his y, Queen Mary I v 21
Not scorn him for the foibles of his y. Becket V ii 328 blossom of his y, Has faded, falling fruitless— Prom. of May II 333

Youth (young man) strange y Suddenly thrust it on me, Queen Mary II i 128
I would she could have wedded that poor y, My Lord of Devon— „ V ii 476
When I and thou were y's in Theobald's house, Becket I iii 40
The wildest of the random y of Florence The Falcon 808

Z

Zeal tell this learned Legate he lacks z. Queen Mary III iv 272

Zerubbabel What else? Man. Z. „ III i 315

Zest that will give thee a new z for it, Foresters IV 209

Zion The daughter of Z lies beside the way— Becket III iii 177

Zone open'd out The purple z of hill and heaven; The Cup I ii 408

Zuinglius (Zwingli, the Swiss reformer) The ghosts of Luther and Z fade Queen Mary III ii 174

Zurich To Strasburg, Antwerp, Frankfort, Z, „ I ii 2

A CONCORDANCE TO THE POEMS

CONTAINED IN THE LIFE OF

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON.

A

Abyss The starr'd a'es of the sky, 'Tis not alone 2
Accept A's the song you gave, and he sends Little Aubrey 2
A on this your golden bridal day Remembering him 3
Ache Till heart and sight and hearing a How strange it is 3
Act (s) Steersman, be not precipitate in thine a Of steering Steersman 1
Act (verb) a on Eternity To keep thee here That is his portrait 39
Admire A that stalwart shape, those ample brows, „ 4
Æon In the vast Of the rolling of the a's, Little Aubrey 6
Aerial Whose trumpet-tongued, a melody O God, make this age 3
Affectation Let it cry an a, Immeasurable sadness! 6
Affection To thee with whom my true a's dwell, To thee with whom 1
Afraid Truth-seeking he and not a, He was too good 5
Age when your a had somewhat riper grown, Hear you the sound 54
O God, make this a great that we may be O God, make this age 1
O'er the bow'd shoulder of a bland old A, That is his portrait 36
To hold the Spirit of the A Against the Spirit They wrought, etc. 47
Agony An energy, an a, A labour working to an end. Youth, lapsing ii 3
Aileth What a thee, O bird divine, Full light aloft 5
Aim So lived I without a or choice, Youth, lapsing i 37
Air (See also Under-air) gaily spring In that unwholesome a, Far off in the dun 10
glooms were spread Around in the chilling a, „ 102
With pleasant hymns they soothe the a Of death, „ 109 there Hovering, thoughtful, poised in a. Not to Silence 12
Airy On her forehead undefiled I will print an a kiss: Not a whisper 12
Ait Streaming thro' his osier'd a's ! Vicar of this 20
Akin Great spirits grow a to base. They wrought, etc. 16
Alarum May blow a loud to every wind, O God, make this age 4
Ale lifts The creaming horn of corny a ! Yon huddled cloud 4
Gives stouter a and riper port „ 7
Alfred little A in the East Little Aubrey 1
All A things please you, nothing vex you, Vicar of this 9 that give The difference of a things to the sense, Why suffers 10
An orb repulsive of a hate, A will concentric with a fate, A life four-square to a the winds. Young is the grief 14
And how a things become the past. Youth, lapsing i 28
And the guard gasp'd out 'A's right.' Far off in the dun 88
A freedom vanish'd— Rise, Britons, rise 3
All-perfect but rather bless The A-p Framer, That is his portrait 48
Alma At the battle of A River. Frenchman, etc. 4
That rests by the A River. „ 12
Aloft Full light a doth the laverock spring Full light aloft 1
Alone 'Tis not a the warbling woods, 'Tis not alone 1
Along voice Cried in the future 'Come a.' Youth, lapsing i 40
Altar bind Falsehood beneath the a of great Truth: O God, make this age 8
Alternation With click-clack a to and fro, Half after midnight! 8
Ambrosial and make beneath A gloom. Hear you the sound 30
Amethyst Of beryl, and of a Was the spiritual frame. Far off in the dun 123
Ample Admire that stalwart shape, those a brows, That is his portrait 4 Anacaona happy as A, The beauty of Espagnola, repeat) A dark Indian maiden 10, 22
Anacaona (continued) Indian queen, A, Dancing on the blossomy plain A dark Indian maiden 28
Happy happy was A, The beauty of Espagnola, „ 34
Happy, happy A, The beauty of Espagnola, „ 46 they smiled on A, The beauty of Espagnola, „ 58
No more in Xaraguay Wander'd happy A, „ 70
Anadyomené more fair to me Than aught of A ! Not to Silence 16
Anans By the crimson-eyed a, A dark Indian maiden 4
Ancestor battlemented towers Of my old a's ! Hear you the sound 13
Ancient (See also Antient) He cares, if a usage fade, They wrought, etc. 33
Anger victim, Broken in this a of Aphrodite, Faded ev'ry violet 3
Ankle floating snake Roll'd round her a's, One was the Tishbite 10
Anon 'Tis a clear night, they will be here a. Hear you the sound 6
Another Into a shape, born of the first, As beautiful, but yet a world. That is his portrait 29 and I will show to you A countenance, one yet more dear, „ 45
Antient (See also Ancient) And somewhat loftier a heights Touch'd with Heaven's latest lights. Thy soul is like 11
Apart Not with this age wherefrom ye stand a, Therefore your Halls 11
Ape (s) We come from a's—and are far removed— How is it that men 4
Ape (verb) And the voice that a's a nation— Immeasurable sadness! 5
Aphrodite victim, Broken in this anger of A, Faded ev'ry violet 3
Apparel For they were kingly in a, A dark Indian maiden 63
Approach what lights a With heavenly melodies ? Far off in the dun 105
Arch (s) look you what an a the brain has built That is his portrait 10
Beneath those double a'es lie Fair with green fields Youth, lapsing ii 35
Arch (verb) thick dark oaks, that a their arms above, Hear you the sound 11
Archangel And a bright a drove. Far off in the dun 116
Areyto moving To her A's mellow ditty, A dark Indian maiden 50
Aristocrat proud a's whose lordly shadows, Hear you the sound 21
Arm thick dark oaks, that arch their a's above, „ 11
With one a stretch'd out bare, One was the Tishbite 3 this one smiled, that other waved his a's, That is his portrait 22
Armed A sound of blows on a breasts ! And individual interests Becoming bands of a foes ! They wrought, etc. 18
Array And though girt in glad a, The lamps were bright 23
Art A for A's sake ! Hail, Art for Art's sake! 1
I hate the trim-set plots of a !' I keep no more 14
A, Science, Nature, everything is full, Why suffers 7
Artist Like some wise a, Nature gives, 'Tis not alone 6
Ash by fits the lady a With twinkling finger Townsmen, etc. 9
Ask a you whether you would be A great man in your time, Hear you the sound 56
Asleep sound of the deep when the winds are a; That the voice 3
Asphaltus slime Which from A flows. Far off in the dun 40
Athwart as 'twere a a colour'd cloud, That is his portrait 35
A the bloomy morn. Full light aloft 4
Atrophy And his name was A ! Far off in the dun 56
Attire And rich was their a: „ 126
Attitude Down to his slightest turns and a's— That is his portrait 24
Aubrey Little A in the West ! little Alfred in the East Little Aubrey 1
Austral Your flag thro' A ice is borne, The noblest men 6

Avenue through The knotted boughs of this long a Hear you the sound 10
Awe And looks to a the standers by, Because she bore 4
Awful Our a inner ghostly sense Unroused, How strange it is 5
Awry mould you all a and mar your worth; Old ghosts 11

B

Babble cuckoo-voice that loves To b its own name. I, loving Freedom 8 we, Poor devils, b 'we shall last.' Well, as to Fame 8
Babe Father will come to his b in the nest, Bright is the moon 11
Baby and knit your b brows Into your father's frown, Hear you the sound 48
Back voices mourn'd In distant fields, 'Come b, come b.' Youth, lapsing i 44
Bad When a great man's found to be b and base, How is it that men 2
Balmy And softly blow the b skies; Life of the Life 4
Band (a company) Becoming b's of armed foes! They wrought, etc. 20
Band (strip) We drest her in the Proctor's b's, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 3
Bang B thy stithy stronger and stronger, Wherever evil 8
Banish'd The true men b— Rise, Britons, rise 4 Bank Whate'er the crowd on either b may say, Steersman 7 child was sitting on the b Upon a stormy day, The child was sitting 1
Bar rivulet, Rippling by cressy isles or b's of sand, Townsmen, etc. 6
Bare With one arm stretch'd out b, One was the Tishbite 3
Barkless And above the b trees They saw the green verge of the pleasant earth, Far off in the dun 62
Barley Full fields of b shifting tearful lights Townsmen, etc. 8
Barren If night, what b toil to be! Gone into darkness 6
Base When a great man's found to be bad and b, How is it that men 2
Great spirits grow akin to b. They wrought, etc. 16
Bathe B with me in the fiery flood, Life of the life 5
Bathing B in the slumbrous coves, A dark Indian maiden 7
Battle Every mile a b, Every b a victory. Bold Havelock 3
At the b of Alma River. Frenchman, etc. 4
Battlemented Coeval with the b towers Of my old ancestors! Hear you the sound 12
Bay Dancing by a palmy b, A dark Indian maiden 18
With her maidens to the b; " 42
With her damsels by the b; " 54
wreath'd with green b's were the gorgeous lamps, Far off in the dun 115
Beaker He brims his b to the top, Yon huddled cloud 13
Beam Bright are the cliffs in her b, Bright is the moon 2
Warm b's across the meadows stole; The night, etc. 3
Ray'd round with b's of living light. Youth, lapsing ii 52
Bear Although the merry bridegroom B's the bride away, The lamps were bright 12
Beard He strokes his b before he speaks; Yon huddled cloud 10
Bearest Thou b from the threshold of thy friends Woman of noble 3
Beat And the b of the horny heels? Far off in the dun 96
Long as the heart b's life within her breast, Long as the heart 1 sorrows of as pure a heart As e'er b time to Nature, Woman of noble 5
Warm b's my blood, my spirit thirsts; Youth, lapsing ii 45
Beauteous Nor Sorrow b in her youth, Are those the far-famed 7
Beautiful Into another shape, born of the first, As b, That is his portrait 30
E'en scorn looks b on human lips! Why suffers 4
Beauty happy as Anacaona, The b of Espagnola, (repeat) A dark Indian maiden 11, 23
Happy, happy was Anacaona, The b of Espagnola, " 35 happy Anacaona, The b of Espagnola, (repeat) " 47, 71 they smiled on Anacaona, The b of Espagnola, " 59
B, Good and Knowledge are three sisters . . . Beauty, Good, etc. 1
Strange beauties from the sky. Far off in the dun 32
Beckon father's frown, and b me Away. Hear you the sound 49
Bed damn'd that writhe Upon their b's of flame, Half after midnight! 11 Clusters and b's of worlds, Hither, when all 7
Bedimm'd The tears b their sight: Far off in the dun 86
Bee-like b-l swarms Of suns, and starry streams. Hither, when all 7
Began Old ghosts whose day was done ere mine b, Old ghosts 1
The months, ere they b to rise, Youth, lapsing i 9 they b at last To speak of what had gone before, " 26
Begin The May b's to breathe and bud, Life of the Life 3
Beginning In thy b's in the past, Young is the grief 11
Behind B the burning Sun: Far off in the dun 2
Behold B, ye cannot bring but good, Are those the far-famed 5
Belie To make me thus b my constant heart To thee with whom 11
Bend That streams about the b; Steersman 5 Take thou the 'b,' 'twill save thee many a day. " 8 showing every b Of each dark hill Thy soul is like 5
Beryl Of b, and of amethyst Was the spiritual frame. Far off in the dun 123
Best And God's b blessing on each dear head That rests by the Alma River. Frenchman, etc. 11
Bigger But rejoice when a b brother has proved How is it that men 5
Bind when Poesy shall b Falsehood beneath the altar O God, make this age 7
Bird What aileth thee, O b divine, Full light aloft 5
Like b's of passage, to return with thee Woman of noble 8 Birth That Inn was built at the b of Time: Far off in the dun 37 and tell me you were great Already in your b. Hear you the sound 60 high b Had writ nobility upon my brow. " 63
She whose b brought on my bliss: Not a whisper 10
Bitter Whoever walks that b ground His limbs beneath him fail; Far off in the dun 25
On the b, b bridal, The b bridal-day. The lamps were bright 53 a stranger tale to tell Than if the vine had borne the b sloe. To thee with whom 4
Black They mounted slow in their long b cloaks, Far off in the dun 85
And why her b eyes burn With a light so wild and stern?' The lamps were bright 15
What is that I hear? The night is b and still; What rustles 3
Bland O'er the bow'd shoulder of a b old Age, That is his portrait 36
Blast the ricketty b runs shrilly and fast Far off in the dun 11
Blatant We help the b voice abroad To preach the freedom of despair, He was too good 9
Bleat deer B as with human voices in the park. What rustles 4
Blend A noise of winds that meet and b, Youth, lapsing ii 2
Bless child will b thee, guardian mother mild, Long as the heart 2 but rather b The All-perfect Framer, That is his portrait 47
God b the little isle where a man may still be true! God b the noble isle that is Mistress of the Seas! They say, etc. 17
Bless'd-Blest thy memory will be bless'd By children Long as the heart 3
They see the light of their blest firesides, Far off in the dun 65
Were I not a spirit blest, Not a whisper 7
Blessing And God's best b on each dear head Frenchman, etc. 11
Blest See Bless'd
Blind then Is this b flight the winged Powers. Are those the far-famed 4
Bliss She whose birth brought on my b: Not a whisper 10
Something of pain—of b—of Love, 'Tis not alone 11
Blissful That wash'd her shores with b sounds: Youth, lapsing i 4
Blithe she seeming b Declined her head: One was the Tishbite 13
Blood 'I am of Havelock's b!' Bold Havelock 16
The tingling b grew chill, Far off in the dun 78
Whose b in its liveliest course would not pause " 93
My Spanish b ran proudly in my veins. Hear you the sound 45
Life of the Life within my b, (repeat) Life of the Life 1, 7 what madness moved my b To make me thus belie To thee with whom 10 Sent thro' my b a prophet voice Youth, lapsing i 10
Warm beats my b, my spirit thirsts; " ii 45
Bloom'd Indian maiden, Warbling in the b liana, A dark Indian maiden 2
Bloomy And chants in the golden wakening Athwart the b morn. Full light aloft 4
Blossomy Dancing on the b plain To a woodland melody: A dark Indian maiden 29
Blow (s) A sound of words that change to b's! A sound of b's on armed breasts! They wrought, etc. 17
Blow (verb) And softly b the balmy skies; Life of the Life 4
May b alarum loud to every wind, O God, make this age 4
With that long horn she loves to b, Well, as to Fame 2
Behind yon hill the trumpets b, Youth, lapsing ii 11
Blowing Watch your standard roses b, Vicar of this 12
Blown Your name is b on every wind, The noblest men 5
Blue (adj.) With fair b eyes and winning sweet, Because she bore 3
From dawn till sunset looking far away On the b mountains, Hear you the sound 40
Blue (s) pall of the sky Leave never an inch of b; Far off in the dun 22
Body heads without bodies and shapes without heads " 103
Bold B Havelock march'd, (repeat) Bold Havelock 1, 5, 9, 13
Bone (See also Skull and Cross-bones) eyes glared fiercely thro' The windows of shaven b. Far off in the dun 48
There was not a tinge on each high cheek b, " 51
His b's crack'd loud, as he stept thro' the crowd, " 75 threw up the dust Of dead men's pulverised b's. " 92

Bony But the ricketty blast runs shrilly and fast
Thro' the b branches there. Far off in the dun 12 Book your golden bridal day The B of Prayer. Remembering him 4 full God-bless-you with this b of song, Take, Lady, 2
I give this faulty b to you, The noblest men 9
Boot And his b's creak'd heavily. Far off in the dun 76
Booth The hubbub of the market and the b's: That is his portrait 21
Bore Because she b the iron name Of him— Because she bore 1
And b the child away. The child was sitting 7 the merry bridegroom B the bride away! The lamps were bright 4
Born This chamber she was b in! Along this glimmering 3
All Nature is the womb whence Man is b. Hold thou, my friend 2
Into another shape, b of the first, That is his portrait 29 Borne (See also Wind-borne) merry bridegroom Hath b the bride away— (repeat) The lamps were bright 20, 26, 38, 44
a merry bridegroom Had b the bride away, „ 50
Your flag thro' Austral ice is b, The noblest men 6
Than if the vine had b the bitter sloe. To thee with whom 4
Bough through The knotted b's of this long avenue Hear you the sound 10
Bound (limit) transgressing the low b Of mortal hope, That is his portrait 38
The river rose and burst his b, The child was sitting 4
Bound (verb) When corny Lammas b the sheaves: Youth, lapsing i 16
Bounded leaders b, the guard's horn sounded: Far off in the dun 89
Boundless And rushes o'er a b field. Youth, lapsing ii 32
Through all that b depth of fires is heard Half after midnight! 13
Bow With all his groves he b's, he nods, Youth, lapsing ii 49 Bow'd O'er the b shoulder of a bland old Age, The face of placid Death.' That is his portrait 36
Bower Now idly in my natal b's, Youth, lapsing i 49
Box (driver's seat) grim old coachee strode to the b, Far off in the dun 87
Box (house) snug brick b Of some sleek citizen. Hear you the sound 19
Boy And the laugh of their rose-lipp'd b's. Far off in the dun 68
Thou dost remember, Michael, How, when a b, Hear you the sound 31
we jar like b's: And in the hurry and the noise They wrought, etc. 14
Brain His heart throbs thick, his b reels sick: Far off in the dun 27
The b is moulded,' she began, From shape to shape 2
Is thy mad b drunk with the merry, red wine, Full light aloft 7 what an arch the b has built Above the ear! That is his portrait 10 dark form glances quick Thro' her worn b, The lamps were bright 28
With reason cloister'd in the b: Young is the grief 4
Brake How every b and flower spread and rose, That is his portrait 26
Branch Waving a palm b, wondering, loving, A dark Indian maiden 51
Thro' the bony b'es there. Far off in the dun 12 singing lustily Among the moss-grown b'es, Hear you the sound 42
Brave whole world shall not b us! (repeat) They say, etc. 6, 13, 20
Break (s) Dancing at the b of day, A dark Indian maiden 66
At the very b of light? Full light aloft 8 Break (verb) would have call'd you down to b your fast, Hear you the sound 47
Lightly lisping, b's away; Not to Silence 32
To b the pride of Britain, They say, etc. 2
To b the noble pride of the Mistress of the Seas. „ 4
Not he that b's the dams, but he They wrought, etc. 29
B thro' with the hammer of iron rhyme, Wherever evil 2
Breast Long as the heart beats life within her b, Long as the heart 1
And veils a b more fair to me Not to Silence 15
And that large table of the b dispread, That is his portrait 5
A sound of blows on armed b's! They wrought, etc. 18
These only do not move the b; 'Tis not alone 5
An idle hope was in my b, What rustles 11
Breathe The May begins to b and bud, Life of the Life 3
Bred The noblest men methinks are b The noblest men 1
Breeze B's from the palm and canna A dark Indian maiden 14
Brick or the snug b box Of some sleek citizen. Hear you the sound 19
Brickwork Inextricable b maze in maze? What rustles 8
Bridal (adj.) Accept on this your golden b day Remembering him 3
Bridal (s) bitter, bitter b, The bitter bridal-day. The lamps were bright 53
A merry, merry b, a merry bridal-day! (repeat) „ 5, 13 Bridal-day lamps were bright and gay On the merry b-d, „ 2
A merry, merry bridal, A merry b-d! (repeat) „ 6, 14
the bitter, bitter bridal, The bitter b-d. „ 54
Bride the merry bridegroom Bore the b away! „ 4 Why the b is white as clay, Although the merry bridegroom Bears the b away, „ 10
Bride (continued) the merry bridegroom
Hath borne the b away—(repeat) The lamps were bright 20, 26, 38, 44 tho' the merry bridegroom Might lead the b away, The lamps were bright 32
he a merry bridegroom Had borne the b away, „ 50
Bridegroom the merry b Bore the bride away! „ 3
Although the merry b Bears the bride away, „ 11 the merry b Hath borne the bride away— (repeat) „ 19, 25 37, 43 tho' the merry b Might lead the bride away, „ 31
he a merry b Had borne the bride away, „ 49
Bridge I stepp'd upon the old mill b? Remember you 4
Brief Or sleep thro' one b dream upon the grass,— Townsmen, etc. 4 Bright B is the moon on the deep, B are the cliffs in her beam, Bright is the moon 1
And a b archangel drove. Far off in the dun 116 his forehead heavenly b From the clear marble One was the Tishbite 6 lamps were b and gay On the merry bridal-day, The lamps were bright 1
And Heaven is dark and b by turns. Youth, lapsing ii 16
A mountain b with triple peaks: „ 48
Brim He b's his beaker to the top, Yon huddled cloud 13
Bring Behold, ye cannot b but good, Are those the far-famed 5 break the pride of Britain, and b her on her knees, They say, etc. 2
Bringing b To happy Hayti the new-comer, A dark Indian maiden 37
Brink but ever drawn Under either grassy b Not to Silence 25
Upon the b A solitary fortress burns, Youth, lapsing ii 13 Britain every man in B Says 'I am of Havelock's blood!' Bold Havelock 15 To break the pride of B, They say, etc. 2 you gleam reset In B's lyric coronet. We lost you 4
Briton let an honest B sit at home at ease: They say, etc. 9
Broad below The highway, b and flat, Far off in the dun 98
Broke They b the ground with hoofs of fire „ 128
Broken victim, B in this anger of Aphrodite, Faded ev'ry violet 3
Brook Partly river, partly b, Not to Silence 29
Brother But rejoice when a bigger b has proved How is it that men 5
Brought Then she b the guava fruit, A dark Indian maiden 41
She whose birth b on my bliss: Not a whisper 10
Brow His b is clammy and pale. Far off in the dun 28
the white fly leapt About his hairless b. „ 84 knit your baby b's Into your father's frown, Hear you the sound 48 high birth Had writ nobility upon my b. „ 64
Admire that stalwart shape, those ample b's, That is his portrait 4
These careful and those candid b's, „ 23
Brush B'es of fire, hazy gleams, Hither, when all 6
Brush'd As the quick wheels b, Far off in the dun 91
Bud May begins to breathe and b, Life of the Life 3
Build Not to Silence would I b A temple Not to Silence 1 Built (See also Slight-built) That Inn was b at the birth of Time: Far off in the dun 37 what an arch the brain has b Above the ear! That is his portrait 10 Burn hearts that in them b With power Far off in the dun 29 her black eyes b With a light so wild and stern?' The lamps were bright 15
Upon the brink A solitary fortress b's, Youth, lapsing ii 14 Burning (See also Ever-burning) Far off in the dun, dark occident, Behind the b Sun: Far off in the dun 2
Cemented with the b slime Which from Asphaltus flows. „ 39
With a silver sound the wheels went round, The wheels of b flame, „ 122
Hard by the b throne of my great grandsire, Half after midnight! 6
Burst (s) With a solemn b of thrilling light, Far off in the dun 119
Burst (verb) The river rose and b his bound, The child was sitting 4
I could b into a psalm of praise, Why suffers 2
Out b's a rainbow in the sky— Youth, lapsing ii 33 from the golden vapour b's A mountain bright „ 47
Butterfly Before the first white butterflies, „ i 11

C

Caesar A C of a punier dynasty Here, I that stood 5
Call You were wont to c it Your throne. Hear you the sound 35
C to the freshly-flower'd hill. Remember you 12
C to its mate when nothing stirr'd „ 15

Call'd would have c you down to break your fast, Hear you the sound 47
Calm Before his eyes so grim and c Far off in the dun 77
Came And the host c forth, and stood alone " 49
There c a gaunt man from the dark Inn door, " 73 wind c singing lustily Among the moss-grown branches, Hear you the sound 41
I c And would have call'd you down " 46
Candid These careful and those c brows, how each— That is his portrait 23
Canna Breezes from the palm and c A dark Indian maiden 14
Cap Jauntily sat the Proctor's c Sweet Kitty Sandilands 11
Capacious C both of Friendship and of Love. That is his portrait 51
Care He c's, if ancient usage fade, They wrought, etc. 33
Careful These c and those candid brows, how each— That is his portrait 23
Carmel-steeps As when he stood on C-s One was the Tishbite 2
Carol Following her wild c She led them A dark Indian maiden 61
Carolling C 'Happy, happy Hayti!' " 52
Carouse no revelling tones Of c were heard within: Far off in the dun 42
Carved forms Of the unfading marble c upon them, Hear you the sound 26
First shaped, and c, and set me in my place. Here, I that stood 4
Casement The c's sparkle on the plain, Youth, lapsing ii 39
Cast every line Wore the pale c of thought, Methought I saw 2
Castle Up the street we took her As far as to the C, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 10
Cataract This goes straight forward to the c: Steersman 4
But tho' the c seem the nearer way, " 6
Caterwaul If the world c, lay harder upon her Wherever evil 6
Cause great c of Freedom round and round. First drink a health 60
Carven Wax-lighted chapels, and rich c screens Therefore your Halls 4
Cease These voices did not c to cry Youth, lapsing i 22
Ceasing Confused, and c from my quest, " 45
Cedar-wooded c-w paradise Of still Xaraguay: A dark Indian maiden 20
Cellar For he, whose c is his pride, Yon huddled cloud 6
Cemented C with the burning slime Far off in the dun 39
Century Which speak of us to other centuries, Hear you the sound 27
Cessation There may be short c of their wails, Half after midnight! 12 Chamber This c she was born in! Along this glimmering 3 tho' the faults be thick as dust In vacant c's, The noblest men 11 Chance lest it by c should mark The life that haunts How strange it is 6 pleasant spot Where it was my c to marry, Vicar of this 2
Change (s) of the c's of the suns? Little Aubrey 6 Mature, harbour'd from c, contemplative, That is his portrait 12 overhaste Should fire the many wheels of c! They wrought, etc. 24 to repair With seasonable c's fair " 35
When from c to c, Led silently by power divine, Thou may'st remember 8
Thro' every c that made thee what thou art? To thee with whom 14
Change (verb) A sound of words that c to blows! They wrought, etc. 17
Changed when the winds Are fallen or c; Woman of noble 10
Channel river here, my friend, Parts in two c's, Steersman 3 thro' the c's of the state Convoys They wrought, etc. 30
Chant And c's in the golden wakening Full light aloft 3
Chanted He c some old doleful rhyme. Youth, lapsing i 36
Chapel c's vaulted gloom Was misted with perfume. The lamps were bright 7
Charged C with his gallant few, Bold Havelock 6
Charnel-place tomb And c-p of purpose dead, Thou may'st remember 4
Chase Uncertain of ourselves we c The clap of hands; They wrought, etc. 13
Chatter That they chuckle and c and mock? How is it that men 3
Chattering The c of the fleshless jaws, Far off in the dun 95
Cheek There was not a tinge on each high c bone, " 51
Those thoughtful furrows in the swarthy c; That is his portrait 3 eyes Are swallow'd in his pamper'd c's. Yon huddled cloud 12
Chequer'd C with moonlight's variation, Hear you the sound 22
Chief This tavern is their c resort, Yon huddled cloud 5
Child A c she loved to play; Along this glimmering 2
Thy c will bless thee, guardian mother mild, Long as the heart 2 bless'd By children of the children of thy c. " 4
In that cradle sleeps my c, Not a whisper 9 c was sitting on the bank Upon a stormy day, The child was sitting 1
Took the c from off the ground, And bore the c away. " 6
O the c so meek and wise, " 8
Childhood All her loving c Breezes from the palm A dark Indian maiden 13
Children memory will be bless'd By c of the c Long as the heart 4
Chill The tingling blood grew c, Far off in the dun 78
Chilling There lies a land of c storms, Far off in the dun 5
Vast wastes of starless glooms were spread Around in the c air, " 102
Chimney Moan'd in her c's and her eaves; Youth, lapsing i 30
Choice So lived I without aim or c, " 37
Chuckle That they c and chatter and mock? How is it that men 3
Cinchona Crown'd with garlands of c, A dark Indian maiden 26
Citizen snug brick box Of some sleek c. Hear you the sound 20
Whence your own c's, for their own renown, Here, I that stood 7 he, the c, Deep-hearted, moderate, firm, They wrought, etc. 9
Claim those whom Freedom c's As patriot-martyrs Not such were those 1
Clammy His brow is c and pale. Far off in the dun 28
Clap Uncertain of ourselves we chase The c of hands; They wrought, etc. 14
Clapperclaw Till she c no longer, Wherever evil 7
Clasp I c her slender waist, We kiss, How glad am I 5
Clay Why the bride is white as c, The lamps were bright 10 Clear 'Tis a c night, they will be here anon. Hear you the sound 6 oak Which towers above the lake that ripples out In the c moonshine. " 34
From the c marble pouring glorious scorn, One was the Tishbite 7
Remember you the c moonlight Remember you 1
Rang like a trumpet c and dry, Youth, lapsing i 19
Clear-edged C-e, and showing every bend Thy soul is like 5
Clearer A c day Than our poor twilight dawn on earth— Gone into darkness 4
Cleave land of many days that c's In two great halves, They wrought, etc. 26
Clever Shadows of statesmen, c men! " 12
Click-clack With c-c alternation to and fro, Half after midnight! 8
Cliff Bright are the c's in her beam, Bright is the moon 2 Cloak They mounted slow in their long black c's, Far off in the dun 85 his c wind-borne Behind, One was the Tishbite 5
Clock There is a c in Pandemonium, Half after midnight! 5
What's the c? Mich. Half way toward midnight. Hear you the sound 3
Cloister'd With reason c in the brain: Young is the grief 4
Clomb Shudder'd with silent stars, she c, Hither, when all 2
Close I met in all the c green ways, I met in all 1
Cloud c's are sunder'd toward the morning-rise; O God, make this age 9 a colour'd c, O'er the bow'd shoulder of a bland old Age, That is his portrait 35
A momentary c upon me fell: To thee with whom 6
Yon huddled c his motion shifts, Yon huddled cloud 1
The c's unswathe them from the height, Youth, lapsing ii 50
Cloudless With him you love, be c and be long! Take, Lady 4
Cloudy things of past days with their horrible eyes Look out from the c vast. Far off in the dun 20
And the moaning wind before it drives Thick wreaths of c dew. " 24
Fast by me flash the c streaks, Youth, lapsing ii 46
Clue think a cunning hand has found the c— What rustles 14
Cluster C's and beds of worlds, Hither, when all 7
Coach there stood a dark c at an old Inn door Far off in the dun 35
As the c ran on, and the sallow lights shone " 99 those are the lights of the Paradise c, " 107 Coachee (coachman) grim old c strode to the box, " 87
O C, C, what lights approach With heavenly melodies? " 105 Coat A dreadnought c had he: " 74
Cockroach As the c crept, and the white fly leapt " 83
Cocoa-shadow'd In the c-s coves, A dark Indian maiden 8
Coeval C with the battlemented towers Hear you the sound 12
Cold C words I spoke, yet loved thee warm and well. To thee with whom 8
Seem'd I so c? what madness moved my blood " 10
Coldness My c was mistimed like summer-snow, " 7
Colour'd At the end, as 'twere athwart a c cloud, That is his portrait 35
Come Father will c to thee soon, Bright is the moon 9
Father will c to his babe in the nest, " 11
'And thro' all phases of all thought I c From shape to shape 3
We c from apes—and are far removed— How is it that men 4
The crowd have c to see thy grave, I keep no more 2
The year, that c's, may c with shame, I, loving Freedom 6
mock'd and said, 'I C, cry aloud, he sleeps.' One was the Tishbite 4
That would have c to woo her. Sweet Kitty Sandilands 8
Thro' spiritual dark we c Into the light Thou may'st remember 5 far off from England's shore, He c's no more. What rustles 10 voice Cried in the future 'C along.' Youth, lapsing i 40

Come (continued) voices mourn'd In distant fields, 'C back, c back.' Youth, lapsing i 44
C's hither throbbing thro' the dark; ,, ii 8
The voice cries 'C.' ,, 13
'C' and I c, the wind is strong: ,, 17
'C' and I c, no more I sleep: ,, 25
'C' and I c, the vale is deep, My heart is dark, but yet I c. ,, 27
'C' and I c, and all c's back ,, 41
Come along voice Cried in the future 'C a.' ,, i 40
Come back voices mourn'd In distant fields, 'C b, c b.' ,, 44
Comer See New-comer
Comfort To draw strange c from the earth, Far off in the dun 31
Coming Hark! they arec. Hear you the sound 65 is it my love C along the secret ways? What rustles 6
Further and further reaching hands For ever into c years; They wrought, etc. 4
Mix'd with the phantom of his c fame, That is his portrait 32
Common For c objects that would keep Our awful inner ghostly sense Unroused, How strange it is 4
But rejoice when a bigger brother has proved That he springs from the c stock. How is it that men 6
Compell'd he c once more Thro' his own nature, That is his portrait 27
Complex More c is more perfect, From shape to shape 7
Concentric A will c with all fate, Young is the grief 15
Condense Dissolve a world, c a star, Are those the far-famed 14
Confused c The shadows from the icy heights. Deep glens I found 7
C, and ceasing from my quest, Youth, lapsing i 45
Conjectured If earth be seen from your c heaven, Old ghosts 2
Conquer And get thee forth to c. O God, make this age 11
Consciousness See Half-consciousness
Considering C what mine eyes have seen, Young is the grief 9
Constant Nor Love that holds a c mood. Are those the far-famed 8
To make me thus belie my c heart To thee with whom 11
Contemplate That c a mighty plan, They wrought, etc. 42
Contemplative harbour'd from change, c, That is his portrait 12
Contend C's, despising party-rage, They wrought, etc. 46
Control See Self-control
Convoy C's the people's wish, is great; ,, 31
Corn From under the deep, sweet c, Full light aloft 2
Corny The thirsty horseman, nodding, lifts The creaming horn of c ale! Yon huddled cloud 4 a voice ran round the hills When c Lammas bound the sheaves: Youth, lapsing i 16
Coronet gleam reset In Britain's lyric c. We lost you 4
Cottage mockery to hang it O'er the thatch'd c, Hear you the sound 19
Countenance who did scan His c so grand and mild, Methought I saw 5
I will show to you Another c, one yet more dear; That is his portrait 45
Country-side Than any in the c-s. Yon huddled cloud 8
Course blood in its liveliest c would not pause Far off in the dun 93
Court Sound 'Ever, Never' thro' the c's of Hell, Half after midnight! 9
Cove Bathing in the slumbrous c's, In the cocoa-shadow'd c's, A dark Indian maiden 7
Crack'd His bones c loud, as he stept Far off in the dun 75
Cradle See, The c where she lay! Along this glimmering 4
In that c sleeps my child, Not a whisper 9
Craft See King-craft, Priest-craft
Craggy And monstrous rocks from c snouts Deep glens I found 3
A tempest strikes the c walls, Youth, lapsing ii 21
Crane Playing with the scarlet c, The dragon-fly and scarlet c, A dark Indian maiden 31
Crazed And they saw her standing by, With a laughing c eye, The lamps were bright 52
Creak'd And his boots c heavily. Far off in the dun 76
Creaking Swung c before the Inn. ,, 44
Creaming The c horn of corny ale! Yon huddled cloud 4
Credit Small thanks or c shall I have, I keep no more 3
Creed Freedom claims As patriot-martyrs of her c: Not such were those 2
Crept As the cockroach c, and the white fly leapt Far off in the dun 83
A voice, when night had c on high, Youth, lapsing i 17
Crescent Spurge with fairy c set, Spurge with fairy 1
Cressy Rippling by c isles or bars of sand, Townsmen, etc. 6
Cried Then they c at the turn of the tide— Popular, popular 4 voice C in the future 'Come along.' Youth, lapsing i 40
Crimson-eyed By the c-e anana, A dark Indian maiden 4
Critic 'You're no Poet'—the c's cried! Popular, popular 2
Croft To snowy c's and winding scars, Youth, lapsing i 18
Cross See Skull and Cross-bones
Crowd bones crack'd loud, as he stept thro' the c, Far off in the dun 75
The c have come to see thy grave, I keep no more 2
Whate'er the c on either bank may say, Steersman 7
Crown'd C with garlands of cinchona, A dark Indian maiden 26
C with soft shade her deepening floods Youth, lapsing i 3
Crumble Go forward! c down a throne, Are those the far-famed 13 Cry Let it c an affectation, Immeasurable sadness! 6 mock'd and said, 'Come, c aloud, he sleeps.' One was the Tishbite 4
These voices did not cease to c Youth, lapsing i 22
A voice like many voices cries, ,, ii 7
Cuckoo-voice Lured by the c-v that loves I, loving Freedom 7
Cultivate Like one that c's his own. They wrought, etc. 44
Cunning And think a c hand has found the clue— What rustles 14
Curl Look on those manly c's so glossy dark, That is his portrait 2
Curves on every side The dragon's c melted, One was the Tishbite 15
Custom Wherever evil c's thicken, Wherever evil 1

D

Daisy 'I love the d weeping dew, I keep no more 13
Dale by the tavern in the d, The thirsty horseman, Yon huddled cloud 2
Dam Not he that breaks the d's, They wrought, etc. 29
Damn'd Piercing the wrung ears of the d Half after midnight! 10
Damp d's That through that region rove, Far off in the dun 113
Damsel With her d's by the bay; A dark Indian maiden 54
Dance (s) He from the d hath gone The lamps were bright 39
They were shaken from the d.— ,, 46
Dance (verb) Did the people d and play, ,, 36
Dancing D by a palmy bay, A dark Indian maiden 18
Anacaona, D on the blossomy plain ,, 29 upon the shore D at the break of day, ,, 66
When o'er the water d white I stepp'd Remember you 3
Dandle was wont to d you upon My knee, Hear you the sound 55
Dante Little Homer, little D, little Shakespeare, Little Aubrey 4
Dare And see, ye d not touch the truth, Are those the far-famed 6
Dark (adj.) A d Indian maiden, Warbling in the bloom'd liana, A dark Indian maiden 1
Over the d sea-marge springing, ,, 39
Far off in the dun, d occident, Far off in the dun 1
D was the night, and loud the roar Of wind and mingled shower, When there stood a d coach at an old Inn door ,, 33 and stood alone And still in the d doorway: ,, 50
The d vine leaves round the rustling eaves, ,, 71
There came a gaunt man from the d Inn door, ,, 73
The knotted boughs of this long avenue Of thick d oaks, Hear you the sound 11
Look on those manly curls so glossy d, That is his portrait 2
A d form glances quick Thro' her worn brain, The lamps were bright 27 and showing every bend Of each d hill against the Heaven, Thy soul is like 6
And Heaven is d and bright by turns. Youth, lapsing ii 16
My heart is d, but yet I come. ,, 28
Dark (s) the emptiness And horrors of the formless d. How strange it is 8
Thro' spiritual d we come Into the light Thou may'st remember 5
What rustles hither in the d? A step? What rustles 1
Comes hither throbbing thro' the d; Youth, lapsing ii 8
Darkest Ev'n when I knew him in his hour Of d doubt, He was too good 3
Dark-limb'd orange groves Naked, and d-l, A dark Indian maiden 6
Darkness Howling in outer d.' Beauty, Good, etc. 5
Gone into d, that full light Of friendship! Gone into darkness 1
Daughter Kitty Sandilands, The d of the doctor, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 2
And dreamt not of the miller's d. I met in all 8
Dawn You'd sit there From d till sunset Hear you the sound 39
I see the world's renewed youth A long day's d, O God, make this age 7
Than our poor twilight d on earth— Gone into darkness 5
Dawning It will be the d soon, Not a whisper 2

Day (See also Bridal-day) All d long with laughing eyes, A dark Indian maiden 17 upon the shore Dancing at the break of d, „ 66 things of past d's with their horrible eyes Far off in the dun 19
Ere the d be well-nigh done; Full light aloft 10 clearer d Than our poor twilight dawn on earth— Gone into darkness 4
I see the world's renewed youth A long d's dawn, O God, make this age 7
Old ghosts whose d was done ere mine began, Old ghosts 1
That none can truly write his single d, „ 13
Take thou the 'bend,' 'twill save thee many a d. Steersman 8 child was sitting on the bank Upon a stormy d, The child was sitting 2
In the hall, at close of d, The lamps were bright 35
A land of many d's that cleaves In two great halves, They wrought, etc. 26
D by d Watch your standard roses blowing, Vicar of this 11
The image of the sun by d, Youth, lapsing i 7
Down from the summit sweeps the d „ ii 31
Dead (adj.) March'd and fought himself d. Bold Havelock 12
They lifted their eyes to the d, pale skies, Far off in the dun 61 and threw up the dust Of d men's pulverised bones. „ 92
'The dead are d and let them be.' I keep no more 8
'From the tomb And charnel-place of purpose d, Thou may'st remember 4 Dead (s) Then pledge we our glorious d, Frenchman, etc. 9 and so many d, And him the last. Gone into darkness 10
'The d are dead and let them be.' I keep no more 8
Deal Not d's in threats, but works with hope, They wrought, etc. 39
Dear And God's best blessing on each d head Frenchman, etc. 11 one yet more d, More d, for what is lost is made more d; 'More d' That is his portrait 45
Was I so harsh? Ah d, it could not be. To thee with whom 9
Dearest Speak to me, d, lest I die. Speak to me 4
Death That ride to d the griefs of men? Are those the far-famed 2
The D for which you mourn is Life.' Early-wise 8 pleasant hymns they soothe the air Of d, Far off in the dun 110
The face of a placid D.' That is his portrait 37 silent Guardians But true till D; Woman of noble 7
Declined she seeming blithe D her head: One was the Tishbite 14
Deemed I d her one of stately frame Because she bore 3
Deep (adj.) In the d wood no more,—By the d sea no more,— A dark Indian maiden 67
D glens I found, and sunless gulfs, Deep glens I found 1
D dells of snow sunk on each side below The highway, Far off in the dun 97
Full light aloft doth the laverock spring From under the d, sweet corn, Full light aloft 2
Hither, when all the d unsounded skies Hither, when all 1
Often d beyond the sight, Not to Silence 22
Yet her own d soul says nay: The lamps were bright 24
Then a scream of wild dismay Thro' the d hall forced its way, „ 42
'Come' and I come, the vale is d, Youth, lapsing ii 27
Deep (s) Bright is the moon on the d, Bright is the moon 1
Father is over the d, „ 8 sound in her ears like the sound of the d, Like the sound of the d That the voice 2
Deepening Crown'd with soft shade her d floods Youth, lapsing i 3 Deeper past, in sleep, away By night, into the d night! The d night? Gone into darkness 3
But his was minted in a d mould, That is his portrait 17
Lower and d evermore They grew, Youth, lapsing i 25
Deep-hearted citizen, D-h, moderate, firm, They wrought, etc. 10
Deep-mouth'd mutter of d-m thunderings Far off in the dun 15
Deer d Bleat as with human voices in the park. What rustles 3
Delicious Which in one d nook, Not to Silence 30
Delight Nor proved I such d as he, That is his portrait 19
Dell Deep d's of snow sunk on each side Far off in the dun 97
Demure how d a smile, How full of wisest humour That is his portrait 6
Depth Through all that boundless d of fires Half after midnight! 13
Deserve Yet grief d's a nobler name: Young is the grief 5
Desire And lights at length on his d: They wrought, etc. 40
The sharp d of knowledge still with knowing! Why suffers 6
Despair To preach the freedom of d, He was too good 10
Despising Contends, d party-rage, They wrought, etc. 46
Despot The d's over yonder, let 'em do whate'er They say, etc. 16 Devil and we, Poor d's, babble 'we shall last.' Well, as to Fame 8 and the d——l take the parties! They say, etc. 10
Dew wind before it drives Thick wreaths of cloudy d. Far off in the dun 24
'I love the daisy weeping d, I keep no more 13
Die Of him who doomed the king to d, Because she bore 2
Speak to me, dearest, lest I d. Speak to me 4
When I d, the GHOULS! ! ! While I live 2
Died Bold Havelock d, Tender and great Bold Havelock 13
Difference The d of all things to the sense, And all the likeness in the d. Why suffers 10
Dignity It show'd the seeds of innate d Hear you the sound 52
Dim Wherefore should your eyes be d? Early-wise 5
D grief did wait upon her, The lamps were bright 33
Dimly sallow lights shone D and blurly Far off in the dun 100
Disappear I have seen the four great empires d! Here, I that stood 9
Disarrange hands that d The social engine! They wrought, etc. 21
Discourse owning more D, more widely wise.' From shape to shape 8
Dishonest There's a treaty, so they tell us, of some d fellows They say, etc. 3
Dismay Then a scream of wild d The lamps were bright 41
Disploding D globes of roaring fire. Deep glens I found 4
Dispread that large table of the breast d, That is his portrait 5
Dissipation Unto the d of this Earth. Half after midnight! 4
Dissolve D a world, condense a star, Are those the far-famed 14 Distant He sees his father in d lands, Bright is the moon 5 low sweet voices mourn'd In d fields, 'Come back, come back.' Youth, lapsing i 44
Distress I keep no more a lone d, I keep no more 1
Ditty moving To her Areyto's mellow d, A dark Indian maiden 50
Divine What aileth thee, O bird d, Full light aloft 5
Most eloquent, who spake of things d. Methought I saw 3
When from change to change, Led silently by power d, Thou may'st remember 9
Dizzy Yet am I d in the track, Youth, lapsing ii 43
Doctor Kitty Sandilands, The daughter of the d, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 2
Doleful He chanted some old d rhyme. Youth, lapsing i 36
Dome her keen eyes Pierced thro' the mystic d, Hither, when all 4
Done Ere the day be well-nigh d; Full light aloft 10
And there is something greatly d: Youth, lapsing ii 12
Doomed Of him who d the king to die, Because she bore 2
Door there stood a dark coach at an old Inn d Far off in the dun 35
There came a gaunt man from the dark Inn d, „ 73
Step thro' these d's, and I will show to you That is his portrait 44
Beside my d at morning stood The tearful spirit Youth, lapsing i 33
Doorway stood alone And still in the dark d: Far off in the dun 50
Double Beneath those d arches lie Fair with green fields the realms of Love. Youth, lapsing ii 35
Doubt I knew him in his hour Of darkest d, and in his power, To fling his d's into the street. He was too good 3
Unvext by d's I cannot solve, Youth, lapsing i 50
Doubtful Where the d shadows play, Not to Silence 31
Dragon on every side The d's curves melted, One was the Tishbite 15
Dragon-fly The d-f and scarlet crane, A dark Indian maiden 32
Drank and d The sweet sad tears of wisdom.' Methought I saw 5
Draw To d strange comfort from the earth, Far off in the dun 31
Drawn but ever d Under either grassy brink Not to Silence 24
Dreadnought A d coat had he: Far off in the dun 74
Dream (See also Half-dream) And kisses him there in a d, Bright is the moon 6
See, she dreameth happy d's, Not a whisper 13 sleep thro' one brief d upon the grass,— Townsmen, etc. 4
Dreameth See, she d happy dreams, Not a whisper 13
Dreaming In the d of past things: The lamps were bright 22
Dreamt And d not of the miller's daughter. I met in all 8
Drest We d her in the Proctor's bands, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 3
Drew sun D down the West his feeble lights; Deep glens I found 6
Thro' strange seas d me to your monster town. Here, I that stood 8
Drifted That mystic field of d light In mid Orion, Hither, when all 10
Drink Let us d to the health of thine and mine Frenchman, etc. 3
It is not good to d strong wine Full light aloft 9
Shall d the fulness of thy victory, O God, make this age 13 Dripping I grieved as woods in d rains Youth, lapsing i 31
Drive moaning wind before it d's Thick wreaths Far off in the dun 23
To d them where he will. „ 80
Drop And sometimes with a twinkling d, Yon huddled cloud 15

Drove And a bright archangel d. Far off in the dun 116
D into lines and studs of light The image Youth, lapsing i 6
Drown shriek and shout to d the thrilling noise. Half after midnight! 16
Drunk Is thy mad brain d with the merry, red wine, Full light aloft 7
But thou hast d of the merry, sweet wine, „ 11
Dry earth is d, tho' the pall of the sky Far off in the dun 21
Rang like a trumpet clear and d, Youth, lapsing i 19
Dulcimer With sackbut, and with d, Far off in the dun 111
Dull and d The sharp desire of knowledge still with knowing! Why suffers 5
And startle the d ears of human kind! O God, make this age 5
Dumb The thunder cannot make thee d; Youth, lapsing ii 26
Dun Far off in the d, dark occident, Far off in the dun 1 Dust threw up the d Of dead men's pulverised bones. „ 91 tho' the faults be thick as d In vacant chambers, The noblest men 10 Dwell To thee with whom my true affections d, To thee with whom 1 ever young the face that d's With reason Young is the grief 3 Dwelling near the d of some noble race; Hear you the sound 17
Dynasty A Caesar of a punier d Here, I that stood 5

E

Each There was not a tinge on e high cheek bone, Far off in the dun 51
They hear e household voice: „ 66
Deep dells of snow sunk on e side below The highway, „ 97
And God's best blessing on e dear head That rests by the Alma River. Frenchman, etc. 11 when e one leaves The middle road of sober thought! They wrought, etc. 27 and showing every bend Of e dark hill against the Heaven, Thy soul is like 6
Eager Tall, e, lean and strong, his cloak One was the Tishbite 5
Ear Piercing the wrung e's of the damn'd Half after midnight! 10 startle the dull e's of human kind! O God, make this age 5 what an arch the brain has built Above the e! That is his portrait 11 sound in her e's like the sound of the deep, That the voice 2
We faint unless the wanton e Be tickled They wrought, etc. 6
Earliest That watch't with love thine e infancy, To thee with whom 12
Early Are pleasant from the e Spring to when, Townsmen, etc. 7
It is the e morning, Hark! Youth, lapsing ii 6 and all comes back Which in that e voice was sweet, „ ii 42
Early-wise E-w, and pure, and true, Early-wise 1
Earth the e is dry, tho' the pall of the sky Far off in the dun 21
To draw strange comfort from the e, „ 31
They saw the green verge of the pleasant e, „ 63
Than our poor twilight dawn on e— Gone into darkness 5
Unto the dissipation of this E. Half after midnight! 4
But as E her orbit runs, Little Aubrey 3
If e be seen from your conjectured heaven, Old ghosts 2
And none can write it for him upon e. „ 14
Well, as to Fame, who strides, the e Well, as to Fame 1
Ease will not let an honest Briton sit at home at e: They say, etc. 9
East little Alfred in the E Little Aubrey 1
So pausing 'twixt the E and West, Youth, lapsing i 47
Eastern Remember you the clear moonlight That whiten'd all the e ridge, Remember you 2
Eaves dark vine leaves round the rustling e, Far off in the dun 71
Moan'd in her chimneys and her e; Youth, lapsing i 30
Eclipse Why suffers human life so soon e? Why suffers 1
Eddy Her silver eddies in their play Drove into lines Youth, lapsing i 5 Edged See Clear-edged
Either but ever drawn Under e grassy brink Not to Silence 25
Whate'er the crowd on e bank may say, Steersman 7
And floats in e golden Ind. The noblest men 8
Eloquent Become a tacit e reproach Unto the dissipation of this Earth. Half after midnight! 3
Most e, who spake of things divine. Methought I saw 3
Embraced When she and I are thus e, How glad am I 7
Empire I have seen the four great e's disappear! Here, I that stood 9
Emptiness the e And horrors of the formless dark. How strange it is 7
End I see At the e, as 'twere athwart a colour'd cloud, That is his portrait 35
He, seeing far an e sublime, They wrought, etc. 45
A labour working to an e. Youth, lapsing ii 4
End (continued) Parts in two channels, moving to one e— Steersman 3
Energy An e, an agony, Youth, lapsing ii 3
Engine hands that disarrange The social e! They wrought, etc. 22
England far off from E's shore, He comes no more. What rustles 9
Engrav'n I hold Mother's love e in gold. Helen's Tower 4
Entertain Young is the grief I e, Young is the grief 1
Enthusiastic but I glow With an e love of them. Hear you the sound 15
Envelope night's eternal wings E's the gloomy whole, Far off in the dun 14
Epigram Little poet, hear the little poet's e! Little Aubrey 7
Equal His fame is e to his years: That is his portrait 42
Espagnola happy as Anacaona, The beauty of E, (repeat) A dark Indian maiden 11, 23 happy was Anacaona, The beauty of E, „ 35 happy Anacaona, The beauty of E, (repeat) „ 47, 71 they smiled on Anacaona, The beauty of E, „ 59
Essence Evermore The simpler e lower lies, From shape to shape 6
Eternal When the shadow of night's e wings Envelopes Far off in the dun 13
Eternity act on E To keep thee here amongst us! That is his portrait 39
Eustace Long, E, long May my strong wish, „ 37
Eve blow Melodious thunders thro' your vacant courts At noon and e, Therefore your Halls 10
Even With the first twilight of the e, Thy soul is like 4
Ever-burning (an inner spirit fed Their e-b fires,) Far off in the dun 118
Every Faded e violet, all the roses; Faded ev'ry violet, 1
E mile a battle, E battle a victory. Bold Havelock 3
And e man in Britain Says 'I am of Havelock's blood!' „ 15 aerial melody May blow alarm loud to e wind, O God, make this age 4
'Methought I saw a face whose e line Methought I saw 1
E heart is lain to rest, Not a whisper 5 on e side The dragon's curves melted, One was the Tishbite 14
How e brake and flower spread and rose, That is his portrait 26
Your name is blown on e wind, The noblest men 5
Clear-edged, and showing e bend Of each dark hill against the Heaven, Thy soul is like 5
Thro' e change that made thee what thou art? To thee with whom 14
Evil Glancing off from all things e, Vicar of this 17
Wherever e customs thicken, Wherever evil 1
Example A pure e to the lands, They wrought, etc. 2
Expectant Am large in hope that these e eyes Shall drink O God, make this age 12
Eye All day long with laughing e's, A dark Indian maiden 17
With fair blue e's and winning sweet, Because she bore 6
Large as a human e the sun Drew down the West Deep glens I found 5
Wherefore should your e's be dim? Early-wise 5 things of past days with their horrible e's Far off in the dun 19 fiery e's glared fiercely thro' The windows „ 47
They lifted their e's to the dead, pale skies, „ 61
Before his e's so grim and calm „ 77
That so gaily meet their e's! „ 108 her keen e's Pierced thro' the mystic dome, Hither, when all 3 Light of the Light within mine e's, (repeat) Life of the Life 2, 8 large in hope that these expectant e's O God, make this age 12 light of hazel e's, Observing all things. That is his portrait 13 once he spake: 'I lift the e's of thought, „ 33
why her black e's burn With a light so wild The lamps were bright 15
With a laughing crazed e, „ 52
The green that fills the e— 'Tis not alone 4 his little e's Are swallow'd in his pamper'd cheeks. You huddled cloud 11 Considering what mine e's have seen, Young is the grief 9 Eyed See Crimson-eyed
Eyeless His sockets were e, but in them slept Far off in the dun 81

F

Face Loftily stepping with fair f's. A dark Indian maiden 64
A land of thin f's and shadowy forms, Far off in the dun 7
But his f was a yellow gray. „ 52
The miller with his mealy f, I met in all 3
Methought I saw a f whose every line Wore Methought I saw 1
The f of placid Death.' That is his portrait 37 ever young the f that dwells With reason cloister'd Young is the grief 3

Face (continued) When to this sound my f I turn'd, Youth, lapsing i 41 Faced See Fair-faced
Faction Wed to no f in the state, I, loving Freedom 3
Fade He cares, if ancient usage f, They wrought, etc. 33
Faded F ev'ry violet, all the roses; Faded ev'ry violet 1
Fail His limbs beneath him f; Far off in the dun 26
'Tis shame to f so far, and still My failing Young is the grief 7
Failing still My f shall be less my shame: „ 8
Faint (adj.) Now one f line of light doth glow, Youth, lapsing ii 9
F shouts are heard across the glen, „ ii 22
Faint (verb) We f unless the wanton ear Be tickled with the loud 'hear, hear,' They wrought, etc. 6
Fair Loftily stepping with f faces. A dark Indian maiden 64
With f blue eyes and winning sweet, Because she bore 6
And the forests, f and free. Far off in the dun 72
The whisper'd love of the f young wives; „ 67
And from the heart of all things f He was too good 11
And veils a breast more f to me Than aught of Anadyomené! Not to Silence 15
With seasonable changes f And innovation grade by grade: They wrought, etc. 35
The two f lilies growing at thy side Have slowly prosper'd Woman of noble 11
Youth, lapsing thro' f solitudes, Youth, lapsing i 1
F with green fields the realms of Love. „ ii 36
I took delight in this f strand and free. Here often when a child 2
Fair-faced For they were f-f and tall, They were more f-f and tall, A dark Indian maiden 55
Fairy Spurge with f crescent set, Spurge with fairy 1
Faith No, f, not I. Hear you the sound 2
Fall These whispers rise, and f away, 'Tis not alone 10
Fallen when the winds Are f or changed; Woman of noble 10
I grieved as woods in dripping rains Sigh over all their f leaves; Youth, lapsing i 32
Falling when nothing stirr'd To left or right but f floods. Remember you 16
False My hope is f, my terror's true! What rustles 12
Falsehood when Poesy shall bind F beneath O God, make this age 8
Fame Mix'd with the phantom of his coming f, That is his portrait 32
His f is equal to his years: „ 42
His name is pure, his f is free: They wrought, etc. 32
Well, as to F, who strides the earth Well, as to Fame 1 Famed See Far-famed
Fancy Or a f or a madness,— Immeasurable sadness! 7
My f was the more luxuriant, That is his portrait 16
Fann'd F this queen of the green wildwood, A dark Indian maiden 15
Far Variously from its f spring, Not to Silence 27
Fare Ill f's a people passion-wrought, They wrought, etc. 25
Far-famed Are those the f-f Victor Hours Are those the far-famed 1
Farthing As each put a f into his palm, Far off in the dun 79
Fast would have call'd you down to break your f, Hear you the sound 47
All the house is f in sleep, Not a whisper 6
Fat (adj.) Mine host is f, and gray, and wise, Yon huddled cloud 9
Fat (s) lights shone Dimly and blurly with simmering f. Far off in the dun 100
Fate A will concentric with all f, Young is the grief 15
Father He sees his f in distant lands, Bright is the moon 5
F is over the deep, F will come to thee soon, „ 8
F will come to his babe in the nest, „ 11
Prince, whose F lived in you, Early-wise 2 knit your baby brows Into your f's frown, Hear you the sound 49 Fault Seest thou my f's and wilt not speak? Speak to me 7 tho' the f's be thick as dust In vacant chambers, The noblest men 10
Faulty I give this t book to you, „ 9
Fear (s) Naked, without f, moving To her Areyto's A dark Indian maiden 49 f's that waste The strength of men, They wrought, etc. 22
Fear (verb) I f not; if I fear'd them, Are those the far-famed 3
These f not the mists of unwholesome damps Far off in the dun 113
Fear'd I fear not; if I f them, Are those the far-famed 3
Fed (an inner spirit f Their ever-burning fires,) Far off in the dun 117
One was the Tishbite whom the raven f, One was the Tishbite 1
Feeble the sun Drew down the West his f lights; Deep glens I found 6
Fell A momentary cloud upon me f: To thee with whom 6
Fellow a treaty, so they tell us, of some dishonest f's They say, etc. 3
Feud Parish f, or party strife, Vicar of this 8
Few Charged with his gallant f, Bold Havelock 6 Field That mystic f of drifted light In mid Orion, Hither, when all 10 would I build A temple in her naked f; Not to Silence 2
For Love flew over grove and f, The night, etc. 4
Full f's of barley shifting tearful lights Townsmen, etc. 8
In distant f's, 'Come back, come back.' Youth, lapsing i 44
And rushes o'er a boundless f. „ ii 32
Fair with green f's the realms of Love. „ 36
Fiery Strange f eyes glared fiercely thro' The windows of shaven bone. Far off in the dun 47
Before them flow'd a f stream; „ 127
Bathe with me in the f flood, Life of the Life 5
Fifty Flooded f leagues around, The child was sitting 5
Fight gird up thy loins for f, O God, make this age 10
Figure And there sit f's as of Gods Youth, lapsing ii 51
Fill The green that f's the eye— 'Tis not alone 4
Filthiest f of all paintings painted well Art for Art's sake! 3
Finer But to one of f sense, Not to Silence 5
Finger weave your waxen f's in these locks Hear you the sound 58
With twinkling f sweeps her yellow keys. Townsmen, etc. 10
Finger-lipt F-l, but with right hand Moving Not to Silence 10 Fire (s) Disploding globes of roaring f. Deep glens I found 4
(an inner spirit fed Their ever-burning f's,) Far off in the dun 118
They broke the ground with hoofs of f „ 128
Through all that boundless depth of f's is heard Half after midnight! 13
Brushes of f, hazy gleams, Hither, when all 6
Fire (verb) Should f the many wheels of change! They wrought, etc. 24
Fireside They see the light of their blest f's, Far off in the dun 65
Firm citizen, Deep-hearted, moderate, f, They wrought, etc. 10
First Into another shape, born of the f, That is his portrait 29
Most delicately overdrawn With the f twilight of the even, Thy soul is like 4
Sent thro' my blood a prophet voice Before the f white butterflies, Youth, lapsing i 11
Fishing While f in the milldam-water, I met in all 6
Fit by f's the lady ash With twinkling finger Townsmen, etc. 9
Flag Our f's have waved together! Frenchman, etc. 2
Our f's together furl'd, „ 5
Your t thro' Austral ice is borne, The noblest men 6 Flame The wheels of burning f; Far off in the dun 122 damn'd that writhe Upon their beds of f, Half after midnight! 11
Flash Fast by me f the cloudy streaks, Youth, lapsing ii 46
Flat below The highway, broad and f, Far off in the dun 98
Fleshless The chattering of the f jaws, „ 95
Flew For love f over grove and field, The night, etc. 4
Flight Is this blind f the winged Powers. Are those the far-famed 4
Were idler than a f of rooks. „ 12
Fling To f his doubts into the street. He was too good 4 Float And f's in either golden Ind. The noblest men 8 there f's upward from the gulf A murmur Youth, lapsing ii 18
Floated F in the silent summer: A dark Indian maiden 40
Floating and threw back Your f hair. Hear you the sound 43 the f snake Roll'd round her ankles, One was the Tishbite 9
Flock With the f of the thunder-stricken. Wherever evil 5
Flood Bathe with me in the fiery f, Life of the Life 5
To left or right but falling f's. Remember you 16
The silent hills, the stormy f's, 'Tis not alone 3
Crown'd with soft shade her deepening f's Youth, lapsing i 3
Flooded F fifty leagues around, The child was sitting 5
Flourish ye still shall f In your high pomp of shade, Hear you the sound 28
Flow (s) beside the f Of sacred Nile, Here, I that stood 1
Flow (verb) slime Which from Asphaltus f's. Far off in the dun 40
Sweetly, smoothly f your life. Vicar of this 6
Sweetly f your life with Kate's, „ 16
Flow'd Before them f a fiery stream; Far off in the dun 127
Flower Espagnola, The golden f of Hayti? (repeat) A dark Indian maiden 12, 24, 36, 48, 60, 72
Like the f of Mahomet. Spurge with fairy 2
How every brake and f spread and rose, That is his portrait 26
Have slowly prosper'd into stately f's. Woman of noble 12
I sit among the scentless f's Youth, lapsing i 51
Flower'd See Freshly-flower'd
Flower-laden Stepping lightly f-l, A dark Indian maiden 3
Flush never overflows With f of rain, Not to Silence 20

Fly white f leapt About his hairless brow. Far off in the dun 83
Foe Becoming bands of armed f's! They wrought, etc. 20
Fold left hand holds Her up-gather'd garment f's, Not to Silence 14 Folded Her hands are f quietly, Not a whisper 14 round her waist Knotted, and f once about her neck, One was the Tishbite 11
Follow Intent to f on the track, Youth, lapsing i 42
I f to the morning sun, " ii 10
Following F her wild carol She led them A dark Indian maiden 61
Fond We kiss, we are so f, How glad am I 6
Foot and lie A thousand summers at her f. Because she bore 8
A light wind wafts me from my feet. Youth, lapsing ii 44
Footfall A step? a f? What is that I hear? What rustles 2
Force Ev'n then the f of nature and high birth Hear you the sound 63
Forced Thro' the deep hall f its way, The lamps were bright 42 Forehead On her f undefiled I will print Not a whisper 11 his f heavenly bright From the clear marble One was the Tishbite 6
Foreign They say some f powers have laid They say, etc. 1
Forest (adj.) Steeple, and stream, and f lawn, Thy soul is like 2
Forest (s) And the f's, fair and free. Far off in the dun 72
Forethinking F its twinfold necessity, That is his portrait 49
Forlorn O leave not thou thy son f; O leave not thou 1
Form A land of thin faces and shadowy f's, Far off in the dun 7
As the shrivell'd f's of the shadowy grooms " 59 monuments, with f's Of the unfading marble Hear you the sound 25 Regions of lucid matter taking f's, Hither, when all 5
And much of that which is her f, I, loving Freedom 2
A dark f glances quick Thro' her worn brain, The lamps were bright 27
Millions of f's, and hues, and shades, Why suffers 9
Woman of noble f and noble mind! Woman of noble 1
Formless The life that haunts the emptiness And horrors of the f dark. How strange it is 8
Fortress Upon the brink A solitary f burns, Youth, lapsing ii 14
Forward This goes straight f to the cataract: Steersman 4
Go f! crumble down a throne, Are those the far-famed 13
Fought Ten men f a thousand, Slew them and overthrew. Bold Havelock 7
March'd and thought and f, March'd and f himself dead. " 11
Found till the very wrong itself Had f him out. A surface man 8
But f a maiden tender, shy, Because she bore 5
Deep glens I f, and sunless gulfs, Deep glens I found 1
When a great man's f to be bad and base, How is it that men 2
Her thoughts have f their wings The lamps were bright 21
Then they f him where he lay " 47
We f you, and you gleam reset In Britain's We lost you 3
And think a cunning hand has f the clue— What rustles 14
I f the Present where I stay: Youth, lapsing i 48
Up hither have I f my way, " ii 29
Four I have seen the f great empires disappear! Here, I that stood 9
Four-square A life f-s to all the winds. Young is the grief 16
Fragrant Said, 'Open, Rosebud, open, yield Thy f soul.' The night, etc. 6
Frail Alas, my life is f and weak: Speak to me 6
Frame I deemed her one of stately f Because she bore 3
Of beryl, and of amethyst Was the spiritual f. Far off in the dun 124
The f, the mind, the soul of man, They wrought, etc. 43
Framer but rather bless The All-perfect F, That is his portrait 48
Free And the forests, fair and f. Far off in the dun 72
And f from taint of sin. " 132
The happy maiden's tears are f I keep no more 5
His name is pure, his fame is f: They wrought, etc. 32
I took delight in this fair strand and f; Here often when a child 2
Freedom To preach the f of despair, He was too good 10
I, loving F for herself, I, loving Freedom 1 those whom F claims As patriot-martyrs Not such were those 1
They worshipt F for her sake; They wrought, etc. 5 great cause of F round and round. First drink a health 60
All f vanish'd— Rise, Britons, rise 3
Frenchman F, a hand in thine! Frenchman, etc. 1
Fresh Would I could pile f life on life, Why suffers 5
Freshly-flower'd Call to the f-f hill. Remember you 12
Friend Hold thou, my f, no lesser life in scorn, Hold thou my friend 1
My f, thou speakest from the heart, I keep no more 15 the river here, my f, Parts in two channels, Steersman 2 Thy soul is like a landskip, f, Thy soul is like 1 bearest from the threshold of thy f's Woman of noble 3
Friendship Gone into darkness, that full light Of f! Gone into darkness 2
Friendship (continued) His and my f have not suffer'd loss, That is his portrait 41
Capacious both of F and of Love. " 51
Frosty And shook the f winter stars. Youth, lapsing i 20
Frown (s) knit your baby brows Into your father's f, Hear you the sound 49
Frown (verb) And on me F not, old ghosts, Old ghosts 9
Fruit Then she brought the guava f, A dark Indian Maiden 41
Full F light aloft doth the laverock spring Full light aloft 1
Gone into darkness, that f light Of friendship! Gone into darkness 1
Their f God-bless-you with this book of song, Take, Lady 2 and all between Valleys f of solemn sound, Thy soul is like 9
F fields of barley shifting tearful lights On growing spears, Townsmen, etc. 8
Art, Science, Nature, everything is f, As my own soul is f, to overflowing— Whey suffers 7
Fulness Shall drink the f of thy victory, O God, make this age 13
Furl'd Our flags together f, Frenchman, etc. 5
Furrow Those thoughtful f's in the swarthy cheek; That is his portrait 3
Fuse And f the peoples into one. Are those the far-famed 16
Future voice Cried in the f 'Come along.' Youth, lapsing i 40

G

Gale The night g in those trees. Hear you the sound 8
Gallant Bold Havelock march'd, Charged with his g few, Bold Havelock 6
Gallery Along this glimmering G A child Along this glimmering 1
Garden That little g was her pride, " 5
Your g's, myriad-volumed libraries, Therefore your Halls 3
Garland Crown'd with g's of cinchona, A dark Indian maiden 26
Garment Her g slips, the left hand holds Her up-gather'd g folds, Not to Silence 13
Gasp'd the guard g out 'All's right.' Far off in the dun 88
Gate Smooth as Thames below your g's, Vicar of this 18
Gather'd (See also Up-gather'd) Around him youths were g, Methought I saw 4
Gaunt There came a g man from the dark Inn door, Far off in the dun 73
Gave She g them the yuccaroot, A dark Indian maiden 43
She g the white men welcome all, " 53
Accepts the songs you g, and he sends Little Aubrey 2
Gay orange groves Naked, and dark-limb'd, and g, A dark Indian maiden 6 lamps were bright and g On the merry bridal-day, The lamps were bright 1
Gaze Worn and wan was their g, I trow, Far off in the dun 58
Genius Hail G, Master of the Moral Will! Art for Art's sake! 2
Get And g thee forth to conquer. O God, make this age 11
Ghost Old g's whose day was done ere mine began, Old ghosts 1
And on me Frown not, old g's, " 9
Ghostly common objects that would keep Our awful inner g sense Unroused, How strange it is 5
Ghoul When I die, the G'S!!! While I live 2
Giant that we may be As g's in Thy praise! O God, make this age 2
Gilding Where his g ray is never sent, Far off in the dun 3
Gird g up thy loins for fight, And get thee forth O God, make this age 10
Girdle Richly and darkly g these gray walls,— Hear you the sound 23
Girt And though g in glad array, The lamps were bright 23
Give And she will weep and g them way; I keep no more 6
Take, Lady, what your loyal nurses g, Take, Lady 1
I g this faulty book to you, The noblest men 9
Like some wise artist, Nature g's, 'Tis not alone 6
G's stouter ale and riper port Yon huddled cloud 7
g The difference of all things to the sense, Why suffers 9
Given You have g me such a wife! Vicar of this 10
Glad How g am I to walk With Susan on the shore! How glad am I 1
How g am I to talk! I kiss her o'er and o'er.
The low voice of the g New Year Call to the freshly-flower'd hill. Remember you 11
And though girt in g array, The lamps were bright 23
Glade Pour'd by long g's and meadowy mounds, Youth, lapsing i 2
Glance form g's quick Thro' her worn brain, The lamps were bright 27
Glancing G off from all things evil, Vicar of this 17
Glared eyes g fiercely thro' The windows Far off in the dun 47

Glasses as with optic g her keen eyes Hither, when all 3
Gleam (s) Brushes of fire, hazy g's, „ 6
Gleam (verb) and you g reset In Britain's lyric coronet. We lost you 3
The towers g among the vines ; Youth, lapsing ii 40
Glen Deep g's I found, and sunless gulfs, Deep glens I found 1
Faint shouts are heard across the g, Youth, lapsing ii 22
Glide We may g from room to room, Not a whisper 3
Glimmer (s) In the g of the moon : „ 4
Glimmer (verb) And g's to the northern morn, . The noblest men 7
Glimmering Along this g gallery Along this glimmering 1
'I lift the eyes of thought, I look thro' all my g life, That is his portrait 34
Glitter The whole land g's after rain, Youth, lapsing ii 37
Glitter'd They g with a stedfast light, Far off in the dun 129
Globe Disploding g's of roaring fire. Deep glens I found 4
Gloom Dimly the travellers look'd thro' the g's, Far off in the dun 57
Vast wastes of starless g's were spread „ 101 and make beneath Ambrosial g. Hear you the sound 30
Not a whisper stirs the g, Not a whisper 1 chapel's vaulted g Was misted with perfume. The lamps were bright 7
Gloomy When the shadow of night's eternal wings Envelopes the g whole, Far off in the dun 14
Glorious Gone the g promise ; and the victim, Faded ev'ry violet 2
Then pledge we our g dead, Frenchman, etc. 9
From the clear marble pouring g scorn, One was the Tishbite 7
Glory In g and in honour. The lamps were bright 34
Glossy Look on those manly curls so g dark, That is his portrait 2
Glow (s) in them slept A red infernal g ; Far off in the dun 82
Glow (verb) I g With an enthusiastic love of them. Hear you the sound 14
Now one faint line of light doth g, Youth, lapsing ii 9
Go G forward ! crumble down a throne, Are those the far-famed 13
Sender and sent-to g to make up this, Old ghosts 7
This goes straight forward to the cataract : Steersman 4
But the revel still goes on. The lamps were bright 40 and let them g in hope, Like birds of passage, Woman of noble 7
God G's best blessing on each dear head Frenchman, etc. 11
To pluck the sanction of a G. He was too good 12
How strange it is, O G, to wake, How strange it is 1
O G, make this age great that we may O God, make this age 1
G bless the little isle where a man may still be true !
G bless the noble isle that is Mistress of the Seas ! They say, etc. 17
G walk'd the waters of thy soul, Thou may'st remember 7
G be gracious to my soul ! What rustles 15
I thank thee, G, that thou hast made me live : Why suffers 12
And there sit figures as of G's Youth, lapsing ii 51
God-bless-you full G-b-y with this book of song, Take, Lady 2
Goddess She no g is of mine ; Not to Silence 4
Golden The beauty of Espagnola, The g flower of Hayti ? A dark Indian maiden 12, 24, 36, 48, 60, 72
And chants in the g wakening Athwart the bloomy morn. Full light aloft 3
Remembering all the g hours Now silent, Gone into darkness 9
Accept on this your g bridal day The Book of Prayer. Remembering him 3
And floats in either g Ind. The noblest men 8
And from the g vapours bursts A mountain bright with triple peaks : Youth, lapsing ii 47
Gone G the glorious promise ; Faded ev'ry violet 2
G into darkness, that full light Of friendship ! Gone into darkness 1
He from the dance hath g The lamps were bright 39
To speak of what had g before, Youth, lapsing i 27
Good Behold, ye cannot bring but g, Are those the far-famed 5
Beauty, G and Knowledge are three sisters . . . Beauty, Good, etc. 1
Havelock died, Tender and great and g, Bold Havelock 14
It is not g to drink strong wine Full light aloft 9
He was too g and kind and sweet, He was too good 1
That were within me ; did it not, g Michael ? Hear you the sound 53
He look'd so jolly and so g— I met in all 5
Wore the pale cast of thought, a g old man, Methought I saw 2
He moan'd, 'I wander from my g !' Youth, lapsing i 35
Gorgeous For all wreath'd with green bays were the g lamps, Far off in the dun 115
Grace How is it that men have so little g, How is it that men 1
Slow-ripening to the g of womanhood, To thee with whom 13
Gracious God be g to my soul ! What rustles 15
Grade And innovation g by g : They wrought, etc. 36
Grand did scan His countenance so g and mild, Methought I saw 5
Grandsire Hard by the burning throne of my great g, Half after midnight ! 6
Grass sleep thro' one brief dream upon the g,— Townsmen, etc. 4
Grassy but ever drawn Under either g brink Not to Silence 25
Grave Those holly-thickets only hide Her g— Along this glimmering 8
The crowd have come to see thy g, I keep no more 2
Gray (adj.) Richly and darkly girdle these g walls,— Hear you the sound 23
You'd weave your waxen fingers in these locks (They are g now) „ 59
Mine host is fat, and g, and wise, Yon huddled cloud 9
Gray (s) But his face was a yellow g. Far off in the dun 52
Great Bold Havelock died, Tender and g and good, Bold Havelock 14 Hard by the burning throne of my g grandsire, Half after midnight ! 6 and ask you whether you would be A g man in your time, Hear you the sound 57 and tell me you were g Already in your birth. „ 59
I have seen the four g empires disappear ! Here I that stood 9
When a g man's found to be bad and base, How is it that men 2
O God, make this age g that we may be O God, make this age 1
Falsehood beneath the altar of g Truth : „ 8
Teach me, g Nature : make me live. O leave not thou 2
And in the hurry and the noise G spirits grow akin to base. They wrought, etc. 16
A land of many days that cleaves In two g halves, „ 27 but he That thro' the channels of the state Convoys the people's wish, is g : „ 31
g cause of Freedom round and round, First drink a health 60
Green (adj.) Fann'd this queen of the g wildwood, Lady of the g Savannah : A dark Indian maiden 15
There never g thing will gaily spring Far off in the dun 9
They saw the g verge of the pleasant earth, „ 63
For all wreath'd with g bays were the gorgeous lamps, „ 115
I met in all the close g ways, I met in all 1
And hoary holts on uplands g, Thy soul is like 10
And your triple terrace growing G and greener every May ! Vicar of this 15
Fair with g fields the realms of Love. Youth, lapsing ii 36
Green (s) The g that fills the eye— 'Tis not alone 4
Greener terrace growing Green and g every May ! Vicar of this 15
Greet And I g it, and I meet it, Immeasurable sadness ! 3
And I meet it, and I g it, „ 9
Grew The tingling blood g chill, Far off in the dun 78
Lower and deeper evermore They g, Youth, lapsing i 26
Grief That ride to death the g's of men ? Are those the far-famed 2
Dim g did wait upon her, The lamps were bright 33
Young is the g I entertain, Young is the grief 1
Yet g deserves a nobler name : „ 5
Grieved I g as woods in dripping rains Youth, lapsing i 31
Grim Before his eyes so g and calm Far off in the dun 77
The g old coachee strode to the box, „ 87
Groan And in the pauses g's of men. Youth, lapsing ii 24
Groom forms of the shadowy g's Yoked Far off in the dun 59
Ground Whoever walks that bitter g „ 25
They broke the g with hoofs of fire „ 128
Took the child from off the g, The child was sitting 6
Groundsel With yellow g grown ! Along this glimmering 6
Grove Wantoning in orange g's Naked, A dark Indian maiden 5
For Love flew over g and field, The night, etc. 4
With all his g's he bows, he nods, Youth, lapsing ii 49
Grow Great spirits g akin to base. They wrought, etc. 16
Growing your triple terrace g Green and greener Vicar of this 14
The two fair lilies g at thy side Woman of noble 11
Full fields of barley shifting tearful lights On g spears, Townsmen, etc. 9
Grown (See also Moss-grown) With yellow groundsel g ! Along this glimmering 6
And when your age had somewhat riper g, Hear you the sound 54
When I was somewhat older g These voices Youth, lapsing i 21 Guard the g gasp'd out 'All's right.' Far off in the dun 88 leaders bounded, the g's horn sounded : „ 89
Guardian (adj.) Thy child will bless thee, g mother mild, Long as the heart 2
Guardian (s) silent G's But true till Death ; Woman of noble 6
Guava Then she brought the g fruit, A dark Indian maiden 41
Gulf Deep glens I found, and sunless g's, Deep glens I found 1 floats upward from the g A murmur of heroic song, Youth, lapsing ii 18 Gun See Pop-gun

H

Hail H, truest Lord of Hell! H Genius, Master of the Moral Will! Art for Art's sake! 1
Hair and threw back Your floating h. Hear you the sound 43
Hairless and the white fly leapt About his h brow. Far off in the dun 84
Haled h me toward the Mediterranean sea, Here, I that stood 6
Half (adj.) What's the clock? Mich. H way toward midnight. Hear you the sound 4
But to one of finer sense, Her h sister, Reticence. Not to Silence 6
Half (s) that cleaves In two great halves, They wrought, etc. 27
Half-consciousness With some h-c of inward power, That is his portrait 8
Half-dream Ye know that History is h-d— Old ghosts 3
Hall In the h, at close of day, The lamps were bright 35
Thro' the deep h forced its way, " 42
Hamlet Townsmen, or of the h, young or old, Townsmen, etc. 1
Hammer (See also Rhyme-hammer) Break thro' with the h of iron rhyme, Wherever evil 2
Hand (See also Left) And longed to kiss her h and lie Because she bore 7 Wrought with his h and his head, Bold Havelock 10
Look he smiles, and opens his h's, Bright is the moon 4
The skin hung lax on his long thin h's; Far off in the dun 53
Frenchman, a h in thine! Frenchman, etc. 1
And long'd to take his h in mine. I met in all 4
Her h's are folded quietly, Not a whisper 14 but with right h Moving toward her lip, Not to Silence 10 left h holds Her up-gather'd garment folds, " 13
Further and further reaching h's They wrought, etc. 3 Uncertain of ourselves we chase The clap of h's; " 14 h's that disarrange The social engine! " 21
And think a cunning h has found the clue— What rustles 14
Hang mockery to h it O'er the thatch'd cottage, Hear you the sound 18
Happy Who was so h as Anacaona, A dark Indian maiden 10
None were so h as Anacaona, " 22
H, h was Anacaona, The beauty of Espagnola, " 34 bringing To h Hayti the new-comer, " 38
H, h Anacaona, The beauty of Espagnola, " 46
Carolling 'H, h Hayti!' " 52
No more in Xaraguay Wander'd h Anacaona, " 70
H, h be your lot In the Vicarage Vicar of this 3
They glitter'd with a stedfast light, The h spirits within; Far off in the dun 130
The h maiden's tears are free I keep no more 5
See, she dreameth h dreams, Not a whisper 13
Like birds of passage, to return with thee Some h Summer morning, Woman of noble 9
Harbour'd Mature, h from change, contemplative, That is his portrait 12
Hard that heart of his H, and the slave of vice; A surface man 4
H by the burning throne of my great grandsire, Half after midnight! 6
But what, were h to say. 'Tis not alone 12
Hark H! they are coming. Hear you the sound 65
It is the early morning, H! Youth, lapsing ii 6
Harsh That I was h to thee, let no one know; To thee with whom 2
Tho' I was h, my nature is not so: " 5
Was I so h? Ah dear, it could not be. " 9
Hasten'd That would have h to her, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 6
Hate (s) An orb repulsive of all h, Young is the grief 14
Hate (verb) I h the trim-set plots of art!' I keep no more 14
Haunt life that h's the emptiness And horrors How strange it is 7
Havelock (General Sir Henry) Bold H march'd, (repeat) Bold Havelock 1, 5, 9
Bold H died, Tender and great and good, " 13
'I am of H's blood!' " 16
Hayti Espagnola, The golden flower of H? (repeat) A dark Indian maiden 12, 24, 36, 48, 60, 72 bringing To happy H the new-comer, A dark Indian maiden 38
Carolling 'Happy, happy H!' " 52
Hazel Tempers the peaceful light of h eyes, That is his portait 13
Hazy Brushes of fire, h gleams, Hither, when all 6
Head Else this wild whisper round my h Are those the far-famed 11
Wrought with his hand and his h, Bold Havelock 10
Head (continued) h's without bodies and shapes without h's Far off in the dun 103
God's best blessing on each dear h Frenchman, etc. 11 she seeming blithe Declined her h: One was the Tishbite 14 noblest place, Madam, is yours, our Queen and H. The noblest men 4 some foreign powers have laid their h's together They say, etc. 1
Health Let us drink to the h of thine and mine Frenchman, etc. 3
Here's a h to the Queen of the Isles. That the voice 4
Hear They h each household voice: Far off in the dun 66
H you the sound of wheels? Hear you the sound 1
Little poet, h the little poet's epigram! Little Aubrey 7
The stream is loud: I cannot h!' Remember you 8
I heard, as I have seem'd to h, " 9
Speak to me, let me h or see! Speak to me 5
A step? a footfall? What is that I h? What rustles 2
And see and h the world revolve: Youth, lapsing i 52 ear Be tickled with the loud 'h, h,' They wrought, etc. 7
Heard no revelling tones Of carouse were h within: Far off in the dun 42
And h the roar of her seas. " 64 is h The shrill and solemn warning 'Ever, Never': Half after midnight! 13
I h you whisper from above, Remember you 5
I h, as I have seem'd to hear, " 9
I h, as I have often h, " 13
This is the man of whom you h me speak. That is his portrait 15
With jokes you never h before, Yon huddled cloud 14
I h Spring laugh in hidden rills, Youth, lapsing i 13
Faint shouts are h across the glen, " ii 22
Hearing Till heart and sight and h ache How strange it is 3
Heart that h of his Hard, and the slave of vice; A surface man 3
His h throbs thick, his brain reels sick: Far off in the dun 27 some have h's that in them burn With power " 29
And from the h of all things fair To pluck He was too good 11
Till h and sight and hearing ache How strange it is 3
My friend, thou speakest from the h, I keep no more 15
Long as the h beats life within her breast, Long as the heart 1
Every h is lain to rest, Not a whisper 5 may the life, which, h in h, you live Take, Lady 3
All-perfect Framer, Him, who made the h, That is his portrait 48
And teach us nothing, feeding not the h. Therefore your Halls 14
To make me thus belie my constant h To thee with whom 11
Seeing the h so wondrous in her ways, Why suffers 3 as pure a h As e'er beat time to Nature, Woman of noble 4
My h is dark, but yet I come. Youth, lapsing ii 28
Hearted See Deep-hearted
Hearties Up, Jack Tars, my h! They say, etc. 10
Heaven If earth be seen from your conjectured h, Old ghosts 2
It were, O H, a stranger tale to tell To thee with whom 3
Of each dark hill against the H, Thy soul is like 6
Touch'd with H's latest lights. " 12
And H is dark and bright by turns. Youth, lapsing ii 16
Heavenly O Coachee, Coachee, what lights approach With h melodies? Far off in the dun 106 his forehead h bright From the clear marble One was the Tishbite 6 Heel And the beat of the horny h's? Far off in the dun 96
Height confused The shadows from the icy h's. Deep glens I found 8
And somewhat loftier antient h's Thy soul is like 11
The clouds unswathe them from the h, Youth, lapsing ii 50
Hell Hail, truest Lord of H! Art for Art's sake! 1
So prone are we toward the broad way to H. " 6
Sound 'Ever, Never' thro' the courts of H, Half after midnight! 9
Help Than which of us most shall h the world, Frenchman, etc. 7
We h the blatant voice abroad To preach He was too good 9
Here I am h again with him. Early-wise 6
H, I that stood in On beside the flow Here, I that stood 1
I was when London was not! I am h! " 10
Why, they should be h. Mich. 'Tis a clear night, Hear you the sound 5
A lute-toned whisper, 'I am h!' Remember you 6
Heroic Hush! there floats upward from the gulf A murmur of h song, Youth, lapsing ii 19
Hidden I heard Spring laugh in h rills, " i 13
Hide Those holly-thickets only h Her grave— Along this glimmering 7
High But some have hearts that in them burn With power and promise h, Far off in the dun 30
There was not a tinge on each h cheek bone, " 51

High (continued) but ye still shall flourish In your h pomp of shade, Hear you the sound 29
Ev'n then the force of nature and h birth Had writ nobility upon my brow. „ 63
A voice, when night had crept on h, Youth, lapsing i 17
Highland Lady over wood and h, A dark Indian Maiden 27
Highway sunk on each side below The h, Far off in the dun 98
Hill The summer h's they see; „ 70
Call to the freshly-flower'd h. Remember you 12
The wind is loud in holt and h, Speak to me 2
Of each dark h against the Heaven, Thy soul is like 6
The silent h's, the stormy floods, 'Tis not alone 3
These h's were plains within the past, Well, as to Fame 6 a voice ran round the h's When corny Lammas Youth, lapsing i 15
Behind yon h the trumpets blow, „ ii 11
Hist H! what was that! Mich. The night gale Hear you the sound 7
History Ye know that H is half-dream— Old ghosts 3
Hoary And h holts on uplands green, Thy soul is like 10
Hold Nor Love that h's a constant mood. Are those the far-famed 8
H thou, my friend, no lesser life in scorn, Hold thou, my friend 1 left hand h's Her up-gather'd garment folds, Not to Silence 13
To h the Spirit of the Age Against the Spirit They wrought, etc. 47
Hollow-stemm'd h-s and well-nigh leafless oak Hear you the sound 32
Holly-thickets Those h-t only hide Her grave— Along this glimmering 7
Holt The wind is loud in h and hill, Speak to me 2
And hoary h's on uplands green, Thy soul is like 10 Home We quarrel here at h, They say, etc. 8 will not let an honest Briton sit at h at ease: „ 9
Homer Little H, little Dante, little Shakespeare, Little Aubrey 4
Honest They will not let an h Briton sit at home at ease: They say, etc. 9
Honour In glory and in h. The lamps were bright 34
Thy rhyme-hammer shall have h. Wherever evil 9
Hoof They broke the ground with h's of fire Far off in the dun 128
Hope Am large in h that these expectant eyes O God, make this age 12 transgressing the low bound Of mortal h, That is his portrait 39
Not deals in threats, but works with h, They wrought, etc. 39
An idle h was in my breast, My h is false, my terror's true! What rustles 11 but let them go in h, Like birds of passage, Woman of noble 7
Horn leaders bounded, the guard's h sounded: Far off in the dun 89
With that long h she loves to blow, Well, as to Fame 2 lifts The creaming h of corny ale! Yon huddled cloud 4
Horny And the beat of the h heels? Far off in the dun 96
Horrible And the things of past days with their h eyes „ 19
Horror emptiness And h's of the formless dark. How strange it is 8
Horse Yoked the skeleton h's to. Far off in the dun 60
Horseman The thirsty h, nodding, lifts Yon huddled cloud 3
Host the h came forth, and stood alone Far off in the dun 49
No jolly h was he; „ 54
Mine h is fat, and gray, and wise, Yon huddled cloud 9
Hot Thro' her worn brain, h and sick.' The lamps were bright 28
And his h steeds never run: Far off in the dun 4
Hour Are those the far-famed Victor H's Are those the far-famed 1
At the solemn midnight h. Far off in the dun 36
Remembering all the golden h's Now silent, Gone into darkness 9
Pointing to the unheeded lapse of h's, Half after midnight! 2
Methinks my tongue runs twenty knots an h: „ 19
I knew him in his h Of darkest doubt, He was too good 2
All this so stirr'd him in his h of joy, That is his portrait 31 would you waste an h, Townsmen, etc. 3
House All the h is fast in sleep, Not a whisper 6
Household They hear each h voice: Far off in the dun 66
Hovering there H, thoughtful, poised in air. Not to Silence 12
Howling H in outer darkness.' Beauty, Good, etc. 5
A h of the mountain wolf; Youth, lapsing ii 20
Hubbub The h of the market and the booths: That is his portrait 21
Huddled Yon h cloud his motion shifts, Yon huddled cloud 1
Hue Thro' his own nature, well mingled h's, That is his portrait 28
Millions of forms, and h's, and shades, Why suffers 9 Human Large as a h eye the sun Drew down the West his feeble lights; Deep glens I found 5
And startle the dull ears of h kind! O God, make this age 5 the deer Bleat as with h voices in the park. What rustles 4
Why suffers h life so soon eclipse? Why suffers 1
E'en scorn looks beautiful on h lips! „ 4
Humming Still h snatches of old song, Youth, lapsing i 38
Humour How full of wisest h and of love, That is his portrait 7
The h's of the polling and the wake, „ 20
Hung skin h lax on his long thin hands; Far off in the dun 53
And from it h the tassel. Sweet Kitty Sandilands 12
Hurl'd Thence, across the summit h, Not to Silence 33
Hurry in the h and the noise Great spirits They wrought, etc. 15
Hush H! there floats upward from the gulf Youth, lapsing ii 18
Hustings To which the slight-built h shake; They wrought, etc. 8
Hymn With pleasant h's they soothe the air Far off in the dun 109

I

Ice Your flag thro' Austral i is borne, The noblest men 6 Icy night, all moons, confused The shadows from the i heights. Deep glens I found 8
Idler An i hope was in my breast, What rustles 11
Were i than a flight of rooks. Are those the far-famed 12
Idly Now i in my natal bowers, Youth, lapsing ii 49
Ill (adv.) 'The filthiest of all paintings painted well
Is mightier than the purest painted i!' Art for Art's sake! 4
Ill (s) he would weep For i's himself had practised A surface man 5 Image The i of the sun by day, The i of the moon by night Youth, lapsing i 7
Imitative She spurs an i will; Young is the grief 6
Immeasurable I sadness! (repeat) Immeasurable sadness! 1, 4, 11
Inch pall of the sky Leave never an i of blue; Far off in the dun 22
Ind And floats in either golden I. The noblest men 8
Indian A dark I maiden, Warbling in the bloom'd liana, A dark Indian maiden 1
I queen, Anacaona, Dancing on the blossomy plain „ 28 Individual And i interests Becoming bands of armed foes! They wrought, etc. 19
Inextricable The man that round me wove I brickwork maze in maze? Why rustles, etc. 8
Infancy Mine was no vulgar mind in i, Hear you the sound 62 heart That watch't with love thine earliest i, To thee with whom 12
Infernal but in them slept A red i glow; Far off in the dun 82
Inn (adj.) there stood a dark coach at an old I door „ 35
There came a gaunt man from the dark I door, „ 73
Inn (s) That I was built at the birth of Time: „ 37
Swung creaking before the I. „ 44 Innate It show'd the seeds of i dignity That were within me; Hear you the sound 52 Inner They pass'd (an i spirit fed Their ever-burning fires,) Far off in the dun 117 common objects that moved keep Our awful i ghostly sense Unroused, How strange it is 5
Lit as with i light. One was the Tishbite 8
Innovation And i grade by grade: They wrought, etc. 36
Intent I to follow on the track, Youth, lapsing i 42
Interest individual i's Becoming bands of armed foes! They wrought, etc. 19
Inward With some half-consciousness of i power, That is his portrait 8
Iron Because she bore the i name Because she bore 1
Break thro' with the hammer of i rhyme, Wherever evil 2
Iron'd From i limbs and tortured nails! First drink a health 16
Island In the purple i, Crown'd with garlands A dark Indian maiden 25
Isle God bless the little i where a man may still be true! They say, etc. 17
God bless the noble i that is Mistress of the Seas! „ 18 rivulet, Rippling by cressy i's or bars of sand, Townsmen, etc. 6
Thro' wooded i's the river shines, Youth, lapsing ii 38
Here's a health to the Queen of the I's. That the voice 4

J

Jack Up, J Tars, and save us! (repeat) They say, etc. 5, 12, 19
Up, J Tars, my hearties! „ 10
The lasses and the little ones, J Tars, they look to you! „ 15
James See St. James

Jar we j like boys: And in the hurry and the noise They wrought, etc. 14
Jaw The chattering of the fleshless j's, Far off in the dun 95
Jesu The 'Mercy J' in the rain! I keep no more 11
Joint Unsocket all the j's of war, Are those the far-famed 15
Joke With j's you never heard before, Yon huddled cloud 14
Jolly He look'd so j and so good— I met in all 5
No j host was he; Far off in the dun 54
Joy No sound of j, no revelling tones " 41
There's not a j beyond. How glad am I 8
All this so stirr'd him in his hour of j, That is his portrait 31
My j was only less than thine. Thou may'st remember 12
One only j I know, the j of life. Why suffers 14
Joy'd I j to place me on The hollow-stemm'd Hear you the sound 31
Joyful j when The wanton wind came singing " 40
Joyfully But did not sound so j: Youth, lapsing i 24
Just Knowing those laws are j alone That contemplate a mighty plan, They wrought, etc. 41

K

Kate Sweetly flow your life with K's, Vicar of this 16
Keen And as with optic glasses her k eyes Pierced thro' the mystic dome, Hither when all 3
Keep objects that would k Our awful inner How strange it is 4
I k no more a lone distress, I keep no more 1 act on Eternity To k thee here amongst us! That is his portrait 40 voice of a satisfied people may k A sound in her ears That the voice 1
Keys With twinkling finger sweeps her yellow k. Townsmen, etc. 10
Kind (adj.) He was too good and k and sweet, He was too good 1
It is not k to be so still: Speak to me 3
I can trust Your woman's nature k and true. The noblest men 12
Kind (s) And startle the dull ears of human k! O God, make this age 5
King Of him who doomed the k to die, Because she bore 2
Is it the k; is it my love Coming along What rustles 5
King-craft Till priest-craft and k-c sicken, Wherever evil 3
Kingliest A Pharaoh, k of his kingly race, Here, I that stood 3
Kingly For they were k in apparel, A dark Indian maiden 63
A Pharaoh, kingliest of his k race, Here, I that stood 3
Kiss (s) And mingle k'es, tears, and sighs, Life of the Life 6
I will print an airy k: Not a whisper 12
Kiss (verb) And longed to k her hand and lie Because she bore 7
And k'es him there in a dream, Bright is the moon 6
I k her o'er and o'er. How glad am I 4
We k, we are so fond, " 6
Kitty Sandilands Sweet K S, The daughter of the doctor, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 1
Knee was wont to dandle you upon My k, Hear you the sound 56
To break the pride of Britain, and bring her on her k's, They say, etc. 2
Knew Ev'n when I k him in his hour He was too good 2
Knit k your baby brows Into your father's frown, Hear you the sound 48
You were he that k the knot! Vicar of this 5
Knot my tongue runs twenty k's an hour: Half after midnight! 19
You were he that knit the k! Vicar of this 5
Knotted round her waist K, One was the Tishbite 11
The k boughs of this long avenue Of thick dark oaks, Hear you the sound 10
Know And I k it as a poet, Immeasurable sadness! 2
But I k it as a poet, " 8
Ye k that History is half-dream— Old ghosts 3 whatsoever k's us truly, k's That none " 12
That I was harsh to thee, let no one k; To thee with whom 2
I k a little of her worth, Well, as to Fame 3
And I will tell you what I k— " 4
One only joy I k, the joy of life. Why suffers 14
Yet well I k that nothing stays, Youth, lapsing i 53
Knowing K those laws are just alone They wrought, etc. 41 sharp desire of knowledge still with k! Why suffers 6 Knowledge Beauty, Good and K are three sisters . . . Beauty, Good, etc. 1 sharp desire of k still with knowing! Why suffers 6

L

Labour A l working to an end. Youth, lapsing ii 4
Laden See Flower-laden
Lady (adj.) by fits the l ash With twinkling finger sweeps her yellow keys. Townsmen, etc. 9
Lady (s) L of the green Savannah: A dark Indian maiden 16
L over wood and highland, " 27
Take, L, what your loyal nurses give, " Take, Lady 1
Laid foreign powers have l their heads together They say, etc. 1
Lain Every heart is l to rest, Not a whisper 5
Lake l that ripples out In the clear moonshine. Hear you the sound 33
Lammas When corny L bound the sheaves: Youth, lapsing i 16
Lamp wreath'd with green bays were the gorgeous l's, Far off in the dun 115 l's were bright and gay On the merry bridal-day, The lamps were bright 1
Land He sees his father in distant l's, Bright is the moon 5
There lies a l of chilling storms, Far off in the dun 5
A l of thin faces and shadowy forms, " 7
A pure example to the l's, They wrought, etc. 2
A l of many days that cleaves In two great halves, " 26
The whole l glitters after rain, Youth, lapsing ii 37
Landskip Thy soul is like a l, friend, Thy soul is like 1
Lapse Pointing to the unheeded l of hours, Half after midnight! 2
Lapsing Youth, l thro' fair solitudes, Youth, lapsing i 1
Large L as a human eye the sun Drew down the West his feeble lights; Deep glens I found 5
Am l in hope that these expectant eyes O God, make this age 12
And that l table of the breast dispread, That is his portrait 5
Larger Or, if the sense of most require A precedent of l scope, They wrought, etc. 38
Lark See Laverock
Lass The l'es and the little ones, Jack Tars, They say, etc. 15
Last (s) so many dead, And him the l. Gone into darkness 11
Last (verb) can they l In the vast Of the rolling of the æons, Little Aubrey 4 we, Poor devils, babble 'we shall l.' Well, as to Fame 8
Later Sooner or l from the haze The second voice Youth, lapsing i 55 Latest L of her worshippers, Not to Silence 7 loftier antient heights Touch'd with Heaven's l lights. Thy soul is like 12
The l thunder-peal hath peal'd, Youth, lapsing ii 30
Laugh (s) And the l of their rose-lipp'd boys. Far off in the dun 68
Laugh (verb) when he l's, his little eyes Yon huddled cloud 11
I heard Spring l in hidden rills, Youth, lapsing i 13
Laughable 'twas l, and yet It show'd Hear you the sound 51
Laugh'd I l to see him as he stood; I met in all 7
Laughing All day long with l eyes, A dark Indian maiden 17
And they saw her standing by, With a l crazed eye, The lamps were bright 52
Lava The walls of l rose, Far off in the dun 38
Laverock l spring From under the deep, Full light aloft 1
Law Knowing those l's are just alone They wrought, etc. 41
Lawn Here and there about the l Wholly mute, Not to Silence 23
Steeple, and stream, and forest l, Thy soul is like 2
Lay See, The cradle where she l! Along this glimmering 4
Then they found him where l The lamps were bright 47
l harder upon her Till she clapperclaw Wherever evil 6 Lead Which l the noblest life. Frenchman, etc. 8 tho' the merry bridegroom Might l the bride away, The lamps were bright 32
Leader The l's bounded, the guard's horn sounded: Far off in the dun 89 Leaf summer plains with their shining leaves, " 69 dark vine leaves round the rustling eaves, " 71
Summer thro' all her sleepy leaves Youth, lapsing i 14
Sigh over all their fallen leaves; " 32
Leafless The hollow-stemm'd and well-nigh l oak Hear you the sound 32
Leafy The nightingale in l woods Call to its mate Remember you 14
League Flooded fifty l's around, The child was sitting 5
Lean Tall, eager, l and strong, his cloak One was the Tishbite 5
Leaping shapes without heads Went l Far off in the dun 104
Leapt white fly l About his hairless brow. " 83
Leave pall of the sky L never an inch of blue; " 22

Leave (continued) O l not thou thy son forlorn; — O leave not thou 1 each one l's The middle road of sober thought! — They wrought, etc. 27
Led (See also Wisdom-led) She l them down the pleasant places, — A dark Indian maiden 62
L silently by power divine, — Thou may'st remember 9
Left To l or right but falling floods. — Remember you 16
the l hand holds Her up-gather'd garment folds, — Not to Silence 13
Length And lights at l on his desire: — They wrought, etc. 40
Lengthen'd Far away thro' the night ran the l tones: — Far off in the dun 90
Less But these shall see it none the l. — I keep no more 4
My joy was only l than thine. — Thou may'st remember 12
Lesser Hold thou, my friend, no l life in scorn, — Hold thou, my friend 1
Letter Their lies the l, but it is not he — Old ghosts 5
The man's life in the l's of the man. — " 4
Level Thames along the silent l, — Vicar of this 19
Liana Indian maiden, Warbling in the bloom'd l, — A dark Indian maiden 2 Lie on her threshold l, Howling — Beauty, Good etc. 4 l A thousand summers at her feet. — Because she bore 7
There l's a land of chilling storms, — Far off in the dun 5
Evermore The simpler essence lower l's, — From shape to shape 6
There l's the letter, but it is not he — Old ghosts 5
Beneath those double arches l — Youth, lapsing ii 35
Life The Death for which you mourn is L.' — Early-wise 8
Which lead the noblest life. — Frenchman, etc. 8
What l, so maim'd by night, were worth — Gone into darkness 7 my friend, no lesser l in scorn, — Hold thou, my friend 1 mark The l that haunts the emptiness — How strange it is 7
L of the L within my blood, (repeat) — Life of the Life 1, 7
Long as the heart beats l within her breast, — Long as the heart 1
The man's l in the letters of the man. — Old ghosts 4
Alas, my l is frail and weak: — Speak to me 6 may the l, which, heart in heart, you live — Take, Lady 3
I look thro' all my glimmering l, — That is his portrait 34
Thro' one whole l an overflowing urn, — " 50 come Into the light of spiritual l. — Thou may'st remember 6
Sweetly, smoothly flow your l. — Vicar of this 6
Sweetly flow your l with Kate's, — " 16
Why suffers human l so soon eclipse? — Why suffers 1
Would I could pile fresh l on l, — " 5
One only joy I know, the joy of l. — " 14
A l four-square to all the winds. — Young is the grief 16
L, to this wind, turn'd all her vanes, — Youth, lapsing i 29
Lift he spake: 'I l the eyes of thought, — That is his portrait 33
l's The creaming horn of corny ale! — Yon huddled cloud 3
Lifted They l their eyes to the dead, pale skies, — Far off in the dun 61
Light (adj.) A l wind wafts me from my feet. — Youth, lapsing ii 44
Light (adv.) Full l aloft doth the laverock spring — Full light aloft 1
Light (come upon) And l's at length on his desire: — They wrought, etc. 40
Light (s) sun Drew down the West his feeble l's; — Deep glens I found 6
A region void of l, — Far off in the dun 6
No taper's l look'd out on the night, — " 45
They see the l of their blest firesides, — " 65 sallow l's shone Dimly and blurly — " 99 what l's approach With heavenly melodies? — " 105 those are the l's of the Paradise coach, — " 107
With a solemn burst of thrilling l, — " 119
They glitter'd with a stedfast l, — " 129
At the very break of l? — Full light aloft 8
Gone into darkness, that full l Of friendship! — Gone into darkness 1
That mystic field of drifted l In mid Orion, — Hither when all 10
L of the L within mine eyes, (repeat) — Life of the Life 2, 8
Often shallow, pierced with l, — Not to Silence 21 Lit as with inner l. — One was the Tishbite 8 peaceful l of hazel eyes, Observing all things. — That is his portrait 13 eyes burn With a l so wild and stern?' — The lamps were bright 16 come Into the l of spiritual life.' — Thou may'st remember 6
Touch'd with Heaven's latest l's. — Thy soul is like 12
Full fields of barley shifting tearful l's — Townsmen, etc. 8
Drove into lines and studs of l — Youth, lapsing i 6
Now one faint line of l doth glow, — " ii 9
Ray'd round with beams of living l. — " 52
Like (See also Bee-like) L to one of us she seems, — Not a whisper 15
Likeness And all the l in the difference. — Why suffers 11
Lily The two fair lilies growing at thy side — Woman of noble 11
Limb His l's beneath him fail; — Far off in the dun 26
Limb (continued) woman's youthful pride Of rounded l's— — One was the Tishbite 17
Limb'd See Dark-limb'd
Line While walking with my rod and l, — I met in all 2 a face whose every l Wore the pale cast — Methought I saw 1 Drove into l's and studs of light — Youth, lapsing i 6
Now one faint l of light doth glow, — " ii 9
Link In many a silver loop and l — Not to Silence 26
Lip with right hand Moving toward her l, — Not to Silence 11
Her perfect l's to taste, — One was the Tishbite 12
Sleeps round those quiet l's; not quite a smile; — That is his portrait 9
E'en scorn looks beautiful on human l's! — Why suffers 4
Because the l's of little children preach Against you, — Therefore your Halls 12
Lipp'd See Finger-lipt, Rose-lipp'd
Lisping Lightly l, breaks away; — Not to Silence 32
Lit L as with inner light. — One was the Tishbite 8
Little That l garden was her pride, — Along this glimmering 5
Sleep, my l one, sleep! — Bright is the moon 3
How is it that men have so l grace, — How is it that men 1
L Aubrey in the West! l Alfred in the East — Little Aubrey 1
L Homer, l Dante, l Shakespeare, can they last — " 4
L poet, hear the l poet's epigram! — " 7
The lasses and the l ones, Jack Tars, they look to you! — They say, etc. 15
God bless the l isle where a man may still be true! — " 17 when he laughs, his l eyes Are swallow'd in his pamper'd cheeks. — Yon huddled cloud 11
Live And he prays that you may l. — Little Aubrey 3 Teach me, great Nature: make me l. — O leave not thou 2 life, which heart in heart, you l With him you love, — Take, Lady 3
Yet he l's; His and my friendship — That is his portrait 40 to each that l's A hint of somewhat unexprest. — 'Tis not alone 7
L and prosper! Day by day Watch your standard roses — Vicar of this 11
While I l, the owls! — While I live 1
I thank thee, God, that thou hast made me l: — Why suffers 12
Lived Prince, whose Father l in you, — Early-wise 2
So l I without aim or choice, — Youth, lapsing i 37
Liveliest Whose blood in its l course would not pause — Far off in the dun 93
Living were worth Our l out? — Gone into darkness 8 there sit figures as of gods Ray'd round with beams of l light. — Youth, lapsing ii 52
Lock fingers in these l's (They are gray now) — Hear you the sound 58
Loftier somewhat l antient heights Touch'd with Heaven's latest lights. — Thy soul is like 11
Loins gird up thy l for fight, And get thee forth — O God, make this age 10
Loiter'd I l in the middle way, — Youth, lapsing i 46
London I was when L was not! — Here, I that stood 10
This L once was middle sea, — Well, as to Fame 5
Lone I keep no more a l distress, — I keep no more 1
Lonely I shudder in my l nest, — What rustles, etc. 13
Long The skin hung lax on his l thin hands; — Far off in the dun 53
They mounted slow in their l black cloaks, — " 85
The knotted boughs of this l avenue Of thick dark oaks, — Hear you the sound 10
L as the heart beats life within her breast, — Long as the heart 1
With l tracts of murmuring, Partly river, partly brook, — Not to Silence 28
Methinks I see the world's renewed youth A l day's dawn, — O God, make this age 7 you live With him you love, be cloudless and be l! — Take, Lady 4 who strides the earth With that l horn she loves to blow, — Well, as to Fame 2
Pour'd by l glades and meadowy mounds, — Youth, lapsing i 2
Longed And l to kiss her hand and lie — Because she bore 7
And l to take his hand in mine. — I met in all 4
Longer lay harder upon her Till she clapperclaw no l, — Wherever evil 7
Look (s) Ye must be wiser than your l's, — Are those the far-famed 9
And l's to awe the standers by, — Because she bore 4
Look (verb) L he smiles, and opens his hands, — Bright is the moon 4
L out from the cloudy vast. — Far off in the dun 20
How beautifully l's the moonbeam — Hear you the sound 9
I never l upon them but I glow — " 14
You would l down and knit your baby brows — " 48
But l, for these are nature too. — I keep no more 16
L on those manly curls so glossy dark, — That is his portrait 2

Look (verb) (continued) l you what an arch the brain has built — That is his portrait 10
I l thro' all my glimmering life, — „ 34 lasses and the little ones, Jack Tars, they l to you! — They say, etc. 15
E'en scorn l's beautiful on human lips! — Why suffers 4
Look'd No taper's light l out on the night, — Far off in the dun 45
Dimly the travellers l thro' the glooms, — „ 57
He l so jolly and so good— — I met in all 5
Looking l far away On the blue mountains, — Hear you the sound 39
Loom l or plough To weigh them as they — He was too good 7
Loop In many a silver l and link — Not to Silence 26
Lord Hail, truest L of Hell! — Art for Art's sake! 1
Lordly Ye proud aristocrats whose l shadows, — Hear you the sound 21
Loss Another whispers sick with l: — I keep no more 9
His and my friendship have not suffer'd l, — That is his portrait 41
Lost for what is l is made more dear; — „ 46
We l you for how long a time, — We lost you 1
Lot happy be your l In the Vicarage — Vicar of this 3
Loud l the roar Of wind and mingled shower, — Far off in the dun 33
The stream is l: I cannot hear!' — Remember you 8
The wind is l in holt and hill, — Speak to me 2 wanton ear Be tickled with the l 'hear, hear,' — They wrought, etc. 7 Love (s) Nor L that holds a constant mood. — Are those the far-famed 8 he that shuts out L, in turn shall be Shut out from L, — Beauty, Good, etc. 3 whisper'd l of the fair young wives; — Far off in the dun 67
I glow With an enthusiastic l of them. — Hear you the sound 15
I murmur'd 'Speak again, my l, — Remember you 7
They are not want of l for thee. — Speak to me 8
How full of wisest humour and of l, — That is his portrait 7
Capacious both of Friendship and of L. — „ 51
For L flew over grove and field, — The night, etc. 4 Something of pain—of bliss—of L, — 'Tis not alone 11 heart That watch't with l thine earliest infancy, — To thee with whom 12 is it my l Coming along the secret ways? — What rustles 5
Fair with green fields the realms of L. — Youth, lapsing ii 36
Love (verb) 'I l the daisy weeping dew, — I keep no more 13 cuckoo-voice that l's To babble its own name. — I, loving Freedom 7 heart in heart, you live With him you l, — Take, Lady 4
With that long horn she l's to blow, — Well, as to Fame 2
Loved A child she l to play; — Along this glimmering 2
This is he I l, This is the man — That is his portrait 14
He l the river's roaring sound; — The child was sitting 3
Cold words I spoke, yet l thee warm and well. — To thee with whom 8 Loving All her l childhood Breezes from the palm — A dark Indian maiden 13 wondering, l, Carolling 'Happy, — „ 51
I, l Freedom for herself, — I, loving Freedom 1
Low The l voice of the glad New Year Call to the freshly-flower'd hill. — Remember you 11
And that large table of the breast dispread, Between l shoulders; — That is his portrait 6 long May my strong wish, transgressing the l bound Of mortal hope, — „ 38
Again the l sweet voices mourn'd In distant fields, — Youth, lapsing i 43
Lower Evermore The simpler essence l lies, — From shape to shape 6
L and deeper evermore They grew, — Youth, lapsing i 25
Loyal Take, Lady, what your l nurses give, — Take, Lady, 1
Lucid Regions of l matter taking forms, — Hither, when all 5
Lured L by the cuckoo-voice that loves — I, loving Freedom 7
Lute-toned A l-t whisper, 'I am here!' — Remember you 6
Luxuriant My fancy was the more l, — That is his portrait 16
Lyre And a sound of stringéd l's. — Far off in the dun 120
Lyric and you gleam reset In Britain's l coronet. — We lost you 4

M

Mad Is thy m brain drunk with the merry, red wine, — Full light aloft 7
Madam the noblest place, M, is yours, — The noblest men 4
Made I thank thee, God, that thou hast m me live: — Why suffers 12 for what is lost is m more dear; — That is his portrait 46
All-perfect Framer, Him, who m the heart, — „ 48
Thro' every change that m thee what thou art? — To thee with whom 14
Madness Or a fancy or a m,— — Immeasurable sadness! 7 what m moved my blood To make me thus belie — To thee with whom 10
Mahomet Like the flower of M. — Spurge with fairy 2
Maiden A dark Indian m, Warbling in the bloom'd liana, — A dark Indian maiden 1
With her m's to the bay; — „ 42
But found a m tender, shy, — Because she bore 5
The happy m's tears are free — I keep no more 5
Maim'd What life, so m by night, were worth — Gone into darkness 7
Main That thou singest with m and with might? — Full light aloft 6
Maize-bread M and the yuccaroot, — A dark Indian maiden 44
Make and m beneath Ambrosial gloom. — Hear you the sound 29
Sender and sent-to go to m up this, — Old ghosts 7
Who m you utter things you did not say, — „ 10
Teach me great Nature: m me live. — O leave not thou 2
To m me thus belie my constant heart — To thee with whom 11
The thunder cannot m thee dumb; — Youth, lapsing ii 26
Man The white m's white sail, bringing — A dark Indian maiden 37
She gave the white men welcome all, — „ 53
Than the men of Xaraguay, — „ 57
That ride to death the grief's of men? — Are those the far-famed 2
A surface m of many theories, — A surface man 1
Ten men fought a thousand, Slew them — Bold Havelock 7 every m in Britain Says 'I am of Havelock's blood!' — „ 15
There came a gaunt m from the dark Inn door, — Far off in the dun 73 threw up the dust Of dead men's pulverised bones. — „ 92
I come Unto the perfect m. — From shape to shape 4 ask you whether you would be A great m — Hear you the sound 57
The true men banish'd— — Rise, Britons, rise 4
All Nature is the womb whence M is born. — Hold thou, my friend 2
How is it that men have so little grace, When a great m's found to be bad and base, — How is it that men 1 a good old m, Most eloquent, who spake — Methought I saw 2
The m's life in the letters of the m. — Old ghosts 4
All the men ran from her (repeat) — Sweet Kitty Sandilands 5, 7
This is the m of whom you heard me speak. — That is his portrait 15
The noblest men methinks are bred — The noblest men 1
God bless the little isle where a m may still be true! — They say, etc. 17
Shadows of statesmen, clever men! — They wrought, etc. 12 fears that waste The strength of men, — „ 23
The frame, the mind, the soul of m, — „ 43
The m that round me wove Inextricable brickwork — What rustles 17
And in the pauses groans of men. — Youth, lapsing ii 24
Manly Look on those m curls so glossy dark, — That is his portrait 2
Many lest overhaste Should fire the m wheels of change! — They wrought, etc. 24
A voice like m voices cries, — Youth, lapsing ii 7
A moan of m waterfalls, — „ ii 23
Mar mould you all awry and m your worth; — Old ghosts 11
Marble forms Of the unfading m carved upon them, — Hear you the sound 26
From the clear m pouring glorious scorn, — One was the Tishbite 7
March'd Bold Havelock m, (repeat) — Bold Havelock 1, 5, 9
M and thought and fought, — „ 11
M and fought himself dead. — „ 12
Mark by chance should m The life that haunts — How strange it is 6 to m The humours of the polling and the wake, — That is his portrait 19
Market The hubbub of the m and the booths: — „ 21
Married That mystic field of drifted light In mid Orion, and the m stars. — Hither, when all 11
Marry spot Where it was my chance to m, — Vicar of this 2
Mars She saw the snowy poles and Moons of M, — Hither, when all 9
Martyr See Patriot-martyrs
Master (adj.) A m mind with m minds, — Young is the grief 13
Master (s) Genius, M of the Moral Will! — Art for Art's sake 2
Mate Call to its m when nothing stirr'd — Remember you 15
Matter Regions of lucid m taking forms, — Hither, when all 5
Mature and what a settled mind, M, — That is his portrait 12
May (hawthorn-bloom) The M begins to breathe and bud, — Life of the Life 3
May (month) terrace growing Green and greener every M! — Vicar of this 15
Maze Inextricable brickwork m in m? — What rustles 8
Meadow Warm beams across the m stole; — The night, etc. 3
Meadowy Pour'd by long glades and m mounds, — Youth, lapsing i 2
Mealy The miller with his m face, — I met in all 3
Meant whose whims were m For virtue's servants, — A surface man 2
Meat See Pap-meat-pamper
Mediterranean Thence haled me toward the M sea, — Here, I that stood 6

Meek O the child so m and wise, The child was sitting 8
Meet That so gaily m their eyes! Far off in the dun 108
And I greet it, and I m it, Immeasurable sadness! 3
And I m it, and I greet it, „ 9
A noise of winds that m and blend, Youth, lapsing ii 2
Mellow moving To her Areyto's m ditty, A dark Indian maiden 50 Melody To a woodland m: „ 30 lights approach With heavenly melodies? Far off in the dun 106 aerial m May blow alarum loud to every wind, O God, make this age 3 Melted on every side The dragon's curves m, One was the Tishbite 15
Memory far away thy m will be bless'd Long as the heart 3
Mercy The 'M Jesu' in the rain! I keep no more 11
Merry Is thy mad brain drunk with the m, red wine, Full light aloft 7
But thou hast drunk of the m, sweet wine, „ 11
The lamps were bright and gay On the m bridal-day, When the m bridegroom Bore the bride away! A m, m bridal, A m bridal-day! The lamps were bright 2
Although the m bridegroom Bears the bride away, On a m, m bridal, A m bridal-day? „ 11
'For—now the m bridegroom Hath borne the bride away— „ 19
For tho' the m bridegroom Hath borne the bride away, „ 25
That tho' the m bridegroom Might lead the bride away, „ 31
For now the m bridegroom Hath borne the bride away. The lamps were bright 37
Altho' the m bridegroom Hath borne the bride away; „ 43
Tho' he a m bridegroom Had borne the bride away, „ 49
Met I m in all the close green ways, I met in all 1
Methinks M my tongue runs twenty knots Half after midnight! 19
M they tarry somewhat. What's the clock? Hear you the sound 3
M an oak-tree never should be planted „ 16
M I see the world's renewed youth O God, make this age 6
The noblest men m are bred The noblest men 1
Methought 'M I saw a face whose every line Methought I saw 1
Michael Thou dost remember, M, How, when a boy, Hear you the sound 30
I was so, M. „ 37
did it not, good M? „ 53
Mid That mystic field of drifted light In m Orion, Hither, when all 11
Middle when each one leaves The m road of sober thought! They wrought, etc. 28
This London once was m sea, Well, as to Fame 5
I loiter'd in the m way, Youth, lapsing i 46
Midnight (adj.) When there stood a dark coach at an old Inn door At the solemn m hour. Far off in the dun 36
Midnight (s) Half after m! (repeat) Half after midnight! 1, 17
What's the clock? Mich. Half way toward m. Hear you the sound 4
Might That thou singest with main and with m? Full light aloft 6
Tho' thou art all unconscious of thy M. O God, make this age 14
Mightier Is m than the purest painted ill!' Yes, m than the purest painted well, Art for Art's sake! 4
Mighty Knowing those laws are just alone That contemplate a m plan, They wrought, etc. 42
Mild did scan His countenance so grand and m, Methought I saw 5
Thy child will bless thee, guardian mother m, Long as the heart 2
Who made us wise and m! The child was sitting 9
Stately and m, and all between Valleys Thy soul is like 8
Mile Many a m went he, Every m a battle, Bold Havelock 2
Mill I stepp'd upon the old m bridge? Remember you 4
Milldam-water While fishing in the m-w, I met in all 6
Miller The m with his mealy face, „ 3
And dreamt not of the m's daughter. „ 8
Million M's of forms, and hues, and shades Why suffers 9 Mind Mine was no vulgar m in infancy, Hear you the sound 62 and raise up M, Whose trumpet-tongued, O God, make this age 2 and what a settled m, Mature, That is his portrait 11
The frame, the m, the soul of man, They wrought, etc. 43
Woman of noble form and noble m! Woman of noble 1
A master m with master m's, Young is the grief 13
Mingle And m kisses, tears, and sighs, Life of the Life 6 Mingled Of wind and m shower, Far off in the dun 34
m with The woman's youthful pride One was the Tishbite 15
Thro' his own nature, with well m hues, That is his portrait 28
Minted But his was m in a deeper mould, That is his portrait 17
Miserere The 'M' in the moss! I keep no more 12
Mislead They were not slaves that names m, Nor traitors that m by names! Not such were those 3
Mist Of vapors, and m, and night. Far off in the dun 8 fear not the m's of unwholesome damps „ 113
Misted chapel's vaulted gloom Was m with perfume. The lamps were bright 8
Mistimed My coldness was m like summer-snow, To thee with whom 7
Mistress To break the noble pride of the M of the Seas. They say, etc. 4
Up and save the pride of the M of the Seas! (repeat) „ 7, 11, 14
God bless the noble isle that is M of the Seas! „ 18
If you will save the pride of the M of the Seas. „ 21
Mix'd M with the phantom of his coming fame, That is his portrait 32
Moan A m of many waterfalls, Youth, lapsing ii 23
Moan'd M in her chimneys and her eaves; „ i 30
He m, 'I wander from my good!' „ 35
Moaning And the m wind before it drives Thick wreaths of cloudy dew. Far off in the dun 23
Mock That they chuckle and chatter and m? How is it that men 3
Mock'd m and said, 'Come, cry aloud, he sleeps.' One was the Tishbite 3
Mockery m to hang it O'er the thatch'd cottage, Hear you the sound 18
Moderate citizen, Deep-hearted, m, firm, They wrought, etc. 10
Molten Such as never overflows With flush of rain, or m snows, Not to Silence 20
Momentary A m cloud upon me fell: To thee with whom 6
Monster Tho' strange seas drew me to your m town. Here, I that stood 8
Monstrous And m rocks from craggy snouts Deep glens I found 3
Month The m's, ere they began to rise, Youth, lapsing i 9
Monument their m's, with forms Of the unfading Hear you the sound 25
Mood Nor Love that holds a constant m. Are those the far-famed 8
Moon Bright is the m on the deep, Bright is the moon 1
Under the silver m, „ 13 then a night, all m's, confused The shadows Deep glens I found 7
She saw the snowy poles and M's of Mars, Hither, when all 9
In the glimmer of the m: Not a whisper 4
The image of the m by night Youth, lapsing i 8
Moonbeam How beautifully looks the m Hear you the sound 9
Moonlight Chequer'd with m's variation, „ 22
m That whiten'd all the eastern ridge, Remember you 1
Moonshine lake that ripples out In the clear m. Hear you the sound 34
Moral Genius, Master of the M Will! Art for Art's sake 2
Moralizer Half after midnight! these mute m's, Half after midnight! 1
Morn Athwart the bloomy m. Full light aloft 4
And glimmers to the northern m, The noblest men 7
Morning (adj.) I follow to the m sun, Youth, lapsing ii 10
Morning (s) return with thee Some happy Summer m, Woman of noble 9
Beside my door at m stood The tearful spirit Youth, lapsing i 33
It is the early m, Hark! „ ii 6
Morning-rise clouds are sunder'd toward the m-r; O God, make this age 9
Mortal transgressing the low bound Of m hope, That is his portrait 39
Moss The 'Miserere' in the m! I keep no more 12
Moss-grown singing lustily Among the m-g branches, Hear you the sound 42
Mother Thy child will bless thee, guardian m mild, Long as the heart 2
And with thee, M, taught us first to pray, Remembering him 2
'Now, tell me, m, pray, The lamps were bright 9
Mother-Queen O M-Q, and weeping Wife, Early-wise 7
Motion Yon huddled cloud his m shifts, Yon huddled cloud 1
Mould (s) But his was minted in a deeper m, That is his portrait 17
Mould (verb) m you all awry and mar your worth; Old ghosts 11
Moulded The brain is m,' she began, From shape to shape 2
Mound Nor wanting many a sombre m, Thy soul is like 7
Pour'd by long glades and meadowy m's, Youth, lapsing i 2
Mountain (adj.) A howling of the m wolf; „ ii 20
Mountain (s) looking far away On the blue m's, Hear you the sound 40
A m bright with triple peaks: Youth, lapsing ii 48
Mounted They m slow in their long black cloaks, Far off in the dun 85
Mourn The Death for which you m is Life.' Early-wise 8
I m in spirit when I think The year, I, loving Freedom 5
Mourn'd Again the low sweet voices m Youth, lapsing i 43
Mouth'd See Deep-mouth'd
Move These only do not m the breast; 'Tis not alone 5
Whate'er I see, where'er I m, „ 9
Away with shadows! On they m! Youth, lapsing ii 34 Moved Down from the shoulder m: One was the Tishbite 13 what madness m my blood To make me thus belie To thee with whom 10

Moving m To her Areyto's mellow ditty, A dark Indian maiden 49 but with right hand M toward her lip, Not to Silence 11
Parts in two channels, m to one end— Steersman 3
Murmur The m's of the rivulet, Rippling Townsmen, etc. 5 floats upward from the gulf A m of heroic song, Youth, lapsing ii 19
Murmur'd I m 'Speak again, my love, Remember you 7
Summer thro' all her sleepy leaves M: Youth, lapsing i 15
Murmuring With long tracts of m, Not to Silence 28
Music The southern stars a m peal'd, The night, etc. 2
Mute there about the lawn Wholly m, Not to Silence 24
Half after midnight! these m moralizers, Half after midnight! 1
Mutter the m of deep-mouth'd thunderings Far off in the dun 15
Myriad-volumed Your gardens, m-v libraries, Therefore your Halls 3
Mystery A rumour of a m, Youth, lapsing ii 1 Mystic And as with optic glasses her keen eyes Pierced thro' the m dome, Hither, when all 4
That m field of drifted light In mid Orion, „ 10

Nobility high birth Had writ n upon my brow. Hear you the sound 64
Noble But near the dwelling of some n race; „ 17
To break the n pride of the Mistress of the Seas. They say, etc. 4
God bless the n isle that is Mistress of the Seas! „ 18
Woman of n form and n mind! Woman of noble 1
Nobler Yet grief deserves a n name: Young is the grief 5
Noblest Which lead the n life. Frenchman, etc. 8
The n men methinks are bred The noblest men 1
Nod With all his groves he bows, he n's, Youth, lapsing ii 49
Nodding The thirsty horseman, n, lifts Yon huddled cloud 3
Noise And in the hurry and the n Great spirits They wrought, etc. 15
A n of hands that disarrange The social engine! „ 21
A n of winds that meet and blend, Youth, lapsing ii 2
Nook Which in one delicious n, Not to Silence 30
Noon At n and eve, because your manner sorts Therefore your Halls 10
Norman See Saxo-Norman
Northern And glimmers to the n morn, The noblest men 7
Nurse Take, Lady, what your loyal n's give, Take, Lady 1

N

Naked orange groves N, and dark-limb'd, A dark Indian maiden 6 N, without fear moving To her Areyto's mellow ditty, „ 49
Not to Silence would I build A temple in her n field; Not to Silence 2
Name she bore the iron n Of him who doomed Because she bore 1
And his n was Atrophy! Far off in the dun 56 cuckoo-voice that loves To babble its own n. I, loving Freedom 8
They were not slaves that n's mislead, Nor traitors that mislead by n's! Not such were those 3
Your n is blown on every wind, The noblest men 5
His n is pure, his fame is free: They wrought, etc. 32
Yet grief deserves a nobler n: Young is the grief 5
Natal Now idly in my n bowers, Youth, lapsing i 49
Nation And the voice that apes a n— Immeasurable sadness! 5
Nature All n widens upward. From shape to shape 5
Ev'n then the force of n and high birth Hear you the sound 63
All N is the womb whence Man is born. Hold thou, my friend 2
But look, for these are n too. I keep no more 16
Teach me, great N: make me live. O leave not thou 2
And took in more of N than mine own: That is his portrait 18 which he compell'd once more Thro' his own n, „ 28
I can trust Your woman's n kind and true. The noblest men 12
Like some wise artist, N gives, 'Tis not alone 6
Tho' I was harsh, my n is not so: To thee with whom 5
Art, Science, N, everything is full, Why suffers 7 as pure a heart As e'er beat time to N, Woman of noble 5
Nearer But tho' the cataract seem the n way, Steersman 6
Necessity Forethinking its twinfold n, That is his portrait 49
Neck and folded once about her n, One was the Tishbite 11
Nest Father will come to his babe in the n, Bright is the moon 11
I shudder in my lonely n, What rustles 13
New And ever n the tale she tells, Young is the grief 2
The low voice of the glad N Year Remember you 11
New-comer bringing To happy Hayti the n-c, A dark Indian maiden 38
New Year low voice of the glad N Y Remember you 11
Night (adj.) The n gale in those trees. Hear you the sound 8
Night (s) then a n, all moons, confused The shadows Deep glens I found 7
Of vapors, and mist, and n. Far off in the dun 8
When the shadow of n's eternal wings „ 13
Dark was the n, and loud the roar Of wind „ 33
No taper's light look'd out on the n, „ 45
Far away thro' the n ran the lengthen'd tones: „ 90 away By n, into the deeper n! The deeper n? Gone into darkness 3
If n, what barren toil to be! What life, so maim'd by n, were worth Our living out? „ 6
'Tis a clear n, they will be here anon. Hear you the sound 6
The n with sudden odour reel'd, The night, etc. 1
The n is black and still; the deer Bleat What rustles 3
The image of the moon by n Youth, lapsing i 8
A voice, when n had crept on high, „ 17
Nightingale The n in leafy woods Call Remember you 12 Nile beside the flow Of sacred N, Here, I that stood 4

O

Oak (See also Oak-tree) this long avenue Of thick dark o's, Hear you the sound 11 leafless o Which towers above the lake „ 32
Oak-tree o-t never should be planted „ 16
Object ache For common o's that would keep How strange it is 4
Observing light of hazel eyes, O all things. That is his portrait 14
Occident Far off in the dun, dark o, Far off in the dun 1
Odour The night with sudden o reel'd, The night, etc. 1
Office I must unto mine o. Half after midnight! 20
Offspring I and my son's son and our o, Hear you the sound 24
Their o of this union. Old ghosts 8
Old When there stood a dark coach at an o Inn door Far off in the dun 35
The grim o coachee strode to the box, „ 87
Coeval with the battlemented towers Of my o ancestors! Hear you the sound 13
Wore the pale cast of thought, a good o man, Methought I saw 2
O ghosts whose day was done ere mine began, Old ghosts 1
And on me Frown not, o ghosts, „ 9
I stepp'd upon the o mill bridge? Remember you 4 O'er the bow'd shoulder of a bland o Age, The face of placid Death.' That is his portrait 36
Townsmen, or of the hamlet, young or o, Townsmen, etc. 1
He chanted some o doleful rhyme. Youth, lapsing i 36
Still humming snatches of o song, „ 38
Older When I was somewhat o grown „ 21
Olympias One was O: the floating snake One was the Tishbite 9
One (adj.) As when he stood on Carmel-steeps With o arm stretch'd out bare, „ 3
Parts in two channels, moving to o end— Steersman 3
Thro' o whole life an overflowing urn, That is his portrait 50
Or sleep thro' o brief dream upon the grass,— Townsmen, etc. 4
O only joy I know, the joy of life. Why suffers 14
Now o faint line of light doth glow, Youth, lapsing ii 9
One (pron. and s) Sleep, my little o, sleep! Bright is the moon 3
Sleep, my pretty o, sleep! „ 10
O was the Tishbite whom the raven fed, One was the Tishbite 1
O was Olympias: the floating snake „ 9
The lasses and the little o's, Jack Tars, They say, etc. 15
Only One o joy I know, the joy of life. Why suffers 14
Open Look he smiles, and o's his hands, Bright is the moon 4
Said, 'O, Rosebud, o, yield Thy fragrant soul.' The night, etc. 5
Optic And as with o glasses her keen eyes Pierced Hither, when all 3
Orange Wantoning in o groves Naked, A dark Indian maiden 5
Orb An o repulsive of all hate, Young is the grief 14
Orbit But as Earth her o runs, Little Aubrey 3
Orion field of drifted light In mid O, Hither, when all 11
Osier'd Streaming thro' his o aits! Vicar of this 20
Other Henceforward no o strife— Frenchman, etc. 6
Which speak of us to o centuries, Hear you the sound 27
Outer Howling in o darkness.' Beauty, Good, etc. 5
Overdealt praise Is neither o nor idly won. That is his portrait 43

Overdrawn delicately o With the first twilight — Thy soul is like 3
Overflow as never o's With flush of rain, — Not to Silence 19
Overflowing As my own soul is full, to o— — Why suffers 8
Thro' one whole life an o urn, — That is his portrait 50
Overhaste lest o Should fire the many wheels — They wrought, etc. 23
Overthrew Slew them and o. — Bold Havelock 8
Owl While I live, the o's! — While I live 1
Own Whence your o citizens, for their o renown, — Here, I that stood 7
Lured by the cuckoo-voice that loves To babble its o name. — I, loving Freedom 8
Yet her o deep soul says nay: — The lamps were bright 24 which he compell'd once more Thro' his o nature, — That is his portrait 28
When thine o spirit was at strife With thine o spirit. — Thou may'st remember 2
As my o soul is full, to overflowing— — Why suffers 8
Owning o more Discourse, more widely wise.' — From shape to shape 7

P

Pain Something of p—of bliss—of Love, — 'Tis not alone 11
Painted filthiest of all paintings p well Is mightier than the purest p ill!' Yes, mightier than the purest p well, — Art for Art's sake! 3
That is his portrait p by himself. — That is his portrait 1
Painting filthiest of all p's painted well — Art for Art's sake! 3
Pale His brow is clammy and p. — Far off in the dun 28
They lifted their eyes to the dead, p skies, — „ 61
Methought I saw a face whose every line Wore the p cast of thought, — Methought I saw 2
Pall the p of the sky Leave never an inch — Far off in the dun 21
Palm (a tree) Breezes from the p and canna — A dark Indian maiden 14
Waving a p branch, wondering, — „ 51
Palm (of the hand) As each put a farthing into his p, — Far off in the dun 79
Palmy All day long with laughing eyes, Dancing by a p bay, — A dark Indian maiden 18
Pamper See Pap-meat-pamper
Pamper'd his little eyes Are swallow'd in his p cheeks. — Yon huddled cloud 12
Pandemonium There is a clock in P, — Half after midnight! 5
Papao Beneath the p tree! — A dark Indian maiden 33
Pap-meat-pamper But p-m-p not the time — Wherever evil 4
Paradise (adj.) those are the lights of the P coach, — Far off in the dun 107
Paradise (s) In the wooded p, The cedar-wooded p — A dark Indian maiden 19
Parish P feud, or party strife, — Vicar of this 8
Park deer Bleat as with human voices in the p. — What rustles 4
Part river here, my friend, P's in two channels, — Steersman 3
Party (adj.) Parish feud, or p strife, — Vicar of this 8
Party (s) and the d——l take the parties! — They say, etc. 10
Party-rage Contends, despising p-r, — They wrought, etc. 46
Pass'd See Past
Passion-wrought Ill fares a people p-w, — They wrought, etc. 25
Past (adj.) things of p days with their horrible eyes — Far off in the dun 19
Her thoughts have found their wings In the dreaming of p things: — The lamps were bright 22
Past (s) These hills were plains within the p, — Well, as to Fame 6
In thy beginnings in the p, — Young is the grief 11
And how all things become the p. — Youth, lapsing i 28
Past-Pass'd (verb) They pass'd (an inner spirit fed Their ever-burning fires,) — Far off in the dun 117 past, in sleep, away By night, — Gone into darkness 2
And past her for the Proctor. — Sweet Kitty Sandilands 4 Path who sees His p before him? — They wrought, etc. 11
Patriot-martyrs Freedom claims As p-m of her creed: — Not such were those 2
Pause (s) And in the p's groans of men. — Youth, lapsing ii 24
Pause (verb) not p At the strife of the shadowy wheels, — Far off in the dun 93 brief dream upon the grass,—P here. — Townsmen, etc. 5
Pausing So p 'twixt the East and West, — Youth, lapsing i 47
Peaceful Tempers the p light of hazel eyes, — That is his portrait 13
Peak A mountain bright with triple p's: — Youth, lapsing ii 48
Peal (s) See Thunder-peal
Peal (verb) The second voice will p again. — Youth, lapsing i 56
Peal'd The southern stars a music p, — The night, etc. 2
Peal'd (continued) The latest thunder-peal hath p, — Youth, lapsing ii 30
Pearl True P of our poetic prime! — We lost you 2
Pendulum The slow vibrations of whose p, — Half after midnight! 7
People And fuse the p's into one. — Are those the far-famed 16
That the voice of a satisfied p — That the voice 1
Did the p dance and play, — The lamps were bright 36
Ill fares a p passion-wrought, — They wrought, etc. 25
Convoys the p's wish, is great; — „ 31
Perfect (See also All-perfect) 'And thro' all phases of all thought I come Unto the p man. — From shape to shape 4
More complex is more p, owning more Discourse, — „ 7
Her p lips to taste, — One was the Tishbite 12
Perfume chapel's vaulted gloom Was misted with p. — The lamps were bright 8 Perish and our offspring, all Shall p, — Hear you the sound 25 speak of us to other centuries, Shall p also, — „ 28
Perplex But questions that p us now— — He was too good 6
Never tithe unpaid p you, — Vicar of this 7
Phantom Mix'd with the p of his coming fame, — That is his portrait 32
Pharaoh A P, kingliest of his kingly race, — Here, I that stood 3
Phase thro' all p's of all thought I come — From shape to shape 3
Pierced eyes P thro' the mystic dome, — Hither, when all 4
Often shallow, p with light, — Not to Silence 21
Piercing P the wrung ears of the damn'd — Half after midnight! 10
Pile Would I could p fresh life on life, — Why suffers 5 Place (s) (See also Charnel-place) She led them down the pleasant p's, — A dark Indian maiden 62 shaped, and carved, and set me in my p. — Here, I that stood 4
And in the world the noblest p, — The noblest men 3
Place (verb) joy'd to p me on The hollow-stemm'd — Hear you the sound 31
Placid O'er the bow'd shoulder of a bland Old Age, The face of p Death.' — That is his portrait 37
Plain Anacaona, Dancing on the blossomy p — A dark Indian maiden 29 summer p's with their shining leaves, — Far off in the dun 69
These hills were p's within the past, There will be p's again, and we, — Well, as to Fame 6
And I must traverse yonder p: — Youth, lapsing i 54
The casements sparkle on the p, — „ ii 39
Plan That contemplate a mighty p, — They wrought, etc. 42
Planted oak-tree never should be p But near — Hear you the sound 16
Play (s) And your three young things at p, — Vicar of this 13
Her silver eddies in their p Drove into lines — Youth, lapsing i 5
Play (verb) A child she loved to p; — Along this glimmering 2
Where the doubtful shadows p, — Not to Silence 31
Did the people dance and p, — The lamps were bright 36
Playing P with the scarlet crane, — A dark Indian maiden 31
Pleasant She led them down the p places, — „ 62
They saw the green verge of the p earth, — Far off in the dun 63
With p hymns they soothe the air Of death, — „ 109
Are p from the early Spring to when, — Townsmen, etc. 7
Vicar of this p spot Where it was my chance to marry, — Vicar of this 1
Please The despots over yonder, let 'em do whate'er they p! — They say, etc. 16
All things p you, nothing vex you, — Vicar of this 9
Pledge Then p we our glorious dead, — Frenchman, etc. 9
Plot (s) I hate the trim-set p's of art!' — I keep no more 14
Plot (verb) and they p against us yonder, — They say, etc. 8
Plough loom or p To weigh them as they should — He was too good 7
Pluck To p the sanction of a God. — „ 12
Poesy when P shall bind Falsehood beneath — O God, make this age 7
Poet I know it as a p, (repeat) — Immeasurable sadness! 2, 8
Little p, hear the little p's epigram! — Little Aubrey 7
'You're no P'—the critics cried! 'Why?' said the P. 'You're unpopular!' — Popular, Popular 2
'You're no P!' 'Why?'—'You're popular!' — „ 5
Poetic True Pearl of our p prime! — We lost you 2
Pointing P to the unheeded lapse of hours, — Half after midnight! 2
Poised there Hovering, thoughtful, p in air. — Not to Silence 12
Pole thunderings Shakes all the starless p, — Far off in the dun 16
She saw the snowy p's and Moons of Mars, — Hither, when all 9
Polling The humours of the p and the wake, — That is his portrait 20
Pomp ye still shall flourish In your high p of shade, — Hear you the sound 29
Poor A clearer day Than our p twilight dawn on earth— — Gone into darkness 5
P devils, babble 'we shall last.' — Well, as to Fame 8
Pop-gun P-g, Popular and Unpopular! — Popular, Popular 6

Popular P, P, Unpopular! Popular, Popular 1
'You're no Poet!' 'Why?'—'You're p!' Pop-gun, P and Unpopular! „ 5
Port Gives stouter ale and riper p Yon huddled cloud 7
Portrait That is his p painted by himself. That is his portrait 1
Pour'd P by long glades and meadowy mounds, Youth, lapsing i 2
Pouring From the clear marble p glorious scorn, One was the Tishbite 7 Power Is this blind flight the winged P's. Are those the far-famed 4 burn With p and promise high, Far off in the dun 30 hour Of darkest doubt, and in his p, He was too good 3
With some half-consciousness of inward p, That is his portrait 8
They say some foreign p's have laid They say, etc. 1
Led silently by p divine, Thou may'st remember 9
Practised ills himself had p on another, A surface man 5
Praise that we may be As giants in Thy p! O God, make this age 2 his p Is neither overdealt, nor idly won. That is his portrait 42
I could burst into a psalm of p, Why suffers 2
Pray And he p's that you may live. Little Aubrey 3 with thee, Mother, taught us first to p, Remembering him 2
'Now, tell me, mother, p, The lamps were bright 9
Prayer your golden bridal day The Book of P. Remembering him 4
Preach To p the freedom of despair, He was too good 10
Precedent A p of larger scope, They wrought, etc. 38
Precipitate be not p in thine act Of steering, Steersman 1
Present I found the P where I stay: Youth, lapsing i 48
Pretty Sleep, my p one, sleep! Bright is the moon 10 Pride That little garden was her p, Along this glimmering 5 they soothe the air Of death, with songs of p: Far off in the dun 110 woman's youthful p Of rounded limbs— One was the Tishbite 16
To break the p of Britain, They say, etc. 2
To break the noble p of the Mistress of the Seas. „ 4
Up and save the p of the Mistress of the Seas! (repeat) „ 7, 11, 14
If you will save the p of the Mistress of the Seas. „ 21
For he, whose cellar is his p, Yon huddled cloud 6
Priest-craft Till p-c and king-craft sicken, Wherever evil 3
Prime True Pearl of our poetic p! We lost you 2
Prince P, whose Father lived in you, Early-wise 2
Print I will p an airy kiss: Not a whisper 12
Proctor We drest her in the P's bands, And past her for the P. Sweet Kitty Sandilands 3
Jauntily sat the P's cap „ 11
Promise Gone the glorious p; Faded ev'ry violet 2 burn With power and p high, Far off in the dun 30 Prone So p are we toward the broad way to Hell. Art for Art's sake! 6
Prophet Sent thro' my blood a p voice Youth, lapsing i 10
Prospect range Of p up to self-control, Thou may'st remember 11
Prosper Live and p! Day by day Vicar of this 11
Prosper'd Have slowly p into stately flowers. Woman of noble 12
Proud Ye p aristocrats whose lordly shadows, Hear you the sound 21 Proved rejoice when a bigger brother has p How is it that men 5
Nor p I such delight as he, That is his portrait 19
Prowess Whom martial p only charms? First drink a health 26
Psalm I could burst into a p of praise, Why suffers 2
Psaltery With p they ride. Far off in the dun 112
Pulverised and threw up the dust Of dead men's p bones. „ 92
Punier A Caesar of a p dynasty Thence haled me Here, I that stood 5
Pure Early-wise, and p, and true, Early-wise 1
A p example to the lands, They wrought, etc. 2
His name is p, his fame is free: „ 32
The sacred sorrows of as p a heart As e'er beat time to Nature, Woman of noble 4
Purer Thy thought did scale a p range Of prospect Thou may'st remember 10 Purest Is mightier than the p painted ill!' Yes, mightier than the p painted well, Art for Art's sake! 4 Purple In the p island, Crown'd with garlands of cinchona, A dark Indian maiden 25

Q

Quarrel We q here at home, and they plot They say, etc. 8
Quarry In the Vicarage by the q. Vicar of this 4 Queen (See also Mother-Queen) Fann'd this q of the green wildwood, A dark Indian maiden 15
Queen (continued) The Indian q, Anacaona, Dancing A dark Indian maiden 28 noblest place, Madam, is yours, our Q and Head. The noblest men 4
Here's a health to the Q of the Isles. That the voice 4
Quest Confused, and ceasing from my q, Youth, lapsing i 45
Question But q's that perplex us now— He was too good 6 Quick As the q wheels brush'd, and threw up the dust Far off in the dun 91
Quiet Sleep round those q lips; not quite a smile; That is his portrait 9

R

Race near the dwelling of some noble r; Hear you the sound 17
A Pharaoh, kingliest of his kingly r, Here, I that stood 3 are bred Of ours the Saxo-Norman r; The noblest men 2 Rage See Party-rage
Raiment As stars they shone, in r white, Far off in the dun 131
Rain The 'Mercy Jesu' in the r! I keep no more 11
With flush of r, or molten snows, Not to Silence 20
I grieved as woods in dripping r's Youth, lapsing i 31
The whole land glitters after r, „ ii 37
Rainbow Out bursts a r in the sky— „ 33 Raise Not to her would r a shrine: Not to Silence 3 r up Mind, Whose trumpet-tongued, O God, make this age 2
Ran thro' the night r the lengthen'd tones: Far off in the dun 90
As the coach r on, and the sallow lights „ 99
My Spanish blood r proudly in my veins. Hear you the sound 45
All the men r from her (repeat) Sweet Kitty Sandilands 5, 7 a voice r round the hills When corny Lammas Youth, lapsing i 15
Rang R like a trumpet clear and dry, „ 19
Range purer r Of prospect up to self-control, Thou may'st remember 10
Rave damps That through that region r, Far off in the dun 114
Raven One was the Tishbite whom the r fed, One was the Tishbite 1
Ray Where his gilding r is never sent, Far off in the dun 3
Ray'd R round with beams of living light. Youth, lapsing ii 52
Reaching Further and further r hands They wrought, etc. 3
Realm Fair with green fields the r's of Love. Youth, lapsing ii 36
Reason With r cloister'd in the brain: Young is the grief 4
Reck I r not for the sorrow or the strife: Why suffers 13
Red His sockets were eyeless, but in them slept A r infernal glow; Far off in the dun 82
Is thy mad brain drunk with the merry, r wine, Full light aloft 7
Reel His heart throbs thick, his brain r's sick: Far off in the dun 27
Reel'd The night with sudden odour r, The night, etc. 1 Region A r void of light, Far off in the dun 6 unwholesome damps That through that r rove, „ 114
R's of lucid matter taking forms, Hither, when all 5
Rejoice r when a bigger brother has proved How is it that men 5
And where the secret streams r. Youth, lapsing i 12
Remain 'O let the simple slab r! I keep no more 10 Remember Thou dost r, Michael, How, when a boy, Hear you the sound 30
R you the clear moonlight That whiten'd Remember you 1
Thou may'st r what I said Thou may'st remember 1
Remembering R all the golden hours Now silent, Gone into darkness 9
R him who waits thee far away, Remembering him 1
Removed We come from apes—and are far r— How is it that men 4 Renewed Methinks I see the world's r youth A long day's dawn, O God, make this age 6 Renown Whence your own citizen's, for their own r, Here, I that stood 7
Repair to r With seasonable changes fair They wrought, etc. 34
Repeat And I say it, and r it, Immeasurable sadness! 10
Reproach Become a tacit eloquent r Half after midnight! 3
Repulsive An orb r of all hate, Young is the grief 14
Require r A precedent of larger scope, They wrought, etc. 37
Reset and you gleam r In Britain's lyric coronet. We lost you 3
Resort This tavern is their chief r, Yon huddled cloud 5
Rest (s) Every heart is lain to r, Not a whisper 5
Rest (verb) That r's by the Alma River. Frenchman, etc. 12
Now shall I r or shall I rise? Youth, lapsing ii 5
Reticence Her half sister, R. Not to Silence 6

Retire As he r's into himself and is: Old ghosts 6
Return to r with thee Some happy Summer morning, Woman of noble 8
Revel (s) But the r still goes on. The lamps were bright 40
Revel (verb) 'They r as they may,' „ 17
Revelling no r tones Of carouse were heard within: Far off in the dun 41
Revere They wrought a work which Time r's, They wrought, etc. 1
Revolve And see and hear the world r: Youth, lapsing i 52
Rhyme Break thro' with the hammer of iron r, Wherever evil 2
He chanted some old doleful r. Youth, lapsing i 36
Rhyme-hammer Thy r-h shall have honour. Wherever evil 9
Rich And r was their attire: Far off in the dun 126
Ricketty But the r blast runs shrilly and fast „ 11
Ride That r to death the griefs of men? Are those the far-famed 2
With psaltery they r. Far off in the dun 112
Ridge moonlight That whiten'd all the eastern r, Remember you 2
Right Finger-lipt, but with r hand Moving toward her lip, Not to Silence 10
To left or r but falling floods. Remember you 16
And the guard gasp'd out 'All's r.' Far off in the dun 88
Rill I heard Spring laugh in hidden r's, Youth, lapsing i 13
Ripening See Slow-ripening
Riper when your age had somewhat r grown, Hear you the sound 54
Gives stouter ale and r port Than any in the country-side. Yon huddled cloud 7
Ripple lake that r's out In the clear moonshine. Hear you the sound 33
Rippling rivulet, R by cressy isles or bars of sand, Townsmen, etc. 6 Rise (s) See Morning-rise
Rise (verb) These whispers r, and fall away, 'Tis not alone 10
The months, ere they began to r, Youth, lapsing i 9
Now shall I rest or shall I r? „ ii 5
Rising At the r of the sun. Full light aloft 12
River I would have a r run, Not to Silence 18
Partly r, partly brook, „ 29 the r here, my friend, Parts in two channels, Steersman 2
He loved the r's roaring sound; The child was sitting 3
The r rose and burst his bound, „ 4
Thro' wooded isles the r shines, Youth, lapsing ii 38
At the battle of Alma R. Frenchman, etc. 4
That rests by the Alma R. „ 12
Rivulet r, Rippling by cressy isles or bars of sand, Townsmen, etc. 5
Road The middle r of sober thought! They wrought, etc. 28
Roam Where'er you r from, would you waste an hour, Townsmen, etc. 3
Roar loud the r Of wind and mingled shower, Far off in the dun 33
And heard the r of her seas. „ 64
Roaring monstrous rocks from craggy snouts Disploding globes of r fire. Deep glens I found 4
He loved the river's r sound; The child was sitting 3
Rock monstrous r's from craggy snouts Deep glens I found 3
Rod While walking with my r and line, I met in all 2
Roll'd floating snake R round her ankles, One was the Tishbite 10
Rolling In the vast Of the r of the æons, Little Aubrey 6
Rook Were idler than a flight of r's. Are those the far-famed 12
Room We may glide from r to r, Not a whisper 3
Rose (s) Faded ev'ry violet, all the r's; Faded ev'ry violet 1
Watch your standard r's blowing, Vicar of this 12
Rose (verb) The walls of lava r, Far off in the dun 38
How every brake and flower spread and r, That is his portrait 26
The river r and burst his bound, The child was sitting 4
Rosebud R, open, yield Thy fragrant soul.' The night, etc. 6
Rose-lipp'd And the laugh of their r-l boys. Far off in the dun 68
Rounded mingled with The woman's youthful pride Of r limbs— One was the Tishbite 17
Roundelay she said her say—This was her r— The lamps were bright 30
Rumour A r of a mystery, Youth lapsing ii 1 Run And his hot steeds never r: Far off in the dun 4 the ricketty blast r's shrilly and fast „ 11
Methinks my tongue r's twenty knots an hour: Half after midnight! 19
But as Earth her orbit r's, Little Aubrey 3
I would have a river r, Not to Silence 18
Rush And r'es o'er a boundless field. Youth, lapsing ii 32
Rustle What r's hither in the dark? What rustles 1
Rustling The dark vine leaves round the r eaves, Far off in the dun 71
Rusty But the r sign of a skull and cross-bones „ 43

S

Sackbut With s, and with dulcimer, Far off in the dun 111
Sacred I that stood in On beside the flow Of s Nile, three thousand years ago!— Here, I that stood 2
The s sorrows of as pure a heart As e'er beat time to Nature, Woman of Noble 4 Sad At some s tale of wrong, and do the wrong He wept for, A surface man 6 and drank The sweet s tears of wisdom.' Methought I saw 6 Sadness Immeasurable s! (repeat) Immeasurable sadness! 1, 4, 11
Said she s her say—This was her roundelay— The lamps were bright 29
Thou may'st remember what I s Thou may'st remember 1
Sail The white man's white s, bringing A dark Indian maiden 37
Silver s's all out of the West, Bright is the moon 12
St. James Ha! by S J Mine was no vulgar mind Hear you the sound 61
Sake Art for Art's s! Art for Art's sake! 1
They worshipt Freedom for her s; They wrought, etc. 5
Salaam and he sends you his S; Little Aubrey 2
Sallow and the s lights shone Dimly and blurly with simmering fat. Far off in the dun 99
Sanction To pluck the s of a God. He was too good 12
Sand rivulet, Rippling by cressy isles or bars of s, Townsmen, etc. 6
Sandilands (Kitty) See Kitty Sandilands
Sat Jauntily s the Proctor's cap Sweet Kitty Sandilands 11
Satisfied That the voice of a s people may keep That the voice 1
Savannah Lady of the green S: A dark Indian maiden 16
Save Take thou the 'bend,' 'twill s thee many a day. Steersman 8
Up, Jack Tars, and s us! (repeat) They say, etc. 5, 12, 19
Up and s the pride of the Mistress of the Seas! (repeat) „ 7, 11, 14
If you will s the pride of the Mistress of the Seas. „ 21
Saw s the green verge of the pleasant earth, Far off in the dun 63
She s the snowy poles and Moons of Mars, Hither, when all 9
'Methought I s a face whose every line Methought I saw 1
And they s her standing by, The lamps were bright 51
Saxo-Norman are bred Of ours the S-N race; The noblest men 2
Say (s) she said her s—This was her roundelay— The lamps were bright 29
Say (verb) If you could speak, would you not s: Early-wise 3
And I s it, and repeat it, Immeasurable sadness! 10
Who make you utter things you did not s, Old ghosts 10
Whate'er the crowd on either bank may s, Steersman 7
'More dear' I will not s, but rather bless That is his portrait 47
That skinny witch did s, The lamps were bright 18
They s some foreign powers have laid They say, etc. 1
But what, were hard to s. 'Tis not alone 12
Scale Thy thought did s a purer range Thou may'st remember 10
Scan who did s His countenance so grand Methought I saw 4
Scar To snowy crofts and winding s's, Youth, lapsing i 18
Scarlet Playing with the s crane, The dragon-fly and s crane, A dark Indian maiden 31
Scentless I sit among the s flowers Youth, lapsing i 51
Science Art, S, Nature, everything is full, Why suffers 7
Scope A precedent of larger s, They wrought, etc. 38
Scorn my friend, no lesser life in s, Hold thou, my friend 1
From the clear marble pouring glorious s, One was the Tishbite 7
E'en s looks beautiful on human lips! Why suffers 4
Scream shrill s's arise Along the sunless waste, Far off in the dun 17
Then a s of wild dismay Thro' the deep hall The lamps were bright 41
Sea In the deep s no more,— A dark Indian maiden 68
And heard the roar of her s's. Far off in the dun 64
Thence haled me toward the Mediterranean s, Here, I that stood 6
Thro' strange s's drew me to your monster town. „ 8
This London once was middle s, Well, as to Fame 5
To break the noble pride of the Mistress of the S's. They say, etc. 4
Up and save the pride of the Mistress of the S's! (repeat) „ 7, 11, 14
God bless the noble isle that is Mistress of the S's! „ 18
If you will save the pride of the Mistress of the S's. „ 21
Sea-marge Over the dark s-m springing, A dark Indian maiden 39
Seasonable To shape, to settle, to repair With s changes fair They wrought, etc. 35

Second Sooner or later from the haze The s voice will peal again. Youth, lapsing i 56
Secret is it my love Coming along the s ways? What rustles 6
And where the s streams rejoice. Youth, lapsing i 12
See S, The cradle where she lay! Along the glimmering 3
And s, ye dare not touch the truth, Are those the far-famed 6
He s's his father in distant lands, Bright is the moon 5
They s the light of their blest firesides Far off in the dun 65
The summer hills they s; " 70
The crowd have come to s thy grave, I keep no more 2
But these shall s it none the less. " 4
I laugh'd to s him as he stood, I met in all 7
S, she dreameth happy dreams, Not a whisper 13
Methinks I s the world's renewed youth O God, make this age 6
Speak to me, let me hear or s! Speak to me 5
I s At the end, as 'twere athwart That is his portrait 34 who s's His path before him? They wrought, etc. 10
Whate'er I s, where'er I move, 'Tis not alone 9
And s and hear the world revolve: Youth, lapsing i 52
Seed It show'd the s's of innate dignity Hear you the sound 52
Seeing He, s far an end sublime, They wrought, etc. 45
S the heart so wondrous in her ways, Why suffers 3
Seeking See Truth-seeking
Seem 'I s, but am not, far away; Early-wise 4
Like to one of us she s's, Not a whisper 15
But tho' the cataract s the nearer way, Steersman 6
Seem'd I heard, as I have s to hear, Remember you 9
S I so cold? what madness moved my blood To thee with whom 10
Seen I have s the four great empires disappear! Here, I that stood 9
If earth be s from your conjectured heaven, Old ghosts 2
Considering what mine eyes have s, Young is the grief 9
Seest S thou my faults and wilt not speak? Speak to me 7
Self-control range Of prospect up to s-c, Thou may'st remember 11
Send and he s's you his Salaam; Little Aubrey 2
Sender S and sent-to go to make up this, Old ghosts 7
Sense keep Our awful inner ghostly s Unroused, How strange it is 5
But to one of finer s, Not to Silence 5
Or, if the s of most require They wrought, etc. 37
The difference of all things to the s, Why suffers 10 Sent Where his gilding ray is never s, Far off in the dun 3
S thro' my blood a prophet voice Youth, lapsing i 10 Sent-to Sender and s-t go to make up this, Old ghosts 7
Servant whose whims were meant For virtue's s's, A surface man 3 Set (See also Trim-set) S round with many a toppling spire, Deep glens I found 2 shaped, and carved, and s me in my place. Here, I that stood 4
Spurge with fairy crescent s, Spurge with fairy 1
Settle To shape, to s, to repair They wrought, etc. 34
Settled and what a s mind, Mature, That is his portrait 11
Shade ye still shall flourish In your high pomp of s, Hear you the sound 29
Millions of forms, and hues, and s's, Why suffers 9
Crown'd with soft s her deepening floods Youth, lapsing i 3
Shadow confused The s's from the icy heights. Deep glens I found 8
When the s of night's eternal wings Far off in the dun 13
Ye proud aristocrats whose lordly s's, Hear you the sound 21
Where the doubtful s's play, Not to Silence 31
S's of statesmen, clever men! They wrought, etc. 12
And s's strike and s's sink, Youth, lapsing ii 15
Away with s's! On they move! " 34
Shadow'd See Cocoa-shadow'd
Shadowy A land of thin faces and s forms, Far off in the dun 7
As the shrivell'd forms of the s grooms Yoked the skeleton horses to. " 59
Whose blood in its liveliest course would not pause At the strife of the s wheels, " 94
Shake thunderings S's all the starless pole, " 16
To which the slight-built hustings s; They wrought, etc. 8
Shaken They were s from the dance.— The lamps were bright 46
Shakespeare Little Homer, little Dante, little S, Little Aubrey 4 Shallow Often s, pierced with light, Not to Silence 21
Shame The year, that comes, may come with s, I, loving Freedom 6
'Tis s to fail so far, and still My failing shall be less my s: Young is the grief 7
Shank his s's were shrunken to willow wands Far off in the dun 55
Shape (s) heads without bodies and s's without heads Far off in the dun 103
From s to s at first within the womb From shape to shape 1
Admire that stalwart s, those ample brows, That is his portrait 4
Into another s, born of the first, " 29
Shape (verb) To s, to settle, to repair They wrought, etc. 34
Shaped s, and carved, and set me in my place. Here, I that stood 4
Sharp and dull The s desire of knowledge still with knowing! Why suffers 6
Sharper Till suddenly a s voice Cried in the future 'Come along.' Youth, lapsing i 39
Shaven Strange fiery eyes glared fiercely thro' The windows of s bone. Far off in the dun 48
Sheaf When corny Lammas bound the sheaves: Youth, lapsing i 16
Shift Yon huddled cloud his motion s's, Yon huddled cloud 1
Shifting Full fields of barley s tearful lights Townsmen, etc. 8
Shine Thro' wooded isles the river s's, Youth, lapsing ii 38
Shining The summer plains with their s leaves, Far off in the dun 69
Shook And s the frosty winter stars. Youth, lapsing i 20
Shone sallow lights s Dimly and blurly Far off in the dun 99
As stars they s, in raiment white, " 131
Shore never more upon the s Dancing A dark Indian maiden 65
How glad am I to walk With Susan on the s! How glad am I 2 far off from England's s, He comes no more. What rustles 9
That wash'd her s's with blissful sounds: Youth, lapsing i 4
Short Thick sobs and s shrill screams arise Along the sunless waste, Far off in the dun 17 and whensoe'er There may be s cessation of their wails, Half after midnight! 12 Shoulder Down from the s moved: One was the Tishbite 13 breast dispread Between low s's; That is his portrait 6
O'er the bow'd s of a bland old Age, " 36
Shout (s) Faint s's are heard across the glen, Youth, lapsing ii 22
Shout (verb) shriek and s to drown the thrilling noise. Half after midnight! 16
Show I will s to you Another countenance, That is his portrait 44
Show'd It s the seeds of innate dignity Hear you the sound 52
Shower (s) loud the roar Of wind and mingled s, Far off in the dun 34
Shower (verb) S's in a whisper o'er the world. Not to Silence 34
Showing s every bend Of each dark hill Thy soul is like 5
Shriek s and shout to drown the thrilling noise. Half after midnight! 16
Shrill Thick sobs and short s screams arise Along the sunless waste, Far off in the dun 17 is heard The s and solemn warning 'Ever, Never': Half after midnight! 14 Shrine (s) Not to her would raise a s: Not to Silence 3
Near the s, but half in sun, " 17
Shrine (verb) I would s her in my verse! " 8
Shrivell'd As the s forms of the shadowy grooms Yoked the skeleton horses to. Far off in the dun 59
Shrunken his shanks were s to willow wands " 55
Shudder I s in my lonely nest, What rustles 13
Shudder'd S with silent stars, she clomb, Hither, when all 2
Shut he that s's out Love, in turn shall be S out from Love, Beauty, Good, etc. 3
Shy But found a maiden tender, s, Because she bore 5
Sick His heart throbs thick, his brain reels s: Far off in the dun 27
Another whispers s with loss: I keep no more 9
Thro' her worn brain, hot and s.' The lamps were bright 28
Sicken Till priest-craft and king-craft s, Wherever evil 3
Side Deep dells of snow sunk on each s Far off in the dun 97 on every s The dragon's curves melted, One was the Tishbite 14
Sigh (s) And mingle kisses, tears, and s's, Life of the Life 6
Sigh (verb) S over all their fallen leaves; Youth, lapsing i 32
Sight The tears bedimm'd their s: Far off in the dun 86
Till heart and s and hearing ache How strange it is 3
Often deep beyond the s, Not to Silence 22
Sign rusty s of a skull and cross-bones Far off in the dun 43
Silence Not to S would I build A temple Not to Silence 1
Not like S shall she stand, " 9
Silent Floated in the s summer: A dark Indian maiden 40
Remembering all the golden hours Now s, Gone into darkness 10
Shudder'd with s stars, she clomb, Hither, when all 2
The s hills, the stormy floods, 'Tis not alone 3
Thames along the s level, Vicar of this 19

Silent (continued) take with thee Our warmest wishes, s Guardians But true till death ; Woman of noble 6
Silver S sails all out of the West, Under the s moon, Bright is the moon 12
With a s sound the wheels went round, Far off in the dun 121
In many a s loop and link Variously from its far spring, Not to Silence 26
Her s eddies in their play Drove into lines and studs of light Youth, lapsing i 5
Simmering sallow lights shone Dimly and blurly with s fat. Far off in the dun 100
Simple Those holly-thickets only hide Her grave—a s stone ! Along this glimmering 8
' O let the s slab remain ! I keep no more 10
Simpler Evermore The s essence lower lies, From shape to shape 6
Sin And free from taint of s. Far off in the dun 132
Singest That thou s with main and with might ? Full light aloft 6
Singing The wanton wind came s lustily Hear you the sound 41
Single knows That none can truly write his s day, Old ghosts 13
Sink And shadows strike and shadows s, Youth, lapsing ii 15
Sister Beauty, Good and Knowledge are three s's . . . Beauty, Good, etc. 1
S's,I could almost weep ! Not a whisper 8
Her half s, Reticence. Not to Silence 6
Sit You'd s there From dawn till sunset Hear you the sound 38 will not let an honest Briton s at home at ease : They say, etc. 9
I s among the scentless flowers Youth, lapsing i 51
And there s figures as of Gods ,, ii 51
Sitting The child was s on the bank The child was sitting 1
Skeleton As the shrivell'd forms of the shadowy grooms Yoked the s horses to. Far off in the dun 60
Skin The s hung lax on his long thin hands ; ,, 53
Skinny ' They revel as they may,' That s witch did say, The lamps were bright 18
Skull and Cross-bones (Inn sign) rusty sign of a s a c-b Far off in the dun 43
Sky the pall of the s Leave never an inch of blue ; ,, 21
Strange beauties from the s. ,, 32 lifted their eyes to the dead, pale skies, ,, 61 when all the deep unsounded skies Hither, when all 1
And softly blow the balmy skies ; Life of the Life 4
Speak to me from the stormy s ! Speak to me 1
The starr'd abysses of the s, 'Tis not alone 2
Out bursts a rainbow in the s— Youth, lapsing ii 33
Slab ' O let the simple s remain ! I keep no more 10
Slave heart of his Hard, and the s of vice ; A surface man 4
They were not s's that names mislead, Not such were those 3
Slay Whom the wedded wife did s, The lamps were bright 48
Sleek or the snug brick box Of some s citizen. Hear you the sound 20
Sleep (s) past, in s, away By night, Gone into darkness 2
All the house is fast in s, Not a whisper 6
Sleep (verb) S, my little one, s ! Bright is the moon 3 kisses him there in a dream, S, s. ,, 7
S, my pretty one, s ! ,, 10
Under the silver moon, S, s ! ,, 14
To watch and wake while others s, How strange it is 2
In that cradle s's my child, Not a whisper 9 mock'd and said, ' Come, cry aloud, he s's.' One was the Tishbite 4
S's round those quiet lips ; not quite a smile ; That is his portrait 9
Or s thro' one brief dream upon the grass,— Townsmen, etc. 4
' Come ' and I come, no more I s : Youth, lapsing ii 25
Sleepy Summer thro' all her s leaves Murmur'd : ,, i 14
Slender I clasp her s waist, We kiss, we are so fond, How glad am I 5
Slept in them s A red infernal glow ; Far off in the dun 81
Slew S them and overthrew. Bold Havelock 8
Slight-built To which the s-b hustings shake ; They wrought, etc. 8
Slightest Down to his s turns and attitudes— That is his portrait 24
Slime Cemented with the burning s Far off in the dun 39
Slip Her garment s's, the left hand holds Not to Silence 13
Sloe Than if the vine had borne the bitter s. To thee with whom 4
Slow The s vibrations of whose pendulum, Half after midnight ! 7
Slow-ripening S-r to the grace of womanhood, To thee with whom 13
Slumber S not now, gird up thy loins for fight, O God, make this age 10
Slumbrous Bathing in the s coves, A dark Indian maiden 7
Small S thanks or credit shall I have, I keep no more 3
Smile (s) how demure a s, How full That is his portrait 6
Smile (s) (continued) Sleeps round those quiet lips ; not quite a s ; That is his portrait 9
Smile (verb) Look he s's, and opens his hands, Bright is the moon 4 Smiled And they s on Anacaona, A dark Indian maiden 58 this one s, that other waved his arms, That is his portrait 22
Smooth S as Thames below your gates, Vicar of this 18
Snake floating s Roll'd round her ankles, One was the Tishbite 9
Snatch Still humming s'es of old song, Youth, lapsing i 38
Snout monstrous rocks from craggy s's Deep glens I found 3
Snow (See also Summer-snow) Deep dells of s sunk on each side Far off in the dun 97
With flush of rain, or molten s's, Not to Silence 20
Snowy She saw the s poles and Moons of Mars, Hither, when all 9
To s crofts and winding scars, Youth, lapsing i 18
Snug or the s brick box Of some sleek citizen. Hear you the sound 19
Sob Thick s's and short shrill screams Far off in the dun 17
Sober when each one leaves The middle road of s thought ! They wrought, etc. 28
Social A noise of hands that disarrange The s engine ! ,, 22
Socket His s's were eyeless, but in them slept A red infernal glow ; Far off in the dun 81
Soft Crown'd with s shade her deepening floods Youth, lapsing i 3
Solemn When there stood a dark coach at an old Inn door At the s midnight hour. Far off in the dun 36
With a s burst of thrilling light, ,, 119 is heard The shrill and s warning ' Ever, Never ' : Half after midnight ! 14
Stately and mild, and all between Valleys full of s sound, Thy soul is like 9
Solitary Upon the brink A s fortress burns, Youth, lapsing ii 14
Solitude Youth, lapsing thro' fair s's, ,, i 1
Solve Unvext by doubts I cannot s, ,, 50
Sombre Nor wanting many a s mound, Thy soul is like 7
Something Was s that another could not be, That is his portrait 25
And there is s greatly done : Youth, lapsing ii 12
Son I and my s's s's and our offspring, Hear you the sound 24
O leave not thou thy s forlorn ; O leave not thou 1
Song air Of death, with s's of pride : Far off in the dun 110
Accepts the s's you gave, and he sends Little Aubrey 2 full God-bless-you with this book of s, Take, Lady 2 Still humming snatches of old s, Youth, lapsing i 38 from the gulf A murmur of heroic s, ,, ii 19
Sooner S or later from the haze ,, i 55
Soothe With pleasant hymns they s the air Far off in the dun 109
Sorrow Nor S beauteous in her youth, Are those the far-famed 7
I reck not for the s or the strife : Why suffers 13
The sacred s's of as pure a heart Woman of noble 4
Soul Yet her own deep s says nay : The lamps were bright 24
Rosebud, open, yield Thy fragrant s.' The night, etc. 6
The frame, the mind, the s of man, They wrought, etc. 43
God walk'd the waters of thy s, Thou may'st remember 7
Thy s is like a landskip, friend, Thy soul is like 1
God be gracious to my s ! What rustles 15
As my own s is full, to overflowing— Why suffers 8
Sound (s) No s of joy, no revelling tones Far off in the dun 41
And a s of stringed lyres. ,, 120
With a silver s the wheels went round, ,, 121
Hear you the s of wheels ? Hear you the sound 1 may keep A s in her ears like the s of the deep, Like the s That the voice 2
He loved the river's roaring s ; The child was sitting 3
A s of words that change to blows ! They wrought, etc. 17
A s of blows on armed breasts ! ,, 18 between Valleys full of solemn s, Thy soul is like 9
That wash'd her shores with blissful s's : Youth, lapsing i 4
When to this s my face I turn'd, ,, 41
Sound (verb) S ' Ever, Never ' thro' the courts of Hell, Half after midnight ! 9
But did not s so joyfully : Youth, lapsing i 24
Sounded leaders bounded, the guard's horn s : Far off in the dun 89
Southern The s stars a music peal'd, The night, etc. 2
Spake man, Most eloquent, who s of things Methought I saw 3 he s : ' I lift the eyes of thought, That is his portrait 33
Spanish My S blood ran proudly in my veins. Hear you the sound 45

Sparkle The casements s on the plain, Youth, lapsing ii 39
Speak If you could s, would you not say : Early-wise 3
Which s of us to other centuries, Hear you the sound 27
I murmur'd ' S again, my love, Remember you 7
S to me from the stormy sky ! Speak to me 1
S to me, dearest, lest I die. " 4
S to me, let me hear or see ! " 5
Seest thou my faults and wilt not s ? " 7
This is the man of whom you heard me s. That is his portrait 15
He strokes his beard before he s's ; Yon huddled cloud 10
To s of what had gone before, Youth, lapsing i 27
Speakest My friend, thou s from the heart, I keep no more 15
Spear On growing s's, by fits the lady ash Townsmen, etc. 9
Spire Set round with many a toppling s, Deep glens I found 2 Spirit an inner s fed Their ever-burning fires,) Far off in the dun 117
The happy s's within ; " 130
I mourn in s when I think The year, I, loving Freedom 5
Were I not a s blest, Not a whisper 7
Great s's grow akin to base. They wrought, etc. 16
To hold the S of the Age Against the S of the Time. " 47
When thine own s was at strife With thine own s. Thou may'st remember 2 stood The tearful s of the time ; Youth, lapsing i 34
Warm beats my blood, my s thirsts ; " ii 45
Spiritual Of beryl, and of amethyst Was the s frame. Far off in the dun 124
Thro' s dark we come Into the light of s life.' Thou may'st remember 5
Spoke Cold words I s, yet loved thee warm and well. To thee with whom 8
Spot s Where it was my chance to marry, Vicar of this 1
Spread were s Around in the chilling air, Far off in the dun 101
How every brake and flower s and rose, That is his portrait 26
Spring (fountain) Variously from its far s, Not to Silence 27
Spring (season) Are pleasant from the early S to when, Townsmen, etc. 7
I heard S laugh in hidden rills, Youth, lapsing i 13
Spring (verb) never green thing will gaily s In that Far off in the dun 9 the laverock s From under the deep, Full light aloft 1
That he s's from the common stock. How is it that men 6
Springing Over the dark sea-marge s, A dark Indian maiden 39
Spur She s's an imitative will ; Young is the grief 6
Spurge S with fairy crescent set, Spurge with fairy 1 Square See Four-square
Stalwart Admire that s shape, those ample brows, That is his portrait 4
Stand Wherefore s I here ? Half after midnight ! 18
Not like Silence shall she s, Not to Silence 9
Not with this age wherefrom ye s apart, Therefore your Halls 11
Standard Day by day Watch your s roses blowing, Vicar of this 12
Standers by And looks to awe the s b, Because she bore 4
Standing And they saw her s by, The lamps were bright 51
Star Dissolve a world, condense a s, Are those the far-famed 14
As s's they shone, in raiment white, Far off in the dun 131
Shudder'd with silent s's, she clomb, Hither, when all 2 light In mid Orion, and the married s's. " 11
The southern s's a music peal'd, The night, etc. 2
And shook the frosty winter s's. Youth, lapsing i 20
Staring And, s as in trance, The lamps were bright 45
Starless mutter of deep-mouth'd thunderings Shakes all the s pole, Far off in the dun 16
Vast wastes of s glooms were spread Around " 101
Starr'd The s abysses of the sky, 'Tis not alone 2
Starry and bee-like swarms Of suns, and s streams. Hither, when all 8
Startle s the dull ears of human kind ! O God, make this age 5
State Wed to no faction in the s, I, loving Freedom 3 thro' the channels of the s Convoys They wrought, etc. 30
Stately I deemed her one of s frame Because she bore 3
S and mild, and all between Valleys full of solemn sound, Thy soul is like 8 two fair lilies growing at thy side Have slowly prosper'd into s flowers. Woman of noble 12
Statesman Shadows of statesmen, clever men ! They wrought, etc. 12
Stay I found the Present where I s : Youth, lapsing i 48
Yet well I know that nothing s's, " 53
Stedfast They glitter'd with a s light, Far off in the dun 129
Steed And his hot s's never run : " 4
Their s's were strong exceedingly : " 125
Steeple S, and stream, and forest lawn, Thy soul is like 2
Steering be not precipitate in thine act Of s, Steersman 2
Steersman S, be not precipitate in thine act " 1
Stemm'd See Hollow-stemm'd
Step (s) A s ? a footfall ? What is that I hear ? What rustles 2
Step (verb) S thro' these doors, and I will show That is his portrait 44
Stepp'd-Stept as he stept thro' the crowd, Far off in the dun 75
I stepp'd upon the old mill bridge ? Remember you 4
Stepping S lightly flower-laden, A dark Indian maiden 3
Loftily s with fair faces. " 64
Stept See Stepp'd
Stern burn With a light so wild and s ? ' The lamps were bright 16
Still The night is black and s ; the deer What rustles 3
The cedar-wooded paradise Of s Xaraguay : A dark Indian maiden 21
Still'd waters of thy soul, And s them. Thou may'st remember 8
Stir Not a whisper s's the gloom, Not a whisper 1
Stirr'd Call to its mate when nothing s Remember you 15 this so s him in his hour of joy, That is his portrait 31
Stithy Bang thy s stronger and stronger, Wherever evil 8
Stock That he springs from the common s. How is it that men 6
Stole Warm beams across the meadows s ; The night, etc. 3
Stone Her grave—a simple s ! Along this glimmering 8 Stood there s a dark coach at an old Inn door Far off in the dun 35
s alone And still in the dark doorway : " 49
I that s in On beside the flow ' Here, I that stood 1
I laugh'd to see him as he s, I met in all 7
As when he s on Carmel-steeps One was the Tishbite 2 s The tearful spirit of the time ; Youth, lapsing i 33
Storm There lies a land of chilling s's, Far off in the dun 5
A voice before the s, I, loving Freedom 4
Stormy Speak to me from the s sky ! Speak to me 1
The child was sitting on the bank Upon a s day, The child was sitting 2
The silent hills, the s floods, 'Tis not alone 3
Stouter Gives s ale and riper port Than any in the country-side. Yon huddled cloud 7
Strand I took delight in this fair s and free ; Here often when a child 2
Strange To draw s comfort from the earth, S beauties from the sky. Far off in the dun 31
S fiery eyes glared fiercely thro' The windows of shaven bone. " 47
Thro' s seas drew me to your monster town. Here, I that stood 8
How s it is, O God, to wake, How strange it is 1
Stranger It were, O Heaven, a s tale to tell To thee with whom 3
Streak Fast by me flash the cloudy s's, Youth, lapsing ii 46 Stream (s) Before them flow'd a fiery s ; Far off in the dun 127 swarms Of suns, and starry s's. Hither, when all 8
The s is loud : I cannot hear ! ' Remember you 8
Steeple, and s, and forest lawn, Thy soul is like 2
And where the secret s's rejoice. Youth, lapsing i 12
Stream (verb) That s's about the bend ; Steersman 5
Streaming S thro' his osier'd aits ! Vicar of this 20
Street To fling his doubts into the s. He was too good 4
Up the s we took her As far as to the Castle, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 9 Strength fears that waste The s of men, They wrought, etc. 23 all the s thou wouldst have been : Young is the grief 12
Stretch'd With one arm s out bare, One was the Tishbite 3
Stricken See Thunder-stricken
Stride as to Fame, who s's the earth Well, as to Fame 1
Strife not pause At the s of the shadowy wheels, Far off in the dun 94
Henceforward no other s— Frenchman, etc. 6
When thine own spirit was at s Thou may'st remember 2
Parish feud, or party s, Vicar of this 8
I reck not for the sorrow or the s : Why suffers 13
Strike And shadows s and shadows sink, Youth, lapsing ii 15
A tempest s's the craggy walls, " 21
Stringéd And a sound of s lyres. Far off in the dun 120
Strode grim old coaches s to the box, " 87
Stroke He s's his beard before he speaks ; Yon huddled cloud 10
Strong Their steeds were s exceedingly : Far off in the dun 125
It is not good to drink s wine Ere the day be well-nigh done ; Full light aloft 9
Tall, eager, lean and s, his cloak wind-borne Behind, One was the Tishbite 5
Long, Eustace, long May my s wish, transgressing the low bound Of mortal hope, That is his portrait 38
' Come ' and I come, the wind is s : Youth, lapsing ii 17
Stronger Bang thy stithy s and s, Wherever evil 8
Stud Drove into lines and s's of light Youth, lapsing i 6

Sublime He, seeing far an end s, They wrought, etc. 45
Such Nor proved I s delight as he, to mark The humours of the polling and the wake, That is his portrait 19
Sudden The night with s odour reel'd, The night, etc. 1
Suffer Why s's human life so soon eclipse ? Why suffers 1
Suffer'd His and my friendship have not s loss, That is his portrait 41 Summer (adj.) The s plains with their shining leaves, The s hills they see ; Far off in the dun 69 to return with thee Some happy S morning, Woman of noble 9 Summer (s) Floated in the silent s : A dark Indian maiden 40 and lie A thousand s's at her feet. Because she bore 8
S thro' all her sleepy leaves Murmur'd : Youth, lapsing i 14
Summer-snow My coldness was mistimed like s-s, To thee with whom 7
Summit Thence, across the s hurl'd, Not to Silence 33
Down from the s sweeps the day Youth, lapsing ii 31
Sun s Drew down the West his feeble lights ; Deep glens I found 5
Behind the burning S : Far off in the dun 2
At the rising of the s. Full light aloft 12 bee-like swarms Of s's, and starry streams. Hither, when all 8 of the changes of the s's ? Little Aubrey 6
Near the shrine, but half in s, Not to Silence 17
The image of the s by day, Youth, lapsing i 7
I follow to the morning s, „ ii 10
Sunbright cocoa-shadow'd coves, Of s Xaraguay, A dark Indian maiden 9 Sunder'd That never can be s without tears. Beauty, Good, etc. 2 clouds are s toward the morning-rise ; O God, make this age 9
Sunk Deep dells of snow s on each side Far off in the dun 97
Sunless Deep glens I found, and s gulfs, Deep glens I found 1
Thick sobs and short shrill screams arise Along the s waste, Far off the dun 18
Sunset You'd sit there From dawn till s Hear you the sound 39
Surface A s man of many theories, And yet not true to one : A surface man 1
Susan to walk With S on the shore ! How glad am I 2
Swallow'd eyes Are s in his pamper'd cheeks. Yon huddled cloud 12
Swarm bee-like s's Of suns, and starry streams. Hither, when all 7
Swarthy Those thoughtful furrows in the s cheek ; That is his portrait 3
Swear S to be one for ever, Frenchman, etc. 10
Sweep With twinkling finger s's her yellow keys. Townsmen, etc. 10
Down from the summit s's the day Youth, lapsing ii 31
Sweet Maizebread and the yuccaroot, Of s Xaraguay : A dark Indian maiden 45
With fair blue eyes and winning s, Because she bore 6 the laverock spring From under the deep, s corn, Full light aloft 2
But thou hast drunk of the merry, s wine, „ 11
He was too good and kind and s, He was too good 1 and drank The s sad tears of wisdom.' Methought I saw 6
S Kitty Sandilands, The daughter of the doctor, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 1
These voices did not cease to cry Only they took a s tone, Youth, lapsing i 23
Again the low s voices murmur'd In distant fields, „ i 43 and all comes back Which in that early voice was s, „ ii 42
Sweetness the s which thou wast In thy beginnings Young is the grief 10
Swung S creaking before the Inn. Far off in the dun 44

T

Table that large t of the breast dispread, That is his portrait 5
Tacit Become a t eloquent reproach Unto the dissipation of this Earth. Half after midnight ! 3
Taint And free from t of sin. Far off in the dun 132
Take And long'd to t his hand in mine. I met in all 4
T thou the ' bend,' 'twill save thee many a day. Steersman 8
T, Lady, what your loyal nurses give, Take, Lady 1 and the d——l t the parties ! They say, etc. 10
t with thee Our warmest wishes, Woman of noble 5
Taking Regions of lucid matter t forms, Hither, when all 5 Tale At some sad t of wrong, and do the wrong A surface man 6 a stranger t to tell Than if the vine To thee with whom 3
And ever new the t she tells, Young is the grief 2
Talk How glad am I to t ! I kiss How glad am I 3
Tall For they were fair-faced and t, They were more fair-faced and t, A dark Indian maiden 55
T, eager, lean and strong, his cloak One was the Tishbite 5
Taper No t's light look'd out on the night, Far off in the dun 45
Tar Up, Jack T's, and save us ! (repeat) They say, etc. 5, 12, 19
Up, Jack T's, my hearties ! „ 10
The lasses and the little ones, Jack T's, they look to you ! „ 15
Tarry Methinks they t somewhat. What's the clock ? Hear you the sound 3
Tasse And from it hung the t. Sweet Kitty Sandilands 12
Taste Her perfect lips to t, One was the Tishbite 12
' To those who will not t it more ! ' Yon huddled cloud 16
Taught with thee, Mother, t us first to pray, Remembering him 2
Tavern by the t in the dale, The thirsty horseman, Yon huddled cloud 2
This t is their chief resort, „ 5
Teach T me, great Nature : make me live. O leave not thou 2
And t us nothing, feeding not the heart. Therefore your Halls 14
Tear That never can be sunder'd without t's. Beauty, Good, etc. 2
The t's bedimm'd their sight : Far off in the dun 86
The happy maiden's t's are free I keep no more 5
And mingle kisses, t's, and sighs, Life of the Life 6 drank The sweet sad t's of wisdom.' Methought I saw 6 water'd by thy t's, The two fair lilies Woman of noble 10
Tearful Full fields of barley shifting t lights On growing spears, Townsmen, etc. 8
Beside my door at morning stood The t spirit of the time ; Youth, lapsing i 34
Tell t me you were great Already in your birth. Hear you the sound 59
' Now, t me, mother, pray, The lamps were bright 9
There's a treaty, so they t us, They say, etc. 3 a stranger tale to t Than if the vine To thee with whom 3
And I will t you what I know— Well, as to Fame 4
And ever new the tale she t's, Young is the grief 2
Temper T's the peaceful light of hazel eyes, That is his portrait 13
Tempest A t strikes the craggy walls, Youth, lapsing ii 21
Temple build A t in her naked field ; Not to Silence 2
Ten T men fought a thousand, Slew them and overthrew. Bold Havelock 7
Tender But found a maiden t, shy, Because she bore 5
Havelock died, T and great and good, Bold Havelock 14
Terrace your triple t growing Green and greener Vicar of this 14
Terror My hope is false, my t's true ! What rustles 12
Thames Smooth as T below your gates, Vicar of this 18
T along the silent level, „ 19
Thank I t thee, God, that thou hast made me live : Why suffers 12
Thanks Small t or credit shall I have, I keep no more 3
Thatch'd For it were almost mockery to hang it O'er the t cottage, Hear you the sound 19
Theory A surface man of many theories, A surface man 1
Thick T sobs and short shrill screams arise Far off in the dun 17
And the moaning wind before it drives T wreaths of cloudy dew. „ 24
His heart throbs t, his brain reels sick : „ 27
The knotted boughs of this long avenue Of t dark oaks, Hear you the sound 11
For, tho' the faults be t as dust In vacant chambers, The noblest men 10
Thicken Wherever evil customs t, Wherever evil 1
Thicket See Holly-thickets
Thin A land of t faces and shadowy forms, Far off in the dun 7
The skin hung lax on his long t hands ; „ 53
Thing never green t will gaily spring „ 9 t's of past days with their horrible eyes „ 19
And from the heart of all t's fair He was too good 11 man, Most eloquent, who spake of t's divine. Methought I saw 3 Who make you utter t's you did not say, Old ghosts 10 light of hazel eyes, Observing all t's. That is his portrait 14
In the dreaming of past t's : The lamps were bright 22
All t's please you, nothing vex you, Vicar of this 9
And your three young t's at play, „ 13
Glancing off from all t's evil, „ 17
The difference of all t's to the sense, Why suffers 10
And how all t's become the past. Youth, lapsing i 28 Think when I t The year, that comes, I, loving Freedom 5 t a cunning hand has found the clue— What rustles 14
Thirst Warm beats my blood, my spirit t's ; Youth, lapsing ii 45

Thirsty The t horseman, nodding, lifts The creaming horn of corny ale! Yon huddled cloud 3 Thought (s) thro' all phases of all t I come From shape to shape 3 every line Wore the pale cast of t, Methought I saw 2 he spake: 'I lift the eyes of t, That is his portrait 33
Her t's have found their wings The lamps were bright 21
The middle road of sober t! They wrought, etc. 28
Thy t did scale a purer range Thou may'st remember 10
Thought (verb) What time (he t) have loom or plough He was too good 7
March'd and t and fought, Bold Havelock 11
Thoughtful there Hovering, t, poised in air. Not to Silence 12
Those t furrows in the swarthy cheek; That is his portrait 3
Thousand And longed to kiss her hand and lie A t summers at her feet. Because she bore 8
I that stood in On beside the flow Of sacred Nile, three t years ago!— Here, I that stood 2
Threat Not deals in t's, but works with hope, They wrought, etc. 39
Three Beauty, Good and Knowledge are t sisters . . . Beauty, Good, etc. 1
I that stood in On beside the flow Of sacred Nile, t thousand years ago!— Here, I that stood 2
And your t young things at play, Vicar of this 13 Threshold on her t lie, Howling in outer darkness.' Beauty, Good, etc. 4 bearest from the t of thy friends Woman of noble 3 Threw t up the dust Of dead men's pulverised bones. Far off in the dun 91 and t back Your floating hair. Hear you the sound 42
Thrilling With a solemn burst of t light, Far off in the dun 119
And shriek and shout to drown the t noise. Half after midnight! 16
Throb His heart t's thick, his brain reels sick: Far off in the dun 27
Throbbing Comes hither t thro' the dark; Youth, lapsing ii 8
Throne Go forward! crumble down a t, Are those the far-famed 13
Hard by the burning t of my great grandsire, Half after midnight! 6
You were wont to call it Your t. Hear you the sound 36
Thunder The t cannot make thee dumb; Youth, lapsing ii 26
Thundering mutter of deep-mouth'd t's Shakes Far off in the dun 15
Thunder-peal The latest t-p hath peal'd, Youth, lapsing ii 30
Thunder-stricken With the flock of the t-s. Wherever evil 5
Tickled ear Be t with the loud 'hear, hear,' They wrought, etc. 7
Tide Then they cried at the turn of the t— Popular, Popular 4
Time That Inn was built at the birth of T: Far off in the dun 37 you would be A great man in your t, Hear you the sound 57
What t (he thought) have loom or plough He was too good 7
They wrought a work which T reveres, They wrought, etc. 1
Against the Spirit of the T. ,, 48
We lost you for how long a t, We lost you 1
But pap-meat-pamper not the t Wherever evil 4 pure a heart As e'er beat t to Nature, Woman of noble 5 stood The tearful spirit of the t; Youth, lapsing i 34
Tinge not a t on each high cheek bone, Far off in the dun 51
Tingling Before his eyes so grim and calm The t blood grew chill, ,, 78
Tishbite One was the T whom the raven fed, One was the Tishbite 1
Tithe Never t unpaid perplex you, Vicar of this 7
Toil If night, what barren t to be! Gone into darkness 6
Tomb 'From the t And charnel-place Thou may'st remember 3 Tone no revelling t's Of carouse were heard Far off in the dun 41 thro' the night ran the lengthen'd t's: ,, 90
Only they took a sweeter t, Youth, lapsing i 23
Toned See Lute-toned
Tongue my t runs twenty knots an hour: Half after midnight! 19
Tongued See Trumpet-tongued Took t her As far as to the Castle, Sweet Kitty Sandilands 9 t in more of Nature than mine own: That is his portrait 18
T the child from off the ground, The child was sitting 6
Only they t a sweeter tone, Youth, lapsing i 23
Top He brims his beaker to the t, Yon huddled cloud 13
Toppling Set round with many a t spire, Deep glens I found 2
Toss bitterly I trow they turn and t Half after midnight! 15
Touch see, ye dare not t the truth, Are those the far-famed 6
Touch'd T with Heaven's latest lights. Thy soul is like 12
Tower (s) battlemented t's Of my old ancestors! Hear you the sound 12
The t's gleam among the vines; Youth, lapsing ii 40
Tower (verb) leafless oak Which t's above the lake Hear you the sound 33
Town drew me to your monster t. Here, I that stood 8
Townsman Townsmen, or of the hamlet, young or old, Townsmen, etc. 1
Track Intent to follow on the t, Youth, lapsing i 42
Track (continued) Yet am I dizzy in the t, Youth, lapsing ii 43
Tract With long t's of murmuring, Not to Silence 28
Traitor Nor t's that mislead by names! Not such were those 4
Trance And, staring as in t, The lamps were bright 45
Transgressing t the low bound Of mortal hope, That is his portrait 38
Traveller Dimly the t's look'd thro' the glooms, Far off in the dun 57
Traverse And I must t yonder plain: Youth, lapsing i 54
Treaty There's a t, so they tell us, They say, etc. 3 Tree (See also Oak-tree) Beneath the papao t! A dark Indian maiden 33 above the barkless t's They saw the green verge Far off in the dun 62
The night gale in those t's. Hear you the sound 8
Trim-set I hate the t-s plots of art!' I keep no more 14
Triple And your t terrace growing Green and greener every May! Vicar of this 14
A mountain bright with t peaks: Youth, lapsing ii 48
Trow Worn and wan was their gaze, I t, Far off in the dun 58
Then bitterly I t they turn and toss Half after midnight! 15
True man of many theories, And yet not t to one: A surface man 2
Early-wise, and pure, and t, Early-wise 1
That man's the t Conservative First drink a health 7
The t men banish'd— Rise, Britons, rise 4
I can trust Your woman's nature kind and t. The noblest men 12
God bless the little isle where a man may still be t! They say, etc. 17
To thee with whom my t affections dwell, To thee with whom 1
T Pearl of our poetic prime! We lost you 2
My hope is false, my terror's t! What rustles 12 take with thee Our warmest wishes, silent Guardians
But t till Death; Woman of noble 7
Truest Art for Art's sake! Hail, t Lord of Hell! Art for Art's sake! 1
Trumpet Rang like a t clear and dry, Youth, lapsing i 19
Behind yon hill the t's blow, ,, ii 11
Trumpet-tongued Mind, Whose t-t, aerial melody O God, make this age 3
Trust I can t Your woman's nature The noblest men 11
Truth see, ye dare not touch the t, Are those the far-famed 6 bind Falsehood beneath the altar of great T: O God, make this age 8 Truth-seeking T-s he and not afraid, He was too good 5
Turn (s) in t shall be Shut out from Love, Beauty, Good, etc. 3
Then they cried at the t of the tide— Popular, Popular 4
Down to his slightest t's and attitudes— That is his portrait 24
And Heaven is dark and bright by t's. Youth, lapsing ii 16
Turn (verb) bitterly I trow they t and toss Half after midnight! 15
Turn'd Life, to this wind, t all her vanes, Youth, lapsing i 29
When to this sound my face I t, ,, 41
Twenty Methinks my tongue runs t knots an hour: Half after midnight! 19
Twilight Than our poor t dawn on earth— Gone into darkness 5
With the first t of the even, Thy soul is like 4
Twinfold Forethinking its t necessity, That is his portrait 49
Twinkling—by fits the lady ask With t finger sweeps her yellow keys. Townsmen, etc. 10
And sometimes with a t drop, Yon huddled cloud 15
Two Parts in t channels, moving to one end— Steersman 3
A land of many days that cleaves In t great halves, They wrought, etc. 27
The t fair lilies growing at thy side Have slowly prosper'd into stately flowers. Woman of noble 11

U

Uncertain U of ourselves we chase They wrought, etc. 13
Unconscious Tho' thou art all u of thy Might. O God, make this age 14
Undefiled On her forehead u I will print Not a whisper 11
Under-air When all the u-a was still, Remember you 10
Unexprest A hint of somewhat u. 'Tis not alone 8
Unfading with forms Of the u marble carved upon them, Hear you the sound 26
Unheeded Pointing to the u lapse of hours, Half after midnight! 2
Union Their offspring of this u. Old ghosts 8
Unpaid Never tithe u perplex you, Vicar of this 7
Unpopular Popular, Popular, U! Popular, Popular 1
'Why?' said the Poet. 'You're u!' ,, 3
Pop-gun, Popular and U! ,, 6

Unroused keep Our awful inner ghostly sense U, How strange it is 6
Unschool'd Yet one u in want will say I keep no more 7
Unsocket U all the joints of war, Are those the far-famed 15
Unsounded when all the deep u skies Shudder'd with silent stars, Hither, when all 1
Unswathe The clouds u them from the height, Youth, lapsing ii 50
Unvext U by doubts I cannot solve, „ i 50
Unwholesome There never green thing will gaily spring In that u air, Far off in the dun 10
These fear not the mists of u damps That through that region rove, „ 113
Up-gather'd left hand holds Her u-g garment folds, Not to Silence 14
Uplands And hoary holts on u green, Thy soul is like 10
Urn Thro' one whole life an overflowing u, That is his portrait 50
Usage He cares, if ancient u fade, They wrought, etc. 33

V

Vacant For, tho' the faults be thick as dust In v chambers, The noblest men 11
Vale ' Come ' and I come, the v is deep, Youth, lapsing ii 27
Valley between V's full of solemn sound, Thy soul is like 9
Vane Life, to this wind, turn'd all her v's, Youth, lapsing i 29
Vanish'd All freedom v— Rise, Britons, rise 3 Vapor-Vapour Of vapors, and mist, and night. Far off in the dun 8 from the golden vapour bursts Youth, lapsing ii 47
Variation Chequer'd with moonlight's v, Hear you the sound 22
Various How every brake and flower spread and rose, A v world ! That is his portrait 27
Vast (adj.) V wastes of starless glooms were spread Around in the chilling air, Far off in the dun 101
Vast (s) Look out from the cloudy v. „ 20 can they last In the v Of the rolling æons, Little Aubrey 5
Vaulted And the chapel's v gloom Was misted with perfume. The lamps were bright 7
Veil And v's a breast more fair to me Not to Silence 15
Vein My Spanish blood ran proudly in my v's. Hear you the sound 45
Verge saw the green v of the pleasant earth, Far off in the dun 63
Verse I would shrine her in my v ! Not to Silence 8
Very till the v wrong itself Had found him out. A surface man 7
At the v break of light ? Full light aloft 8
Vex All things please you, nothing v you, Vicar of this 9
Vibration The slow v's of whose pendulum, Half after midnight ! 7
Vicar V of this pleasant spot Vicar of this 1
Vicarage In the V by the quarry. „ 4
Vice heart of his Hard, and the slave of v ; A surface man 4
Victim and the v, Broken in this anger Faded ev'ry violet 2
Victor (adj.). Are those the far-famed V Hours Are those the far-famed 1
Victor (s) Yields to the v. Faded ev'ry violet 4
Victory Every battle a v. Bold Havelock 4
Shall drink the fulness of thy v, O God, make this age 13
Vine (adj.) dark v leaves round the rustling eaves, Far off in the dun 71
Vine (s) Than if the v had borne the bitter sloe. To thee with whom 4
The towers gleam among the v's ; Youth, lapsing ii 40
Violet Faded ev'ry v, all the roses ; Faded ev'ry violet 1
Virtue whose whims were meant For v's servants, A surface man 3
Voice (See also Cuckoo-voice) They hear each household v : Far off in the dun 66
We help the blatant v abroad He was too good 9
A v before the storm, I, loving Freedom 4
And the v that apes a nation— Immeasurable sadness ! 5
The low v of the glad New Year Remember you 11
That the v of a satisfied people That the voice 1 deer Bleat as with human v's in the park. What rustles 4 Sent thro' my blood a prophet v Youth, lapsing i 10 a v ran round the hills When corny Lammas „ 15
A v, when night had crept on high, „ 17
These v's did not cease to cry, „ 22
a sharper v Cried in the future ' Come along.' „ 39
Again the low sweet v's mourn'd „ 43
The second v will peal again. „ 56
A v like many v's cries, „ ii 7
The v cries, ' Come.' „ 13
Voice (continued) Which in that early v was sweet, Youth lapsing ii 42 Void A region v of light, Far off in the dun 6
Volumed See Myriad-volumed
Vulgar Ha ! by St. James Mine was no v mind in infancy, Hear you the sound 62

W

Waft A light wind w's me from my feet. Youth, lapsing ii 44
Wail There may be short cessation of their w's, Half after midnight ! 12
Waist I clasp her slender w, How glad am I 5 round her w Knotted, One was the Tishbite 10
Wait Remembering him who w's thee far away, Remembering him 1
Dim grief did w upon her, The lamps were bright 33
Wake (festival) humours of the polling and the w, That is his portrait 20
Wake (verb) How strange it is, O God, to w, To watch and w while others sleep, How strange it is 1
Wakening And chants in the golden w Full light aloft 3
Walk Whoever w's that bitter ground Far off in the dun 25
How glad am I to w With Susan How glad am I 1
Walk'd God w the waters of thy soul, Thou may'st remember 7
Walking While w with my rod and line, I met in all 2
Wall The w's of lava rose, Far off in the dun 38
Richly and darkly girdle these gray w's,— Hear you the sound 23
A tempest strikes the craggy w's, Youth, lapsing ii 21
Wan Worn and w was their gaze, I trow, Far off in the dun 58
Wand shanks were shrunken to willow w's „ 55
Wander Whithersoever you may w now, Townsmen, etc. 2
He moan'd, ' I w from my good ! ' Youth, lapsing i 35
Wander'd No more in Xaraguay W happy Anacaona, A dark Indian maiden 70 Want Yet one unschool'd in w will say I keep no more 7
They are not w of love for thee. Speak to me 8
Wanting Nor w many a sombre mound, Thy soul is like 7
Wanton The w wind came singing lustily Among the moss-grown branches, Hear you the sound 41
We faint unless the w ear Be tickled with the loud ' hear, hear,' They wrought, etc. 6
Wantoning W in orange groves Naked, A dark Indian maiden 5
War Unsocket all the joints of w, Are those the far-famed 15
Warbling Indian maiden, W in the bloom'd liana, A dark Indian maiden 2
'Tis not alone the w woods, 'Tis not alone 1
Warm W beams across the meadow stole ; The night, etc. 3
Cold words I spoke, yet loved thee w and well. To thee with whom 8
W beats my blood, my spirit thirsts ; Youth, lapsing ii 45
Warmest take with thee Our w wishes, Woman of noble 6
Warning The shrill and solemn w ' Ever, Never ' : Half after midnight ! 14
Warrant Ay, Ay, I w you, and when I came Hear you the sound 46
Wash'd That w her shores with blissful sounds : Youth, lapsing i 4
Waste (s) screams arise Along the sunless w, Far off in the dun 18
Vast w's of starless glooms were spread „ 101
Waste (verb) fears that w The strength of men, They wrought, etc. 22 would you w an hour, Townsmen, etc. 3
Watch To w and wake while others sleep, How s range it is 2
W your standard roses blowing, Vicar of this 12
Watch't heart That w with love thine earliest infancy, To thee with whom 12
Water (See also Milldam-water) When o'er the w dancing white Remember you 3
God walk'd the w's of thy soul, Thou may'st remember 7
Water'd w by thy tears, The two fair lilies Woman of noble 10
Waterfall A moan of many w's, Youth, lapsing ii 23
Waved Our flags have w together ! Frenchman, etc. 2 this one smiled, that other w his arms, That is his portrait 22
Waving W a palm branch, wondering, A dark Indian maiden 51
Waxen You'd weave your w fingers in these locks (They are gray now) Hear you the sound 58
Way So prone are we toward the broad w to Hell. Art for Art's sake! 6
What's the clock ? Mich. Half w toward midnight. Hear you the sound 4
she will weep and give them w ; I keep no more 6
I met in all the close green w's, I met in all 1

Way (continued) tho' the cataract seem the nearer w, Steersman 6
Thro' the deep hall forced its w, The lamps were bright 42 my love Coming along the secret w's ? What rustles 6
Seeing the heart so wondrous in her w's, Why suffers 3
I loiter'd in the middle w, Youth, lapsing i 46
Up hither have I found my w, " ii 29
Weak Alas, my life is frail and w : Speak to me 6
Weave w your waxen fingers in these locks Hear you the sound 58
Wed W to no faction in the state, I, loving Freedom 3
Wedded Then they found him where he lay
Whom the w wife did slay, The lamps were bright 48
Weep he would w For ills himself had practised A surface man 4
And she will w and give them way ; I keep no more 6
Sisters, I could almost w ! Not a whisper 8
Weeping O Mother-Queen, and w Wife, Early-wise 7
' I love the daisy w dew, I keep no more 13
Weigh To w them as they should be weighed ? He was too good 8
Weighed To weigh them as they should be w ? " 8
Welcome She gave the white men w all, A dark Indian maiden 53
Well Yes, mightier than the purest painted w, Art for Art's sake! 5
Thro' his own nature, with w mingled hues, That is his portrait 28
Cold words I spoke, yet loved thee warm and w. To thee with whom 8
Went Many a mile w he, Bold Havelock 2 shapes without heads W leaping here and there. Far off in the dun 104
With a silver sound the wheels w round, " 121
Wept and do the wrong He w for, A surface man 7
West Silver sails all out of the W, Bright is the moon 12 sun Drew down the W his feeble lights ; Deep glens I found 6 Little Aubrey in the W ! Little Aubrey 1
So pausing 'twixt the East and W, Youth, lapsing i 47
Wheel As the quick w's brush'd, Far off in the dun 91 not pause At the strife of the shadowy w's, " 94
With a silver sound the w's went round, The w's " 121
Hear you the sound of w's ? Hear you the sound 1
Should fire the many w's of change ! They wrought, etc. 24
Wherefrom Not with this age w ye stand apart, Therefore your Halls 11
Whim whose w's were meant For virtue's servants, A surface man 2
Whisper (s) Else this wild w round my head Are those the far-famed 11
Not a w stirs the gloom, Not a whisper 1
Showers in a w o'er the world. Not to Silence 34
A lute-toned w, ' I am here ! ' Remember you 6
These w's rise, and fall away, 'Tis not alone 10
Whisper (verb) Another w's sick with loss : I keep no more 9
I heard you w from above, Remember you 5
Whisper'd The w love of the fair young wives ; Far off in the dun 67
White The w man's w sail, bringing To happy
Hayti the new-comer, A dark Indian maiden 37
She gave the w men welcome all, " 53 and the w fly leapt About his hairless brow. Far off in the dun 83
As stars they shone, in raiment w, " 131
Why the bride is w as clay, The lamps were bright 10 Sent thro' my blood a prophet voice Before the first w butterflies, Youth, lapsing i 11
Whiten'd moonlight That w all the eastern ridge, Remember you 2
Whole (adj.) Thro' one w life an overflowing urn, That is his portrait 50
The w world shall not brave us ! (repeat) They say, etc. 6, 13, 20
The w land glitters after rain, Youth, lapsing ii 37
Whole (s) When the shadow of night's wings
Envelopes the gloomy w, Far off in the dun 14
Widely owning more Discourse, more w wise.' From shape to shape 8
Widen All nature w's upward. " 5 Wife O Mother-Queen, and weeping W, Early-wise 7 whisper'd love of the fair young wives ; Far off in the dun 67 Whom the wedded w did slay, The lamps were bright 48
You have given me such a w ! Vicar of this 10
Wild Following her w carol She led them down the pleasant places, A dark Indian maiden 61 Else this w whisper round my head Were idler than a flight of rooks. Are those the far-famed 11
And why her black eyes burn With a light so w and stern ? ' The lamps were bright 16
Then a scream of w dismay Thro' the deep hall forced its way, " 41
Wilderness thro' the w Thou bearest from the threshold Woman of noble 2
Wildwood Fann'd this queen of the green w, A dark Indian maiden 15
Will Genius, Master of the Moral W ! Art for Art's sake! 2
She spurs an imitative w ; Young is the grief 6
A w concentric with all fate, " 15
Willow shanks were shrunken to w wands Far off in the dun 55 Wind moaning w before it drives Thick wreaths " 23 loud the roar Of w and mingled shower, " 34
The wanton w came singing lustily Hear you the sound 41
May blow alarum loud to every w, O God, make this age 4
The w is loud in holt and hill, Speak to me 2 sound of the deep when the w's are asleep ; That the voice 3
Your name is blown on every w, The noblest men 5 when the w's Are fallen or changed ; Woman of noble 9
A life four-square to all the w's. Young is the grief 16
Life, to this w, turn'd all her vanes, Youth, lapsing i 29
A noise of w's that meet and blend, " ii 2
' Come ' and I come, the w is strong : " 17
A light w wafts me from my feet. " 44
Wind-borne his cloak w-b Behind, One was the Tishbite 5
Winding To snowy crofts and w scars, Youth, lapsing i 18
Window thro' The w's of shaven bone. Far off in the dun 48
Wine Is thy mad brain drunk with the merry, red w, Full light aloft 7
It is not good to drink strong w " 9
But thou hast drunk of the merry, sweet w, " 11
Wing night's eternal w's Envelopes the gloomy whole, Far off in the dun 13
Her thoughts have found their w's The lamps were bright 21
Winged then Is this blind flight the w Powers. Are those the far-famed 4
Winning fair blue eyes and w sweet, Because she bore 6
Winter And shook the frosty w stars. Youth, lapsing i 20
Wisdom drank The sweet sad tears of w.' Methought I saw 6
Wisdom-led Or wise yourselves, or w-l, Are those the far-famed 10 Wise (See also Early-wise) Or w yourselves, or wisdom-led, " 10
owning more Discourse, more widely w.' From shape to shape 8
O the child so meek and w, Who made us w and mild ! The child was sitting 8
Like some w artist, Nature gives, 'Tis not alone 6
Mine host is fat, and gray, and w, Yon huddled cloud 9
Wiser Ye must be w than your looks, Are those the far-famed 9
Wisest How full of w humour and of love, That is his portrait 7
Wish Eustace, long May my strong w, " 38
Convoys the people's w, is great ; They wrought, etc. 31 take with thee Our warmest w's, Woman of noble 6
Witch That skinny w did say, The lamps were bright 18
Wolf A howling of the mountain w ; Youth, lapsing ii 20
Woman w's youthful pride Of rounded limbs— One was the Tishbite 16
I can trust Your w's nature kind and true. The noblest men 12
W of noble form and noble mind ! Woman of noble 1
Womanhood Slow-ripening to the grace of w, To thee with whom 13
Womb shape to shape at first within the w From shape to shape 1
All Nature is the w whence Man is born. Hold thou, my friend 2
Won praise Is neither overdealt, nor idly w. That is his portrait 43
Wondering w, loving, Carolling ' Happy, A dark Indian maiden 51
Wondrous Seeing the heart so w in her ways, Why suffers 3
Woo That would have come to w her. Sweet Kitty Sandilands 8
Wood Lady over w and highland, A dark Indian maiden 27
In the deep w no more,— " 67
The nightingale in leafy w's Remember you 14
'Tis not alone the warbling w's, 'Tis not alone 1
I grieved as w's in dripping rains Youth, lapsing i 31 Wooded (See also Cedar-wooded) Dancing by a palmy bay, In the w paradise, A dark Indian maiden 19
Thro' w isles the river shines, Youth, lapsing ii 38 Woodland Dancing on the blossomy plain To a w melody : A dark Indian maiden 30
Word A sound of w's that change to blows ! They wrought, etc. 17
Cold w's I spoke, yet loved thee warm To thee with whom 8
Wore face whose every line W the pale cast Methought I saw 2
Work (s) They wrought a w which Time reveres, They wrought, etc. 1
Nature gives, Thro' all her w's, 'Tis not alone 7
Work (verb) Not deals in threats, but w's with hope, They wrought, etc. 39
Working A labour w to an end. Youth, lapsing ii 4 World Dissolve a w, condense a star, Are those the far-famed 14 which of us most shall help the w, Frenchman, etc. 7

World (continued) Clusters and beds of w's, Hither, when all 7
Showers in a whisper o'er the w. Not to Silence 34
I see the w's renewed youth A long day's dawn, O God, make this age 6 flower spread and rose, A various w ! That is his portrait 27
As beautiful, but yet another w. „ 30
And in the w the noblest place, The noblest men 3
The whole w shall not brave us ! (repeat) They say, etc. 6, 13, 20
If the w caterwaul, lay harder upon her Wherever evil 6
And see and hear the w revolve : Youth, lapsing i 52
Worn W and wan was their gaze, I trow, Far off in the dun 58
A dark form glances quick Thro' her w brain, The lamps were bright 28
Worshipper Latest of her w's, Not to Silence 7
Worshipt They w Freedom for her sake ; They wrought, etc. 5
Worth were w Our living out ? Gone into darkness 7 mould you all awry and mar your w ; Old ghosts 11
I know a little of her w, Well, as to Fame 3
Wove w Inextricable brickwork maze in maze ? What rustles 7 Wreath drives Thick w's of cloudy dew. Far off in the dun 24
Wreath'd w with green bays were the gorgeous lamps, „ 115
Writ high birth Had w nobility upon my brow. Hear you the sound 64
Write none can truly w his single day, And none can w it for him upon earth. Old ghosts 13
Writhe the damn'd that w Upon their beds of flame, Half after midnight ! 10 Wrong some sad tale of w, and do the w He wept for, till the very w itself Had found him out. A surface man 6 Wrought (See also Passion-wrought) W with his hand and his head, Bold Havelock 10
They w a work which Time reveres, They wrought, etc. 1 Wrung Piercing the w ears of the damn'd that writhe Upon their beds of flame, Half after midnight ! 10

X

Xaraguay cocoa-shadow'd coves Of sunbright X, A dark Indian maiden 9 cedar-wooded paradise Of still X : „ 21
Maizebread and the yuccaroot Of sweet X : „ 45
Than the men of X, „ 57
No more in X Wander'd happy Anacaona, „ 69

Y

Year I think The y, that comes, may come with shame, I, loving Freedom 6
Of sacred Nile, a thousand y's ago !— Here, I that stood 2
The low voice of the glad New Y Remember you 11
His fame is equal to his y's : That is his portrait 42
For ever into coming y's ; They wrought, etc. 4
Yellow With y groundsel grown ! Along this glimmering 6
But his face was a y gray. Far off in the dun 52
by fits the lady ash With twinkling finger sweeps her y keys. Townsmen, etc. 10
Yield Y's to the victor. Faded ev'ry violet 4
Rosebud, open, y Thy fragrant soul.' The night, etc. 5
Yoked Y the skeleton horses to. Far off in the dun 60
Yon Behind y hill the trumpets blow, Youth, lapsing ii 11 Yonder We quarrel here at home, and they plot against us y, They say, etc. 8
The despots over y, let 'em do whate'er they please ! „ 16
And I must traverse y plain : Youth, lapsing i 54
Young The whisper'd love of the fair y wives ; Far off in the dun 67
Townsmen, or of the hamlet, y or old, Townsmen, etc. 1
And your three y things at play, Vicar of this 13
Y is the grief I entertain, Young is the grief 1
And ever y the face that dwells With reason „ 3 Youth (adolescence) Nor Sorrow beauteous in her y, Are those the far-famed 7
I see the world's renewed y A long day's dawn, O God, make this age 6
Y, lapsing thro' fair solitudes, Youth, lapsing i 1
Youth (young man) Around him y's were gather'd, Methought I saw 4
Youthful and mingled with The woman's y pride
Of rounded limbs— One was the Tishbite 16 Yuccaroot She gave them the y, Maizebread and the y, A dark Indian maiden 43

A CONCORDANCE TO THE SUPPRESSED POEMS

OF

ALFRED, LORD TENNYSON

(1830-1868)

A

Abide So swiftly, that they nowhere would a, Love and Sorrow 15 in him light and joy and strength a's; Love 42
We will a in the golden vale Of the Lotos-land, Lotos-Eaters 26
Absorbed torrent of quick thought A me Timbuctoo 142
Abstraction The still serene a; The Mystic 5
Abyss The blossoming a'es of your hills? Timbuctoo 44 showering circular a Of radiance. ,, 173
Accent In a's of majestic melody, ,, 192
Accident All on-set of capricious A, ,, 26
Accurate I know not if I shape These things with a similitude ,, 134
Aching We beat upon our a hearts with rage; Love 18
Acorn on an oaken sprout A goodly a grew; But winds from heaven shook the a out, Lost Hope 6
Acropolis retir'd At midnight, in the lone A. Timbuctoo 32
Act (s) Yours are the public a's of public men, Sugg. by Reading 21
Act (verb) she did a the step-dame to mine eyes, Lover's Tale i 664
Adage widow'd, like the cur In the child's a? ,, 770
Adore all men a thee; Heaven crieth after thee; Love 25
Afresh And being there they did break forth a Lover's Tale i 731 Afric whose rapid interval Parts A from green Europe, Timbuctoo 3 cried 'Wide A, doth thy Sun Lighten, ,, 58
Again And yet a, a and evermore, The Mystic 19
Should war's mad blast a be blown, Hands all Round 41
Age and old a Is but to know thee: Love 15 for your manner sorts Not with this a, Cambridge 11
Agglomerated A swiftness, I had lived Lover's Tale i 495
Aggression Nor seek to bridle His vile a's, Britons, guard 53 Agony Wake on, my soul, nor crouch to a: Though night 5 serpent in his agonies Awestricken Indians; Love 30 in mine a, Did I make bare of all Lover's Tale ii 50
Ailment whom woful a's Of unavailing tears ,, i 818
Air ev'n as flame draws a; Timbuctoo 18
As a is th' life of flame: ,, 20
Blown round with happy a's of odorous winds? ,, 46
The indistinctest atom in deep a, ,, 100
Pure without heat, into a larger a Upburning, The Mystic 44
And as light as a; The Grasshopper 25
globefilled arch that, cleaving a, Chorus 25 Filled with a finer a: D. of F. Women 8 happy a shall woo The wither'd leaf Lover's Tale i 621 nor breathe What a's he pleased! ,, 693
Airily Keen-eyed Sisters, singing a Hesperides, Song i 25
Airy Vaulting on thine a feet. The Grasshopper 10
Airy-fashioned There be some hearts so a-f, Lover's Tale i 848
Alarm Weariness and wild a, Lotos-Eaters 2
Albion New-risen o'er awakened A— Cambridge 7
Alchemy And dross to gold with glorious a, Though night 7
All Shadows to which, despite a shocks of Change, Timbuctoo 25
And circled with the glory of living light And alternations of a hues, ,, 76
Man is the measure of a truth Unto himself. οἱ 'ρέοντες 3
A things are not told to a, Hesperides, Song iii 12 and ceasing from A contemplation of a forms, Lover's Tale i 67
The centre of a splendours, a unworthy Of such a shrine— ,, 69
And a the quaint old scraps of ancient crones, ,, 288
And throwing by a consciousness of self, ,, 787
Yet hands a round! Hands all Round 21
Alley Thro' yonder poplar a Below, Check every outflash 4
Allied God keep their lands a, God bless our Prince 2
Almeida Weep not, A, that I said to thee Love and Sorrow 3
A, if my heart were substanceless, ,, 13
Aloft and a Winnow the purple, bearing Timbuctoo 153 a Upon his renown'd Eminence bore globes ,, 170 Alone why muse you here a Upon the Mountain, ,, 77
A she is there: I' the glooming light 8
Ever a She maketh her moan: ,, 16
To fight thy mother here a, Hands all Round 43
All a she sits and hears Echoes Home they brought him 3
Altarthrone Offered to Gods upon an a; To —— 7
Altercating Alas, Church writers, a tribes— Sugg. by Reading 73
Alternate Dappled with hollow and a rise Of inter-penetrated arc, Timbuctoo 130
Alternation And a's of all hues, he stood. ,, 76
Amiss For my doubts and fears were all a, The Ringlet 19
Anakim Piled by the strong and sunborn A A fragment 20
Anarchy To shapes of wildest a, Chorus 4
Ancient A dream as frail as those of a Time?' Timbuctoo 62
There standeth our a enemy; (repeat) English War Song 23, 45
Hark! he shouteth—the a enemy! ,, 24
For his a heart is drunk with overwatchings night and day, Hesperides, Song ii 12
And the a secret revealèd. ,, iii 5
In the valley some, and some On the a heights divine; Lotos-Eaters 17
THEREFORE your halls, your a colleges, Cambridge 1
Our a boast is this—we reverence law. Sugg. by Reading 34
And trust an a manhood and the cause Of England ,, 39
And all the quaint old scraps of a crones, Lover's Tale i 288
Anew Evermore it is born a; Hesperides, Song i 18
Angel (adj.) a mind which look'd from out The starry glowing Timbuctoo 88
Angel (s) A's have talked with him, and showed him thrones: The Mystic 1
Over heaven's parapets the a's lean. To a Lady Sleep. 10
What an a! How clothed with beams! Lover's Tale i 351
I became to her A tutelary a ,, 388
the a's, The watchers at heaven's gate, ,, 615

Anger must your noble a blaze out more Blow ye the trumpet 9
Horrible with the a and the heat Lover's Tale i 681
Angry Flooding its a cheek with odorous tears. „ i 565
Annoy Basing thy throne above the world's a. Though night 8
Another He hath not a dart; Burial of Love 10
Antelope Sure never yet was A Could skip Skipping-rope 1
Anxious Beat like a far wave on my a ear. Timbuctoo 114
Apart a In intellect and power and will, The Mystic 37
Apathy Shall hollow-hearted a, The cruellest form Burial of Love 17
Ape and our mirth A's the happy vein, Every day, etc. 13
Appeal I honour much, I say, this man's a. Sugg. by Reading 49
Apple The golden a, the golden a, the hallowed fruit, Hesperides, Song i 1 Guard the a night and day, „ 28 and the golden a be stol'n away, „ ii 11
If the golden a be taken The world „ 21
The golden a stol'n away, „ iii 4
Make the a holy and bright, „ iv 10
But the a of gold hangs over the sea, „ „ 23
The golden a, the golden a, the hallowed fruit, „ 30
Dear room, the a of my sight, O darling room 2
April Young fishes, on an A morn, Rosalind 21
Green springtide, A promise, glad new year Lover's Tale i 277
Arabian from his mother's eyes Flow over the A bay, A Fragment 24
Arc alternate rise Of interpenetrated a, Timbuctoo 131
Arch With triple a of everchanging bows, „ 74 globefilled a that, cleaving air, Chorus 25 in and out the woodbine's flowery a'es Check every outflash 11
Stays on the flowering a of the bough, Hesperides, Song iv 18
Arch'd wheel in wheel, A the wan Sapphire. Timbuctoo 111
Archetype To its A that waits Clad in light Germ of 'Maud' 31
Arching A blue-glossèd necks beneath Dualisms 13
A the billow in his sleep; Hesperides, Song iv 3
Arch-mock This was the very a-m And insolence Lover's Tale i 687
Archway All night through a's of the bridgèd pearl Though night 3
Argent windeth through The a streets o' the City, Timbuctoo 231
Pleached with her hair, in mail of a light Shot into gold, Pallid thunderstricken 12
Parted on either side her a neck, Lover's Tale i 740
Argosy broad-blown Argosies Drave into haven? A Fragment 7
Aright And my eyes read, they read a, her heart Was Lionel's: Lover's Tale i 602
Arise A, brave Poles, the boldest of the bold; Blow ye the trumpet 3
Arm I dare not fold My a's about thee— Oh, Beauty 6
Arms Than vanquish all the world in a. Hands all Round 28
Arrested love too high to be express'd A in its sphere, Lover's Tale i 66
Arrogant It looks too a a jest— New Timon 42
Arrow Love is dead; His last a sped; Burial of Love 9
Arrowy borne Adown the sloping of an a stream, Timbuctoo 144
Art We know him, out of Shakespeare's a, New Timon 1
An artist, Sir, should rest in a, „ 21
Strung in the very negligence of A, Or in the a of Nature, Lover's Tale i 562
Artist An a, Sir, should rest in art, New Timon 21
Ashes I lay! White as quench'd a, Lover's Tale i 620
Ask I only a to sit beside thy feet. Oh, Beauty 3
Assimilated Perchance a all our tastes Lover's Tale i 238
Assyrian Some vast A doom to burst upon our race. Sugg. by Reading 42
Astonishment full of strange A and boundless change. (repeat) Chorus 10, 20, 30
Atalantis Divinest A, whom the waves Have buried deep, Timbuctoo 22
Atlantic-Atlantick That ran bloombright into the Atlantic blue, The Hesperides 9
O rise, our strong Atlantic sons, Hands all Round 49 when the Sun Had fall'n below th' Atlantick, Timbuctoo 4 Atmosphere Thou foldest, like a golden a, Love 5 drew the happy a Of my unhappy sighs, Lover's Tale i 673
Atom The indistinctest a in deep air, Timbuctoo 100
Attain teach him to a By shadowing forth the Unattainable: „ 196
Austrian The Russian whips and A rods— Hands all Round 18
Author Refused to look his a in the face, Lover's Tale i 697
Autocrat We must not dread in you the nameless a. Sugg. by Reading 18
Autumn in red A when the winds are wild Timbuctoo 202
The troublous a's sallow gloom, Chorus 17 bitter blasts the screaming a whirl, Though night 2
Avail Shall not a you when the day-beam sports Cambridge 6
Awake He often lying broad a, The Mystic 36
Awakened when the day-beam sports New-risen o'er a Albion— Cambridge 7
Awakening See Earth-awakening
Awestricken As on a serpent in his agonies A Indians; Love 31
Awful Before the a Genius of the place Kneels the pale Priestess in deep faith, Timbuctoo 33
A with most invariable eyes. The Mystic 24
Hallowed in a chasms of wheeling gloom, Love 22
And in his writhings a hues begin To wander down his sable sheeny sides, „ 38
A Memnonian countenances calm Looking athwart the burning flats, A Fragment 16
Five and three (Let it not be preached abroad) make an a mystery. Hesperides, Song i 16
But grow upon them like a glorious vision Of unconceived and a happiness, Lover's Tale i 798
Aye Merry England! England for a! (repeat) English War Song 11, 22, 33, 44, 55

B

Balanced and swum with b wings To some tall mountain. Lover's Tale i 304
Ball Till your b's fly as their true shafts have flown. Britons, guard 47
Think you hearts are tennis b's To play with, Rosalind 32
Balloon As when a man, that sails in a b, D. of F. Women 1
Balm Thy locks are dripping b; Hero to Leander 20
Baltic on the B shore Boleslas drove the Pomeranian. Blow ye the trumpet 13
Banbury 'B Cross,' 'The Gander' Lover's Tale i 286
Bandbox to take his name You b. New Timon 44
Banded Although we fought the b world alone, Britons, guard 59
Banished The true men b, „ 10
Bank (See also Brookbank) Gray sand b's and pale sunsets —dreary wind, Mablethorpe 7
Banner On the ridge of the hill his b's rise; English War Song 25
Barbarian Low-built, mud-walled, B settlement, Timbuctoo 248
Bare Her shoulders are b; I' the glooming light 10
The b word kiss hath made my inner soul To tremble Oh, Beauty 12
Bark (of a tree) Creeping under the fragrant b, Hesperides, Song i 23
Bark (vessel) winedark wave our weary b did carry. Lotos-Eaters 9 Based See Broad-based
Basing B thy throne above the world's annoy. Though night 8
Bathe B's the cold hand with tears, Timbuctoo 38
Come b me with thy kisses, Hero to Leander 12
Bathed I have b thee with the pleasant myrrh; „ 19
Battailing B with the glooms of my dark will, Lover's Tale i 782 Battle (s) gather from afar The hosts to b: Blow ye the trumpet 2
To blow the b from their oaken sides. Britons, guard 38
We won old b's with our strength, the bow. „ 44
Battle (verb) Will he dare to b with the free? English War Song 46
Battled Or loyally disloyal b for our rights. Sugg. by Reading 36
Battlement Illimitable range of b On b, Timbuctoo 164
Bay Your flowering Capes and your gold-sanded b's „ 45 from his mother's eyes Flow over the Arabian b, A Fragment 24 Past Thymiaterion, in calmèd b's, The Hesperides 4
Through vineyards from an island b. Rosalind 29
Bayard The B of the meadow. The Grasshopper 21
Bayona In old B, nigh the Southern Sea— There are three things 11
Beam (See also Day-beam) What an angel! How clothed with b's! Lover's Tale i 352
Bear b them upward through the trackless fields Timbuctoo 159
There must no man go back to b the tale: No man to b it—Swear it! We swear it! Britons, guard 56
Bearded Her tears are mixed with the b dews. I' the glooming light 11
Bearing b on both sides Double display Timbuctoo 154
As b no essential fruits of excellence. Lover's Tale i 385
So b on thro' Being limitless The triumph „ 514
Beast wondrous tones Of man and b Chorus 9
Beat B like a far wave on my anxious ear. Timbuctoo 114
Thy heart b's through thy rosy limbs Hero to Leander 16 the brazen b Of their broad vans, Shall the hag 7
We b upon our aching hearts with rage; Love 18
B upon his father's shield— Home they brought him 9 heart b Twice to the melody of hers. Lover's Tale i 73

Beaten ringlets, Drooping and b with the plaining wind, Lover's Tale i 735
Crush'd link on link into the b earth, „ 859
Beatitude and bound alone Of full b. Timbuctoo 96
Beauteous And I paint the b face Of the maiden, Germ of 'Maud' 2 Beautiful Would marvel from so b a sight Pallid thunderstricken 9 no maids like English maids, So b as they be. National Song 26 that one so b Should have so dull an ear. The lintwhite 8
'Tis a b And pleasant meditation, Lover's Tale i 239 Beauty All powerful in b as thou art. Love and sorrow 12 in the pride of b issuing A sheeny snake, Could I outwear 5
Or, B, passing b! sweetest Sweet! Oh, Beauty 1 Became I b to her A tutelary angel Lover's Tale i 387
Bedridden Sneering b in the down of Peace Sugg. by Reading 46
Bee I was the hive and Love the b, Love, Pride, etc, 3
Two b's within a chrystal flowerbell rockèd Dualisms 1
Began The boy b to leap and prance, Home they brought him 7
Beginning The end of day and b of night Hesperides, Song iv 9
Behind B, In diamond light, unsprung Timbuctoo 167 Behold b Cathedralled caverns of thick-ribbèd gold Pallid thunderstricken 6 dimly we b thee Athwart the veils of evil Love 16
Being But had their b in the heart of Man Timbuctoo 19
So bearing on thro' B limitless Lover's Tale i 514
Belgium To take Sardinia, B, or the Rhine: Britons, guard 50
Believe The hogs who can b in nothing great, Sugg. by Reading 45
She hardly can b that she shall suffer wrong. „ 66
Bell Pagods hung with music of sweet b's: Timbuctoo 234
Belt The burning b's, the mighty rings, Chorus 23
Thou didst receive that b of pines, Lover's Tale i 11
Best That man's the b cosmopolite Who loves his native country b. Hands all Round 3
That man's the b Conservative Who lops the mouldered branch away. „ 7
We know thee most, we love thee b, „ 39
Betraying waters B the close kisses of the wind— Timbuctoo 209
Better Far b, far b he never were born English War Song 16
To Europe's b health we drink, my friends, Hands all Round 23
b to be free Than vanquish all the world „ 27
For b so you fight for public ends; Sugg. by Reading 26
B wild Mahmoud's war-cry once again! „ 83
Bewept And still b my grief. Lover's Tale i 733 Bewick where, alack, is B To tell the meaning now? A gate and a field 5
Bicker Like them, you b less for truth than forms. Sugg. by Reading 76
Billow the b will embrace thee with a kiss Hero to Leander 27
Driven back the b of the dreamful dark. To a Lady Sleep. 6
Arching the b in his sleep; Hesperides, Song iv 3
Bingen between The hills to B have I been, B in Darmstadt, O darling room 10
Bird The little b pipeth 'why! why!' The 'How' and the 'Why' 26
And the great b sits on the opposite bough, „ 28
Nor the rivers flow, nor the sweet b's sing, Burial of Love 29 watered vallies where the young b's sing; Could I outwear 8 two b's of glancing feather Do woo each other, Dualisms 8
Thy woes are b's of passage, transitory: Me my own fate 2
Birth nothing visible, they say, had b In that blest ground Timbuctoo 55 either gate of life, Both b and death; The Mystic 33
The naked summer's glowing b, Chorus 16
Already with the pangs of a new b Love 36 did break forth afresh In a new b, Lover's Tale i 732
Biscayan Call home your ships across B tides, Britons, guard 37
Bitter for b grief Doth hold the other half in sovranty. Love and Sorrow 4
And b blasts the screaming autumn whirl, Though Night 2
Bitterness Turn cloud to light, and b to joy, „ 6
Black And the unsounded, undescended depth Of her b hollows. Timbuctoo 105
B specks amid a waste of dreary sand, „ 247
And the b owl scuds down the mellow twilight, The 'How' and the 'Why' 30
No western odours wander On the b and moaning sea, Hero to Leander 29 into a larger air Upburning, and an ether of b hue, The Mystic 45
b eyes, and brown and blue; I hold them all most dear; but oh! b eyes, There are three things 6
Blackbird 'The Four-and-twenty B's' Lover's Tale i 286
Black-wall'd thro' the b-w cliff the rapid brook „ 371
Blame (s) You did mingle b and praise, To C. North 3
I forgave you all the b, „ 6
Blame (verb) Ringlet, I count you much to b, The Ringlet 46
Blast (s) (See also Storm-blast) bitter b's the screaming autumn whirl, Though Night 2
Should war's mad b again be blown, Hands all Round 41
Blast (verb) But fire, to b the hopes of men. „ 30
What power is yours to b a cause or bless! Sugg. by Reading 8
Blastborne With points of b hail their heated eyne! Shall the hag 11
Blasted fall'n in the woods, or b Upon this bough? Lover's Tale i 622
Blatant But be not you the b traitors of the hearth. Sugg. by Reading 24
Blaze (s) B within b, an unimagin'd depth Timbuctoo 108
Blaze (verb) must your noble anger b out more Blow ye the trumpet 9
Bleat ewes b On the solitary steeps, Lotos-Eaters 29
Blench'd silent Heavens were b with faery light, Timbuctoo 5
Bless What power is yours to blast a cause or b! Sugg. by Reading 8
God b our Prince and Bride! God bless our Prince 1
Them with all blessings b, „ 6
God b thy marriage-day, God b the Queen. „ 13
Bless'd-Blessed-Blest had birth In that blest ground but it was play'd about Timbuctoo 56
There are three things beneath the blessed skies For which I live— There are three things 5
Holy and bright, round and full, bright and blest, Hesperides, Song iv 11
The Pope has bless'd him; Britons, guard 3
As with one kiss to touch thy blessèd cheek. Oh, Beauty 8
Blessing shall the b of the meek be on thee; Though night 12 Them with all b's bless, God bless our Prince 6 he would hold The hand of b over Lionel, Lover's Tale i 792 Blest See Bless'd
Blew One rainy night, when every wind b loud, Lover's Tale i 367
Blind (adj.) (Shame fall 'em they are deaf and b) The Grasshopper 6
I had lain as still, And b and motionless Lover's Tale i 619
Blind (verb) Till it dazzle and b his eyes. English War Song 28
Blinding and beneath Two doors of b brilliance, Timbuctoo 178
Bliss Oh joy! O b of b'es! Hero to Leander 10
Comes the b of secret smiles, Hesperides, Song iii 11
Blissful With the b Lotos-eaters pale Lotos-Eaters 25
Blood Why the life goes when the b is spilt? The 'How' and the 'Why' 32
Though hourly pastured on the salient b? Shall the hag 5 moved around me still With the moving of the b Germ of 'Maud' 20
For art thou not of British b? Hands all Round 40 as the milky b Of hateful herbs Lover's Tale i 820
b, the breath, the feeling and the motion, „ ii 75
Bloom Fanlike and fibred, with intensest b: Timbuctoo 156
Lighting on the golden b's? The Grasshopper 44
The vocal spring of bursting b, Chorus 15 words were like a coronal of wild b's Lover's Tale i 561 rare pity had stolen The living b „ 726
Bloombright That ran b into the Atlantic blue, The Hesperides 9
Bloomèd (adj.) All in the b May. (repeat) The lintwhite 3, 12, 21, 30
Bloom'd (verb) from that Heaven in whose light I b Lover's Tale i 624
Bloometh From an old garden where no flower b, Me my own fate 7
Blosmwhite Both in b silk are frockèd: Dualisms 16
Blosmy They from the b brere Call to the fleeting year, The lintwhite 4
Blossom (adj.) starr'd at slender intervals With b tufts of purest white; Lover's Tale i 400
Blossom (s) For the b unto three-fold music bloweth; Hesperides, Song i 17
The b and the fragrance. Lover's Tale i 626
Blossoming The b abysses of your hills? Timbuctoo 44
Blot Nor b with floating shades the solar light. Shall the hag 14
Blow (s) some you strike can scarce return the b; Sugg. by Reading 27
Blow (verb) b back Their wild cries down their cavern-throats, Shall the hag 9
B ye the trumpet, gather from afar Blow ye the trumpet 1 organ-pipes that b Melodious thunders Cambridge 8
To b the battle from their oaken sides. Britons, guard 38
Bloweth the wind which b cold or heat Shall the hag 6
For the blossom unto three-fold music b; Hesperides, Song i 17
Blowing And winds were roaring and b; 1865-1866 3
Old Year roaring and b And New Year b and roaring. „ 12
Blown (See also Broad-blown) B round with happy airs of odorous winds? Timbuctoo 46
Changed into fire, and b about with sighs. To —— 9
B seaward from the shore; The Hesperides 8 early seasmell b Through vineyards Rosalind 28
Should war's mad blast again be b, Hands all Round 41

Blue (adj.) The ocean with the morrow light Will be both b and calm; Hero to Leander 26 all the day heaven gathers back her tears Into her own b eyes so clear and deep, Tears of Heaven 7 black eyes, and brown and b; I hold them all most dear; There are three things 6
That ran bloombright into the Atlantic b, The Hesperides 9
Stream from beneath him in the broad b noon, D. of F. Women 3
Blue (s) chasms of deep, deep b Slumber'd unfathomable, Timbuctoo 7
With eyes dropt downward through the b serene, To a Lady Sleep. 9
Blue-glossèd Arching b-g necks beneath Dualisms 13
Blue-green Through yonder poplar alley Below, the b-g river windeth slowly; Check every outflash 5
Blush'd Ringlet, She b a rosy red, The Ringlet 36
Boast Our ancient b is this—we reverence law. Sugg. by Reading 34
Boat And sailing on Pactolus in a b, Pallid thunderstricken 3
Body and yet Remaining from the b, The Mystic 37
You cannot let a b be: New Timon 30
Crept like the drains of a marsh thro' all my b; Lover's Tale ii 56
Unto the growth of b and of mind; „ 74
Bold no men like Englishmen, So tall and b as they be. National Song 8 nothing seems to me so wild and b, Oh, Beauty 7
Caucasus is b and strong. Hesperides, Song iii 7
B, subtle, careless Rosalind, Rosalind 2
Arise, brave Poles, the boldest of the b; Blow ye the trumpet 3
Bolder child in our cradles is b than he; English War Song 35
Boldest Arise, brave Poles, the b of the bold; Blow ye the trumpet 3
Bole gnarlèd b of the charmèd tree, Hesperides, Song iv 29
Boleslas on the Baltic shore B drove the Pomeranian. Blow ye the trumpet 14
Bond Thy spirit fetter'd with the b of clay: Timbuctoo 83
Bone they plunge their doubts among old rags and b's. Sugg. by Reading 72 dead skin withering on the fretted b, Lover's Tale i 678
Boot A dapper b—a little hand— New Timon 35 Bore b globes Of wheeling suns, or stars, Timbuctoo 171 waves, which b The reflex of my City „ 238
b downward with the wave. Lover's Tale i 375
Born (See also Sunborn) We laugh, we cry, we are b, we die, The 'How' and the 'Why' 8
Through whose dim brain the wingèd dreams are b, To a Lady Sleep. 2
Far better, far better he never were b English War Song 16
Evermore it is b anew; Hesperides, Song i 18
Borne (See also Blastborne) b Adown the sloping of an arrowy stream, Timbuctoo 143
Through dark and bright Wingèd hours are b; Every day, etc. 4 b abroad By the loud winds, Love 8
Bosom My heart is warmer surely than the b of the main. Hero to Leander 9 each rose Doth faint upon the b Lover's Tale i 564
Both So that with hasty motion I did veil My vision with b hands, Timbuctoo 69 bearing on b sides Double display of starlit wings „ 154
Yet on b sides at once thou canst not shine: Love and Sorrow 7
Bottom Creep down into the b of the flower. Lover's Tale i 560
Bough great bird sits on the opposite b, The 'How' and the 'Why' 28
Stays on the flowering arch of the b, Hesperides, Song iv 18
And a titmarsh in the b. A gate and a field 4 fall'n in the woods, or blasted Upon this b? Lover's Tale i 623 Bought ruthless host is b with plunder'd gold, Britons, guard 7 hosts to battle: be not b and sold. Blow ye the trumpet 2
She that gave you 's b and sold, The Ringlet 33
Bound (s) The herald lightning's starry b, Chorus 14 verge and b alone Of full beatitude. Timbuctoo 95
Bound (verb) spirit With supernatural excitation b Within me, „ 91
Carol clearly, b along. (repeat) The Grasshopper 4, 30
Bound (past of Bind) With a silken cord I b it. Anacreontics 8
Bound (part.) sisters three, B about the golden tree. Hesperides, Song ii 25
B about All round about The gnarlèd bole „ iv 27
Half bursten from the shroud, in cere cloth b, Lover's Tale i 677
Bounding The fierceness of the b element? Timbuctoo 148
Boundless Through length of porch and lake and b hall, „ 180
Astonishment and b change. (repeat) Chorus 10, 20, 30
Bow With triple arch of everchanging b's, Timbuctoo 74
His b unstrung With the tears he hath shed, Burial of Love 5
We won old battles with our strength, the b. Britons, guard 44
Bow'd As towards the gracious light I b, What time I wasted 4 lithe limbs b as with a heavy weight Lover's Tale i 126
Bower the light of vernal b's, Could I outwear 6
Bowing B the seeded summerflowers. The Grasshopper 8
Bowman Now practise, yeomen, Like those bowmen, Britons, guard 46
Boy Who killed the girls and thrill'd the b's New Timon 9
The b began to leap and prance, Home they brought him 7
Let them so love that men and b's may say, Lover's Tale i 801 Brain hurried through The riv'n rapt b: Timbuctoo 121 my human b Stagger'd beneath the vision, „ 185 Through whose dim b the wingèd dreams are born, To a Lady Sleep. 2 b could keep afloat The subtle spirit. Oh, Beauty 10
And a juggle of the b. Germ of 'Maud' 8
On those first-moved fibres of the b. Lover's Tale i 21
They flash across the darkness of my b, „ 53
All unawares, into the poet's b; „ 557
Bramble matted b and the shining gloss Of ivy-leaves, „ 373
Branching And b silvers of the central globe, Pallid thunderstricken 8
Brassy between whose limbs Of b vastness broad-blown Argosies Drave into haven? A Fragment 7
Brave Arise, b Poles, the boldest of the bold; Blow ye the trumpet 3
Brazen Would shatter and o'erbear the b heat Of their broad vans, Shall the hag 7
Bread He shall eat the b of common scorn; English War Song 13
Breadth With moral b of temperament. New Timon 28 Break spheres Which b upon each other, Timbuctoo 126 world will not change, and her heart will not b. I' the glooming light 22 deep salt wave b's in above Hero to Leander 34
B through your iron shackles—fling them far. Blow ye the trumpet 4 summer winds b their soft sleep with sighs, Lover's Tale i 559 they did b forth afresh In a new birth, „ 731
Breast Zone of flashing gold beneath His b, Timbuctoo 73 Breath lips so cruel dumb Should have so sweet a b! The lintwhite 18 redolent b Of this warm seawind ripeneth, Hesperides, Song iv 1 Which waste with the b that made 'em. Lover's Tale i 475 blood, the b, the feeling and the motion, „ ii 75 Breath-Breathe Before the face of God didst breath and move, Love 3
Breathe on thy wingèd throne, and it shall move „ 27
Breathes low into the charmed ears of morn A Fragment 25 nor breathe What airs he pleased! Lover's Tale i 692
Breathèd the new year warm b on the earth, Love 33
With roses musky b, Anacreontics 1
Intense delight and rapture that I b, Lover's Tale i 381 for which I lived and b: „ ii 73
Breathing And the low west wind, b afar, Hesperides, Song iv 8
Brere They from the blosmy b Call The lintwhite 4
Brethren (See also Brother) Over their crowned b On and Off? A Fragment 21
Bride I can shadow forth my b Germ of 'Maud' 9
God bless our Prince and B! God bless our Prince 1
Bridge Your b's and your busted libraries, Cambridge 3
With shouts from off the b, Lover's Tale i 369
Upon the tremulous b, that from beneath „ 406
Bridgèd All night through archways of the b pearl Though Night 3
Bridle Nor seek to b His vile aggressions, Britons, guard 52
Brief Could I outwear my present state of woe With one b winter, Could I outwear 2
Bright (See also Bloombright) The b descent Of a young Seraph! Timbuctoo 64
Through dark and b Wingèd hours are borne; Every day, etc. 3
There is no b form Doth not cast a shade— „ 9
Thine is the b side of my heart, and thine My heart's day, Love and Sorrow 8
I am so dark, alas! and thou so b, Me my own fate 13
Make the apple holy and b, Holy and b, round and full, b and blest, Hesperides, Song iv 10
No little room so warm and b Wherein to read, O 'darling room 5
Not any room so warm and b, Wherein to read, „ 17
Brightness hearts of all on Earth Toward their b, Timbuctoo 18 it was wonderful With its exceeding b, „ 87
Brilliance beneath Two doors of blinding b, „ 178
Brilliant soon yon b towers Shall darken with the waving of her wand; „ 244
Brine roaring b Will rend thy golden tresses; Hero to Leander 23 melancholy home At the limit of the b, Lotos-Eaters 21
Bring Hoarded wisdom b's delight. Hesperides, Song ii 6
And careless what this hour may b, New Timon 18
Bringeth Laughter b tears: Every day, etc. 18

Briny Crocodiles in b creeks Sleep and stir not: all is mute. Hesperides, Song i 8
British For art thou not of B blood? Hands all Round 40 shall see The B Goddess, Sugg. by Reading 54
Briton Rise, B's, rise, if manhood be not dead; Britons, guard 1 B's, guard your own. (repeat) Britons, guard 6, 12, 18, 24, 30, 36 free speech that makes a B known. „ 29
Broad He often lying b awake, and yet Remaining from the body, The Mystic 36
Would shatter and o'erbear the brazen heat Of their b vans, Shall the hag 8
Stream from beneath him in the b blue noon, D. of F. Women 3
Broad-based Pyramids B-b amid the fleeting sands, A Fragment 10
Broad-blown b-b Argosies Drave into haven? „ 7
Broadsides But let thy b roar with ours. Hands all Round 44
Broke note Hath melted in the silence that it b. Oh, Beauty 14
That, strongly loathing, greatly b. New Timon 4
Broken B by the highland-steep, Hesperides, Song iv 5
A child with a b slate, A gate and a field 3
Brood (s) Hateful with hanging cheeks, a withered b, Shall the hag 4
Brood (verb) b above The silence of all hearts, Love 13
Brooding placid Sphinxes b o'er the Nile? A Fragment 14
Brook (s) rapid b Shot down his inner thunders, Lover's Tale i 371
Brook (verb) thou wilt not b eclipse; Love 11
Brookbank By a mossed b on a stone O sad no more! 3
Brother (See also Brethren) The bulrush nods unto his b The 'How' and the 'Why' 10
Joy is sorrow's b; Every day, etc. 24
Brought Home they b him slain with spears.
They b him home at even-fall: Home they brought him 1
Brow compass'd round about his b With Timbuctoo 73
My eyelids and my b. Hero to Leander 13 beneath Severe and youthful b's, The Mystic 27 Smiles on the earth's worn b to win her if she may. Tears of Heaven 9 from his b's a crown of living light Love 43
Fair year, with b's of royal love The lintwhite 19
A perfect Idol, with profulgent b's A Fragment 3
Let it pass, the dreary b, Germ of 'Maud' 22 rather had some loathly ghastful b, Lover's Tale i 676
Brown black eyes, and b and blue; I hold them all most dear; There are three things 6
Brummel pardon little would-be Popes And B's, New Timon 20
Brush That b thee with their silken tresses? The Grasshopper 39
Did b my forehead in their to-and-fro: Lover's Tale i 736
Buildeth b up Huge mounds whereby to stay Timbuctoo 14
Built (See also Low-built) Why a church is with a steeple b; The 'How' and the 'Why' 34
b above With matted bramble Lover's Tale i 372
Bulrush The b nods unto his brother The 'How' and the 'Why' 10
Buoyancy felt Unutterable b and strength Timbuctoo 158 Buried (See also Low-buried) whom the waves Have b deep, „ 23 recalls the dewy prime Of youth and b time? Who can say 7
Burn wings which b Fanlike and fibred, Timbuctoo 155
B, you glossy heretic, b, B, b. The Ringlet 53
Burning The b belts, the mighty rings, Chorus 23
Awful Memnonian countenances calm Looking athwart the b flats, A Fragment 17
Burnish'd Stood out a pillar'd front of b gold Interminably high, Timbuctoo 175
Burst Some vast Assyrian doom to b upon our race. Sugg. by Reading 42
Bursten See Half-bursten
Bursting The vocal spring of b bloom, Chorus 15
Burthen needs must sell the b of their wills Sugg. by Reading 69
Bury B him in the cold, cold heart— Burial of Love 12
Busted Your bridges and your b libraries, Cambridge 3
Busy And notes of b life in distant worlds Timbuctoo 113
With her to whom all outward fairest things Were by the b mind referr'd, Lover's Tale i 384
Buzz Both alike, they b together, Dualisms 3

C

Call C's to him by the fountain to uprise. Love 35
C to the fleeting year, The lintwhite 5
Fair year, fair year, thy children c, „ 10
Call (continued) Wandering waters unto wandering waters c; Hesperides, Song iii 8 springtime c's To the flooding waters cool, Rosalind 19
I can c it to my side, Germ of 'Maud' 16
'They c this man as good as me.' New Timon 32
This man is France, the man they c her choice. Britons, guard 20
C home your ships across Biscayan tides, „ 37
I c on you To make opinion warlike, Sugg. by Reading 86
Call'd hill of woe, so c Because the legend ran that, Lover's Tale i 365
Calm (adj.) light Will be both blue and c; Hero to Leander 26
Where in a creeping cove the wave unshocked Lay's itself c and wide, Dualisms 7
Awful Memnonian countenances c Looking athwart the burning flats, A Fragment 16
Calm (s) level c Is ridg'd with restless Timbuctoo 124
And muse midway with philosophic c „ 146
Golden c and storm Mingle day by day. Every day, etc. 7
One mighty countenance of perfect c, The Mystic 23
There is no rest, no c, no pause, οἱ 'ρέοντες 9
In a stripe of grassgreen c, Lotos-Eaters 5
Poor soul! behold her: what decorous c! Sugg. by Reading 61
Calmed Past Thymiaterion, in c bays, The Hesperides 4
Calpe and I Was left alone on C, Timbuctoo 252
Came night C down upon my eyelids, „ 187
Pride c beneath and held a light. Love, Pride, etc. 6
C voices, like the voices in a dream, The Hesperides 12
When I learnt from whom it c, To C. North 5
About sunset We c unto the hill of woe, Lover's Tale i 365
Camel Seen by the high-necked c on the verge A Fragment 18
Camilla Did I love C? Lover's Tale i 770 he would make his wedded wife, C! „ 794
And as for me, C, as for me, „ 805
Canker I feel the thousand c's of our State, Sugg. by Reading 43
Canopy Imperial height Of C o'ercanopied. Timbuctoo 166
Cap-a-pie Armed c-a-p, Full fair to see; The Grasshopper 14
Cape Your flowering C's and your gold-sanded bays Timbuctoo 45
Capricious All on-set of c Accident, „ 26
Captain who are to you As c is to subaltern. New Timon 16
Captive Rome's dearest daughter now is c France, Britons, guard 31
Careless And c what this hour may bring, New Timon 18
Bold, subtle, c Rosalind, Rosalind 2
Caress'd The Church c him; Britons, guard 4
Carol C clearly, bound along. (repeat) The Grasshopper 4, 30
Clap thy shielded sides and c, C clearly, chirrup sweet „ 11
Carolling Do woo each other, c together. Dualisms 9
Carry To c through the world those waves, Timbuctoo 238 Go—c him to his dark deathbed; Burial of Love 11
winedark wave our weary bark did c. Lotos-Eaters 9
Carved Wax-lighted chapels and rich c-screens, Cambridge 4
Casket such a costly c in the grasp Of memory? Lover's Tale i 101
Cast There is no bright form Doth not c a shade— Every day, etc. 10
You c to ground the hope which once Lost Hope 1
Cathedralled C caverns of thick-ribbed gold Pallid thunderstricken 7
Caucasus C is bold and strong. Hesperides, Song iii 7
Cause The c is nowhere found in rhyme. Who can say 8
God the tyrant's c confound! (repeat) Hands all Round 22, 34, 46, 58
What power is yours to blast a c or bless! Sugg. by Reading 8
And trust an ancient manhood and the c „ 39
Cavalier A gallant c Sans peur et sans reproche, The Grasshopper 18
Cave But Hatred in a gold c sits below, Pallid thunderstricken 11
Cavern Cathedralled c's of thick-ribbed gold „ 7
Caverns throats blow back Their wild cries down their c, Shall the hag 10
Ceasing c from All contemplation of all forms, Lover's Tale i 66
Cedarn Where are your moonlight halls, your c glooms, Timbuctoo 43
Cedarshade and zoned below with c, The Hesperides 11
Cell Sweet Love was withered in his c; Love, Pride, etc. 8
Thronging the c's of the diseased mind, Shall the hag 3
Center'd and thou wert then A c glory-circled Memory, Timbuctoo 21 Central And branching silvers of the c globe, Pallid thunderstricken 8 winds, though they uprend the sea, Even from his c deeps: Love 10 Centre he in the c fixed, Saw far on each side The Mystic 33
Each sun which from the c flings Grand music Chorus 21
The c of the splendours, all unworthy Lover's Tale i 69 unhappy spirits Imprison'd in her c, „ 614
Cere Half-bursten from the shroud, in c cloth bound, „ 677

Cerement spiced c's in old grots Rock-hewn A Fragment 30
Chain Five links, a golden c, are we, Hesperides, Song ii 23
Five links, a golden c, are we, „ iv 24
Chance Jesuit laughs, and reckoning on his c, Britons, guard 32
Change (s) Shadows to which, despite all shocks of C, Timbuctoo 25
All is c, woe or weal; Every day, etc. 23 woes of many a fiery c Had purified, The Mystic 9 full of strange Astonishment and boundless c. (repeat) Chorus 10, 20, 30
All truth is c: οἱ ῥέοντες 4
Glory in glory, without sense of c. Lover's Tale i 516
Updrawn in expectation of her c— „ 597
Change (verb) Her light shall into darkness c; Burial of Love 27 world will not c, and her heart will not break. I' the glooming light 22 by a spell Did c them into gall; Love, Pride, etc. 10 Kingdoms lapse, and climates c, and races die; Hesperides, Song ii 4
Why c the titles of your streets? Hands all Round 31
This cannot c, nor yet can I.' The Ringlet 12
If this can c, why so can I.' (repeat) „ 24, 42 as tho' a red rose Should c into a white one Lover's Tale i 727 Changed How c from this fair City!' Timbuctoo 249
C into fire, and blown about with sighs. To —— 9
Changeful Yet endure unscathed Of c cycles the great Pyramids A Fragment 9
Changing See Everchanging
Channel Thro' the c windeth far Germ of 'Maud' 29
Chapel Wax-lighted c's and rich carved screens, Cambridge 4
Chaplet mine wove c's of the self-same flower, Lover's Tale i 333
Character'd I feel Exception to be c in fire. Sugg. by Reading 52
Charge c to the fight: C! c to the fight! English War Song 47
Charged I straightly would commend the tears to creep From my c lids; Could I outwear 11
Charm Whom martial progress only c's? Hands all Round 26
To c a lower sphere of fulminating fools. Sugg. by Reading 30
Charmed Breathes low into the c ears of morn A Fragment 25
Standing about the c root. Hesperides, Song i 4
All round about The gnarlèd bole of the c tree, „ iv 29
Standing about the c root, „ iv 34
Chasm c's of deep, deep blue Slumber'd unfathomable, Timbuctoo 7
Hallowed in awful c's of wheeling gloom, Love 22 to link The earthquake-shattered c, Lover's Tale i 408
Chaste English wives, So fair and c as they be. National Song 22
Chastened Had purified, and c, and made free. The Mystic 10
Chastise To raise the people and c the times Sugg. by Reading 5
Chaunt And c's 'how? how?' the whole of the night. The 'How' and the 'Why' 31
Check C every outflash, every ruder sally Check every outflash 1
Cheek Hateful with hanging c's, a withered brood, Shall the hag 4
As with one kiss to touch thy blessèd c. Oh, Beauty, 8 old mark of rouge upon your c's. New Timon 38
Flooding its angry c with odorous tears. Lover's Tale i 565
Chiefest But this c, Next to her presence „ 421
Child (See also Children) 'O c of man, why muse you here alone Timbuctoo 77
C of Man, See'st thou yon river, „ 228
The echo, feeble c of sound, Chorus 12
Shall the hag Evil die with the c of Good, Shall the hag 1
The c in our cradles is bolder than he; English War Song 35
A c with a broken slate, A gate and a field 3
How often, when a c I lay reclined, Mablethorpe 1
A woful man had thrust his wife and c Lover's Tale i 568 Misery, like a fretful, wayward c, „ 696
widow'd, like the cur In the c's adage? „ 770
Children (See also Child) Two c lovelier than love, adown the lea Dualisms 14
Fair year, fair year, thy c call, The lintwhite 10 words of little c preach Against you,— Cambridge 12
Chilling Then never c touch of Time Will turn it silver-gray; The Ringlet 5
Now never c touch of Time Can turn thee silver-gray; „ 15
One very dark and c night Pride came beneath and held a light. Love, Pride, etc. 5
Chimeth In the ear, from far and near, C musically clear. Rosalind 8
Chimney-pot And a house with a c-p? The 'How' and the 'Why' 35
Chink'd brain, Now seam'd and c with years— Lover's Tale i 131
Chirrup Carol clearly, c sweet The Grasshopper 12
Choice This man is France, the man they call her c. Britons, guard 20
Choir murmurous planets' rolling c, Chorus 24
Chose Could he not walk what paths he c, Lover's Tale i 692
Christ With decent drippings at the name of C! Sugg. by Reading 64
C cried: Woe, woe, to Pharisees and Scribes! „ 75
Christian See Un-Christian
Christopher late review my lays, Crusty C; To C. North 2 mingle blame and praise, Rusty C. „ 4 forgave you all the blame, Musty C; „ 7 could not forgive the praise, Fusty C. „ 9
Chrysolite Her obelisks of rangèd C, Timbuctoo 235
Chrystal I saw A wilderness of spires, and c pile Of rampart upon rampart, „ 162
Two bees within a c flowerbell rockèd Dualisms 1
Church (adj.) Alas, C writers, altercating tribes— Sugg. by Reading 73
Church (s) Why a c is with a steeple built; The 'How' and the 'Why' 34
The C caress'd him; Britons, guard 4
The Court, the C, the Parliament, the crowd. Sugg. by Reading 16
Alas, our C! alas, her growing ills, „ 67
The vessel and your C may sink in storms. „ 74
Circle Ye were yet within The narrower c; The Mystic 42
Circled (See also Golden-circled) c with the glory of living light Timbuctoo 75
Thy spirit, c with a living glory, Me my own fate 3
Circling c round their emerald cones In coronals Timbuctoo 52
Circular showering c abyss Of radiance. „ 173
Circumference With such a vast c of thought, „ 93
Circumfus'd Fill'd with Divine effulgence, c, „ 50
Circumstance Of wayward vary coloured c, The Mystic 12 City some great C where the walls Shake, Timbuctoo 28 thy hills enfold a C as fair As those „ 59
Moon's white cities, and the opal width „ 101
windeth through The argent streets o' the C, „ 231 reflex of my C in their depths. Oh C! „ 239
How chang'd from this fair C!' „ 249
Her frantic c's flashing heats But fire, Hands all Round 29
Civic Severe and quick to feel a c sin, Sugg. by Reading 4
To soothe a c wound or keep it raw, „ 32
Clad C in light by golden gates, C in light the Spirit waits Germ of 'Maud' 32
Claim And wave a little of his c; New Timon 22
Clan Than when from Sobieski, c by c, Blow ye the trumpet 10
Clap C thy shielded sides and carol, The Grasshopper 11
Let them c together, foam and fall. Hesperides, Song iii 9
Nathless she ever c's the marble knees, Timbuctoo 37
Clay Thy spirit fetter'd with the bond of c: „ 83
Clear and the stars Were flooded over with c glory and pale. „ 9
Flowing between the c and polish'd stems, „ 51
The c Galaxy Shorn of its hoary lustre, wonderful, „ 105
Most pale and c and lovely distances. The Mystic 35 all the day heaven gathers back her tears Into her own blue eyes so c and deep, Tears of Heaven 7
The lintwhite and the throstlecock Have voices sweet and c; The lintwhite 2
C melody flattering the crisped Nile By columned Thebes. A Fragment 26
Clearest Unroof the shrines of c vision, To a Lady Sleep. 3
Clearness my present mind With its past c, Timbuctoo 140
Cleave scorn of the many shall c To the man English War Song 5
Clever Alas, our youth, so c yet so small, Sugg. by Reading 79
Cliff a highland leaning down a weight Of c's, The Hesperides 11
Show'd me vast c's with crown of towers, What time I wasted 3 thro' the black-wall'd c the rapid brook Lover's Tale i 371
Climate Kingdoms lapse, and c's change, and races die; Hesperides, Song ii 4
Climb And the waves c high and fast. Hero to Leander 4
Climbed Night hath c her peak of highest noon, Though night 1
Clinging Or moisture of the vapour, left in c, Lover's Tale ii 46
Clip a snake her forehead c's And skins Pallid thunderstricken 13
Clipt Ringlet, She c you from her head, The Ringlet 38
Clique That spilt his life about the c's. New Timon 40
Clogg'd sense is c with dull mortality, Timbuctoo 82
Close and of waters Betraying the c kisses of the wind— „ 209
Closed And never c again. Lover's Tale i 299
Closer Oh kiss me ere we part; Grow c to my heart. Hero to Leander 8
Cloth from the shroud, in cere c bound, Lover's Tale i 677

Clothe C them with righteousness, God bless our Prince 4 Clothed What an angel! How c with beams! Lover's Tale i 352
Cloud Uncertain whether faery light or c, Timbuctoo 6
Unvisited with dew of vagrant c, „ 103
wrapt about with c's Of glory of Heaven. „ 199 rocks stand still, and the light c's fly? The 'How' and the 'Why' 14 white c's drizzle: her hair falls loose; I' the glooming light 9 ever hold aloft the c Which droops low The Mystic 31
Turn c to light, and bitterness to joy, Though night 6
Hid now and then with sliding c. What time I wasted 6 would have flung himself From c to c, Lover's Tale i 304
Clouded Dim shores, dense rains, and heavy c sea. Mablethorpe 8
Clover And slumbers in the c. The Grasshopper 33
Clung Men c with yearning Hope which would not die. Timbuctoo 27
Cluster growth of shadowing leaf and c's rare, „ 223
Clustereth The luscious fruitage c mellowly, Hesperides, Song iv 19
Coast I gaz'd upon the sheeny c beyond, Timbuctoo 10
Cobweb Seem'd but a c firmament to link The earthquake-shattered chasm, Lover's Tale i 407
Cock See Throstlecock
Coil wan dark c of faded suffering— Could I outwear 4
Coinage Keeping unchanged The purport of their c. Lover's Tale i 734
Cold Bathes the c hand with tears, Timbuctoo 38
His eyes in eclipse, Pale c his lips, Burial of Love 2
Bury him in the c, c heart—Love is dead. „ 12
I' the glooming light Of middle night, So c and white, I' the glooming light 3
From my c eyes and melted it again. Could I outwear 14
Oh! that the wind which bloweth c or heat Shall the hag 6
Till all the comets in heaven are c, The Ringlet 9
White as quench'd ashes, c as were the hopes Of my lorn love! Lover's Tale i 620
College Therefore your halls, your ancient c's, Cambridge 1
Colossal C, without form, or sense, or sound, The Mystic 14
Colour skins the c from her trembling lips. Pallid thunderstricken 14
Colour'd and saw before me Such c spots as dance athwart the eyes Timbuctoo 70
Of wayward vary c circumstance, The Mystic 12
Column Among the inner c's far retir'd Timbuctoo 31
Columned Clear melody flattering the crisped Nile By c Thebes. A Fragment 27
Combed See Redcombed
Come memory of that mental excellence C's o'er me, Timbuctoo 138 the time is well nigh c When I must render up „ 242
C bathe me with thy kisses, Hero to Leander 12
An honourable eld shall c upon thee. Though night 14 their wan limbs no more might c between Shall the hag 12
C, thou of many crowns, white-robèd love, Love 24
C along! we alone of the earth are free; English War Song 34
C along! we will dig their graves. „ 39
Lest one from the East c and take it away. Hesperides, Song i 29
Honour c's with mystery; „ ii 5
C's the bliss of secret smiles, „ iii 11
So died the Old: here c's the New: New Timon 5 again I c and only find The drain-cut levels Mablethorpe 5
That a doubt may only c for a kiss, The Ringlet 21
'C, kiss it, love, and put it by: „ 41
a lightning stroke had c Even from that Heaven Lover's Tale i 623
Must he c my way too? „ 698
Comest Thou c, as a King. The lintwhite 20
Comet The lawless c's as they glare, Chorus 27
Till all the c's in heaven are cold, The Ringlet 9
Cometh Till the end of fears C in the shroud, Every day, etc. 21
Coming Wanderers c and going 1865-1866 7
Commend c the tears to creep From my charged lids; Could I outwear 10
Commercial We drag so deep in our c mire, Sugg. by Reading 50
Common He shall eat the bread of c scorn; English War Song 13
Commonsense Of England and her health of c— Sugg. by Reading 40
Compared Were by the busy mind referr'd, c, Lover's Tale i 384
Compass'd and c round about his brow Timbuctoo 73
Complete warrior in youth and strength c; The Grasshopper 13
Complicated The fragrance of its c glooms And cool impleachèd twilights. Timbuctoo 227
Comprehend She c's the race she rules. Hands all Round 56
Compt Thou hast no c of years, The Grasshopper 27
Conceit they minister'd Unto her swift c's? Lover's Tale i 666
Concentred An essence less c than a man! Sugg. by Reading 82
Cone round their emerald c's In coronals and glories, Timbuctoo 52
upsprung the dazzling C's Of Pyramids, „ 168
That wander round their windy c's, Chorus 6
Confound in the solitude Of middle space c them, Shall the hag 9
God the tyrant's cause c! (repeat) Hands all Round 46, 58
Confused c And dazzled to the heart There are three things 13
Listens the dreadful murmur indistinct Of the c seas, Lover's Tale i 657
Congregated For him the silent c hours, The Mystic 25
Conscience The public c of our noble isle, Sugg. by Reading 3
Consciousness And throwing by all c of self, Lover's Tale i 787
Constant It giveth out a c melody That drowns the nearer echoes. „ 534
Contemplation ceasing from All c of all forms, „ 67
Content You never look but half c: New Timon 26
Continuing this impulse C and gathering ever, Lover's Tale i 494
Control no c Within the thrilling brain Oh, Beauty 9
Controlled By lying priest's the peasant's votes c. Britons, guard 8
Converse The stern experiences of c lives, The Mystic 8
Convulsèd Strain the hot spheres of his c eyes, Love 37
Convulsion yawning given Sign of c; Lover's Tale i 612
Cool But knowing all your power to heat or c, Sugg. by Reading 31
The fragrance of its complicated glooms And c impleachèd twilights. Timbuctoo 228
Till midnoon the c east light Is shut out Hesperides, Song iv 15
Cope Larks in heaven's c Sing: Every day, etc. 28
Cord With a silken c I bound it. Anacreontics 8
Cored See Goldencored
Corner Reacheth to every c under Heaven, Timbuctoo 224 presences Fourfacèd to four c's of the sky; The Mystic 16
In a c wisdom whispers. Hesperides, Song i 15
Coronal round their emerald cones In c's and glories, Timbuctoo 53
Her words were like a c of wild blooms Lover's Tale i 561
Costly could I perish With such a c casket in the grasp Of memory? „ 101
Couch With thy two c'es soft and white, O darling room 3
With two such c'es soft and white; „ 16
Couch'd Erewhile close c in golden happiness, Lover's Tale ii 79
Count (See also Compt) Ringlet, I c you much to blame, The Ringlet 46 Countenance One mighty c of perfect calm, The Mystic 23 c's calm Looking athwart the burning flats, A Fragment 16
Counterfeit Now proved c, was shaken out, Lover's Tale ii 80
Countless The subtle life, the c forms Of living things, Chorus 7
Country Saw round her feet the c far away, Lover's Tale i 390
Course The c of Hope is dried,— „ 808
Courseth life which c through All th' intricate Timbuctoo 220
Court thunders through your vacant c's At morn and even; Cambridge 9
The C, the Church, the Parliament, the crowd. Sugg. by Reading 16
Cove in a creeping c the wave unshockèd Dualisms 6
Cow a field half ploughed, A solitary c, A gate and a field 2
Cradle child in our c's is bolder than he; English War Song 35
Craft By tricks and spying, By c and lying, Britons, guard 22
Crag descendant c's, which lapse Disjointed, Timbuctoo 122 path was steep and loosely strewn with c's Lover's Tale i 376 Creak by our ears, the huge roots strain and c), „ 63
Creative With such a heat as lives in great c rhymes. Sugg. by Reading 6
Creed All thoughts, all c's, all dreams are true, οἱ ῥέοντες 1
Creek Crocodiles in briny c's Sleep and stir not: Hesperides, Song i 8
Creep commend the tears to c From my charged lids; Could I outwear 10
And the lithe vine c's, Lotos-Eaters 34
C down into the bottom of the flower. Lover's Tale i 560
Creeping all things c to a day of doom. The Mystic 40
Where in a c cove the wave unshockèd Lays itself calm and wide, Dualisms 6
C under the fragrant bark, Hesperides, Song i 23
Crest Moving his c to all sweet plots of flowers Could I outwear 7
Crieth Heaven c after thee; earth waileth for thee: Love 26
Crime We curse the c's of Southern kings, Hands all Round 17
Crimson all faces turned to where Glows rubylike the far-up c globe, D. of F. Women 7
Crimson'd Shadow'd and c with the drifting dust, Lover's Tale i 139
Crisped Clear melody flattering the c Nile By columned Thebes. A Fragment 26
But in the middle of the sombre valley The c waters whisper musically, Check every outflash 7

Crisping Upon the c's of the dappled waves — Lover's Tale i 46
Crocodile C's in briny creeks Sleep and stir not: — Hesperides, Song i 8
Crone all the quaint old scraps of ancient c's, — Lover's Tale i 288
Cross 'Banbury C,' 'The Gander' — " 286
Crouch Wake on, my soul, nor c to agony: — Though night 5 hollow at heart shall c forlorn, — English War Song 12 Crowd Court, the Church, the Parliament, the c. — Sugg. by Reading 16 Crown (s) thou of many c's, white-robèd love, — Love 24 from his brows a c of living light Looks through — " 43
I wove a c before her, — Anacreontics 5
Show'd me vast cliffs with c of towers, — What time I wasted 3
Crown (verb) C them with happiness, — God bless our Prince 5
Crowned (adj.) Over their c brethren On and Oph? — A Fragment 21
Crown'd (verb) As I said, with these She c her forehead. — Lover's Tale i 349
Cruel The c vapours went through all, — Love, Pride, etc. 7
Alas! that lips so c dumb Should have so sweet a breath! — The lintwhite 17
Cruellest The c form of perfect scorn, — Burial of Love 18
Crumbling c from their parent slope At slender interval, — Timbuctoo 123
Crush'd C link on link into the beaten earth, — Lover's Tale i 859
Crushing c the thick fragrant reeds he lies, — Love 32
Crusty You did late review my lays, C Christopher; — To C. North 2
Cry (s) blow back Their wild cries down their cavern-throats, — Shall the hag 10
'God save the Queen' is here a truer c. — Britons, guard 26
Cry (verb) We laugh, we c, we are born, we die, — The 'How' and the 'Why' 8
We c for thee: we deem the world thy tomb. — Love 19
Crystalline Thou art my heart's sun in love's c: — Love and Sorrow 6
Culver the c's mourn All the livelong day. — Every day, etc. 29
Cup And filled the c with dew. — Lost Hope 8
Cupola When even to Moscow's c's were rolled — Blow ye the trumpet 7
Cur widow'd, like the c In the child's adage? — Lover's Tale i 769
Curled Round about the hallowed fruit tree c— — Hesperides, Song ii 13
Current The slope into the c of my years, — Lover's Tale ii 76
Curse (s) And those fine c's which he spoke; — New Timon 2
Curse (verb) We c the crimes of Southern kings, — Hands all Round 17
Cursed Who was c But I? — Lover's Tale i 626 Curve (s) A c of whitening, flashing, ebbing light! — Timbuctoo 63
Curve (verb) where the Rhene C's towards Mentz, — O darling room 12
Cushion makes C's of yellow sand; — Lover's Tale i 537
Cut See Drain-cut
Cycle Of changeful c's the great Pyramids — A Fragment 9
Cypress Like a lone c, through the twilight hoary, — Me my own fate 6
One c on an inland promontory. — " 8
Czar ere the C Grew to this strength — Blow ye the trumpet 5

D

Daffodilly And drooping d, — Anacreontics 2
Dame See Step-dame
Damn'd And d unto his loathed tenement. — Lover's Tale i 683
Dance colour'd spots as d athwart the eyes — Timbuctoo 70
Dandy With d pathos when you wrote, — New Timon 10
Dapper A d boot—a little hand— — " 35
Dappled (adj. and part.) Upon the crispings of the d waves — Lover's Tale i 46
That blanched upon its side.
D with hollow and alternate rise — Timbuctoo 130
Dappled (verb) smallest grain that d the dark Earth. — " 99
Dare Will he d to battle with the free? — English War Song 46 knowest I d not look into thine eyes, — Oh, Beauty 4
I d not fold My arms about thee—scarcely d to speak. — " 5
Daring Hath d fancies of her own, — Rosalind 26
Dark (See also Winedark) I saw The smallest grain that dappled the d Earth, — Timbuctoo 99 and the Moon Had fallen from the night, and all was d! — " 253
Go—carry him to his d deathbed; — Burial of Love 11
Through d and bright Wingèd hours are borne; — Every day, etc. 3
The night is d and vast; — Hero to Leander 2
One very d and chilly night Pride came beneath and held a light. — Love, Pride, etc. 5 and mightily outgrow The wan d coil of faded suffering— — Could I outwear 4 Driven back the billow of the dreamful d. — To a Lady Sleep. 6
And all the haunted place is d and holy. — Check every outflash 8
Dark (continued) I am so d, alas! and thou so bright, — Me my own fate 13
And the d pine weeps, — Lotos-Eaters 33
From the root Drawn in the d, Up to the fruit, — Hesperides, Song i 21
And you, d Senate of the public pen, — Sugg. by Reading 19
There hang within the heavens a d disgrace, — " 41
And onward floating in a full, d wave, — Lover's Tale i 739
Battailing with the glooms of my d will, — " 782
Darken towers Shall d with the waving of her wand; — Timbuctoo 245
D, and shrink and shiver into huts, — " 246 world's last tempest d's overhead; — Britons, guard 2
And why was I to d their pure love, — Lover's Tale i 765
Darken'd Because my own was d? — " 767
Darkling They with dim eyes Behold me d. — Timbuctoo 213
Darkly-wreathed And ivy d-w, — Anacreontics 4
Darkness wave, Forth issuing from d, — Timbuctoo 230
Her light shall into d change; — Burial of Love 27
They flash across the d of my brain, — Lover's Tale i 53
Darling (adj.) O D room, my heart's delight, — O darling room 1
Darling (s) Mid May's d goldenlocked, — Dualisms 21
Darmstadt Bingen in D, where the Rhene — O darling room 11
Dart He hath not another d; — Burial of Love 10 Daughter D's of time, divinely tall, — The Mystic 26 and sisters three, D's thee, — Hesperides, Song iv 26
Rome's dearest d now is captive France, — Britons, guard 31
Gigantic d of the West, — Hands all Round 37
Dawn (s) So in thine hour of d, the body's youth, — Though night 13
Purplefringed with even and d. — Hesperides, Song iii 14
Fresh as the d before the day, — Rosalind 27
Dawn (verb) such a one As d's but once a season. — Lover's Tale i 302
Day (See also Marriage-day, To-day, Week-day) Upon some earth-awakening d of spring — Timbuctoo 152
Every d hath its night: — Every day, etc. 1
Golden calm and storm Mingle d by d. — " 8 the culvers mourn All the livelong d. — " 30 there stood before him, night and d, — The Mystic 11 all things creeping to a d of doom. — " 40
The d, the diamonded light, — Chorus 11 all the d heaven gathers back her tears — Tears of Heaven 6 showering down the glory of lightsome d, — " 8 and thine My heart's d, — Love and Sorrow 9
Making their d dim, so we gaze on thee. — Love 23
Looks through the thickstemmed woods by d and night — " 44
Where'er the light of d be; (repeat) — National Song 2, 6, 20, 24
As round the rolling earth night follows d: — Me my own fate 10
Guard the apple night and d, — Hesperides, Song i 28 heart is drunk with over-watchings night and d, — " ii 12 Father Hesper, watch, watch, night and d, — " iii 1
The end of d and beginning of night — " iv 9
Watch it warily d and night; — " 13
Fresh as the dawn before the d, — Rosalind 27
O for those d's of Piast, ere the Czar — Blow ye the trumpet 5
To kiss it night and d, — The Ringlet 4 Ringlet, I kiss'd you night and d, — " 26
many pleasant d's, the moonlit nights, — Lover's Tale i 54
Oh, happy, happy outset of my d's! — " 276
On that d the year First felt his youth — " 305
May their d's be golden d's, — " 794
Day-beam Shall not avail you when the d-b sports — Cambridge 6
Dazzle Till it d and blind his eyes. — English War Song 28
Dazzled d to the heart with glorious pain. — There are three things 14
Dazzling upsprung the d Cones Of Pyramids, — Timbuctoo 168
Dead Love is d; (repeat) — Burial of Love 8, 13
And when thou art d, Leander, — Hero to Leander 30
The d skin withering on the fretted bone, — Lover's Tale i 678
Rise, Britons, rise, if manhood be not d; — Britons, guard 1
Deaf (Shame fall 'em they are d and blind) — The Grasshopper 6
But thou art d as death; — The lintwhite 11
Deal You may not, like yon tyrant, d in spies. — Sugg. by Reading 20
Dean Your doctors and your proctors and your d's — Cambridge 5
Dear black eyes, and brown and blue; I hold them all most d; — There are three things 7
D room, the apple of my sight, — O darling room 2
To our d kinsmen of the West, my friends, — Hands all Round 59
Dearest Sainted Juliet! d name! — To —— 1
Rome's d daughter now is captive France, — Britons, guard 31

Dearest (continued) my Camilla, who was mine No longer in the d use of mine— Lover's Tale i 599
Death D standeth by ; She will not die ; I' the glooming light 12 either gate of life, Both birth and d ; The Mystic 33 night and pain and ruin and d reign here. Love 4
But thou art deaf as d ; The lintwhite 11 in d They sleep with staring eyes A Fragment 28
From which may rude D never startle them, Lover's Tale i 796 in the d of love, if e'er they loved, „ 849
Deathbed Go—carry him to his dark d ; Burial of Love 11
Decay (s) And, trampled on, left to its own d. Lover's Tale ii 81
Decay (verb) And all her stars d.' The Ringlet 10
Decent Stands in her pew and hums her d psalm With d dippings at the name of Christ ! Sugg. by Reading 64
Decline little isle of Ithaca, beneath the day's d. Lotos-Eaters 22
Decorous Poor soul ! behold her : what d calm ! Sugg. by Reading 61
Decree the while your harsh d deplore, Lost Hope 2
Deep (adj.) Flowing Southward, and the chasms of d, d blue Slumber'd unfathomable, Timbuctoo 7
Before the awful Genius of the place Kneels the pale Priestess in d faith, „ 34
The indistinctest atom in d air, „ 100
For she hath half delved her own d grave. I' the glooming light 7
The d salt wave breaks in above Those marble steps below. Hero's Leander 34 all the day heaven gathers back her tears Into her own blue eyes so clear and d, Tears of Heaven 7
To have the d poetic heart Is more than all poetic fame. New Timon 23
Thin dilletanti d in nature's plan, Sugg. by Reading 80 Eye feeding upon eye with d intent ; Lover's Tale i 64 whom woful ailments Of unavailing tears and heart d moans Feed and envenom, „ i 819
But over the d graves of Hope and Fear, „ ii 61
Deep (adv.) Low-buried fathom d beneath with thee, O sad no more ! 8
Deep (s) thro' the sapphire d's In wayward strength, Chorus 28
Why d is not high, and high is not d ? The 'How' and the 'Why' 16
uprend the sea, Even from his central d's : Love 10
Two streams upon the violet d : Hesperides, Song iv 6
Deep-furrowed d-f thought with many a name D. of F. Women 15
Deep-rooted D-r in the living soil of truth : Timbuctoo 225
Definite would scan D round. „ 132
Deity As with a sense of nigher D, Lover's Tale i 382
Delicious Most loveliest, most d union ? „ i 275
Delight I thus hope my lost d's renewing, Could I outwear 9
D is with thee gone, Oh ! stay. The lintwhite 33
Hoarded wisdom brings d. Hesperides, Song ii 6 a flash of frolic scorn And keen d, Rosalind 16
O DARLING room, my heart's d, O darling room 1
I took d in this locality ! Mablethorpe 2
Alas for her and all her small d's ! Sugg. by Reading 55 yet to both of us It was d, not hindrance : unto both D from hardship to be overcome, Lover's Tale i 378
Intense d and rapture that I breathed, „ 381
Delighted Else had the life of that d hour „ 465
Delirious Like a dreamy Lotos-eater, a d Lotos-eater ! Lotos-Eaters 13
Delved she hath half d her own deep grave. I' the glooming light 7
Den From wronged Poerio's noisome d, Hands all Round 15
Dense Dim shores, d rains, and heavy clouded sea. Mablethorpe 8
Deplore the while your harsh decree d, Lost Hope 2
Deploring Matter enough for d But aught 1865-1866 8
Depth lowest d's were, as with visible love, Timbuctoo 49 undescended d Of her black hollows. „ 104 an unimagin'd d And harmony of planet-girded Suns „ 108
The reflex of my City in their d's. „ 239
Descendant as when in some large lake From pressure of d crags, „ 122 Descent The bright d Of a young Seraph ! „ 64
Desert Grew to this strength among his d's cold ; Blow ye the trumpet 6
Desire (s) Unto their hearts' d, (repeat) National Song 12, 30
Desire (verb) Peace-lovers we—sweet Peace we all d— Britons, guard 13
Despite Shadows to which, d all shocks of Change, Timbuctoo 25
Devil For the d a whit we heed 'em, (repeat) National Song 10, 28
And the merry d drive 'em (repeat) „ 13, 31
Dew Unvisited with d of vagrant cloud, Timbuctoo 103
Her tears are mixed with the bearded d's. I' the glooming light 11
Dew (continued) And filled the cup with d. Lost Hope 8
To him the honey d's of orient hope. Lover's Tale i 675
the d, the sun, the rain, Under the growth of body „ ii 73
Dew-drop Or as the d-d's on the petal hung, „ i 558
Dewy recalls the d prime Of youth and buried time ? Who can say 6
Diamond Behind, In d light, upsprung the dazzling Cones Of Pyramids, Timbuctoo 168
Diamonded The day, the d light, Chorus 11
Diamondeyed Summer's tanling d. Dualisms 22
Die Men clung with yearning Hope which would not d. Timbuctoo 27
We laugh, we cry, we are born, we d, The 'How' and the 'Why' 8
Whether we sleep or whether we d ? „ 18
No ! sooner she herself shall d. Burial of Love 24
Death standeth by ; She will not d ; I' the glooming light 13
SHALL the hag Evil d with the child of Good, Shall the hag 1
WHO fears to d ? Who fears to d ? Is there any here who fears to d English War Song 1 one shall grieve For the man who fears to d : „ 4 scorn of the many shall cleave To the man who fears to d. „ 6 black eyes, I live and d, and only d for you. There are three things 8 Kingdoms lapse, and climates change, and races d ; Hesperides, Song ii 4 many a name Whose glory will not d. D. of F. Women 16
Or tell me how to d. Skipping-rope 10
Till it fade and fail and d, Germ of 'Maud' 30
Died What marvel that she d ? Love, Pride, etc. 14
So d the Old : here comes the New : New Timon 5 what profits it To tell ye that her father d, Lover's Tale i 291 when hope d, part of her eloquence D „ 751
Dig Come along ! we will d their graves. English War Song 39
Dilletanti Thin d deep in nature's plan, Sugg. by Reading 80
Dim They with d eyes Behold me darkling. Timbuctoo 212
D shadows but unwaning presences Fourfaced to four corners of the sky ; The Mystic 15
Through whose d brain the winged dreams are borne, To a Lady Sleep. 2
Making their day d, so we gaze on thee. Love 23
D shores, dense rains, and heavy clouded sea. Mablethorpe 8
Diminution By d made most glorious, Lover's Tale i 71
Dimple D's, roselips, and eyes of any hue. There are three things 4
Din Anon he rusheth forth with merry d, Love 41
Dip Above her head the weak lamp d's and winks Timbuctoo 35
Dipp'd low-hung tresses, d In the fierce stream, Lover's Tale i 374
Dipping With decent d's at the name of Christ ! Sugg. by Reading 64
Dirt If half the little soul is d ? New Timon 36
Discernment So lethargised d in the sense, Lover's Tale i 663
Discovery render up this home To keen D : Timbuctoo 244
Diseased Thronging the cells of the d mind, Shall the hag 3
Disgrace There hang within the heavens a dark d, Sugg. by Reading 41
Dishonour doth the fruit of her d reap. Tears of Heaven 5
Disjointed descendant crags, which lapse D, Timbuctoo 123
Disk mighty d of their majestic sun, Love 21
Disloyal Or loyally d battled for our rights. Sugg. by Reading 36
Dismal Let the d face go by, Germ of 'Maud' 23
Display Double d of starlit wings Timbuctoo 155
Dissenting Would, unrelenting, Kill all d, Britons, guard 34
Dissolution Which, lapt in seeming d, Lover's Tale i 507
Distance Most pale and clear and lovely d's. The Mystic 35
Distant And notes of busy life in d worlds Timbuctoo 113
Distinct momentary flash of light Grew thrillingly d and keen. „ 98
D and vivid with sharp points of light „ 107
Distress Misery Forgot herself in that extreme d, Lover's Tale i 628
Divine lowest depths were, as with visible love, Fill'd with D effulgence, Timbuctoo 50 and some On the ancient heights d ; Lotos-Eaters 17
With stony smirks at all things human and d ! Sugg. by Reading 48
Divinely Daughters of time, d tall, beneath The Mystic 26
Divinest D Atalantis, whom the waves Have buried deep, Timbuctoo 22
If to love be life alone, D Juliet, To —— 3
Doctor Your d's and your proctors and your deans Cambridge 5 Dome rampart upon rampart, d on d, Timbuctoo 163 soft inversion of her tremulous D's ; „ 232
Doom (s) all things creeping to a day of d. The Mystic 40
Some vast Assyrian d to burst upon our race. Sugg. by Reading 42

Doom (verb) Ringlet, I d you to the flame. The Ringlet 50
Doometh Me my own fate to lasting sorrow d: Me my own fate 1
Door and beneath Two d's of blinding brilliance, Timbuctoo 178 hinge on which the d of Hope, Once turning, Lover's Tale i 297
Double bearing on both sides D display of starlit wings Timbuctoo 155
Double-sweet And were in union more than d-s. Lover's Tale i 567
Doubt they plunge their d's among old rags and bones. Sugg. by Reading 72
For my d's and fears were all amiss, The Ringlet 19
That a d will only come for a kiss, „ 21
Down Sneering bedridden in the d of Peace Sugg. by Reading 46
Downlooking D sees the solid shining ground D. of F. Women 2
Down-roll'd from the golden threshold had d-r Their heaviest thunder, Lover's Tale i 617
Drag We d so deep in our commercial mire, Sugg. by Reading 50
Dragon underneath the star Named of the D— A Fragment 6
Lest the redcombed d slumber Hesperides, Song ii 9
Hesper, the d, and sisters three, „ 24
Hesper, the d, and sisters three, „ iv 25
Drain-cut The d-c levels of the marshy lea,— Mablethorpe 6
Drave broad-blown Argosies D into haven? A Fragment 8
Draw ev'n as flame d's air; Timbuctoo 18
Drawn d the frozen rain From my cold eyes Could I outwear 13
From the root D in the dark, Hesperides, Song i 21
Half round the mantling night is d, „ iii 13
Dread We must not d in you the nameless autocrat. Sugg. by Reading 18 Dream (s) A d as frail as those of ancient Time?' Timbuctoo 62
d's of old Which fill'd the Earth „ 78
Less vivid than a half-forgotten d, „ 136
Through whose dim brain the winged d's are borne, To a Lady Sleep. 2
All thoughts, all creeds, all d's are true, οἱ 'ῥέοντες 1
Came voices, like the voices in a d, The Hesperides 12
As men do from a vague and horrid d, Lover's Tale i 786 their long life a d of linked love, „ 795
Dream (verb) all Have faith in that they d: οἱ 'ῥέοντες 6
But if I d that all these are, They are to me for that I d; „ 13
Dreamful Driven back the billow of the d dark. To a Lady Sleep. 6
Dreamy Like a d Lotos-eater, a delirious Lotos-eater! Lotos-Eaters 13
Dreary Black specks amid a waste of d sand, Timbuctoo 247
Let it pass, the d brow, Germ of 'Maud' 22
Gray sand banks and pale sunsets—d wind, Mablethorpe 7
Drew who d the happy atmosphere Lover's Tale i 673
Dried The course of Hope is d,— „ 808
Drifting Shadow'd and crimson'd with the d dust, „ 139
Drink First d a health, this solemn night, Hands all Round 1
To Europe's better health we d, „ 23
To France, the wiser France, we d, „ 35
We d to thee across the flood, „ 38
And the merry devil d 'em (repeat) National Song 13, 31
Driven D back the billow of the dreamful dark. To a Lady Sleep. 6
Drizzle white clouds d: her hair falls loose; I' the glooming light 9
Droop hold aloft the cloud Which d's low The Mystic 32
Drooping Backward d his graceful head. Burial of Love 7 ringlets, D and beaten with the plaining wind, Lover's Tale i 735
And d daffodilly, And silverleaved lily, Anacreontics 2
Drop Thine eye in d's of gladness swims. Hero to Leander 18
Lest his scaled eyelid d, Hesperides, Song ii 15
Dropping D the eyelid over the eyes. „ 20
Dropt eyes d downward through the blue serene, To a Lady Sleep. 9
Dross And d to gold with glorious alchemy, Though night 7
Drove (See also Drave) on the Baltic shore Boleslas d the Pomeranian. Blow ye the trumpet 14
Being wafted on the wind, d in my sight, Lover's Tale i 730
Which d them onward—made them sensible; „ ii 77
Drown D soul and sense, while wistfully Pallid thunderstricken 4
Drowned or how we found The d seaman on the shore? Lover's Tale i 293
Drunk heart is d with overwatchings night and day, Hesperides, Song ii 12 Dug with the shock Half d their own graves), Lover's Tale ii 50
Dull Thy sense is clogg'd with d mortality, Timbuctoo 82
My thoughts which long had grovell'd in the slime Of this d world, „ 150
The d wave mourns down the slope, I' the glooming light 21
Alas! that one so beautiful Should have so d an ear. The lintwhite 9
By a d mechanic ghost And a juggle of the brain. Germ of 'Maud' 7
Dumb Alas! that lips so cruel d Should have so sweet a breath! The lintwhite 17
Dusky like d worms which house Beneath unshaken waters, Timbuctoo 150
Dust Shadow'd and crimson'd with the drifting d, Lover's Tale i 139 Dwell I would d with thee, Merry grasshopper, The Grasshopper 22 Dweller As d's in lone planets look upon Love 20

E

Each E failing sense As with a momentary flash of light Timbuctoo 96 with restless and increasing spheres Which break upon e other, „ 126
The wheatears whisper to e other: The 'How' and the 'Why' 11
Grief and sadness steal Symbols of e other; Every day, etc. 26
Saw far on e side through the grated gates The Mystic 34
E sun which from the centre flings Grand music Chorus 21
Or in the art of Nature, where e rose Doth faint Lover's Tale i 563
If, as I knew, they two did love e other, „ 766
Lo! how they love e other! „ 802
Eager Rapidly levelling e eyes. Hesperides, Song ii 18
In e haste I shook him by the hand; Lover's Tale i 788 Ear Beat like a far wave on my anxious e. Timbuctoo 114 and his e's With harmonies of wind and wave „ 206 one so beautiful Should have so dull an e. The lintwhite 9
Breathes low into the charmed e's of morn A Fragment 25
There was a ringing in my e's, O sad no more! 5
In the e, from far and near, Rosalind 7
It's always ringing in your e's, New Timon 31 by our e's, the huge roots strain and creak), Lover's Tale i 63
Earlier Than e, when on the Baltic shore Blow ye the trumpet 13
Earliest With e Light of Spring, Timbuctoo 200
(the innocent light Of e youth pierced through and through The Mystic 29
Thy Memnon, when his peaceful lips are kissed With e rays, A Fragment 23 (Huge splinters, which the sap of e showers, Lover's Tale ii 45
Early but overleap All the petty shocks and fears That trouble life in e years, Rosalind 14
Fresh as the e seasmell blown Through vineyards from an inland bay. „ 28
Earth pillars high Long time eras'd from E: Timbuctoo 13
whilome won the hearts of all on E „ 17
Which fill'd the E with passing loveliness, „ 79 smallest grain that dappled the dark E, „ 99
E's As Heaven than E is fairer. „ 169 so kin to e Pleasaunce fathers pain— Every day, etc. 14
The varied e, the moving heaven, Chorus 1
hoarhead winter paving e With sheeny white, „ 18
Heaven weeps above the e all night till morn, Tears of Heaven 1
Because the e hath made her state forlorn „ 3
Smiles on the e's worn brow to win her if she may. „ 9
Heaven crieth after thee; e waileth for thee: Love 26 the new year warm breathèd on the e, „ 33
'Come along! we alone of the e are free; English War Song 34
As round the rolling e night follows day: Me my own Fate 10
I grant you one of the great Powers on e, Sugg. by Reading 23 and my neck his arm upstay'd From e. Lover's Tale i 721 Crush'd link on link into the beaten e, „ 859
Earth-awakening Upon some e-a day of spring Timbuctoo 152
Earthly And shook its e socket, for we heard, Lover's Tale i 61
Earthquake-shattered link The e-s chasm, „ 408
Ease I fain would shake their triple-folded e, Sugg. by Reading 44
East Lest one from the E come and take it away. Hesperides, Song i 29
Look from west to e along: „ iii 6
Till midnoon the cool e light Is shut out „ iv 15
Was not the South, The E, the West, all open, Lover's Tale i 699
Eat He shall e the bread of common scorn; English War Song 13
We will e the Lotos, Lotos-Eaters 14
Eater See Lotos-Eater
Ebbing A curve of whitening, flashing, e light! Timbuctoo 63
Echo The e, feeble child of sound, Chorus 12
Hearing apart the e's of his fame. D. of F. Women 13
E'es in his empty hall, Home they brought him 4
Eclipse His eyes in e, Pale cold his lips, Burial of Love 1 thou wilt not brook e; Love 11

Edge Could link his shallop to the fleeting e, Timbuctoo 145
Edict e's of his fear Are mellowed into music, Love 7
Effect each th' e Of separate impulse, Timbuctoo 126
Effulgence Fill'd with Divine e, circumfus'd, „ 50
Egypt Mysterious E, are thine obelisks A Fragment 12
Either Which droops low hung on e gate of life, The Mystic 32
Parted on e side her argent neck, Lover's Tale i 740
Eld Keen knowledges of low-embowèd e) The Mystic 30
An honourable e shall come upon thee. Though night 14
Elder which starr'd the night o' the E World? Timbuctoo 60
Eldorado Imperial E roof'd with gold: „ 24 Element The fierceness of the bounding e? „ 148 with the heat Of their infolding e; Lover's Tale i 615
Eloquence when hope died, part of her e Died „ 751
Elysian Seraphtrod, Wound thro' your great E solitudes, Timbuctoo 48
Embalming E with sweet tears the vacant shrine, Lost Hope 3
Emblem obelisks Graven with gorgeous e's undiscerned? A Fragment 13
Embowed See Low-embowèd
Embrace the billow will e thee with a kiss Hero to Leander 27
Spirit waits To e me in the sky. Germ of 'Maud' 34
Embracing thoughts Involving and e each with each Timbuctoo 116
Emerald And ever circling round their e cones In coronals and glories, „ 52
Shooting, singing, ever springing In and out the e glooms, The Grasshopper 42
Eminence aloft Upon his renown'd E Timbuctoo 171
Empereur 'Vive l'E' may follow by and bye; Britons, guard 25
Empery thine e Is over all: Love 10
Emphatic Who make the e One, by whom is all, Sugg. by Reading 81
Emptiness But lose themselves in utter e. Love and Sorrow 16
Empty All alone she sits and hears Echoes in his e hall, Home they brought him 4
I, screaming, from me flung The e phantom: Lover's Tale ii 213 Encircled See Moon-encircled
End Till the e of fears Cometh in the shroud, Every day, etc. 20
The e of day and beginning of night Hesperides, Song iv 9
For better so you fight for public e's; Sugg. by Reading 26
Endue See Indue
Endure Yet e unscathed Of changeful cycles A Fragment 8
Enduring But men of long e hopes, New Timon 17 not e To carry through the world Timbuctoo 237 Enemy There standeth our ancient e; (repeat) English War Song 23, 45
Hark! he shouteth—the ancient e! „ 24
Enfold thy hills e a City as fair Timbuctoo 59
Athwart the veils of evil which e thee Love 17
England Shout for E! Ho! for E! George for E! Merry E! E for aye! (repeat) English War Song 7, 18, 29, 40, 51
Than to shame merry E here. „ 17
Hold up the Lion of E on high (repeat) „ 27, 49
There is no land like E (repeat) National Song 1, 5, 19, 23
A health to E, every guest; Hands all Round 2
And the great name of E round and round. (repeat) „ 24, 48, 60
The thinking men of E, loathe a tyranny. Sugg. by Reading 12
Of E and her health of commonsense— „ 40
Farewell our E's flower, God bless our Prince 9
English There are no hearts like E hearts, Such hearts of oak as they be. National Song 3
There are no wives like E wives, „ 21
There are no maids like E maids, „ 25
Englishmen There are no men like E, „ 7
Enough Matter e for deploring 1865-1866 8
Entwine e The indecision of my present mind Timbuctoo 138
Envenom heart deep moans Feed and e, Lover's Tale i 820
Enwoven See Inwoven
Epitaph An e that all may spy? Burial of Love 23
Eras'd pillars high Long time e from Earth: Timbuctoo 13
Erewhile E'en so my thoughts, e so low, „ 157
Essence Nor e nor eternal laws: οἱ 'ρέοντες 11
An e less concentred than a man! Sugg. by Reading 82
Essential As bearing no e fruits of excellence. Lover's Tale i 385
Eternal The very throne of the e God: Love 6
Nor essence nor e laws: οἱ 'ρέοντες 11
We shall lose e pleasure, Worth e want of rest. Hesperides, Song i 11
Eternity In e no future, In e no past. The 'How' and the 'Why' 6 Eternity (continued) One reflex from e on time, The Mystic 22 lived That intense moment thro' e. Lover's Tale i 496 Ether and an e of black hue, The Mystic 45
Ethereal if gold it were Or metal more e, Timbuctoo 177
Europe whose rapid interval Parts Afric from green E, „ 3
A health to E's honest men! Hands all Round 13
To E's better health we drink, „ 23
O speak to E through your guns! „ 51
Evanisheth Our life e: Oh! stay. The lintwhite 15
Even (See also Evening) Purple fringed with e and dawn. Hesperides, Song iii 14 thunders through your vacant courts At morn and e; Cambridge 10
Even-fall They brought him home at e-f: Home they brought him 2
Evening Hesper hateth Phosphor, e hateth morn. Hesperides, Song iii 15
Everchanging With triple arch of e bows, Timbuctoo 74
Every Expanding momently with e sight „ 118
Reacheth to e corner under Heaven, „ 224
E day hath its night: E night its morn: Every day, etc. 1
CHECK e outflash, e ruder sally Of thought and speech; Check every outflash 1
Looking warily E way, Hesperides, Song i 27
E flower and e fruit the redolent breath „ iv 1
A health to England, e guest; Hands all Round 2 a land of Love; Where Love was worshipp'd upon e height, Where Love was worshipp'd under e tree— Lover's Tale i 323
One rainy night, when e wind blew loud, „ 367
Evil (adj.) We likewise have our e things; Hands all Round 19
Like to the wild youth of an e king, Lover's Tale i 344 Evil (s) What hast thou to do with e (repeat) The Grasshopper 34, 40 selfwrought e's of unnumbered years, Tears of Heaven 4
SHALL the hag E die with the child of Good, Shall the hag 1
Athwart the veils of e which enfold thee Love 17
Evocation With mighty e, had updrawn Lover's Tale i 668
Ewe e's bleat On the solitary steeps, Lotos-Eaters 29
Exceeding his face, for it was wonderful With its e brightness, Timbuctoo 87
Excellence memory of that mental e Comes o'er me, „ 137
As bearing no essential fruits of e. Lover's Tale i 385
Exception I feel E to be character'd in fire. Sugg. by Reading 52
Excess Lest you go wrong from power in e. „ 10
Excitation spirit With supernatural e bound Within me, Timbuctoo 91
Excite She loves a little scandal which e's; Sugg. by Reading 57
Existence fields Of undefin'd e far and free. Timbuctoo 160
Expanding E momently with every sight And sound „ 118
Expectation Updrawn in e of her change— Lover's Tale i 597
Experience The stern e's of converse lives, The Mystic 8
Exploring 'Science enough and e 1865-1866 6
Express'd love too high to be e Arrested in its sphere, Lover's Tale i 65
Exquisite There is no room so e, O darling room 4
A little room so e, „ 15
Extreme even Misery Forgot herself in that e distress, Lover's Tale i 628 Eye (See also Eyne) gazeth on Those e's which wear no light Timbuctoo 39 colour'd spots as dance athwart the e's „ 70
Open thine e and see.' „ 84
The starry glowing of his restless e's. „ 89 my mental e grew large With such a vast circumference „ 92 till the e's in vain Amid the wild unrest „ 128 the e could scan Through length of porch „ 179
fill'd My e's with irresistable sweet tears, „ 191
Visit his e's with visions, and his ears „ 206
They with dim e's Behold me darkling. „ 212 mystery of loveliness Unto all e's, „ 242
His e's in eclipse, Pale cold his lips, Burial of Love 1
In the weathered light Of the tearless e „ 22
My heart is lighted at thine e's, To —— 8
With glazèd e She looks at her grave: I' the glooming light 14
E's are worn away Till the end of fears Every day, etc. 19
Thine e in drops of gladness swims. Hero to Leander 18
Ye could not read the marvel in his e, The Mystic 4
Awful with most invariable e's. „ 24 with shining e's Smiling a godlike smile „ 27
Into her own blue e's so clear and deep, Tears of Heaven 7 e's dropt downward through the blue serene, To a Lady Sleep. 9
From my cold e's and melted it again. Could I outwear 14 strain Weak e's upon the glistering sands Pallid thunderstricken 5
Strain the hot spheres of his convulsèd e's, Love 37

Eye (continued) Till it dazzle and blind his e's. English War Song 28
Alas! that e's so full of light The Lintwhite 26 from his mother's e's Flow over the Arabian bay, A Fragment 23
They sleep with staring e's and gilded lips, „ 29 both my e's gushed out with tears. O sad no more 6
Dimples, roselips, and e's of any hue. There are three things 4
For which I live—black e's, and brown and blue; „ 6 black e's, I live and die, and only die for you. „ 7
Of late such e's looked at me— „ 9
I saw no more only those e's— „ 13
knowest I dare not look into thine e's, Oh, Beauty 4
Looking under silver hair with a silver e. Hesperides, Song ii 2
Rapidly levelling eager e's. „ 18
Dropping the eyelid over the e's. „ 20
In my inner e's again, Germ of 'Maud' 4
Can it overlive the e? „ 27 my skipping-rope Will hit you in the e. Skipping-rope 4
The dewy dawnings and the amber e's, Lover's Tale i 55
E feeding upon e with deep intent; „ 64 mine image in her e's, „ 70 e's were moved With motions of the soul, „ 72
My e's, fix'd upon hers, „ 352
And my e's read, they read aright, „ 602
she did act the step-dame to mine e's, „ 664
By the shuddering moonlight, fix'd his e's „ 680 e's, I saw, were full of tears in the morn, „ 728 Eyed See Diamondeyed, Keen-eyed
Eyelid Came down upon my e's, and I fell. Timbuctoo 187
My e's and my brow. Hero to Leander 13
Lest his scaled e drop, Hesperides, Song ii 15
Dropping the e over the eyes. „ 20
Eyne With points of blastborne hail their heated e! Shall the hag 11

F

Fable labyrinthine veins Of the great vine of F, Timbuctoo 222
Face and the streets with ghastly f's throng'd „ 29 look'd into my f With his unutterable, „ 66
I look'd, but not Upon his f, „ 86
And stares in his f and shouts 'how? how?' The 'How' and the 'Why' 29
Before the f of God didst breath and move, Love 3 all f's turned to where Glows rubylike D. of F. Women 6 paint the beauteous f Of the maiden, Germ of 'Maud' 2
Let the dismal f go by, „ 23
a familiar f: I thought we knew him: New Timon 6
Refused to look his author in the f, Lover's Tale i 697
Known when their f's are forgot in the land. „ 804 Faced See Fullfaced
Fade Seasons flower and f; Every day, etc. 6
Till it f and fail and die, Germ of 'Maud' 30
Faded and mightily outgrow The wan dark coil of f suffering— Could I outwear 4
Faery The silent Heavens were blench'd with f light, Uncertain whether f light or cloud, Timbuctoo 5
Fail Lotos-land, till the Lotos f; Lotos-Eaters 27
Till it fade and f and die, Germ of 'Maud' 30
Fail'd tried the Muses too: You f, Sir: New Timon 14
Failing Each f sense As with a momentary flash of light Timbuctoo 96
Fain I f would shake their triple-folded ease, Sugg. by Reading 44
Faint each rose Doth f upon the bosom Lover's Tale i 564 Fair (See also Starry-fair) Where are ye Thrones of the Western wave, f Islands green? Timbuctoo 42 thy hills enfold a City as f As those which starr'd the night o' the Elder World? „ 59
How chang'd from this f City!' „ 249
Armed cap-a-pie, Full f to see; The Grasshopper 15
There are no wives like English wives, So f and chaste as they be. National Song 22
F year, f year, thy children call, The lintwhite 10
F year, with brows of royal love Thou comest, as a King. „ 19
(when I view F maiden forms moving like melodies), There are three things 3
I can shadow forth my bride As I knew her f and kind Germ of 'Maud' 10
'Tis a phantom f and good I can call it to my side, „ 15
I hear a thunder though the skies are f, Sugg. by Reading 89
Fair (continued) F fall this hallow'd hour, God bless our Prince 8
Farewell, f rose of May! „ 11 her cheek was pale, Oh! very f and pale: Lover's Tale i 725
Fairer as far surpassing Earth's As Heaven than Earth is f. Timbuctoo 170
Fairest Thou art the f of thy feres, The lintwhite 35 her to whom all outward f things Lover's Tale i 383
Fairy-like How f-l you fly! Skipping-rope 6 Faith Kneels the pale Priestess in deep f, Timbuctoo 34 and all Have f in that they dream: οἱ 'ρέοντες 6
Has given all my f a turn? The Ringlet 52
I know not, f: Lover's Tale i 695
Falcon My happy f, Rosalind, Rosalind 25
Falconhearted My f Rosalind „ 9
Fall Because no shadow on you f's, „ 31
In the summerwoods when the sun f's low, The 'How' and the 'Why' 27
For her the showers shall not f, Burial of Love 25 her hair f's loose; I' the glooming light 9 thick snow f's on her flake by flake, „ 20
(Shame f 'em they are deaf and blind) The Grasshopper 6
Let them clash together, foam and f. Hesperides, Song iii 9 that never f's Away from freshness, Rosalind 16
Self-poised, nor fears to f. D. of F. Women 12
You f on those who are to you New Timon 15
Take care thou dost not fear to f!' What time I wasted 9
Fair f this hallow'd hour, God bless our Prince 8
Did f away into oblivion. Lover's Tale i 630
Fall'n when the Sun Had f below th' Atlantick, Timbuctoo 4
Moon Had f from the night, „ 253
THE Northwind f, in the newstarréd night The Hesperides 1 leaf f in the woods, or blasted Upon this bough? Lover's Tale i 622
if he had f In love in twilight? „ 699
Falling In rising and in f with the tide, „ 62
f, they fell too, Crush'd link on link „ 858
False If ye sing not, if ye make f measure, Hesperides, Song i 10
Falsehood Prove their f and thy quarrel, The Grasshopper 9
Falter'd since that hour, My voice hath somewhat f— Lover's Tale i 750 Fame Hearing apart the echoes of his f. D. of F. Women 13
Is more than all poetic f. New Timon 24
Familiar Regard him: a f face: „ 6
Fancy Rosalind, hath daring fancies of her own, Rosalind 26 assimilated all our tastes And future fancies. Lover's Tale i 239 my f So lethargised discernment in the sense, „ 662
Fanged See Subtle-fanged
Fanlike wings which burn F and fibred, Timbuctoo 156 Far Beat like a f wave on my anxious ear. „ 114 through the trackless fields Of undefin'd existence f and free. „ 160
Saw round her feet the country f away, Lover's Tale i 390
Farewell F our England's flower, God bless our Prince 9
F, fair rose of May! „ 11
Far-up all faces turned to where Glows rubylike the f-u crimson globe, D. of F. Women 7 Fashioned See Airy-fashioned
Fate ME my own f to lasting sorrow doometh: Me my own fate 1
And insolence of uncontrolled F, Lover's Tale i 688
Father (s) F Hesper, F Hesper, watch, watch, ever and aye, Hesperides, Song ii 1
F, twinkle not thy stedfast sight; „ 3
Look to him, f, lest he wink, „ 11
F Hesper, F Hesper, watch, watch, night and day, „ iii 1
F, old Himla weakens, „ 7
Rode upon his f's lance, Beat upon his f's shield— Home they brought him 8 what profits it To tell ye that her f died, Lover's Tale i 291
Father (verb) so kin to earth Pleasaunce f's pain— Every day, etc. 15
Fathom Low-buried f deep beneath with thee, O sad no more! 8
Fear (s) men's hopes and f's take refuge in The fragrance Timbuctoo 226
Till the end of f's Cometh in the shroud, Every day, etc. 20
Unknowing f, Unreading loss, The Grasshopper 16 edicts of his f Are mellowed into music, Love 7 know no strife Of inward woe or outward f; Rosalind 4 shocks and f's That trouble life in early years, „ 13 what with spites and what with f's, New Timon 29
For my doubts and f's were all amiss, The Ringlet 19
And a f to be kissed away.' „ 22 lead me tenderly, for f the mind Lover's Tale i 23

Fear (verb) Who f's to die? Who f's to die? Is there any here who f's to die He shall find what he f's, and none shall grieve For the man who f's to die: English War Song 1 scorn of the many shall cleave To the man who f's to die. " 6 Self-poised, nor f's to fall. D. of F. Women 12
Take care thou dost not f to fall!' What time I wasted 9
I f for you, as for some youthful king, Sugg. by Reading 9
An honest isolation need not f The Court, " 15
Fearful weak lamp dips and winks Unto the f summoning without: Timbuctoo 36
With which the f springtide flecks the lea, Love and Sorrow 2
And with a f self-impelling joy Saw round her feet Lover's Tale i 389
Feather two birds of glancing f Do woo each other, Dualisms 8 Fed Memory tho' f by Pride Did wax Love, Pride, etc. 11 unhappy sighs, f with my tears, Lover's Tale i 674 Feeble The echo, f child of sound, Chorus 12
Feed heart deep moans F and envenom, Lover's Tale i 820
When the shrill storm blast f's it from behind, " ii 47
Feeding taught nothing, f on the soul. Cambridge 14
Eye f upon eye with deep intent; Lover's Tale i 64
Feel and to f My fullness; Timbuctoo 214
I f there is something; but how and what? The 'How' and the 'Why' 23
Severe and quick to f a civic sin, Sugg. by Reading 4
I f the thousand cankers of our State, " 43
I f Exception to be character'd in fire. " 51
She f's not how the social frame is rack'd. " 56 Feeling A little f is a want of tact. " 58 blood, the breath, the f and the motion, Lover's Tale ii 75
Feign No Tithon thou as poets f The Grasshopper 5
Fell Came down upon my eyelids, and I f. Timbuctoo 187
The Moslem myriads f, and fled before— Blow ye the trumpet 11 falling, they f too, Crush'd link on link Lover's Tale i 858 had shatter'd from The mountain, till they f, " ii 49 Felt I f my soul grow mighty, Timbuctoo 90 now f Unutterable buoyancy and strength " 157 not f and known A higher than they see: " 211 hath f The vanities of after and before; The Mystic 5 the year First f his youth and strength, Lover's Tale i 306
Fere Thy art the fairest of thy f's, The lintwhite 35
Fetter'd Thy spirit f with the bond of clay: Timbuctoo 83
Fibre On those first-moved f's of the brain. Lover's Tale i 21
Fibred wings which burn Fanlike and f, Timbuctoo 156
Fie O f, you golden nothing, f You golden lie. The Ringlet 43
Field (See also Sandfield) f's Of undefin'd existence far and free. Timbuctoo 159
A GATE and a f half ploughed, A gate and a field 1
Sun peeped in from open f, Home they brought him 6
Fierce The f old man—to take his name You bandbox. New Timon 43 whose low-hung tresses, dipp'd In the f stream, Lover's Tale i 375
Fierceness The f of the bounding element? Timbuctoo 148
Fiery Part of a throne of f flame, " 181
The linkèd woes of many a f change Had purified, The Mystic 9
Fight (s) charge to the f: Charge! charge to the f! English War Song 47
We still were loyal in our wildest f's, Sugg. by Reading 35
Fight (verb) Till we were left to f for truth alone. Britons, guard 35
To f thy mother here alone, Hands all Round 43
For better so you f for public ends; Sugg. by Reading 26
Fill THERE are three things that f my heart with sighs There are three things 1
Fill'd (See also Globefilled) F with Divine effulgence, circumfus'd, Timbuctoo 50 dreams of old Which f the Earth with passing loveliness, " 79
f My eyes with irresistible sweet tears, " 190
I have f thy lips with power. " 215
And f the cup with dew. Lost Hope 8
F with a finer air: D. of F. Women 8
Film'd f the margents of the recent wound. Lover's Tale i 764 Find He shall f what he fears, English War Song 3 f The drain-cut levels of the marshy l,— Mablethorpe 5
Fine And those f curses which he spoke; New Timon 2
Finer Filled with a f air: D. of F. Women 8
Fire Rapid as f, inextricably link'd, Timbuctoo 117
Changed into f, and blown about with sighs. To —— 9

Fire (continued) By secret f and midnight storms That wander Chorus 5 flings Grand Music and redundant f, " 22
They stream like f in the skies; English War Song 26
Through the water and the f. (repeat) National Song 14, 32
The world is wasted with f and sword, Hesperides, Song iv 22
But f, to blast the hopes of men. Hands all Round 30
I feel Exception to be character'd in f. Sugg. by Reading 52
Firmament Seemed with a cobweb f to link Lover's Tale i 407
First I have rais'd thee higher to the Spheres of Heaven, Man's f, last home: Timbuctoo 217
O MAIDEN, fresher than the f green leaf Love and Sorrow 1
For the two f were not, but only seemed One shadow The Mystic 20
First-moved begins to play On those f-m fibres of the brain. Lover's Tale i 21
Fish Young f'es, on an April morn, Rosalind 21
Five F links, a golden chain, are we, Hesperides, Song ii 23
F links, a golden chain, are we, " iv 24
Fixed he in the centre f, Saw far on each side The Mystic 33
My eyes, f upon hers, Lover's Tale i 352
By the shuddering moonlight, f his eyes " 680
Flag takes his f's and waves them to the mob D. of F. Women 5
Flake thick snow falls on her f by f, I' the glooming light 20
Flame (s) ev'n as f draws air; But had their being in the heart of Man As air is th' life of f: Timbuctoo 18
Part of a throne of fiery f, " 181
Love unreturn'd is like the fragrant f To —— 5 a region of white f, Pure without heat, The Mystic 43
Ringlet, I doom you to the f. The Ringlet 50
Flame (verb) To f and sparkle and stream as of old, " 8
Flash (s) As with a momentary f of light Timbuctoo 97
With a f of frolic scorn And keen delight, Rosalind 15
Flash (verb) They f across the darkness of my brain, Lover's Tale i 53
Flashing A curve of whitening, f, ebbing light! Timbuctoo 63
Girt with a Zone of f gold beneath His breast, " 72
Her frantic city's f heats But fire, Hands all Round 29
Flat Looking athwart the burning f's, A Fragment 17
Flattering melody f the crisped Nile By columned Thebes. " 26
Fleck which the fearful springtide f's the lea, Love and Sorrow 2
Flecked See Silverflecked
Fled The Moslem myriads fell, and f before— Blow ye the trumpet 11
Fleet more f and strong Than its precursor, Timbuctoo 127
Though thou art f of wing, Yet stay. The lintwhite 24
Fleeting Could link his shallop to the f edge, Timbuctoo 145
They from the blosmy brere Call to the f year, The lintwhite 5 the great Pyramids Broad-based amid the f sands, A Fragment 10
Fleetness nature of itself With its own f. Timbuctoo 143
Fling from the centre f's Grand music Chorus 21
Thy golden largess f, The lintwhite 22
Break through your iron shackles—f them far. Blow ye the trumpet 4
Flinging Then f myself down upon my knees Lover's Tale i 789
Flit Lets the great world f from him, D. of F. Women 10
Float Down an ideal stream they ever f, Pallid thunderstricken 2
Floating Like a swol'n river's gushings in still night Mingled with f music, Timbuctoo 194
Nor blot with f shades the solar light. Shall the hag 14
And onward f in a full, dark wave, Lover's Tale i 739
Flood We drink to thee across the f, Hands all Round 38
Flooded stars Were f over with clear glory Timbuctoo 9
Flooding freshflushing springtime calls To the f waters cool, Rosalind 20
F its angry cheek with odorous tears. Lover's Tale i 565
Flow Nor the rivers f, nor the sweet birds sing, Burial of Love 29
How scorn and ruin, pain and hate could f: Pallid thunderstricken 10
And all things f like a stream. (repeat) οἱ ῥέοντες 8, 16 from his mother's eyes F over the Arabian bay, A Fragment 24 Flower (s) (See also Summerflowers) Moving his crest to all sweet plots of f's Could I outwear 7
I smelt a wildweed f alone; O sad no more! 4
From an old garden where no f bloometh, Me my own fate 7
Every f and every fruit the redolent breath Hesperides, Song iv 1
Farewell our England's f, God bless our Prince 9
Creep down into the bottom of the f. Lover's Tale i 560
Flower (verb) Seasons f and fade; Every day, etc. 6
Flowerbell Two bees within a chrystal f rockèd Dualisms 1
Flowerèd Pushing the thick roots aside Of the singing f grasses, The Grasshopper 38
Through and through the f heather. Dualisms 5

Flowering Your f Capes and your gold-sanded bays Timbuctoo 45
Stays on the f arch of the bough, Hesperides, Song iv 18
Flowery And in and out the woodbine's f arches Check every outflash 11
Floweth And the sap to three-fold music f, Hesperides, Song i 19
Flowing faery light or cloud, F Southward, Timbuctoo 7
F between the clear and polish'd stems, „ 51
lordly music f from Th' illimitable years. „ 218
Time f in the middle of the night, The Mystic 39
Seas at my feet were f Waves on the shingle 1865-1866 10
Flown Till your balls fly as their true shafts have f. Briton's, guard 47
Flung f strange music on the howling winds, Timbuctoo 80 would have f himself From cloud to cloud, Lover's Tale i 303
Flush'd face Was starry-fair, not pale, tenderly f „ 75
Flushing See Freshflushing
Flute See Lotosflute
Fly rocks stand still, and the light clouds f? The 'How' and the 'Why' 14
Then I lose it: it will f: Germ of 'Maud' 25
How fairy-like you f! Skipping-rope 6
Till your balls f as their true shafts have flown. Britons, guard 47
Foam (s) no more roam, On the loud hoar f, Lotos-Eaters 19
Foam (verb) Let them clash together, f and fall. Hesperides, Song iii 9
Foamfountains narwhale swalloweth His f in the sea. Lotos-Eaters 8
Foam-white And the f-w waters pour; „ 32
Foe Our freedom's foemen are her f's, Hands all Round 55
For her there lie in wait millions of f's, Sugg. by Reading 59
Foeman Our freedom's foemen are her foes, Hands all Round 55
Fold See Three-fold
Fold (s) Rolled together in purple f's. Hesperides, Song ii 10 Fold (verb) I dare not f My arms about thee— Oh, Beauty 5
Folded See Triple-folded
Foldest Thou f, like a golden atmosphere, Love 5
Folding F the slaughter of the sacrifice To —— 6
Follow My soul shall f thee! Hero to Leander 31 go not, go not yet, Or I will f thee. „ 41
But yet my lonely spirit f's thine, As round the rolling earth night f's day: Me my own fate 9
'Vive l'Empereur' may f by and bye; Britons, guard 25
Following and f, plunged Into the dizzy chasm Lover's Tale i 369
Fool You f's, you'll want them all again. Hands all Round 32
That wish to keep their people f's; „ 54
To charm a lower sphere of fulminating f's. Sugg. by Reading 30
O f's, we want a manlike God and Godlike men! „ 84
And a f may say his say; The Ringlet 18
Foot (See also Mountain-foot) Vaulting on thine airy feet. The Grasshopper 10
I only ask to sit beside thy feet. Oh, Beauty 3
Seas at my feet were flowing Waves on the shingle 1865-1866 10
Saw round her feet the country far away, Lover's Tale i 390
Planting my feet against this mound of time „ 492 Forehead unfading f's of the Saints in Heaven? Timbuctoo 54 a snake her f clips And skins the colour Pallid thunderstricken 13
About her f wound it, Anacreontics 11
As I said, with these She crown'd her f. Lover's Tale i 349
Did brush my f in their to-and-fro: „ 736
Foreign Why stay they there to guard a f throne? Britons, guard 41
Foretaste The triumph of this f, Lover's Tale i 515
Forgave I f you all the blame, To C. North 6
Forgive I could not f the praise, „ 8
Forgot Almost f even to move again. Lover's Tale i 353
Misery F herself in that extreme distress, „ 628
Known when their faces are f in the land. „ 804 Forgotten (See also Half-forgotten) Thy pleasant wiles F, Burial of Love 16
Forlorn love! art thou f, And unrevenged? „ 14
Be not all f; Every day, etc. 31
Because the earth hath made her state f Tears of Heaven 3
The hollow at heart shall crouch f, English War Song 12
Form The cruellest f of perfect scorn, Burial of Love 18
Colossal, without f, or sense, or sound, The Mystic 14 the countless f's Of living things, Chorus 7
There is no bright f Doth not cast a shade— Every day, etc. 9
Fair maiden f's moving like melodies), There are three things 3
Like them, you bicker less for truth than f's. Sugg. by Reading 76 ceasing from All contemplation of all f's, Lover's Tale i 67
Forward One f, one respectant, three but one; The Mystic 18
Fought Although we f the banded world alone, Britons, guard 59
Found The cause is nowhere f in rhyme. Who can say 8

Fountain (See also Foamfountains) Calls to him by the f to uprise. Love 35
Fountainpregrant f mountains riven To shapes Chorus 3
Four Why two and two make f? The 'How' and the 'Why' 13
Fourfacèd to f corners of the sky; The Mystic 16
Four-and-twenty 'The f-a-t Blackbirds' 'Banbury Cross,' Lover's Tale i 286
Fourfacèd presences F to four corners of the sky; The Mystic 16
Fragrance in The f of its complicated glooms Timbuctoo 227
The blossom and the f. Lover's Tale i 626
Fragrant Love unreturned is like the f flame To —— 5
And crushing the thick f reeds he lies, Love 32
Creeping under the f bark, Hesperides, Song i 23
Frail A dream as f as those of ancient Time?' Timbuctoo 62
Frailest Hopes did sway from that Which hung the f: Lover's Tale i 858
Frame She feels not how the social f is rack'd. Sugg. by Reading 56
France We hate not F, but this man's heart of stone. Britons, guard 17
We hate not F, but F has lost her voice This man is F, the man they call her choice. „ 19
Rome's dearest daughter now is captive F, „ 31
What health to F, if F be she Whom martial progress Hands all Round 25
To F, the wiser F, we drink, my friends, „ 35
To that half-pagan harlot kept by F! Sugg. by Reading 70
Frantic Her f city's flashing heats But fire, Hands all Round 29
Free through the trackless fields Of undefin'd existence far and f. Timbuctoo 160
linkèd woes of many a fiery change Had purified, and chastened, and made f. The Mystic 10
Thou art so glad and f, And as light as air; Grasshopper 24
But a short youth sunny and f. „ 29
Come along! we alone of the earth are f; English War Song 34
He is weak! we are strong; he is slave, we are f; „ 38
Will he dare to battle with the f? „ 46
We are the sons of freedom, We are f. (repeat) National Song 18, 36
Yet winds the pathway f to all!— What time I wasted 8 better to be f Than vanquish all the world in arms. Hands all Round 27
And the f speech that makes a Briton known. Britons, guard 29
F subjects of the kindliest of all thrones, Sugg. by Reading 71
Was not the wide world f, Lover's Tale i 693
Freedom Our glory is our f, (repeat) National Song 15, 33
We are the sons of f, We are free. (repeat) „ 17, 35
All f vanish'd, Britons, guard 9
And murder was her f overthrown. „ 23
When war against our f springs! Hands all Round 50
Our f's foemen are her foes, „ 55
Whereby to guard our F from offence— Sugg. by Reading 38
Freeman A f is, I doubt not, freest here; „ 13
Freest A freeman is, I doubt not, f here; „ 13
French For the F the Pope may shrive 'em, (repeat) National Song 9, 27
As for the F, God speed 'em (repeat) „ 11, 29
Frequent Her gardens f with the stately Palm, Timbuctoo 233
Fresh and indue i' the spring Hues of f youth, Could I outwear 3
F as the dawn before the day, F as the early seasmell blown Rosalind 27
Fresher O MAIDEN, f than the first green leaf Love and Sorrow 1
Freshflushing f springtime calls To the flooding waters Rosalind 19
Freshness that never falls Away from f, „ 17
Fretful But Misery, like a f, wayward child, Lover's Tale i 696
Fretted The dead skin withering on the f bone, „ 678
Friend Europe's better health we drink, my f's, Hands all Round 23
To France, the wiser France, we drink, my f's, „ 35
kinsmen of the West, my f's, (repeat) „ 47, 59
You should be all the nobler, O my f's. Sugg. by Reading 28
Frightful Go, f omens. „ 85
Fringèd (See also Purplefringed) O THOU whose f lids I gaze upon, To a Lady Sleep. 1
Frockèd Both in blosmwhite silk are f: Dualisms 16
Frolic With a flash of f scorn And keen delight, Rosalind 15
Front Stood out a pillar'd f of burnish'd gold Timbuctoo 175
Fronting yet again, three shadows, f one, The Mystic 17
Frozen This to itself hath drawn the f rain From my cold eyes Could I outwear 13
Fruit And doth the f of her dishonour reap. Tears of Heaven 5
THE golden apple, the golden apple, the hallowed f, Hesperides, Song i 1
Up to the f, Creeping under the fragrant bark, „ 22
Round about the hallowed f tree curled— „ ii 13
Every flower and every f the redolent breath „ iv 1

Fruit (continued) The golden apple, the golden apple, the hallowed f, Hesperides, Song 30
As bearing no essential f's of excellence. Lover's Tale i 385
Fruitage The luscious f clustereth mellowly, Hesperides, Song iv 19
Fruit-tree How many the mystic f-t holds, „ ii 8
Full Upon the outward verge and bound alone Of f beatitude. Timbuctoo 96
Till Love have his f revenge. Burial of Love 30 are f of strange Astonishment and boundless change. (repeat) Chorus 9, 19, 29
Alas! that eyes so f of light Should be so wandering! The Lintwhite 26
Thy locks are f of sunny sheen In rings of gold yronne, „ 28
Holy and bright, round and f, bright and blest, Hesperides, Song iv 11
Her eyes, I saw, were f of tears in the morn, Lover's Tale i 728
And onward floating in a f, dark wave, „ 739 laden with mournful thanks, From my f heart: „ 749
Solemn but splendid, f of shapes and sounds, „ 799
Fullfaced But when the f sunset yellowly Stays on the flowering arch of the bough, Hesperides, Song iv 17
Fullness and to feel My f; Timbuctoo 215
Fullsailed Rosalind F before a vigorous wind, Rosalind 10
Full-voiced when f-v Winter roofs The headland Timbuctoo 203
Fulminating To charm a lower sphere of f fools. Sugg. by Reading 30
Furrowed See Deep-furrowed
Fusty I could not forgive the praise, F Christopher. To C. North 9
Future In eternity no f, In eternity no past. The 'How' and the 'Why' 6
Perchance assimilated all our tastes And f fancies. Lover's Tale i 239

G

Gain pallid thunderstricken sigh for g, Pallid thunderstricken 1
Galaxy clear G Shorn of its hoary lustre, Timbuctoo 105
Gall by a spell Did change them into g; Love, Pride, etc. 10
Memory tho' fed by Pride Did wax so thin on g, „ 12
Gallant A g cavalier Sans peur et sans reproche, The Grasshopper 18
Gambol (s) when the winds are wild With g's, Timbuctoo 203
The summer midges wove their wanton g, Check every outflash 12
Gambol (verb) As they g, lilygarlands ever stringing: Dualisms 15
Gander 'The G' and 'The man of Mitylene,' Lover's Tale i 287
Garden Her g's frequent with the stately Palm, Timbuctoo 233
From an old g where no flower bloometh, Me my own fate 7
Garland (See also Lilygarlands) A g for Lenora. Anacreontics 7
Garment The snowy skirting of a g hung, Timbuctoo 182
Gate low hung on either g of life, The Mystic 32
Saw far on each side through the grated g's „ 34
Clad in light by golden g's, Germ of 'Maud' 32
A G and a field half ploughed, A gate and a field 1 the angels, The watchers at heaven's g, Lover's Tale i 616 Gather all the day heaven g's back her tears Tears of Heaven 6
g from afar The hosts to battle: Blow ye the trumpet 1
Gathering from this impulse Continuing and g ever, Lover's Tale i 494
Gave She that g you 's bought and sold, The Ringlet 33
Ringlet, She g you me, and said, „ 40
Gay See Golden-gay
Gaze (s) where no g Might rest, stood open, Timbuctoo 178
Methinks I could have sooner met that g! Lover's Tale i 684
Gaze (verb) Of those that g upon the noonday Sun. Timbuctoo 71
Thou whose fringèd lids I g upon, To a Lady Sleep. 1
Albeit we g not on thy glories near, Love 2
Making their day dim, so we g on thee. „ 23
And now—methinks I g upon thee now, „ 29
Gaz'd I g upon the sheeny coast beyond, Timbuctoo 10
So g I on the ruins of that thought Lover's Tale ii 71
Gazeth g on Those eyes which wear no light Timbuctoo 38
Gazing whose eyes are dim With g on the light Lover's Tale i 486
Genius Before the awful G of the place Timbuctoo 33
Gentleman Nor like a g at ease With moral breadth New Timon 27
George G for England! (repeat) English War Song 9, 20, 31, 42, 53
Get Go, g you gone, you muse and mope— Skipping-rope 7
Ghastful Oh! rather had some loathly g brow, Lover's Tale i 676 Ghastly and the streets with g faces throng'd Timbuctoo 29
Tho' its g sister glide And be moved around me still Germ of 'Maud' 18
Ghost By a dull mechanic g „ 7
Giant where the G of old Time infixed Timbuctoo 11
Where is the G of the Sun, A Fragment 1
Gigantic G daughter of the West, Hands all Round 37
Gilded somewhere in death They sleep with staring eyes and g lips, A Fragment 29
Gird such as g The unfading forehead Timbuctoo 53
Girded See Planet-girded
Girding The heavy thunder's g might, Chorus 13
Girl Who killed the g's and thrill'd the boys New Timon 9
And a lad may wink, and a g may hint, The Ringlet 17
Girt G with a Zone of flashing gold Timbuctoo 72
Give speak low, and g up wholly Thy spirit Check every outflash 2
If you will g me one, but one, The Ringlet 3
Given I have g thee To understand my presence, Timbuctoo 213
Has g all my faith a turn? The Ringlet 52 earth beneath me yawning g Sign of convulsion; Lover's Tale i 611
Giveth It g out a constant melody That drowns „ 534
Glad Thou art so g and free, The Grasshopper 24
Green springtide, April promise, g new year Of Being, Lover's Tale i 277 Gladness Thine eye in drops of g swims. Hero to Leander 18 self-upborne With such g, as, Rosalind 18
Glancing Over a stream two birds of g feather Dualisms 8
Glare The lawless comets as they g, Chorus 27
Glazed With g eye She looks at her grave: I' the glooming light 14
Glide Both alike, they g together Side by side: Dualisms 10
Tho' its ghastly sister g Germ of 'Maud' 18
Glimpse And g of multitudes of multitudes Timbuctoo 183
Glistering Weak eyes upon the g sands that robe The understream. Pallid thunderstricken 5
Globe bore g's Of wheeling suns, or stars, Timbuctoo 171
And branching silvers of the central g, Pallid thunderstricken 8
Glows rubylike the far-up crimson g, D. of F. Women 7
Globefilled The g arch that, cleaving air, Chorus 25
Gloom springing In and out the emerald g's, The Grasshopper 42 your moonlight halls, your cedarn g's, Timbuctoo 43
Do pass from g to glory, „ 153 complicated g's And cool impleachèd twilights. „ 227
The troublous autumn's sallow g, Chorus 17 shalt thou pierce the woven g's of truth; Though night 11
Hallowed in awful chasms the wheeling g, Love 22
Gloometh Alone my hopeless melancholy g, Me my own fate 5
Glooming I' the g light Of middle night, I' the glooming light 1
Glorious When I must render up this g home To keen Discovery: Timbuctoo 243
And dross to gold with g alchemy, Though night, etc. 7
And dazzled to the heart with g pain. There are three things 14
By diminution made most g, Lover's Tale i 71
I well remember, It was a g morning, „ 301
But grow upon them like a g vision „ 797 Glory stars Were flooded over with clear g Timbuctoo 9 round their emerald cones In coronals and glories, „ 53 it was play'd about With its peculiar g. „ 57
And circled with the g of living light „ 75
Do pass from gloom to g, „ 153
But the g of the place Stood out „ 174 wrapt about with clouds Of g of Heaven. „ 200 showering down the g of lightsome day, Tears of Heaven 8
Albeit we gaze not on thy glories near, Love 2
Our g is our freedom, (repeat) National Song 15, 33
In the midnoon the g of old Rhodes, A Fragment 2
Thy spirit, circled with a living g, Me my own fate 3
The g unsealèd, Hesperides, Song iii 3 with many a name Whose g will not die. D. of F. Women 16
I had merged G in g, Lover's Tale i 516
Glory-circled and thou wert then A center'd g-c Memory, Timbuctoo 21
Gloss bramble and the shining g Of ivy-leaves, Lover's Tale i 373
Glossed See Blue-glossèd
Glossy Burn, you g heretic, burn, Burn, burn. The Ringlet 53
Glow (s) And in the g of sallow Summertide, Timbuctoo 201 Glow (verb) G's rubylike the far-up crimson globe, D. of F. Women 7 Glowing light Of the great angel mind which look'd from out The starry g of his restless eyes. Timbuctoo 89 and the opal width Of her small g lakes, „ 102
The naked summer's g birth, Chorus 16

Gnarlèd All round about The g bole of the charmèd tree, Hesperides, Song iv 29
Go The world is somewhat; it goes on somehow; The 'How' and the 'Why' 21
Why the life goes when the blood is spilt? „ 32
G—carry him to his dark deathbed; Burial of Love 11
Oh g not yet, my love, (repeat) Hero to Leander 1, 32
Leander! g not yet. „ 38
Oh! g not, g not yet, „ 40
Let the dismal face g by, Germ of 'Maud' 23
G, get you gone, you muse and mope— Skipping-rope 7
There must no man g back to bear the tale: Britons, guard 56
Lest you g wrong from power in excess. Sugg. by Reading 10
G, frightful omens. „ 85
God Offered to G's upon an altarthrone; To —— 7
Before the face of G didst breath and move, Love 3
The very throne of the eternal G: „ 6
Shout for G and our right! English War Song 50
As for the French, G speed 'em (repeat) National Song 11, 29
'G save the Queen' is here a truer cry. G save the Nation, The toleration, Britons, guard 26
Too much we make our Ledgers, G's. Hands all Round 20
G the tyrant's cause confound! (repeat) „ 22, 34, 46, 58
O fools, we want a manlike G and Godlike men! Sugg. by Reading 84
G bless our Prince and Bride! G keep their lands allied, God bless our Prince 1
G save the Queen! (repeat) „ 3, 7, 10
G bless thy marriage-day, G bless the Queen. „ 13
I pray'd aloud to G that he would hold Lover's Tale i 791
Goddess shall see The British G, Sugg. by Reading 54
Godlike Who looks for G greatness here „ 53
O fools, we want a manlike God and G men! „ 84 with shining eyes Smiling a g smile The Mystic 28
Goest Thou g and returnest to His Lips Love 12
Going Wanderers coming and g 1865-1866 7
Gold Imperial Eldorado roof'd with g: Timbuctoo 24 Zone of flashing g beneath His breast, „ 72 front of burnish'd g Interminably high, if g it were „ 175
And dross to g with glorious alchemy, Though night 7
Cathedralled caverns of thick-ribbèd g Pallid thunderstricken 7
But Hatred in a g cave sits below, „ 11 in mail of argent light Shot into g, „ 13
Liquid g, honeysweet thro' and thro'. Hesperides, Song i 24 the apple of g hangs over the sea, „ iv 23 ruthless host is bought with plunder'd g, Britons, guard 7
Thy locks are full of sunny sheen In rings of g yronne, The lintwhite 29 then shall I know it is all true g The Ringlet 7
I that took you for true g, „ 32
Golden G calm and storm Mingle day by day. Every day, etc. 7
To-night the roaring brine Will rend thy g tresses Hero to Leander 24
Lighting on the g blooms? The Grasshopper 44
Thou foldest, like a g atmosphere, Love 5 they roam together Under a summervault of g weather; Dualisms 18
Thy g largess fling, The lintwhite 22
The g apple, the g apple, the hallowed fruit, Hesperides, Song i 1
Look to him, father, lest he wink, and the g apple be stol'n away. „ ii 11
If the g apple be taken The world will be overwise. „ 21
Five links, a g chain, are we, Hesper, the dragon, and sisters three, Bound about the g tree „ 23
The g apple stol'n away, „ iii 4
Five links, a g chain, are we, „ iv 24
The g apple, the g apple, the hallowed fruit, „ 30
We will abide in the g vale Of the Lotos-land, Lotos-Eaters 26
To its Archetype that waits Clad in light by g gates, Germ of 'Maud' 32
O fie, you g nothing, fie You g lie. The Ringlet 43
And from the g threshold had down-roll'd Their heaviest thunder, Lover's Tale i 617
May their days be g days, „ 794
Erewhile close couch'd in g happiness, „ ii 79
Golden-circled A center'd g-c Memory, Timbuctoo 21
Goldencored fruitage clustereth mellowly, Golden-kernalled, g, Hesperides, Song iv 20
Golden-gay ringlets, That look so g-g, The Ringlet 2
'My ringlet, my ringlet, That art so g-g, „ 14
Golden-gay (continued) O Ringlet, You still are g-g, The Ringlet 28
Goldenkernelled fruitage clustereth mellowly, G, goldencored, Hesperides, Song iv 20
Goldenlocked Mid May's darling g, Dualisms 21
Gold-sanded Your flowering Capes and your g-s bays Timbuctoo 45
Gone Delight is with thee g, Oh! stay. The lintwhite 33
Old Memphis hath g down: A Fragment 27
Surely all pleasant things had g before, O sad no more! 7
Go, get you g, you muse and mope— Skipping-rope 7
Good Shall the hag Evil die with the child of G, Shall the hag 1
Nor g nor ill, nor light nor shade, ol 'peovres 10
O you, the Press! what g from you might spring! Sugg. by Reading 7
All g things are in the west, Hesperides, Song iv 14
'Tis a phantom fair and g I can call it to my side, Germ of 'Maud' 15
'They call this man as g as me.' New Timon 32
Goodly So on an oaken sprout A g acorn grew; Lost Hope 6
Gorgeous are thine obelisks Graven with g emblems undiscerned? A Fragment 13
Graceful Backward drooping his g head. Burial of Love 7
Gracious As towards the g light I bow'd, What time I wasted 4
Grain I saw The smallest g that dappled Timbuctoo 99
Grand Each sun which from the centre flings G music and redundant fire, Chorus 22
Grant I g you one of the great Powers on earth, Sugg. by Reading 23
Grasp costly casket in the g Of memory? Lover's Tale i 101
Grass For her the green g shall not spring, Burial of Love 28
Of the singing flowered g'es, The Grasshopper 38 where the g was warm where I had lain, Lover's Tale i 790
Grassgreen tuskèd seahorse walloweth In a stripe of g calm, Lotos-Eaters 5
Grasshopper I would dwell with thee, Merry g, The Grasshopper 23
Grated Saw far on each side through the g gates The Mystic 34
Grave she hath half delved her own deep g. I' the glooming light 7
With glazèd eye She looks at her g: „ 15
Come along! we will dig their g's. English War Song 39
Will it lead me to the g? Germ of 'Maud' 24 and with the shock Half dug their own g's), Lover's Tale ii 50
Graven obelisks G with gorgeous emblems A Fragment 13
Gray (See also Silver-gray) G sand banks and pale sunsets —dreary wind, Mablethorpe 7
Great As when in some g City where the walls Shake, Timbuctoo 28 Wound thro' your g Elysian solitudes, „ 48 and the light Of the g angel mind which look'd „ 88
All th' intricate and labyrinthine veins Of the g vine of Fable, „ 222
And the g bird sits on the opposite bough, The 'How' and the 'Why' 28 but only seemed One shadow in the midst of a g light, The Mystic 21
Of changeful cycles the g Pyramids A Fragment 9 the poet at his will Lets the g world flit from him, D. of F. Women 10
To this g cause of Freedom drink, my friends, Hands all Round 11
And the g name of England round and round. (repeat) „ 24, 48, 60
To our g kinsmen of the West, my friends, „ 47
With such a heat as lives in g creative rhymes. Sugg. by Reading 6
I grant you one of the g Powers on earth, „ 23
The hogs who can believe in nothing g, „ 45
Greatness We move so far from g, that I feel „ 51
Who looks for Godlike g here shall see „ 53
Grecian And here the G ships did seem to be. Mablethorpe 4
Green (See also Blue-green, Grassgreen) whose rapid interval Parts Afric from g Europe, Timbuctoo 3
Where are ye Thrones of the Western wave, fair Islands g? „ 42
For her the g grass shall not spring, Burial of Love 28
O Maiden, fresher than the first g leaf Love and Sorrow 1
And Oberwinter's vineyards g, O darling room 8
G springtide, April promise, glad new year Lover's Tale i 277
Think not thy tears will make my name grow g,— „ 806
Greenness And taken away the g of my life, „ 625
Grew my mental eye g large With such a vast circumference Timbuctoo 92
G thrillingly distinct and keen. „ 98
So on an oaken sprout A goodly acorn g; Lost Hope 6 ere the Czar G to this strength among his deserts cold; Blow ye the trumpet 6 Grief G and sadness steal Symbols of each other; Every day, etc. 25 bitter g Doth hold the other half in sovranty. Love and Sorrow 4
O G and Shame if while I preach of laws Sugg. by Reading 37

Grief (continued) And still bewept my g. Lover's Tale i 733 Grieve none shall g For the man who fears to die: English War Song 3
Groan Why the heavy oak g's, The 'How' and the 'Why' 15
Gross and few there be So g of heart Timbuctoo 211
Grot old g's Rock-hewn and sealed for ever. A Fragment 30
Ground had birth In that blest g Timbuctoo 56
You cast to g the hope which once was mine, Lost Hope 1 solid shining g Stream from beneath him D. of F. Women 2
Grovell'd g in the slime Of this dull world, Timbuctoo 149
Grow I felt my soul g mighty, „ 90
G closer to my heart. Hero to Leander 8
But g upon them like a glorious vision Lover's Tale i 797
Think not thy tears will make my name g green,— „ 806 Growing The g murmurs of the Polish war! Blow ye the trumpet 8
Alas, our Church! alas, her g ills, Sugg. by Reading 67
Growth g of shadowing leaf and clusters rare, Timbuctoo 223
Unto the g of body and of mind; Lover's Tale ii 74
Guard G it well, g it warily, Hesperides, Song i 2
G the apple night and day, „ 28
G it well, g it warily, „ iv 31
So to g my life from ill, Germ of 'Maud' 17
Britons, G your own. (repeat) Britons, guard 6, 12, 18, 24, 30, 36
Why stay they there to g a foreign throne?
Seamen, g your own. Britons, guard 41
Yeomen, g your own. „ 48
We swear to g our own. „ 60
Heaven g them from her tyrants' jails! Hands all Round 14
Whereby to g our Freedom from offence— Sugg. by Reading 38
Guest A health to England, every g; Hands all Round 2
Gulf Have hallowed out a valley and a g Lover's Tale i 26
Gulph he passeth by, And g's himself in sands, Timbuctoo 237
Gun O speak to Europe thro' your g's! Hands all Round 51
Gushed both my eyes g out with tears. O sad no more! 6
Gushing Like a swol'n river's g's in still night Timbuctoo 193

H

Hag Shall the h Evil die with the child of Good, Shall the hag 1
Hail With points of blastborne h their heated eyne! „ 11
Hair her h falls loose; Her shoulders are bare; I' the glooming light 9
Pleached with her h, in mail of argent light Pallid thunderstricken 12
Looking under silver h with a silver eye. Hesperides, Song ii 2 Half that I said to thee That thou hast h my heart, for bitter grief Doth hold the other h in sovranty. Love and Sorrow 4
H round the mantling night is drawn, Hesperides, Song iii 13
A gate and a field h ploughed, A gate and a field 1
You never look but h content: New Timon 26
If h the little soul is dirt? „ 36
Mantling her form h way. Lover's Tale i 741
Half-bursten brow, H-b from the shroud, „ 677
Half-forgotten Less vivid than a h-f dream, Timbuctoo 136
Half-light H-l, half-shadow, let my spirit sleep Love and Sorrow 17
Half-open From an h-o lattice looked at me. There are three things 12
Half-pagan To that h-p harlot kept by France! Sugg. by Reading 70
Half-shadow Half-light, h-s, let my spirit sleep Love and Sorrow 17 Hall your moonlight h's, your cedarn glooms, Timbuctoo 43 length of porch and lake and boundless h, „ 180 Therefore your h's, your ancient colleges, Cambridge 1 sits and hears Echoes in his empty h, Home they brought him 4
Hallowed H in awful chasms of wheeling gloom, Love 22
The golden apple, the golden apple, the h fruit, Hesperides, Song i 1
Round about the h fruit tree curled— „ ii 13
The golden apple, the golden apple, the h fruit, „ iv 30
Fair fall this h hour, God bless our Prince 8
Hamlet Tilth, h, mead and mound: D. of F. Women 4
Hand Bathes the cold h with tears, Timbuctoo 38
I did veil My vision with both h's, „ 69
With ministering h he rais'd me up; „ 188
Might I but kiss thy h! Oh, Beauty 5
A dapper boot—a little h— New Timon 35
Yet h's all round! Hands all Round 21
You hide the h that writes: Sugg. by Reading 25
Hand (continued) In eager haste I shook him by the h; Lover's Tale i 788 pray'd aloud to God that he would hold The h of blessing over Lionel, „ 792 Hang the apple of gold h's over the sea, Hesperides, Song iv 23 take my skipping-rope And h yourself thereby. Skipping-rope 12
There h within the heavens a dark disgrace, Sugg. by Reading 41
Hanging Hateful with h cheeks, a withered brood, Shall the hag 4
Hanno Zidonian H, voyaging beyond The Hesperides 2
Happiness Crown them with h, God bless our Prince 5 glorious vision Of unconceived and awful h, Lover's Tale i 798
Erewhile close couch'd in golden h, „ ii 79
Happy Blown round with h airs of odorous winds? Timbuctoo 46
When we laugh, and our mirth Apes the h vein, Every day, etc. 13
My h falcon, Rosalind, Rosalind 25
Oh, h, h outset of my days! Lover's Tale i 276
What h air shall woo The wither'd leaf fall'n in the woods, „ 621
The lover Lionel, the h Lionel, All joy; who drew the h atmosphere „ 672
Hard But you, Sir, you are h to please; New Timon 25
Hardship unto both Delight from h to be overcome, Lover's Tale i 379
Hark H how the wild rain hisses, Hero to Leander 14
H! he shouteth—the ancient enemy! English War Song 24
H! how sweet the horned ewes bleat Lotos-Eaters 29
Harlot To that half-pagan h kept by France! Sugg. by Reading 70
Harmony h of planet-girded Suns And moon-encircled planets, Timbuctoo 109
With harmonies of wind and wave and wood „ 207
Harsh But did the while your h decree deplore, Lost Hope 2
Haste In eager h I shook him by the hand; Lover's Tale i 788
Hasty So that with h motion I did veil My vision with both hands, Timbuctoo 68
Hate (s) How scorn and ruin, pain and h could flow: Pallid thunderstricken 10
Hate (verb) I h that silly sigh. Skipping-rope 8
We h not France, but this man's heart of stone. Britons, guard 17
We h not France, but France has lost her voice „ 19
Hateful With languor of most h smiles, Burial of Love 19
H with hanging cheeks, a withered brood, Shall the hag 4 as the milky blood Of h herbs a subtle-fanged snake, Lover's Tale i 821
Hater Peace-lovers, h's Of shameless traitors, Britons, guard 15
Hateth Hesper h Phosphor, evening h morn. Hesperides, Song iii 15
Hatred But H in a gold cave sits below, Pallid thunderstricken 11
Haunted And all the h place is dark and holy. Check every outflash 8
Haven broad-blown Argosies Drave into h? A Fragment 8
Head (See also Hoarhead) Above her h the weak lamp dips and winks Timbuctoo 35
Backward drooping his graceful h. Burial of Love 7
Ringlet, She clipt you from her h, The Ringlet 38
Headland Winter roofs The h with inviolate white snow, Timbuctoo 204
Headlong H they plunge their doubts Sugg. by Reading 72
Healèd Lest the old wound of the world be h, Hesperides, Song iii 2
Health First drink a h, this solemn night, A h to England every guest; Hands all Round 1
A h to Europe's honest men! „ 13
To Europe's better h we drink, „ 23
What h to France, if France be she Whom martial progress „ 25 cause Of England and her h of commonsense— Sugg. by Reading 40 my refluent h made tender quest Unanswer'd, Lover's Tale, i 742 Hear If that he would them h And stay. The linlwhite 6
And longer h us sing; „ 23
I h a thunder though the skies are fair, Sugg. by Reading 89
All alone she sits and h's Echoes Home they brought him 3
Heard hath h Time flowing in the middle of the night, The Mystic 38
H neither warbling of the nightingale, The Hesperides 6
And shook its earthly socket, for we h, Lover's Tale, i 61
I h in thought Those rhymes, 'The Lion and the Unicorn' „ 284 Hearing H apart the echoes of his fame. D. of F. Women 13 Heart whilome won the h's of all on Earth Timbuctoo 17 being in the h of Man As air is th' life of flame: „ 19
Spirit than I to sway The h of Man: „ 196
I play about his h a thousand ways, „ 205 few there be So gross of h who have not felt „ 211
Bury him in the cold, cold h— Burial of Love 12

Heart (continued) My h is lighted at thine eyes, To—— 8 world will not change, and her h will not break. I' the glooming light 22 Grow closer to my h. My h is warmer surely than the bosom of the main. Hero to Leander 8
My h of h's art thou. „ 11
Thy h beats through thy rosy limbs „ 16
Albeit, his spirit and his secret h The Mystic 7
Ere yet my h was sweet Love's tomb, Love, Pride, etc. 1
My h the honey-comb. „ 4
My h, where Hope had been and was no more. Lost Hope 4
I said to thee That thou hast half my h, Love and Sorrow 4
Thou art my h's sun in love's crystalline: „ 6 Thine is the bright side of my h, and thine My h's day, but the shadow of my h, „ 8 my h's night Thou canst not lighten even with thy light, „ 10
Almeida, if my h were substanceless, „ 13
Some vital heat as yet my h is wooing: Could I outwear 12 thou dost ever brood above The silence of all h's, Love 14
We beat upon our aching h's with rage; „ 18
The hollow at h shall crouch forlorn, English War Song 12
For where is the h and strength of slaves? „ 36
There are no h's like English h's, National Song 3
Unto their h's desire, (repeat) „ 12, 30
There are three things that fill my h with sighs There are three things 1
And dazzled to the h with glorious pain. „ 14
h is drunk with overwatchings night and day, Hesperides, Song ii 12
Think you h's are tennis balls To play with, Rosalind 32
O darling room, my h's delight, O darling room 1
Lest my h be overborne, Germ of 'Maud' 5
The old Timon, with his noble h, New Timon 3
To have the deep poetic h „ 23
We hate not France, but this man's h of stone. Britons, guard 17 as my h beat Twice to the melody of hers. Lover's Tale i 73
And my eyes read, they read aright, her h Was Lionel's: „ 602 and h deep moans Feed and envenom, „ 819

Hearted See Hollow-hearted

Hearth But be not you the blatant traitors of the h. Sugg. by Reading 24

Heat (s) region of white flame, Pure without h, The Mystic 44
In thy h of summerpride, The Grasshopper 36
Some vital h as yet my heart is wooing: Could I outwear 12 wind which bloweth cold or h Would shatter Shall the hag 6
Her frantic city's flashing h's But fire, Hands all Round 29
With such a h as lives in great creative rhymes. Sugg. by Reading 6 with the h Of their infolding element; Lover's Tale i 614
the h Of the remorseful soul alive within, „ 681

Heat (verb) But knowing all your power to h or cool, Sugg. by Reading 31

Heated and slake With points of blastborne hail their h eyne! Shall the hag 11

Heather Through and through the flowered h. Dualisms 5

Heave 'Gan rock and h upon that painted sea; Lover's Tale ii 199

Heaven silent H's were blench'd with faery light, Timbuctoo 5 unfading foreheads of the Saints in H? „ 54
Earth's As H than Earth is fairer. „ 170 landing-place is wrapt about with clouds Of glory of H. „ 200
I have rais'd thee higher to the Spheres of H, „ 216
Reacheth to every corner under H, „ 224
Larks in h's cope Sing: Every day, etc. 28
The white moon is hid in her h above, Hero to Leander 3
The varied earth, the moving h, Chorus 1
But winds from h shook the acorn out, Lost Hope 7
H weeps above the earth all night till morn, Tears of Heaven 1
And all the day h gathers back her tears „ 6
Over h's parapets the angels lean. To a Lady Sleep. 10
H crieth after thee; earth waileth for thee: Love 26
Till all the comets in h are cold, The Ringlet 9
H guard them from her tyrants' jails! Hands all Round 14
There hang within the h's a dark disgrace, Sugg. by Reading 41 had the angels, The watchers at h's gate, Lover's Tale i 616 from that H in whose light I bloom'd „ 624

Heavenward Then parted H on the wing: Timbuctoo 251

Heaviest And from the golden threshold had downroll'd Their h thunder, Lover's Tale i 618

Heavy Why the h oak groans, and the white willows sigh? The 'How' and the 'Why' 15
The h thunder's girding might, Chorus 13

Heavy (continued) And the h melon sleeps On the level of the shore: Lotos-Eaters 35
Dim shores, dense rains, and h clouded sea. Mablethorpe 8
The lithe limbs bow'd as with a h weight Lover's Tale i 126

Heed For the devil a whit we h 'em, (repeat) National Song 10, 28

Height her silver h's Unvisited with dew of vagrant cloud, Timbuctoo 102
Imperial h Of Canopy o'ercanopied. „ 165 and some On the ancient h's divine; Lotos-Eaters 17
When Love was worshipp'd upon every h, Lover's Tale i 323

Held Pride came beneath and h a light. Love, Pride, etc. 6

Herald The h lightning's starry bound, Chorus 14

Herb as the milky blood Of hateful h's Lover's Tale i 821

Heretic Burn, you glossy h, burn, The Ringlet 53

Hesper Father H, Father H, watch, watch, ever and aye, Hesperides, Song ii 1
H, the dragon, and sisters three, „ 24
Father H, Father H, watch, watch, night and day, „ iii 1
H hateth Phosphor, evening hateth morn. „ 15
H, the dragon, and sisters three, „ iv.25

Hewn See New-hewn, Rock-hewn

Hid white moon is h in her heaven above, Hero to Leander 3
H now and then with sliding cloud. What time I wasted 6

Hide You h the hand that writes: Sugg. by Reading 25

High pillars h Long time eras'd from Earth: Timbuctoo 12 glory of the place Stood out a pillar'd front of burnish'd gold Interminably h, „ 176
Why deep is not h, and h is not deep? The 'How' and the 'Why' 16
They seem'd h palaces and proud, What time I wasted 5
And mine, with love too h to be express'd Lover's Tale i 65

Higher few there be So gross of heart who have not felt and known A h than they see: Timbuctoo 212
I have rais'd thee h to the Spheres of Heaven, „ 216
H thro' secret splendours mounting still, D. of F. Women 11

Highest Though Night hath climbed her peak of h noon, Though night 1

Highland a h leaning down a weight Of cliffs, The Hesperides 10

Highland-steep Broken by the h-s, Hesperides, Song iv 5

High-necked far off Seen by the h-n camel on the verge Journeying southward? A Fragment 18

Highness His soldier-ridden H might incline Britons, guard 49

Hill The blossoming abysses of your h's? Timbuctoo 44 thy h's enfold a City as fair As those „ 59
On the ridge of the h his banners rise; English War Song 25 between The h's to Bingen have I been, O darling room 10
About sunset We came unto the h of woe, Lover's Tale i 365
With all her interchange of h and plain „ 694

Hillbrow light Is shut out by the round of the tall h; Hesperides, Song iv 16
„ iii 7

Himla Father, old H weakens,

Hindrance to both of us It was delight, not h: Lover's Tale i 378

Hinge Which was the h on which the door of Hope, „ 297

Hint And a lad may wink, and a girl may h, The Ringlet 17

Hiss Hark how the wild rain h's, Hero to Leander 14

Hit my skipping-rope Will h you in the eye. Skipping-rope 4

Hive I was the h and Love the bee, Love, Pride, etc. 3

Hoar On the loud h foam, Lotos-Eaters 19

Hoarded H wisdom brings delight. Hesperides, Song ii 6

Hoarhead The h winter paving earth With sheeny white, Chorus 18

Hoary The clear Galaxy Shorn of its h lustre, Timbuctoo 106
Like a lone cypress, through the twilight h, Me my own fate 6
Zidonian Hanno, voyaging beyond The h promontory of Soloë Past Thymiaterion, The Hesperides 3

Hog h's who can believe in nothing great, Sugg. by Reading 45

Hold ever h aloft the cloud Which droops low The Mystic 31 grief Doth h the other half in sovranty. Love and Sorrow 5
H up the lion of England on high (repeat) English War Song 27, 49
I h them all most dear; but oh! black eyes, There are three things 7
How many the mystic fruit-tree h's, Hesperides, Song ii 8
But the thing I h in scorn, Germ of 'Maud' 6
I pray'd aloud to God that he would h The hand of blessing over Lionel, Lover's Tale i 791

Hollow (adj.) In the h rosy vale to tarry, Lotos-Eaters 12

Hollow (s) And the unsounded, undescended depth Of her black h's. Timbuctoo 105
Dappled with h and alternate rise Of interpenetrated arc, „ 130

Hollow-hearted Shall h-h apathy, The cruellest form of perfect scorn, Burial of Love 17
Holy And all the haunted place is dark and h. Check every outflash 8
The end of day and beginning of night Make the apple h and bright, H and bright, round and full, Hesperides, Song iv 10
Home Heaven, Man's first, last h: Timbuctoo 217 render up this glorious h To keen Discovery: „ 243
To the melancholy h At the limit of the brine, Lotos-Eaters 20
Call h your ships across Biscayan tides, Britons, guard 37
H they brought him slain with spears. They brought him h at even-fall: Home they brought him 1
Honest A health to Europe's h men ! Hands all Round 13
An h isolation need not fear The Court, Sugg. by Reading 15
Honey (adj.) To him the h dews of orient hope. Lover's Tale i 675
Honey (s) Love laboured h busily. Love, Pride, etc. 2
Honey-comb My heart the h-c. „ 4
Lotos, sweet As the yellow h, Lotos-Eaters 15
Honeysweet Liquid gold, h thro' and thro'. Hesperides, Song i 24
Honour (s) In h of the silverflecked morn: To a Lady Sleep. 4
H comes with mystery; Hesperides, Song ii 5
Honour (verb) I h much, I say, this man's appeal. Sugg. by Reading 49
Honourable An h eld shall come upon thee. Though night 14
Honour'd The precious jewel of my h life, Lover's Tale ii 78
Hope (s) Men clung with yearning H which would not die. Timbuctoo 27
men's h's and fears take refuge in The fragrance „ 226
The light of his h's unfed, Burial of Love 3
Let us weep in h— Every day, etc. 32
You cast to ground the h which once was mine, Lost Hope 1
My heart, where H had been and was no more. „ 4
But men of long enduring h's, New Timon 17
But fire, to blast the h's of men. Hands all Round 30 hinge on which the door of H, Once turning, Lover's Tale i 297 cold as were the h's Of my lorn love ! „ 620
To him the honey dews of orient h. „ 675 when h died, part of her eloquence Died with her ? „ 751
I To stand within the level of their h's, „ 768
Because my h was widow'd, „ 769
The course of H is dried,— „ 808
For me all other H's did sway from that „ 857
Hope (verb) For she will not h. I' the glooming light 19
Could I thus h my lost delights renewing, Could I outwear 9
Nay, dearest, teach me how to h, Skipping-rope 9
Hopeless Alone my h melancholy gloometh, Me my own fate 5
Horizon lights on my h shine Into my night „ 11
Horn Between the Southern and the Western H, The Hesperides 5
Horned Hark ! how sweet the h ewes bleat On the solitary steeps, Lotos-Eaters 29
Horrible H with the anger and the heat Lover's Tale i 681
Horrid and tho' h rifts Sent up the moaning of unhappy spirits „ 612
As men do from a vague and h dream, „ 786
Host gather from afar The h's to battle: Blow ye the trumpet 2
His ruthless h is bought with plunder'd gold, Britons, guard 7
Hot Strain the h spheres of his convulsed eyes, Love 37
Hour (See also Summerhours) Winged h's are borne; Every day, etc. 4
For him the silent congregated h's, The Mystic 25
In thy h of love and revel, The Grasshopper 35
So in thine h of dawn, the body's youth, Though night 13
And careless what this h may bring, New Timon 18
What time I wasted youthful h's What time I wasted 1
Should he land here, and for one h prevail, Britons, guard 55
Fair fall this hallow'd h, God bless our Prince 8 Move with me to that h, Lover's Tale i 296 since that h, My voice had somewhat falter'd— „ 749
House (s) And a h with a chimney-pot ? The 'How' and the 'Why' 35
House (verb) worms which h Beneath unshaken waters, Timbuctoo 150
Household But yours are not their h privacies. Sugg. by Reading 22
How Who will riddle me the h and the why ? (repeat) The 'How' and the 'Why' 9, 20
H you are you ? Why I am I ? „ 19
I feel there is something; but h and what ? „ 23
And stares in his face and shouts 'h ? h ?' „ 29
And chaunts 'h ? h ?' the whole of the night. „ 31
Who will riddle me the h and the what ? 36
Howling Which flung strange music on the h winds, Timbuctoo 80 Hue And alternations of all h's, he stood. „ 76 an ether of black h, Investeth and ingirds The Mystic 45 indue i' the spring H's of fresh youth, Could I outwear 3 in his writhings awful h's begin To wander Love 38
Dimples, roselips, and eyes of any h. There are three things 4
Huge even as the sea When weary of wild inroad buildeth up H mounds Timbuctoo 15
Close by our ears, the h roots strain and creak), Lover's Tale i 63
(H splinters, which the sap of earliest showers, „ ii 45
Hum (s) the h of men, Or other things talking Timbuctoo 111
Hum (verb) H a lovelay to the westwind at noontide. Dualisms 2
Both alike, they h together „ 4
Stands in her pew and h's her decent psalm Sugg. by Reading 63
Human for my h brain Stagger'd beneath the vision, Timbuctoo 185
With stony smirks at all things h and divine ! Sugg. by Reading 48
Hung (See also Low-hung) The snowy skirting of a garment h, Timbuctoo 182
Pagods h with music of sweet bells: „ 234 low h on either gate of life, The Mystic 32 earthquake-shattered chasm, h with shrubs, Lover's Tale i 408
Or as the dew-drops on the petal h, „ 558
Hopes did sway from that Which h the frailest: „ 858
Hurried h through The riv'n rapt brain: Timbuctoo 120
Hush 'Oh h, my joy, my sorrow.' Home they brought him 10
Hut Darken, and shrink and shiver into h's, Timbuctoo 246

I

I How you are you ? Why I am I, The 'How' and the 'Why' 19
Ideal Down an i stream they ever float, Pallid thunderstricken 2
Idle Why waste they yonder Their i thunder ? Britons, guard 40
Shall we stand i, Nor seek to bridle „ 51
Idol A perfect I, with profulgent brows A Fragment 3
Thy shadowy I's in the solitudes, „ 15
Ilion Here stood the infant I of the mind, Mablethorpe 3
Ill Nor good nor i, nor light nor shade, οἱ ῥέοντες 10
So to guard my life from i, Germ of 'Maud' 17
Alas, our Church ! alas, her growing i's, Sugg. by Reading 67
Illimitable I range of battlement On battlement, Timbuctoo 164
Listenest the lordly music flowing from Th' i years. „ 219
Image did pause To worship mine own i, Lover's Tale i 68 mine i in her eyes, „ 70
Imaging i The soft inversion of her tremulous Domes; Timbuctoo 231
Imbue presence of his eyes To i his lustre; Lover's Tale i 419
Immingled In a new birth, i with my own, „ 732
Immortality No withered i, The Grasshopper 28
Impelling See Self-impelling
Imperial and thou of later name I Eldorado roof'd with gold: Timbuctoo 24 and the I height Of Canopy o'ercanopied. „ 165
Imperishable The i presences serene, The Mystic 13
Impleached The fragrance of its complicated glooms And cool i twilights. Timbuctoo 228
Imprison'd unhappy spirits I in her centre, Lover's Tale i 614 Impulse The issue of strong i, hurried through Timbuctoo 120 each th' effect Of separate i, „ 127 from this i Continuing and gathering ever, Lover's Tale i 493 Increasing level calm Is ridg'd with restless and i spheres Timbuctoo 125
Indecision entwine The i of my present mind „ 139
Indian serpent in his agonies Awestricken I's; Love 31
Indistinctest The i atom in deep air, Timbuctoo 100
Indue i i' the spring Hues of fresh youth, Could I outwear 2
Ineffable Then with a mournful and i smile, Timbuctoo 189
Infant Here stood the i Ilion of the mind, Mablethorpe 3
Infinite Where are the i ways which, Seraphtrod, Timbuctoo 47
Infixed Giant of old Time i The limits „ 11
Infolding with the heat Of their i element; Lover's Tale i 615
Inform wherewith Her phantasy i's them. Timbuctoo 40
Ingird Investeth and i's all other lives. The Mystic 46
Inland One cypress on an i promontory. Me my own fate 8
Through vineyards from an i bay. Rosalind 29
Inmost The written secrets of her i soul Lay like an open scroll Lover's Tale i 600

Inner Among the i columns far retir'd At midnight, Timbuctoo 31
The bare word KISS hath made my i soul To tremble Oh, Beauty 12
In my i eyes again, Germ of 'Maud' 4
Sheer thro' the black-walk'd cliff the rapid brook
Shot down his i thunders, Lover's Tale i 372
Innocent Thy pleasant wiles Forgotten, and thine i joy? Burial of Love 16
(the i light Of earliest youth pierced through and through The Mystic 28
Inroad as the sea When weary of wild i Timbuctoo 14
Insect But an i lithe and strong, The Grasshopper 7
Insolence And i of uncontrolled Fate, Lover's Tale i 688
Intellect apart In i and power and will, The Mystic 38
Intense unto me I delight and rapture that I breathed, Lover's Tale i 381
I had lived That i moment thro' eternity. " 496
Intensest starlit wings which burn Fanlike and fibred, with i bloom: Timbuctoo 156
Intent Eye feeding upon eye with deep i; Lover's Tale i 64
Interchange With all her i of hill and plain " 694
Interpenetrated Dappled with hollow and alternate rise Of i arc, Timbuctoo 131 Interval whose rapid i Parts Afric from green Europe, " 2 crumbling from their parent slope At slender i, " 124 Intricate All th' i and labyrinthine veins Of that great vine of Fable, " 221
Invariable Awful with most i eyes. The Mystic 24
Inversion soft i of her tremulous Domes; Timbuctoo 232
Investeth I and ingirds all other lives. The Mystic 46
Inviolate The headland with i white snow, Timbuctoo 204
Involving thoughts I and embracing each with each " 116
Inward Is one of those who know no strife Of i woe or outward fear; Rosalind 4
Inwoven So each with each i lived with each, Lover's Tale i 566
Iron Break through your i shackles—fling them far. Blow ye the trumpet 4
From i limbs and tortured nails! Hands all Round 16
Irresistible Which but to look on for a moment fill'd My eyes with i sweet tears, Timbuctoo 191
Island Thrones of the Western wave, fair I's green? " 42
Islander Oh! i's of Ithaca, we will not wander more, Lotos-Eaters 37
Oh! i's of Ithaca, we will return no more. " 40
Isle little i of Ithaca, beneath the day's decline. " 22
The public conscience of our noble i, Sugg. by Reading 3
Isolation i need not fear The Court, the Church, " 15
Issue The i of strong impulse, hurried Timbuctoo 120
I of its own substance, Love and Sorrow 10
Issueth When thy light perisheth That from thee i, The lintwhite 14 Issuing translucent wave, Forth i from darkness, Timbuctoo 230 in the pride of beauty i A sheeny snake, Could I outwear 5 Ithaca Men of I, this is meeter, Lotos-Eaters 11 little isle of I, beneath the day's decline. " 22
Oh! islanders of I, we will not wander more, " 37
Oh! islanders of I, we will return no more. " 40
Ivy (adj.) Until the pleached i tress had wound Round my worn limbs, Lover's Tale i 637
Ivy (s) And i darkly-wreathed, Anacreontics 4
Ivy-leaves bramble and the shining gloss Of i-l, Lover's Tale i 374

J

Jail Heaven guard them from her tyrants' j's! Hands all Round 14
Jest It looks too arrogant a j— New Timon 42
Jesuit The J laughs, and reckoning on his chance, Britons, guard 32
Jewel The precious j of my honour'd life, Lover's Tale ii 78
Journeying on the verge J southward? A Fragment 19
Joy wiles Forgotten, and thine innocent j? Burial of Love 16
J is sorrow's brother; Every day, etc. 24
O j! O bliss of blisses! Hero to Leander 10
J of the summerplain, The Grasshopper 2
Soon thy j is over, " 31
Turn cloud to light, and bitterness to j, Though night 6 in him light and j and strength abides; Love 42
In summer still a summer j resumeth. Me my own fate 4
'Oh hush, my j, my sorrow.' Home they brought him 10
Joy (continued) And with a fearful self-impelling j Lover's Tale i 389
Juggle And a j of the brain. Germ of 'Maud' 8
Juliet SAINTED J! dearest name! To —— 1
Divinest J, I love thee, and live; " 3

K

Keen Each failing sense As with a momentary flash of light
Grew thrillingly distinct and k. Timbuctoo 98
When I must render up this glorious home To k Discovery: " 244 pierced through and through with all K knowledges of low-embowed eld) The Mystic 30
With a flash of frolic scorn And k delight, Rosalind 16
Keen-eyed K-e Sisters, singing airily, Hesperides, Song i 25
Keep brain could k afloat The subtle spirit. Oh, Beauty 10
That wish to k their people fools; Hands all Round 54
To soothe a civic wound or k it raw, Sugg. by Reading 32
God k their lands allied, God bless our Prince 2
Keeping K unchanged The purport of their coinage. Lover's Tale i 733 Kept To that half-pagan harlot k by France! Sugg. by Reading 70
Kernelled See Goldenkernelled
Khan Than when Zamoysky smote the Tartar K, Blow ye the trumpet 12
Kill Would, unrelenting, K all dissenting, Britons, guard 34
Killed Who k the girls and thrill'd the boys New Timon 9
Kin so k to earth Pleasaunce fathers pain— Every day, etc. 14
Kind Or propagate again her loathèd k, Shall the hag 2
I can shadow forth my bride As I knew her fair and k Germ of 'Maud' 10
King Thou comest, as a K. The lintwhite 20
Your portals statued with old k's and queens, Cambridge 2
We curse the crimes of Southern k's, Hands all Round 17
They can be understood by k's. " 52
I fear for you, as for some youthful k, Sugg. by Reading 9
Like to the wild youth of an evil k, Lover's Tale i 344
Kingdom K's lapse, and climates change, and races die; Hesperides, Song ii 4
Kinsman To our great kinsmen of the West, Hands all Round 47
To our dear kinsmen of the West, " 59
Kiss (s) waters Betraying the close k'es of the wind— Timbuctoo 209
Lest thy k should be the last. Hero to Leander 6
Come bathe me with thy k'es, " 12
I'll stay thee with my k'es. " 22 billow will embrace thee with a k as soft as mine. " 27
As with one k to touch thy blessèd cheek. Oh, Beauty 8 word K hath made my inner soul To tremble " 12
That a doubt will only come for a k, The Ringlet 21
Kiss (verb) Oh! k me, k me, once again, Hero to Leander 5
Oh k me ere we part; " 7
Might I but k thy hand! Oh, Beauty 5
Methinks if I should k thee, " 9
To k it night and day, The Ringlet 4
'Then k it, love, and put it by: " 23
'Come, k it, love, and put it by: " 41
Kissed peaceful lips are k With earliest rays, A Fragment 22
And a fear to be k away.' The Ringlet 22
Ringlet, I k you night and day, " 26
Knee Nathless she ever clasps the marble k's, Timbuctoo 37
Then flinging myself down upon my k's Lover's Tale i 789
Kneel K's the pale Priestess in deep faith, Timbuctoo 34 Knew Ye k him not: he was not one of ye, The Mystic 2 never learnt to love who never k to weep. Love and Sorrow 18 my bride As I k her fair and kind Germ of 'Maud' 10 a familiar face: I thought we k him: New Timon 7
A sharper lesson than we ever k. Sugg. by Reading 88 as I k, they two did love each other, Lover's Tale i 766
Knoll Warbled from yonder k of solemn larches, Check every outflash 10
Know I k not if I shape These things Timbuctoo 133
I k there is somewhat; but what and why! The 'How' and the 'Why' 24
How could ye k him? The Mystic 41
To k thee is all wisdom, and old age Is but to k thee: Love 15 one of those who k no strife Of inward woe Rosalind 3
WE k him, out of Shakespeare's art, New Timon 1
We k thee most, we love thee best, Hands all Round 39 yet the 'not too much' is all the rule she k's. Sugg. by Reading 60
And then shall I k it is all true gold The Ringlet 7

Know (continued) I k not, faith: Lover's Tale i 695
Knowest k I dare not look into thine eyes, Oh, Beauty 4
Knoweth k not Beyond the sound he lists: Lover's Tale i 657
Knowing But k all your power to heat or cool, Sugg. by Reading 31
Have ye aught that is worth the k? 1865-1866 5
But aught that is worth the k?' „ 9
Knowledge Keen k's of low-embowèd eld) The Mystic 30 Known felt and k A higher than they see: Timbuctoo 211
the free speech that makes a Briton k. Britons, guard 29
K when their faces are forgot in the land. Lover's Tale i 804

L

Labour He said, 'The l is not small; What time I wasted 7
the shore Than l in the ocean, Lotos-Eaters 39
Laboured Love l honey busily. Love, Pride, etc. 2
Labyrinthine All th' intricate and l veins Of the great vine of Fable, Timbuctoo 221
Lad And a l may wink, and a girl may hint, The Ringlet 17
Laden Strove to uprise, l with mournful thanks, Lover's Tale i 748 Laid Beside her are l, Her mattock and spade, I' the glooming light 5 what time l low And crushing the thick fragrant reeds Love 31
Lain I had l as still, And blind and motionless Lover's Tale i 618 new-hewn sepulchre, Where man had never l, „ 714
the grass was warm where I had l, „ 790 Lake opal width Of her small glowing l's, Timbuctoo 102 large l From pressure of descendant crags, „ 121 length of porch and l and boundless hall, „ 180
Lameness strangling sorrow weigh Mine utterances with l. Lover's Tale i 25
Lamp Above her head the weak l dips and winks Timbuctoo 35
Lance Rode upon his father's l, Home they brought him 8
Land (s) (See also Lotos-land) In music and in light o'er l and sea. Love 28
There is no l like England (repeat) National Song 1, 5, 19, 23
Mellowed in a l of rest; Hesperides, Song iv 12
God keep their l's allied, God bless our Prince 2
Known when their faces are forgot in the l. Lover's Tale i 804
Land (verb) Should he l here, and for one hour prevail, Britons, guard 55
Landing-place l-p is wrapt about with clouds Timbuctoo 199
Land-wind But the l-w wandereth, Hesperides, Song iv 4
Languor With l of most hateful smiles, Burial of Love 19
Lapse descendant crags, which l Disjointed, Timbuctoo 122
Kingdoms l, and climates change, and races die; Hesperides, Song ii 4
Lapt Which, l in seeming dissolution, Lover's Tale i 507
Larch Warbled from yonder knoll of solemn l's, Check every outflash 10
Large and my mental eye grew l With such a vast circumference of thought, Timbuctoo 92
as when in some l lake From pressure of descendant crags, „ 121 Larger Pure without heat, into a l air Upburning, The Mystic 44
Largess Thy golden l fling, The lintwhite 22
Lark L's in heaven's cope Sing: Every day, etc. 28
Though long ago listening the poisèd l, To a Lady Sleep. 8
Last (adj.) I have rais'd thee higher to the Spheres of Heaven, Man's first, l home: Timbuctoo 217
Love is dead; His l arrow sped; Burial of Love 9
The world's l tempest darkens overhead; Britons, guard 2
Last (s) Lest thy kiss should be the l. Hero to Leander 6
he had well nigh reached The l, The Mystic 43
Lasting ME my own fate to l sorrow doometh: Me my own fate 1
Later and thou of l name Imperial Eldorado roof'd with gold: Timbuctoo 23 Latest Oh City! Oh l Throne! where I was rais'd To be a mystery of loveliness „ 240
Lattice From an half-open l looked at me. There are three things 12
Laugh We l, we cry, we are born, we die, The 'How' and the 'Why' 8
When we l, and our mirth Apes the happy vein, Every day, etc. 12
L not loudly; watch the treasure Of the wisdom Hesperides, Song i 13
Jesuit l's, and reckoning on his chance, Britons, guard 32
Laugheth Madness l loud: Every day, etc. 17
Laughing l clearly A light and thrilling laughter, Anacreontics 9
Laughter L bringeth tears: Every day, etc. 18 laughing clearly A light and thrilling l, Anacreontics 10
Laved mine own image, l in light, Lover's Tale i 68
Law wondrous l's which regulate The fierceness Timbuctoo 147
Law (continued) Nor essence nor eternal l's: οἱ 'φεύγες 1
Our ancient boast is this—we reverence l. Sugg. by Reading 34
O Grief and Shame if while I preach of l's „ 37
Lawless The l comets as they glare, Chorus 27
Lay (s) (See also Lovelay) You did late review my l's, To C. North 1
Lay (verb) wave unshocked L's itself calm and wide, Dualisms 7
How often, when a child I l reclined, Mablethorpe 1
L like an open scroll before my view, Lover's Tale i 601
And blind and motionless as then I l! „ 619
Lea which the fearful springtide flecks the l, Love and Sorrow 2
Two children lovelier than love, adown the l are singing, Dualisms 14
At noon-tide beneath the l; Lotos-Eaters 6
The drain-cut levels of the marshy l,— Mablethorpe 6
Lead turretstairs are wet That l into the sea. Hero to Leander 37
Will it l me to the grave? Germ of 'Maud' 24
Oh! l me tenderly, for fear the mind Lover's Tale i 23 Leaf (See also Ivy-leaves) growth of shadowing l and clusters rare, Timbuctoo 223
O MAIDEN, fresher than the first green l Love and Sorrow 1
What happy air shall woo The wither'd l Lover's Tale i 622
Lean Over heaven's parapets the angels l. To a Lady Sleep. 10
Leander And when thou art dead, L, Hero to Leander 30
L! go not yet. „ 38
Leaneth my wish l evermore Still to believe it— Lover's Tale i 270
Leaning Beneath a highland l down a weight Of cliffs, The Hesperides 10
Leap L the little waterfalls That sing Rosalind 23
And the merry lizard l's, Lotos-Eaters 31
The boy began to l and prance, Home they brought him 7
Leaping Ever l, ever singing, The Grasshopper 43
Learn lest we l A sharper lesson than we ever knew. Sugg. by Reading 87
For what is this which now I l, The Ringlet 51 Learnt-Learn'd They never learnt to love who never knew to weep. Love and Sorrow 18
When I learnt from whom it came, To C. North 5
Because she learn'd them with me. Lover's Tale i 290
Leave If thou dost l the sun, The lintwhite 32
Leaved See Silverleaved
Led By such men l, our press had ever been Sugg. by Reading 2
Ledgers Too much we make our L, Gods. Hands all Round 20
Left (hand) In any town, to l or right, O darling room 14
Left (verb) and I Was l alone on Calpe, Timbuctoo 252
Till we were l to fight for truth alone. Britons, guard 35
Or moisture of the vapour, l in clinging, Lover's Tale ii 46
And, trampled on, l to its own decay. „ 81
Legend And much I mus'd on l's quaint and old Timbuctoo 16 hill of woe, so call'd Because the l ran that, Lover's Tale i 366
Length l of porch and lake and boundless hall, Timbuctoo 180
Lenora A garland for L. Anacreontics 7
L, laughing clearly A light and thrilling laughter, „ 9
Lesson lest we learn A sharper l than we ever knew. Sugg. by Reading 88
Lethargised So l discernment in the sense, Lover's Tale i 663 Level (adj.) the l calm Is ridg'd with restless and increasing spheres Timbuctoo 124
Level (s) melon sleeps On the l of the shore: Lotos-Eaters 36
The drain-cut l's of the marshy lea,— Mablethorpe 6
I To stand within the l of their hopes, Lover's Tale i 768
Levelling Rapidly l eager eyes. Hesperides, Song ii 18
Liar Peace-lovers we—but who can trust a l?— Britons, guard 14
Libraries Your bridges and your busted l, Cambridge 3
Libyan See Lybian
Lid THOU whose fringèd l's I gaze upon, To a Lady Sleep. 1 commend the tears to creep From my charged l's. Could I outwear 11
Lie (s) fie You golden l. The Ringlet 44
Lie (verb) What the life is? where the soul may l? The 'How' and the 'Why' 33 crushing the thick fragrant reeds he l's, Love 32
For her there l in wait millions of foes, Sugg. by Reading 59
Life The precious jewel of my honour'd l, Lover's Tale ii 78
As air is th' l of flame: Timbuctoo 20 notes of busy l in distant worlds Beat „ 113
The permeating l which courseth through „ 220
Some say this l is pleasant, The 'How' and the 'Why' 3
Why the l goes when the blood is spilt? „ 32
What the l is? where the soul may lie? „ 33
If to love be l alone, To —— 2

Life (continued) The stern experiences of converse lives, The Mystic 8 cloud Which droops low hung on either gate of l, „ 32
Investeth and ingirds all other lives. „ 46
L of the summerhours, The Grasshopper 3 subtle l, the countless forms Of living things, Chorus 7
Our l evanisheth: Oh! stay. The lintwhite 15
To whom the slope and stream of l, Rosalind 5
The l before, the l behind, „ 6
That trouble l in early years, „ 14
In the silence of my l— Germ of 'Maud' 13
So to guard my l from ill, „ 17
That spilt his l about the cliques. New Timon 40
And taken away the greenness of my l, Lover's Tale i 625
And their long l a dream of linked love, „ 795
Hope is dried,—the l o' the plant— „ 808
The wreck of ruin'd l, and shatter'd thought, „ ii 62
Lift We'll l no more the shattered oar, Lotos-Eaters 23 Lifted So, l high, the poet at his will D. of F. Women 9
Light (s) (See also Half-light) silent Heavens were blench'd with faery l, Timbuctoo 5
Uncertain whether faery l or cloud, „ 6 no l but that wherewith Her phantasy informs them. „ 39
A curve of whitening, flashing, ebbing l! „ 63
And circled with the glory of living l „ 75
l Of the great angel mind which look'd „ 87
As with a momentary flash of l Grew „ 97 with sharp points of l Blaze within blaze, „ 107
Behind, In diamond l, upsprung the dazzling Cones „ 168
With earliest L of Spring, „ 200
The l of his hopes unfed, Burial of Love 3
For ever write In the weathered l „ 21
Her l shall into darkness change; „ 27
I' the glooming l Of middle night, I' the glooming light 1 ocean with the morrow l Will be both blue and calm; Hero to Leander 25
One shadow in the midst of a great l The Mystic 21
l Of earliest youth pierced through and through „ 28
Pride came beneath and held a l. Love, Pride, etc. 6
The day, the diamonded l, Chorus 11
Thou canst not lighten even with thy l, Love and Sorrow 11 wave of the virgin l Driven back the billow To a Lady Sleep. 5
A sheeny snake, the l of vernal bowers, Could I outwear 6
Turn cloud to l, and bitterness to joy, Though night 6
Nor blot with floating shades the solar l. Shall the hag 14 in mail of argent l Shot into gold, Pallid thunderstricken 12
In music and in l o'er land and sea. Love 28
Like l on troubled waters: „ 40
And in him l and joy and strength abides; „ 42 from his brows a crown of living l Looks through „ 43
Where'er the l of day be; (repeat) National Song 2, 6, 20, 24
Nor good nor ill, nor l nor shade, οἱ φόνοι 10
When thy l perisheth That from thee issueth, The lintwhite 13 eyes so full of l Should be so wandering! „ 26 thy l's on my horizon shine Into my night Me my own fate 11
When we two meet there's never perfect l. „ 14
Till midnoon the cool east l Is shut out Hesperides, Song iv 15
Clad in l by golden gates, Clad in l the Spirit waits Germ of 'Maud' 32
As towards the gracious l I bow'd, What time I wasted 4
To worship mine own image, laved in l, Lover's Tale i 68
A l, methought, flash'd even from her white robe, „ 361
Even from that Heaven in whose l I bloom'd „ 624 came in O'erhead the white l of the weary moon, „ 659
Light (adj.) Why the rocks stand still, and the l clouds fly? The 'How' and the 'Why' 14
Thou art so glad and free, And as l as air; The Grasshopper 25
Lenora, laughing clearly A l and thrilling laughter, Anacreontics 10 and mine Were dim with floating tears, that shot the sunset, In l rings round me; Lover's Tale i 438
Light (verb) Waiting to l him with his purple skies, Love 34
Lighted (See also Wax-lighted) My heart is l at thine eyes, To —— 8
Lighten 'Wide Afric, doth thy sun L, Timbuctoo 59
Thou canst not l even with thy light, Love and Sorrow 11
Lighting L on the golden blooms? The Grasshopper 44
Lightning The herald l's starry bound, Chorus 14 goest and returnest to His Lips Like l: Love 13 a l stroke had come Even from that Heaven Lover's Tale i 623

Lightsome And showering down the glory of l day, Tears of Heaven 8
Like L, unlike, they roam together Dualisms 17
L, unlike, they sing together Side by side; „ 19
Lily And silverleaved l, Anacreontics 3
Lilygarlands As they gambol, l ever stringing: Dualisms 15 Limb Thy heart beats through thy rosy l's Hero to Leander 16 their wan l's no more might come between Shall the hag 12 between whose l's Of brassy vastness A Fragment 6
From iron l's and tortured nails! Hands all Round 16 lithe l's bow'd as with a heavy weight Lover's Tale i 126 Limit infixed The l's of his prowess, Timbuctoo 12 melancholy home At the l of the brine, Lotos-Eaters 21
Limitless So bearing on thro' Being l The triumph of this foretaste, Lover's Tale i 514
Link (s) Five l's, a golden chain, are we, Hesperides, Song ii 23
Five l's, a golden chain, are we, „ iv 24
Crush'd l on l into the beaten earth, Lover's Tale i 859 Link (verb) Could l his shallop to the fleeting edge, Timbuctoo 145 firmament to l The earthquake-shattered chasm, Lover's Tale i 407
Link'd Rapid as fire, inextricably l, Timbuctoo 117
Linkèd The l woes of many a fiery change Had purified, The Mystic 9
And their long life a dream of l love, Lover's Tale i 795
Lintwhite The l and the throstlecock Have voices sweet and clear; The lintwhite 1
Lion Hold up the L of England on high (repeat) English War Song 27, 49
A L, you, that made a noise, New Timon 11 heard in thought Those rhymes, 'The L and the Unicorn' Lover's Tale i 285
Lionel her heart Was L's: „ i 603
It was the man she loved, even L, The lover L, the happy L, „ 671 pray'd aloud to God that he would hold The hand of blessing over L, „ 792
Lip (See also Roselip) I have fill'd thy l's with power. Timbuctoo 215
His eyes in eclipse, Pale cold his l's, Burial of Love 2 skins the colour from her trembling l's. Pallid thunderstricken 14 goest and returnest to His L's Like lightning: Love 12
Alas! that l's so cruel dumb Should The lintwhite 17 peaceful l's are kissed With earliest rays, A Fragment 22
They sleep with staring eyes and gilded l's, „ 29 name to which her seraph l's Did lend Lover's Tale i 451
Liquid L gold, honeysweet thro' and thro'. Hesperides, Song i 24
List knoweth not Beyond the sound he l's: Lover's Tale i 658
Listenest L the lordly music flowing Timbuctoo 218
Listening Though long ago l the poisèd lark, To a Lady Sleep. 8
Lithe But an insect l and strong, The Grasshopper 7
And the l vine creeps, Lotos-Eaters 34
The l limbs bow'd as with a heavy weight Lover's Tale i 126
Little The l bird pipeth 'why! why!' The 'How' and the 'Why' 26
Leap the l waterfalls That sing into the pebbled pool. Rosalind 23
The l isle of Ithaca, beneath the day's decline. Lotos-Eaters 22
No l room so warm and bright Wherein to read, O darling room 5
A l room so exquisite, „ 15
Because the words of l children preach Against you,— Cambridge 12
Can pardon l would-be Popes And Brummels, New Timon 19
A dapper boot—a l hand—If half the l soul is dirt? „ 35
She loves a l scandal which excites; A l feeling is a want of tact. Sugg. by Reading 57
Lower down Spreads out a l lake, that, flooding, Lover's Tale i 536
Live I love thee, and l; To —— 4
For which I l—black eyes, and brown and blue; There are three things 6 black eyes, I l and die, and only die for you. „ 8 such a heat as l's in great creative rhymes. Sugg. by Reading 6 by that name was wont to l in her speech, Lover's Tale i 571 Lived Awhile she scarcely l at all, Love, Pride, etc. 13
I had l That intense moment thro' eternity. Lover's Tale i 495
So each with each inwoven l with each, „ 566 for which I l and breathed: „ ii 73
Livelong the culvers mourn All the l day. Every day, etc. 30
Living And circled with the glory of l light Timbuctoo 75
Deep-rooted in the l soil of truth: „ 225
The subtle life, the countless forms Of l things, Chorus 8
And from his brows a crown of l light Love 43
Thy spirit, circled with a l glory, Me my own fate 3 rare pity had stolen The l bloom away, Lover's Tale i 726

Lizard And the merry l leaps, Lotos-Eaters 31
Loathe thinking men of England, l a tyranny. Sugg. by Reading 12
Loathèd Or propagate again her l kind, Shall the hag 2
And damn'd unto his l tenement. Lover's Tale i 683
Loathing That, strongly l, greatly broke. New Timon 4
Loathly Oh! rather had some l ghastful brow, Lover's Tale i 676
Locality I took delight in this l! Mablethorpe 2
Lock Thy l's are dripping balm; Hero to Leander 20
Thy l's are full of sunny sheen The lintwhite 28
Locked See Golden-locked
Lone Among the inner columns far retir'd At midnight, in the l Acropolis. Timbuctoo 32
As dwellers in l planets look upon The mighty disk Love 20
Like a l cypress, through the twilight hoary, Me my own fate 6
Lonely But yet my l spirit follows thine, „ 9
Long pillars high L time eras'd from Earth: Timbuctoo 13
The nightingale, with l and low preamble, Check every outflash 9
But men of l enduring hopes, New Timon 17
Because the legend ran that, l time since, Lover's Tale i 366
Her l ringlets, Drooping and beaten with the plaining wind, „ 734
And their l life a dream of linked love, „ 795
Longer No l in the dearest use of mine— „ 599
Look to l on for a moment fill'd My eyes Timbuctoo 190
With glazèd eye She l's at her grave: I' the glooming light 15 dwellers in lone planets l upon The mighty disk Love 20
L's through the thickstemmed woods by day and night „ 44
knowest I dare not l into thine eyes, Oh, Beauty 4
L to him, father, lest he wink, Hesperides, Song ii 11
L from west to east along: „ iii 6
You never l but half content: New Timon 26
It l's too arrogant a jest— „ 42
No, nor the Press! and l you well to that— Sugg. by Reading 17
Who l's for Godlike greatness here shall see „ 53 your ringlets, That l so golden-gay, The Ringlet 2 Refused to l his author in the face, Lover's Tale i 697
Look'd l into my face With his unutterable, Timbuctoo 66
I l, but not Upon his face, „ 85 angel mind which l from out The starry glowing „ 88
Of late such eyes l at me— There are three things 9
From an half-open lattice l at me. „ 12
Looking (See also Downlooking) L athwart the burning flats, A Fragment 17
L warily Every way, Hesperides, Song i 26
L under silver hair with a silver eye. „ ii 2
Lord We l it o'er the sea; (repeat) National Song 16, 34
Lordly Listenest the l music flowing from Th' illimitable years. Timbuctoo 218
Lorn cold as were the hopes Of my l love! Lover's Tale i 621
Lose But l themselves in utter emptiness. Love and Sorrow 16
We shall l eternal pleasure, Hesperides, Song i 11
Then I l it: it will fly: Germ of 'Maud' 25
Loss Unknowing fear, Undreading l, The Grasshopper 17
Lost L in its effulgence sleeps, Chorus 26 beauteous face Of the maiden, that I l, Germ of 'Maud' 3
We hate not France, but France has l her voice Britons, guard 19
Could I thus hope my l delights renewing, Could I outwear 9
Lotos We will eat the L, Lotos-Eaters 14
Lotos-land, till the L fail; „ 27
Lotos-eater Like a dreamy L-e, a delirious L-e! „ 13
With the blissful L-e's pale „ 25
Lotos-land We will abide in the golden vale Of the L-l, „ 27
Lotusflute Nor melody o' the Lybian l The Hesperides 7
Loud And the l sea roars below. Hero to Leander 15
A summer of l song, The Grasshopper 32 edicts of his fear Are mellowed into music, borne abroad By the l winds, Love 9
On the l hoar foam, Lotos-Eaters 19
The moanings in the forest, the l stream, Lover's Tale ii 123
Love (s) lowest depths were, as with visible l, Timbuctoo 49
L is dead; (repeat) Burial of Love 8, 13
Oh, truest l! art thou forlorn, „ 14
Till L have his full revenge. „ 30
L unreturned is like the fragrant frame To —— 5
Oh go not yet, my l, (repeat) Hero to Leander 1, 32
In thine hour of l and revel, The Grasshopper 35
Ere yet my heart was sweet L's tomb, L laboured honey busily. Love, Pride, etc. 1
Love (s) (continued) I was the hive and L the bee, Love, Pride, etc. 3
Sweet L was withered in his cell; Pride took L's sweets, and by a spell Did change „ 8
Thou art my heart's sun in l's crystalline: Love and Sorrow 6
Thou, from the first, unborn, undying l, Love 1 brood above The silence of all hearts, unutterable L. „ 14
Come, thou of many crowns, white-robèd l, „ 24
Two children lovelier than l, adown the lea Dualisms 14
Fair year, with brows of royal l Thou comest, The Lintwhite 19
When in this valley first I told my l. Check every outflash 14
'Then take it, l, and put it by; The Ringlet 11
'Then kiss it, l, and put it by: „ 23
'Come, kiss it, l, and put it by: „ 41 with l too high to be express'd Arrested in its sphere, Lover's Tale i 65 Where L was worshipp'd upon every height, Where L was worshipp'd under every tree— „ 323 cold as were the hopes Of my lorn l! „ 620
if he had fall'n In l in twilight? „ 700
And why was I to darken their pure l, „ 765
And their long life a dream of linked l, „ 795 till their l Shall ripen to a proverb unto all, „ 802
That in the death of l, if e'er they loved, „ 849
Love (verb) If to l be life alone, To —— 2
I l thee, and live; and yet Love unreturned „ 4 never learnt to l who never knew to weep. Love and Sorrow 18
For her I l so dearly, Anacreontics 6
We know thee most, we l thee best, Hands all Round 39
How much I l this writer's manly style! Sugg. by Reading 1
She l's a little scandal which excites; „ 57 as I knew, they two did l each other, Lover's Tale i 766
Did I l Camilla? „ 770
Let them so l that men and boys may say, Lo! how they l each other! „ 801
Loved And l me ever after. Anacreontics 12
It was the man she l, even Lionel, Lover's Tale i 671
That in the death of Love, if e'er they l, „ 849
Lovelay Hum a l to the westwind at noontide. Dualisms 2
Lovelier Two children l than love, adown the lea, „ 14
This is l and sweeter, Lotos-Eaters 10
Loveliest Most l, most delicious union? Lover's Tale i 275
Loveliness Which fill'd the Earth with passing l, Timbuctoo 79 a mystery of l Unto all eyes, „ 241
Lovely Most pale and clear and l distances. The Mystic 35
She is l by my side In the silence of my life— Germ of 'Maud' 12
Lover See Peace-lover
Low E'en so my thoughts, erewhile so l, now felt Timbuctoo 157
Thy voice is sweet and l; Hero to Leander 33
The nightingale, with long and l preamble, Check every outflash 9
And the l west wind, breathing afar, Hesperides, Song iv 8
Unfrequent, l, as tho' it told its pulses; Lover's Tale ii 58
Low-built L-b, mud-walled, Barbarian settlement, Timbuctoo 248
Low-buried L-b fathom deep beneath with thee, O sad No more! 8
Low-embowèd Keen knowledges of l-e eld) The Mystic 30
Lower To charm a l sphere of fulminating fools. Sugg. by Reading 30
Lowest Whose l depths were, as with visible love, Timbuctoo 49
Low-hung l-h tresses, dipp'd In the fierce stream, Lover's Tale i 374
Loyal Be l, if you wish for wholesome rule: Sugg. by Reading 33
We still were l in our wildest fights, „ 35
Loyally Or l disloyal battled for our rights. „ 36
Lurlei vineyards green, Musical L; O darling room 9
Luscious The l fruitage clustereth mellowly, Hesperides, Song iv 19
Lustre clear Galaxy Shorn of its hoary l, Timbuctoo 106
Lutestring inner soul To tremble like a l, Oh, Beauty 13
Lybian Nor melody o' the L lotusflute The Hesperides 7
Lying He often l broad awake, The Mystic 36
By l priest's the peasant's votes controlled. Britons, guard 8

M

Mad Should war's m blast again be blown, Hands all Round 41
Made Had purified, and chastened, and m free. The Mystic 10
Because the earth hath m her state forlorn Tears of Heaven 3
For nothing is, but all is m, οἱ ῥέοντες 12
A Lion, you, that m a noise, New Timon 11

Made (continued) By diminution m most glorious, Lover's Tale i 71
Which waste with the breath that m 'em. „ 475
The very spirit of Paleness m still paler „ 679 my refluent health m tender quest Unanswer'd, „ 742 drove them onward—m them sensible ; „ ii 77
Madness M laugheth loud : Every day, etc. 17
Mahmoud Better wild M's war-cry once again ! Sugg. by Reading 83
Maid There are no m's like English m's, National Song 25
Maiden (adj.) (when I view Fair m forms moving like melodies), There are three things 3
Maiden (s) O M, fresher than the first green leaf Love and Sorrow 1 beauteous face Of the m, that I lost, Germ of 'Maud' 3
Mail in m of argent light Shot into gold, Pallid thunderstricken 12
Mailèd Thou art a m warrior in youth and strength complete ; The Grasshopper 13
Main My heart is warmer surely than the bosom of the m. Hero to Leander 9
Majestic In accents of m melody, Timbuctoo 192
The mighty disk of their m sun, Love 21
Make Why two and two m four ? The 'How' and the 'Why' 13
If ye sing not, if ye m false measure, Hesperides, Song i 10
Five and three (Let it not be preached abroad)
m an awful mystery. „ 16
M the apple holy and bright, „ iv 10 the free speech that m's a Briton known. Britons, guard 29
M their cause your own. „ 54
Too much we m our Ledgers, Gods. Hands all Round 20
Who m the emphatic One, by whom is all, Sugg. by Reading 81
I call on you To m opinion warlike, „ 87 lake, that, flooding, m's Cushions of yellow sand ; Lover's Tale i 536 her whom he would m his wedded wife, Camilla ! „ 793
Think not thy tears will m my name grow green,— „ 806
Maketh Ever alone She m her moan : I' the glooming light 17
Making M their day dim, so we gaze on thee. Love 23
Man being in the heart of M As air is th' life of flame : Timbuctoo 19
Men clung with yearning Hope which would not die. „ 27
'O child of m, why muse you here alone „ 77
the hum of men, Or other things talking „ 111
Spirit than I to sway The heart of m : „ 196
Heaven, M's first, last home : „ 217 men's hopes and fears take refuge in The fragrance „ 226
Child of M, See'st thou yon river, „ 228
I am any m's suitor, If any will be my tutor : The 'How' and the 'Why' 1 wondrous tones Of m and beast are full of strange Astonishment Chorus 9 all men adore thee ; Heaven crieth after thee ; Love 25 none shall grieve For the m who fears to die : English War Song 4 scorn of the many shall cleave To the m who fears to die. „ 6
There are no men like Englishmen, National Song 7
M is the measure of all truth Unto himself. οἱ 'ρέοντες 3
All men do walk in sleep, „ 5
Men of Ithaca, this is meeter, Lotos-Eaters 11
As when a m, that sails in a balloon, D. of F. Women 1
The padded m—that wears the stays— New Timon 8
But men of long enduring hopes, „ 17
'They call this m as good as me.' „ 32
fierce old m—to take his name You bandbox. „ 43
The true men banished, Britons, guard 10
We hate not France, but this m's heart of stone. „ 17
This m is France, the m they call her choice. „ 20
There must no m go back to bear the tale : No m to bear it—Swear it ! We swear it ! „ 56
A health to Europe's honest men ! Hands all Round 13
But fire, to blast the hopes of men. „ 30
By such men led, our press had ever been Sugg. by Reading 2
The thinking men of England, loathe a tyranny. „ 12
Yours are the public acts of public men, „ 21
I honour much, I say, this m's appeal. „ 49
An essence less concentred than a m ! „ 82
we want a manlike God and Godlike men ! „ 84
I turn To you that mould men's thoughts ; „ 86
'The Gander' and 'The m of Mitylene,' Lover's Tale i 287
A woful m had thrust his wife and child „ 368
Man (continued) It was the m she loved, even Lionel, Lover's Tale i 671 new-hewn sepulchre Where m had never lain. „ 714
As men do from a vague and horrid dream, „ 786
Let them so love that men and boys may say, „ 801
Mane And shook a m en papillotes. New Timon 12
Manhood Rise, Britons, rise, if m be not dead ; Britons, guard 1
And trust an ancient m and the cause Sugg. by Reading 39
Manlike we want a m God and Godlike men ! „ 84
Manly How much I love this writer's m style ! „ 1
Manner for your m sorts Not with this age, Cambridge 10
Mantling Half round the m night is drawn, Hesperides, Song iii 13
Many Come, thou of m crowns, white-robèd love, Love 24
The m pleasant days, the moonlit nights, Lover's Tale i 54
Marble Nathless she ever clasps the m knees, Timbuctoo 37
The deep salt wave breaks in above Those m steps below. Hero to Leander 35
Margent Had film'd the m's of the recent wound. Lover's Tale i 764
Mark old m of rouge upon your cheeks. New Timon 38
Marksman We were the best of marksmen long ago, Britons, guard 43
Marriage-day God bless thy m-d, God bless our Prince 13
Marshy The drain-cut levels of the m lea,— Mablethorpe 6 Martial if France be she Whom m progress only charms ? Hands all Round 26
Marvel (s) Ye could not read the m in his eye, The Mystic 4
What m that she died ? Love, Pride, etc. 14
Marvel (verb) Would m from so beautiful a sight Pallid thunderstricken 9
Matted built above With m bramble and the shining gloss Of ivy-leaves, Lover's Tale i 373 Matter M enough for deploring 1865-1866 8
Mattock Beside her are laid Her m and spade, I' the glooming light 6
May Mid M's darling goldenlocked, Dualisms 21
All in the bloomèd M. (repeat) The linnwhite 3, 12, 21, 30
Farewell, fair rose of M ! God bless our Prince 11
Maze m of piercing, trackless, thrilling thoughts Timbuctoo 115
Mead Tilth, hamlet, m and mound : D. of F. Women 4
Meadow The Bayard of the m. The Grasshopper 21 Meaning But what is the m of then and now ! The 'How' and the 'Why' 22 where, alack, is Bewick To tell the m now ? A gate and a field 6
Measure Man is the m of all truth οἱ 'ρέοντες 3
If ye sing not, if ye make false m, Hesperides, Song i 10
Meat Over their scrips and shares, their m's and wine, Sugg. by Reading 47
Mechanic By a dull m ghost And a juggle of the brain. Germ of 'Maud' 7
Meditation 'Tis a beautiful And pleasant m, Lover's Tale i 240
Meek shall the blessing of the m be on thee ; Though night 12
Meet When we two m there's never perfect light. Me my own fate 14
Yet never did there m my sight, O darling room 13
I said, 'O years that m in tears, 1865-1866 4
Meeter Men of Ithaca, this is m, Lotos-Eaters 11
Melancholy (adj.) To the m home At the limit of the brine, „ 20
Melancholy (s) Thy spirit to mild-minded M ; Check every outflash 3
Alone my hopeless m gloometh, Me my own fate 5 Mellow And the black owl scuds down the m twilight, The 'How' and the 'Why' 30
Mellowed edicts of his fear Are m into music, Love 8
M in a land of rest ; Hesperides, Song iv 12
Melodious M thunders through your vacant courts At morn and even ; Cambridge 9
Melody In accents of majestic m, Timbuctoo 192
Clear m flattering the crisped Nile A Fragment 26 Fair maiden forms moving like melodies), There are three things 3
Nor m o' the Lybian lotusflute The Hesperides 7 as my heart beat Twice to the m of hers. Lover's Tale i 74
It giveth out a constant m That drowns „ 534 heavy m sleeps On the level of the shore : Lotos-Eaters 35 Melted From my cold eyes and m it again. Could I outwear 14
note Hath m in the silence that it broke. Oh, Beauty 14
Memnon Thy M, when his peaceful lips are kissed A Fragment 22
Memnonian Awful M countenances calm „ 16
Memory A center'd golden-circled M, Timbuctoo 21
m of that mental excellence Comes o'er me, „ 137
M tho' fed by Pride Did wax so thin on gall, Love, Pride, etc. 11
While I spoke thus, the seedsman, M, D. of F. Women 14 a costly casket in the grasp Of m ? Lover's Tale i 102
m of that sound With mighty evocation, „ 667
Memphis Old M hath gone down : A Fragment 27

Mental and my m eye grew large With such a vast circumference of thought, Timbuctoo 92
The memory of that m excellence Comes o'er me, " 137
Mentz where the Rhene Curves towards M, O darling room 12
Mercury M On such a morning would have flung Lover's Tale i 302
Merged I had m Glory in glory, " 515
Merit The m's of a spotless shirt— New Timon 34
Merry M grasshopper, Thou art so glad and free, The Grasshopper 23 from within Anon he rusheth forth with m din, Love 41
M England ! England for aye ! (repeat) English War Song 10, 21, 32, 43, 54
Than to shame m England here. " 17
And the m devil drive 'em Through the water and the fire. (repeat) National Song 13, 31
And the m lizard leaps, Lotos-Eaters 31
Met And New Year and Old Year m, 1865-1866 2
Methinks I could have sooner m that gaze ! Lover's Tale i 684
Metal if gold it were Or m more ethereal, Timbuctoo 177
Methinks And now—m I gaze upon thee now, Love 29
M if I should kiss thee, Oh, Beauty 9
M I could have sooner met that gaze ! Lover's Tale i 684 Middle (adj.) I' the glooming light Of m night, I' the glooming light 2 and in the solitude Of m space confound them, Shall the hag 9
Middle (s) But in the m of the sombre valley Check every outflash 6
Midge summer m's wove their wanton gambol, " 12
Midnight (adj.) By secret fire and m storms Chorus 5
Midnight (s) retir'd At m, in the lone Acropolis. Timbuctoo 32
Midnoon In the m the glory of old Rhodes, A Fragment 2
Till m the cool east light Is shut out Hesperides, Song iv 15
Midst One shadow in the m of a great light, The Mystic 21
Midway And muse m with philosophic calm Timbuctoo 146
Might The heavy thunder's girding m, Chorus 13
Mightier 'There is no m Spirit than I to sway The heart of man :' Timbuctoo 195
Mighty I felt my soul grow m, and my spirit " 90
And step by step to scale that m stair " 198
One m countenance of perfect calm, The Mystic 23
The burning belts, the m rings, Chorus 23
The m disk of their majestic sun, Love 21
If so be that the memory of that sound With m evocation, Lover's Tale i 668
Mild-minded Thy spirit to m-m Melancholy ; Check every outflash 3
Milky heart deep moans Feed and envenom, as the m blood Of hateful herbs a subtle-fanged snake, Lover's Tale i 820
Million For her there lie in wait m's of foes, Sugg. by Reading 59
Minaret rangèd Chrysolite, M's and towers ? Timbuctoo 236 Mind angel m which look'd from out The starry glowing " 88 indecision of my present m With its past clearness, " 139 Thronging the cells of the diseased m, Shall the hag 3
'Tis a phantom of the m. Germ of 'Maud' 14
Here stood the infant Ilion of the m, Mablethorpe 3
The single voice may speak his m aloud ; Sugg. by Reading 14 for fear the m Rain thro' my sight, Lover's Tale i 23 Were by the busy m referr'd, compared, " 384 in other m's Had film'd the margents " 763 Unto the growth of body and of m ; " ii 74
Minded See Mild-minded
Mingle You did m blame and praise, To C. North 3
Golden calm and storm M day by day. Every day, etc. 8
Mingled M with floating music, thus he spake : Timbuctoo 194
Minister'd multitudes That m around it— " 184 till they m Unto her swift conceits ? Lover's Tale i 665
Ministering With m hand he rais'd me up ; Timbuctoo 188
Mire We drag so deep in our commercial m, Sugg. by Reading 50
Mirth and our m Apes the happy vein, Every day, etc. 12
Miserable Who was cursed But I ? who m but I ? Lover's Tale i 627 Misery M Forgot herself in that extreme distress, " 627
M, like a fretful, wayward child, " 696
Mitylene 'The Gander' and 'The man of M,' " 287
Mix You must not m our Queen with those Hands all Round 53
Mixed Her tears are m with the bearded dews. I' the glooming light 11
Mizraim Who sailed from M underneath the star A Fragment 5
Moan Ever alone She maketh her m : I' the glooming light 17 heart deep m's Feed and envenom, Lover's Tale i 819
Moaning Worn Sorrow sits by the m wave ; I' the glooming light 4
Moaning (continued) No western odours wander On the black and m sea, Hero to Leander 29
Sent up the m of unhappy spirits Imprison'd in her centre, Lover's Tale i 613 Mob waves them to the m That shout below, D. of F. Women 5
Mock See Arch-mock
Moisture Or m of the vapour, left in clinging, Lover's Tale ii 46 Moment to look on for a m fill'd My eyes Timbuctoo 190 lived That intense m thro' eternity. Lover's Tale i 496
Momentary Each failing sense As with a m flash of light Timbuctoo 97
Monstrous And the m narwhale swalloweth His foam-fountains in the sea. Lotos-Eaters 7
Monument Where are thy m's Piled A Fragment 19
Moon The M's white cities, and the opal width Timbuctoo 101 and the M Had fallen from the night, " 252
The white m is hid in her heaven above, Hero to Leander 3
And portals of pure silver walks the m. Though night 4 come between The m and the m's reflex in the night ; Shall the hag 13 came in O'erhead the white light of the weary m, Lover's Tale i 659
Moon-encircled planet-girded Suns And m-e planets, Timbuctoo 110
Moonlight (adj.) Where are your m halls, your cedarn glooms, " 43
Moonlight (s) By the shuddering m, fix'd his eyes Lover's Tale i 680
Moonlit The many pleasant days, the m nights, " 54
Mope Go, get you gone, you muse and m— Skipping-rope 7
Moral With m breadth of temperament. New Timon 28
Morn Every night its m : Every day, etc. 2
Heaven weeps above the earth all night till m, Tears of Heaven 1
In honour of the silverflecked m : To a Lady Sleep. 4
Breathes low into the charmed ears of m A Fragment 25
Hesper hateth Phosphor, evening hateth m. Hesperides, Song iii 15
Young fishes, on an April m, Rosalind 21 thunders through your vacant courts At m and even ; Cambridge 10 eyes, I saw, were full of tears in the m, Lover's Tale i 728 Morning It was a glorious m, such a one As dawns " 301
Mercury On such a m would have flung himself " 303
Morrow (adj.) The ocean with the m light Will be both blue and calm ; Hero to Leander 25
Morrow (s) Sounding on the m. Home they brought him 5
Mortality Thy sense is clogg'd with dull m, Timbuctoo 82
Moscow even to M's cupolas were rolled Blow ye the trumpet 7
Moslem The M myriads fell, and fled before— " 11
Mossed By a m brookbank on a stone O sad No more ! 3
Mother from his m's eyes Flow over the Arabian bay, A Fragment 23
To fight thy m here alone, Hands all Round 43
Motion with hasty m I did veil My vision Timbuctoo 68
We have had enough of m, Lotos-Eaters 1
Moved with their m's, as those eyes were moved With m's Lover's Tale i 72 blood, the breath, the feeling and the m, " ii 75 Motionless And blind and m as then I lay ! " i 619
Mould I turn To you that m men's thoughts ; Sugg. by Reading 86
Mouldered That man's the best Conservative Who lops the m branch away. Hands all Round 8
Mound Huge m's whereby to stay his yeasty waves. Timbuctoo 15
Tilth, hamlet, mead and m : D. of F. Women 4
Mountain (adj.) And first the chillness of the m stream Smote on my brow, 'Lover's Tale i 652 Mountain (s) I stood upon the M which o'erlooks Timbuctoo 1 why muse you here alone Upon the M, " 78
The fountainpregnant m's riven To shapes Chorus 3 swum with balanced wings To some tall m. Lover's Tale i 305 had shatter'd from The m, till they fell, " ii 49
Mountain-foot As the sandfield at the m-f. Hesperides, Song i 7
Mountain-peak As the snowfield on the m-p's, " 6
Mounted We m slowly : yet to both of us It was delight, Lover's Tale i 377 Mounting Higher thro' secret splendours m still, D. of F. Women 11 Mourn The dull wave m's down the slope, I' the glooming light 21 the culvers m All the livelong day. Every day, etc. 29
Mournful Then with a m and ineffable smile, Timbuctoo 189
Strove to uprise, laden with m thanks, Lover's Tale i 748 Move Before the face of God didst breath and m, Love 3 it shall m In music and in light o'er land and sea. " 27
We m so far from greatness, that I feel Sugg. by Reading 51
Almost forgot even to m again. Lover's Tale i 353
Moved (See also First-moved) And be m around me still Germ of 'Maud' 19

Moved (continued) That is m not of the will. Germ of 'Maud' 21 she has m in that smooth way so long, Sugg. by Reading 65
M with their motions, as those eyes were m Lover's Tale i 72 from his spring M smiling toward his summer. „ 307
Moving M his crest to all sweet plots of flowers Could I outwear 7
(when I view Fair maiden forms m like melodies), There are three things 3
The varied earth, the m heaven, Chorus 1 moved around me still With the m of the blood Germ of 'Maud' 20
Mud-walled Low-built, m-w, Barbarian settlement, Timbuctoo 248
Multitude m's of m's That minister'd around it— „ 183
Murder And m was her freedom overthrown. Britons, guard 23
Murmur rolled The growing m's of the Polish war! Blow ye the trumpet 8
Murmurous The m planets' rolling choir, Chorus 24
Muse (s) tried the M's too: You fail'd, Sir: New Timon 13
Muse (verb) why m you here alone Upon the Mountain, Timbuctoo 77
And m midway with philosophic calm „ 146
Go, get you gone, you m and mope— Skipping-rope 7
Mus'd And much I m on legends quaint and old Timbuctoo 16 while I m At sunset, underneath a shadowy plane There are three things 9
Music flung strange m on the howling winds, Timbuctoo 80
Mingled with floating m, thus he spake: „ 194
lordly m flowing from Th' illimitable years. „ 218 Pagods hung with m of sweet bells: „ 234 flings Grand m and redundant fire, Chorus 22 edicts of his fear Are mellowed into m, Love 8
In m and in light o'er land and sea. „ 28
For the blossom unto three-fold m bloweth; Hesperides, Song i 17
And the sap to three-fold m floweth, „ 19
Musical And Oberwinter's vineyards green, M Lurlei; O darling room 9
Musically The crispèd waters whisper m, Check every outflash 7
Chimeth m clear. Rosalind 8
Musky With roses m breathed, Anacreontics 1
Musty I forgave you all the blame, M Christopher; To C. North 7
Mute M his tongue, Burial of Love 4
Round about all is m, Hesperides, Song i 5
Sleep and stir not: all is m. „ 9
Myriad The Moslem m's fell, and fled before— Blow ye the trumpet 11
Myrrh I have bathed thee with the pleasant m; Hero to Leander 19
Mysterious but where, M Egypt, are thine obelisks A Fragment 12 Mystery was rais'd To be a m of loveliness Timbuctoo 241 make an awful m. Hesperides, Song i 16
Honour comes with m; „ ii 5
Mystic Number, tell them over and number How many the m fruit-tree holds, „ 8

N

Nail From iron limbs and tortured n's! Hands all Round 16
Naked The n summer's glowing birth, Chorus 16
Name thou of later n Imperial Eldorado Timbuctoo 23
Sainted Juliet! dearest n! To —— 1 with many a n Whose glory will not die. D. of F. Women 15
And the great n of England round and round (repeat) Hands all Round 24, 48, 60 fierce old man—to take his n You bandbox. New Timon 43
With decent drippings at the n of Christ! Sugg. by Reading 64 Think not thy tears will make my n grow green,— Lover's Tale i 806
Named underneath the star N of the Dragon— A Fragment 6
Nameless We must not dread in you the n autocrat. Sugg. by Reading 18
Narrow I stood upon the Mountain which o'erlooks The n seas; Timbuctoo 2
Narrower Ye were yet within The n circle; The Mystic 42
Narwhale monstrous n swalloweth His foamfountains Lotos-Eaters 7
Nathless N she ever clasps the marble knees, Timbuctoo 37
Nation God save the N, The toleration, Britons, guard 27
Native That man's the best cosmopolite Who loves his n country best. Hands all Round 4
Nature Absorbed me from the n of itself Timbuctoo 142
You prate of n! you are he That spilt New Timon 39
Thin dilletanti deep in n's plan, Sugg. by Reading 80
Or in the art of N, Lover's Tale i 563
Warping their n, till they minister'd „ 665

Neck blue-glossèd n's beneath the purple weather. Dualisms 13
Parted on either side her argent n, Lover's Tale i 740 Necked See High-necked
Negligence Strung in the very n of Art, „ 562
Nerve Can it overlast the n's? Germ of 'Maud' 26
New (adj.) When the n year warm breathèd on the earth, Love 33
Already with the pangs of a n birth „ 36
And N Year and Old Year met, 1865-1866 2
And N Year blowing and roaring. „ 13
Green springtide, April promise, glad n year Of Being, Lover's Tale i 277
And being there they did break forth afresh In a n birth, „ 732
New (s) So died the Old: here comes the N: New Timon 5
New-hewn n-h sepulchre, Where man had never lain. Lover's Tale i 713
New-risen N-r o'er awakened Albion— Cambridge 7
Newstarrèd The Northwind fall'n, in the n night Zidonian Hanno, Hesperides 1
New Year And N Y and Old Year met, 1865-1866 2
And N Y blowing and roaring. „ 13
Nigh the time is well n come When I must render up Timbuctoo 242
Nigher As with a sense of n Deity, Lover's Tale i 382 Night those which starr'd the n o' the Elder World? Timbuctoo 60
the thick n Came down upon my eyelids, „ 186
Like a swol'n river's gushings in still n „ 193
Moon Had fallen from the n, and all was dark! „ 253 chaunts 'how?' 'how?' the whole of the n. The 'How' and the 'Why' 31
I' the glooming light Of middle n, I' the glooming night 2
Every day hath its n: Every n its morn: Every day, etc. 1
The n is dark and vast; Hero to Leander 2
Always there stood before him, n and day, The Mystic 11
Time flowing in the middle of the n, „ 39
One very dark and chilly n Pride came Love, Pride, etc. 5
Heaven weeps above the earth all n till morn, Tears of Heaven 1 my heart's n Thou canst not lighten Love and Sorrow 10
Thou all unwittingly prolongest n, To a Lady Sleep. 7
N hath climbed her peak of highest noon, Though night 1
All n through archways of the bridgèd pearl „ 3 between The moon and the moon's reflex in the n; Shall the hag 13 n and pain and ruin and death reign here. Love 4
Looks through the thickstemmed woods by day and n „ 44
As round the rolling earth n follows day: Me my own fate 10 horizon shine Into my n thou art far away; „ 12
Northwind fall'n, in the newstarrèd n The Hesperides 1
Guard the apple n and day, „ Song i 28 heart is drunk with overwatchings n and day, „ ii 12
Father Hesper, watch, watch, n and day, „ iii 1
Half round the mantling n is drawn, „ 13
The end of day and beginning of n „ iv 9
Watch it warily day and n; „ 13
First drink a health, this solemn n, Hands all Round 1
To kiss it n and day, The Ringlet 4
Ringlet, I kiss'd you n and day, „ 26
The many pleasant days, the moonlit n's, Lover's Tale i 54
One rainy n, when every wind blew loud, „ 367
Nightingale The n, with long and low preamble, Check every outflash 9
Heard neither warbling of the n, The Hesperides 6
Nile The placid Sphinxes brooding o'er the N? A Fragment 14 melody flattering the crisped N By columned Thebes. „ 26
Noble Now must your n anger blaze out more Blow ye the trumpet 9
The old Timon, with his n heart, New Timon 3 our press had ever been The public conscience of our n isle, Sugg. by Reading 3
Be n, you! nor work with faction's tools „ 29
Nobler You should be all the n, O my friends. „ 28
Nod The bulrush n's unto his brother The 'How' and the 'Why' 10
Noise A Lion, you, that made a n, New Timon 11
Noisome From wronged Poerio's n den, Hands all Round 15
No more O sad N m! O sweet N m! O strange N m! O sad No more! 1
Low-buried fathom deep beneath with thee, N M! „ 9
Nonnenwerth For I the N have seen, O darling room 7
Noon (See also Midnoon) Night hath climbed her peak of highest n, Though night 1 sloped Into the slumberous summer n; A Fragment 11
Stream from beneath him in the broad blue n, D. of F. Women 3

Noonday Of those that gaze upon the n Sun. Timbuctoo 71
Noontide Hum a lovelay to the westwind at n. Dualisms 2
At n-t beneath the lea ; Lotos-Eaters 6
Northwind N fall'n, in the newstarrèd night The Hesperides 1
Note And n's of busy life in distant worlds Timbuctoo 113 ere the n Hath melted in the silence that it broke. Oh, Beauty 13
Nothing For n is, but all is made, οἱ 'ρέοντες 12
O fie, you golden n, The Ringlet 43
Now But what is the meaning of then and n ! The 'How' and the 'Why' 22 Number N, tell them over and n The Hesperides, Song ii 7

O

Oak Why the heavy o groans, The 'How' and the 'Why' 15
Such hearts of o as they be. National Song 4
Oaken So on an o sprout A goodly acorn grew ; Lost Hope 5
To blow the battle from their o sides. Britons, guard 38
Oar We'll lift no more the shattered o, Lotos-Eaters 23 and rowing with the o, „ 39
Obelisk Her o's of rangèd Chrysolite, Timbuctoo 235
Egypt, are thine o's Graven with gorgeous emblems A Fragment 12
Oberwinter And O's vineyards green, O darling room 8
Object From visible o's, for but dimly now, Timbuctoo 135
Oblivion Did fall away into o. Lover's Tale i 630
Ocean The o with the morrow light Hero to Leander 25
Tossing on the tossing o, Lotos-Eaters 3 the shore Than labour in the o, „ 39
Odorous Blown round with happy airs of o winds ? Timbuctoo 46
Flooding its angry cheek with o tears. Lover's Tale i 565
Odour And o's rapt from remote Paradise ? Timbuctoo 81
No western o's wander On the black Hero to Leander 28
O'erbear Would shatter and o the brazen beat Shall the hag 7
O'ercanopied Imperial height Of Canopy o. Timbuctoo 166
Offence Whereby to guard our Freedom from o— Sugg. by Reading 38
Offered O to Gods upon an altarthrone ; To —— 7
Old (adj.) There where the Giant of o Time infixed Timbuctoo 11
And much I mus'd on legends quaint and o „ 16
To know thee is all wisdom, and o age Is but to know thee : Love 15 which stood In the midnoon the glory of o Rhodes, A Fragment 2
O Memphis hath gone down : „ 27
Wrapped round with spiced cerements in o grots „ 30
From an o garden where no flower bloometh, Me my own fate 7 underneath a shadowy plane In O Bayona, nigh the Southern Sea— There are three things 11
Lest the o wound of the world be healèd, The Hesperides, Song iii 2
Father, o Himla weakens, Caucasus is bold and strong. „ 7
Your portals statued with o kings and queens, Cambridge 2
The o Timon, with his noble heart, New Timon 3
why we see The o mark of rouge upon your cheeks. „ 38
The fierce o man—to take his name You bandbox. „ 43
We won o battles with our strength, the bow. Britons, guard 44
Headlong they plunge their doubts among o rags and bones. Sugg. by Reading 72
And New Year and O Year met, 1865-1866 2
O Year roaring and blowing „ 12
And all the quaint o scraps of ancient crones, Lover's Tale i 288
Old (s) So died the O : here comes the New : New Timon 5
Older For he is o than the world. The Hesperides, Song ii 16
Old Year And New Year and O Y met, 1865-1866 2
O Y roaring and blowing „ 12
Omen Go, frightful o's. Sugg. by Reading 85
On Over their crowned brethren O and Oph ? A Fragment 21
One but only seemed O shadow in the midst of a great light, O reflex from eternity on time, O mighty countenance of perfect calm, The Mystic 21
O very dark and chilly night Pride came beneath and held a light. Love, Pride, etc. 5
Could I outwear my present state of woe With o brief winter, Could I outwear 2
O cypress on an inland promontory. Me my own fate 8
As with o kiss to touch thy blessèd cheek. Oh, Beauty 8
Should he land here, and for o hour prevail, Britons, guard 55
O rainy night, when every wind blew loud, Lover's Tale i 367
One (continued) And yet again, three shadows, fronting o,
O forward, o respectant, three but o ; The Mystic 17
Who make the emphatic O, by whom is all, Sugg. by Reading 81
On-set All o-s of capricious Accident, Timbuctoo 26
Onward drove them o—made them sensible ; Lover's Tale ii 77
Opal o width Of her small glowing lakes, Timbuctoo 101
Open (adj.) (See also Half-open) where no gaze Might rest, stood o, „ 179
The Sun peeped in from o field, Home they brought him 6
The written secrets of her inmost soul Lay like an o scroll before my view, Lover's Tale i 601
Was not the South, The East, the West, all o, „ 699
Open (verb) O thine eye and see.' Timbuctoo 84
Open'd o far into the outward, And never closed again. Lover's Tale i 298
Oph Over their crowned brethren On and O ? A Fragment 21
Opinion I call on you To make o warlike, Sugg. by Reading 87 Opposite And the great bird sits on the o bough, The 'How' and the 'Why' 28
Orb With his unutterable, shining o's, Timbuctoo 67
Organ-pipe Nor yet your solemn o-p's that blow Cambridge 8
Orient To him the honey dews of o hope. Lover's Tale i 675
Other Or o things talking in unknown tongues, Timbuctoo 112
Investeth and ingirds all o lives. The Mystic 46 for bitter grief Doth hold the o half in sovranty. Love and Sorrow 5
Then might thy rays pass thro' to the o side, „ 14
Continuous till he reached the o sea. The Hesperides 13 such as in o minds Had film'd the margents of the recent wound. Lover's Tale i 763 For me all o Hopes did sway from that Which hung the frailest : „ 857
Outflash Check every o, every ruder sally Check every outflash 1
Outgrow o The wan dark coil of faded suffering— Could I outwear 3
Outset Oh, happy, happy o of my days ! Lover's Tale i 276
Outspread o With growth of shadowing leaf Timbuctoo 222
Outward (adj.) I seem'd to stand Upon the o verge „ 95
Is one of those who know no strife Of inward woe or o fear ; Rosalind 4
With her to whom all o fairest things Lover's Tale i 383
Outward (s) open'd far into the o, And never closed again. „ 298
Outwear Could I o my present state of woe Could I outwear 1
Overborne Lest my heart be o, Germ of 'Maud' 5
Overcome unto both Delight from hardship to be o Lover's Tale i 379
Overdoing o of her part Did fall away into oblivion. „ 629
Overhead world's last tempest darkens o ; Britons, guard 2
Overlast Can it o the nerves ? Germ of 'Maud' 26
Overleap but o All the petty shocks and fears Rosalind 12
Overlive Can it o the eye ? Germ of 'Maud' 27
Overthrown And murder was her freedom o. Britons, guard 23
Overwatching heart is drunk with o's night and day, The Hesperides, Song ii 12
Overwise The world will be o. „ 22
Owl black o scuds down the mellow twilight, The 'How' and the 'Why' 30 Own Absorbed me from the nature of itself With its o fleetness. Timbuctoo 143
For she hath half delved her o deep grave. I' the glooming light 7
Into her o blue eyes so clear and deep, Tears of Heaven 7
Issue of its o substance, my heart's night Love and Sorrow 10
Shall be steeped in his o salt tear : English War Song 15 Me my o fate to lasting sorrow doometh : Me my own fate 1 did pause To worship mine o image, laved in light, Lover's Tale i 68 and with the shock Half dug their o graves), „ ii 50
And, trampled on, left to its o decay. „ 81
In a new birth, immingled with my o, „ i 732

P

Pactolus And sailing on P in a boat, Pallid thunderstricken 3
Padded What, it's you The p man—that wear the stays— New Timon 8
Pagan See Half-pagan
Pagod Her P's hung with music of sweet bells : Timbuctoo 234
Pain so kin to earth Pleasaunce fathers p— Every day, etc. 15
How scorn and ruin, p and hate could flow : Pallid thunderstricken 10
Though night and p and ruin and death reign here. Love 4 dazzled to the heart with glorious p. There are three things 14

Paint And I p the beauteous face Germ of 'Maud' 2
Painted 'Gan rock and heave upon that p sea; Lover's Tale ii 199
Palace They seem'd high p's and proud, What time I wasted 5
Pale and the stars Were flooded over with clear glory and p. Timbuctoo 9
Before the awful Genius of the place Kneels the p Priestess in deep faith, „ 34
His eyes in eclipse, P cold his lips, Burial of Love 2
Most p and clear and lovely distances. The Mystic 35
With the blissful Lotos-eaters p We will abide in the golden vale Lotos-Eaters 25 Gray sand banks and p sunsets—dreary wind, Mablethorpe 7 her cheek was p, Oh! very fair and p: Lover's Tale i 724
Paleness very spirit of P made still paler 679
Paler very spirit of Paleness made still p „ 679
Pallid THE p thunderstricken sigh for gain, Pallid thunderstricken 1
Palm gardens frequent with the stately P, Timbuctoo 233
Palpitating And sound which struck the p sense, „ 119
Pang Already with the p's of a new birth Love 36
Papillote And shook a mane en p's. New Timon 12
Paradise And odours rapt from remote P? Timbuctoo 81
Parapet Over heaven's p's the angels lean. To a Lady Sleep. 10
Pardon Can p little would-be Popes New Timon 19
Parent crumbling from their p slope At slender interval, Timbuctoo 123
Parliament The Court, the Church, the P, the crowd. Sugg. by Reading 16
Part (s) P of a throne of fiery flame, Timbuctoo 181
And with the overdoing of her p Lover's Tale i 629
when hope died, p of her eloquence Died „ 751
Part (verb) whose rapid interval P's Afric from green Europe, Timbuctoo 3
Oh kiss me ere we p; Hero to Leander 7
Parted Then p Heavenward on the wing: Timbuctoo 251
P on either side her argent neck, Lover's Tale i 740 Pass Do p from gloom to glory, Timbuctoo 153 might thy rays p thro' to the other side, Love and Sorrow 14
We pri' thee p not on; (repeat) The lintwhite 31, 36
Let it p, the dreary brow, Germ of 'Maud' 22
Passed We p with tears of rapture. Lover's Tale i 409
Passeth he p by, And gulphs himself in sands, Timbuctoo 236
Passing P through thee the edicts of his fear Love 7
Which fill'd the Earth with p loveliness, Timbuctoo 79
OH, Beauty, p beauty! sweetest Sweet! Oh, Beauty 1 Past (adj.) The indecision of my present mind With its ▶ p clearness, Timbuctoo 140
Past (s) In eternity no future, In eternity no p. The 'How and the 'Why' 7
Pastured Though hourly p on the salient blood? Shall the hag 5
Path p was steep and loosely strewn with crags Lover's Tale i 376
Could he not walk what p's he chose, „ 692
Pathos With dandy p when you wrote, New Timon 10
Pathway Yet winds the p free to all:— What time I wasted 8
Pause (s) There is no rest, no calm, no p, οἱ 'ρέοντες 9
Pause (verb) did p To worship mine own image, Lover's Tale i 67
Paving winter p earth With sheeny white, Chorus 18
Peace unshaken p hath won thee: Though night 10
Peace-lovers we—sweet P we all desire— Britons, guard 13
Sneering bedridden in the down of P Sugg. by Reading 46 Peaceful Thy Memnon, when his p lips are kissed With earliest rays, A Fragment 22
Peace-lover P-l's we—sweet Peace we all desire— Britons, guard 13
P-l's we—but who can trust a liar?— „ 14
P-l's, haters Of shameless traitors, „ 15 Peak (See also Mountain-peak) Night hath climbed her p of highest noon, Though night 1
Pearl All night through archways of the bridgèd p „ 3
Pebbled Leap the little waterfalls That sing into the p pool. Rosalind 24 Peculiar In that blest ground but it was play'd about With its p glory. Timbuctoo 57
Peeped Sun p in from open field, Home they brought him 6
Pen you, dark Senate of the public p, Sugg. by Reading 19
People That wish to keep their p fools; Hands all Round 54
To raise the p and chastise the times Sugg. by Reading 5
Let both the p's say, God bless our Prince 12
Perfect The cruellest form of p scorn, Burial of Love 18
One mighty countenance of p calm, The Mystic 23
A p Idol, with profulgent brows A Fragment 3
When we two meet there's never p light. Me my own fate 14
Perilous And scorn of p seeming: Lover's Tale i 380

Perisheth When thy light p That from thee issueth, The lintwhite 13
Permeating I am the Spirit, The p life which courseth through Timbuctoo 220
Permit P not thou the tyrant powers Hands all Round 42
Pertness What unheroic p? what un-Christian spite! Sugg. by Reading 78
Petal Or as the dew-drops on the p hung, Lover's Tale i 558
Petty but overleap All the p shocks and fears Rosalind 13
Peur cavalier Sans p et sans reproche, The Grasshopper 19
Pew Stands in her p and hums her decent psalm Sugg. by Reading 63
Phantasy wherewith Her p informs them. Timbuctoo 40
Phantom 'Tis a p of the mind. Germ of 'Maud' 14
'Tis a p fair and good I can call it to my side, „ 15
Pharaoh The P's are no more: A Fragment 28
Pharisees Christ cried: Woe, woe, to P and Scribes! Sugg. by Reading 75
Philosophic And muse midway with p calm Timbuctoo 146
Phosphor Hesper hateth P, evening hateth morn. The Hesperides, Song iii 15
Piast O for those days of P, ere the Czar Blow ye the trumpet 5
Pierce shalt thou p the woven glooms of truth; Though night 11
Pierced p through and through with all Keen knowledges The Mystic 29
Piercing A maze of p, trackless, thrilling thoughts Timbuctoo 115
Pile chrystal p Of rampart upon rampart, „ 162
Piled P by the strong and sunborn Anakim A Fragment 20
Pillar p's high Long time eras'd from Earth: Timbuctoo 12
Pillar'd Stood out a p front of burnish'd gold „ 175
Pine And the dark p weeps, Lotos-Eaters 33
And close above us, sang the wind-tost p, Lover's Tale i 60
Pinewood all the white-stemmed p slept above— Check every outflash 13
Pipe See Organ-pipe
Pipeth The little bird p 'why! why!' The 'How' and the 'Why' 26
Pity rare p had stolen The living bloom Lover's Tale i 725
Place (See also Landing-place) Before the awful Genius of the p Timbuctoo 33
But the glory of the p Stood out „ 174
This is the p. Check every outflash 4 all the haunted p is dark and holy. „ 8
BUT she tarries in her p Germ of 'Maud' 1
Placid Thy p Sphinxes brooding o'er the Nile? A Fragment 14
Plain (See also Summerplain) With all her interchange of hill and p Lover's Tale i 694
Plaining Drooping and beaten with the p wind, „ 735
Plan Thin dilletanti deep in nature's p, Sugg. by Reading 80
Plane underneath a shadowy p In old Bayona, There are three things 10
Planet planet-girded Suns And moon-encircled p's, Timbuctoo 110
The murmurous p's' rolling choir, Chorus 24
As dwellers in lone p's look upon The mighty disk Love 20
Planet-girded p-g Suns And moon-encircled planets, Timbuctoo 109
Plant Hope is dried,—the life o' the p— Lover's Tale i 808
Planting P my feet against this mound of time „ 492 Play I p about his heart a thousand ways, Timbuctoo 205 you hearts are tennis balls To p with, Rosalind 33
Play'd it was p about With its peculiar glory. Timbuctoo 56
Playmate that thought Which was the p of my youth— Lover's Tale ii 72
Pleached P with her hair, in mail of argent light Pallid thunderstricken 12 the p ivy tress had wound Round my worn limbs, Lover's Tale i 637
Pleasant Some say this life is p, The 'How' and the 'Why' 3
Thy p wiles Forgotten, and thine innocent joy? Burial of Love 15
I have bathed thee with the p myrrh; Hero to Leander 19
The p stars have set! „ 39
Surely all p things had gone before, O sad No more! 7
The many p days, the moonlit nights, Lover's Tale i 54
'Tis a beautiful And p meditation, „ 240
Pleasaunce so kin to earth P fathers pain— Every day, etc. 15
Please But you, Sir, you are hard to p; New Timon 25
Pleased nor breathe What airs he p! Lover's Tale i 693
Pleasure We shall lose eternal p, The Hesperides, Song i 11
Plot Moving his crest to all sweet p's of flowers Could I outwear 7
Ploughed A GATE and a field half p, A gate and a field 1
Plunder'd His ruthless host is bought with p gold, Britons, guard 7
Plunge they p their doubts among old rags and bones. Sugg. by Reading 72
Plunged and following, p Into the dizzy chasm Lover's Tale i 369
Poerio From wronged P's noisome den, Hands all Round 15 Poet No Tithon thou as p's feign The Grasshopper 5 p at his will Lets the great world flit from him, D. of F. Women 9
All unawares, into the p's brain; Lover's Tale i 557
Poetic To have the deep p heart Is more than all p fame. New Timon 23
Point Distinct and vivid with sharp p's of light Timbuctoo 107
With p's of blastborne hail their heated eyne! Shall the hag 11

Poisèd (See also Self-poised) Though long ago listening the p lark, To a Lady Sleep. 8
Poles Arise, brave P, the boldest of the bold; Blow ye the trumpet 3
Polish rolled The growing murmurs of the P war! „ 8
Polish'd Flowing between the clear and p stems, Timbuctoo 51
Pomeranian on the Baltic shore Boleslas drove the P. Blow ye the trumpet 14
Pool waterfalls That sing into the pebbled p. Rosalind 24
Poor P soul! behold her: what decorous calm! Sugg. by Reading 61
Pope For the French the P may shrive 'em, (repeat) National Song 9, 27 pardon little would-be P's And Brummels, New Timon 19
The P has bless'd him; Britons, guard 3
Poplar Through yonder p alley Below, Check every outflash 4
Poppy So I wove Even the dull-blooded p, Lover's Tale i 342
Porch length of p and lake and boundless hall, Timbuctoo 180
Portal p's of pure silver walks the moon. Though night 4
Your p's statued with old kings and queens, Cambridge 2
Pour And the foam-white waters p; Lotos-Eaters 32
Pouring Waves on the shingle p, 1865-1866 11
Power I have fill'd thy lips with p. Timbuctoo 215 and apart In intellect and p and will, The Mystic 38
One of the shining wingèd p's, What time I wasted 2
Permit not thou the tyrant p's Hands all Round 42
What p is yours to blast a cause or bless! Sugg. by Reading 8
Lest you go wrong from p in excess. „ 10
I grant you one of the great P's on earth, „ 23
But knowing all your p to heat or cool, „ 31
Powerful All p in beauty as thou art. Love and Sorrow 12
Practise Now p, yeomen, Like those bowmen, Britons, guard 45
Praise You did mingle blame and p, To C. North 3
I could not forgive the p, „ 8
Prance The boy began to leap and p, Home they brought him 7
Prate You p of nature! you are he That spilt his life New Timon 39
Pray See Pri' thee
Pray'd He worked for both: he p for both: Lover's Tale i 223
I p aloud to God that he would hold „ 791
Preach words of little children p Against you,— Cambridge 12
O Grief and Shame if while I p of laws Sugg. by Reading 37
Preached Five and three (Let it not be p abroad) The Hesperides, Song i 16
Preamble nightingale, with long and low p, Check every outflash 9
Precious The p jewel of my honour'd life, Lover's Tale ii 78
Precursor more fleet and strong Than its p, Timbuctoo 128
Pregnant See Fountain pregnant
Prepare loud and long, the warning-note: P! Sugg. by Reading 90
Presence I have given thee To understand my p, Timbuctoo 214
The imperishable p's serene, The Mystic 13
p's Fourfacèd to four corners of the sky; „ 15
Present (adj.) The indecision of my p mind With its past clearness, Timbuctoo 139
Could I outwear my p state of woe Could I outwear 1
Present (s) In time there is no p, The 'How' and the 'Why' 5
Press p had ever been The public conscience Sugg. by Reading 2
O you, the P! what good from you might spring! „ 7
nor the P! and look you well to that— „ 17
Pressure lake From p of descendant crags, Timbuctoo 122
Prevail Should he land here, and for one hour p, Britons, guard 55
Pride (See also Summerpride) P came beneath and held a light. Love, Pride, etc. 6
P took Love's sweets, and by a spell „ 9
Memory tho' fed by P Did wax so thin on gall, „ 11 in the p of beauty issuing A sheeny snake, Could I outwear 5
Priest By lying p's the peasant's votes controlled. Britons, guard 8
Priestess Kneels the pale P in deep faith, Timbuctoo 34
Prime dewy p Of youth and buried time? Who can say 6
Prince God bless our P and Bride! God bless our Prince 1
Pri' thee We p t pass not, (repeat) The lintwhite 31, 36
Privacy But yours are not their homestead privacies. Sugg. by Reading 22 Privilege Take heed of your wide p's! „ 11
Proctor Your doctors and your p's and your deans Cambridge 5
Profess ye that did p to teach And have taught nothing „ 13
Profit What p's now to understand New Timon 33 what p's it To tell ye that her father died, Lover's Tale, i 290
Profulgent A perfect Idol, with p brows A Fragment 3
Progress if France be she Whom martial p only charms? Hands all Round 26
Promontory One cypress on an inland p. Me my own fate 8 voyaging beyond The hoary p of Solоē The Hesperides 3
Propagate Or p again her loathèd kind, Shall the hag 2
Proud They seem'd high palaces and p, What time I wasted 5
Prove P their falsehood and thy quarrel, The Grasshopper 9
Proved Now p counterfeit, was shaken out, Lover's Tale ii 80
Proverb till their love Shall ripen to a p „ i 803
Prowess infixed The limits of his p, Timbuctoo 12
Psalm Stands in her pew and hums her decent p Sugg. by Reading 63
Public The p conscience of our noble isle, „ 3
And you, dark Senate of the p pen, „ 19
Yours are the p acts of p men, „ 21
For better so you fight for p ends; „ 26
Pure P without heat, into a larger air Upburning, The Mystic 44
And portals of p silver walks the moon. Though night, etc. 4
And why was I to darken their p love, Lover's Tale i 765
Purest starr'd at slender intervals With blossom tufts of p white; „ 400
Purified Had p, and chastened, and made free. The Mystic 10
Purple Waiting to light him with his p skies, Love 34
Arching blue-glossèd necks beneath the p weather. Dualisms 13
Far sheening down the p seas to those A Fragment 4
Lest the redcombed dragon slumber Rolled together in p folds. The Hesperides, Song ii 10
Purplefringed P with even and dawn. „ iii 14
Purport Keeping unchanged The p of their coinage. Lover's Tale i 734
Push'd watcher's at heaven's gate, p them apart, „ 616
Pushing P the thick roots aside The Grasshopper 37
Put 'Then take it, love, and p it by; The Ringlet 11
'Then kiss it, love, and p it by: „ 23
'Come, kiss it, love, and p it by: „ 41
Ringlet, You p me much to shame, „ 48
Pyramids upsprung the dazzling Cones Of P, Timbuctoo 169
P Broad-based amid the fleeting sands, A Fragment 9

Q

Quaint And much I mus'd on legends q and old Timbuctoo 16
And all the q old scraps of ancient crones, Lover's Tale i 288
Quarrel Prove their falsehood and thy q, The Grasshopper 9 Queen Your portals statued with old kings and q's, Cambridge 2
'God save the Q' is here a truer cry. Britons, guard 26
You must not mix our Q with those Hands all Round 53
God save the Q! (repeat) God bless our Prince 3, 7, 10
God bless the Q. „ 14
Quench'd White as q ashes, cold as were the hopes Of my lorn love! Lover's Tale i 620
Quest my refluent health made tender q „ 742
Quick Severe and q to feel a civic sin, Sugg. by Reading 4
As even then the torrent of q thought Absorbed me Timbuctoo 141

R

Race Kingdoms lapse, and climates change, and r's die; The Hesperides, Song ii 4
She comprehends the r she rules. Hands all Round 56
Some vast Assyrian doom to burst upon our r. Sugg. by Reading 42
Rack'd She feels not how the social frame is r, „ 56
Radiance showering circular abyss Of r. Timbuctoo 174
Rag they plunge their doubts among old r's and bones. Sugg. by Reading 72
Rage We beat upon our aching hearts with r; Love 18
Rain (s) Hark how the wild r hisses, Hero to Leander 14 hath drawn the frozen r From my cold eyes Could I outwear 13 Dim shores, dense r's, and heavy clouded sea. Mablethorpe 8
the dew, the sun, the r, Under the growth of body Lover's Tale ii 73
Rain (verb) for fear the mind R thro' my sight, „ i 24
Rainy One r night, when every wind blew loud, „ 367
Raise To r the people and chastise the times Sugg. by Reading 5
Rais'd I r My voice and cried 'Wide Afric, Timbuctoo 57
With ministering hand he r me up; „ 188
I have r thee higher to the Spheres of Heaven, „ 216
I was r To be a mystery of loveliness „ 240
Rampart chrystal pile Of r upon r, dome on dome, „ 163 Ran That r bloombright into the Atlantic blue, The Hesperides 9 legend r that, long time since, One rainy night, Lover's Tale i 366 Range r of battlement On battlement, Timbuctoo 164
Rangèd Her obelisks of r Chrysolite, „ 235

Rapid whose r interval Parts Afric from green Europe, Timbuctoo 2
Involving and embracing each with each R as fire, „ 117
The r waste of roving sea, Chorus 2
Up and down a r river, Leap the little waterfalls Rosalind 22
Sheer thro' the black-wall'd cliff the r brook Lover's Tale i 371
Rapt And odours r from remote Paradise? Timbuctoo 81 hurried through The riv'n r brain: „ 121
Rapture Intense delight and r that I breathed, Lover's Tale i 381
We passed with tears of r. „ 409
Rare outspread With growth of shadowing leaf and clusters r, Timbuctoo 223
r pity had stolen The living bloom away, Lover's Tale i 725
Ravish'd and thou with r sense Listenest the lordly music flowing from Th' illimitable years. Timbuctoo 217
Raw To soothe a civic wound or keep it r, Sugg. by Reading 32
Ray might thy r's pass thro' to the other side, Love and Sorrow 14 peaceful lips are kissed With earliest r's, A Fragment 23 Reached he had well nigh r The last, The Mystic 42
Continuous till he r the other sea. The Hesperides 13
Reacheth R to every corner under Heaven, Timbuctoo 224
Read Ye could not r the marvel in his eye, The Mystic 4
Wherein to r, wherein to write. (repeat) O darling room 6, 18
I sorrow when I r the things you write, Sugg. by Reading 77
And my eyes r, they r aright, Lover's Tale i 602
Reap doth the fruit of her dishonour r. Tears of Heaven 5
Recall r's the dewy prime Of youth Who can say 6
Recent Had film'd the margents of the r wound. Lover's Tale i 764
Reckoning Jesuit laughs, and r on his chance, Britons, guard 32
Reclined How often, when a child I lay r, Mablethorpe 1
Red (adj.) And in r Autumn when the winds are wild With gambols, Timbuctoo 202
So I wove Even the dull-blooded poppy, 'whose r flower Hued with the scarlet of a fierce sunrise, Lover's Tale i 342 as tho' a r rose Should change into a white one suddenly. „ 726
Red (s) Ringlet, She blush'd a rosy r, The Ringlet 36
Redcombed Lest the r dragon slumber Rolled together in purple folds. The Hesperides, Song ii 9
Redolent Every flower and every fruit the r breath „ iv 1
Redundant Each sun which from the centre flings Grand music and r fire, Chorus 22
Reed crushing the thick fragrant r's he lies, Love 32
Referr'd by the busy mind r, compared, Lover's Tale i 384
Reflex waves, which bore The r of my City in their depths. Timbuctoo 239
One r from eternity on time, The Mystic 22 between The moon and the moon's r in the night; Shall the hag 13
Refluent After my r health made tender quest Lover's Tale i 742
Refuge men's hopes and fears take r in The fragrance Timbuctoo 226
Refused R to look his author in the face, Lover's Tale i 697 Regard comes the New: R him: New Timon 6
Region with which a r of white flame, The Mystic 43
Regulate wondrous laws which r The fierceness Timbuctoo 147 Reign R thou above the storms of sorrow Though night 9 night and pain and ruin and death r here. Love 4
Remaining and yet R from the body, The Mystic 37
Remember I well r, It was a glorious morning, Lover's Tale i 300
Remorseful and the heat Of the r soul alive within, „ 682
Remote And odours rapt from r Paradise? Timbuctoo 81
Rend roaring brine Will r thy golden tresses; Hero to Leander 24
Oh! r the veil in twain: Love 25
Render I must r up this glorious home Timbuctoo 243
Renewing I thus hope my lost delights r, Could I outwear 9
Renown'd Upon his r Eminence bore globes Of wheeling suns, Timbuctoo 171
Reproche cavalier Sans peur et sans r, The Grasshopper 19
Respectability The British Goddess, sleek R. Sugg. by Reading 54
Respectant One forward, one r, three but one; The Mystic 18
Rest (s) There is no r, no calm, no pause, ol 'péovres 9
Worth eternal want of r. The Hesperides, Song i 12
Mellowed in a land of r; „ iv 12
Rest (verb) where no gaze Might r, stood open, Timbuctoo 179
An artist, Sir, should r in art, New Timon 21
Off, and let him r. „ 44
Rested Wherein we r sleeping or awake, Lover's Tale i 227
Restless The starry glowing of his r eyes. Timbuctoo 89 the level calm Is ridg'd with r and increasing spheres „ 125
Resumeth In summer still a summer joy r. Me my own fate 4
Retir'd r At midnight, in the lone Acropolis. Timbuctoo 31 Return islanders of Ithaca, we will r no more. Lotos-Eaters 40 some you strike can scarce r the blow; Sugg. by Reading 27
Returnest Thou goest and r to His Lips Like lightning: Love 12
Revealèd And the ancient secret r. The Hesperides, Song iii 5
Revel In thine hour of love and r, The Grasshopper 35
Revenge Till Love have his full r. Burial of Love 30
Reverence Our ancient boast is this—we r law. Sugg. by Reading 34
Review You did late r my lays, To C. North 1
Rhene (Rhine) where the R Curves towards Mentz, O darling room 11
Rhine (See also Rhene) To take Sardinia, Belgium, or the R: Britons, guard 50
Rhodes In the midnoon the glory of old R, A Fragment 2 Rhyme The cause is nowhere found in r. Who can say 8 such a heat as lives in great creative r's. Sugg. by Reading 6
Those r's, 'The Lion and the Unicorn' Lover's Tale i 285
Ribbèd See Thick-ribbèd
Rich Wax-lighted chapels and r carved screens, Cambridge 4
Ridden See Soldier-ridden
Riddle Who will r me the how and the why? (repeat) The 'How' and the 'Why' 9, 20
Who will r me the how and the what? Who will r me the what and the why? „ 36
Ridge he stood beside me There on the r, Timbuctoo 66
On the r of the hill his banners rise; English War Song 25
Ridg'd r with restless and increasing spheres Timbuctoo 125
Rift horrid r's Sent up the moaning Lover's Tale i 612
Right Shout for God and our r! English War Song 50
In any town, to left or r, O darling room 14
Or loyally disloyal battled for our r's. Sugg. by Reading 36
Righteousness Clothe them with r, God bless our Prince 4
Ring The burning belts, the mighty r's, Chorus 23
In r's of gold yronne, The lintwhite 29 shot the sunset, In light r's round me; Lover's Tale i 438
Ringing There was a r in my ears, O sad No more! 5
It's always r in your ears, New Timon 31
Ringlet 'Your r's, your r's, The Ringlet 1
'My r, my r, That art so golden-gay, „ 13
O R, O R, I kiss'd you night and day, „ 25
And R, O R, You still are golden-gay, „ 27
But R, O R, You should be silver-gray: „ 29
O R, O R, She blush'd a rosy red, „ 35
When R, O R, She clipt you from her head, „ 37
And R, O R, She gave you me, „ 39
O R, O R, I count you much to blame, „ 45
For R, O R, You put me much to shame, „ 47
So R, O R, I doom you to the flame. „ 49 r's, Drooping and beaten with the plaining wind, Lover's Tale i 734
Ripen till their love Shall r to a proverb „ 803
Ripened Sunset r, above on the tree, The Hesperides, Song iv 21
Ripeneth redolent breath Of this warm seawind r, „ 2
Rise (s) alternate r Of interpenetrated arc, Timbuctoo 130
Rise (verb) On the ridge of the hill his banners r; English War Song 25
R, Britons, r, if manhood be not dead; Britons, guard 1
O r, our strong Atlantic sons, Hands all Round 49
Risen See New-risen
Rising In r and in falling with the tide, Lover's Tale i 62
Riven mountains r To shapes of wildest anarchy, Chorus 3 hurried through The r rapt brain: Timbuctoo 121
River Like a swol'n r's gushings in still night „ 193
See'st thou yon r, whose translucent wave, „ 229
Nor the r's flow, nor the sweet birds sing, Burial of Love 29 the blue-green r windeth slowly; Check every outflash 5
Up and down a rapid r, Rosalind 22
Roam they r together Under a summervault Dualisms 17
And no more r, On the loud hoar foam, Lotos-Eaters 18
Roar And the loud sea r's below. Hero to Leander 15 storms of sorrow and ruth That r beneath; Though night 10
But let thy broadsides r with ours. Hands all Round 44
Roaring And winds were r and blowing; 1865-1866 3
Old Year r and blowing And New Year blowing and r. „ 12
To-night the r brine Will rend thy golden tresses; Hero to Leander 23
Robe glistering sands that r The understream. Pallid thunderstricken 5
Robèd See White-robèd

Rock Why the r's stand still, The 'How' and the 'Why' 14
'Gan r and heave upon that painted sea; Lover's Tale ii 199
Rockèd Two bees within a chrystal flowerbell r Dualisms 1
Rock-hewn grots R-h and sealed for ever. A Fragment 31
Rod The Russian whips and Austrian r's— Hands all Round 18
Rode R upon his father's lance, Home they brought him 8
Roll nor with the thoughts that r, Cambridge 11 Rolled (See also Down-roll'd) R together in purple folds. The Hesperides, Song ii 10 r The growing murmurs of the Polish war! Blow ye the trumpet 7
Rolling The murmurous planets' r choir, Chorus 24
As round the r earth night follows day: Me my own fate 10
Rome R's dearest daughter now is captive France, Britons, guard 31
Roof (s) the r and crown Of all I hoped and fear'd? Lover's Tale ii 27
Roof (verb) Winter r's The headland with inviolate Timbuctoo 203
Roof'd Imperial Eldorado r with gold: „ 24
Room O DARLING r, my heart's delight, Dear r, the apple of my sight, O darling room 1
There is no r so exquisite, No little r so warm and bright „ 4
A little r so exquisite, „ 15
Not any r so warm and bright, „ 17
Root Pushing the thick r's aside The Grasshopper 37
Standing about the charméd r. The Hesperides, Song i 4
From the r Drawn in the dark, „ 20
Standing about the charmèd r. „ iv 34 by our ears, the huge r's strain and creak), Lover's Tale i 63 Rooted See Deep-rooted
Rosalind MY R, my R, Bold, subtle, careless R, Rosalind 1
My falconhearted R Fullsailed „ 9
My happy falcon, R, „ 25
My R, my R, Because no shadow on you falls, „ 30 hearts are tennis balls To play with, wanton R? „ 33
Rose (s) WITH r's musky breathed, Anacreontics 1
Farewell, fair r of May! God bless our Prince 11 each r Doth faint upon the bosom of the other, Lover's Tale i 563 a red r Should change into a white one „ 726
Rose (verb) A tutelary angel as she r, „ 388
Roselip Dimples, r's, and eyes of any hue. There are three things 4
Rosy Thy heart beats through thy r limbs Hero to Leander 16
In the hollow r vale to tarry, Lotos-Eaters 12
O Ringlet, O Ringlet, She blush'd a r red, The Ringlet 36
Rouge old mark of r upon your cheeks. New Timon 38
Round Nor the r sun that shineth to all; Burial of Love 26
Yet hands all r Hands all Round 21
And the great name of England r and r (repeat) „ 24, 48, 60
Why r is not square? The 'How' and the 'Why' 13
R about all is mute, The Hesperides, Song i 5
Holy and bright, r and full, bright and blest, „ iv 11
Roving The rapid waste of r sea, Chorus 2
Rowing Than labour in the ocean, and r with the oar, Lotos-Eaters 39
Royal Fair year, with brows of r love Thou comest, The linnwhite 19
Rubylike Glows r the far-up crimson globe, D. of F. Women 7
Rude From which may r Death never startle them, Lover's Tale i 796
Ruder every r sally Of thought and speech; Check every outflash 1
Ruin How scorn and r, pain and hate could flow: Pallid thunderstricken 10
So gazed I on the r's of that thought Lover's Tale ii 71 night and pain and r and death reign here. Love 4 Ruin'd The wreck of r life and shatter'd thought, Lover's Tale ii 62
Rule (s) Be loyal, if you wish for wholesome r: Sugg. by Reading 33 yet the 'not too much' is all the r she knows. „ 60
Rule (verb) She comprehends the race she r's. Hands all Round 56
Rumour Or is the r of thy Timbuctoo Timbuctoo 61
Rusheth Anon he r forth with merry din, Love 41
Russian The R whips and Austrian rods— Hands all Round 18
Rustling A r of white wings! Timbuctoo 64
Rusty You did mingle blame and praise, R Christopher. To C. North 4
Ruth storms of sorrow and r That roar beneath; Though night 9
Ruthless His r host is bought with plunder'd gold, Britons, guard 7

S

Sable To wander down his s sheeny sides, Love 39
Sacrifice Folding the slaughter of the s To —— 6
Sad O s No more! O sweet No more! O sad No more! 1
Sadness Grief and s steal Symbols of each other; Every day, etc. 25
Said s to thee That thou hast half my heart, Love and Sorrow 3
As I s, with these She crown'd her forehead. Lover's Tale i 348
Sail (s) No more unfurl the straining s; Lotos-Eaters 24 Sail (verb) As when a man, that s's in a balloon, D. of F. Women 1
Sailed (See also Fullsailed) to those Who s from Mizraim A Fragment 5
Sailing And s on Pactolus in a boat, Pallid thunderstricken 3
Saint unfading foreheads of the S's in Heaven? Timbuctoo 54
Sainted S Juliet! dearest name! To —— 1
Salient Though hourly pastured on the s blood? Shall the hag 5
Sallow And in the glow of s Summertide, Timbuctoo 201
The troublous autumn's s gloom, Chorus 17
Sally every ruder s Of thought and speech; Check every outflash 1
Salt The deep s wave breaks in above Those marble steps below. Hero to Leander 34
It shall be steeped in the s, s tear, Shall be steeped in his own s tear: English War Song 14
Same See Self-same
Sand (adj.) Gray s banks and pale sunsets—dreary wind, Mablethorpe 7
Sand (s) he passeth by, And gulphs himself in s's, Timbuctoo 237 Black specks amid a waste of dreary s, „ 247
glistering s's that robe The understream. Pallid thunderstricken 5 Pyramids Broad-based amid the fleeting s's, A Fragment 10 lake, that, flooding, makes Cushions of yellow s; Lover's Tale i 537
Sanded See Gold-sanded
Sandfield As the s at the mountain-foot. The Hesperides, Song i 7
Sang close above us, s the wind-tost pine, Lover's Tale i 60
Sap And the s to three-fold music floweth, The Hesperides, Song i 19
Huge splinters, which the s of earliest showers, Lover's Tale ii 45
Sapphire wheel in wheel, Arch'd the wan S. Timbuctoo 111
And thunder thro' the s deeps In wayward strength, Chorus 28
Sardinia To take S, Belgium, or the Rhine: Britons, guard 50
Save 'God s the Queen' is here a truer cry. „ 26
God s the Nation, The toleration, „ 27
God s the Queen! (repeat) God bless our Prince 3, 7, 10
Saw s before me Such colour'd spots Timbuctoo 69
I s The smallest grain that dappled the dark Earth, „ 98 within the South methought I s A wilderness of spires, „ 161
if I s These things distinctly, „ 184
S far on each side through the grated gates The Mystic 34
I s no more only those eyes— There are three things 13
S round her feet the country far away, Lover's Tale i 390 eyes, I s, were full of tears in the morn, „ 728
Say (s) And a fool may say his s; The Ringlet 18
Say (verb) nothing visible, they s, had birth Timbuctoo 55
Some s this life is pleasant, The 'How' and the 'Why' 3
What is it they s? What do they there? „ 12
WHO can s Why To-day To-morrow will be yesterday? Who can say 1
I honour much, I s, this man's appeal. Sugg. by Reading 49
Let both the peoples s, God bless our Prince 12
And a fool may s his say; The Ringlet 18
Let them so love that men and boys may s, Lover's Tale i 801
Scale step by step to s that mighty stair Timbuctoo 198
Scalèd Lest his s eyelid drop, The Hesperides, Song ii 15
Scan would s Definite round. Timbuctoo 131 eye could s Through length of porch and lake „ 179
Scandal She loves a little s which excites; Sugg. by Reading 57
Scatter feeds it from behind, And s's it before, Lover's Tale ii 48
Scene Rhene Curves towards Mentz, a woody s. O darling room 12
Science 'S enough and exploring 1865-1866 6
Scorn The cruellest form of perfect s, Burial of Love 18
Ye scorned him with an undiscerning s: The Mystic 3
How s and ruin, pain and hate could flow: Pallid thunderstricken 10 withering s of the many shall cleave English War Song 5
He shall eat the bread of common s; „ 13
With a flash of frolic s And keen delight, Rosalind 15
By the thing I hold in s, Germ of 'Maud' 6
And s of perilous seeming: Lover's Tale i 380
Scorned Ye s him with an undiscerning s: The Mystic 3
Scrap all the quaint old s's of ancient crones, Lover's Tale i 288
Screaming s, from me flung The empty phantom: „ ii 212
And bitter blasts the s autumn whirl, Though night, etc. 2
Screen Wax-lighted chapels and rich carved s's, Cambridge 4
Scribe Christ cried: Woe, woe, to Pharisees and S's! Sugg. by Reading 75
Scrip Over their s's and shares, their meats and wine, „ 47
Scroll Lay like an open s before my view, Lover's Tale i 601

Scud black owl s's down the mellow twilight, The 'How' and the 'Why' 30 Sea Mountain which o'erlooks The narrow s's, Timbuctoo 2 even as the s When weary of wild inroad „ 13
And the loud s roars below. Hero to Leander 15 odours wander On the black and moaning s, „ 29 turretstairs are wet That lead into the s. „ 37
The rapid waste of roving s, Chorus 2 loud winds, though they uprend the s, Love 9
In music and in light o'er land and s. „ 28
We lord it o'er the s; (repeat) National Song 16, 34
Far sheening down the purple s's to those A Fragment 4
In old Bayona, nigh the Southern S— There are three things 11
Continuous till he reached the other s. The Hesperides 13
But the apple of gold hangs over the s, The Hesperides, Song iv 23 narwhale swalloweth His foamfountains in the s. Lotos-Eaters 8
Dim shores, dense rains, and heavy clouded s. Mablethorpe 8
S's at my feet were flowing Waves 1865-1866 10 dreadful murmur indistinct Of the confused s's, Lover's Tale i 657
'Gan rock and heave upon that painted s; „ ii 199
Seahorse Where the tusked s walloweth Lotos-Eaters 4
Sealed grots Rock-hewn and s for ever. A Fragment 31
Seaman Seamen, guard your own. Britons, Guard 42 or how we found The drowned s on the shore? Lover's Tale i 293
Seam'd brain, Now s and chink'd with years— „ 131
Seasmell Fresh as the early s blown Rosalind 28 Season S's flower and fade; Every day, etc. 6 morning, such a one As dawns but once a s. Lover's Tale i 302 Seaward Blown s from the shore; The Hesperides 8
Seawind redolent breath Of this warm s ripeneth, The Hesperides, Song iv 2
Secret (adj.) Albeit, his spirit and his s heart The Mystic 7
By s fire and midnight storms Chorus 5
Comes the bliss of s smiles, The Hesperides, Song iii 11
Higher thro' s splendours mounting still, D. of F. Women 11 Secret (s) And the ancient s revealed. The Hesperides, Song iii 5 written s's of her inmost soul Lay like an open scroll Lover's Tale i 600 See Open thine eye and s.' Timbuctoo 84 who have not felt and known A higher than they s: „ 212
Armed cap-a-pie, Full fair to s; The Grasshopper 15 Downlooking s's the solid shining ground D. of F. Women 2 we s The old mark of rouge upon your cheeks. New Timon 37 here shall s The British Goddess, Sugg. by Reading 53
When I did s her weep so ruefully; Lover's Tale i 816
Seeded Bowing the s summerflowers. The Grasshopper 8
Seedsman While I spoke thus, the s, Memory, D. of F. Women 14
Seeing Lets the great world flit from him, s all, „ 10
Seek Nor s to bridle His vile aggressions, Britons, guard 52
Seem s's to me As even then the torrent Timbuctoo 140
For all things are as they s to all, (repeat) ol 'péovres 7, 15
And nothing s's to me so wild and bold, Oh, Beauty 7
And here the Grecian ships did s to be. Mablethorpe 4
Seem'd I s to stand Upon the outward verge Timbuctoo 94 only s One shadow in the midst of a great light, The Mystic 20
They s high palaces and proud, What time I wasted 5 from beneath S with a cobweb firmament Lover's Tale i 407 Seeming And scorn of perilous s: „ 380
Which, lapt in s dissolution, „ 507
Seen S by the high-necked camel on the verge A Fragment 18
For I the Nonnenwerth have s, O darling room 7
See'st S thou yon river, whose translucent wave, Timbuctoo 229
Self-impelling with a fearful s-i joy Lover's Tale i 389
Self-poised S-p, nor fears to fall. D. of F. Women 12
Self-same And mine wove chaplets of the s-s flower, Lover's Tale i 333
Self-upborne s-u With such gladness, as, Rosalind 17
Selfwrought With s evils of unnumbered years, Tears of Heaven 4
Sell needs must s the burthen of their wills Sugg. by Reading 69
Semblance suns, or stars, or s's Of either, Timbuctoo 172
Senate you, dark S of the public pen, Sugg. by Reading 19
Sense Thy s is clogg'd with dull mortality, Timbuctoo 82
Each failing s As with a momentary flash „ 96
And sound which struck the palpitating s, „ 119 with ravish'd s Listenest the lordly music „ 217 Colossal, without form, or s, or sound, The Mystic 14 sailing on Pactolus in a boat, Drown soul and s, Pallid thunderstricken 4 Sense (continued) As with a s of nigher Deity, Lover's Tale i 382
Glory in glory, without s of change. „ 516
So lethargised discernment in the s, „ 663
Sensible drove them onward—made them s; „ ii 77
Sent horrid rifts S up the moaning of unhappy spirits „ i 613
Separate each th' effect Of s impulse, Timbuctoo 127
Sepulchre new-hewn s, Where man had never lain. Lover's Tale i 713 Seraph (adj.) Even that this name to which her s lips „ 451
Seraph (s) The bright descent Of a young S! Timbuctoo 65
Seraphtrod S, Wound thro' your great Elysian solitudes, „ 47
Serene The still s abstraction; The Mystic 5
The imperishable presences s, „ 13 eyes dropt downward through the blue s, To a Lady Sleep. 9 Serpent As on a s in his agonies Awestricken Indians; Love 30
Set The pleasant stars have s! Hero to Leander 39
Settlement Low-built, mud-walled, Barbarian s, Timbuctoo 248 Severe S and quick to feel a civic sin, Sugg. by Reading 4 beneath S and youthful brows, with shining eyes The Mystic 27
Shackle Break through your iron s's—fling them far. Blow ye the trumpet 4
Shade Amid the wild unrest of swimming s Timbuctoo 129
There is no bright form Doth not cast a s— Every day, etc. 10
Nor blot with floating s's the solar light. Shall the hag 14
Nor good nor ill, nor light nor s, ol péovres 10
Shadow (s) (See also Half-shadow) S's to which, despite all shocks of Change, Timbuctoo 25
Dim s's but unwaning presences The Mystic 15
And yet again, three s's, fronting one, „ 17
One s in the midst of a great light, „ 21
In sunlight and in s, The Grasshopper 20
My heart's day, but the s of my heart, Love and Sorrow 9
Because no s on you falls, Rosalind 31
Shadow (verb) I can s forth my bride Germ of 'Maud' 9
Shadow'd S and crimson'd with the drifting dust, Lover's Tale i 139
Shadowing By s forth the Unattainable; Timbuctoo 197 outspread With growth of s leaf and clusters rare, „ 223 they were the types and s's Of hers— Lover's Tale i 386
Shadowy Thy s Idols in the solitudes, A Fragment 15
At sunset, underneath a s plane In old Bayona, There are three things 10 Shaft Till your balls fly as their true s's have flown. Britons, guard 47
Shake some great City where the walls S, Timbuctoo 29
Shaken Now proved counterfeit, was s out, Lover's Tale ii 80
Shakespeare We know him, out of S's art, New Timon 1
Shallop Could link his s to the fleeting edge, Timbuctoo 145
Shame (S fall 'em they are deaf and blind) The Grasshopper 6
A Timon you! Nay, nay, for s: New Timon 41
O Grief and S if while I preach of laws Sugg. by Reading 37
Ringlet, You put me much to s, The Ringlet 48
Than to s merry England here. English War Song 17
Shameless Peace-lovers, haters Of s traitors, Britons, guard 16
Shape Solemn but splendid, full of s's and sounds, Lover's Tale i 799
I know not if I s These things with accurate similitude Timbuctoo 133
Share Over their scrips and s's, their meats and wine, Sugg. by Reading 47
Sharp Distinct and vivid with s points of light Timbuctoo 107
Sharper lest we learn A s lesson than we ever knew. Sugg. by Reading 88
Shatter Would s and o'erbear the brazen beat Shall the hag 7 Shattered (See also Earthquake-shattered) beneath the day's decline, We'll lift no more the s oar, Lotos-Eaters 23 had s from The mountain, till they fell, Lover's Tale ii 48
The wreck of ruin'd life and s thought, „ 62
Shed With the tears he hath s, Burial of Love 6
Sheen Thy locks are full of sunny s The lintwhite 28
Sheening Far s down the purple seas to those A Fragment 4
Sheeny I gaz'd upon the s coast beyond, Timbuctoo 10
The hoarhead winter paving earth With s white, Chorus 19
Forth in the pride of beauty issuing A s snake, Could I outwear 6
And in his writhings awful hues begin To wander down his sable s sides, Love 39
Shield Beat upon his father's s— Home they brought him 9
Shielded Clap thy s sides and carol, The Grasshopper 11 Shine Yet on both sides at once thou canst not s: Love and Sorrow 7 thy lights on my horizon s Into my night Me my own fate 11
Shineth Nor the round sun that s to all; Burial of Love 26
Shingle Waves on the s pouring, 1865-1866 11
Shining and look'd into my face With his unutterable, s orbs, Timbuctoo 67

Shining (continued) with s eyes Smiling a godlike smile The Mystic 27
Downlooking sees the solid s ground D. of F. Women 2
One of the s wingèd powers, What time I wasted 2
'built above With matted bramble and the s gloss Of ivy-leaves, Lover's Tale i 373
Ship And here the Grecian s's did seem to be. Mablethorpe 4
Call home your s's across Biscayan tides, Britons, guard 37
Shirt The merits of a spotless s— New Timon 34
Shiver Darken, and shrink and s into huts, Timbuctoo 246 Shock Shadows to which, despite all s's of Change, „ 25 s's and fears That trouble life in early years, Rosalind 13 fell, and with the s Half dug their own graves), Lover's Tale ii 49 Shook winds from heaven s the acorn out, Lost Hope 7
And s a mane en papillotes. New Timon 12
And s its earthly socket, for we heard, Lover's Tale i 61
In eager haste I s him by the hand; „ 788
Shoot That s across the soul in prayer, „ 355
Shooting S, singing, ever springing The Grasshopper 41 Shore Blown seaward from the s; The Hesperides 8 on the Baltic s Boleslas drove the Pomeranian. Blow ye the trumpet 13 heavy melon sleeps On the level of the s: Lotos-Eaters 36 the s Than labour in the ocean, „ 38
Dim s's, dense rains, and heavy clouded sea. Mablethorpe 8
Shorn clear Galaxy S of its hoary lustre, Timbuctoo 106
Short But a s youth sunny and free. The Grasshopper 29
Shot in mail of argent light S into gold, Pallid thunderstricken 13 rapid brook S down his inner thunders, Lover's Tale i 372 Shoulder Her s's are bare; I' the glooming light 10
Shout (s) With s's from off the bridge, Lover's Tale i 369
Shout (verb) And stares in his face and s's 'how? how?' The 'How' and the 'Why' 29
S for England! (repeat) English War Song 7, 18, 29, 40, 51
S for God and our right! „ 50 and waves them to the mob That s below, D. of F. Women 6
Shouteth Hark! he s—the ancient enemy! English War Song 24
Show in the dark of mine S traced with flame. Lover's Tale i 296
Showed Angels have talked with him, and s him thrones: The Mystic 1
S me vast cliffs with crown of towers, What time I wasted 3
Shower For her the s's shall not fall, Burial of Love 25
(Huge splinters, which the sap of earliest s's, Lover's Tale ii 45 Showering s circular abyss Of radiance. Timbuctoo 173
s down the glory of lightsome day, Tears of Heaven 8
Shrill But s you, loud and long, Sugg. by Reading 90
When the s storm-blast feeds it from behind, Lover's Tale ii 47
Shrine Embalming with sweet tears the vacant s, Lost Hope 3 Unroof the s's of clearest vision, To a Lady Sleep. 3 all unworthy Of such a s— Lover's Tale i 70
Shrink Darken, and s and shiver into huts, Timbuctoo 246
Shrive For the French the Pope may s 'em, (repeat) National Song 9, 27
Shroud Till the end of fears Cometh in the s, Every day, etc. 21 ghastful brow, Half-bursten from the s, Lover's Tale i 677
Shrub earthquake-shattered chasm, hung with s's, „ 408
Shuddering The very spirit of Paleness made still paler By the s moonlight, „ 680
Shut light Is s out by the round of the tall hillbrow; The Hesperides, Song iv 16
Side Saw far on each s through the grated gates The Mystic 34
Clap thy shielded s's and carol, The Grasshopper 11
Yet on both s's at once thou canst not shine: Love and Sorrow 7 Thine is the bright s of my heart, „ 8 might thy rays pass thro' to the other s, „ 14
To wander down his sable sheeny s's, Love 39
Both alike, they glide together S by s; Dualisms 11
Like, unlike, they sing together S by s; „ 20
She is lovely by my s Germ of 'Maud' 12
I can call it to my s, „ 16
To blow the battle from their oaken s's. Britons, guard 38
Parted on either s her argent neck, Lover's Tale i 740
Sigh (s) Changed into fire, and blown about with s's. To —— 9
There are three things that fill my heart with s's There are three things 1
How canst thou let me waste my youth in s's; Oh, Beauty 2
I hate that silly s. Skipping-rope 8
When summer winds break their soft sleep with s's, Lover's Tale i 559 who drew the happy atmosphere Of my unhappy s's, „ 674
Sigh (verb) and the white willows s? The 'How' and the 'Why' 15
The pallid thunderstricken s for gain, Pallid thunderstricken 1
Sight with every s And sound which struck Timbuctoo 118
Would marvel from so beautiful a s Pallid thunderstricken 9
Father, twinkle not thy stedfast s; The Hesperides, Song ii 3
Dear room, the apple of my s, O darling room 2
Yet never did there meet my s, „ 13 for fear the mind Rain thro' my s, Lover's Tale i 24
Being wafted on the wind, drove in my s, „ 730
Sign earth beneath me yawning given S of convulsion; „ 612 Silence brood above The s of all hearts, Love 14
note Hath melted in the s that it broke. Oh, Beauty 14
In the s of my life— Germ of 'Maud' 13
Silent and above The s Heavens were blench'd with faery light, Timbuctoo 5
For him the s congregated hours, The Mystic 25
Silk Both in blosmwhite s are frockèd: Dualisms 16
Silken That brush thee with their s tresses? The Grasshopper 39
With a s cord I bound it. Anacreontics 8
Silly I hate that s sigh. Skipping-rope 8
Silver (adj.) her s heights Unvisited with dew of vagrant cloud, Timbuctoo 102
Looking under s hair with a s eye. The Hesperides, Song ii 2
Silver (s) portals of pure s walks the moon. Though night 4
And branching s's of the central globe, Pallid thunderstricken 8
Silverflecked In honour of the s morn: To a Lady Sleep. 4 Silver-gray touch of Time Will turn it s-g; The Ringlet 6 chilling touch of Time Can turn thee s-g; „ 16
O Ringlet, You should be s-g: „ 30
Silverleaved And s lily, And ivy darkly-wreathed, Anacreontics 3
Similitude shape These things with accurate s Timbuctoo 134
Sin Severe and quick to feel a civic s, Sugg. by Reading 4
Sing Nor the rivers flow, nor the sweet birds s, Burial of Love 29
Larks in heaven's cope S: Every day, etc. 29 watered vallies where the young birds s; Could I outwear 8
Both alike, they s together, Dualisms 12
Like, unlike, they s together Side by side; „ 19
And longer hear us s; The lintwhite 23
If ye s not, if ye make false measure, The Hesperides, Song i 10
S away, s aloud and evermore in the wind, ii 14 waterfalls That s into the pebbled pool. Rosalind 24
Singing Pushing the thick roots aside Of the s flowerèd grasses, The Grasshopper 38
Shooting, s, ever springing In and out the emerald glooms, Ever leaping, ever s, „ 41
Two children lovelier than love, adown the lea are s, Dualisms 14
S airily, Standing about the charmèd root. The Hesperides, Song i 3
Keen-eyed Sisters, s airily, „ 25
S airily, Standing about the charmèd root. „ iv 33
Single The s voice may speak his mind aloud; Sugg. by Reading 14
Sink vessel and your Church may s in storms. „ 74
Sister Keen-eyed S's, singing airily, The Hesperides, Song i 25
Hesper, the dragon, and s's three, „ ii 24
Hesper, the dragon, and s's three, „ iv 25
Tho' its ghastly s glide And be moved Germ of 'Maud' 18
Sit great bird s's on the opposite bough, The 'How' and the 'Why' 28
Worn Sorrow s's by the moaning wave; I' the glooming light 4
But Hatred in a gold cave s's below, Pallid thunderstricken 11
I only ask to s beside thy feet. Oh, Beauty 3
All alone she s's and hears Echoes Home they brought him 3
Skin (s) dead s withering on the fretted bone, Lover's Tale i 678
Skin (verb) s's the colour from her trembling lips. Pallid thunderstricken 14
Skip Could s so lightly by. Skipping-rope 2
Skipping-rope my s-r Will hit you in the eye. „ 3
How lightly whirls the s-r! „ 5 take it, take my s-r And hang yourself „ 11
Skirting snowy s of a garment hung, Timbuctoo 182
Sky presences Fourfaced to four corners of the s; The Mystic 16
Waiting to light him with his purple skies, Love 34
They stream like fire in the skies; English War Song 26 three things beneath the blessed skies For which I live— There are three things 5 Spirit waits To embrace me in the s. Germ of 'Maud' 34
I hear a thunder though the skies are fair, Sugg. by Reading 89
Slain Home they brought him s with spears. Home they brought him 1
Slake and s With points of blastborne hail Shall the hag 10
Slate A child with a broken s, A gate and a field 3
Slaughter Folding the s of the sacrifice To —— 6

Slave For where is the heart and strength of s's?
Oh! where is the strength of s's? English War Song 36
He is weak! we are strong; he a s, we are free; „ 38
Sleek shall see The British Goddess, s Respectability. Sugg. by Reading 54
Sleep (s) All men do walk in s, oi 'péovres 5
Arching the billow in his s; The Hesperides, Song iv 3 summer winds break their soft s with sighs, Lover's Tale i 559
Sleep (verb) Whether we wake or whether we s?
Whether we s or whether we die? The 'How' and the 'Why' 17
she cannot s; I' the glooming light 15
cleaving air, Lost in its effulgence s's, Chorus 26
Half-light, half-shadow, let my spirit s Love and Sorrow 17
They s with staring eyes and gilded lips, A Fragment 29
Crocodiles in briny creeks S and stir not: The Hesperides, Song i 9
If he s, we s, „ ii 19 heavy melon s's On the level of the shore: Lotos-Eaters 35
Slender crumbling from their parent slope At s interval, Timbuctoo 124 starr'd at s intervals With blossom tufts of purest white; Lover's Tale i 399
Slept all the white-stemmed pinewood s above— Check every outflash 13
Sliding Hid now and then with s cloud. What time I wasted 6
Slime grovell'd in the s Of this dull world, Timbuctoo 149
Slope crumbling from their parent s At slender interval, „ 123
The dull wave mourns down the s, I' the glooming light 21 but from a s That ran bloombright The Hesperides 8
To whom the s and stream of life, Rosalind 5
The s into the current of my years, Lover's Tale ii 76
Sloped and s Into the slumberous summer noon; A Fragment 10
Sloping borne Adown the s of an arrowy stream, Timbuctoo 144
Slumber (s) s is more sweet than toil, Lotos-Eaters 38
Slumber (verb) And s's in the clover, The Grasshopper 33 redcombed dragon s Rolled together in purple folds. The Hesperides, Song ii 9
Slumber'd chasms of deep, deep blue S unfathomable, Timbuctoo 8
Slumberous and sloped Into the s summer noon; A Fragment 11
Small and the opal width Of her s glowing lakes, Timbuctoo 102
He said, 'The labour is not s; What time I wasted 7
Alas for her and all her s delights! Sugg. by Reading 55
Alas, our youth, so clever yet so s, „ 79
Smallest I saw The s grain that dappled the dark Earth, Timbuctoo 99
Smell (See also Seasmell) Who can tell Why to s The violet, Who can say 5
Smelt I s a wildweed flower alone; O sad No more! 4
Smile (s) Then with a mournful and ineffable s, Timbuctoo 189
With languor of most hateful s's, Burial of Love 19 with shining eyes Smiling a godlike s The Mystic 28
Comes the bliss of secret s's, The Hesperides, Song iii 11
Smile (verb) S's on the earth's worn brow to win her if she may. Tears of Heaven 9
Smiling with shining eyes S a godlike smile The Mystic 28 from his spring Moved s toward his summer. Lover's Tale i 307
Smirk stony s's at all things human and divine! Sugg. by Reading 48
Smooth And she has mov'd in that s way so long, „ 65
Smote Than when Zamoysky s the Tartar Khan, Blow ye the trumpet 12 Snake in the pride of beauty issuing A sheeny s, Could I outwear 6 a s her forehead clips And skins the colour Pallid thunderstricken 13 blood Of hateful herbs a subtle-fanged s. Lover's Tale i 821
Sneering S bedridden in the down of Peace Sugg. by Reading 46
Snow Winter roofs The headland with inviolate white s, Timbuctoo 204 thick s falls on her flake by flake, I' the glooming light 20
Snowfield As the s on the mountain-peaks, The Hesperides, Song i 6
Snowy wherefrom The s skirting of a garment hung, Timbuctoo 182
Sobieski (John III., King of Poland) Than when from S, clan by clan, Blow ye the trumpet 10
Social She feels not how the s frame is rack'd. Sugg. by Reading 56
Socket And shook its earthly s, for we heard, Lover's Tale i 61
Soft imaging The s inversion of her tremulous Domes; Timbuctoo 232
And the billow will embrace thee with a kiss as s as mine. Hero to Leander 27
With thy two couches s and white, O darling room 3
With two such couches s and white; „ 16
When summer winds break their s sleep with sighs, Lover's Tale i 559
Soil Deep-rooted in the living s of truth: Timbuctoo 225
Solar Nor blot with floating shades the s light. Shall the hag 14
Sold be not bought and s. Blow ye the trumpet 2
She that gave you 's bought and s, S, s. The Ringlet 33
Soldier-ridden His s-r Highness might incline Britons, guard 49
Solemn Warbled from yonder knoll of s larches, Check every outflash 10
Nor yet your s organ-pipes that blow Cambridge 8
First drink a health, this s night, Hands all Round 1
S but splendid, full of shapes and sounds, Lover's Tale i 799 Solid Downlooking sees the s shining ground D. of F. Women 2
Solitary Hark! how sweet the horned ewes bleat On the s steeps, Lotos-Eaters 30
A gate and a field half ploughed, A s cow, A gate and a field 2 Solitude Seraphtrod, Wound thro' your great Elysian s's, Timbuctoo 48 and in the s Of middle space confound them, Shall the hag 8
Thy shadowy Idols in the s's, A Fragment 15
Soloë voyaging beyond The hoary promontory of S The Hesperides 3
Sombre But in the middle of the s valley Check every outflash 6
Some and swum with balanced wings To s tall mountain. Lover's Tale i 305
Oh! rather had s loathly ghastful brow, „ 676
Somehow The world is somewhat? it goes on s; The 'How' and the 'Why' 21
Something I feel there is s; but how and what? „ 23
Somewhat The world is s; it goes on somehow; „ 21
I know there is s; but what and why! I cannot tell if that s be I. „ 24
Son We are the s's of freedom, We are free. (repeat) National Song 17, 35
O rise, our strong Atlantic s's, Hands all Round 49
Song A summer of loud s, The Grasshopper 32
Soothe To s a civic wound or keep it raw, Sugg. by Reading 32
Sorrow (s) Worn S sits by the moaning wave; I' the glooming light 4
Joy is s's brother; Every day, etc. 24
Thou hast no s or tears, The Grasshopper 26 storms of s and ruth That roar beneath; Though night 9
Me my own fate to lasting s doometh: Me my own fate 1
'Oh hush, my joy, my s.' Home they brought him 10 strangling s weigh Mine utterance with lameness. Lover's Tale i 24
Sorrow (verb) I s when I read the things you write, Sugg. by Reading 77
Sort for your manner s's Not with this age, Cambridge 10
Soul I felt my s grow mighty, Timbuctoo 90
What the life is? where the s may lie? The 'How' and the 'Why' 33
My s shall follow thee! Hero to Leander 31
Wake on, my s, nor crouch to agony: Though night 5 sailing on Pactolus in a boat, Drown s and sense, Pallid thunderstricken 4
And steep my s in laughter There are three things 2 my inner s To tremble like a lutestring, Oh, Beauty 12 teach And have taught nothing, feeding on the s. Cambridge 14
If half the little s is dirt? New Timon 36
Poor s! behold her: what decorous calm! Sugg. by Reading 61 eyes were moved With motions of the s, Lover's Tale i 73
The written secrets of her inmost s „ 600
the heat Of the remorseful s alive within, „ 682
Sound s which struck the palpitating sense, Timbuctoo 119
Colossal, without form, or sense, or s, The Mystic 14
The echo, feeble child of s, Chorus 12 and knoweth not Beyond the s he lists: Lover's Tale i 658
the memory of that s With mighty evocation, „ 667
Solemn but splendid, full of shapes and s's, „ 799
Sounding S on the morrow. Home they brought him 5
South first within the S methought I saw Timbuctoo 161
Was not the S, The East, the West, all open, Lover's Tale i 698
Southern underneath a shadowy plane In old Bayona, nigh the S Sea— There are three things 11
Between the S and the W Horn, The Hesperides 5
We curse the crimes of S kings, Hands all Round 17 Southward faery light or cloud, Flowing S, Timbuctoo 7 camel on the verge Journeying s? A Fragment 19
Sovranty grief Doth hold the other half in s. Love and Sorrow 5
Sowed Memory S my deep-furrowed thought D. of F. Women 15
Space in the solitude Of middle s confound them, Shall the hag 9
Spade Beside her are laid, Her mattock and s, I' the glooming light 6
Sparkle To flame and s and stream as of old, The Ringlet 8
Speak She cannot s; she can only weep; I' the glooming light 18 s low, and give up wholly Thy spirit Check every outflash 2
—scarcely dare to s. Oh, Beauty 6
O s to Europe thro' your guns! Hands all Round 51
The single voice may s his mind aloud; Sugg. by Reading 14
Spear Home they brought him slain with s's. Home they brought him 1
Speck Black s's amid a waste of dreary sand, Timbuctoo 247

Sped Love is dead; His last arrow s; Burial of Love 9
Speech every ruder sally Of thought and s; Check every outflash 2
And the free s that makes a Briton known. Britons, guard 29 by that name was wont to live in her s, Lover's Tale i 571
Speed As for the French, God s 'em (repeat) National Song 11, 29
Speedeth Some think it s fast: The 'How' and the 'Why' 4
Spell by a s Did change them into gall; Love, Pride, etc. 9 increasing s's Which break upon each other, Timbuctoo 125
Sphere rais'd thee higher to the S's of Heaven, „ 216
Strain the hot s's of his convulsèd eyes, Love 37
To charm a lower s of fulminating fools. Sugg. by Reading 30 love too high to be express'd Arrested in its s, Lover's Tale i 66
Sphinxes placid S brooding o'er the Nile? A Fragment 14
Spiced Wrapped round with s cerements in old grots „ 30
Spilt Why the life goes when the blood is s? The 'How' and the 'Why' 32 you are he That s his life about the cliques. New Timon 40
Spire methought I saw A wilderness of s's, Timbuctoo 162 Spirit Thy s fetter'd with the bond of clay: „ 83 my s With supernatural excitation bound Within me, „ 90 no mightier S than I to sway The heart of man: „ 195
I am the S, The permeating life „ 196
Thus far the S: Then parted Heavenward on the wing: „ 250
Albeit, his s and his secret heart The Mystic 7
Half-light, half shadow, let my s sleep Love and Sorrow 17
Thy s to mild-minded Melancholy; Check every outflash 3
Thy s, circled with a living glory, Me my own fate 3
But yet my lonely s follows thine, „ 9 brain could keep afloat The subtle s. Oh, Beauty 11
S waits To embrace me in the sky. Germ of 'Maud' 33
Sent up the moaning of unhappy s's Lover's Tale i 613
The very s of Paleness made still paler „ 679
Spite And what with s's and what with fears, New Timon 29
What unheroic pertness! what un-Christian s! Sugg. by Reading 78
Splendid Solemn but s, full of shapes and sounds, Lover's Tale i 799 Splendour thro' secret s's mounting still, D. of F. Women 11 centre of the s's, all unworthy Of such a shrine— Lover's Tale i 69 Splinter fragments of the living rock, (Huge s's, ii 45
Spoke while I s, The bare word KISS hath made Oh, Beauty 11
While I s thus, the seedsman, Memory, D. of F. Women 14
And those fine curses which he s; New Timon 2 room Within the summer-house of which I s, Lover's Tale ii 174
Sport Shall not avail you when the day-beam s's Cambridge 6
Spot colour'd s's as dance athwart the eyes Timbuctoo 70
Spotless What profits now to understand The merits of a s shirt— New Timon 34
Spring (s) Upon some earth-awakening day of s Timbuctoo 152
With earliest Light of S, „ 200
The vocal s of bursting bloom, Chorus 15 and indue i' the s Hues of fresh youth, Could I outwear 2 from his s Moved smiling toward his summer. Lover's Tale i 306
Spring (verb) For her the green grass shall not s, Burial of Love 28
When war against our freedom s's! Hands all Round 50
O you, the Press!—what good from you might s! Sugg. by Reading 7
Springing s In and out the emerald glooms, The Grasshopper 41
Springtide which the fearful s flecks the lea, Love and Sorrow 2
Green s, April promise, glad new-year Lover's Tale i 277
Springtime s calls To the flooding waters cool, Rosalind 19
Sprout on an oaken s A goodly acorn grew; Lost Hope 5
Spur S along! s amain! charge to the fight: English War Song 47
Spy An epitaph that all may s? Burial of Love 23
You may not, like yon tyrant, deal in spies. Sugg. by Reading 20
Spying By tricks and s, Britons, guard 21
Square Why round is not s? The 'How' and the 'Why' 13
Stagger'd my human brain S beneath the vision, Timbuctoo 186
Stair step by step to scale that mighty s „ 198
Stand I seem'd to s Upon the outward verge „ 94
Why the rocks s still, The 'How' and the 'Why' 14
S off, or else my skipping-rope Will hit you Skipping-rope 3
He triumphs; maybe, we shall s alone: (repeat) Britons, guard 5, 11
Shall we s idle, Nor seek to bridle His vile aggressions, till we s alone? „ 51
S's in her pew and hums her decent psalm Sugg. by Reading 63
I To s within the level of their hopes, Lover's Tale i 768
Standeth Death s by; She will not die; I' the glooming light 12
There s our ancient enemy; (repeat) English War Song 23, 45
Standing Singing airily, S about the charméd root. The Hesperides, Song i 4
Singing airily, S about the charmèd root. „ iv 34 Star s's Were flooded over with clear glory Timbuctoo 8 bore globes Of wheeling suns, or s's, „ 172
The pleasant s's have set! Hero to Leander 39 underneath the s Named of the Dragon— A Fragment 5
For the western sun and the western s, The Hesperides, Song iv 7
But the other, like a s, Germ of 'Maud' 28
And all her s's decay.' The Ringlet 10
Stare And s's in his face and shouts 'how? how?' The 'How' and the 'Why' 29
Staring somewhere in death They sleep with s eyes and gilded lips, A Fragment 29
Starlit bearing on both sides Double display of s wings Timbuctoo 155
Starr'd (See also Newstarréd) those which s the night o' the Elder World? „ 60 s at slender intervals With blossom tufts Lover's Tale i 399
Starry great angel mind which look'd from out The s glowing of his restless eyes. Timbuctoo 89
The herald lightning's s bound, Chorus 14
Starry-fair Her face Was s-f, not pale, Lover's Tale i 75
Startle may rude Death never s them, „ 796
State (commonwealth) I feel the thousand cankers of our S, Sugg. by Reading 43
State (condition) earth hath made her s forlorn Tears of Heaven 3
COULD I outwear my present s of woe Could I outwear 1
Stately Her gardens frequent with the s Palm, Timbuctoo 233
Statued Your portals s with old kings and queens, Cambridge 2
Stay Huge mounds whereby to s his yeasty waves. Timbuctoo 15
I'll s thee with my kisses. Hero to Leander 22
If that he would them hear And s. The lintwhite 7
Our life evanisheth: Oh! s. „ 16
Though thou art fleet of wing, Yet s. „ 25
Delight is with thee gone, Oh! s. „ 34
S's on the flowering arch of the bough, The Hesperides, Song iv 18
Why s they there to guard a foreign throne? Britons, guard 41
Stays (corsets) The padded man—that wears the s's— New Timon 8
Steal and sadness s Symbols of each other; Every day, etc. 25
Stedfast Father, twinkle not thy s sight; The Hesperides, Song ii 3 Steep (adj.) The path was s and loosely strewn with crags Lover's Tale i 376
Steep (s) (See also Highland-steep) ewes bleat On the solitary s's, Lotos-Eaters 30
Steep (verb) And s my soul in laughter There are three things 2
Steeped It shall be s in the salt, salt tear, Shall be s in his own salt tear: English War Song 14
Steeple Why a church is with a s built; The 'How' and the 'Why' 34
Stem Flowing between the clear and polish'd s's, Timbuctoo 51
Stemmed See Thickstemmed, White-stemmed
Step s by s to scale that mighty stair Timbuctoo 198 breaks in above Those marble s's below. Hero to Leander 35
Step-dame she did act the s-d to mine eyes, Lover's Tale i 664
Stern his spirit and his secret heart The s experiences of converse lives, The Mystic 8
Still Like a swol'n river's gushings in s night Timbuctoo 193
Ye could not read the marvel in his eye, The s serene abstraction; The Mystic 5
I had lain as s, And blind and motionless as then I lay! Lover's Tale i 618
Sting Popes And Brummels, when they try to s. New Timon 20
Stir So gladly doth it s; Hero to Leander 17
Crocodiles in briny creeks Sleep and s not: The Hesperides, Song i 9
Stol'n and the golden apple be s away, „ ii 11
The golden apple s away, „ iii 4 rare pity had s The living bloom away, Lover's Tale i 725
Stone By a mossed brookbank on a s O sad No more! 3
Stony With s smirks at all things human and divine! Sugg. by Reading 48 Stood I S upon the Mountain which o'erlooks Timbuctoo 1 and he s beside me There on the ridge, „ 65
And alternations of all hues, be s. „ 76
S out a pillar'd front of burnish'd gold „ 175 where no gaze Might rest, s open, „ 179 Always there s before him, night and day, The Mystic 11 which s In the midnoon the glory of old Rhodes, A Fragment 1
Here s the infant Ilion of the mind, Mablethorpe 3
I S on a tower in the wet, 1865-1866 1

Stop sing aloud and evermore in the wind, without s, The Hesperides, Song ii 14
Storm calm and s Mingle day by day. Every day, etc. 7
By secret fire and midnight s's Chorus 5 s's of sorrow and ruth That roar beneath; Though night 9 vessel and your Church may sink in s's. Sugg. by Reading 74
Storm-blast the shrill s-b feeds it from behind, Lover's Tale ii 47
Strain s Weak eyes upon the glistering sands Pallid thunderstricken 4
S the hot spheres of his convulsèd eyes, Love 37
Close by our ears, the huge roots s and creak), Lover's Tale i 63
Straining No more unfurl the s sail; Lotos-Eaters 24
Strange Which flung s music on the howling winds, Timbuctoo 80 are full of s Astonishment and boundless change. (repeat) Chorus 9, 19, 29
All visions wild and s; οἱ ᾽ρέοντες 2
O SAD No more! O sweet No more! O s No more! O sad No more! 2
Strangling s sorrow weigh Mine utterance with lameness. Lover's Tale i 24
Stream (s) (See also Understream) borne Adown the sloping of an arrowy s, Timbuctoo 144
Down an ideal s they ever float, Pallid thunderstricken 2
Over a s two birds of glancing feather Dualisms 8
And all things flow like a s. (repeat) οἱ ᾽ρέοντες 8, 16
Two s's upon the violet deep: The Hesperides, Song iv 6
To whom the slope and s of life, Rosalind 5 low-hung tresses, dipp'd In the fierce s, Lover's Tale i 375
the chillness of the mountain s Smote on my brow, „ 652 the loud s, Awoke me not, but were a part of sleep; „ ii 123 Stream (verb) They s like fire in the skies; English War Song 26 solid shining ground S from beneath him D. of F. Women 3
To flame and sparkle and s as of old, The Ringlet 8
Street and the s's with ghastly faces throng'd Timbuctoo 29
windeth through The argent s's o' the City, „ 231
Why change the titles of your s's? Hands all Round 31 Strength buoyancy and s To bear them upward Timbuctoo 158 mailèd warrior in youth and s complete; The Grasshopper 13 thro' the sapphire deeps In wayward s, Chorus 29 in him light and joy and s abides; Love 42
For where is the heart and s of slaves? Oh! where is the s of slaves? English War Song 36 ere the Czar Grew to this s Blow ye the trumpet 6
We won old battles with our s, the bow. Britons, guard 44
On that day the year First felt his youth and s, Lover's Tale i 306
Strewn path was steep and loosely s with crags „ 376 Stricken See Awestricken, Thunderstricken
Strife know no s Of inward woe or outward fear; Rosalind 3
Strike some you s can scarce return the blow; Sugg. by Reading 27
String See Lutestring
Stringing As they gambol, lilygarlands ever s: Dualisms 15
Stripe In a s of grassgreen calm, Lotos-Eaters 5
Stroke a lightning s had come Even from that Heaven Lover's Tale i 623 Strong The issue of s impulse, hurried through The riv'n rapt brain: Timbuctoo 120 more fleet and s Than its precursor, „ 127
But an insect lithe and s, The Grasshopper 7
Where are thy monuments Piled by the s and sunborn Anakim A Fragment 20
He is weak! we are s; he a slave, we are free; English War Song 38
O rise, our s Atlantic sons, Hands all Round 49
Caucasus is bold and s. The Hesperides, Song iii 7
Stronger May Freedom's oak for ever live With s life from day to day; Hands all Round 6
Strove S to uprise, laden with mournful thanks, Lover's Tale i 748
Struck sound which s the palpitating sense, Timbuctoo 119
Strung S in the very negligence of Art, Lover's Tale i 562 Style How much I love this writer's manly s! Sugg. by Reading 1
Subaltern who are to you As captain is to s. New Timon 16
Subject Free s's of the kindliest of all thrones, Sugg. by Reading 71
Substance Issue of its own s, Love and Sorrow 10
Substanceless Almeida, if my heart were s, „ 13
Subterranean and the streets with ghastly faces throng'd Do utter forth a s voice, Timbuctoo 30 Subtle The s life, the countless forms Of living things, Chorus 7 no control Within the thrilling brain could keep afloat The s spirit. Oh, Beauty 11
Bold, s, careless Rosalind, Rosalind 2
Subtle-fanged blood Of hateful herbs a s-f snake. Lover's Tale i 821
Such There are no hearts like English hearts, S hearts of oak as they be. National Song 4
Of late s eyes looked at me—while I mused At sunset, There are three things 9 self-upborne With s gladness, as, Rosalind 18
With two s couches soft and white; O darling room 16
The centre of the splendours, all unworthy Of s a shrine— Lover's Tale i 70
I well remember, It was a glorious morning, s a one As dawns but once a season. Mercury On s a morning would have flung himself From cloud to cloud, „ 301
There was no s thing.— „ 670
Suffer She hardly can believe that she shall s wrong. Sugg. by Reading 66
Suffering wan dark coil of faded s— Could I outwear 4
Sufficed with her week-day worldliness s, Sugg. by Reading 62
Suitor I am any man's s, If any will be my tutor: The 'How' and the 'Why' 1
Summer (adj.) and sloped Into the slumberous s noon; A Fragment 11
The s midges wove their wanton gambol, Check every outflash 12
In summer still a s joy resumeth. Me my own fate 4
When s winds break their soft sleep with sighs, Lover's Tale i 559
Summer (s) A s of loud song, The Grasshopper 32
The naked s's glowing birth, Chorus 16
A s still a summer joy resumeth. Me my own fate 4
S's tanling diamondeyed. Dualisms 22 from his spring Moved smiling toward his s. Lover's Tale i 307
Summerflowers Bowing the seeded s. The Grasshopper 8
Summerhours Life of the s, „ 3
Summerplain Joy of the s, „ 2
Summerpride In thy heat of s, „ 36
Summertide And in the glow of sallow S, Timbuctoo 201
Summervault Under a s of golden weather; Dualisms 18
Summerwind VOICE of the s, The Grasshopper 1
Summerwood In the s's when the sun falls low, The 'How' and the 'Why' 27
Summoning Unto the fearful s without: Timbuctoo 36
Sun when the S Had fall'n below th' Atlantick, „ 3
'Wide Afric, doth thy S Lighten, „ 58
Of those that gaze upon the noonday S. „ 71 planet-girded S's And moon-encircled planets, „ 109 bore globes Of wheeling s's, or stars, „ 172
In the summerwoods when the s falls low, The 'How' and the 'Why' 27
Nor the round s that shineth to all; Burial of Love 26
Each s which from the centre flings Chorus 21
Thou art my heart's s in love's crystalline: Love and Sorrow 6
The mighty disk of their majestic s, Love 21
If thou dost leave the s, The lintwhite 32
WHERE is the Giant of the S, A Fragment 1
For the western s and the western star, The Hesperides, Song iv 7
S peeped in from open field, Home they brought him 6
the dew, the s, the rain, Unto the growth Lover's Tale ii 73
Sunborn Where are thy monuments Piled by the strong and s Anakim A Fragment 20
Sunlight In s and in shadow, The Grasshopper 20
Sunny But a short youth s and free. „ 29
Thy locks are full of s sheen The lintwhite 28
Sunset while I mused At s, underneath a shadowy plane There are three things 10 fullfaced s yellowly Stays on the flowering arch The Hesperides, Song iv 17
S ripened, above on the tree, „ 21
Gray sand banks and pale s's—dreary wind, Mablethorpe 7
About s We came unto the hill of woe, Lover's Tale i 364
Supernatural and my spirit With s excitation bound Within me, Timbuctoo 91
Surpassing s Earth's As Heaven than Earth „ 169
Swalloweth narwhale s His foamfountains in the sea. Lotos-Eaters 7
Sway no mightier Spirit than I to s The heart Timbuctoo 195
Hopes did s from that Which hung the frailest: Lover's Tale i 857 Swear No man to bear it—S it! We s it! Britons, guard 58
We s to guard our own. „ 60
And I s henceforth by this and this, The Ringlet 20
Sweet (See also Double-sweet) for a moment fill'd My eyes with irresistible s tears, Timbuctoo 191
Her Pagods hung with music of s bells: „ 234

Sweet (continued) Nor the rivers flow, nor the s birds sing, Burial of Love 29
Thy voice is s and low; Hero to Leander 33
Ere yet my heart was s Love's tomb, Love, Pride, etc. 1
S Love was withered in his cell; „ 8
Embalming with s tears the vacant shrine, Lost Hope 3
Moving his crest to all s plots of flowers Could I outwear 7
The lintwhite and the throstlecock Have voices s and clear; The lintwhite 2
Alas! that lips so cruel dumb Should have so s a breath! „ 18
O sad No more! O s No more! O sad No more! 1
Oh, Beauty, passing beauty! sweetest S! Oh, Beauty 1
We will eat the Lotos, s As the yellow honeycomb, Lotos-Eaters 14
Surely, surely, slumber is more s than toil, „ 38
Peace-lovers we—s Peace we all desire— Britons, guard 13
Sweeter This is lovelier and s, Lotos-Eaters 10
Sweetest Oh, Beauty, passing beauty! s Sweet! Oh, Beauty 1
Swift till they minister'd Unto her s conceits? Lover's Tale i 666
Swiftness Agglomerated s, I had lived „ 495
Swim Thine eye in drops of gladness s's. Hero to Leander 18
Swimming till the eyes in vain Amid the wild unrest of s shade Timbuctoo 129
Swol'n Like a s river's gushings in still night „ 193
Sword world is wasted with fire and s, The Hesperides, Song iv 22
Swum s with balanced wings To some tall mountain. Lover's Tale i 304
Symbol and sadness steal S's of each other; Every day, etc. 26

T

Tact A little feeling is a want of t. Sugg. by Reading 58
Take men's hopes and fears t refuge in The fragrance Timbuctoo 226
Lest one from the East come and t it away. The Hesperides, Song i 29 t's his flags and waves them to the mob D. of F. Women 5 t it, t my skipping-rope And hang yourself Skipping-rope 11 fierce old man—to t his name You bandbox. New Timon 43
T care thou dost not fear to fall!' What time I wasted 9
To t Sardinia, Belgium, or the Rhine: Britons, guard 50
T heed of your wide privileges! Sugg. by Reading 11
'Then t it, love, and put it by; The Ringlet 11
Taken If the golden apple be t The world The Hesperides, Song ii 21
And t away the greenness of my life, Lover's Tale i 625
Tale There must no man go back to bear the t: Britons, guard 56
Talk You t of tinsel! why we see New Timon 37
Talked Angels have t with him, and showed him thrones: The Mystic 1
Talking other things t in unknown tongues, Timbuctoo 112
Tall Daughters of time, divinely t, The Mystic 26
There are no men like Englishmen, So t and bold as they be. National Song 8
Till midnoon the cool east light Is shut out by the round of the t hillbrow; The Hesperides, Song iv 16 and swum with balanced wings To some t mountain. Lover's Tale i 305
Tanling Summer's t diamondeyed. Dualisms 22
Tarry In the hollow rosy vale to t, Lotos-Eaters 12
But she tarries in her place And I paint Germ of 'Maud' 1
Tartar Than when Zamoysky smote the T Khan, Blow ye the trumpet 12
Taste assimilated all our t's And future fancies. Lover's Tale i 238
Taught did profess to teach And have t nothing, Cambridge 14
Teach t him to attain By shadowing forth Timbuctoo 196 did profess to t And have taught nothing, Cambridge 13
Nay, dearest, t me how to hope, Skipping-rope 9
Tear Bathes the cold hand with t's, Timbuctoo 38
fill'd My eyes with irresistable sweet t's, „ 191
With the t's he hath shed, Burial of Love 6
Her t's are mixed with the bearded dews. I' the glooming light 11
Laughter bringeth t's: Every day, etc. 18
Thou hast no sorrow or t's, The Grasshopper 26
Embalming with sweet t's the vacant shrine, Lost Hope 3 all the day heaven gathers back her t's Tears of Heaven 6 commend the t's to creep From my charged lids; Could I outwear 10
It shall be steeped in the salt, salt t, Shall be steeped in his own salt t: English War Song 14
And both my eyes gushed out with t's. O sad No more! 6
I said, 'O years that meet in t's, 1865-1866 4
We passed with t's of rapture. Lover's Tale i 409 Flooding its angry cheek with odorous t's. „ 565
my unhappy sighs, fed with my t's, „ 674

Tear (continued) eyes, I saw, were full of t's in the morn, Lover's Tale i 728 Think not thy t's will make my name grow green,— „ 806 woful ailments Of unavailing t's and heart deep moans „ 819
Tearless For ever write In the weathered light Of the t eye Burial of Love 22
Tell —Of winds which t of waters, Timbuctoo 208
I cannot t if that somewhat be I. The 'How' and the 'Why' 25
Number, t them over and number How many The Hesperides, Song ii 7
Who can t Why to smell The violet, Who can say 4 where, alack, is Bewick To t the meaning now? A gate and a field 6
Or t me how to die. Skipping-rope 10
Yet t her—better to be free Than vanquish Hands all Round 27 what profits it To t ye that her father died, Lover's Tale i 291
Temperament With moral breadth of t. New Timon 28
Tempest world's last t darkens overhead; Britons, guard 2
Tender After my refluent health made t quest Unanswer'd, Lover's Tale i 742
Tenderly Oh! lead me t, for fear the mind Rain thro' my sight, „ 23
Her face Was starry-fair, not pale, t flush'd „ 75
Tenement And damn'd unto his loathed t. „ 683
Tennis Think you hearts are t balls To play with, Rosalind 32
Thanks Strove to uprise, laden with mournful t, Lover's Tale i 748
That and ever since t hour, My voice hath somewhat falter'd— „ 749
Thebes melody flattering the crisped Nile By columned T. A Fragment 27
Then But what is the meaning of t and now! The 'How' and the 'Why' 22
Thick and t night Came down upon my eyelids, and I fell. Timbuctoo 186
The t snow falls on her flake by flake, I' the glooming light 20
Pushing the t roots aside Of the singing flowerèd grasses, Grasshopper 37
And crushing the t fragrant reeds he lies, Love 32
Thick-ribbèd Cathedralled caverns of t-r gold Pallid thunderstricken 7
Thickstemmed Looks through the t woods by day and night Love 44
Thin And Memory tho' fed by Pride Did wax so t on gall, Love, Pride, etc. 12
T dilletanti deep in nature's plan, Sugg. by Reading 80 Thing other t's talking in unknown tongues, Timbuctoo 112 shape These t's with accurate similitude „ 134
And all t's creeping to a day of doom. The Mystic 40
the countless forms Of living t's, Chorus 8
For all t's are as they seem to all, (repeat) ol 'péovres 7, 15
And all t's flow like a stream. (repeat) „ 8, 16
Surely all pleasant t's had gone before, O sad No more! 7
There are three t's that fill my heart with sighs There are three things 1
There are three t's beneath the blessed skies „ 5
All t's are not told to all, The Hesperides, Song iii 12
All good t's are in the west, „ iv 14
By the t I hold in scorn, Germ of 'Maud' 6
We likewise have our evil t's; Hands all Round 19 stony smirks at all t's human and divine! Sugg. by Reading 48
I sorrow when I read the t's you write, „ 77
These t's Unto the quiet daylight of your minds Lover's Tale i 293
With her to whom all outward fairest t's „ 383
There was no such t.— „ 670
Think Some t it speedeth fast: The 'How' and the 'Why' 4
T you hearts are tennis balls To play with, Rosalind 32
T not thy tears will make my name grow green,— Lover's Tale i 806
Thinking we The t men of England, loathe a tyranny. Sugg. by Reading 12 Thought (s) With such a vast circumference of t, Timbuctoo 93 thrilling t's Involving and embracing each „ 115
the torrent of quick t Absorbed me „ 141
My t's which long had grovell'd in the slime „ 149
E'en so my t's, erewhile so low, „ 157
All t's, all creeds, all dreams are true, ol 'péovres 1 every ruder sally Of t and speech; Check every outflash 2 Sowed my deep-furrowed t with many a name D. of F. Women 15 nor with the t's that roll, Cambridge 11
I turn To you that mould men's t's; Sugg. by Reading 86
The wreck of ruin'd life and shatter'd t, Lover's Tale ii 62
So gazed I on the ruins of that t „ 71
Thought (verb) a familiar face: I t we knew him: New Timon 7
Thousand I play about his heart a t ways, Timbuctoo 205
I feel the t cankers of our State, Sugg. by Reading 43
Three And yet again, t shadows, fronting one, The Mystic 17
There are t things that fill my heart with sighs There are three things 1
There are t things beneath the blessed skies For which I live— „ 5

Three (continued) Hesper, the dragon, and sisters t, The Hesperides, Song ii 24
Hesper, the dragon, and sisters t, Daughters t, " iv 25
Three-fold For the blossom unto t-f music bloweth: " i 17
Threshold from the golden t had down-roll'd Lover's Tale i 617
Thrill'd Who killed the girls and t the boys New Timon 9
Thrilling t thoughts Involving and embracing each with each Rapid as fire, Timbuctoo 115
Lenora, laughing clearly A light and t laughter, Anacreontics 10 no control Within the t brain could keep afloat The subtle spirit. Oh, Beauty 10
Throne T's of the Western wave, fair Islands green? Timbuctoo 42
Part of a t of fiery flame, " 181
Oh latest T! where I was rais'd " 240
ANGELS have talked with him, and showed him t's: The Mystic 1
Basing thy t above the world's annoy. Though night 8
The very t of the eternal God: Love 6
Breathe on thy winged t, and it shall move " 27
Why stay they there to guard a foreign t? Britons, guard 41
Free subjects of the kindliest of all t's, Sugg. by Reading 71
Throng'd and the streets with ghastly faces t Timbuctoo 29
Thronging T the cells of the diseased mind, Shall the hag 3
Throstlecock THE lintwhite and the t The lintwhite 1
Throwing And t by all consciousness of self, Lover's Tale i 787 Thrown I had t me on the vast, " 493
Thrust woful man had t his wife and child " 368
Thunder (s) The heavy t's girding might, Chorus 13
Melodious t's through your vacant courts Cambridge 9
Why waste they yonder Their idle t? Britons, guard 40
I hear a t though the skies are fair, Sugg. by Reading 89 rapid brook Shot down his inner t's, Lover's Tale i 372 had down-roll'd Their heaviest t, " 618
Thunder (verb) And t thro' the sapphire deeps Chorus 28
Thunderstricken THE pallid t sigh for gain, Pallid thunderstricken 1
Thymiaterion Past T, in calmèd bays, The Hesperides 4
Tide (See also Summertide) Call home your ships across Biscayan t's, Britons, guard 37
In rising and in falling with the t, Lover's Tale i 62
Tilth T, hamlet, mead and mound: D. of F. Women 4
Timbuctoo Or is the rumour of thy T Timbuctoo 61
Time (See also Summertime) Giant of old T infixed The limits of his prowess, pillars high Long t eras'd from Earth: " 11
A dream as frail as those of ancient T?' " 62 the t is well nigh come When I must render up " 242
In t there is no present, The 'How' and the 'Why' 5
One reflex from eternity on t, The Mystic 22
Daughters of t, divinely tall, " 26
T flowing in the middle of the night, " 39 what t laid low And crushing the thick fragrant reeds Love 31
dewy prime Of youth and buried t? Who can say 7
WHAT t I wasted youthful hours What time I wasted 1
To raise the people and chastise the t's Sugg. by Reading 5 touch of T Will turn it silver-gray; The Ringlet 5 touch of T Can turn thee silver-gray; " 15 legend ran that, long t since, One rainy night, Lover's Tale i 366 Planting my feet against this mound of t " 492
Timon The old T, with his noble heart, New Timon 3
A T you! Nay, nay, for shame: " 41
Tinsel You talk of t! why we see The old mark " 37
Tithon No T thou as poets feign The Grasshopper 5
Title Why change the t's of your streets? Hands all Round 31
Titmarsh And a t in the bough. A gate and a field 4
To-and-fro Did brush my forehead in their t-a-f: Lover's Tale i 736
To-day WHO can say Why T-d Who can say 2
Toil slumber is more sweet than t, Lotos-Eaters 38
Told When in this valley first I t my love. Check every outflash 14
All things are not t to all, The Hesperides, Song iii 12
For what is this which now I'm t, The Ringlet 31
Tolerance And those who tolerate not her t, Sugg. by Reading 68
Tolerate And those who t not her tolerance, " 68
Toleration God save the Nation, The t, Britons, guard 28 Tomb ERE yet my heart was sweet Love's t, Love, Pride, etc. 1
we deem the world thy t. Love 19
To-morrow T-m will be yesterday? Who can say 3
Tone wondrous t's Of man and beast Chorus 8
Tongue other things talking in unknown t's, Timbuctoo 112
Mute his t, Burial of Love 4
To-night Thou shalt not wander hence t-n, Hero to Leander 21
T-n the roaring brine Will rend thy golden tresses; " 23
Took I t delight in this locality! Mablethorpe 2
I that t you for true gold, The Ringlet 32
Tool Be noble, you! nor work with faction's t's Sugg. by Reading 29
Torrent the t of quick thought Absorbed me Timbuctoo 141
Tortured From iron limbs and t nails! Hands all Round 16
Tossing T on the t ocean, Lotos-Eaters 3
Tost See Wind-tost
Touch (s) chilling t of Time Will turn it silver-gray; The Ringlet 5 chilling t of Time Can turn thee silver-gray; " 15
Touch (verb) As with one kiss to t thy blessèd cheek. Oh, Beauty 8
Toucheth and sometimes t but one string, Lover's Tale i 17
Tower rangèd Chrysolite, Minarets and t's? Timbuctoo 236 soon yon brilliant t's Shall darken " 244
Show'd me vast cliffs with crown of t's, What time I wasted 3
I STOOD on a t in the wet, 1865-1866 1
Town In any t, to left or right, O darling room 14
Trackless A maze of piercing t, thrilling thoughts Timbuctoo 115 and strength To bear them upward through the t fields " 159
Traitor But be not you the blatant t's of the hearth. Sugg. by Reading 24
Peace-lovers, haters Of shameless t's, Britons, guard 16
Trampled And, t on, left to its own decay. Lover's Tale ii 81
Transitory Thy woes are birds of passage, t: Me my own fate 2
Translucent Child of Man, See'st thou yon river, whose t wave, Timbuctoo 229
Treasure watch the t Of the wisdom of the West. The Hesperides, Song i 13
Tree (See also Fruit-tree) Round about the hallowed fruit t curled— " ii 13
Bound about the golden t " 25
Sunset ripened, above on the t, " iv 21
The gnarlèd bole of the charmèd t, " 29
Where Love was worshipp'd under every t— Lover's Tale i 324
Tremble inner soul To t like a lutestring, Oh, Beauty 13
Trembling a snake her forehead clips And skins the colour from her t lips. Pallid thunderstricken 14
Tremulous imaging The soft inversion of her t Domes; Timbuctoo 232
At length, Upon the t bridge, Lover's Tale i 406
Tress roaring brine Will rend thy golden t's; Hero to Leander 24
That brush thee with their silken t's? The Grasshopper 39 low-hung t's, dipp'd In the fierce stream, Lover's Tale i 374 Tribe Alas, Church writers, altercating t's— Sugg. by Reading 73
Trick By t's and spying, Britons, guard 21
Tried And once you t the Muses too: New Timon 13
Triple With t arch of everchanging bows, Timbuctoo 74
Triple-folded I fain would shake their t-f ease, Sugg. by Reading 44
Triumph (s) The t of this foretaste, Lover's Tale i 515
Triumph (verb) He t's; maybe, we shall stand alone: (repeat) Britons, guard 5, 11
Trod See Seraphtrod
Troubled Like light on t waters: Love 40
Troublous The t autumn's sallow gloom, Chorus 17
True ALL thoughts, all creeds, all dreams are t, οἱ ῥέοντες 1
The t men banished, Britons, guard 10
Till your balls fly as their t shafts have flown. " 47
And then shall I know it is all t gold The Ringlet 7
I that took you for t gold, " 32
Truer 'God save the Queen' is here a t cry. Britons, guard 26
Truest Oh, t love! art thou forlorn, Burial of Love 14
Trumpet BLOW ye the t, gather from afar Blow ye the trumpet 1
Trust Peace-lovers we—but who can t a liar?— Britons, guard 14
And t an ancient manhood and the cause Sugg. by Reading 39
Truth Deep-rooted in the living soil of t: Timbuctoo 225 shalt thou pierce the woven glooms of t; Though night 11
Man is the measure of all t Unto himself. All t is change: lo οἱ ῥέοντες 3
Till we were left to fight for t alone. Britons, guard 35
Like them, you bicker less for t than forms. Sugg. by Reading 76
Try when they t to sting. New Timon 20
Turn (s) Has given all my faith a t? The Ringlet 52
Turn (verb) T cloud to light, and bitterness to joy, Though night 6 once more I t To you that mould men's thoughts; Sugg. by Reading 85 therefore now you t, New Timon 14 touch of Time Will t it silver-gray; The Ringlet 6

Turn (verb) (continued) touch of Time Can t thee silver-gray ; The Ringlet 16 Turned all faces t to where Glows rubylike D. of F. Women 6
Turning hinge on which the door of Hope, Once t, Lover's Tale i 298
Turretstairs t are wet That lead into the sea. Hero to Leander 36
Tuskèd Where the t seahorse walloweth Lotos-Eaters 4
Tutelary I became to her A t angel Lover's Tale i 388
Tutor I am any man's suitor, If any will be my t: The 'How' and the 'Why' 2
Twenty See Four-and-twenty Twilight glooms And cool impleachèd t's. Timbuctoo 228 the back owl scuds down the mellow t, The 'How' and the 'Why' 30
Like a lone cypress, through the t hoary, Me my own fate 6
if he had fall'n In love in t? Lover's Tale i 700
Twinkle Father, t not thy stedfast sight ; The Hesperides, Song ii 3
Two and beneath T doors of blinding brilliance, Timbuctoo 178
Why t and t make four? Why round is not square? The 'How' and the 'Why' 13
For the t first were not, but only seemed One shadow The Mystic 20
T bees within a chrystal flowerbell rockèd Dualisms 1
Over a stream t birds of glancing feather Do woo each other, „ 8
T children lovelier than love, adown the lea are singing, „ 14
T streams upon the violet deep : The Hesperides, Song iv 6
With thy t couches soft and white, O darling room 3
With t such couches soft and white ; „ 16
Type they were the t's and shadowings Lover's Tale i 386
Tyranny thinking men of England, loathe a t. Sugg. by Reading 12 Tyrant (adj.) Permit not thou the t powers To fight Hands all Round 42
Tyrant (s) Heaven guard them from her t's' jails ! „ 14
God the t's cause confound ! (repeat) Hands all round 10, 22, 34, 46, 58
You may not, like yon t, deal in spies. Sugg. by Reading 20

U

Unattainable By shadowing forth the U ; Timbuctoo 197
Unavailing whom woful ailments Of u tears Lover's Tale i 819
Unaware All u's, into the poet's brain ; „ 557
Unborn Thou, from the first, u, undying love, Love 1
Unchanged Keeping u The purport of their coinage. Lover's Tale i 733
Un-Christian What unheroic pertness ! what u-C spite ! Sugg. by Reading 78
Unconceived vision Of u and awful happiness, Lover's Tale i 798
Uncontrolled This was the very arch-mock And insolence of u Fate, „ 688
Undefin'd through the trackless fields Of u existence far and free. Timbuctoo 160
Understand I have given thee To u my presence, „ 214
What profits now to u The merits of a spotless shirt— New Timon 33
Understood They can be u by kings. Hands all Round 52
Understream glistering sands that robe The u. Pallid thunderstricken 6
Undescended unsounded, u depth Of her black hollows. Timbuctoo 104
Undiscerned obelisks Graven with gorgeous emblems u ? A Fragment 13
Undiscerning Ye scorned him with an u scorn : The Mystic 3
Undreading Unknowing fear, U loss, The Grasshopper 17
Undying Thou, from the first, unborn, u love, Love 1
Unfading such as gird The u foreheads of the Saints in Heaven ? Timbuctoo 54
Unfathomable chasms of deep, deep blue Slumber'd u, „ 8
Unfed. The light of his hopes u, Burial of Love 3
Unfrequent U, low, as tho' it told its pulses ; Lover's Tale ii 58
Unfurl No more u the straining sail ; Lotos-Eaters 24
Unhappy and tho' horrid rifts Sent up the moaning of u spirits Imprison'd in her centre, Lover's Tale i 613
All joy ; who drew the happy atmosphere Of my u sighs, „ 674
Unheroic What u pertness ! what un-Christian spite ! Sugg. by Reading 78
Unicorn Those rhymes, 'The Lion and the U' Lover's Tale i 285
Unimagin'd an u depth And harmony of planet-girded Suns Timbuctoo 108
Union Most loveliest, most delicious u ? Lover's Tale i 275
And were in u more than double-sweet. „ 567
Unknowing U fear, Undreading loss, The Grasshopper 16
Unknown Or other things talking in u tongues, Timbuctoo 112
Unlike Like, u, they roam together Under a summer-vault of golden weather ; Dualisms 19
Unnumbered With selfwrought evils of u years, Tears of Heaven 4

Unrelenting Would, u, Kill all dissenting, Britons, guard 33
Unrest Amid the wild u of swimming shade Timbuctoo 129
Unreturned Love u is like the fragrant flame To —— 5
Unrevenged love ! art thou forlorn, And u ? Burial of Love 15
Unroof U the shrines of clearest vision, To a Lady Sleep. 3
Unscathed Yet endure u Of changeful cycles A Fragment 8
Unsealèd The glory u, The Hesperides, Song iii 3
Unshaken like dusky worms which house Beneath u waters, Timbuctoo 151 u peace hath won thee : Though night 10
Unshockèd wave u Lays itself calm and wide, Dualisms 6
Unsounded the u, undescended depth Of her black hollows. Timbuctoo 104
Unstrung His bow u With the tears he hath shed, Burial of Love 5
Unutterable and look'd into my face With his u, shining orbs, Timbuctoo 67 erewhile so low, now felt U buoyancy and strength „ 158
The silence of all hearts, u Love. Love 14
Unvisited her silver heights U with dew Timbuctoo 103
Unwaning Dim shadows but u presences Fourfacèd The Mystic 15
Unworthy The centre of all splendours, all u Of such a shrine— Lover's Tale i 69
Up See Far-up
Upborne See Self-upborne
Upburning without heat, into a larger air U, The Mystic 45
Updrawn U in expectation of her change— Lover's Tale i 597
With mighty evocation, had u „ 668
Upheld U, and ever hold aloft the cloud The Mystic 31
Uprend though they u the sea, Love 9
Uprise Calls to him by the fountain to u. „ 35
Strove to u, laden with mournful thanks, Lover's Tale i 748
Upsprung u the dazzling Cones Of Pyramids, Timbuctoo 168
Use No longer in the dearest u of mine— Lover's Tale i 599
Utter Do u forth a subterranean voice, Timbuctoo 30
But lose themselves in u emptiness. Love and Sorrow 16
Utterance strangling sorrow weigh Mine u with lameness. Lover's Tale i 25

V

Vacant Embalming with sweet tears the v shrine, Lost Hope 3
Melodious thunders through your v courts At morn and even ; Cambridge 9
Vagrant her silver heights Unvisited with dew of v cloud, Timbuctoo 103
Vague As men do from a v and horrid dream, Lover's Tale i 786
Vale In the hollow rosy v to tarry, Lotos-Eaters 12
We will abide in the golden v Of the Lotos-land, „ 26
Valley In the v some, and some On the ancient heights „ 16 watered vallies where the young birds sing ; Could I outwear 8
But in the middle of the sombre v Check every outflash 6
When in this v first I told my love. „ 14
Have hallowed out a v and a gulf Lover's Tale i 26
Van the brazen beat Of their broad v's, Shall the hag 8
Vanish'd All freedom v, Britons, guard 9
Vanity in my v I seem'd to stand Upon Timbuctoo 94 hath felt The vanities of after and before ; The Mystic 6
Vanquish Than v all the world in arms. Hands all Round 28
Vapour The cruel v's went through all, Love, Pride, etc. 7
Or moisture of the v, left in clinging, Lover's Tale ii 46
Varicoloured See Vary
Varied The v earth, the moving heaven, Chorus 1
Vary Of wayward v coloured curcumstance, The Mystic 12
Vast (adj.) With such a v circumference of thought, Timbuctoo 93
Show'd me v cliffs with crown of towers, What time I wasted 3
Some v Assyrian doom to burst upon our race. Sugg. by Reading 42
The night is dark and v ; Hero to Leander 2
Vast (s) I had thrown me on the v, Lover's Tale i 493
Vastness between whose limbs Of brassy v A Fragment 7
Vault See Summervault
Vaulting V on thine airy feet. The Grasshopper 10
Veil (s) Athwart the v's of evil which enfold thee Love 17
Oh ! rend the v in twain : „ 25
Veil (verb) I did v My vision with both hands, Timbuctoo 68

Vein labyrinthine v's Of the great vine of Fable, Timbuctoo 221 and our mirth Apes the happy v, Every day, etc. 13 Verge I seem'd to stand Upon the outward v Timbuctoo 95 camel on the v Journeying southward ? A Fragment 18 Vernal beauty issuing A sheeny snake, the light of v
bowers, Could I outwear 6
Very One v dark and chilly night Pride came beneath and held a light. Love, Pride, etc. 5
The v throne of the eternal God : Love 6
Strung in the v negligence of Art, Lover's Tale i 562
The v spirit of Paleness made still paler „ 679
This was the v arch-mock And insolence of uncontrolled Fate, „ 687
her cheek was pale, Oh ! v fair and pale : „ 725
Vessel The v and your Church may sink in storms. Sugg. by Reading 74
View (s) Lay like an open scroll before my v, Lover's Tale i 601 View (verb) I v Fair maiden forms moving like melodies), There are three things 2 Vigorous My falconhearted Rosalind Fullsailed before a v wind, Rosalind 10
Vile Nor seek to bridle His v aggressions, Britons, guard 53
Vine labyrinthine veins Of the great v of Fable, Timbuctoo 222
And the lithe v creeps, Lotos-Eaters 34
Vineyard Through v's from an inland bay. Rosalind 29
And Oberwinter's v's green, O darling room 8
Violet (adj.) Two streams upon the v deep : The Hesperides, Song iv 6
Violet (s) Who can tell Why to smell The v, Who can say 6
Virgin Long hath the white wave of the v light To a Lady Sleep. 5
Visible Whose lowest depths were, as with v love, Timbuctoo 49
For nothing v, they say, had birth In that blest ground „ 55
These things with accurate similitude From v objects, „ 135 Vision I did veil My v with both hands, „ 69 my human brain Stagger'd beneath the v, „ 186
Visit his eyes with v's, and his ears „ 206
Unroof the shrines of clearest v, To a Lady Sleep. 3
All v's wild and strange ; οἱ ῥέοντες 2
But grow upon them like a glorious v Lover's Tale i 797
Visit V his eyes with visions, and his ears Timbuctoo 206
Vital Some v heat as yet my heart is wooing : Could I outwear 12
Vive l'Empereur ' V l'E ' may follow by and bye ; Britons, guard 25
Vivid Distinct and v with sharp points of light Timbuctoo 107
Less v than a half-forgotten dream, „ 136
Vocal The v spring of bursting bloom, Chorus 15
Voice Do utter forth a subterranean v, Timbuctoo 30
I rais'd My v and cried ' Wide Afric, „ 58
Thy v is sweet and low ; Hero to Leander 33
V of the summerwind, The Grasshopper 1 lintwhite and the throstlecock Have v's sweet and clear ; The lintwhite 2
Came v's, like the v's in a dream, The Hesperides 12
Voiced See Full-voiced
Vote We hate not France, but France has lost her v Britons, guard 19 single v may speak his mind aloud ; Sugg. by Reading 14 since that hour, My v had somewhat falter'd— Lover's Tale i 750
By lying priest's the peasant's v's controlled. Britons, guard 8
Voyaging Zidonian Hanno, v beyond The hoary promontory of Soloë The Hesperides 2

W

Wafted w on the wind, drove in my sight, Lover's Tale i 730
Waileth Heaven crieth after thee ; earth w for thee : Love 26
Wait To its Archetype that w's Germ of ' Maud ' 31
Spirit w's To embrace me in the sky. „ 33
For her there lie in w millions of foes, Sugg. by Reading 59
Waiting W to light him with his purple skies, Love 34
Waive And w a little of his claim ; New Timon 22
Wake Whether we w or whether we sleep ^ The ' How ' and the ' Why ' 17
W on, my soul, nor crouch to agony : Though night 5
Waken If he w, we w, The Hesperides, Song ii 17
Walk portals of pure silver w's the moon. Though night 4
All men do w in sleep, οἱ ῥέοντες 5
Could he not w what paths he chose, Lover's Tale i 692
Wall some great City where the w's Shake, Timbuctoo 28
Wall'd See Black-wall'd, Mud-walled Walloweth tuskèd seahorse w In a stripe of grassgreen calm, Lotos-Eaters 4
Wan wheel in wheel, Arch'd the w Sapphire. Timbuctoo 111
So their w limbs no more might come between Shall the hag 12 and mightily outgrow The w dark coil of faded suffering— Could I outwear 4
Wand Shall darken with the waving of her w ; Timbuctoo 245
Wander Thou shalt not w hence to-night, Hero to Leander 21
odours w On the black and moaning sea, „ 28
That w round their windy cones, Chorus 6
To w down his sable sheeny sides, Love 39
We will not w more. Lotos-Eaters 28 islanders of Ithaca, we will not w more, „ 37
Wanderer W's coming and going 1865-1866 7
Wandereth But the land-wind w, The Hesperides, Song iv 4
Wandering eyes so full of light Should be so w ! The lintwhite 27
W waters unto w waters call ; The Hesperides, Song iii 8
Want (s) Worth eternal w of rest. „ i 12
A little feeling is a w of tact. Sugg. by Reading 58
Want (verb) You fools, you'll w them all again. Hands all Round 32 we w a manlike God and Godlike men ! Sugg. by Reading 84
Wanton The summer midges wove their w gambol, Check every outflash 12 Think you hearts are tennis balls To play with, w
Rosalind ? Rosalind 33
War rolled The growing murmurs of the Polish w ! Blow ye the trumpet 8
Should w's mad blast again be blown, Hands all Round 41
When w against our freedom springs ! „ 50
Warbled W from yonder knoll of solemn larches, Check every outflash 10
Warbling Heard neither w of the nightingale, The Hesperides 6
War-cry Better wild Mahmoud's w-c once again ! Sugg. by Reading 83
Warlike I call on you To make opinion w, „ 87
Warm When the new year w breathèd on the earth, Love 33
Every flower and every fruit the redolent breath
Of this w seawind ripeneth, The Hesperides, Song iv 2
No little room so w and bright Wherein to read, O darling room 5
Not any room so w and bright, Wherein to read, „ 17
Even where the grass was w where I had lain, Lover's Tale i 790 Warmer My heart is w surely than the bosom of the main. Hero to Leander 8
Warning-note loud and long, the w-n : Prepare ! Sugg. by Reading 90
Warping W their nature, till they minister'd Lover's Tale i 665
Warrior Thou art a mailèd w in youth The Grasshopper 13
Waste (s) Black specks amid a w of dreary sand, Timbuctoo 247
The rapid w of roving sea, Chorus 2 Waste (verb) How canst thou let me w my youth in sighs ; Oh, Beauty 2
Why w they yonder Their idle thunder ! Britons, guard 39
Which w with the breath that made 'em. Lover's Tale i 475
Wasted The world is w with fire and sword, The Hesperides, Song iv 22
What time I w youthful hours What time I wasted 1
Watch w the treasure Of the wisdom of the West. The Hesperides, Song i 13
Father Hesper, w, w, ever and aye, „ ii 1
Father Hesper, w, w, night and day, „ iii 1
W it warily day and night ; „ iv 13
W it warily, „ 32
Watcher the angels, The w's at heaven's gate, Lover's Tale i 616
Watching Out of w's, out of wiles, The Hesperides, Song iii 10
Water worms which house Beneath unshaken w's, Timbuctoo 151
—Of winds which tell of w's, and of w's „ 208
Like light on troubled w's : Love 40
Through the w and the fire. (repeat) National Song 14, 32
The crispèd w's whisper musically, Check every outflash 7
Wandering w's unto wandering w's call ; The Hesperides, Song iii 8 springtime calls To the flooding w's cool, Rosalind 20
And the foam-white w's pour ; Lotos-Eaters 32
Watered And w vallies where the young birds sing ; Could I outwear 8
Waterfall w's That sing into the pebbled pool. Rosalind 23
Wave (s) Huge mounds whereby to stay his yeasty w's. Timbuctoo 15
Divinest Atalantis, whom the w's Have buried deep, „ 22
Thrones of the Western w, fair Islands green ? „ 42
Beat like a far w on my anxious ear. „ 114
With harmonies of wind and w and wood „ 207 translucent w, Forth issuing from darkness, „ 229
w's, which bore The reflex of my City in their depths. „ 238

Wave (s) (continued) Worn Sorrow sits by the moaning w; I' the glooming light 4
The dull w mourns down the slope, " 21
And the w's climb high and fast. Hero to Leander 4 deep salt w breaks in above Those marble steps " 34 white w of the virgin light Driven back To a Lady Sleep. 5 the w unshockèd Lays itself calm and wide, Dualisms 6 the winedark w our weary bark did carry. Lotos-Eaters 9
W's on the shingle pouring, 1865-1866 11
Upon the crispings of the dappled w's Lover's Tale i 46 where the w Plash'd sapping its worn ribs " 58 fierce stream, bore downward with the w. " 375
And onward floating in a full, dark w, " 739
Wave (verb) w's them to the mob That shout below, D. of F. Women 5
Waving Shall darken with the w of her wand; Timbuctoo 245
Wax Did w so thin on gall, Love, Pride, etc. 12
Wax-lighted W-l chapels and rich carved screens, Cambridge 4
Way the infinite w's which, Seraphtrod, Wound Timbuctoo 47
I play about his heart a thousand w's, " 205
Looking warily Every w, The Hesperides, Song i 27
And she has mov'd in the smooth w so long, Sugg. by Reading 65
Must he come my w too? Lover's Tale i 698
Wayward Of w vary coloured circumstance, The Mystic 12
And thunder thro' the sapphire deeps In w strength, Chorus 29
But Misery, like a fretful, w child, Lover's Tale i 696 Weak and while Above her head the w lamp dips and winks Timbuctoo 35 while wistfully they strain W eyes upon the glistering sands Pallid thunderstricken 5
He is w! we are strong; he a slave, we are free; English War Song 38
Weaken Father, old Himla w's, The Hesperides, Song iii 7
Weal All is change, woe or w; Every day, etc. 23
Wear gazeth on Those eyes which w no light Timbuctoo 39
The padded man—that w's the stays— New Timon 8
Weariness W and wild alarm, Lotos-Eaters 2
Weary even as the sea When w of wild inroad buildeth up Huge mounds Timbuctoo 14
Long enough the winedark wave our w bark did carry. Lotos-Eaters 9 then came in O'erhead the white light of the w moon, Lover's Tale i 659
Weather blue-glossèd necks beneath the purple w. Dualisms 13
Under a summervault of golden w; " 18
Weathered For ever write In the w light Burial of Love 21
Wedded he would make his w wife, Camilla! Lover's Tale i 793
Weed See Wildweed
Week-day with her w-d worldliness sufficed, Sugg. by Reading 62
Weep She cannot speak; she can only w; I' the glooming light 18
Let us w in hope— Every day, etc. 32
Heaven w's above the earth all night till morn, In darkness w's, as all ashamed to w, Tears of Heaven 1
W not, Almeida, that I said to thee Love and Sorrow 3 never learnt to love who never knew to w. " 18 but inwardly I w: Could I outwear 11 one of those who cannot w For others' woes, Rosalind 11
And the dark pine w's, Lotos-Eaters 33
Weigh strangling sorrow w Mine utterance with lameness. Lover's Tale i 24 Weight a highland leaning down a w Of cliffs, The Hesperides 10 lithe limbs bow'd as with a heavy w Lover's Tale i 126
Welaway Ah! w! (repeat) Every day, etc. 5, 11, 16, 22, 27, 33
Went The cruel vapours w through all, Love, Pride, etc. 7
West watch the treasure Of the wisdom of the W. The Hesperides, Song i 14
Look from w to east along: " iii 6
And the low w wind, breathing afar, " iv 8
All good things are in the w, " iv 14
Gigantic daughter of the W, Hands all Round 37
To out great kinsmen of the W, " 47
To our dear kinsmen of the W, " 59
Was not the South, The East, the W, all open, Lover's Tale i 699
Western Where are ye Thrones of the W wave, Timbuctoo 42
No w odours wander On the black and moaning sea, Hero to Leander 28
Between the Southern and the W Horn, The Hesperides 5
For the w sun and the w star, " Song iv 7
Westwind Hum a lovelay to the w at noontide. Dualisms 2
Wet (adj.) turretstairs are w That lead into the sea. Hero to Leander 36
Wet (s) I stood on a tower in the w, 1865-1866 1
What I feel there is something; but how and w? I know there is somewhat; but w and why? The 'How' and the 'Why' 23
Who will riddle me the how and the w? Who will riddle me the w and the why? " 36
Wheatear The w's whisper to each other: The 'How' and the 'Why' 11
Wheel w in w, Arch'd the wan Sapphire. Timbuctoo 110
Wheeling Each aloft Upon his renown'd Eminence bore globes Of w suns, " 172
Hallowed in awful chasms of w gloom, Love 22
Wherefrom w The snowy skirting of a garment hung, Timbuctoo 181
Whilome w won the hearts of all on Earth " 17
Whip The Russian w's and Austrian rods— Hands all Round 18
Whirl bitter blasts the screaming autumn w, Though night 2
How lightly w's the skipping-rope! Skipping-rope 5
Whisper The wheatears w to each other: The 'How' and the 'Why' 11
The crispèd waters w musically, Check every outflash 7
In a corner wisdom w's. The Hesperides, Song i 15
Whit For the devil a w we heed 'em, (repeat) National Song 10, 28
White (adj.) (See also Blosmwhite, Foam-white) A curve of whitening, flashing, ebbing light! A rustling of w wings! Timbuctoo 64
The indistinctest atom in deep air, The Moon's w cities, " 101
The headland with inviolate w snow, " 204
Why the heavy oak groans, and the w willows sigh? The 'How' and the 'Why' 15
I' the glooming light Of middle night, So cold and w, I' the glooming light 3
The w clouds drizzle: her hair falls loose; " 9
The w moon is hid in her heaven above, Hero to Leander 3 he had well nigh reached The last, with which a region of w flame, The Mystic 43
Long hath the w wave of the virgin light To a Lady Sleep. 5
With thy two couches soft and w, O darling room 3
With two such couches soft and w; " 16
A light, methought, flash'd even from her w robe, Lover's Tale i 361
W as quench'd ashes, cold as were the hopes Of my lorn love! " 620 and then came in O'erhead the w light of the weary moon, " 659 as tho' a red rose Should change into a w one suddenly. " 727
White (s) The hoarhead winter paving earth With sheeny w, Chorus 19
Whitening A curve of w, flashing, ebbing light! Timbuctoo 63
White-robèd Come, thou of many crowns, w-r love, Love 24
White-stemmed And all the w-s pinewood slept above— Check every outflash 13
Wholesome Be loyal, if you wish for w rule: Sugg. by Reading 33
Why Who will riddle me the how and the w? (repeat) The 'How' and the 'Why' 9, 20
W two and two make four? W round is not square? W the rocks stand still, " 13
W the heavy oak groans, and the white willows sigh? W deep is not high, and high is not deep? " 15
How you are you? W I am I? " 19
The little bird pipeth 'w! w!' " 26
W the life goes when the blood is spilt? " 32
W a church is with a steeple built; " 34
Who will riddle me the what and the w? " 37
Wide 'W Afric, doth thy Sun Lighten, Timbuctoo 58
Where in a creeping cove the wave unshockèd Lays itself calm and w, Dualisms 7
Take heed of your w privileges! Sugg. by Reading 11
Was not the w world free, Lover's Tale i 693
Widow'd Because my hope was w, " 769
Width opal w Of her small glowing lakes, Timbuctoo 101
Wife There are no wives like English wives, National Song 21
As I woo'd her for my w; Germ of 'Maud' 11 woful man had thrust his w and child Lover's Tale i 368
he would make his wedded w, Camilla! " 793 Wild even as the sea When weary of w inroad buildeth Timbuctoo 14 till the eyes in vain Amid the w unrest of swimming shade " 129
And in red Autumn when the winds are w With gambols, " 202

Wild (continued) Hark how the w rain hisses, Hero to Leander 14 and blow back Their w cries down their caverntroats, Shall the hag 10
All visions w and strange ; οἱ ῥέοντες 2
And nothing seems to me so w and bold, Oh, Beauty 7
We have had enough of motion, Weariness and w alarm, Lotos-Eaters 2
Better w Mahmoud's war-cry once again ! Sugg. by Reading 83
Her words were like a coronal of w blooms Lover's Tale i 561
Wilderness methought I saw A w of spies, Timbuctoo 162
Wildest The fountainpregnant mountains riven To shapes of w anarchy, Chorus 4
We still were loyal in our w fights, Sugg. by Reading 35
Wildweed I smelt a w flower alone ; O sad No more ! 4
Wile Thy pleasant w's Forgotten, Burial of Love 15
Out of watchings, out of w's, The Hesperides, Song iii 10
Will apart In intellect and power and w, The Mystic 38
Willow and the white w's sigh ? The 'How' and the 'Why' 15
Win And w him unto me : Timbuctoo 210
Smiles on the earth's worn brow to w her if she may. Tears of Heaven 9
Wind (s) (See also Land-wind, Northwind, Seawind, Summer-wind, Westwind) Blown round with happy airs of odorous w's ? Timbuctoo 46
Which flung strange music on the howling w's, „ 80 in red Autumn when the w's are wild With gambols, „ 202
With harmonies of w and wave and wood „ 207
—Of w's which tell of waters, and of waters Betraying the close kisses of the w— „ 208
But w's from heaven shook the acorn out, Lost Hope 7 the w which bloweth cold or heat Would shatter Shall the hag 6 borne abroad By the loud w's, Love 9 sing aloud and evermore in the w, without stop, The Hesperides, Song ii 14
And the low west w, breathing afar, „ iv 8
Rosalind Fullsailed before a vigorous w, Rosalind 10
Gray sand banks and pale sunsets—dreary w, Mablethorpe 7
And w's were roaring and blowing ; 1865-1866 3
One rainy night, when every w blew loud, Lover's Tale i 367 summer w's break their soft sleep with sighs, „ 559 Being wafted on the w, drove in my sight, „ 730 ringlets, Drooping and beaten with the plaining w, „ 735
Wind (verb) Yet w's the pathway free to all :— What time I wasted 8
Windeth w through The argent streets o' the City, Timbuctoo 230 the blue-green river w slowly ; Check every outflash 5 channel w far Till it fade and fail and die, Germ of 'Maud' 29
Wind-tost And close above us, sang the w-t pine, Lover's Tale i 60
Windy By secret fire and midnight storms That wander round their w cones, Chorus 6
Wine Over their scrips and shares, their meats and w, Sugg. by Reading 47
Winedark Long enough the w wave our weary bark did carry. Lotos-Eaters 9 Wing A rustling of white w's ! Timbuctoo 64 starlit w's which burn Fanlike and fibred, „ 155
Though thou art fleet of w, Yet stay. The lintwhite 24
swum with balanced w's To some tall mountain. Lover's Tale i 304
Wingèd Through dark and bright W hours are borne ; Every day, etc. 4
Through whose dim brain the w dreams are born, To a Lady Sleep. 2
Breathe on thy w throne, and it shall move In music Love 27
One of the shining w powers, What time I wasted 2
Wink Above her head the weak lamp dips and w's Timbuctoo 35
Look to him, father, lest he w, The Hesperides, Song ii 11
And a lady may w, and a girl may hint, The Ringlet 17
Winnow W the purple, bearing on both sides Timbuctoo 154 Winter W roofs The headland with inviolate white snow, „ 203 hoarhead w paving earth With sheeny white, Chorus 18 state of woe With one brief w, Could I outwear 2 Wisdom To know thee is all w, Love 15 watch the treasure Of the w of the West. The Hesperides, Song i 14
In a corner w whispers. „ 15
Hoarded w brings delight. „ ii 6
Wise The w could he behold Cathedralled caverns Pallid thunderstricken 6
Wiser To France, the w France, we drink, my friends, Hands all Round 35
Wish That w to keep their people fools ; „ 54
Be loyal, if you w for wholesome rule : Sugg. by Reading 33
Withered No w immortality, The Grasshopper 28
Hateful with hanging cheeks, a w brood, Shall the hag 4
What happy air shall woo The w leaf fall'n in the woods, Lover's Tale i 622
Withered Sweet Love was w in his cell ; Love, Pride, etc. 8
Withering dead skin w on the fretted bone, Lover's Tale i 678
But the w scorn of the many shall cleave English War Song 5
Woe All is change, w or weal ; Every day, etc. 23
The linkèd w's of many a fiery change The Mystic 9
Could I outwear my present state of w Could I outwear 1
Thy w's are birds of passage, transitory : Me my own fate 2 know no strife Of inward w or outward fear ; Rosalind 4 one of those who cannot weep For others' w's, „ 12
About sunset We came to the hill of w, Lover's Tale i 365
Christ cried : W, w, to Pharisees and Scribes ! Sugg. by Reading 75
Woful A w man had thrust his wife and child Lover's Tale i 368 whom w ailments Of unavailing tears „ 818 Won whilome w the hearts of all on Earth Timbuctoo 17
unshaken peace hath w thee : Though night 10
We w old battles with our strength, the bow. Britons, guard 44
Wonder and what w That when hope died, Lover's Tale i 750
Wonderful it was w With its exceeding brightness, Timbuctoo 86
Galaxy Shorn of its hoary lustre, w, „ 106
Wondrous Upon the w laws which regulate The fierceness „ 147 the w tones Of man and beast are full of strange Astonishment Chorus 8
Woo Do w each other, carolling together. Dualisms 9 happy air shall w The wither'd leaf Lover's Tale i 621
Wood (See also Pinewood, Summerwood) With harmonies of wind and wave and w Timbuctoo 207 Looks through the thickstemmed w's by day and night Love 44
fall'n in the w's, or blasted Upon this bough ? Lover's Tale i 622
Woodbine in and out the w's flowery arches Check every outflash 11
Woody where the Rhene Curves towards Mentz, a w scene. O darling room 12
Woo'd As I w her for my wife ; Germ of 'Maud' 11
Wooing vital heat as yet my heart is w : Could I outwear 12
Word bare w KISS hath made my inner soul Oh, Beauty 12
Because the w's of little children Cambridge 12
w's were like a coronal of wild blooms Lover's Tale i 561
Work Be noble, you ! nor w with faction's tools Sugg. by Reading 29
Worked He w for both : he pray'd for both : Lover's Tale i 223
Working On that day, Love w shook his wings „ 308 World notes of busy life in distant w's Timbuctoo 113
grovell'd in the slime Of this dull w, „ 150
To carry through the w those waves, „ 238
The w is somewhat ; it goes on somehow ; The 'How' and the 'Why' 21
w will not change, and her heart will not break. I' the glooming light 22
Basing thy throne above the w's annoy. Though night 8
For he is older than the w. The Hesperides, Song ii 16
The w will be overwise. „ 22
Lest the old wound of the w be healèd, „ iii 2
The w is wasted with fire and sword, „ iv 22
Lets the great w flit from him, D. of F. Women 10
The w's last tempest darkens overhead ; Britons, guard 2
Although we fought the banded w alone, „ 59
Than vanquish all the w in arms. Hands all Round 28
Was not the wide w free, Lover's Tale i 693
Worldliness with her week-day w sufficed, Sugg. by Reading 62
Worm like dusky w's which house Beneath unshaken waters, Timbuctoo 150
Worn W Sorrow sits by the moaning wave ; I' the glooming light 4
Smiles on the earth's w brow to win her if she may. Tears of Heaven 9
Eyes are w away Till the end of fears Every day, etc. 19
Worship did pause To w mine own image, Lover's Tale i 68
Worshipp'd Where Love was w upon every height, „ 323
Where Love was w under every tree— „ 324
Worth (adj.) W eternal want of rest. The Hesperides, Song i 12
Have ye aught that is w the knowing ? 1865-1866 5
But aught that is w the knowing ? „ 9
Worth (s) Lest the old w of the world be healèd, The Hesperides, Song iii 2
Wound (s) To soothe a civic w or keep it raw, Sugg. by Reading 32
Had film'd the margents of the recent w. Lover's Tale i 764
Wound (verb) Seraphtrod, W thro' your great Elysian solitudes, Timbuctoo 48

Wound (verb) (continued) About her forehead w it, Anocreontics 11 Wove I w a crown before her, Anacreontics 5 summer midges w their wanton gambol, Check every outflash 12 mine w chaplets of the self-same flower, Lover's Tale i 333
Woven So shalt thou pierce the w glooms of truth ; Though night 11
Wrapped-wrapt Wrapped round with spiced cerements A Fragment 30 landing-place is wrapt about with clouds Timbuctoo 199
Wreathed See Darkly-wreathed
Wreck The w of ruin'd life and shatter'd thought, Lover's Tale ii 62
Write For ever w In the weathered light Burial of Love 20
Wherein to read, wherein to w. (repeat) O darling room 6, 18
You hide the hand that w's : Sugg. by Reading 25
I sorrow when I read the things you w, „ 77
Writer How much I love this w's manly style ! „ 1
Alas, Church w's, altercating tribes— „ 73
Written The w secrets of her inmost soul Lover's Tale i 600
Wrong Lest you go w from power in excess. Sugg. by Reading 10
Wronged From w Poerio's noisome den, Hands all Round 15
Wrote With dandy pathos when you w, New Timon 10 Wrought See Selfwrought

Y

Year music flowing from Th' illimitable y's. Timbuctoo 219
Thou hast no compt of y's, The Grasshopper 27
With selfwrought evils of unnumbered y's, Tears of Heaven 4
Call to the fleeting y, The lintwhite 5
Fair y, fair y, thy children call, „ 10
Fair y, with brows of royal love Thou comest, „ 19
That trouble life in early y's, Rosalind 14
And New Y and Old Y met, 1865-1866 2
I said, ' O y's that meet in tears, „ 4
Old Y roaring and blowing And New Y blowing and roaring. „ 12 brain, Now seam'd and clink'd with y's— Lover's Tale i 131
the y First felt his youth and strength, „ 305
The slope into the current of my y's, „ ii 76
Yearning Men clung with y Hope which would not die. Timbuctoo 27
Yeasty Huge mounds whereby to stay his y waves. „ 15
Yellow We will eat the Lotos, sweet As the y honeycomb, Lotos-Eaters 15
Lower down Spreads out a little lake, that, flooding, makes Cushions of y sand ; Lover's Tale i 537
Yeoman Now practise, yeomen, Like those bowmen, Britons, guard 45
Yeomen, guard your own. „ 48
Yesterday To-morrow will be y ? Who can say 3
Yon Child of Man, See'st thou y river, whose translucent wave, Timbuctoo 229 soon y brilliant towers Shall darken with the waving of her wand ; „ 244
You may not, like y tyrant, deal in spies. Sugg. by Reading 20
Yonder Through y poplar alley Below, the blue-green river windeth slowly ; Check every outflash 4
Warbled from y knoll of solemn larches, „ 10
You How y are y ? Why I am I ? The ' How ' and the ' Why ' 19
Young The bright descent Of a y Seraph ! Timbuctoo 65
And watered vallies where the y birds sing ; Could I outwear 8
Y fishes, on an Arpil morn, Rosalind 21
Youth light Of earliest y pierced through and through The Mystic 29 mailèd warrior in y and strength complete ; The Grasshopper 13
But a short y sunny and free. „ 29
indue i' the spring Hues of fresh y, Could I outwear 3
So in thine hour of dawn, the body's y, Though night 13
How canst thou let me waste my y in sighs ; Oh, Beauty 2 the dewy prime Of y and buried time ? Who can say 7
Alas, our y, so clever yet so small, Sugg. by Reading 79
the year First felt his y and strength, Lover's Tale i 306 that thought Which was the playmate of my y— „ ii 72
Youthful beneath Severe and y brows, with shining eyes The Mystic 27
What time I wasted y hours What time I wasted 1
I fear for you, as for some y king, Sugg. by Reading 9
Yvonne In rings of gold y, The lintwhite 29

Z

Zamoysky Than when Z smote the Tartar Khan, Blow ye the trumpet 12
Zidonian Z Hanno, voyaging beyond The hoary promontory of Soloë The Hesperides 2
Zone Girt with a Z of flashing gold Timbuctoo 72
Zoned and z below with cedarshade, The Hesperides 11

ADDENDA

A

Abysmal The a deeps of Personality, Palace of Art 223

Achora A, yer laste little whishper was sweet as the lilt of a bird! Tomorrow 33

Acushla A, ye set me heart batin' to music wid ivery word! „ 34

Adown charmed sunset linger'd low a In the red West: Lotos-Eaters 19 a the stair Stole on; Godiva 48 that passing lightly A a natural stair of tangled roots, Lover's Tale i 527 a the steep like a wave I would leap The Mermaid 39
A the crystal dykes at Camelot Geraint and E. 470

Affluent Stood up and spake, an a orator. Princess iv 291

Afoor (before) Or sits wi' their 'ands a 'em, Spinster's S's 86 see that all be right and reg'lar fur 'em a he coöm. Prom. of May I 169
Well, I never 'eärd the likes o' that a. „ I 256 a ony o' ye wur burn— „ I 366
but a I coomed up he got thruff the winder ageän. „ I 405
It be five year sin' ye went a to him, „ II 6
she set the bush by my dairy winder a she went to school at Littlechester— „ II 18
Well but, as I said a, it be the last loäd hoäm; „ II 169
Let ma aloän a foälk, wilt tha? „ II 213 fur I haätes 'im a I knaws what 'e be. „ II 585 Fur she niver knawed 'is faäce when 'e wur 'ere a; „ II 607 larn mysen the rest, and sääy it to ye a dark; „ III 13 but I were burn a schoolin-time. „ III 40
'A cotched ma about the waaist, Miss, when 'e wur 'ere a, „ III 120
we'd as lief talk o' the Divil a ye as 'im, „ III 131

Afore (before) Eh! that was a bastard-making began. Queen Mary I i 44

After See Arter

Again See Ageän

Against See Ageän

A-gawin' (going) I ha' heärd 'im a-g on 'ud make your 'air— Prom. of May I 135

Ageän (again) An' coostom a draw'd in like a wind fro' far an' wide, North. Cobbler 93
Theer ye goäs a, Miss, niver believing owt I says to ye— Prom. of May I 106
I sead that one cow o' thine i' the pinfold a as I wur a-coomin' 'ere. „ I 191 then a-scrattin' upon a bit o' paäper, then a-lookin' a; „ I 203 then back a, a-follering my oän shadder—then hup a i' the faäce of the sun. „ I 371 but afoor I coomed up he got thruff the winder a. „ I 406 but if iver I cooms upo' Gentleman Hedgar a, „ II 137
Ye shall sing that a to-night, „ II 216 and he'll be rude to me a to-night. „ II 220
But I'll git the book a, and larn mysen the rest, „ III 12 an soä I knaw'd 'im when I seed 'im a „ III 122 an' I worked early an' laäte to maäke 'em all gentlefoälks a. „ III 449 an' it belongs to the Steers a: I bowt it back a; but I couldn't buy my darter back a „ III 452
The owd man's coom'd a to 'issen, „ III 702

Ageän (against) Es I should be talkin a 'em, Village Wife 110
Ay, roob thy whiskers a ma, Spinster's S's. 81
Fur moäst on 'em talks a tithe, Church-warden, etc. 52 thaw 'e knaws I was hallus a heving schoolmaster i' the parish! Prom. of May I 186 and fell a coalscuttle and my kneeä gev waäy „ I 403 an a the toithe an' the raäte, Church-warden, etc. 11

Ago affianced years a To the Lady Ida: Princess ii 215

Aich (each) Whin we laid yez, a by a, Tomorrow 82

Airily There be some hearts so a built, Lover's Tale i 803

Albeit a their glorious names Were fewer, Princess ii 155
'A so mask'd, Madam, I love the truth; „ 213

All We have made war upon the Holy Father A for your sake: Queen Mary v ii 307
Well, I be coomed to keep his birthdaäy an' a. Prom. of May I 76
Hands a round! (repeat) Hands all Round 9, 21, 33

Allus (always) so I a browt soom on 'em to her; Prom. of May II 20
You should hev him a wi' ye. „ II 75
What maäkes 'im a sa glum? „ II 148 and I telled 'im 'at sweet'arts a worked best togither; „ II 157

Aloof and stream'd Upon the mooned domes a In inmost Bagdat, Arabian Nights 127 and the sound Which to the wooing wind a The poplar made, Mariana 75

Altogether See Altogither

Altogither (altogether) We laäys out o' the waäy fur gentlefoälk a— Prom. of May I 211

Alway (See also Allus) A the inaudible invisible thought, Lover's Tale ii 102

Amber (adj.) before us glow'd Fruit, blossom, viand, a wine, and gold. Princess iv 35

Ambrosial Streams o'er a rich a ocean isle, Milton 14
The broad a aisles of lofty lime Princess Pro. 87
Dropt thro' the a gloom to where below „ iv 24

Anear (near) Dark-brow'd sophist, come not a; Poet's Mind 8

Anew (enough) Pretty a when ya dresses 'em oop, Spinster's S's. 85 thaw thou be haäle a I seed tha a-limpin' up just now Prom. of May I 384 and theer'll be room a for all o' ye. „ I 454
The weather's well a, but the glass be a bit shaäky. „ II 51
I could put all that o' one side eäsy a. „ II 111
I should ha' thowt they'd hed a o' gentlefoälk, „ II 580

Angry Over her snow-cold breast and a cheek Œnone 142

Anight A my shallop, rustling thro' The low and bloomed foliage, Arabian Nights 12

Anything Mixt with kisses sweeter sweeter Than a on earth. Maud II iv 10

Arms See Man-in-arms, Men-at-arms

Arn'd (earned) an' a naw thanks fur 'er paäins. Village Wife 12

Art but that you are a and part with us In purging heresy, Queen Mary III iv 316

Arter (after) He'll be a you now, Miss Dora. Prom. of May I 118
He's been a Miss Eva, haän't he? „ I 121
I laäme't my knee last night running a a thief. „ I 387
Well, I runned a thief i' the dark, „ I 402 and we'll git 'im to speechify for us a dinner. „ I 440 a she'd been a-reädin' me the letter wi' 'er voice a-shaäkin', „ II 128 but us three, a Sally'd telled us on 'im, „ III 133

Askew Then glanced a at those three knights of hers, Pelleas and E. 134
'Asta (hast thou) Wheer 'a been? Prom. of May 1 349
Athurt (athwart) and doänt lääy my cartwhip a 'is shou'ders, „ II 138 and wheere the big eshtree cuts a it, „ III 94
Athwart (See also Athurt) mind Lies folded, often sweeps a in storm— Lover's Tale i 50
A pine in Italy that cast its shadow A a cataract; Queen Mary III iv 137
Atwain cuts a The knots that tangle human creeds, Clear-headed friend 2
Atween (between) Fur a 'is reädin' an' writin' 'e snifft up a box in a dääy, Village Wife 40
Aught The nursery-cocker'd child will jeer at a Queen Mary II ii 395
Av (if) An', afther, I thried her meself a the bird 'ud come to me call, Tomorrow 45
Avore (before) I'd ha' been here a, Queen Mary IV iii 476
Gardiner wur struck down like by the hand o' God a a could taste a mossel, „ IV iii 517
Awkward See Hawkard, p. 305

B

Back (adv.) nor to round about and b to your lordship's face again, The Falcon 115
Back'd See Highback'd, p. 955
Bakkuds (backwards) But Billy fell b o' Charlie, Village Wife 85
Bara 'B!' what use? Sir J. Oldcastle 19
Beänt (am not, are not, is not) B Miss Eva gone off a bit of 'er good looks o' lääte? Prom. of May 1 32
The owd man be heighty to-daäy, b he? „ 1 77
I taäked 'im fur soom sort of a land-surveyor—but a b. „ 1 205
I be a gentleman, thaw I b naw scholard, „ 1 332
B there house-breäkers down i' Littlechester, Dobson— „ 1 388
So the owd uncle i' Coomberland be deäd, Miss Dora, b he? „ II 2 why then I b Farmer Dobson, but summun else— blaäme't if I b! „ II 139 or she b Dora Steer. „ II 605
Dobbins, I think! Dobson. I b Dobbins. „ II 700
I b sa sewer o' that, fur Sally knaw'd 'im; „ III 146
Bean't (am not, is not) —and I b wrong not twice i' ten year— Queen Mary IV iii 534 fur him as be handy wi' a book b but haäfe a hand at a pitchfork. Prom. of May 1 188
Before See Afoor, Afore, Avore, 'Fore
Bellows'd (out of breath) He wur sa b out wi' the wind this murnin', Prom. of May III 432
Beslings-puddin' Baäcon an' taätes, an' a b-p North Cobbler 112
Bestial and since his ways are sweet, And theirs are b, Com. of Arthur 181
Between See Atween
Blackbird (p. 846) See Merle, p. 1006
Blazon'd By two sphere lamps b like Heaven and Earth Princess i 223
Blossomy Creeping thro' b rushes and bowers of rose-blowing bushes, Leonine Eleg. 3
Blurly sallow lights shone Dimly and b with simmering fat. Far off in the dun 100
Boäth (both) The Lord bless b on 'em! Prom. of May 1 342
And long life to b on 'em. „ 1 346
Fur b on 'em knawed as well as mysen „ II 313
I eddicated b on 'em to marry gentlemen, „ III 455
Bob (to curtsey) little gells b's to ma hoffens es I be abroad i' the laänes, Spinster's S's. 107
Born See Burn
Both See Boäth
Broad-imbased rib and fret The b-i beach, Supp. Confessions 127
Burn (born) B i' träade. Church-warden, etc. 18
Buss (kiss) Gi'e us a b fust, lass. Prom. of May II 228

C

Caäre (care) an' I c's nowt neither. Prom. of May 1 27
Care See Caäre
Casselty (unsettled) Nasty, c weather! Church-warden, etc. 2
Casualty See Casselty
'Cep' (except) 'ud ha' done it 'c it were Dan Smith, Prom. of May 1 411
Certain See Sartan
Clock (p. 101) See O'clock, p. 506
Coarser When did a frog c croak upon our Helicon? Trans. of Homer 4
Confused (p. 873) See Maäted, p. 995
Coorse (course) Why, o' c, fur it be the owd man's birthdaäy. Prom. of May 1 5
Cum (come) See A-cum
Current (p. 125) See also Undercurrent, p. 753
Curtsey See Bob
Cycled sons of flesh Shall gather in the c times In Mem. lxxv 28

D

Dewy days Of d dawning, Lover's Tale i 52 blight Lives in the d touch of pity „ 696
Divided (p. 152) See Twelve-divided, p. 751
Doänt (don't) I d believe he's iver a 'eart under his waistcoat. Prom. of May 1 129
I'll not meddle wi' 'im if he d meddle wi' meä. „ 1 174
But 'e d fish neither. „ 1 214
There mun be summut wrong theer, Wilson, fur I d understan' it. „ 1 234
An' thou d understan' it neither— „ 1 238
Beänt there house-breäkers down in Littlechester, Dobson—d ye hear of ony? „ 1 389 and d laäy my cartwhip athurt 'is shou'ders, „ II 137
Why, lass, d tha knaw he be sweet upo' Dora Steer, „ II 160
Dosta (do you) By-and-by—eh, lad, d knaw this paäper? „ II 686
Eh, lad, d knaw what tha meäns wi' by-and-by? „ II 690 Downward And like a d smoke, the slender stream Lotos-Eaters 8 some, like a d smoke, Slow-dropping veils of thinnest lawn, „ 10
How sweet it were, hearing the d stream, „ C. S. 54
Duer for song Is d unto freedom, Princess iv 141
Dully Far off she seem'd to hear the d sound Of human footsteps fall. Palace of Art 275
Dusk (adj.) that making slide apart Their d wing-cases, Gareth and L. 687

E

Each See Aich
Earned See Arn'd
'Edn't (had not) fur I 'e naw time to maäke mysen a scholard Prom. of May 1 333
Eighty See Heighty
Enew (enough) (See also Enow) Warm e theere sewer-ly, Owd Roä 111 Enough See Anew, Enew, Enow
Enow (enough) (See also Enew) Tut: he was tame and meek e with me, Gareth and L. 718
'Ay,' thought Gawain, 'and you be fair e: Pelleas and E. 388
Enter'd See Inter'd
'Ereabouts (hereabouts) but noän o' the parishes goäs by that naäme 'e. Prom. of May 1 269 Except See 'Cep'

F

Fell'st I believe thou f into the hands Of these same Moors — Foresters II i 562
First See Fust
'Fore (before) 'F God, I think she entreats me like a child. — Queen Mary I iii 111
Nay the Queen's right to reign—'f God, the rogues— „ II ii 96
He falters, ha? 'f God, we change and change; „ III iv 406
'f God, I know them heretics, but right English ones. „ IV iii 343
'F God, I am a mightier man than thou. — Becket I i 223
Wilt thou embrace thy sweetheart 'f my face? — Foresters II ii 29
Freedom May f's oak for ever live — Hands all Round 5
Fust (first) master 'ud be straänge an' pleased if you'd step in f, — Prom. of May I 168 but I thowt I'd bring tha them roses f. „ II 50
Gi'e us a buss f, lass. „ II 228
Taäke one o' the young 'uns f, Miss, „ III 32

G

Gave See Gev
Gawin' See A-gawin'
Gev (gave) An' I 'eärd the bricks an' the baulks rummle down when the roof g waäy, — Owd Roä 109
Going See A-gawin'
Gotten And then he sent me a letter, 'I've g my work to do; — First Quarrel 85
Grafted See Grufted
Ground 'So when the sun broke next from under g, — Holy Grail 328
'But when the next day brake from under g— „ 338
Grufted (grafted, begrimed) An' 'is nöase sa g wi' snuff es it couldn't be scroob'd awaäy, — Village Wife 39

H

Heighty (eighty) The owd man be h to-daäy, beänt he? — Prom. of May I 77
Hereabouts See 'Ereabouts
Hereat H Sir Gareth call'd from where he rose, — Gareth and L. 645 Herself See Hersen
Hersen (herself) an' one on 'em went an' lost h i' the river. — Prom. of May III 456
Himself See Hissen
Hinder See 'Inder
Hissen (himself) Then the owd man i' Lear should be shaämed of h, — Prom. of May I 267 he be fit to bust h wi' spites and jalousies. Sally.
Let 'im bust h, then, for owt I cares. „ II 164
Hoffen (often) Fur h's we talkt o' my darter es died o' the fever at fall: — Village Wife 10 little gells bobs to ma h's es I be abroad i' the laänes, Spinster's S's. 107
Honest (p. 331) See Right-honest, p. 581
Horse (p. 334) See Ridin-erse, p. 580
Howsoever See 'Siver

I

Imbased See Broad-imbased
Immingled in the stream beneath him shone I with Heaven's azure waveringly, — Gareth and L. 935
'Inder (hinder) Or sits wi' their 'ands afoor 'em, an' doesn't not 'i the talk! — Spinster's S's. 86
Inter (into) knaw'd better nor to cast her sister's misfortin i 'er teeth — Prom of May II 126
Inter'd (enter'd) An' afther her paärints had i glory, — Tomorrow 53
Into See Inter

K

Kestrel (p. 356) See Wind-hover, p. 800
Kiss See Buss

L

La If I tried and l—she's amorous. — Queen Mary I iv 17
L, to whistle out my life, „ II iv 109
Lady Sleep, little ladies! Wake not soon! — Minnie and Winnie 9
Ladyship or I couldn't look your l i' the face, — Becket III i 195
Nay, let me place this chair for your l. — The Falcon 178 and your l has given him bitters enough in this world, „ 192 for wasn't my lady born with a golden spoon in her l's mouth, and we haven't never so much as a silver one for the golden lips of her l. „ 402 but shall I not mount with your lordship's leave to her l's castle, in your lordship's and her l's name, and confer with her l's seneschal, and so descend again with some of her l's own appurtenances? „ 413 with your l's pardon, and as your l knows, „ 565 would commend them to your l's most peculiar appreciation. „ 568
Your l lives higher in the sun. „ 583
if your l were not Too proud to look upon the garland, „ 662
we have made a song in your honour, so your l care to listen. — Foresters III 415
Lordship Darning your l. — The Falcon 41
I never spare your l to your l's face, nor behind your l's back, „ 112 to your l's face again, for I'm honest, your l. „ 115 then there is anything in your l's larder at your l's service, if your l care to call for it. „ 137
Spoons, your l. „ 398 but shall I not mount with your l's leave to her lady-ship's castle, in your l's and her ladyship's name, „ 413
How can your l say so? „ 507 for tho' we have been a soldier, and ridden by his l's side, „ 548 yet are we now drill-sergeant to his l's lettuces, „ 550 his l's own foster-brother, will commend them „ 566
But the prunes, my lady, from the tree that his l— „ 685
But the prunes that your l— „ 692

M

Machree Och, Molly, we thought, m, — Tomorrow 81
Mebbe (may be) I hears es soom o' thy booöks m worth their weight i' gowd.' — Village Wife 70
Meself (myself) An', afther, I thried her m av the bird 'ud come to me call, — Tomorrow 45
An' I didn't know him m, an' nöne of the parish knew. „ 76
Mine Me the sport of ribald Veterans, m of ruffian violators! Boädicea 50
Moänt (must not) Naw, nor a m to Robins— — N. Farmer, O. S. 60
Mowt (might) A m 'a taäen owd Joänes, as 'ant not a 'aäpoth o' sense, Or a m 'a taäen young Robins, „ 49 an' happt wersens oop as we m. — Owd Roä 112
Mun (must) an' if I m doy I m doy. — N. Farmer, O. S. 68
Fur work m 'a gone to the gittin' whiniver munny was got. „ N. S. 50
'Ya m saäve little Dick, an' be sharp about it an' all,' — Owd Roä 81
Mysen (myself) But Moother was free of 'er tongue, as I offens 'ev tell'd 'er m, — Owd Roä 73

N

Near See Anear
Nicod (nice) Thaw thou was es soäber es daäy, wi' a n red faäce, Spinster's S's. 75
Night See Anight
No N is trouble and cloud and storm, Window, No Answer 8
Noän (none) wi' n to lend 'im a shuvv, N. Farmer, N. S. 31
Nobbut (only) an' I Seeäd n the smile o' the sun North. Cobbler 50
None See Noän, Nōne
Nōne (none) An' I didn't know him meself, an' n of the parish knew. Tomorrow 76

O

Offens (often) An' sarvints runn'd in an' out, an' o we hed 'em to tea. Village Wife 56
But Moother was free of 'er tongue, as I o 'ev tell'd 'er mysen, Owd Roä 73
Often See Hoffen, Offens
Only See Nobbut
Onward sharp fancies, by down-lapsing thought Stream'd o, D. of F. Women 50
Ourselves See Wersens
Outright Maim'd me and maul'd, and would o have slain, Last Tournament 75
Outward (s) For Thought into the o springs, Mechanophilus 11

P

Peak'd (adj.) And p wings pointed to the Northern Star. Holy Grail 240

R

Re-frain Or Trade r-f the Powers From war with kindly links of gold, Epilogue 15

S

Sanely Of saner worship s proud; Freedom 30
Sartan (certain) 'E reäds of a sewer an' s 'oäp o' the tother side; Village Wife 92
Say (sea) 'Your Danny,' they says, 'niver crasst over s to the Sassenach whate; Tomorrow 48
Scantly And there is s time for half the work. Marr. of Geraint 288
Sea See Say
Set And he sung not alone of an old sun s, Dead Prophet 41
Sewer (sure) 'E reäds of a s an' sartan 'oäp o' the tother side; Village Wife 92
Sewer-ly (surely) Warm enew theere s-l, but the barn was as cowd as owt, Owd Roä 111
'Siver (howsoever) 'S, I kep 'um, my lass N. Farmer, O. S. 23
Snifft Fur atween 'is reädin' an' writin' 'e s up a box in a daäy, Village Wife 40
Sorra (sorrow; an expletive) An' s the bog that's in Hiven Tomorrow 67
S the dhry eye thin but was wet for the frinds that was gone! „ 83
Sorrow (p. 661) See Sorra
Spent (p. 669) See Weär'd, p. 783 Sure See Sewer Surely See Sewer-ly

T

Thereamong Three knights were t; and they too smiled, Pelleas and E. 96
Thereat T once more he moved about, Pass. of Arthur 462
Therebefore And t the lawless warrior paced Unarm'd, Gareth and L. 914
Therebeside and t, Half-naked as if caught at once from bed Princess iv 284
And t a horn, inflamed the knights At that dishonour done Last Tournament 434
Theretoward set no foot t unadvised Of all our Privy Council; Queen Mary II ii 204
Thereunder From out t came an ancient man, Gareth and L. 240
Therewithin a sign That t a guest may make True cheer Pro. to Gen. Hamley 15
Through See Thruf
Thruf (through) Steevie be right good manners bang t to the tip o' the taäil. Spinster's S's. 66

W

Wersens (ourselves) an' happt w oop as we mowt. Owd Roä 112

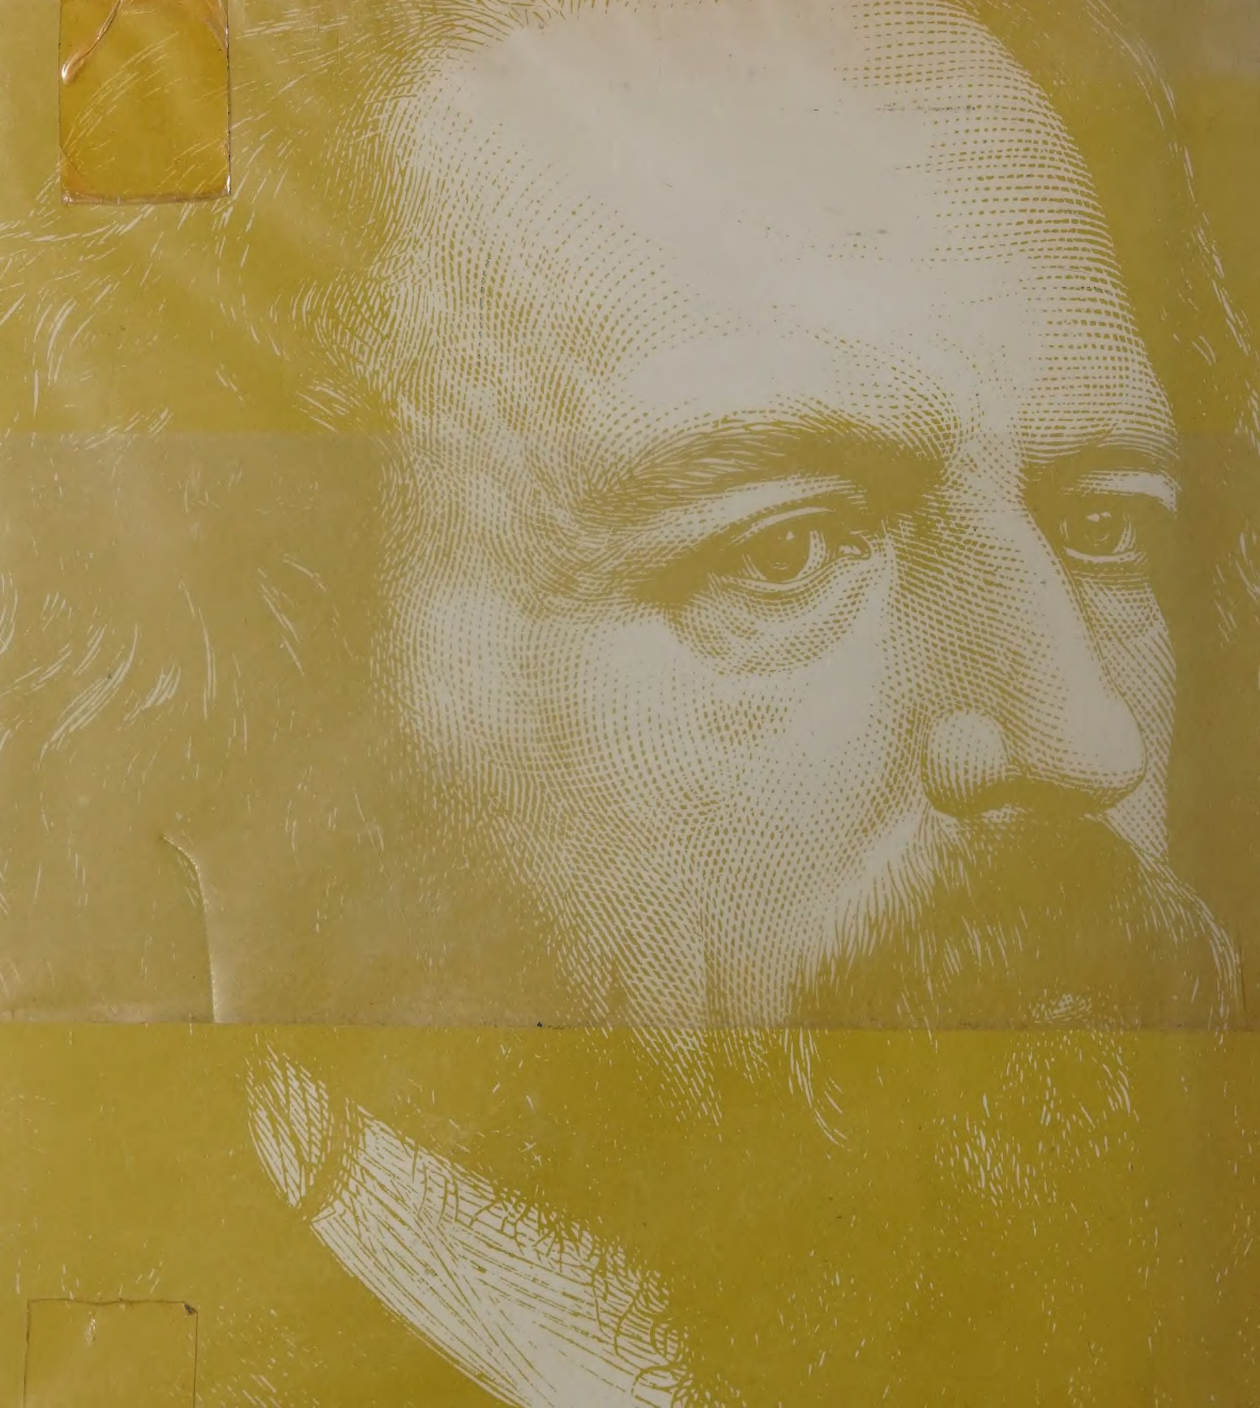
ARTHUR A. HOUGHTON, JR. LIBRARY
CORNING COMMUNITY COLLEGE
CORNING, NEW YORK

ARTHUR A. HOUGHTON, JR. LIBRARY

FOR REFERENCE
Do Not Take From This Room
DEMCO


Printed in Great Britain